Writing home from France this week Sergt. C. Wood, Royal Fusiliers, the Swavesey schoolmaster and bowler, says: "I have kept up the Swavesey name here. This is my bowling record: 1st match, 8 wickets for 10 runs; 2nd, 7 for 21; and 3rd, 3 for 14." Sergt. Wood met Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters by accident shortly before writing, and had half-an-hour's chat with him. Pte. Fred Carrier, Suffolk Regt., who has been at his home in Over on short leave, has been looking up his old friends in Swavesey, his native village. He has been on the Western front for a long time. Pte. Isaac Parish, Royal Sussex Regt., has been transferred to the Machine Gun Corps. He landed in Egypt in August. His younger brother, Pte. John Parish, Training Reserve, has been promoted Lance-Corporal, and is now at a school of instruction for N.C.O's. Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., and Pte. P.V. Maltby, South Staffords, have been home this week on draft leave. Letters have at last been received from Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A. He is on his way to a distant "somewhere."

LETTER FROM FRANCE. 28th Sept. 1917

Writing to our Swavesey representative, under date September 17th, Pte. H. G. Key, of the Robin Hoods (Sherwood Foresters), says: "I always think about you when I receive the 'Press and News,' which is the best thing I get out here. I think most of the boys think so too. S. Mitham says just the same. I was pleased to see him and George Dean while I was at Boulogne. I was very pleased with what was said about the Swavesey Roll of Honour in the paper. We have a warm time of it here, and so does the Bosche – only a little bit warmer at times. It is a pity we were not prepared as we are now, but we know whom we have to thank for the beginning of this war. I was so sorry to hear about S. J. Froment (killed on August 5th), but there are a lot like him, and will be while this lasts. He was a very nice fellow indeed. I have heard that P. Maltby is in the Staffords. They have done great in this war. I hope it won't be long before I see you. I am all right, and never felt any better. There's not much beer, but we live well." Pte. Key joined up voluntarily on 15th March, 1916, and went to France on the 15th July following. His business as a baker in Swavesey is being carried on by his wife.

WAR NOTES. 5th Oct. 1917

Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regiment, when heard of recently was in hospital in France. Mr. A. J. K. Inglett, who has been invalided out of the Royal Engineers, has greatly improved in health since he has been under treatment at the sanatorium at Ipswich.

WAR SAVINGS. 5th Oct. 1917

The subscriptions to the Swavesey War Savings Association during the three months ended 30th September amounted to £16 19s. There are thirty members. The nineteen members of the Savings Association connected with the National School contributed £5 2s. 8d. during the same period, the total sum subscribed by the children being £8 9s. 7d.

RISE IN MILK PRICES. 5th Oct. 1917

The retail price of milk sold in Swavesey was raised to 6d. a quart on Monday. Housewives are wondering what is the need for the increase, seeing that there is, and has been, plenty of feed, involving no additional expense, and that the rents of land have not gone up. Perhaps the matter will be taken into consideration by the Food Control Committee, who have the power of varying the price, subject to the veto of the Food Controller.

FANTASTIC POTATOES. 5th Oct. 1917

Two potatoes of fantastic shape have been dug up by Mr. William Burton and Mr. J. B. Parish respectively. Mr. Burton's specimen, an Eclipse weighing nearly 1¾lbs., is like an aeroplane, and a facetious person has suggested that the parent tuber was frightened in its early stage by a flying machine passing overhead. Mr. Parish's potato, which scales 2lbs. 7oz., resembles a crab – a large central body surrounded by six good-sized excrescences.

A PATRIOTIC FAMILY. 5th Oct. 1917

Mr. Cyril Hepher, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, joined up on Tuesday. Thirteen months ago he was put back for a year by the Medical Board at Bury. This September he succeeded in passing, and refused to allow his employer to appeal for him. His two brothers are already in the Army. The elder, Pte. J. W. Hepher, Suffolk Regiment, has unfortunately been missing since April 28th, and the younger, Pte. A. C. Hepher, who joined up on the 13th ult., is with a Training Reserve Battalion.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 5th Oct. 1917

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at the parish church on Wednesday, Sept. 26th, and were continued on Sunday, Sept. 30th. The preacher at Evensong on Wednesday was the Rev. R. P. Moline, rector of Cottenham, who preached an excellent sermon. The church was beautifully decorated by the ladies of the congregation. The offerings of fruit and vegetables were exceptionally plentiful, and were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. The offertories throughout the day on Wednesday and Sunday morning were on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital, and amounted to £10 11s. 8d. A thanksgiving service was also held at the Mission Church on Sunday at 2.30 p.m., when the children brought their offerings of flowers, fruit and vegetables. The offertory, which amounted to 6s. 6d., was for Addenbrooke's Hospital. The Mission Church was tastefully decorated. The vegetables were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, and the fruit and flowers to St. Ives Infirmary.

FOOD TRADERS ON COMMITTEES. 12th Oct. 1917

Complaints have been lodged with the Food Controller against several of the Committees set up by local Rural Councils, on the ground that they are composed mainly of farmers, who are, of course, food traders. In a letter to Clare Rural Council the Assistant Commissioner for the Eastern Division inquires how the Council propose to conform to the wish of the Food Controller that not more than one-third of the Committee should be food traders. The difficulty, of course, is that the majority of public men in any agricultural district are agriculturists, and we do not quite see how Lord Rhondda – or anyone else – can get over it. The Swavesey and Caxton Councils are in similar case, and are both, we understand, in the Controller's black books. The Caxton Committee threaten to resign in a body if they are interfered with, and the Swavesey Committee will probably follow their example. Incidentally, it is interesting to note from the letter alluded to, that "co-operative traders" are not regarded by the Controller as "food traders."

A BELATED OFFICIAL SUGGESTION. 12th Oct. 1917

The County Education Secretary has issued a circular under date of 8th October to the correspondents of schools under his supervision, calling their attention to a letter, dated 3rd October, from the Board of Education, written on behalf of the Food Production Department of the Board of Agriculture, in which it is requested that certain local education authorities should be asked to give facilities for the collection of blackberries through the children in the elementary schools for the purpose of making jam for the Army and Navy. It is pointed out that it is desired to obtain a very large quantity of berries, as they have a special medicinal value for the health of the troops, and, although the season for blackberrying is well advanced, the Food Production Department think that good results could be obtained, especially if the children were granted one or two half-holidays per week for the purpose. Full typewritten instructions, including information as to dispatching the fruit and the payment which is to be made for the same (1½d. per lb.), were enclosed with the circular. The idea is an excellent one, but, as usual, too late to be successfully carried into effect in this district. Blackberries have been plentiful, but there has been a great demand for them for domestic jam, and the recent frosts have damaged the few remaining on the hedgerows. When the suggestion was put before the children in one school in the county, they declared that they did not think they could get half a pint of berries, yet the berries had been unusually plentiful in the district, and the youngsters would have been only too pleased to have availed themselves of one or two half-holidays a week. The same is no doubt the case in other parts of the country. What evil genius presides at the Boards of Agriculture and Education? Why are they so often behind the times? Not long ago the Board of Agriculture suggested herrings as an excellent food when herrings were out of season, and now it is blackberries.

AN ANOMALY. 12th Oct. 1917

The woodwork class held on Friday afternoons at Swavesey National School consists entirely of boys from one or other of the schools in Over, as, owing to the claims of agriculture, there are no Swavesey boys eligible for the class at the present time.

THEFT OF A BAG. 12th Oct. 1917

At the County Police Station, Cambridge, on Tuesday, before Mr. H. F. Cook and Mr. J. Chivers, a tramp named Mary Smith, no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a brown leather bag, the property of Edward Spatchott, of Swavesey, on the same day, and was sentenced to one day's imprisonment.

A KIND-HEARTED SCHOOLMASTER. 12th Oct. 1917

Through the kindness and generosity of their headmaster (Mr. G. Hicks) the older boys attending Swavesey National School paid a visit to St. Ives last Friday and spent a very happy time at a circus then in the town. After the performance Mr. Hicks entertained his young guests at tea and then sent them home rejoicing.

CHESTNUTS. 12th Oct. 1917

Cannot a better use be found for horse chestnuts in Swavesey than making them into body belts and bandoliers for small boys? These chestnuts are urgently needed in connection with munition work. They take the place of grain which can be used for food. Swavesey children should follow the example of youngsters in Fen Drayton, and do their bit in aid of their country's needs.

WAR NOTES. 12th Oct. 1917

Sapper Arthur Garner, R.E., arrived at Salonica on 7th September in good health. Travelling by the same ship were Miss Kirke Smith, of Boxworth, and other Red Cross nurses. Pte. Henry Wilderspin, Northumberland Fusiliers, who accidentally sprained his ankle in August, has again been in hospital in France. He is now convalescent, but not yet fit for duty. Lance-Corpl. Peter Ding, Yeomanry, son of the late Mrs. Joseph Ding, paid a short visit to his native village on Wednesday whilst on ten days' leave from France, where he had been for over two years. He was in the best of health and spirits. Between 1st October and 31st December, 1916, five men joined the Army from Swavesey. Four of them are serving abroad, viz., two in France, one with the Egyptian Expeditionary Force, and one at Salonica.

THE FOOD QUESTION. 12th Oct. 1917

Two questions relative to the increased price of milk in Swavesey are being asked: (1) What is Mr. C. Webster, the Labour representative on the Swavesey District Food Control Committee, doing in regard to the matter? Nearly a fortnight has elapsed since the price was raised to 6d. a quart, one penny a quart more than the maximum charge allowed in the Newmarket district, and a half-penny more than in the Lancashire town of Darwen. It is felt the Mr. Webster's position on the Committee, if he does his duty by the class he is supposed to represent, will be a difficult and perhaps an unpleasant one, as all his colleagues are more or less interested in farming, and therefore directly or indirectly in the supply of milk. If he does his duty he ought to have, and no doubt will have, the support of those he is placed on the Committee to represent, the workers. (2) What is the lady member of the Committee doing? Milk is an essential part of the food of children, and her responsibility is therefore great, for the question of the food supply of the little ones ought to be one of her chief duties. The Food Committee may have met and taken the matter into their serious consideration, but as is the case with the Local Tribunal, their proceedings appear to be wrapt in mystery. It is understood, however, that they are meeting in St. Ives on Monday for a conference with the local butchers, and perhaps they will then come to some decision in regard to milk. But a fortnight is a long time to allow to pass before taking action on so important a matter as the supply and price of the children's food.

STTRANGE SWAVESEY CASE. 12th Oct. 1917

FARMER CHARGED WITH THREATENING TO SHOOT HIS SON.

At the County Police Station, Cambridge, on Wednesday, before Mr. H. F. Cook, H. W., sen., farmer, of Swavesey, was charged with threatening to shoot his son on the previous night.

The evidence showed that on the night of the 9th Mr. W., jun., went to the house of his father, who presented a gun at him and threatened to shoot him. A warrant was obtained, and Mr. W., sen., was arrested.

Accused was bound over in his own recognisances in the sum of £20 to keep the peace for 12 months.

MISSING. 19th Oct. 1917

Pte. Walter Metcalfe, R.W. Kent Regiment, has been reported missing since 20th September. Writing on the 9th inst. to Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, Pte. Metcalfe's grandfather, his platoon officer says: "it is with deep regret that I have to inform you that your grandson, Pte. Walter Metcalfe, has been reported to me as missing since the attack on September 20th. He is greatly missed by his comrades and by myself as his Platoon Commander, as he was of such a cheerful and willing disposition and courageous under the most trying circumstances. Both his comrades and myself are expecting his return any day now, and should I receive any news of him I shall be only too pleased to communicate with you at once." Pte. Metcalfe joined up on 13th May, 1916, went to France on the 13th October, was invalided home during the spring of this year, and returned to France in June. His younger brother, Pte. William Metcalfe, is expecting to be sent abroad any day.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. 19th Oct. 1917

THE PRICE OF MILK.

Sir, - I am writing this letter (trusting you will publish same), in reply to a paragraph entitled "The Food Question," which appeared in the "Cambs. Weekly News" on October 13th, under the heading of Swavesey. Our good correspondent seems quite hurt by the fact that the price of milk was raised on October 1st to 3d. per pint, and mentions milk as being the children's food in a most touching manner.

Although cows are still out to grass, rent has to be paid for the fields, which are practically not used during the winter. I know a good many people labour under the delusion that cows cost nothing to keep in summer, quite overlooking the rents. The reason why the price of milk was advanced in October was because the quantity of milk falls off very much at that time of the year.

Winchester, a parish made famous by having had John Keble as its vicar from 1836 until his death thirty years later. Pte. Howlett's parents in Swavesey have received satisfactory news of his condition this week. Pte. Albert G. Parish, King's Royal Rifles, has been in Swavesey on draft leave. He rejoined his unit on Wednesday. Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, attached to the transport of his battalion, has had another horse shot under him. He was a Reservist, recalled to the colours on mobilisation and was seriously wounded in October, 1914, but recovered and returned to his battalion in France on 13th February, 1916.

LECTURE. 26th Oct. 1917

Mr. Barnett, of the Band of Hope Union, gave a lecture on temperance to the children at Swavesey National School on Tuesday afternoon.

WAR NOTES. 26th Oct. 1917

Pte. Percy V. Maltby, South Staffordshire Regiment, crossed over to France last Friday. A letter has been received from Pte. William Harden, Shropshire Light Infantry, who is seriously ill in France, stating that he is rather better. Pte. Charles W. Prime, Bedfordshire Regiment, who was invalided home from the Western front in August, and has been in hospital since, arrived in Swavesey on ten day's leave on Wednesday. Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., landed in Mesopotamia in August. Pte. Hugh Smith, Suffolk Regiment, who was severely wounded on 19th May, is still in hospital at Bath. He is looking forward to being discharged in a short time.

FOR THE RED CROSS. 26th Oct. 1917

In connection with the Red Cross effort a whist drive was held in the Swavesey Schools, and flags were sold throughout the district. The demand for flags was so great that the usual supply proved inadequate.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT. 26th Oct. 1917

Writing on the 17th instant to our Swavesey representative from "somewhere in France," Lance-Corpl. George Dean, R.A.M.C., says:- "I have just been enjoying last week's 'Press and News'. and as it is a long time since I last wrote I decided to send you a few lines to let you know how much we appreciate your energy in collecting, and informing us of all news from the dear old village. May you continue for a long time to carry on with the good work. I received a letter from Jim (his eldest brother, a veteran of the South African War, who answered the call to serve in this war in December, 1915, when living in Australia) to-night, and he also said how much he enjoyed reading the Swavesey news. He has been rather unfortunate lately. As you probably know, he is a corporal in the Australian section of the Imperial Camel Corps. Well, after many months in Palestine, he was granted eight days' leave, and journeyed down to Port Said to have a good time. He reached there all right, but on the second day he was taken ill and was admitted to hospital with a temperature of 101.3. It has since been proved that he has diphtheria, and although he was improving when he wrote, he was still on semi-fluid diet. Naturally, he is not at all pleased at having his leave spoilt like that. You will notice that I am attached to a convalescent camp now, and a very busy time we are having, the casualties in the recent stunts having been in the majority of cases only slight wounds. I was very sorry when Sam Mitham (another Swavesey young man in the R.E.) left here, as we were often able to spend the evening together. I had a letter from him the other night, in which he stated that he was having a busy time dodging the Bosche shells. I am glad the Hun aeroplanes don't visit Swavesey. He was often over here during the fine weather two or three times a day, but never succeeded in doing much damage. I am expecting to get over to see you in a few weeks, as it is fourteen months since I had my last leave." Lance-Corpl. G. Dean and his gallant Australian brother are the sons of the late Mr. James W. Dean and Mrs. Dean, Swavesey.

CONCERNING THE PARISH COUNCIL. 26th Oct. 1917

The Swavesey Parish Council should, in accordance with their Standing Orders, have met on the third Monday in July and October. Both dates have passed. Their last meeting was on May 18th.
(Long report in newspaper.)

MILK. 26th Oct. 1917

TO THE EDITOR.

Sir, - With your permission, I should like to reply to "Swavesey Farmer's" letter of last week. In the first place, the letter from your correspondent of the previous week fitted the case exactly, and in drawing public attention to the price of milk at Swavesey he performed a public service much appreciated by local resident.

"Swavesey Farmer's" reply is singularly unconvincing. We all quite understand the rent has to be paid for the fields, but we are also told that the rents have not been raised since the commencement of the war.

We are also aware that supply and demand have a lot to do with prices, but will "Swavesey Farmer" please explain how it is possible for small cowkeepers in the village to sell milk at 11d. per gallon to local retailers?

Surely the cowkeepers are not doing so at a loss, and why do the local retailers charge 2s. per gallon for the same milk delivered in the same village, with no more cost of labour to meet than before the war, and no railway or other charges to pay?

Surely there is some profiteering going on somewhere which should be investigated by the authorities. – Yours etc.,

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

Swavesey, October 23rd. 1917

FOOD CONTROL. 2nd Nov. 1917

Sugar cards were delivered in Swavesey on Monday morning.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 2nd Nov. 1917

Driver Henry Carter, R.F.A., and Corpl. James Prime, London Regiment, arrived in Swavesey from Bourn on Wednesday evening. Driver Henry Carter was a Reservist called up on mobilisation. He went to France with some of the earliest British troops, was in the retreat from Mons, and in subsequent deadly and glorious battles, and was mentioned in despatches by Lord French (“London Gazette,” 1st January, 1916). He is in good health, but his late arduous work with the guns in seas of mud has reduced his once somewhat corpulent frame to far more meagre dimensions. Corpl. Prime also is in excellent condition and the best of spirits. He was awarded the Military medal last May, and is the first Swavesey man to win that distinction. Both men had a warm reception from their friends.

WAR NOTES. 2nd Nov. 1917

Pte. William H. Metcalfe is sick in hospital. He has only recently gone to France, and it is not known to what regiment he belongs. His elder brother, Pte. Walter Metcalfe, Royal West Kent Regt., was reported “missing” on September 20th. Mr. James W. Williams, who joined up on October 17th, has passed his tests for the Royal Flying Corps, and is now a Second Air Mechanic. Gunner Percy J. Beaumont, R.G.A., has been in hospital in France, suffering from swollen feet, etc., but is now convalescent. He went to the front on May 20th.

PROMOTION. 9th Nov. 1917

Corpl. Joseph B. Parish, 2nd Battalion, Cambridgeshire Volunteer Regiment, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

WAR NOTES. 9th Nov. 1917

Pte. Harry Prime, Manchester Regiment, went to France on 15th October, and Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., on the 1st inst. Corpl. John A. Symonds has been transferred to the East Kent Regiment (the Buffs).

A PRICKLY VISITOR. 9th Nov. 1917

Mr. J. B. Parish the other evening found a hedgehog feeding from a cat's plate of food placed close to the back door of his house. The prickly visitor showed no signs of shyness, and evidently wished to finish its meal before moving on.

FOR THE FALLEN. 9th Nov. 1917

A memorial service for Swavesey men who have fallen in the war was held at the parish church on Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance, and the congregation included wounded soldiers and nurses from the V.A.D. Hospital, and a contingent of Swavesey Volunteers (under command of Sergt. J. B. Parish) and Boy Scouts.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 9th Nov. 1917

Lance-Corpl. Arthur Prior, Cambridgeshire Regiment, and Pte. Henry G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on 14 days' leave from France. Both were in excellent health and spirits. Lance-Corpl. Prior, who served in the South African war with the Devon Yeomanry, joined the Cambridgeshires on 5th September, 1914, and went to France with the regiment in February 1915. He is attached to the Quartermaster's stores. Pte. Key also enlisted voluntarily on 15th March, 1916, and went over the water on the 15th July, 1916

EGGS FOR THE SICK AND WOUNDED. 9th Nov. 1917

A representative from the War Office attended at Swavesey National School on Wednesday morning, and spoke to the children about collecting eggs for British wounded men in base hospitals in France and in home hospitals. He pointed out how necessary eggs were for the food of the wounded, many of whom were only able to take that kind of nourishment, and he begged the youngsters to do their utmost to collect eggs, or money to buy eggs. The collection will be taken in hand at once under the supervision of Mr. Hicks, the Headmaster, and though late in starting, it is hoped that Swavesey children will do even better than the young people in neighbouring villages, who have been collecting for some time. We know Swavesey children will do their best, and if they do better than the children of other villages near by, they will indeed do well.

SWAVESEY MILITARY MEDALLIST. 9th Nov. 1917

It was briefly recorded in these columns a short time ago that Corpl. James Prime, London Regiment, then a lance-corporal, had been awarded the Military Medal. It was not then known for what service the distinction had been given. Early in the morning of 25th May the Huns heavily bombarded the trenches on Messines Ridge held by Corpl. Prime's battalion in preparation for a raid. Anticipating the attack, Corpl. Prime mounted the parapet with his Lewis gun and opened a machine-gun barrage for all he was worth, thus preventing the enemy from reaching the British trench. Although knocked over several times, he kept up his barrage for the whole of the time the bombardment lasted, about an hour, and providentially escaped unhurt, though battered and bruised. A few weeks later, when the battalion was resting behind the lines, he was presented with the Military Medal at a church parade by his Divisional General. He was promoted corporal in August. Corpl. Prime is the second son of Mr. Alfred Prime, Taylor's-lane, Swavesey. His eldest brother, Pte. Alfred Prime, the Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regiment, was wounded in France on 1st August, and a younger brother, Pte. Harry Prime, went to France last month. Corpl. Prime has been in Swavesey this week on short leave, but returns to the front to-morrow.

WELL-EARNED REST. 9th Nov. 1917

Between Swavesey Railway station and the viaduct over the River Ouse are three gate-houses, picturesque and built of wood, in design resembling Swiss chalets. These houses are attached to railway crossings at Hog Pasture and Mow Fen Drove, Swavesey, and on the roadway from Fen Drayton to Holywell Ferry. For thirty years Mr. Alfred Spolton, the foreman platelayer of the "length," has lived and reared his family in the Mow Fen house, and here his devoted wife passed away rather more than three years ago. These pretty dwellings are remote from other houses, and in times of flood are frequently isolated. When the water rises high, the lower rooms are flooded, and a hurried retreat to shelter in the villages is necessary. Five times has Mr. Spolton had to move in thirty years. On Friday, 26th October, Mr. Spolton retired from railway service with a well-earned pension, after 37 years' faithful work, and is removing with his daughter and her family to a house in Swavesey village. Mr. Spolton entered the service of the Great Eastern Railway Company on the 24th September, 1880, as a platelayer, and seven years later was promoted to foreman platelayer. Not once during the 37 years was there any occasion for him to have an unpleasant interview with a superior official. He kept his record clear from first to last. He was never absent from work, not even for a day, but an accident on duty once laid him aside for some weeks. In spite of his nearly seventy years, Mr. Spolton is still hale and hearty, and that he will continue to enjoy good health for years to come is the earnest hope of his friends.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 9th Nov. 1917

The Swavesey Parish Councillors were summoned to meet last Friday evening. At the appointed time the Chairman (Mr. A. Norman), Mr. W. Burton and Mr. R. Norman attended, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) and patiently waited for nearly an hour and a half, but no other councillors put in an appearance, and as a quorum of five was required by the Standing Orders no meeting could be held. It was, however, agreed that the Council should meet on Monday. On that evening six councillors attended viz., Messrs. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., A. T. Scard and W. Twist. Mr. Goad presided. After the minutes of the meeting on May 18th and of the meeting on Friday last which was not held had been read and signed, Messrs. Burton and Twist reported the result of the raid on sparrows. The former had paid 3s. 2½d. and the latter 2s. 7d to the raiders. The Clerk was instructed to refund this money to Messrs. Burton and Twist. Mr. Burton complained that the reward offered was not sufficient, and later in the meeting it was agreed to offer a penny for three full-grown birds and a penny for six young ones. After a complaint by Rev. J. F. Cooksey about the condition of the footpath across Church Green it was decided to write to the District Council asking that the path might be repaired with gravel. A letter was also read from Mr. J. W. Williams, who has recently joined up, resigning his post as sub-captain of the fire engine. Mr. George Clarke was appointed to the vacant office, with a retaining fee of 10s. a year. Payment of Mr. Challis's bill for repairing and reprinting the wooden street lamp posts, £4 8s., was authorised and a lock was ordered for the door of the shed in which the lamps are stored. The Clerk reported as to the repairs he had executed to the buildings on the parish property in High-street, and mentioned that a portion of the roof still had to be attended to. It was decided that Mr. John Hodson be instructed to thatch the piece of roof now uncovered and that he should find his own straw. A tour of inspection would be made of the property and the fence at the back.

PTE. JACK WILDERSPIN. 16th Nov. 1917

Information has been received from the Canadian Record Office, that Pte. Jack Wilderspin, Canadian Infantry, is in a Field Hospital in France, suffering from a shrapnel wound in the right leg. Pte. Wilderspin emigrated to Canada some years ago, and at the beginning of the war answered his country's call and enlisted in a Canadian battalion with which he has served ever since. In April, 1915, he was in hospital in France suffering from burns. From information that has reached the village from other Swavesey men at the front, Jack Wilderspin appears to have earned the reputation of being absolutely devoid of fear.

MILK AND MEAT. 16th Nov. 1917

As far as is known to the public the Swavesey District Food Control Committee have taken no steps to deal with the retail price of milk, which remains at 6d. a quart. The butchers were supplied by the Committee last week with a maximum price list.

JOINED UP. 16th Nov. 1917

Mr. Dick Wilderspin, oil merchant, cycle agent, general dealer, etc., Swavesey, joined up on Tuesday. Mr. Wilderspin, who is well known for many miles around Swavesey, has been obliged to dispose of the bulk of his stock-in-trade, and practically close down a thriving and increasing business.

SHORTAGE OF TEA. 16th Nov. 1917

Swavesey people are feeling the inconvenience of the shortage of tea. For the last ten days or so every retailer in the village has at one time or another been unable to supply his customers, and when there was tea at disposal it has been doled out in restricted quantities. Tea rationing may therefore be said to have begun.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 16th Nov. 1917

By the death of Mrs. Susan Day on Friday last, the oldest woman parishioner of Swavesey has passed away. Mrs. Day, who attained the great age of 88 years last January, was the widow of the late Mr. Samuel Day, who died upwards of 20 years ago. Her illness was protracted, painful and very distressing, and she was confined to her bed for 15 weeks, but all her sufferings were borne with wonderful patience and resignation. She leaves one son and one daughter. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. Herbert Day (son), Miss Elizabeth Day (daughter), Miss Emma Day (niece), Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, and Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Day (nephews and nieces).

THE LATE MR. PHILIP STOCKER. 16th Nov. 1917

“Robin Goodfellow,” writing in last Saturday’s “Cambridge Daily News,” says:- “The doyen of Cambridge cabmen has passed away in the person of Phil. Stocker, leaving “Lame Walter,” with whom he often argued the point, in undisputed possession of the title. Which man owned the slowest horse has often been debated, but I am inclined to award the palm to Phil. Since the introduction of motor buses and taxis, Phil. specialised as a night cabman, and many an arrival by the last train on a wet night has been glad to avail himself of the refuge of his ancient four-wheeler. On wet nights, too, he was often to be found outside the New Theatre on the look-out for a late fare. R.I.P.” Mr. P. Stocker, who was 68 years of age, belonged to an old Swavesey family, being the son of the late Mr. Thomas Stocker. He was born in a house at Boxworth End, opposite the residence of the late Mr. W. C. Cole. This house was destroyed by fire many years ago. The younger brother, Mr. Ephraim Stocker, still resides in Swavesey. Philip Stocker left his native village upwards of forty years ago, and went to seek his fortune in Cambridge. After two or three years at Moden’s in Market-street, and the Wrestlers, near the Guildhall, he took up cab-driving, and was a cabman to the last. An older brother, Thomas, who is still living in the town, was also a well-known Cambridge cab-driver for many years. Mr. P. Stocker had been in bad health for some time, and had been under treatment at Addenbrooke’s Hospital, but his end was sudden. He died at home on Monday, 5th inst., and the funeral took place at Mill-road Cemetery last Friday, three of his four surviving brothers being present, with other members of the family

The bells of the Parish Church were rung after the morning service on Sunday in honour of General Byng's victory.

THE SUGAR MUDDLE. 30th Nov. 1917

No instructions relative to the new system of sugar cards had reached Swavesey grocers on Wednesday. It is suggested that the village representatives on the Food Control Committee would render useful service if they would explain the latest arrangements to the perplexed householders.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 30th Nov. 1917

Pioneer Walter Coulson, R.E. (Road Construction Company), arrived home on Sunday on 14 days' leave from France. After a stormy sea voyage he reached Cambridge late at night; the last train to Swavesey had left, and he had to walk some ten weary miles home. He is in excellent health and spirits. Prior to joining up on the 1st June 1916, Pnr. Coulson was a Cambs. County Council roadman. He trained with the Suffolks, but on his arrival in France in October, 1916, was transferred to a battalion of the Lincolns, and saw service in the trenches. In March of this year he joined a Road Construction Company, R.E., and his last job before leaving for home was the preparation of roads for General Byng's great advance on the 20th inst.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 30th Nov. 1917

An address, entitled "The Romance and Reward of fifty years' work in the mission field" was given by Mr. Albert Carter, Birmingham, a retired missionary, at the Friends' Meeting House on the evening of the 21st inst. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Bethel Baptist Chapel, presided over a crowded audience. The address, which was very interesting, was in connection with a special effort on behalf of the Jubilee Fund of the Friends' Foreign Missions, and a collection in aid of the fund was made at the conclusion of the meeting. Several hymns were sung, Mrs. Ussher kindly playing the accompaniment on the organ. Mr. Carter exhibited articles made by native Indians, Americans, etc., some of which were sold and realised £1. During the afternoon Mr. Carter spoke at the Mother's Meeting in the same building.

WAR NOTES. 30th Nov. 1917

Pte. Jack Wilderspin, Canadian Infantry, who, as already announced in these columns, has recently been wounded, was removed to the Red Cross Hospital, Netley, Southampton, on the 21st inst., from the Military Hospital, Hursley, Hants., where he had been under an operation for appendicitis. He is now convalescent. Pte. Howlett went to France in October, 1915, was wounded in the knee in May 1916, but was not sent to this country, and was home on short leave at the beginning of this year. Swavesey is now represented in Italy. It is understood that Sergt. Cyril Day and Trooper Frank Hephher, Yeomanry, and Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., have gone there with General Plumer's force. A Swavesey man writing from France says he was very pleased to see in the "Press and News" that Corpl. James Prime, London Regt., had won the Military Medal, and would be glad to hear that other Swavesey men had gained that or an even higher distinction.

DEATH OF MRS. RULE. 30th Nov. 1917

We regret to record the death, at the age of 71 years, of Mrs. Mary Ann Rule, widow of the late Mr. Joseph Rule, which occurred at her residence, Church End, Swavesey, on the 22nd inst., after a long and painful illness. Mrs. Rule, whose husband died at Swavesey in September 1913, leaves thirteen children, two sons and eleven daughters. The funeral took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. Frank Rule (son), Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Dyson, Mrs. Goss, Mrs. Nichols, the Misses Rosa, Hettie and Nellie Rule (daughters), and Mr and Mrs. A. E. Daintree, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prime, Mr. Sidney Prime, and Mrs. Golding (nephews and nieces). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey.

WAR NOTES. 7th Dec. 1917

It is understood that Pte. Dean, R.A.M.C., and Pte. Harry Prime are now in Italy. Pte. Cyril G. Hephher has been transferred to the Yeomanry, but rides a bicycle, not a horse.

JOINED UP. 7th Dec. 1917

Mr. H. H. Williams, High-street, Swavesey, joined up last Saturday, and is serving with the Royal Flying Corps. He is the second grocer and draper in Swavesey who has had to leave his business in charge of his wife.

A class to instruct boys who have recently left school, in woodwork, etc., was opened at the National School on Friday last, and will be continued on Monday and Friday evenings until further notice. Mr. E. J. Mitham is the instructor. Twelve boys are attending.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 7th Dec. 1917

Three Swavesey warriors have come home on 14 days' leave from France within the past few days. Pte. Robinson Mitham, jun., Suffolk Regt., arrived at Cambridge Railway Station late on Friday night, and after along and weary tramp, reached home about 2 a.m. on Saturday. He is in the best of health. He joined up in April, 1916, and went to France in the following September. On Sunday, Pte. H. C. Howlett, Suffolk Regt., surprised his family by walking in about breakfast time, having cycled from Cambridge. He also is in excellent health and spirits. He joined up in March, 1916, and left for France on the 7th September, 1916. Second Lieut. George Beaumont, East Surrey Regt., reached London on Saturday on short leave, and on Wednesday arrived in Swavesey on a visit to his mother. He enlisted in the London Scottish on 24th November, 1915, went to France on 12th March, 1916, and was wounded at Gommecourt on 11th June, 1916. He was sent to England, and on recovery rejoined his battalion at the front in September, 1916, but shortly afterwards received a nomination for a commission. After training with an officers' cadet battalion at Oxford, he was gazetted to a second lieutenancy in the East Surreys, and returned to France on the 24th May last.

ENTERTAINMENT. 7th Dec. 1917

For the purpose of assisting the fund which is being raised to provide Christmas presents for Swavesey men on active service, an entertainment was held in the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Miss Capper was the organiser in chief, and was ably assisted by Miss Elsie Dodson. Miss Parsons was an efficient and indefatigable accompanist. The excellent programme might be termed "varied." There was a musical play by six children, a humorous ballad by three juvenile sailors, and a sketch by the Boy Scouts wherein the Swavesey men were depicted receiving their Christmas parcels when in billets in France. Three soldiers from Swavesey V.A.D.

Hospital gave songs, as also did Miss Elsie Dodson (comic) and Miss Connie Goad. Two songs by Miss Doris Aldred were likewise rewarded by hearty applause. The Vicar acted as chairman until the interval, when he had to leave to take up duty as orderly at the hospital, and the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher took his place. The proceeds amounted to £7 15s. 9d., of which 13s. was a collection made at the door after the entertainment was over. The committee arranging the parcels are Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. Aldred, Miss E. Dodson, Miss B. Day and Miss Capper. Miss Grace Dodson has nobly undertaken the making of ½lb. of biscuits for each man in France; it is to be hoped that the men in Italy will not be overlooked. Men in England will receive a small remembrance.

PTE. THOMAS C. FROMENT. 14th Dec. 1917

Mrs. Joseph Froment, Market-street, has been officially informed that her son, Pte. Thomas C. Froment, Grenadier Guards, has been wounded, and is in hospital in France. He is suffering from gunshot wound in his right leg. It is believed that the injury is not serious, and that he is doing well.

Mr. Walter Thorp was elected a Feoffee of Galon's Charity on Monday evening in place of the late Mr. W. C. Cole, who died in May, 1916.

The Churchyard wall has at last been repaired, and some mischievous person or persons have already disfigured it by cutting their initials in the coping.

WAR NOTES. 14th Dec. 1917

Gunner Frederick A. Prior, R.F.A., and Pte. Frank H. Wilderspin are with the British Expeditionary Force in Italy. Corpl James Dean, Imperial Camel Corps, who was stricken down with diphtheria in Egypt when on a few days' leave from Palestine, is convalescent, and when last hear of was able to perform light duty.

NO BEER. 14th Dec. 1917

A Swavesey housewife, unable to obtain any beer in the village owing to there being none on sale, went to St. Ives to purchase half a pint. She took with her an empty bottle and applied at the publichouses in succession, but was told at each that she could have no beer to take away, though she could have some to drink on the premises, an offer she declined. So the bottle returned to Swavesey empty.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM PRIOR. 14th Dec. 1917

We regret to announce the death at the age of 59 years of Mr. William Prior, which occurred at his house in High-street on Tuesday afternoon after three weeks' illness. He leaves a widow, one son and five daughters. His eldest son died in 1910, and his second son, Lance-Corpl J. W. Prior, who joined the Suffolk Regt. in November, 1914, was reported missing on the 1st July, 1916, and has since been recorded as believed to have been killed on that date. His only surviving boy is now with the Royal Field Artillery in Italy.

SEED POTATOES AND SCRATCH BANK. 14th Dec. 1917

A specially called Parish Meeting was held at the National School on Wednesday evening, under the presidency of Mr. Arthur Norman, chairman of the Parish Council, to consider a letter from Mr. R. H. Adie, Secretary of the County War Agricultural Committee, respecting the supply of seed potatoes for next year. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been signed, the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), read Mr. Adie's letter, from which it appeared that the Board of Agriculture were prepared to supply seed potatoes from Scotland to small growers, no person to receive more than 5 cwt. The Chairman said that he had ascertained that the price would be at the rate of about £10 10s. to £11 per ton. As Mr. Adie asked that he should be informed as to the approximate quantity required by the 15th inst. at the latest, it was decided that the village crier should announce on Thursday that applicants should notify the quantities of potatoes required by them to the clerk not later than this (Friday) evening.

The very bad condition of Scratch, or Cradge, Bank, in consequence of which Middle Fen has been seriously flooded, was then discussed and it was decided that a meeting of owners and occupiers in Middle Fen should be held at the School at 7 p.m., next Wednesday, 19th inst., to consider the question and arrange for the repairs to the bank with the least possible delay. The bank is not under the control of the Swavesey Rural District Council.

WAR SAVING. 14th Dec. 1917

A lantern lecture, entitled "From the Front, or modern warfare in the air, on sea and land," was given in the National School on Thursday evening in last week by the Rev. M. De Courcy Ireland, vicar of Melbourn and late rector of Somersham, Hunts. The lecture was under the auspices of the Swavesey District War Savings Committee, and the chair was taken by the Rev. J. S. Sharp, Chairman of the Committee. He was supported by Mr. H. Capper, district secretary, and Mr. Prime Godfrey, Chairman of the Swavesey War Savings Association. The lecture was instructive and interesting, and the pictures were admirable, and afforded Mr. Ireland many opportunities to make telling points when urging the necessity for saving in order to meet the enormous cost of the war. Mr. Capper also spoke earnestly in support of the need for war savings. The audience, although numerous, was disappointing. None of the leading people of the parish showed their interest in the great and most urgent savings movement by being present, with the notable exceptions of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, and Mr. Robinson Mitham.

KILLED IN ACTION. 21st Dec. 1917

Sergt. Alfred A. Linford, Suffolk Regiment, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, Swavesey, who has been "missing" since the 28th April last, has now been officially recorded as having been killed in action on that date.

POST OFFICE ON CHRISTMAS DAY. 21st Dec. 1917

As no train is due to reach Swavesey on Christmas Day until 12.17 p.m., arrangements have been made for the letter and parcel mails to be conveyed from Cambridge by road. A delivery of letters and parcels will be effected on Christmas morning at the usual time, but the letter-box at the Post Office will be cleared for despatch at 1.5 p.m.

NEWS FROM ITALY. 21st Dec. 1917

Pte. Harry Prime, writing from Italy to his sister in Swavesey under date 28th November, says:- “You will, I dare say, be surprised to hear that I am in Italy. We got on the train a week ago yesterday, and did not get off until Sunday. We had a lovely journey, and the weather was very bright; it was a real picture. We passed through the place where Aunt – lives. It is a very pretty place, big high mountains at the back, with houses built on the side among beautiful fir trees, and in front there is the sea. Now for a little news. On Friday night, as we were passing through one station in Italy, I saw a train load of Yeomanry, and I called out and asked if any Cambridgeshire lads were there. They said, ‘Yes, from Swavesey.’ The next morning we were stopped, and they caught us up, and as I was looking out of the window, I saw Frank Hephher, so I was soon out of the door – you may bet your life on that. While I was talking with him, who should come up but Sergt. Cyril Day, and on the same train was John Taylor as well. So I met three Swavesey lads all together. It was a surprise. I had a nice long talk with them. I saw W. Goad one day before I left France, but I was riding on a motor-van, so could not talk to him. I don’t think he saw me. I did not shout, as I did not recognise him until we were right by. I have an idea he is out here too, and close to us. Cheer up, we shall soon be home for good.”

DEATH OF MR. J. TRUNDLEY. 21st Dec. 1917

After an illness of three weeks’ duration, Mr. James Trundley, Market-street, passed away on Friday, 14th inst., in his 70th year. He was the son of the late Mr. George Trundley, of Swavesey, and had lived in the village all his life. He was a good all-round and most useful agricultural worker, and was employed for many years by the late Mr. Steward Johnson, of Fen Drayton, and by his son, Mr. T. Johnson. He also worked for Mr. Alfred Day, Swavesey, and rendered good service in sinking deep wells for Mr. Edmund Furniss, Fen Drayton, and his father before him. During the last few years Mr. Trundle was employed as a roadman by the Swavesey Rural District Council. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Tuesday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Trundley (widow), Messrs. James, Charles and Samuel Trundley (sons), and Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Attwood, Mrs. Medlock and Miss Lizzie Trundley (daughters). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The late Mr. Trundley left four sons and four daughters.

WAR NOTES. 28th Dec. 1917

Sapper E. H. Hodson, R.E., is in France. Gunner Dick Wilderspin, R.G.A., has been transferred to the Royal Engineers as a despatch rider; he has been in Swavesey this week on draft leave.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 28th Dec. 1917

Lce.-Corpl. Charles S. Hepher, Suffolk Regt., son of Mr. Samuel Hepher, arrived home on the 19th inst. on 14 days' leave from the front. He is in the best of health. He joined the Yeomanry on April 10th 1916, went to France on the 5th of the following December, and was then transferred to the infantry. In July last he was promoted lance-corporal.

CHRISTMAS AT CHURCH. 28th Dec. 1917

The Parish Church was decorated with evergreens for the Christmas festival, and round the cards bearing the names of Swavesey men who have fallen in the war, were laurel branches and chrysanthemums. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 a.m. with hymns, 7.30 a.m., and after matins. Evensong with anthem and short sermon by the Vicar was at 3 p.m. The collections, as usual, were in aid of the Church of England Waifs' and Strays' Society.

SCRATCH BANK. 28th Dec. 1917

A meeting of the owners and occupiers of land in Middle Fen, Swavesey, was held at the National School on the evening of the 19th instant, to consider what steps should be taken to repair Scratch, or Cradge, Bank. Mr. Robinson Mitham presided, and in addition to owners and occupiers, Mr. Alfred Day, one of the Swavesey representatives on the Rural District Council, was present. The Chairman stated that there were 244 acres in Middle Fen, and he thought that a levy of 10d. or 1s. an acre would produce sufficient money to carry out the most urgent repairs to the bank. His proposal was agreed to, and two or three of the occupiers promised to lend men to do the work, and others offered tools, wheelbarrow, etc. Additional men will be engaged if necessary. Messrs. J. Parsons and W. Twist (owners) and J. Dodson and R. Mitham (occupiers) were appointed a committee of management. Mr. Day made some valuable suggestions as to the future upkeep of the bank, which should protect an important area of land from flooding. Now that private enterprise has taken in hand a small section of the banks in the Swavesey district, it is to be hoped that the Rural District Councillors, who are responsible for the defensive banks and drains generally, will wake up to a proper sense of their duty.

SAD DEATH OF A LITTLE CHILD. 28th Dec. 1917

Our last issue contained a report of the funeral of the late Mr. William Prior on Saturday 15th inst. To that funeral came Mrs. T. H. Holder, of 2 Percy-street, Thomley, co. Durham, a daughter, accompanied by her little son, Wilfred Harry, aged 1 year and 10 months. The little fellow was in the best of health, but on Thursday afternoon, 20th inst., he was suddenly taken ill with convulsions, and in spite of every attention, died about 9.30 a.m. on the following day. On Thursday Mrs. Holder received a telegram from her husband calling her home as her other child, a son aged 4 years, was not well, and when Wilfred was taken ill she was ready to leave Swavesey for Thomley. Keen sympathy is felt for the sorrow-stricken family. Within 18 months Mrs. Holder has lost by death a brother, Lce.-Corpl. J. W. Prior, Suffolk Regt., reported missing, believed killed, on July 1st 1916, and now her father after three weeks' illness, and her baby boy. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Sunday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Holder (parents), Mrs. W. Prior (grandmother), Miss C. Prior and Mrs. G. Day (aunts) and Mr. George Day (cousin).

JOINED UP. 4th Jan. 1918

Mr. Alfred J. Willson joined up on New Year's Day. He was very well known in the district, having been with Mr. H. S. Aldred for many years.

FOOD COMMITTEE. 4th Jan. 1918

Mr. Beales, the Swavesey stationmaster, has been invited to join the Swavesey District Food Control Committee, and attended a meeting of the committee for the first time on Monday. The meeting was held at St. Ives.

WEDDING. 4th Jan. 1918

A pretty wedding took place at Swavesey parish church on the 27th ult., when Mr. Charles Alfred Martin, of Boxworth End, Swavesey, was married to Miss Florence Annie Ingle, eldest daughter of Mr. Herbert Ingle, of Willingham. The Rev. Selwyn Sharp (Vicar) officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Norman Ingle, was dressed in white, prettily trimmed with point lace. She wore a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet. In attendance on her were two bridesmaids, Miss C. Smith and Miss Doris Ingle; the former was in Wedgewood blue, and the latter in white, embroidered with Wedgewood blue. They carried bunches of lilies and white chrysanthemums. Sergt. George Goad was best man. After the ceremony there was a reception at the residence of the bridegroom's grandfather, Boxworth End. The bridegroom served in the Suffolk Regiment for rather more than a year, but was discharged last March as no longer physically fit for war service.

WAR NOTES. 4th Jan. 1918

Second Lieut. George Beaumont, East Surrey Regt., who has been in France for some time, has been promoted Captain. Corpl. George Dean, R.A.M.C., writing to our Swavesey representative under date 14th December, says: "I arrived in Italy on the 20th November, so am getting a bit used to the country now. It makes a very big change after so long in France, and I think myself extremely lucky to get away just now. Two winters in France were quite sufficient for me. The weather is much nicer here; we have only had two wet days so far. We had a great reception when we arrived in this country. The people gave us all kinds of fruit, etc. The most unfortunate thing about leaving France just now is that my leave is knocked on the head for the time being. I believe I may get home from here eventually, but expect I shall have to wait some months. I was second on the leave list when I left my unit, and would have been home within a week." Corpl. Charles S. Hepher, Suffolk Regt., left Swavesey on his return to France on Tuesday evening. He was promoted corporal in November. Gunner Percy J. Beaumont, R.G.A., has been invalided home from France, and is in hospital at Neath. Pioneer Dick Wilderspin, R.E., was expected to go over the water on Tuesday. He joined up on 13th November last.

MARGARINE AND THE VILLAGES. 4th Jan. 1918

Our Swavesey representative writes: "A serious situation has arisen in this district so far as the supply of margarine is concerned. For years past Swavesey carriers have been in the habit week after week of procuring for regular customers margarine from the Maypole Company in Cambridge. These customers belong not only to Swavesey, but to other villages. On Wednesday no margarine was procurable by carrier in Cambridge, and it is feared that all available supplies in the town will be kept for Borough customers only. Swavesey grocers cannot obtain sufficient margarine of any brand for their regular customers for this commodity. Butter is very scarce, a quarter being supplied instead of one pound, and very dear. What are the people to do who have depended for years on Cambridge for their margarine? The Chesterton Food Committee has, I understand, approached the Cambridge Borough Food Committee on behalf of those persons in the Chesterton district who have made a practice of shopping in Cambridge. What has the Swavesey Food Committee done in the matter? The members of that Committee might have a surprise if they ascertained from the local carrier the large quantity of margarine that has been procured from Cambridge by carriers, not only recently, but for years past.”

PTE. FRANK WILLIAMS. 4th Jan. 1918

Pte. Frank Williams, Royal Fusiliers, has been wounded in the ankle, and is in a base hospital in France. From a letter received from a chaplain, it is believed that Pte. Williams' wound is not very serious.

SCRATCH BANK. 11th Jan. 1918

Work of repairing Scratch (or Cradge) Bank was begun on Monday morning, under the supervision of a committee appointed at a recent meeting of owners and occupiers of land in Middle Fen. The necessary funds are being provided by a voluntary levy of 1s. an acre on the owners and occupiers of Middle Fen.

SNOW. 11th Jan. 1918

Snow fell heavily during Monday night, and on Tuesday morning the roads in the district were in places well-nigh impassable. The postman from Swavesey to Fen Drayton and Conington with night mail correspondence was unable to get very far along the Swavesey-Fen Drayton road on Tuesday morning owing to snowdrifts, and had to return. The mid-day delivery, was, however, effected in due course.

MISSIONARY EFFORT. 11th Jan. 1918

For the last 30 or 40 years it has been the custom in Swavesey to hold an annual missionary tea in the National School, followed by a lantern lecture. This year the tea had to be abandoned owing to the exigencies of the day, but the lantern lecture was given on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Green, lately Vicar of Horningsea. His subject was “Home Missions of the Church of England.” Some excellent pictures were shown by the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, Vicar of Over. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, presided. A collection was made at the close in aid of the A.C.S., and £1 8s. was realised.

INTERCESSION DAY. 11th Jan. 1918

Sunday, the Festival of the Epiphany, was duly observed at the parish church, and in the evening at the Mission Church, Boxworth End, as a Day of Intercession on behalf of the nation and the Empire in this time of war. The King's Proclamation was read by the Vicar, and the special forms of prayer and thanksgiving issued under the authority of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York were used. The collections throughout the day were for the British Red Cross Society. At Bethel Baptist Chapel a meeting of intercession was held in the afternoon in the schoolroom. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, presided, and Mr. H. S. Aldred, Sunday School Superintendent, and Messrs. B. Prior and J. Payne also took part in the service. The Roll of Honour containing the names of men connected with Bethel Chapel, and including those who have made the supreme sacrifice, was read at the beginning of the meeting. There was a good attendance of adults and scholars.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 11th Jan. 1918

Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, and Corpl Fred Kester, Welsh Regiment, have arrived in Swavesey on leave from France, the former on Sunday evening, and the latter on Monday morning. Both are in excellent health. Pte. Whybrow is a "Contemptible," and a man of Mons. A Reservist, he was recalled to the colours on August 4th, 1914, and quickly found himself in France. His brigade was one of the first, if not the first, to come to grips with the enemy. He was severely wounded in the abdomen in October, 1914, and after months in and out of hospital in this country, he recovered, and returned to France on the 13th February, 1916, and has been there ever since, except for ten days last July, when he was in England on short leave. He is now at home for a month's "time expired" leave, due last February, when he completed thirteen years' service, having enlisted on 11th February, 1904. Pte. Whybrow was in the charge on St. Eloi on 27th March, 1916, when the Rev. E. N. Mellish, the parson V.C., who was and still is attached as chaplain to his battalion, won the bronze cross. Corpl. Kester enlisted in the Army Service Corps on the 26th September, 1914, and proceeded to France in February, 1915. He was promoted corporal last March, and was transferred to the Welsh Regt., carrying his stripes in August.

Pte. Percy V. Maltby, South Staffordshire Regiment, is in Queen Mary's Military Hospital, Whalley, Lancashire, having been invalided from France with trench fever. Just before being taken ill he had a rough spell in the trenches, his company having sustained heavy losses, and Pte. Maltby being the only sound man left in his platoon. — Pte. Jack Wilderspin, Canadian Infantry, who was wounded in November, is reported to be going on well. He hopes to get his ten day's convalescent leave shortly. Pte. David Sutton, the Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regiment, who was wounded in the chest at La Basse in August, 1916, and again in the thigh in April last, has been paying a visit to his mother at Boxworth end. In August last his leg was amputated, and he is now waiting for a mechanical limb. — Sergt. C. Wood, who, before joining the Royal Fusiliers in October 1914, was headmaster of Swavesey National School, writing from France on the 2nd inst., says: "We have been having some rough work for the last six weeks and are expecting soon to go out on rest. We have earned it too, I give you my word. The weather is terrible; frost and snow, and plenty of it, especially frost, from 30 to 40 degrees many mornings. We are camped in tents, and often find hoar frost on our blankets in the morning. We are not allowed fires or lights after dark on account of Fritz bombing the camp, so we are in the blankets by six o'clock. The place where we are now is part of a great plain, undulating country, ridge after ridge, valley after valley, as far as one can see, snow-covered and ice-bound. Not a village standing intact and no sign of life except soldiers.

CAPTAIN G. BEAUMONT OF SWAVESEY WINS MILITARY CROSS. 11th Jan. 1918

Under authority granted by his Majesty the King, Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, K.T., has awarded the Military Cross to Capt. George Beaumont for devotion to duty and gallant conduct. Capt. Beaumont is the first Swavesey man to win the Military Cross. In last Friday's issue, his promotion from 2nd-lieutenant to captain was announced. Capt. Beaumont is the third son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont and Mrs. Beaumont of Swavesey. He enlisted in the London Scottish on 24th November, 1915, and joined his battalion in France on the 12th March, 1916. Wounded at Gommecourt on the 11th June following, he returned to England, but went back to France in September, 1916. Later in that year, on receiving a nomination for a commission, he joined an Officer's Cadet Battalion at Oxford, and was gazetted second-lieutenant in the East Surrey Regiment on the 4th April last. He was again in France on the 24th May, and has since won his Company and the Military Cross.

AN UNFORTUNATE MISHAP. 18th Jan. 1918

Mr. William Burton, the well-known Swavesey fruit grower, has had to have his left eye removed in consequence of a seemingly slight accident in November, when a small thorn or splinter of wood penetrated his eyeball. The operation was successfully performed on Sunday at a Nursing Home in Newmarket-road, Cambridge, by Dr. Wherry, and the latest accounts of Mr. Burton's condition are satisfactory.

DEATH OF MR. FREDERICK HEPHER. 18th Jan. 1918

We regret to record the death, at the age of 73 years, of Mr. Frederick Hepher, which occurred after a fortnight's illness, at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Sidney Prime, Middle Watch, Swavesey, on the 8th inst. Mr. Hepher was a native of Swavesey, being a son of the late Mr. Richard Hephher. He leaves a widow, but no children. The funeral took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. E. Short, Pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Hephher (widow). Mr. Sidney Prime, Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Prime (brothers and sister-in-law), Mr. Samuel Hephher (nephew), Mrs. S. Hephher, Mrs. J. Payne, Mrs. A. E. Daintree (nieces) and Mr. J. T. Daintree (cousin). The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

WEIGHING OF YOUNG PERSONS. 18th Jan. 1918

Cards have this week been distributed in the village by the local Food Control Committee, giving the maximum prices of meat and milk and certain information respecting voluntary rationing, at the end of which the following instruction appears: "Children and young persons should be weighed before a meal, and record kept of their net weight without clothes." Will the Food Committee kindly tell us, writes a correspondent, how and where the weighing is to be done, seeing that no householder is likely to possess a suitable machine. Have the Committee arranged for the weighing machine in the school to be used, or are the children and young persons to go to the railway station? As the machine there is on the platform, it will be extremely awkward, to say the least, for children and young persons to be weighed without clothes. Not only might Mrs. Grundy be shocked, but the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children would probably have something to say in the matter, especially in inclement weather like the present. What is the use of issuing instructions which cannot be obeyed?

Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., serving in Italy, has been suffering from slight blood poisoning, the result of cutting his right hand with a tin. In other respects he is fit and well. Letters dated the 1st and 10th November respectively have reached Swavesey from Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., who has been in Mesopotamia since August. He was in good health and spirits, and had just been moved up country from Basra. Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, East Kent Regiment (The Buffs) is ill in hospital in France. Sergt. C. W. Gray has been stationed at Khartoum in the Soudan for about a year, and was still there when heard from three weeks ago. He was quite well, in spite of the excessive heat. His daughter Dorothy has been serving with the W.A.A.C. since March. Pte. Thomas Froment, Grenadier Guards, who has been suffering from a gunshot wound in his leg, and has been in hospital in France, has been moved to the base. His is progressing satisfactorily. Pte. Frank Williams, Royal Fusiliers, was more seriously wounded on the 22nd ult. than at first reported. He was struck in the right ankle by a shell, and the bones were so much injured that it has been necessary to amputate his foot. He is in hospital in France, and is reported to be going on as well as can be expected.

On Wednesday morning Swavesey was snow-bound. Snow began to fall heavily between 6 and 7 o'clock the previous evening, and between daybreak on Wednesday everything was covered to the depth of from nine inches to a foot. The County Council snow plough was got to work on the roads under the control of the Council, but no roadmen were at work, as being old age pensioners, they cannot be employed on one day of the week, and Wednesday is the appointed day. No Council plough had been used on the Huntingdon-road by noon between Lolworth-road and the New Inn (Swavesey-road's end). The roads under the Swavesey Rural District Council were practically impassable for cyclists and pedestrians, as that Council does not possess a snow plough. Men were, however, employed with shovels on some of the roads. Postal arrangements were upset. The night mail, which should arrive by train due at 7.15 a.m., did not reach Swavesey until the next train, shortly before 9 o'clock, and the postmen could not use bicycles. Correspondence for Fen Drayton and Conington had to be kept back for the mid-day delivery. The day mail service to outlying villages was seriously interfered with, thanks to the neglect of the Swavesey District Council. Bicycles were impracticable, and the postmen had to walk to Fen Drayton, Conington, Boxworth, Elsworth, Knapwell, Lolworth, etc. The day mail collections from these villages could not be brought in, and the man who went to Elsworth and Knapwell had to walk there and back. Swavesey is cut off from the outside world by telegraph and telephone, as wires have been broken near the Swan Pond and in Middle Watch.

WAR NOTES. 25th Jan. 1918

PTE. JAMES WILLIAM HEPHER, Suffolk Regiment, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, who was reported missing on 28th April last, has now been officially recorded as believed to have been killed in action on that date. His two brothers are serving, Pte. Cyril Hepher (in the Yeomanry), and Pte. A. C. (Fred) Hepher (in the Middlesex Regiment). SAPPER ARTHUR C. GARNER, R.E., who has been at Salonica since September, and has been suffering from blood poisoning in the leg, has quite recovered, and reports that he is fit and well.

PTE. FRANK WILLIAMS, Royal Fusiliers, is in hospital at Oxford. He was wounded by a shell in the ankle on the 22nd ultimo, and his right foot was amputated in France.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 25th Jan. 1918
RECREATION GROUND BYELAWS.

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Monday evening, the third Monday in this month. The only item on the agenda was "to consider a letter received as to the canning of fruit during next season." The councillors present were: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. A. Day, jun, J. S. Goad, A. J. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and signed, the Clerk said that he had not received accounts of the money paid by Messrs. Burton and Twist for sparrows last year. Mr. Twist replied that he would send in his claim. The Clerk also reported that Mr. John Hodson, who had been instructed to repair the thatched roof of a building on the parish property in High-street, had been unable to procure the necessary straw. No report was made to the meeting of the visit of inspection of the property which the Council agreed to make on November 12th. There had been no reply to the Clerk's letter to the Rural District Council concerning the gravelling of the footpath across Church Green. The Clerk further reported that a supplemental assessment list had been sent in by the overseers to the Assessment Committee, and that he had written to Mr. R. H. Adie that 3cwt. of King Edward and 3 cwt. of Arran Chief potatoes would be required, and that Mrs. Mirrlees, Hon. Secretary of the Horticultural Sub-Committee had replied that they would be supplied in due course.

A letter from Mrs. Mirrlees respecting the canning of fruit was then considered, and the Clerk read, by request, various recipes for the making of carrot, marrow, and other jams. Mr. Goad was anxious to know whether any information was give as to where sugar and sugar substitute could be obtained, and Mr. Twist asked whether the Council would incur any expense if a demonstration were given. After discussion a resolution was carried that a demonstration be given in Swavesey some time in March on a date convenient to the lecturer. A lecture on potato culture would be given at the same time. A supply of leaflet No. 2 would be applied for and distributed.

There was no discussion on the village snow plough as the question of providing two ploughs was now under consideration of the Rural District Council.

Mr. Scard then gave notice that at the next meeting of the Parish council he would submit a resolution that the by-laws governing the Recreation Ground should be exhibited on a board on the ground.

Mr. Goad asked who was responsible for the footbridges which should be placed across the openings of the raised causeway by the Swan pond in times of flood. Bridges were necessary to enable people to get to the station. The original bridges had, he knew, been destroyed in the great fire. The Clerk said that he had during that afternoon, on his own initiative, placed scaffold boards over the openings, but that he had received no authority or request to do so. The general feeling of the councillors was that Mr. Mitham should be recompensed for his public-spirited action and for the use of his materials. A resolution was passed that a letter be written to the District Council asking that footbridges be provided in place of those destroyed in the fire.

ENTERTAINMENT. 1st Feb. 1918

On January 24th a most successful repetition of the Over Christmas entertainment was given in the schools in aid of Cambs. 12 V.A.D. Red Cross Hospital. The attractive programme of local talent brought a crowded audience, who were most appreciative. The total proceeds amounted to £10 2s. 2d, including a donation of 5s. from Fen Drayton. The expenses were considerably lessened by the Rev. Sharp granting the free use of schools and mission room chairs, by Mr. R. Mitham lending and putting up the stage and carting chairs free, and by Mr. Williamson lending his large lamp for the stage. The Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs gave great assistance in preparing the room and in many other ways.

“PRESS AND NEWS” AGAIN OF USE. 1st Feb. 1918

Writing to our Swavesey representative from Italy, under date January 19th, Lce.-Corpl. George Dean, R.A.M.C., says: “You may be interested to hear that the ‘Press and News’ has once again proved how valuable it is to us boys out here. One of the sisters in this hospital, a Cambridgeshire woman, going round the ward, asked if any of the boys would like to see the ‘Cambs. Weekly.’ One fellow happened to belong to Swavesey, and on reading in the paper that I was in the R.A.M.C., and on this front, asked the sister if by any chance I was on this unit. The result was that I had the pleasant surprise of a visit from Ernest Prior. He had been in the hospital for several days with a severe cut in the right hand caused by a jack knife and a bully beef tin. Had it not been for you it is very doubtful if I should ever have seen him. He is much better now, but he won’t be fit for duty for several weeks, as it is his right hand, and he can’t use his fingers yet. You can imagine how pleased we both were at seeing each other again. I had not seen him for three years and neither of us had met any Swaveseyites in Italy.” In a postscript, written on the following day, Lance-Corporal Dean adds: “I have just been up to see Ernest Prior as he has been worse. Last night he had a temperature of 102, so has been confined to bed again. He is a bit better now, but still feels rotten.”

ENTERTAINMENT. 1st Feb. 1918

A talented company of entertainers belonging to Over, assisted by clever children from Over National School who gave a very successful variety entertainment at Over on Boxing Day and the following evening, repeated their excellent “show” in Swavesey National School on Thursday evening, 24th ult. They attracted a bumper “house”, and once again scored a huge success. The proceeds were devoted to Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital, and it is understood that the institution has benefited to a considerable extent.

FRIENDS’ MEETING HOUSE. 8th Feb. 1918

An entertainment, consisting of solos, recitations, readings, hymns, etc., was given in the Friends’ Meeting house on the 31st ulto by members of the Mothers’ Meeting, assisted by a few friends. Miss Gaunt presided. A collection was taken during the evening in aid of Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital. The room was filled to overflowing.

MORE APPRECIATION. 8th Feb. 1918

Writing to our Swavesey representative on Sunday from Waterloo station on his way back to France after 14 days’ furlough, Pte. Frank Day, Canadian Forestry Corps., says: “I would like to thank you personally for the interest you have always taken in Swavesey boys, and for the way you keep us in touch with the old village as the local correspondent of the ‘Press and News.’

1914 STAR. 8th Feb. 1918

The under-mentioned men of Swavesey, or where dead, their representatives, are believed to be entitled to the 1914 Star which is to be accorded to men who served under Lord French in France and Belgium during the earlier phase of the war in 1914 up to midnight November 22-23, 1914: Pte. George Brooks, East Lancashire Regt. (killed in action Nov. 14th 1914); Driver Henry Carter, R.F.A.; Bombardier Arthur Crisp, R.F.A. (now A.S.C., M.T.); Sergt. Cyril Day, Yeomanry; Pte. Charles Savage, Bedfordshire Regt.; Corpl. John Savage, R.F.A.; Corpl. Watson Trundley, Royal Scots Fusiliers (killed in action Sept. 25th, 1915); Pte. A. F. Welch, Yorkshire Regt.; Pte. A. Whybrow, Royal

WAR NOTES. 8th Feb. 1918

Pte. Arthur Whybrow, after a month's time-expired furlough, returned to France on Monday. Lce.-Corpl. H. H. Wells and Pte. Frank Day, Canadian Forestry corps, also left the village for France, the former on Monday and the latter on Sunday. Private Arthur Beaumont, Machine Gun Corps, the youngest of five brothers, all of whom have served or are serving in the Army, went over the water on Monday. Pte. T. C. Froment, Grenadier Guards, who was wounded at Cambrai, is better, but is still in a convalescent camp in France. Pte. Harry Prime, Manchester Regt., is ill in hospital in Italy, but was better when last heard of; and Pte. Isaac Parish, Machine Gun Corps, is again unwell and in hospital at Cairo. Driver Frederick G. Clarke, A.S.C., was one of the first Britishers to enter Jerusalem. He has sent home some interesting photographs of groups taken in the Holy City in which he is easily recognised.

MARGARINE. 8th Feb. 1918

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- The Swavesey Food Control Committee would allay considerable anxiety and uncertainty in their district if they would make some public announcement regarding the steps they are taking to meet the margarine difficulty. As I have previously stated, an appreciable number of people in Swavesey and other villages served by the Swavesey carriers have for years obtained Maypole margarine from Cambridge. It is now understood that no margarine will be supplied in Cambridge except on production of sugar cards, and the carriers decline to collect these cards, or be responsible for their safe return to the holders. Have the Food Committee made any provision for the people who used to get margarine from Cambridge to be supplied by the local shopkeepers? If they have done so a public announcement on the subject would be opportune. Rumours have reached me that there is dissatisfaction amongst some of the grocers in the district as to the distribution of margarine allowed them for sale. It is alleged that some grocers are able to obtain larger relative supplies than others. If this is the case the Food Committee should arrange for an equitable distribution to retailers, and bring in a scheme of rationing without further delay.

WAR AIMS MEETINGS. 8th Feb. 1918

THE DANGERS OF AN INCONCLUSIVE PEACE.

MR. HEMSLEY IN WEST CAMBS.

The series of War Aims meetings in West. Cambs have been successfully continued this week, the principal speaker being Mr. Tom Hemsley. Having begun life as an agricultural labourer, then served his country as a soldier in India and elsewhere, and as one of the gallant garrison of Kimberley in the Boer War, and lastly, though well overage, again saw active service in France during the early months of the present war, Mr. Hemsley has spoken from the standpoint of the worker and the soldier.

On Tuesday Mr. Hemsley was at Swavesey, where the Schoolroom was packed, under the presidency of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey.

After dealing with the motives that actuated Germany in starting the war when she did, Mr. Hemsley pointed out that a peace now arranged by negotiation would simply mean a breathing space for Germany during which she would be engaged in repairing the mistakes which she had made in this attempt. Unless Germany's military forces were defeated, we had no guarantee that a negotiated peace would be observed. Then this country would be brought face to face with those horrors of war which up to now, thanks to our geographical position and our Navy, we had so far escaped. Queues outside shops were bad enough, but he had seen more terrible queues than that. As our forces re-occupied territory formerly in possession of the Huns, long streams of women and children had passed through our lines back into France, and on those women's faces were the signs of the agonies they had endure. He hoped that never would he see similar signs on the faces of our women, but unless Germany was defeated in the field, she was not likely to abandon her original plans, and though further sacrifices would be necessary to defeat her, those sacrifices would be nothing to what in a few years we should probably be called upon to face, if now, when everything was in our favour, we gave up the struggle, because there were certain difficulties in obtaining food supplies, difficulties which he felt sure would be successfully dealt with in the near future. Force was the only power that Germany recognised, so force must be applied until she recognised that the whole of the civilised world were determined that never again would she be allowed to plunge us into such a war as we had gone through during the last three and a half years, and when the bright days of peace dawned once more, and justice and righteousness were re-established, they would have the lasting satisfaction of knowing that by their sacrifice and determination they had done their share in bringing it to pass.

OTTER KILLED ON RAILWAY. 15th Feb. 1918

A fine otter was cut in halves by a train near Swavesey station one night last week.

JOINED UP. 15th Feb. 1918

Albert George Coulson, who was discharged from The Royal Machine Artillery in June last in consequence of injuries received on duty, joined the Army Service Corps as an engine driver (home service) on the 7th inst.

WAR NOTES. 15th Feb. 1918

Pte. Alfred Prime, the Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regt., who was wounded in the leg on August 1st last, went back to France on the 23rd ulto. Pte. Alfred Large, since his return to France in December has been transferred to another Yeomanry regiment, the unit with which he had previously been serving having been moved to Italy. Gunner Percy Beaumont, R.G.A., invalided from France in December, arrived in Swavesey on Wednesday on hospital leave; he is much improved in health.

A SUGGESTION. 15th Feb. 1918

A correspondent writes: "I wonder if it has struck the customers of our butchers that with very little trouble or inconvenience to themselves they can help the tradesmen out of a difficulty, and at the same time assist in a small way in relieving the shortage of paper. The butchers, I have reason to know, are very short of paper in which to wrap up meat. May I suggest that their customers should go to the shop with a basket or dish in which to take home their meat. Old newspapers are badly wanted to pulp into fresh paper."

THE FOOD COMMITTEE. 15th Feb. 1918

Our Swavesey representative writes: The Swavesey Food Control Committee, have, it is believed, taken no steps to deal with the margarine difficulty to which I referred last week. They met on Monday, 4th inst., at St. Ives, and have held no meeting since. The question of the supply of margarine is urgent and calls for immediate attention. The people want to know what the Food Committee are doing, and they ask for a public announcement. In working in the dark I might also point out that the Committee are ignoring Lord Rhondda's memorandum to Committees on this question of publicity. The Chesterton Food Committee at their meeting on Saturday, decided to adopt the London and Home Counties scheme of rationing, and it was announced that a supply of margarine would be secured for the grocers in the district. What the Chesterton Committee can do, surely it is possible for the Swavesey Committee to attempt.

MARGARINE. 22nd Feb. 1918

The Swavesey Food Control Committee have not yet issued any public announcement as to the steps they propose to take to deal with the margarine difficulty in their district.

PROMOTION. 22nd Feb. 1918

Cadet W. Lawson Hephher, Swavesey, has been posted Second Lieutenant, Royal Field Artillery. He enlisted in the Canadian Infantry in February, 1915, went to France, two months later, and was subsequently transferred to the Canadian Engineers, with whom he saw much service. He returned to this country last August for training with an Officers' Cadet Battalion.

RAT IN RABBIT HUTCH. 22nd Feb. 1918

Mrs. C. Wood, School House, on going to feed her little son's rabbit one day recently found to her dismay a large and fierce-looking rat in possession of the hutch. The rabbit, no larger than the rat, was crouching trembling with fear, but uninjured, in a corner. Mrs. Wood, feeling unequal to the task of tackling the intruder, and her husband being at the front, had to call in aid from outside. Fortunately Mr. Arthur Froment was close at hand, and he soon made an end of the rat.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 22nd Feb. 1918

Mr. J. Strapps, baker, Middle Watch, has with most commendable spirit places a Roll of Honour of Swavesey men serving in the Navy and Army in his shop window. The Roll, in which the names are nicely and clearly inscribed, is illuminated at the top, and is enclosed in a remarkably well covered massive frame, the work, it is understood, of a relative. Mr. Strapps' Roll cannot, however, supply the place of an official Roll of Swavesey men serving in the war which ought to be exhibited in some prominent place in the village. It should be compiled by a person duly appointed for the purpose, and should be under official protection. The neglect of the authorities to provide this simple tribute to the men who are serving and suffering in different parts of the world can be regarded as little short of a scandal.

WAR NOTES. 22nd Feb. 1918

Writing to his parents in Swavesey, Pte. Thomas C. Froment, Grenadier Guards, who was wounded at Cambrai, says that he has been removed from the convalescent camp in France, where he had been latterly, to a farm a few miles distant. Here he and a comrade are engaged in ploughing, each having charge of a team of horses. Pte. Froment adds: "There are some nice French people on the farm and we get on well with them. They have never had soldiers there before, so that makes it better for us. I keep thinking about my old dog every day, because there are some rabbits and hares on the farm, and I often wish I had him with me so that I could have a bit of sport, which you know I like as well as the old dog. You have no call to trouble about a parcel, as I get plenty of food and plenty of drink and a decent bed to lie on. When I don't get enough to eat I will write and tell you. I know from the papers that things at home are very dear now." Corpl. George Dean, R.A.M.C., who has recently been given his second stripe, is laid up in hospital in Italy to which he was attached. Writing on the 8th instant, he says: "I get up now, but have my leg in a splint. This is the first spell I have had in hospital since I joined up three years ago, so I can't grumble; in fact, I am enjoying the rest after working thundering hard. We have quite a lot of Italian ladies round to see us who bring us all kinds of nice things, especially in the way of fruit. We are having glorious weather down here now, and the sun is quite hot in the day time." Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., is better, and has been removed from hospital to a convalescent camp in Italy. Corpl. Charles S. Hepher, Suffolk Regt., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hepher, Swavesey, arrived home from France on Friday, looking fit and well. He is to join an Officers' Cadet Battalion on the 2nd proximo to train for a commission. He joined up on the 10th April, 1916, and went to France on the 5th December following. Gunner John R. Smith, Canadian Heavy Artillery, who has been serving on the Western front since November, 1916, has had some of his teeth knocked out by a fragment of a shell, and has been sent to the base. He was previously wounded in March last.

ADVERT. 1st March 1918

Reliable Garden Seeds just to hand, terms cash. H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey. Ctls. Free.

THE GREAT FIRE. 1st March 1918

Sunday next is the fifth anniversary of the great fire in Swavesey, which broke out at 2 p.m. on Monday, 3rd March, 1913, and in about one hour destroyed some 30 houses.

FOOD COMMITTEE. 1st March 1918

A meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Food Control Committee was held on Monday afternoon at Mr. G. D. Day's office, St. Ives. As usual, the proceedings were in camera, and no announcement has been issued for the benefit of the public.

WAR NOTES. 1st March 1918

Pte. Arthur Beaumont, Machine Gun Corps, went to France on 5th February. Air Mechanic Harry H. Williams, R.F.C., has been promoted Second Air Mechanic. Sergt. C. Wood, Royal Fusiliers, writing home from France, says he has recently met Captain Cyril Frohock, Cambs. Regt., of Willingham, and also Lance-Corpl. Arthur Prior, Cambs. Regt., of Swavesey.

FROM THE FRONT. 1st March 1918

Corpl. George Dean, of the R.A.M.C., arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on 14 days' leave from Italy. His leg was practically well again. Corpl. Arthur Froment, Military Mounted Police, paid a brief visit to the village last week, when on short leave from France. He was in good health. Corpl. Froment joined up from the Metropolitan Police on the 5th December, 1914, and went to France soon afterwards.

MARRIAGE. 1st March 1918

Miss Florence Victoria Ding, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ding, High-street, Swavesey, was married in London on Tuesday, 19th February, to Lance-Corpl. Fred Chaddock, Gloucester Regt. The marriage took place at 10.30 a.m., and Lance-Corpl. Chaddock left London on his return to France during the same afternoon. He has had 11 years' continuous service in the Army, mostly abroad, in Malta, China, and India, and during the present war in France. He wears two good conduct stripes, and hopes soon to get a third, and two stripes for wounds. His first wound was received on the 26th April, 1915, and was the work of a sniper.

HOME NOTES. 1st March 1918

The times being out of joint, strange happenings are not to be wondered at. A harassed house-mother, troubled with thoughts of boys at the front and with worries contingent on short supplies, healthy appetites, and long prices, when engaged the other day in her weekly wash, discovered to her dismay that she was taking clean clothes from the copper with a coal shovel. – Straw is practically unobtainable. Even the Clerk of the Parish Council had perforce to announce at a recent meeting of the Council that there was none to be found with which to mend a hole in the thatched roof of a building belonging to the parish. A striking example of the straits to which this shortage has put people can be seen in a garden in Swavesey, where a superannuated straw hat is being used to force early rhubarb. The grower of the rhubarb can be congratulated on possessing initiative and resource.

AN ANNIVERSARY. 8th March 1918

Mr. Philip S. Spring celebrates his 36th birthday to-day (Friday).

WEDDING. 8th March 1918

Mr. Frederick Dodson and Mrs. Drusilla Sneesby, both of Swavesey, were married at St. Ives on Wednesday morning.

PROMOTION. 8th March 1918

Cadet Edward Williams, late sergeant in the Suffolks, has successfully passed his course of training for a commission, and is waiting to be posted to a regiment.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 8th March 1918

Pte. Henry Wilderspin, Northumberland Fusiliers, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday morning on 14 days' leave from France. He is in good health. He has recently been transferred to another battalion of the Northumberland Fusiliers. Pte. James W. Wright, Duke of Wellington's Regt., son of Mrs. Wright, Gibraltar-lane, has paid a flying visit to Swavesey during his short leave from France. He also was in excellent health and spirits. He was in the Battle of Cambrai, where his battalion suffered heavily at Bournon Wood, and in May was in action at Bullecourt.

MARGARINE. 8th March 1918

The following notice, signed by the Clerk of the Swavesey Food Control Committee has been sent to the grocers in the district: "Margarine Distribution. – In view of the fact that the first distribution of margarine will be made commencing the 11th March, and the rationing scheme will not in all probability be ready by that time, please let me know by return the number of customers and persons you will be expected to supply in the first week." Have the Committee taken into account those people in the district – an appreciable number – who for years have been in the habit of obtaining their supplies of margarine from the Maypole shops in Cambridge? A public announcement on the subject, as urged more than once in these columns, would be opportune.

MILITARY MEDAL. 8th March 1918

Sergt. B. G. Mann, Royal Welsh Fusiliers, who, after an adventurous voyage, during which he was twice wrecked (on one occasion his ship was torpedoed), landed in Mesopotamia last summer, has been awarded the Military medal for gallantry in the field. His wife, who is living in Swavesey, has this week received letters from him dated the 8th and 18th January. His experiences in the trenches were not altogether pleasant. After a turn in them, he remarks, he has had to burn his shirt as he has brought away too many companions, and after a long spell, sometimes lasting a fortnight without being able to take off his clothes or boots, his feet have firmly stuck to the latter. Sergt. Mann was one of the burial party at the funeral of the later Lieut.-General Sir Stanley Maude.

WAR NOTES. 8th March 1918

Stoker Albert Wilderspin, R.N., paid a short visit to his native village last week. He was well. Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, who has been in France since July, 1916, has been transferred to another battalion of his regiment. In a recent letter he said he was in good health, but was working hard. Driver Fred G. Clarke, A.S.C., writing home on January 29th from Palestine, reported that he was in the pink of condition, and had just received his Christmas parcels, for which he was very grateful. Letters, dated late in December, have been received from Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., who has been serving in Mesopotamia since August. He said he was fit and well. Five letters have reached Mrs. A. Roberts, Market-street, this week from her husband, Pte. Roberts, The Buffs, stationed in India. Two of the letters had evidently been salvaged from a sunken ship, and were barely decipherable.

MILITARY WEDDDING. 8th March 1918

The marriage of Miss Georgina Rolfe, 12, Bondgate, Ripon, and Corpl. (Shoeingsmith) John King Savage, Swavesey, took place at the Cathedral, Ripon, on the 2nd inst. The bride, who was given away by her godfather, wore a saxe blue gabardine costume, with a spray of orange blossom and a French sailor hat. She carried an ivory-backed Prayer Book, with a gold cross, the gift of Dr. And Mrs. Greenwood. She was attended by one bridesmaid – Miss Nora Rolfe (her sister) – attired in a bottle-green gabardine coat dress and a fawn-coloured hat. She wore an amethyst and pearl pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. Albert Wray, cousin of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was held in St. John's Mission Room. The honeymoon is being spent at Stackhouse, Settle, the home of the bride. There were about 50 wedding presents.

NEWS FROM SOMEWHERE. 8th March 1918

Pte. James Prior, Machine-Gun Corps, in very cheerful letters dated the 1st to the 6th January, written from a far distant seaport at which he had broken a long voyage to a part of the British Empire some thousands of miles away, speaks in glowing terms of the kind and hospitable reception given to him and his comrades by the inhabitants. One letter is dated from the – Army and Navy Institute, and the others from the Y.M.C.A. Soldiers' and Sailors' Institutes. Pte. Prior's Christmas Day was a disappointment. He had hoped to have had his Christmas dinner on dry land, but the fate ordered otherwise, for the ship was two days behind time, so he had to be content with frugal fare – rabbit, plum pudding (very poor), and one apple. He got some recompense to days' afterwards, when he managed during a short visit on shore to secure a substantial free feed followed by an excellent concert and an enjoyable chat with a little Scotch girl in kilts, who sang four songs beautifully. The Christmas dinner provided for him and his comrades had disappeared, having been given to hospitals. His New Year was spent under most pleasant conditions, quite un-Blighty like. The sun was blazing with tropical intensity, and his clothing had to be reduced to a minimum. "We have nearly all of us" says he, "had our trousers cut off above the knees, and just wear puttees; it is laughable to see our fat legs." He had rides in a rickshaw, which he describes as a large go-cart drawn by a decorated native, and he sent a snapshot of himself gracefully reclining in one of these conveyances. Free rides on electric cars all over the town, such a pretty place with which nowhere he had seen in Blighty could compare, helped the pleasant hours pass away all too quickly. Pte Prior describes a visit to a gentleman's garden, where he picked some very nice black grapes grown over the wire netting of a fowls' shelter, and saw foreign fruits growing in their natural state, including bananas, oranges, coffee beans, etc. People of all colours were to be seen in the streets, and the fashions of dress were very smart with the ladies. The sight of the local office of the Norwich Union Life Insurance Society reminded him of home, for in private life Pte. Prior is an agent of that office. He recorded with a note of satisfaction that he "still goes a nice little 12 stone," that he felt A1, and that he was seeing some of the wonderful sights of the world. By this time Pte. Prior will in all probability have reached the end of his long voyage, and perhaps have seen still more wondrous sights. His friends wish him the best of health, a successful career as a soldier, and a speedy and safe return to his home and business.

PARISH COUNCIL. 8th March 1918

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the classroom of the National School on Thursday, 28th February. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, Robt. Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and signed, the Clerk reported that official leaflets respecting the culture of potatoes and vegetables had been obtained, and had been distributed by members of the Council. The Clerk was instructed to erect a suitable board with the by-laws of the Recreation Ground properly affixed. The Clerk further reported that Swavesey Rural District Council had decided to provide footbridges to span the openings in the raised causeway at the Swan pond in times of flood, and that three snow-ploughs for use in the district had also been ordered by the District Council. The ironwork belonging to an old plough was being used for one of the new ploughs. It was unanimously agreed that the names of the following parishioners should be submitted to the Justices in Petty Sessions as those of suitable persons to act as parish constables during the ensuing year: Messrs. E. Bull, C. J. Shepperson (the present constable), R. Williamson and P. Godfrey. It was also unanimously agreed that the constable's salary should be the same as in 1916-1917. It transpired that the necessary gravel for the path across Church Green had been dug and was waiting to be carted. The Clerk was instructed to ascertain from the County Horticultural Sub-Committee the date on which it would be convenient for the promised lectures, etc., on fruit canning and potato culture to be held in the village. The inspection of the parish property on High-street on November 12th had not taken place as no-one had turned up except the Clerk. The Chairman expressed the opinion that the hole in the thatched roof of the building containing Mr. W. J. Hephew's butcher's shop should be repaired without further delay, and the Clerk was instructed to apply for a permit to purchase one ton of wheat straw.

ADVERT. 8th March 1918

Mangolds for Sale, free on rail Swavesey Station, G.E.R., 23/- per ton. – Apply R. MITHAM, Swavesey.

DEATH OF A SEPTUAGENARIAN. 15th March 1918

After a very long illness, Mrs. Rebecca Eason, widow of the late Mr. William Eason, died on Sunday at the Old Age Pensioners' Cottages, aged 79 years. She has left one son and one daughter. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday).

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 15th March 1918

Sapper Arthur Parish, R.E., son of Mr. Z. Parish, arrived in Swavesey on Monday evening on fourteen days' leave from France, looking fit and well. He was wounded in September, 1916, and after treatment at Netley hospital, returned to France about a year ago.

BIRTHDAYS. 15th March 1918

Three aged parishioners have kept their birthdays this week. Mr. George Thorp, Wallman's-lane, was 84 on Sunday, and on Tuesday Mr. Humm, High-street, attained the great age of 91 years, and Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, Askew-row, who was at one time carrier from Swavesey to Cambridge and St. Ives, was 83. He is still the village pindar and "town crier."

BOYS TO THE RESCUE. 15th March 1918

Last Friday a party of Swavesey schoolboys, assisted by their headmaster, replaced the plank bridge at the end of the Recreation ground. It had been washed away into an adjoining field during a flood a few weeks ago, and until it was restored the footpath from the centre of Swavesey to Over could not be used.

VOLUNTEER NEWS. 15th March 1918

Platoon No. 16, 1st Cambs. Volunteer Regiment, held their weekly drill at Over on Sunday morning. Two officers and 46 rank and file attended. Lieut. Young, O.C. "D" Company, put the platoon through both platoon and company drill, and at the close congratulated the men on the way they had done their work. He urged as many as possible to join Section B. without delay.

SUGAR FOR JAM. 15th March 1918

The ladies who attended last week's meeting at the National School on the divorce question, and there signed a memorial respecting the provision of Government sugar for jam-making, will be disappointed if they think that by signing the paper they have ensured for themselves a supply of sugar. It is understood that the memorial merely asked that Government sugar might be supplied to persons who purchase fruit for jam making as well as those persons who grow their own fruit. Last year sugar was granted to fruit growers only.

MARGARINE. 15th March 1918

In a circular dated the 27th February, the Swavesey Food Committee informed the grocers in their district that the first distribution of margarine would be made commencing the 11th March, and called for a statement from each tradesman showing the number of customers to be supplied. This statement was to be sent in by return of post. The grocers' hopes were raised only to be dashed to the ground, for down to Wednesday evening no margarine had reached the Swavesey shops, nor had anything been heard of any being on the road. An application to the local Food Office by one Swavesey grocer met with no reply.

WAR NOTES. 15th March 1918

Pte. Albert Homes, R.W. Kent Regiment, has gone to France. Sergt. B. G. Mann, M.M., R. Welsh Fusiliers, serving in Mesopotamia, has been slightly wounded, but has recovered. Gunner Sidney Smith, R.G.A. (Mountain Battery), writing from India on 21st December, said he had been sick in hospital, but hoped to be discharged before Christmas. Gunner Smith was a constable in the Cambridgeshire Constabulary, and was stationed at Swavesey for some time. A few months before joining up he was transferred to Willingham. Lance-Corp. John Parish, son of Mr. Z. Parish, has been seriously ill with rheumatic fever in a camp in this country, but is now slightly better.

SEED POTATOES. 15th March 1918

Six hundredweight of Government seed potatoes from Scotland have reached Swavesey through the County Horticultural Committee, viz., 3cwt. Arran Chief and 3cwt. Edward VII. They arrived by railway in two lots on different days. No objection has been raised to the price charged for the seed, 8s. 6d. per cwt., but the levy of 3s. 6d. per cwt. for railway carriage is felt to be excessive, and to call for explanation. It is presumed that the potatoes were sent by the truck load from Scotland to Cambridge, and were there divided out into smaller lots for the various villages. It is thought that the charge of 3s. 6d. per cwt. is probably the rate per cwt. from Scotland, and that the charge per ton would be a cheaper rate. If this is the case, why should village growers be called upon to pay the higher rate throughout?

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 22nd March 1918

Sergt. Cyril Day, Yeomanry, son of Mr. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, is at home on 14 days' leave from Italy. His is in good health. He was called up on mobilisation in August, 1914, and proceeded to Italy in November, 1917. He was last home in January, 1917.

WAR NOTES. 22nd March 1918

Second Lieut. Edward Williams has been posted to the Northamptonshire Regiment, and is under orders to join his unit on Tuesday next. Gunner H. G. Graves, R.G.A., writing home from France this week, says that he had been up the line for seven days, and had had several narrow squeaks. Some of his comrades close by him were knocked over, but he escaped with a peppering of dirt.

ACCIDENT. 22nd March 1918

Mr. William Crouch met with an accident on the 14th instant, which has confined him to his bed. Whilst engaged with a harrow, a troublesome horse caused him to stumble over a large clod of earth, and he fell on the harrow, dislocating his shoulder. He was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, and was detained there until the following day, when he was sent home. He is going on well.

FUNERAL. 22nd March 1918

The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Eason, whose death at the age of 79 years was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on the 14th inst. The Rev. F. Cooksey officiated. The mourners were Miss Eason (daughter), Mr. Edward W. Eason (son), Mrs. George Trundley (sister) and Mr. W. Mackness and Mr. Thomas Mackness (brothers).

POTATO CULTURE. 22nd March 1918

Mr. Rogers, of the Food Production Department, Board of Agriculture, gave an interesting and instructive lecture, illustrated by diagrams, on the culture, diseases and spraying of potatoes, at the National School on the 14th inst. At the close of his lecture Mr. Rogers answered various questions. The attendance unfortunately was poor, the audience consisting of half-a-dozen ladies who were more interested in potato cooking than in potato culture, about the same number of lads, three parish councillors, and eight or nine other men – a far from satisfactory attendance considering the vital importance of the potato question, and the fact that the population of Swavesey was 904 at the last census. Perhaps not enough was done to interest or attract people, or to counteract the prevalent idea that a man who had been in the habit of growing potatoes had nothing to learn as to improved methods of culture, or the most effective way to combat disease. Just before the meeting began a man passing the school was heard to call out to a friend, "What! Are you going to the meeting? I should have thought you would have known how to grow spuds after all these years!" None of the leading people of the parish, with the notable exceptions of three parish councillors and the Clerk, were present.

CHASING THE TURKS. 22nd March 1918

A SWAVESEY MAN'S EXPERIENCES WITH THE GUNS.

Gunner G. E. Canham, a signaller in the R.G.A., writes from somewhere in Mesopotamia, an interesting and amusing description of his first experiences in action. In civil life, Gunner Canham is a grocer – a one-man business, now carried on by his wife. He joined up on 10th March, 1917. Before taking the business at Swavesey he was at Messrs. Henry & Co., in Cambridge. He is a member of the local Baptist community.

“The call came on Sunday, December 2nd, and at 9.30 p.m., after receiving a small tube of iodine and placing our field dressing in the allotted pocket, we (signallers) took our places on the motor lorries on top of stores, etc. We are cautioned against singing and smoking whilst on our journey, and at 10 p.m. the battery is heading for one position for action. Our way is taken through desert and wild country until 6 a.m. Progress has been slow but sure. And we have advanced some 18 or 20 miles. We arrive at our position at the break of day, only to learn that the Turks have learned of our increased energies and have retreated a number of miles. This is a great disappointment for the boys, as the report was that we had come on purpose to drive the Turks out of the hills, but our disappointment was soon turned to delight, as after ‘breaking our fast,’ we continued over more ground chasing the enemy. More miles of sandy desert are covered, not only by the battery, but by infantry, cavalry, pack mules, moving hospital, etc., etc. To see this moving across the plain is the sight of a lifetime.

“We (so we think) are moving in the flank of the enemy, but again the retreating enemy has spoilt our chances and has again retired further back. We are ordered to pack up after just waiting for the order to load and fire. We again think of the inner man, and partake of a tin of rabbit (between three) and Army biscuits. We again move off waiting instructions, arriving at a place to sleep soon after 9 p.m. We soon get out tea over, and lie down to rest in the open under the lorries and in any sheltered spot we can find. On Tuesday morning, after breakfast, we are earnestly seeking the road through the hills in pursuit of the Turks. We reach the entrance shortly before 11 a.m. Water is our next requirement before proceeding further, also a wash, which we have not had since Sunday evening. We travelled some three miles on foot there and back for this particular luxury and necessity, and found upon our arrival back at the lorries that tea had been issued, and I was fortunate enough to get the last two cups for my friend and myself.

village just after darkness has fallen. We now await the 'ration lorry' which is delayed through some reason, and we are very glad when it arrives and thoroughly enjoy a tea of 'bully' and some biscuits and a cup of tea. Ere an hour has passed we are again off on our mission over hill, down dale, through the hills (walking), hoping to come up with the enemy in the morning. Somewhere about midnight you would have seen us still struggling with lorries and guns over the highest peak. Each time we arrived at the top the men dropped off to sleep for a few moments they were waiting. The last car is up, and again we are on the march some seven or eight miles on foot, and we are in sight of the camp at 7.30 a.m., having covered some 20 odd miles since entering the hills. We now enjoy hastily-prepared breakfast of bacon and biscuits and a cup of tea. Again we snatch a much needed wash – only two of us, all others were stopped – as we were waiting to cross the river, rather a difficulty seeing the enemy had blown up the centre of the bridge.

“Again that determined spirit wins, and little did the Turk think we should go through the water with our guns. We continued until stopped by the ‘Higher Command,’ and away we went across the desert some six or seven miles to the help of our infantry, only to see them chase the Turks up the slopes and over the top; and so for the second time our attempts at coming to grips with the enemy were frustrated. Here we were congratulated by H.Q.S. for our part in the attack, and though no shells were fired by us the enemy must have known of our intention and thus saved us expense. How much I should have loved for you all to have seen us ‘going into action,’ some eating their bacon on biscuits, some without coats or rations for the day, and not one of them, I am sure, had one thought of fighting. This was Wednesday and we had not slept for 48 hours, and we were some eight or nine miles from camp. We still had enough strength to walk back to find a bridge had been built, and we were able to walk straight across to the camp, arriving there near to 7 o’clock. You may be sure after tea we were soon down to sleep (in the open) and up again at 7.30 on Thursday morning.

“After breakfast we were told to parade with towel, and away we go for a lovely dip in the river. The sun was shining and under the shelter of the bank we had an enjoyable bathe, and thus closed our part of the ‘action.’”

WAR NOTES. 29th March 1918

PTE. A. G. PARISH. - News has reached Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Swavesey, that their only son, Pte. Albert G. Parish, King's Royal Rifles, has been gassed and blinded, and is in hospital in France. In a letter received on Tuesday he stated that he was recovering sight and was going on well.

GUNNER E. H. PETERS. – Mrs. Peters, Swavesey, has been informed that her husband, Gunner E. H. Peters, R.G.A., has been wounded in the head in France, and is in hospital in this country.

PTE. A. HOLMES. – In a private letter written in a base hospital in France to his parents in Swavesey, Pte. Albert Holmes, R.W. Kent Regiment, states that he was wounded in the arm on St. Patrick's Day. He only went to France at the beginning of the month.

DECORATED. 29th March 1918

Mrs. W. Symonds, Boxworth End, the mother of eight children, one of whom is serving with the Buffs in France, was the only Swavesey woman farm worker who was given a badge on Saturday by the Princess Mary. She received three striped. Mrs. Symons is employed by Mr. A. Day as a milker.

LADIES AND POTATO CULTURE. 29th March 1918

Exception has been taken to the statement in the notice of a lecture on potato culture, etc., which appeared in last week's issue that the half-dozen ladies who were present "were more interested in potato cooking than in potato culture." It is stated that the ladies, or at any rate some of them, were interested in the culture of potatoes.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 29th March 1918

Two of Swavesey's gallant lads were welcomed home on short leave last week-end, and both, it is satisfactory to record, were in good health and spirits. Flight Sergt. Albert Girling, R.F.C., arrived from France, where he had been since January, 1915, on Friday, and Wheeler J. W. Goad, A.S.C., from Italy on the following day. The latter went to France about three years ago, and proceeded to Italy with the British Expeditionary Force last November.

Lance-Corpl. Frank Williams, Royal Fusiliers, who was wounded by shell on the right ankle in France on 22nd December, and whose foot was subsequently amputated, was discharged from hospital on Saturday. He is paying a brief visit to Swavesey this week. Pte. Alfred Large, Yeomanry, is now serving with a cyclist battalion in France. He says in a letter dated 18th inst. that he is in first-class health, and thinks he will be quite as well off with a cycle as with the horses. Corpl. James S. Dean, Imperial Camel Corps, writing from Palestine to his brother in Italy on 3rd March says: "We are camping at present on some beautiful grazing country, so the camels are having a great time. We are on brown bread now and expect you are too." Corpl. Dean enclosed a programme of the Imperial Camel Brigade sports, held “somewhere in Palestine” on 12th and 13th February. The programme contained a large number of events of various kinds, including bayonet fighting, 100 yards championship race, high jump, hop, step and jump, camel races, wrestling on camels (Indian and European), officers’ pony races, tugs-of-war, musical chairs, etc.

MARGARINE. 29th March 1918

At a meeting of the Swavesey Food Control Committee, held at St. Ives on the 11th inst., the margarine question was the principal item under discussion, and the members of the Committee were asked to nominate the wholesalers. The matter of nominating Cambridge wholesalers was proposed, but it was announced that the Swavesey district was outside the Cambridge district, and that there was no alternative but to nominate St. Ives wholesalers. The absence of a wholesaler in the Swavesey district was objected to by a member of the Committee, who made a definite proposition to the Committee that Mr. H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey, should be appointed wholesale dealer in margarine for the district served by the Swavesey Food Committee, and it is satisfactory to state that this suggestion found favour with every member present, and was carried. Unfortunately Mr. Aldred’s time is so taken up that he cannot see his way clear to accept the appointment, and at Mr. Aldred’s suggestion Mr. C. H. Bloom, Over, has consented to be registered as a wholesaler, and do his best for all concerned. The Committee will allocate the margarine to the retailers. It is hoped that by the time rationing comes into effect the arrangement suggested above will be in force, and that the serious complaints of shortage will have been put an end to. The decision to appoint a local wholesaler will, writes our Swavesey representative, no doubt be greatly to the advantage of the district. If supplies of margarine were taken to St. Ives for distribution to the retailers of the Swavesey district, delay would inevitably occur, whereas by delivery direct at Swavesey railway station, the distribution could, and no doubt would, be made without loss of time. In the meantime I understand Swavesey, etc., retailers have received forms on which to nominate their wholesalers, and they would do well to bear in mind the fact that Mr. Bloom has been chosen as local wholesaler.

SWAVESEY PARISH COUNCIL. 29th March 1918

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening. There were present; Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., J. S. Goad, and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The Clerk said that he had not yet erected the board containing the by-laws of the Recreation Ground. The Chairman stated that he had had no notice of the date of the recent lecture on potato culture. Had he received notice he would have made a point of being present. Some conversation followed in regard to the proposed demonstration on fruit canning, which it is understood is to be given in April, and the Chairman was anxious to know how the demonstration could be effectively advertised. He also expressed the opinion that the parish notice board should be cleared of old bills. The Clerk undertook to advertise the demonstration to the best of his ability.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, and Mr. Goad temporarily took the chair. Mr. Norman was unanimously re-elected, despite his proposal that Mr. Goad become chairman. Mr. Norman resumed the chair. Mr. Goad was re-elected Vice-Chairman. Messrs. Parsons and Williamson were appointed Overseers after a vote. Messrs. A. Norman and Twist retired from the office of Trustee of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity, and were re-appointed for a term of four years. Mr. S. Wilderspin, sen., was re-appointed pindar, and some conversation ensued relative to the office of village crier. The meeting then terminated. - Our Swavesey representative writes: The Swavesey Parish Council continues on its eccentric way. According to its Standing Orders the annual meeting of the Council should be held "on April 15th, or on the Monday immediately following," and the Local Government Act, 1894, requires that the meeting should be on April 15th, or within seven days after. The annual parish meeting should, however, according to law, be held on 25th March in each year, or within seven days before or after that day. No less than seven clear days' notice is required of this annual assembly of the parish, and, as at the time of writing, no such notice has been published, the meeting this year cannot take place within the specified period.

VESTRY MEETING. 5th April 1918

At the annual Vestry meeting held at the Parish Church on Easter Monday evening, Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp were re-elected churchwardens.

NO BEER. 5th April 1918

With the exception of a public house at Boxworth End, every licensed house in the parish of Swavesey has been without beer for the Easter holidays. There were very few visitors in the village!

BETHEL CHAPEL. 5th April 1918

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavour Society, a social evening, without refreshments, was held in Bethel Chapel Schoolroom on Good Friday evening. The Rev. H. J. N. Ussher, pastor, presided, and the room was crowded. An excellent miscellaneous programme was provided.

THE FOOD QUESTION. 5th April 1918

As we anticipated, the absence of a Food Control Office within the Swavesey district is causing inconvenience. If it is necessary to make personal inquiry, or application, on any matter, a journey to St. Ives is involved at a cost of ninepence for railway fare – to say nothing of loss of time. It is suggested that if it is not practicable for the office to be in the village of Swavesey, the centre of the district, a branch office should be opened there on one or two days a week.

FALSE RUMOURS. 5th April 1918

Persistent rumours have been in circulation during the last fortnight that Pte. Dick Wilderspin, R.E., who is serving in France as a despatch rider, had come to an untimely end. It may be of interest to the circulators of these sinister tales, and to Pte. Wilderspin's very large circle of friends, to know that his wife has been receiving letters from him every day lately, the latest dated Saturday reaching her on Wednesday. Pte. Wilderspin was then in good health.

SUGAR. 5th April 1918

A false impression is hard to kill. Many housewives in the parish recently signed a memorial asking that sugar for jam-making should be granted to persons who buy fruit as well as to those who grow their own fruit. Some persons who signed this memorial are under the altogether mistaken impression that by affixing their signatures they have made application for sugar. They have done nothing of the kind, but have merely asked that the privilege of obtaining sugar for jam-making may be extended to persons who do not grow fruit.

CORPORAL JAMES PRIME. M. M. 5th April 1918

Corporal James Prime, M. M., son of Mr. Alfred Prime, Swavesey, was wounded in the back by shrapnel on the 21st March, and is in Springburn-Woodside Hospital, Glasgow. He is going on well. Corporal Prime was awarded the Military Medal in June last for gallantry at Messines Ridge on 25th May. His portrait appeared in the "Press and News" on February 1st.

SAPPER S. F. MITHAM. 12th April 1918

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Mitham are in great anxiety respecting their youngest son, Sapper Samuel G. Mitham, R.E., who has been posted as missing since 23rd March. He was attached to the famous Highland Division which fought so bravely and suffered so heavily in the earlier days of the present battle, and when last seen was retiring with a clean wound in his arm. His sergeant, writing on the 2nd inst., states that no report has been received from the R.A.M.C. Sapper Mitham joined the Royal Engineers on 4th November, 1914, and had been serving in France since 12th June, 1915.

GUNNER H. G. GRAVES. 12th April 1918

Mrs. Graves, High-street, Swavesey, has been officially informed that her husband, Gunner Henry George Graves, R.G.A., died of wounds on 25th March in a field ambulance in France. The chaplain of his Brigade writing to Mrs. Graves on April 2nd to convey "the deep sympathy of us all," states that her husband's end was the "noblest a man can have," and adds: "His body was reverently and properly buried in a cemetery near here." Gunner Graves, who was 35 years of age, had been agent for Messrs. Bailey and Tebbut in the Swavesey district since January, 1910, and was well known in the neighbourhood. He was at one time in the Herts. Yeomanry, but had left the regiment before the outbreak of war. He joined the R.G.A. on 10th October, 1916, and went to France on 5th January last. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter for whom great sympathy is felt. – Mrs. Graves desires to express her sincere thanks to her many friends for their kind and greatly appreciated sympathy in her bereavement.

AN OCTOGENARIAN. 12th April 1918

Mrs. Sutton, Middle Watch, widow of the late Mr. Benjamin Sutton, was 87 years of age on the 5th inst.

FRUIT PRESERVING. 12th April 1918

A demonstration in the best methods of canning fruit will be held, under the auspices of the County Horticultural Sub-Committee, in the National School on Tuesday, 22nd April, at 7 p.m. All interested in fruit preserving, a most important matter in these days, should make a point of attending – ladies especially.

FOOD COMMITTEE. 12th April 1918

No meeting of the Swavesey Rural Food Control Committee has been held since Monday, 11th March, more than a month ago. Many persons anxious to obtain sugar for jam-making have not received the necessary form of application, the supply of forms having been exhausted. The inconvenience caused by there being no Food Office in Swavesey, the centre of the district, is felt more and more as time goes on. In these busy days and when the cost of necessaries is rising, people can afford neither the time nor the money to go to St. Ives.

NEWS FROM MESOPOTAMIA. 12th April 1918

In a letter just received in Swavesey Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., who has been serving in Mesopotamia since last August, says that the Christmas parcel from friends in Swavesey posted on 10th November, reached him safely, though minus the string, on 2nd February, and that the edible contents were thoroughly enjoyed by himself and others. The pocket wallet, also enclosed, he hopes to bring back to England very soon, for he believes his return home will not be long delayed. It is, he says, "a recognised fact that Turkey is already beaten. Prisoners are daily passing through our camp in shocking condition, coming in of their own accord."

DEATH OF MR. J. NORMAN. 12th April 1918

We regret to announce the death of Mr. James Norman, which occurred at 3 a.m. on Monday at his house in Carter's-lane, Swavesey. Mr. Norman had been in failing health for some time, but had continued at his work. About noon on Saturday whilst engaged a mile or more away from home, he was suddenly taken very seriously ill. He managed with difficulty to reach his house about an hour later, was assisted to his bed, and, as stated, passed away early on Monday morning. He was a native of Swavesey, being the son of the late Mr. Robert Norman, Boxworth End, and for the last 24 years had been employed on the same farm by the late Mr. George Long and his successors. Mr. Norman, who was 67 years of age, leaves a widow, one son, and two daughters.

FLOODS. 19th April 1918

Much land in and around Swavesey is under water, and it has been necessary to remove stock from many fields.

AN OVERWORKED OFFICE. 19th April 1918

It is stated that the pressure of work was so great at the local Food Office, St. Ives, last week-end, that the officials were kept busily engaged until the small hours of Sunday morning, and were again at work during Sunday.

MARGARINE. 19th April 1918

An announcement was recently made in these columns that a grocer at Over had been appointed margarine wholesaler for the Swavesey district, but it now appears that, although the Swavesey Food Committee have held no meeting, the arrangement has been altered, and that margarine is being supplied to retailers in the district by grocers in St. Ives. The shops of all the retailers in the district are within easy distance of Swavesey Railway Station, whereas distribution from St. Ives involves a long journey by road, and is likely to entail delay, to say nothing of additional expense. The Food Committee should explain why the alteration was necessary, and why it was carried out without their authority.

SUGAR FOR JAM. 19th April 1918

A Swavesey resident received by post on Wednesday from the Local Food Office, St. Ives, a copy of the official form on which to apply for sugar for making jam for home-grown fruit. The resident in question has no fruit trees of any description, and had made no request for a form of application for sugar, but it is understood that his wife signed a memorial a short time ago praying that Government sugar for jam-making might be supplied to persons who purchase fruit as well as to persons who grow their own fruit. Perhaps the Swavesey Food Committee will furnish some explanation in the matter? It will be recollected that many people who signed the memorial referred to thought that by affixing their signature they were "putting their names down" for a supply of sugar.

FUNERAL. 19th April 1918

The funeral of Mr. James Norman, Carter's-lane, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Friday afternoon, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Norman (widow), Mr. And Mrs. A. J. Norman (son and daughter-in-law), Miss H. Norman (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Norman (cousins), Mrs. J. Trundle, sen. (sister-in-law) and Messrs. W. and C. Adams (brothers-in-law).

WAR NOTES. 19th April 1918

Pte. William Harden, Shropshire L.I., has been discharged from the Army, being no longer physically fit for war service. He had spent the last nine months in hospital at Cork, suffering from bronchitis. Pte. Dick Wilderspin, R.E., concerning whose safety ugly rumours had been in circulation, writing to our Swavesey representative on 9th April, says: "No doubt you will be pleased to hear from me after the news which has been going about re me. I am still alive and in the best of health, and feeling fit. I have not met anyone I know out here yet. I should not care who it was, but I should like to see someone I know, just to get a chat about Swavesey. Tell our death-hunter I am keeping well, and if he lay beside me in our hut he would have to go through it, for I would turn his bed upside down and see what he was made of. We have a bit of sport sometimes, but I would rather be in the ----- just to hear who does all the work. I guess there is just as much done there on 'pop' as there used to be on beer." Pte. Wilderspin is a despatch rider, and has been in France since 1st January last.

DRIVER S. W. WRIGHT. 19th April 1918

Driver Sidney W. Wright, Machine Gun Corps, has been wounded by a bullet in the thigh, and is in hospital in France. In a letter received by his wife on Wednesday Driver Wright says that he is going on well.

JOINED UP. 26th April 1918

Mr. Francis Parish, youngest son of Mr. David Parish, has joined the Army Service Corps. He had been on munition work for the last two years.

FOOD CONTROL. 26th April 1918

The inconvenience caused to the public by the Swavesey Food Control Office being located in St. Ives is being keenly felt just now by persons who have had to have their children's meat ration cards changed. In order to have this done a journey – sometimes more than one – has had to be taken to St. Ives (railway fare 9d.) or letters written, involving delay and expense for postage.

CANNING DEMONSTRATION. 26th April 1918

A lady lecturer from the Food Production Department gave an interesting and instructive demonstration of the best way of canning fruit and vegetables in the National School on Tuesday evening. The audience was composed mainly of ladies, some of whom belonged to Over, but it was not as large or representative as it ought to have been. The unsatisfactory attendance cannot in this instance be attributed to inadequate advertisement, but rather, it is feared, to the prevalent notion that our womenfolk know already how to make jam and cook vegetables. Those who did not attend missed many valuable and useful hints in culinary matters, quite apart from the information given respecting canning. After the lecture Mrs. Mirrlees, Chairman of the County Horticultural Sub-Committee, gave a short address, in which she was understood to say that the canning apparatus used in the demonstration would be left at Swavesey for the benefit of canners in Swavesey and surrounding villages if satisfactory arrangements could be made for its proper use. Mr. Robinson Mitham presided, and on behalf of the audience thanked the lecturer and Mrs. Mirrlees for the demonstration, which was greatly appreciated by those who were present. The Parish Council, under whose auspices the demonstration was held, was represented by Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman) and Mr. Twist.

WAR NOTES. 26th April 1918

PTE. C. W. PRIME. Information has reached Mr. David Prime, Hog Pasture Gate House, that his eldest son, Pte. Charles W. Prime, Bedfordshire Regt., has been wounded in the hand during the recent fighting in France, and is in hospital in this country. He is reported to be doing well. He was previously wounded in May of last year.

PTE. W. G. PRIOR. Mr. Charles Prior, Taylor's-lane, has received news that his eldest son, Pte. Walter George Prior, North Staffordshire Regt., has been posted as missing. He joined up in September, 1916, and had been in France for some time.

LANCE-CORPL. J. A. SYMONDS. The Quartermaster-Sergeant of his company has written to say that Lance-Corpl. John Alexander Symonds, East Kent Regt. (The Buffs), eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Symonds, Boxworth end, was posted as missing on 21st March. He joined up on 18th April, 1917, and went to France early in December.

CAPT. G. BEAUMONT, M.C. Mrs. Beaumont, Swavesey, has been informed by telegram from the War Office that her son, Capt. George Beaumont, M.C., East Surrey Regt., died of wounds on April 9th, aged 29. Capt. Beaumont entered the Civil Service in 1905, and after serving in the Engineer-in-Chief's Office, G.P.O., and in the National Debt Office, was appointed to the Secretary's Department of the Customs and Excise in 1909. On the outbreak of war he was selected for duty in the War Trade Department, and acted as Secretary of the Admiralty Committee. He was anxious to join the Army, but could not be spared by his Department until November, 1915, when his persistent appeals for release from his civil duties were at length acceded to. He enlisted in the London Scottish, and after a few months' training in this country joined a battalion of that famous regiment in France on March 12th, 1916. He was wounded at Gommecourt on 11th June, 1916, and was sent home, but rejoined his unit at the front in September. Two months later he was nominated for a commission, and after training with the 4th O.C.B. at Oxford, was gazetted second lieutenant in the East Surrey Regiment on 4th April, 1917. On the 24th May he was in France once again. His battalion was in the thick of the fighting at Bourslon Wood from 23rd to 25th November last, and for his devotion to duty and gallant conduct Capt. Beaumont was awarded the Military Cross and promoted captain. George Beaumont was the third of the five sons of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, for some forty years headmaster of Swavesey School, all of whom have served or are serving in the Army on the Western front. The eldest, Gunner P. J. Beaumont, R.G.A., has been invalided from France, Henry, the second, enlisted in the Canadian Infantry at the beginning of the war, and has been missing since April, 1915, and his body doubtless lies in "some corner of a foreign field that is for ever England," George, the subject of this notice, Francis, also a Civil Servant, who joined the London Regiment on 15th September, 1914, was wounded at Loos on 25th September, 1915, and has been discharged as unfit for further war service. And, lastly, Arthur, the youngest, a lad of 19, in the Machine-Gun Corps, of whom no tidings have been received since the terrible struggle begun on 21st March. Mrs. Beaumont may rest assured that she has the heartfelt sympathy of all, especially of those persons who themselves are weighed down with sorrow and anxiety for dear ones who have made the great sacrifice, or are missing or wounded.

GOOD ATTENDANCE. 3rd May 1918

Medals awarded by the County Education Committee for perfect attendance during last year were on Friday presented to the undermentioned children at Swavesey National School: Harry Brooks, Stanley Brooks and Winifred Godfrey.

POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 3rd May 1918

Owing to the alterations in the train service, which took effect on Wednesday, the letter-box at Swavesey Post Office is now cleared at 10.45 a.m. for the mid-day despatch, and the day mail delivery is being made 25 minutes later. The wall posting box in Middle Watch is now cleared at 10.40 a.m. and 6.45 p.m.

DEATH OF AN EX-SOLDIER. 3rd May 1918

We regret to report that Mr. William Harden died on Monday morning, aged 34 years, at his home in Middle Watch, Swavesey. Mr. Harden joined the Suffolk Regt. on the 2nd March, 1916, and went to France on the 28th November of the same year, being transferred to the Shropshire L.I. on arrival. After a time his health broke down, and he was sent back from France. He spent nine months in hospital at Cork, but was discharged from the Army last month as unfit for further war service. He arrived in Swavesey on the 9th ultimo, and was granted a pension dating from the 14th ulto. The funeral took place in Swavesey churchyard yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. Mr. Harden was unmarried.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT. 3rd May 1918

A Swavesey man in a R.E. Road Construction Company, writing from France, says: "We are just getting settled after all our excitement. We were marching for a week. We lost most of our kit, but we are all right again now. We finished our two miles of sleeper track, and it was a good job we did. Our platoon was repairing it in the morning, taking the broken sleepers out and putting new ones in as Fritz came over the hill. We were the last lot to leave. I stood looking on while a battery of 18-pounders was in action against our camp before we had the order to move. It was most exciting. Fritz came down on us with his planes and fired at us with his Lewis guns, but did not hit any of our fellows. One had a lucky escape, for a bullet hit one of the buttons on his tunic and knocked it off. It just grazed his skin, but did not hurt him. We have lost our sleeper track – Fritz claims that – but it is all blown up by our airmen, so it is no good to the Germans. . . . It is wonderful what men the Germans have lost. I think this is the start of the finish – at least I hope so." (Walter Coulson)

A LETTER FROM PALESTINE. 3rd May 1918

Writing on April 2nd from Palestine, Corpl. James S. Dean, Imperial Camel Corps, says: "You will be sorry to hear that I am wounded and in hospital here, but expect to be sent down to the base in a day or so. I am wounded in the head, but it is going on all right, so don't worry. The doctors thought my skull was fractured, as I could not speak properly, so they put me under an operation, and I am thankful to say my speech is quite all right again. Since I last wrote I have spent a day at Bethlehem, and saw the manger in which Jesus was born. We then went on to Jerusalem, and I saw the Garden of Gethsemane, and the tomb of the Virgin Mary, and also the great mosque of Omar. The city of Jerusalem is one of the dirtiest places I have seen, and the only decent buildings are the churches and the buildings belonging to the church. We then went on to Jericho and across the Jordan, where I was wounded on 27th March." Corpl. Dean is the eldest son of Mrs. Dean and the late Mr. James W. Dean, of Swavesey. He went through the South African War, gaining both the Queen's and King's Medals, and he re-enlisted in Australia on the 28th November, 1915, in the Australian Light Horse, transferring to the Camel Corps twelve months later.

WAR NOTES. 3rd May 1918

CAPT. G. BEAUMONT, M.C. – The following extracts from a letter written by the Commanding Officer of the Battalion of the East Surrey Regt., to which the late Capt. G. Beaumont, M.C., of Swavesey, belonged, will be read with interest. His death from wounds received in action in France was reported last week. After mentioning that the battalion had sustained very heavy losses in officers and men, and that “Captain Beaumont was wounded in several places, but was quite cheery, and that later he died of wounds,” the writer records that wounded men had told him how courageously Capt. Beaumont had fought “as indeed I well know he would, and he died a brave soldier, fighting to the end.” “He was not only a splendid officer who knew his work well, and had the hearts of all his men, but he was indeed a ‘White man,’ whom to know was indeed a pleasure. You may have comfort and even pride in the reflection that he was enabled to be of the bravest, and was faithful always, even to the supreme sacrifice.”

PTE. H. G. KEY. – Mrs. Key, High-street, Swavesey, has received letters from her husband, Pte. Henry G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, informing her that his leg was accidentally injured by falling wood on the night of April 18th, and that he is in hospital in France and doing well.

PTE. A. BEAUMONT. – Mrs. Beaumont received on Friday a postcard from her youngest son, Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., stating that he is a prisoner of war in Germany (camp not stated) and was unwounded and well. The card was dated April 5th.

SAPPER S. F. MITHAM. – A postcard dated 29th March reached Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, on Friday morning from his youngest son, Sapper Samuel F. Mitham, R.E., stating that he is a prisoner of war at Limberg, Germany, and was “sound.” Mr. Mitham had previously been informed officially that his son had been missing since 25th March, and his sergeant had written to say that when last seen he was suffering from a clean wound in his arm. Sapper Mitham and Pte. A. Beaumont are cousins, and are the first Swavesey men known to be prisoners of war.

PTE. H. G. KEY. – Writing to his wife on April 20th, Pte. Harry G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, reports that he was wounded in the leg on the night of April 18-19, and was in hospital in France. He added that the wound was painful, but that there was no occasion for his wife to worry.

CORPL. J. S. DEAN. – News has reached Swavesey that Corpl. James S. Dean, Imperial Camel Corps was wounded in the head on 27th March whilst on service in Palestine.

LANCE-CORPL. J. A. SYMONDS. – A postcard was received on Monday morning by the parents of Lance-Corpl. John A. Symonds, East Kent Regt.,

who last week was unofficially reported missing since March 21st, stating that he is a prisoner of war in Germany and is well.

PTE. H. C. HOWLETT. – In a letter dated April 20th, Pte. R. Mitham, Suffolk Regt., himself fortunately sound and free, states that Pte. Harold Charles Howlett, of the same battalion, son of Mr. W. Howlett, Swavesey, has been wounded in the thigh by shrapnel and taken prisoner by the Germans. Ptes Mitham and Howlett were stretcher-bearers.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 10th May 1918

A linnet's nest, containing three eggs, has been found in a broccoli growing in Mr. Ralph Gleaves' small holding in Whitton Meadow, Swavesey.

BLACKSMITH INJURED. 10th May 1918

Mr. Charles Burling was kicked on the head whilst shoeing a horse on Saturday morning. It is understood that Mr. Burling overbalanced and fell through the animal's hoof getting entangled in his apron, and that his head was badly cut through coming in contact with a partly driven nail in the shoe. Mr. Tuck, who was with the horse, was able to push it away, and so prevented further mischief.

VICAR GOES TO THE FRONT. 10th May 1918

The Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. John Selwyn Sharp, left the village on Monday for a second spell of duty as a chaplain to the Forces. He is understood to have crossed over to France on Wednesday. Mr. Sharp had previously served as a temporary chaplain on the Western front from January, 1916, to January, 1917. The Rev. Edwin Gerald Peterson, who has recently been doing duty at Fen Drayton, will be in charge of the parish during the vicar's absence.

SOLDIER PENSIONER'S FUNERAL. 10th May 1918

The funeral of the late Mr. William Harden, who was discharged with a pension from the Shropshire L.I. on the 13th ulto., and whose death was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on the 2nd. Inst. The Vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. James Harden and Mr. Thomas Harden (brothers) and Miss E. Harden and Miss M. A. Harden (sisters).

HOW GUNNER GRAVES DIED. 10th May 1918

Mrs. Graves, High-street. Swavesey, widow of the late Gunner H. G. Graves, R.G.A., whose death from wounds on 25th March has already been announced has received the following letter from an officer in her husband's battery: "As your husband's section commander I am writing to let you know how he met his death. On the evening of 25th March he was on duty in the exchange at the battery position, when a shell from an enemy battery burst on the roof. Your husband and an N.C.O. were at once carried out and taken away to an ambulance. He was unconscious when picked up, and did not regain consciousness, so his end was painless. Although he had only been with us a short time, he was universally liked and trusted, as he always did his work thoroughly and cheerfully. Personally, I was extremely sorry to lose him, and should like to convey the sympathy of the officers and men of the battery with you in your loss." Gunner Graves was a signaller.

CONCERT FOR RED CROSS. 10th May 1918

A highly successful concert, admirably arranged by the Misses Dodson and Goad and Sapper Banyard, a patient at Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital, was held at the National School on the evening of the 2nd inst. The large room was crowded with an audience who thoroughly appreciated the excellent fare provided for their amusement. The entertainment was in aid of the local hospital, and resulted in £6 16s. being handed over to the Commandant. Sergt Hughes, a patient, acted as chairman. The varied programme included a pianoforte solo, humorous songs, sketches and an impersonation. At the close the Commandant, Mrs. R. E. Long, briefly thanked all who had taken part in the entertainment, and congratulated them on the success of their venture. The proceeds, she added, would be a very welcome addition to the funds of the hospital.

PTE. R. MITHAM. 10th May 1918

News has reached Swavesey that Pte. Robinson Mitham, Suffolk Regt., second son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, was wounded on 28th April in France. In a letter to his wife received subsequently, Pte. Mitham, who was a stretcher bearer, says that he had just brought in a wounded man from the front lines to the dressing station, when a shell fell in the doorway of the old building used for the station. A large piece of shell struck him on the left ankle, and his mate was hit by a smaller piece on the left leg, but the man on the stretcher did not escape so lightly, being hit on the chest. Pte. Mitham, at time of writing, was going on well although "half a tree" was bound round his leg.

PTE. T. C. FROMENT. 17th May 1918

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Froment, Market-street, Swavesey, have been informed that their son, Pte. Thomas Charles Froment, Grenadier Guards (Guards Machine-Gun Regiment), was wounded by shell in the right thigh on May 6th. Writing from the 3rd Western General Hospital, Newport (Mon.), Pte. Froment says he is "nice and comfortable," and is going on as well as can be expected. He had been previously wounded in the same leg during the fighting at Cambrai in November last.

ADVERT. 17th May 1918

Wanted, Old Newspapers, Periodicals, etc., for cash – Aldred, Swavesey.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 17th May 1918

Anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Church on Thursday in last week. The Rev. S. W. Hughes, Dr. Clifford's successor at Westbourne Park Church, preached at the afternoon and evening services, both of which were largely attended. The collections, which were in aid of the Chapel Renovation Fund and amounted to over £24, exceeded previous anniversary records.

WAR NOTES. 17th May 1918

Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, who was recently accidentally injured, has returned to duty with his battalion at the front. Pte. Robinson Mitham, Suffolk Regt., reported wounded last week, is in hospital at Boulogne and is going on well. A card was received from Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., written from a German prison camp, stating that he is well, but asking for a parcel and money. Gunner Frederick A. Prior, R.F.A., has returned to France, and is in good health.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES RADFORD. 17th May 1918

Many of our older readers in Swavesey and district will learn with regret that Mrs. Betsy Webster Radford, widow of the late Mr. James Radford, and daughter of the late Mr. Edward Thorp, farmer, Swavesey, died at Harrow-on-Hill on April 30th, aged 75 years, after a long and painful illness. The funeral took place at Harrow on the 4th inst. Mrs. Radford and her husband were natives of Swavesey, both belonging to well-known local families. They were married at Swavesey, and spent the earlier years of their wedded life there, and their children were born in the village.

THE FEAST. 17th May 1918

This week was, or rather should have been, Feast Week, but not a vestige of the usual attributes of a feast has been seen. In normal times Market-street is crowded with roundabouts, shooting galleries, cocoa-nut shies, stalls of various kinds and the like. Last year two or three stalls were in evidence, but this year Market-street has been deserted except by trucks engaged on Government business. One incident will show how entirely the feast has been abandoned. The tap-room of one publichouse usually crowded at feast time was "spring-cleaned" on Monday. Two feast customs were, however, kept up. The school children were granted a week's holiday, and the shops were closed on Tuesday afternoon. The services at the parish church on Sunday were of a festival character, and an anthem was sung in the evening.

THE LATE CAPTAIN G. BEAUMONT, M.C. 17th May 1918

A friend of the late Capt. George Beaumont, whose death has already been reported in our columns, writes: "We first met in the Harpur-street Library at Bedford, fourteen years ago, as candidates for boy clerkships, and it so happened that he was the only friend I made in those few days that seemed so momentous to us. A year or two later, at King's College, George made himself known again. He was bigger and taller, but with the same shy, unspoilt freshness that had singled him out from all the others of that boyish crowd at Bedford. We both lodged in South London, and our walks home are some of my happiest recollections. On those joyous nights we forgot our new-found dignity, and went back wholeheartedly to earlier days. I am very much afraid that one night we crossed Blackfriars Bridge on the tail of a coal-cart. Later, we played for the same cricket club, but George was claimed by a higher eleven than my humble one. Through several seasons we saw much of one another, and I look back with inexpressible emotion to the evenings I spent at Honor Oak with him and his brother Frank. We met constantly at lunch in Thames-street, and it was there that I all unwittingly said 'Good-bye' to him for the last time. From France I wrote to him with news of his brother Frank, and I still have his reply. Then, as when he wrote of his father's death, a loving, faithful soul shone through the written words and made them golden. It was inevitable that I should write all this detail, for all our past meetings have been passing and repassing in my memory since the news of his death came. No one, knowing him, and knowing of our long friendship stretching back to boyhood, will ask why I feel I must pay what tribute I can to the finest-natured gentleman it has ever been my privilege to know. From a letter written to me a bare month ago, I know, if proof were necessary, that he remained steadfast to the end to the principles which moulded his manhood and made him the fine type of Englishman that he was. Let me write, without excess of verbiage, and with deep sorrow tinged with solemn pride his epitaph: 'He was a clean-limbed, clean-minded Englishman; a dutiful son, a loving brother, and a faithful friend. — R.W.S.

PTE. THOMAS HOWLETT. 24th May 1918

A telegram from the Record Office was received by Mrs. W. Howlett yesterday (Thursday) stating that her son, Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regt., has been dangerously wounded and is lying in hospital in France. It was regretted that permission could not be given for his parents to visit him. Pte. Howlett first went to France in October, 1915, and was wounded in the knee in May, 1916. In September, 1917, he was taken ill with an appendicitis and was sent to England for an operation. He returned to France about the middle of last month. His brother, Pte. H. C. Howlett, Suffolk Regt., has been missing since April 9th, and is believed to have been wounded.

WAR NOTES. 24th May 1918

Pte. Isaac Parish and Pte. Frank Prior are now in France. Pte. William H. Metcalfe returned there on the 10th inst.

WHITSUN HOLIDAY. 24th May 1918

There were more visitors in Swavesey during Whitsuntide than had been the case at recent holiday times, and the village woke up a little.

FUNERAL. 24th May 1918

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Utteridge took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, Bethel Chapel, officiated, and the mourners included three sons, three daughters and two granddaughters. A few old Swavesey friends were also present. Mr. Utteridge, who was 75 years of age, was employed as a platelayer on the G.E. Railway at Swavesey for many years, and lived in the village until shortly after his wife's death about twenty years ago, when he removed to Cambridge, where he died. He was buried by the side of his wife.

WAR NOTES. 31st May 1918

Percy Beaumont, R.G.A., was discharged from the Army on Monday as no longer physically fit for war service. He joined up on 13th March, 1917, and went up to France on the 20th May. Towards the end of the year he was taken ill, the result of exposure, and in December he was sent home to a hospital in Wales. He arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday on a short holiday, before resuming his duties as an assistant master at Wyggeston School, Leicester. From letters which have been received by his parents, Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cambridgeshire Regt., who was officially reported by telegram last week to have been dangerously wounded, it would appear that his injuries are not so serious as was at first thought to be the case. He was wounded in both arms on May 20th. He hopes to be sent to England very shortly. No further tidings have come to hand respecting his brother, Pte. Harold Chas. Howlett, Suffolk Regt., reported wounded and missing on 9th April.

COMMENDED. 31st May 1918

Sergt. Charles Wood, Royal Fusiliers, in civil life the headmaster of Swavesey National School, is the sergeant cook of his battalion. He joined up on October 14th, 1914, went to France on 14th October, 1915, and has seen some rough service, especially during the German attack in March last. But notwithstanding all difficulties, he has managed to feed his men, and what is more to the point, has not only given satisfaction, but has won warm commendation from his superior officers. After a surprise visit the A.D.M.S. (?Assistant Director of Medical Service (sic)) reported: "I inspected all food that was in course of preparation for men in the trenches on 26th April, 1918. The rations consisted of rissoles (two per man), cold boiled bacon, hot tea and pea soup, sent up in hot food containers - ½ pint per man. The cooking was good, very clean, and looked appetising, which goes a long way when a man is tired. I don't think the arrangements could be improved on. This battalion has the lowest sick rate in ----Infantry Brigade." The lieutenant-colonel commanding the battalion has expressed his appreciation of this highly gratifying report in a letter to Sergt. Wood: "You will have seen the very satisfactory report I recently received on the feeding of the battalion. I wish to express to you how very pleased I am to receive such a report. It reflects very great credit on you and your staff of cooks. I know the hard work you put in, and that you are 'all out' to do everything that can be done for the welfare of the troops. A battalion cannot be a really good fighting unit unless the men are happy and contented unless they are well fed. If a commanding officer has not good cooks backing him up he will never have a really good battalion. I am very fortunate in having such good men, and I want you all to know I appreciate your work." Sergt. Wood is now attached to the American Army in France as an instructor in British military cooking methods.

PTE. A. C. HEPHER. 31st May 1918

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, have heard officially that their youngest son, Pte. Alfred Charles Hepher, Middlesex Regiment, has been posted "missing" since 9th April. Pte. Hepher, who will be 19 years of age early next month, joined up in September last. He landed in France on 1st April. His eldest brother, Pte. James William Hepher, Suffolk Regiment, was reported missing on 28th April, 1917, and has since been recorded as believed to have been killed in action on that day. Mr. and Mrs. Hepher's sole remaining child is serving with his regiment in Ireland.

PTE. A. C. HEPHER. 7th June 1918

Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, has received a card from her youngest son, Pte. Alfred Charles Hepher, Middlesex Regiment, stating that he is a prisoner of war in Germany and is quite well. He says he was captured at Fleurbaix on April 9th. Pte. Hepher was officially reported missing last week.

JOINED UP. 7th June 1918

Mr. Joseph Ding joined up on the 31st ult. He is training with the Royal West Kent Regiment.

TEA. 7th June 1918

Notices issued by the local Food Committee have been posted in the village calling upon people to register for tea not later than June 10th.

MILK. 7th June 1918

The Swavesey District Food Committee at a meeting held in April decided that the retail price of milk should be reduced from 6d. to 4d. a quart during the months of May and June. The resolution was, however, not confirmed by the Ministry of Food until the end of last month, and therefore did not come into force until June 1st.

WAR NOTES. 7th June 1918

Pte. Alfred Prime, The Queen's, who has been wounded on three occasions, has been "recommended" for gallantry in action on April 9th – 11th, when his battalion suffered heavily. This is the second time Pte. Prime has won commendation. Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., a prisoner of war at Munster, Germany, is employed in a coal mine. He is a carpenter by trade. Lance-Corpl. John A. Symonds, The Buffs, and Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., also prisoners, are interned at Giessen, Germany. Both write home that they are in good health.

HELP FOR THE RED CROSS. 7th June 1918

SWAVESEY DISTRICT COMMITTEE'S SECOND GREAT JUMBLE SALE.

The terrible war that it devastating Europe still shows no sign of approaching termination. On the contrary, every indication points to the necessity of the exercise of further fortitude, greater exertion, and an unconquerable determination to persevere to the end. Meanwhile the Red Cross Society finds it necessary to issue the most piteous and urgent appeals to the public not to slacken, but to redouble their efforts to help those who through sickness or wounds are suffering in the cause of their country and of universal freedom and right.

In these circumstances the Swavesey District British Farmers' Red Cross Committee have once again taken up the arduous task of holding an agricultural jumble sale on the lines of the successful effort of last year. In all the villages concerned – Swavesey, Over, Fen Drayton, Conington, Boxworth and Lolworth – the local committee have been strenuously at work for some weeks past, inspired with the hope of exceeding last year's contribution to Red Cross funds. They need, however, at this stage, the generous support of the public, and it would be pitiful indeed if, after their efforts and sacrifice of energy and time, they failed to get adequate support. The features of the jumble sale are very similar to last year. There are large entries of animals, produce, implements, etc. The animals include a two-year-old strong harness colt and a red Lincoln bull. It is scarcely necessary to mention that Mr. Fyson's cockerel, which has just scored a figure exceeding £10,000, will be an outstanding attraction, and amongst the new arrangements for this year are half-hour concerts to be given during the sale, and a whist drive to be held at Swavesey in the evening.

Patriotism and pity alike appeal to all to give their utmost support to this worthy object.

THE RECREATION GROUND. 14th June 1918

The Parish Council gave orders some time ago that a copy of the by-laws regulating the Recreation Ground should be posted on a board to be erected on the ground. The Council's instructions appear to have been forgotten, for no board is yet to be seen.

JOINED UP. 14th June 1918

Sergt. Joseph B. Parish, Cambridgeshire Volunteer Regt., joined up on Wednesday. He is the eldest son of Mr. Z. Parish, the well-known butcher, of Swavesey and Cambridge market, three of whose five sons were already in the Army, viz., Pte. Isaac Parish, M.G.C., who has served in Egypt and Palestine, and is now in France, Sapper Arthur Parish, R.E., who went to France in May, 1916, was wounded in the leg in the following October, and returned to the Western front in April of last year, and Lance-Corpl. John Parish, who was taken seriously ill with rheumatic fever last March at a camp in this country, and, though mending, is still in hospital. The remaining son is a small boy at school. Sergt. Parish has been an energetic Volunteer, and his zeal was quickly recognised and rewarded by promotion.

WAR NOTES. 14th June 1918

Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., a prisoner of war at Giessen, Germany, writing home says: "I am perfectly all right here and quite happy – in fact I am having a very easy time. How is George faring now? (his brother, Capt. G. Beaumont, M.C., East Surrey Regt., who died of wounds on April 9th). I bet he has had a hard time of late. You see at what camp I am, a jolly fine place, with all convenience. There is a large, fine Church hut, a well-stocked library, of which I can make advantageous use, and a theatre. We get ripping baths, and I feel tip-top after a clean change given us yesterday. Football and cricket are played on the square, and thus you see I have all to keep me happy and contented, as I truthfully am. It is only natural I am most anxious to see you all, as I trust I shall do soon." Another Swavesey lad, Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, The Buffs, is also a prisoner at Giessen. Sergt. Charles Wood, Royal Fusiliers, writing on 3rd June, says that the Germans shelled the billets of his battalion while he was having supper in the mess. The shrapnel bullets broke the windows, and he was hit on the right hand. He did not leave the battalion, but he has had to have his hand in a sling. He added that he was going on well. He says he was billeted in a very pretty village, where life would be ideal if war conditions were absent. He had just returned from his tour of instructing U.S.A. units in cookery when he was injured. According to information received from the Central Prisoners of War Committee, Pte. A. C. Hephher, Middlesex Regt., is a prisoner of war at Dulmen, Westphalia.

ACCIDENT. 21st June 1918

Mr. Charles Burling, the sole remaining blacksmith in Swavesey, who was injured on 4th May whilst shoeing horse, met with another mishap last week whilst shoeing at Highfield Farm, Swavesey. This time his injuries to head and body are serious, but it is satisfactory to state that according to the latest report his condition is improving.

JOINED UP A SECOND TIME. 21st June 1918

Mr. Cawthorne Capper, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capper, Swavesey, who enlisted in the Canadian infantry at the beginning of the war, was severely wounded in France in 1915, and was discharged as unfit for further service, has again joined up. He is now a cadet in the Royal Air Force at Toronto, Canada.

WEDDING. 21st June 1918

The marriage of Miss Eliza Prime, daughter of Mr. Alfred Prime, Swavesey, and Mr. Frank Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hayward, Great Bradley, Suffolk, took place at Great Bradley Parish Church on the 11th inst. The Rev. W. B. Wilder, rector, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was tastefully attired in cream silk poplin, with hat trimmed with orange blossom to match. She carried a bouquet of white iris and carnations, the gift of the bridegroom. Attending her were four bridesmaids, the Misses M., F. and E. Prime (sisters of the bride) and D. Lane (niece of the bridegroom). The Misses M. and F. Prime wore flowered voile and hats to match; Miss E. Prime was in white embroidered muslin, and Miss Lane in white silk alpaca. The two latter wore strap bonnets of pale blue silk ribbon, with bunches of carnations. Mr. F. C. Bradnam, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony the guests were entertained at the Crown Inn, Great Bradley, the residence of the bridegroom's parents, and later in the day the happy couple left for London for the honeymoon. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a silver teapot from the staff at Longstanton railway station, and a silver cruet stand from the staff at Swavesey station.

SWAVESEY RED CROSS SALE. 21st June 1918

MRS. ADEANE AS AUCTIONEER.

The Swavesey District Branch of the British Farmers' Red Cross Fund scored another success at the agricultural jumble sale, organised by them, and held in the Manor Field, Swavesey, on Thursday, 13th inst. The attendance was good, very nearly equal to last year's, and the weather was all that could be desired. The proceedings were opened by the singing of the National Anthem, led by the Swavesey and Over concert parties, after which Mr. Jacob Frohock, the chairman of the Executive Committee, introduced and welcomed Mrs. Adeane, wife of the Lord Lieutenant of the County. Mrs. Adeane made an eloquent and telling appeal on behalf of the Red Cross Society, and at the close of her speech opened the sale by offering Mr. Fyson's V.C. cockerel. The gallant bird was immediately knocked down for £10 10s., but was put up again and again, until it had netted £1012. It was put up again later in the sale, when a further sum was placed to its credit. Mr. Dilley, whose firm acted as honorary auctioneers, soon relieved Mrs. Adeane. Mr. Dilley, owing to another engagement, had to leave early, and was succeeded by Mr. Watson, Messrs. Edwards (Over) and Frank Norman (Swavesey) officiated as auctioneers' clerks. A Lincoln red bull, presented by Mr. Scambler, Conington, was knocked down to Mr. F. Kirby, Over, for £15 10s., and a two-year-old harness colt, given by Major Fuller, Lolworth, fell to Mr. George Burgess for £26 5s.

Amongst other attractions calculated to bring grist to the mill were stalls for the sale of needlework, produce, refreshments, flowers and jumble articles, all of which did good business. Half-hour concerts were given by parties from Swavesey and Over respectively, and were patronised by large audiences. Red Cross flags were sold on the ground and by children in the villages in the district, and produced nearly £20. In the evening a whist drive, held at Swavesey National School, and largely attended, realised £12. The whist drive prizes were given by Mrs Capper.

GUNNER E. PRIOR. 27th June 1918

A field card has been received from Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., of Swavesey, stating that he has been wounded and is in hospital. He appears to have been wounded in the recent fighting on the Italian front, as in a letter, dated 13th inst., he said he was sound and well.

“THE SIGN OF FOUR” 27th June 1918

WHAT THE Y.M.C.A. IS DOING IN MESOPOTAMIA.

Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., of Swavesey, has sent home a long and interesting letter describing the Y.M.C.A. in Mesopotamia. We give a few extracts:

“I frequently wonder if friends at home realise to the full what the four letters Y.M.C.A. mean to the British Tommy. When in dear old England our first cry on entering a fresh camp was ‘Where is the Y.M.?’ Now I can speak from experience. In a country over 5,000 miles away from the homeland we are greeted by those four letters. At our present camp the building, like most buildings in this country, is lightly built, consisting of wooden framework and straw matting, with no glass windows, miniature doors acting for them. The building is capable of holding over 500 men at a squeeze – I may say a squeeze happens pretty often, especially when a concert is on.

“One notices on entering a small crowd gathered round the news board which is at the bottom of the hut, and one gets a splendid view of the stage. Last night (April 24th) we had a good concert, the pianist alone being worthy of an audience, having had the honour of playing before King George. I have heard a fair number of concert parties, but I think none have quite come up to the company last evening. The hut is lit up by electric light, games are to be found, such as quoits, draughts, etc. A good billiard table is always in use, and there is a library where the Tommy can get two sheets of writing paper and envelopes free. Every evening a song service is held from 6.45 to 7.30 with a short address either by one minister or other, doctors and captains. Every evening also after the service there is some attraction, cinema, concert, or band.

“Another hut is used as a canteen, and here the Tommy can purchase cakes, chocolate, tobacco, tinned fruit, biscuits, etc. Tables and seats line the hut. At the back of this building are three large tents run into one which are used as a refreshment tent. At one end a good old cup of tea is very much in evidence, and at the other soda water, limejuice, lemonade, etc., can be bought at ½d. per bottle. Close by is the ‘devotional’ tent, the writing and reading tent, and the residence of the worthy friend in charge, a Canadian gentleman.

“Now let us take our way over the ‘iron road’ rails, and we find ourselves surrounded by tents in use for the comfort of the men. First we see the open-air site used for concerts, and just to the rear of this is the largest tent I have ever seen, which is utilised for concerts, services and lectures; it is quite easy for a thousand men to hear and see here. There is another canteen. At 6.45 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in a small tent a doctor from the R.A.M.C. lectures on the human body. I have attended four times. Near by is another reading and writing tent where periodicals from Blighty and India, a very good library, writing materials, and a daily paper are provided. On the other side of the road lessons are given to those who wish to learn Arabic and Hindustani. The teacher is a native. These lessons are more for staff men who are staying for a length of time.

“The Y.M.C.A. possess their own motor cars, motor boats, etc. What we should do without the Y.M.C.A. it is difficult to say, but those of us who have been ‘in the wild’ fully value the blessings it provides.”

JOINED UP. 27th June 1918

Mr. Henry George Howlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howlett, Swavesey, joined up on Monday.

PROMOTION. 27th June 1918

Flight-Sergt. Albert A. Girling, R.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Girling, Carter’s-lane, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant-major. He joined the R.F.C. on 5th January, 1915, when an apprentice with Messrs. Saint, Cambridge, went to France on the 19th of the same month, and rose rapidly through every grade from 2nd air-mechanic. The whole of his service has been in France.

COCKEREL MOTHERS CHICKENS. 5th July 1918

A brood of eight one month old chickens belonging to Mr. John Marriott, Ramper-road, deserted by the hen, have been mothered by a cockerel. The cockerel did its work as thoroughly as a hen, and when the chicks were inclined to wander from the cosy shelter of its wings brought them back with well-directed pecks.

WAR NOTES. 5th July 1918

Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., who was briefly reported wounded in Italy in last week's "Press and News", is suffering from four wounds, viz., one in the chest (slight), and the rest in his left arm. A shell fell into his gun-pit at 3 a.m. on June 15th, at the opening of the Austrian offensive, killing two of his comrades and injuring him. Gunner Prior is in a base hospital in Italy. Pte. Joseph B. Parish, late sergeant in the Cambridgeshire Volunteer Regiment, who recently joined up, is serving with the East Kent Regiment (The Buffs).

ANOTHER SWAVESEY COOK. 5th July 1918

Pte. Henry G. Key, writing from France, where he has been since July, 1916, to our Swavesey representative, says he and his comrades had read with interest the report of Sergt. C. Wood's cookery success which appeared recently in the "Press and News." Pte. Key says that he also is a cook, and makes rissoles, but cannot manage two per man like Sergt. Wood, as there is not so much bully beef knocking about as there used to be. Pte. Key proceeds: "We cook eight days at transport lines, and then the boys come out for four days, and then they have oatmeal porridge and fried bacon and stew for dinner. Of course when they are in the trenches the food is taken up by transport at night – cool bacon and beef and minced rissoles. We grind the bully beef and spuds and sage, if we can get it, and roll them up about the size of a pat ball like buns in oatmeal, as we get very little flour. I wish you had been with me to dinner a Sunday or two ago. There are eight of us, two to each company. We went for a walk on the Saturday and found a good fowl. We scalded the feathers, and I cooked it, and made a Yorkshire pudding, but the stuffing was sage and onions, as we could not get parsley. It was all right. My mates said it was grand, and put them in mind of roast duck. I think the bird must have been hatched long before 1914 – an old soldier. I boiled it for two hours. We did not waste a bit of it. It is nice to have the 'Press and News' out here; it makes me feel as if one knew all what's going on at home."

IN MEMORIAM. 5th July 1918

PRIOR. – In ever-loving memory of dear Billy, Lance-Corpl. J. W. Prior, killed in action on July 1st, 1916.

He sleeps beside his comrades,
In a hallowed grave unknown;
But his name is written in letters of love
In the hearts he left at home.

- From his sorrowing Mother, Daisy, Sisters and Brother.

SCHOOL TREAT. 12th July 1918

Shorn of some of its accustomed glories, and with a tea under strict war conditions, especially as regards sugar, Bethel Chapel Sunday School treat was held on the 4th inst., and in spite of drawbacks was a very pleasant function. After tea in the schoolroom attached to the chapel, children and the parents and friends, adjourned to Mr. Jabez Day's meadow close by, which had been kindly lent for the occasion, and here the youngsters amused themselves with games, sports, swings, cricket, etc. At the close of an enjoyable evening prizes were presented in the schoolroom, and the youngsters gave hearty cheers to their kind and generous friends who had contributed in one way or another to their pleasure.

A MARKET FOR VEGETABLES. 12th July 1918

Professor Stanley Gardiner, Chairman of the County Horticultural Sub-Committee, who was accompanied by Mr. Stone, the County Inspector of Small Holdings, etc., paid a visit to Swavesey on Monday with the view of interesting small holders and other small growers in the weekly auction sale of fruit and vegetables that has been recently established in Cambridge, and it is understood that they were successful in obtaining promises of a fair-sized consignment of various kinds of produce, which is to be sent to the Mart in King-street, Cambridge, to-day (Friday). The scheme is worthy of support, as it will enable small growers to obtain an easy, and probably an inexpensive, market for their produce, and will furnish a useful outlet for surplus vegetables, etc., which hitherto have been wasted, or thrown to the pigs and poultry. But to work the scheme properly an Association or Committee should be formed in the village, and permanent arrangements made for the regular collection and transport of the produce.

JOINED UP. 19th July 1918

Mr. Wilfrid Church joined up on Wednesday. He had been employed as a porter at Swavesey Station, G.E.R.

THE NEW MARKET FOR VEGETABLES. 19th July 1918

Between 4 and 5 cwt. of vegetables were conveyed to the Auction Mart in King-street, Cambridge, last Friday, for the weekly sale which has been established under the auspices of the County Horticultural Sub-Committee. The vegetables were grown by four smallholders and three allotment holders.

THE LATE MISS LOUISA FYSON. 19th July 1918

The funeral of Miss Louisa Fyson took place at Warboys Chapel Cemetery, the officiating minister being the Rev. H. Ackland. Miss Fyson's tragically sudden death created consternation and universal sympathy in the village, where she had resided so long and was so well known. Sympathy was especially felt for the sister, Miss Mr. Fyson, now of Swavesey, who has been the constant companion and helper of the departed lady.

WAR NOTES. 19th July 1918

Writing on 20th June from a hospital in Egypt to his brother in Swavesey, Corpl. James S. Dean, who was somewhat seriously wounded in the head in fighting on the eastern side of the river Jordan on 27th March last, says: "I am returning to Western Australia, and am beginning to feel quite my old self again, though I still have that numbness of the right side; but the doctors think that will come all right again. My speech is quite all right now, but I have to speak a bit slower than I did before I was hit. I don't know when the boat will sail, but expect it to go any day, so may arrive home in time to spend my birthday with my wife. It was among the hills of Moab where I got hit. Did I tell you I saw the Mount of Temptation – just outside Jericho – where Jesus Christ fasted for forty days? Of course the natives show you the stone on which He was supposed to have sat during that period. There is a monastery built on the spot now, but all the same, it is a dreary and lonely-looking place." Corpl. Dean went through the South African War from start to finish, and gained both the Queen's and King's medals, the former with four bars. Some years ago he went to Australia, and, unable to resist the call to arms, he again enlisted on the 28th November, 1915, in the Australian Light Horse. He landed in Egypt in May, 1916. – Pte. Henry G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, writing on 11th July, says: "I thought my number was up on Tuesday, as a huge shell hit a hole in our cook-house, but I did not get a tap at all. They all think I was lucky."

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 26th July 1918

The yearly house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, has recently been made in the villages in the Swavesey district, and Mrs. Cooksey, the President of the Swavesey Division of the County Organisation Fund, has received the following amount from Swavesey: £10 7s. The sum raised is larger than last year.

SCHOOL CLOSED. 2nd Aug. 1918

Owing to illness amongst the children the National School was closed after Monday, and will not re-open until after the harvest holidays, which it was arranged should begin at the end of next week. All being well, the school should re-open on 23rd September. The acting headmaster, Mr. G. Hicks, is also laid up.

A YEAR'S WAR RECORD. 2nd Aug. 1918

During the twelve months just ending twelve Swavesey men have joined either the Army or the Royal Air Force. Three of the dozen have gone to France, one of whom has been wounded, while another is a prisoner of war. Since the 4th August last one Swavesey man has been killed in action, Pte. S. J. Froment, The Queens', and two have died of wounds, Gunner H. G. Graves, R.G.A., and Capt. G. Beaumont, M.C., East Surrey Regt. Two are missing, Pte. Walter Metcalfe, R.W. Kent Regt., since 20th September, and Pte. H. C. Howlett, Suffolk Regt., since 9th April. Five are prisoners of war in Germany, Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., Ptes. A. Beaumont, M.G.C., J. A. Symonds, The Buffs, A. C. Hephher, Middlesex Regt., and W. G. Prior, North Staffordshire Regt. Nineteen have been wounded, three of them for the second time, and four have been "gassed." Four men have been discharged as unfit for further war service (three on account of illness, two of whom have died, one within a fortnight of taking his discharge, and one owing to serious wounds). Two honours have been gained, viz., the late Capt. G. Beaumont, then a second lieutenant, won the Military Cross for gallant conduct displayed during the fighting in and around Bourlon Wood in November, and Sergt. B. G. Mann the Military Medal for gallantry in the field in Mesopotamia. Swavesey's record for the whole of four years of war may be of interest to some of our readers. 156 men are known to be serving, or to have served, in the Navy, Army, or Royal Air Force, viz., residents, 10 called up on mobilisation and 74 subsequent enlistments; natives of Swavesey, but not resident in the parish at time of joining, 7 called up and 60 subsequent enlistments, making with five men who were serving in the Navy or Army at the outbreak of war a total of 156. Six have been killed in action, four are missing and believed to have been killed, five have died of wounds, and two are missing, five are prisoners of war, 31 have been wounded or gassed once, 11 twice, and 2 three times, 14 have been discharged, viz., two time-expired, one of whom has re-enlisted, and 12 physically unfit for further war service (seven for illness and five for wounds). One of the latter has rejoined for home service.

Honours have been gained by Capt. G. Beaumont (Military Cross), Sapper Wilfred Hepher, R. E. (D.G.M.) (both died subsequently), Sergt. B. G. Mann and Corpl. James Prime (Military Medal), and Driver H. Carter (mentioned in despatches). Twelve are entitled to the 1914 star. The opening of the fifth year of war might with advantage be marked by the institution of an official record of Swavesey men who have served or are serving in the armed forces of the Crown in the Great War – it is believed there is none at present – and by the restoration to a suitable place in the village of a Roll of Honour for the parish. The lists in the parish church are incomplete and inaccurate in more than one respect, and it is suggested that they should be corrected and brought up to date before Sunday next, the Day of Remembrance. To do this would be but a small tribute to Swavesey men who are serving and fighting, suffering or have died for the great cause of justice, freedom, and civilisation in France and Flanders, in Italy and Macedonia, Egypt and Palestine, India and Mesopotamia, on the high seas and in camps, aerodromes, and hospitals at home, or who are eating out their hearts in German prison camps.

RED CROSS SALE AT SWAVESEY. 9th Aug. 1918 NEARLY £700 REALISED.

The final meeting of the Executive Committee of the Swavesey District British Farmers' Red Cross Fund was held at the Schools, Swavesey, on Thursday, August 1st. Mr. J. M. Parker (the treasurer) submitted a balance-sheet which had been audited by Mr. G. D. Day, St. Ives, showing the total takings to be £691 17s. 3d., and expenses amounting to £14 14s. 5d., giving a balance for the Red Cross Society of £677 2s. 10d. Last year the balance was £674 8s. 2d. A printed balance sheet is in course of preparation. (Break down of takings in newspaper).

WHEELER J. W. GOAD. 9th Aug. 1918

The sad news reached Swavesey this week that Wheeler James Goad, A.S.C., had died from illness on the 28th July, whilst serving in Italy. Wheeler Goad was universally loved and respected, and the tidings of his death was received with general regret. He was the first Swavesey man to volunteer for service at the outbreak of war, joining the A.S.C. on the 18th August, 1914. On the 5th October, 1914, he went to France, thus gaining the 1914 Star, and he was the first Swavesey man to appear in the village wearing the ribbon of that distinction when he came home on short leave in March last. He served continuously in France until November last, when he proceeded with the British troops to Italy. William Goad was a fine example of a thorough Englishman and a true-hearted soldier. His body lies resting in sunny Italy, and his friends will always remember that “there’s some corner of a foreign field that is for ever England.”

PTE. WALTER METCALFE.

The Army Council have been regretfully constrained to conclude that Pte. Walter Metcalfe, Royal West Surrey Regt., who has been missing since 20th September, 1917, is dead, and that his death took place on 20th September, or since. Pte. Metcalfe joined up on the 13th May, 1916, and went to France on the 13th October following. He was sent home ill, but returned to France in June, 1917.

DISCHARGED. 9th Aug. 1918

Pte. Robinson Mitham, Suffolk Regiment, who was wounded in the leg on April 28th last, and has since been in hospital in Liverpool, has been discharged from the Army as no longer physically fit for war service. He arrived in Swavesey on Wednesday.

RECREATION GROUND BY-LAWS. 9th Aug. 1918

A notice-board with the by-laws of the Recreation Ground has at length been erected on the ground, but whether the position chosen is a suitable one, and whether the method by which the document has been affixed to the board will stand the weather, appear somewhat doubtful. Time will tell.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. 9th Aug. 1918

Remembrance Day was duly kept last Sunday in Swavesey at the parish church. The special forms of prayer, etc., authorised by the Archbishops were used at all of the services, and at Evensong a Hymn of Intercession, “Most Holy God, Eternal Lord,” written by “E.A.B.” in 1916, was sung. At Bethel Baptist Chapel an intercessory service was held in the afternoon, at which Mr. Varney, an ex-soldier discharged through wounds, gave an interesting address on the soldiers’ life and work in the trenches. Mr. Varney spoke from personal experience, having joined up in September, 1914, and having spent some considerable time at the front.

WEDDING – MONTGOMERY-DODSON. 9th Aug. 1918

Miss Gladys Edith Dodson, daughter of the late Pte. Jonas Dodson, Suffolk Regiment, and Mrs. Dodson, Market-street, Swavesey, was married at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon to Pte. Eric Alexander Montgomery, South Lancashire Regiment, son of Mr. Walter Montgomery, Lincoln. The bride, given away by her uncle, Mr. Thompson Mortlock, wore pink silk crepe-line, with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossom. Her bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Charlotte Dodson, and a friend, Miss Florence Hames, both in white voile. Mr. Walter Thurbon, uncle of the bride, acted as best man. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thurbon. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a tea service from the employees at Messrs. Chivers' Histon.

WEDDING – BROOKS-PARISH. 9th Aug. 1918

At the Particular Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, on Monday morning, the marriage took place of Miss Dora Elizabeth Parish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, The Homestead, Swavesey, and Mr. Percy Brooks, son of Mr. Benjamin Brooks, Ferndale, St. Ives. Mr. J. T. Wiles, St. Ives, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in apricot crepe de chine, with leghorn hat. In attendance on her were two bridesmaids, Miss Connie L. Parish (her sister) and Miss Annie L. Brooks (bridegroom's sister), who wore white embroidered voile dresses and black tulle hats. Rifleman A. G. Parish, K.R.R.C., brother of the bride, was best man. A reception was held after the ceremony at The Homestead, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brooks left for Brighton, where the honeymoon is being spent. The happy couple have received many useful presents, including handsome gifts from the staff and friends at the Leys School, Cambridge, and from friends at Messrs. Bryant and Bryant, St. Ives.

A SUCCESSFUL EFFORT. 9th Aug. 1918

What with a wedding in the morning and another in the afternoon, and the presence of many visitors for the holidays, the streets of Swavesey put on quite a pre-war appearance on Monday. And in the afternoon and evening there was another cause for liveliness. The friends of Bethel Baptist Chapel, oppressed with debt incurred in the work of renovation of the chapel a few years ago, were determined to make a strenuous effort to reduce, if they could not actually wipe out, the incubus. On Monday morning the debt stood at £175; by night-time it had been brought below £100. The satisfactory result was effected by a sale of work in the National Schools, followed by a grand concert at 6.45 p.m. The sale was opened by the Rev. J. H. Starte, a missionary on the Congo, and once in business in Swavesey. The attendance was good, and included visitors from other villages, St. Ives, etc., the buyers and speculators were generous, and the organisers went home happy people. The concert was under the management of Miss May Norman, who was fortunate enough to obtain the services of friends from London, St. Ives, etc. The proceeds of the sale and concert amount to nearly £80.

ORGANISING AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS. 16th Aug. 1918

Several meetings have been held in the Swavesey district during the past few weeks. Mr. J. H. Vincent, the organiser, and Mr. A. E. Stubbs, a member of the District Wages Board, addressed the meetings on the objects of the Agricultural Labourers' Union. Branches have been formed at Swavesey, Boxworth, Elsworth, and Over.

INFORMATION WANTED. 16th Aug. 1918

Our Swavesey representative writes: - I find in a note I took some time ago from a "Gazetteer" – whether ancient or modern has escaped my memory – that Swavesey was formerly a market town under a Charter granted to the Zouch family in the year 1243, the site of whose ancient castle is stated to be about half a mile S.W. of the church, and that a Black Alien Priory was founded in Swavesey soon after the Conquest. Can any of our readers state whether the Charter is still in existence, and, if so, where it is deposited, and also when the market was abolished, or ceased to be held, and under what circumstances? Further, did the ancient Priory adjoin the church, and was there at any time a religious establishment on or near the site now occupied by the modern house known as "The Priory", which replaced an old farmhouse, "Dodson's Farm", between 30 and 40 years ago?

WAR NOTES. 16th Aug. 1918

Pte. Thomas C. Froment, Guards Machine Gun Battalion, who was severely wounded by shrapnel in the right thigh on 6th May, was discharged from hospital at Abergavenny last week-end, and arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on a few day's leave before rejoining his unit. Though in good general health, he is still very lame. He was wounded in the same leg at Cambrai last November. Pte. Alfred Large, Yeomanry, went under an operation in a hospital in France on July 22nd. He had over-strained himself when at bombing practice. He is going on well. Pte. Cyril G. Hepher arrived in Swavesey from Ireland on a few days' leave on Wednesday. A card dated June 10th has been received from Pte. Walter G. Prior, North Staffordshire Regt., who was taken prisoner of war in March, and is in Munster No. 1 Camp in Germany, but breaking his heart with anxiety about his wife, whom he knew to be seriously ill. He was in ignorance of her death on June 6th.

COAL COMMITTEE. 16th Aug. 1918

The members of the Swavesey Rural District Council have constituted themselves the Local Fuel and Lighting Committee for the six parishes in the Swavesey district, and have appointed Mr. F. W. Hagger, of Over, the District Road Surveyor, to be the local Fuel Overseer, and Mr. F. J. Beales, of Swavesey, to be the secretary of the Committee, whose office is at Station House, Swavesey.

A LETTER FROM PALESTINE. 16th Aug. 1918

Writing from Palestine on July 2nd to our Swavesey representative, Driver Frederick G. Clarke, A.S.C., elder son of Mr. George Clarke, Swavesey, says that he is well after nearly two years of active service in France, Salonica and Palestine. He little thought when in his younger days he read about Palestine he would have the privilege of actually seeing the Holy Land, especially under war conditions. "Our boys," he writes, "have done some splendid fighting under very trying conditions. This country is very hilly, the roads are bad, and the scarcity of water in this hot climate is greatly felt by our troops. When I look back to the days when we were in the desert it seems wonderful the distance we have covered since November, 1917. I think the most trying time I have experienced out here was in the Jordan plain, which is something like 1,000 feet below sea level, and the heat there is terrible. The ground has been churned up into fine dust, and when the troops and transport are on the move it causes an awful thirst. Then is the time we appreciate water. The houses are mostly mud-built, and sadly in want of repair and cleansing. From the plain one can see several places of Biblical interest, the Mount of Temptation, the Dead Sea and the River Jordan, in which we had a welcome dip and a swim. After we crossed the Jordan we were in for some stiff fighting, as the Turks had been reinforced by some Huns from the Russian front. While we were in that part I picked up several of the boys in the corps to which our friend Jim Dean was attached, but I had not the pleasure of meeting him or any other Swavesey men." (Corpl. James Dean was wounded on March 27th last in an engagement on the eastern side of Jordan, and is now probably on his way to Australia, if he has not already reached there.)

PTE. HENRY G. KEY. 16th Aug. 1918

Mrs. Key has received news that her husband, Pte. Henry G. Key, of the Sherwood Foresters, was wounded by shrapnel in the lower part of the body and both legs on August 6th. He is now in Glasgow-road War Hospital, Perth, Scotland, and is stated to be going on well.

LOCAL WAR HONOURS. 16th Aug. 1918

TWO SWAVESEY MEN AWARDED MILITARY MEDALS.

Pte. Robinson Mitham, Suffolk Regt., second son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, has been awarded the Military medal, and his name appeared in the "London Gazette" of the 6th instant. Pte Mitham received a gunshot wound in the left foot whilst engaged as a stretcher bearer on 28th April last, and was in hospital in France and England until Monday, 5th instant, when he was sent home to await his discharge from the Army, which will take effect from the 26th instant. Pte. Mitham was serving with the Suffolk Battalion raised in this county both when he won the Military Medal and when he was wounded. It is understood that the medal was won in the following circumstances: On the 22nd March two of the other stretcher-bearers belonging to Pte. Mitham's company had become casualties and the third, who had gone to the dressing station was unable owing to heavy enemy shell-fire to return to the trench. Pte. Mitham had therefore to attend single-handed to the very numerous casualties of the whole company for several hours during which the Germans were deluging the trench with shells of all descriptions. Pte. Mitham enlisted on the 19th December, 1915, but was sent home to continue his work on the land until 10th April, 1916, when he joined the Suffolk Yeomanry. He went to France in the following September, and was transferred to the Suffolk Regiment on arrival. He served with the colours for two years and 139 days. During his service at the front he was in several tight and famous corners.

Bombardier Harry Prior, R.F.A., one of the numerous soldier sons of Mr. Charles Prior, Taylor's-lane, Swavesey, has been awarded the Military Medal for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action in October, 1917, when serving near Ypres. He joined up on 27th April, 1916, went to France the following November, was wounded in the chest in July, 1917, promoted Bombardier in August, won the Military Medal in October, proceeded to Italy in November, 1917, and returned to France in April last. On 10th May he was gassed, and was in hospital in this country until Saturday last when he arrived in Swavesey on a few days' leave before rejoining his depot.

PERSONAL. 23rd Aug. 1918

Mr. J. H. Vincent, the organiser of the Agricultural Labourers' Union, who, as stated in last week's "Press and News", has been addressing meetings in the Swavesey district, is in no way connected with our Swavesey representative, Mr. C. R. Vincent.

THE FUEL COMMITTEE. 23rd Aug. 1918

Messrs. Jabez Parish and Dennis Williams have been selected by the local coal traders to act as their representatives on the Swavesey District Fuel and Lighting Committee, and their appointment has been approved by the Committee.

WAR NOTES. 23rd Aug. 1918

Pte. Alfred Large, Yeomanry, who had recently to undergo an operation in France, has been removed to a hospital at Ipswich. He is going on well. Lance-Corpl. John Parish, one of the four sons of Mr. Z. Parish serving in the Army, who has been seriously ill for months suffering from rheumatic fever, arrived home on Friday on ten days' leave. He is much better, though still far from strong and well. Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, writes to our Swavesey representative from Glasgow-road War Hospital, Perth, that he was well peppered with shrapnel when hit in France on the 6th instant, and that he has six wounds, five of which he says were slight. He thinks he escaped luckily, as the shell through which he came to grief killed three of his comrades and wounded six more. He adds that his hospital was a workhouse, but is a very nice place. His only regret appears to be that he left nearly 1lb. of very good tobacco in his haversack in France, and that the price of tobacco in Scotland is "such a price," 10d. an ounce.

GALLANTRY IN THE FIELD. 30th Aug. 1918
PRESENTATION OF MEDALS AT CAMBRIDGE.

SWAVESEY OFFICER'S BRAVERY.

An interesting ceremony took place on Parker's Piece last Saturday afternoon, when Brigadier-General J.H. du B. Travers, C.B., C.M.G., Officer Commanding troops at Cambridge, presented a number of medals for gallantry in the field, for long service and good conduct, and for skill with the rifle.

Among those honoured was the late Capt. G. Beaumont.

Military Cross. – The late Capt. G. Beaumont, of the East Surrey Regt., whose medal was received by his mother, Mrs. C. A. Beaumont, of Swavesey. On the night of the 26th-27th November, 1917, at Bourlon Wood, the position occupied by Capt. Beaumont's Company was subjected to a heavy bombardment and machine gun fire. In the absence of his company commander he very ably took command of the company, and by his coolness and splendid example succeeded in getting his men back to the position, which at the time seemed likely to be abandoned. Later he showed the same dauntless spirit and utter disregard of danger in returning to the assistance of one of his men who had been wounded whilst the company was leaving Bourlon Wood. He succeeded in bandaging the man and getting him through the barrage safely.

After the presentations, the Brigadier-General addressed the troops. He talked of the necessity of medals for those for gallant behaviour and for long-service. He said during his address that it was a sad thing to see that in that presentation of some half-a-dozen medals two were awarded to those who had left this world. It was sometimes hard to understand why these men should be cut off in their prime, but Mrs. Beaumont (and Mrs. Billing) would know that they carried away the deepest sympathy of all ranks. Capt. Beaumont's gallant deed would be some consolation to his mother in her great and bitter loss.

(Very long report in newspaper).

DEATH OF MR. HERBERT WILLIAMS. 30th Aug. 1918

At the great age of well-nigh 83 years, Mr. Herbert Williams passed away at 10.30 a.m. on Wednesday. He had been in feeble health for some years. Mr. Williams was the son of the late Mr. James Williams, farmer and butcher, Swavesey, and himself followed the same calling in Swavesey. For many years he stood in Cambridge Market. He leaves a widow.

BETTER LUCK NEXT TIME. 30th Aug. 1918

Frank H. R. Aldred, only son of Mr. H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey, a pupil at Over Council School under Mr. E. Webb, was placed in the second class in the recent examination for Country Minor Scholarships, but was not sufficiently high on the list to be awarded a scholarship. He will, however, receive a certificate recording his success in the examination. As Frank Aldred is only 10 years of age, he will be able to try again, and then we hope will gain a scholarship.

DISCHARGED. 30th Aug. 1918

Gunner E. H. Peters, R.G.A., arrived in Swavesey on Saturday, having been discharged from the Army, being no longer physically fit for war service. Gunner Peters, who is a native of Gamlingay, enlisted on the 11th December, 1915, and joined the R.G.A. on 12th October, 1916. He went to France on the 12th May, 1917, and was wounded in the head on 21st March last. His discharge is, however, due to ill-health caused by exposure when in France. He has been in hospital since March until his discharge, and though better is still far from well. Mr. Peters, a bricklayer by trade, has sent, or brought, home some astonishing specimens of his work in embroidery – an art he learned in hospital, and in which he quickly became proficient. His well-considered blending of colours is remarkable.

HOW CANADA HONOURS SOLDIERS. 30th Aug. 1918

The Nelson, British Columbia, "Daily News" of July 17th contains the following: - "Boswell, B.C., July 16th. Immediately following the morning service, the Rev. J. S. Mahood placed in position upon the school wall a framed collection of photographs of the 19 Boswell men who are serving during the present war. In the centre is a splendid photograph of the late Major P. Rigby, D.S.O., surrounded by" (here follow the names of the 18 other men, including those of Second Lieut. W. Lawson Hephher, R.F.A., and the late Pte. Henry Beaumont, Canadian Infantry, both Swavesey men). "The collection has been gathered together by the members of the Women's Auxiliary, and is believed to be the first collection of its kind to be completed in the district." If such a tribute to her valiant fighting men can be accomplished at Boswell, a small settlement on the shores of Kootenay Lake, overshadowed by the towering Rocky Mountains, about six thousand miles from home, surely something of the kind might be attempted in Swavesey. If it is not practicable to form a collection of portraits of all Swavesey men serving, as has been done, we believe, at Elsworth, there ought to be no difficulty in gathering together the portraits of those gallant men who men who have made the supreme sacrifice. They number 17 at the present time. Pte. H. Beaumont was posted "missing" on 24th-16th April, 1915, and has since been recorded as believed to have been killed in action. Second Lieut. Hephher, after serving in the Canadian Infantry and Canadian Engineers in France, and training with an Officers' Cadet Battalion, was given a commission in the Royal Field Artillery last January. He returned to the Western front on 20th March. In the erection of the school at Boswell – a structure of rough logs, which also acts as the church – Messrs. Beaumont and Hephher were engaged, and the latter was chairman of the Board of Managers and also played the harmonium at the services.

Corpl. (Saddler) John J. R. Stockbridge, A.S.C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stockbridge, Wallman's-lane, paid a short visit to his native village last week-end whilst on three weeks' leave from Egypt. He was in the best of health and spirits. Corpl. Stockbridge joined up at Boston, Lincolnshire, on 1st June, 1915, and went to Egypt on the 19th December following. For 14 months he served on the Sinai Peninsular, and was present at the battle of Romani on 4th August, 1916. In April, 1917, he was promoted corporal. The parcel sent to him last Christmas by "friends in Swavesey" did not reach him until the 15th July. He says he much appreciated the contents, and is grateful to his friends who so kindly thought of him. Sapper Arthur C. Garner, R.E., writing from somewhere in the Salonica region, where he has been for a year, says he had recently been employed in his trade – a saddler – for the first time since he joined up in November, 1916. He had been employed on various jobs in the meantime including a spell in the blacksmith's shop. He has just received a letter from another Swavesey man, Pte. Chas. Taylor, Suffolk Regt., who had been out Salonica way since November, 1916, but whom he had not come across. They hope to meet some day soon. Mr. William Howlett received a card from the Comité International de la Croix-Rouge, Geneve, on Wednesday, informing him that the name of his son, Pte. H. C. Howlett, Suffolk Regt., had not yet appeared on the lists of prisoners received from Germany. Pte. Howlett was wounded in the leg on 9th April, and has been missing since that date. His brother, Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regt., who was severely wounded in both arms on 20th May is still in hospital in London, but is progressing favourably.

ACCIDENT. 6th Sept. 1918

Whilst at play with other children in Lairstall Drove on Tuesday, Clara Dodson, the six-year-old daughter of the late Pte. Jonas Dodson, Suffolk Regt., fell from a gate and broke her left arm above the elbow. She was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital by her mother and Miss Agnes Stockbridge.

JOINED UP. 6th Sept. 1918

William Thomas Welch, younger son of Mr. Arthur E. Welch, Boxworth End, joined the Royal Air Force as a third-class air mechanic on the 26th ultimo, and is now stationed at Blandford, Dorset. He enlisted in Nottingham, and he is anxious to express his appreciation of the kindness shown to him and his comrades by the Y.M.C.A. in that city. Everything that could be done for their comfort night and day was done.

DISCHARGED. 6th Sept. 1918

Pte. David Sutton, the Queen's (Royal West Surrey) Regt., was discharged from the Army on 2nd August, being no longer physically fit for war service. He joined up on 28th October, 1915, and first went to France on 5th May, 1916. On 9th August of that year he was wounded in the chest at La Bizet, and returned to this country for hospital treatment. He returned to France on 11th December, 1916, and was attached to another battalion of the Queen's. On the 5th April of last year he was again wounded near Lens in the thigh. From the 28th April until 23rd November he was a patient at King George's Hospital, London, and every effort was made to save his leg, but on 23rd August the limb had to be amputated. He had to wait some months for his artificial leg, and when that was provided he was given his discharge a month ago.

THE LATE MR. HERBERT WILLIAMS. 6th Sept. 1918

The funeral of the late Mr. Herbert Williams, whose death at the age of 82 years was announced last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. The Rev. E. G. Peterson officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Williams (widow) and Mr. J. Williams, Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Day, Miss Emma Day, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Norman, Mrs. Ezra Day, Walthamstow (nephews and nieces), Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mrs. W. Day (sisters-in-law), and Messrs. W. H. Key and Jethro Linford, representing the Wheatsheaf Lodge of Shepherds. Mr. Williams was a member of the Wheatsheaf Lodge for over half a century, joining when the Lodge meetings were held at the Wheatsheaf Inn, Boxworth End. Not long after he joined, the headquarters of the Lodge were removed to the Cricketers inn, in High-street. Both the Wheatsheaf and the Cricketers have been private houses for many years.

WAR NOTES. 6th Sept. 1918

Sergt. C. W. Gray of a Garrison Battalion of the Essex Regt., writing to our Swavesey representative from Palestine on 8th August, says: "I still get your weekly paper (the 'Press and News') which my wife sends me regularly, but, of course, they do not reach me every week. Sometimes three or four or five come at once, and then I have a good feel of the whole district. . . . I have travelled a fair distance since I left England three years ago, and, thank goodness, I have enjoyed very good health, and am none the worse for the climate we have been in, and I can tell you honestly I shall not be sorry when all is over and we can get back home, but we must wait patiently. We have a better chance than many of the poor boys. I see by the newspaper that Swavesey has had a fair share of casualties, and also Cambridgeshire. I wrote to the vicar some time ago from Jerusalem, but have not heard from him. I see in the paper that he has gone to France again. Good luck to him is the best wish I can give. Remember me kindly to all Swavesey friends.” – Pte. Cyril G. Hepher (Yeomanry) has gone to France.

PARISH CHURCH. 13th Sept. 1918

In consequence of the days drawing in and the lighting restrictions, the evening service at the parish church on Sunday will be at 6 instead of 6.30.

WAR NOTES. 13th Sept. 1918

Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regt., son of Mr. W. Howlett, who was severely wounded in both arms on 20th May, spent last week-end at his home in Swavesey. He returned to hospital in London on Tuesday. His condition is improving slowly, and, it is hoped, surely. – Mrs. Beaumont has received a card, dated 29th July, from her youngest son, Pte Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., prisoner of war at Giessen, Germany, informing her that five letters from relatives and friends at home had reached him. He had also received a parcel through the Red Cross from one of his brothers. This news may be of interest to the relatives of other prisoners of war whose letters have complained of non-receipt of letters and parcels. – Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., who was wounded by a shell in the left arm and chest on 15th June, and had since been in hospital in Italy, was removed to the 2nd Western General Hospital, Manchester, on 5th instant. Although recovering from his wounds, his general health is far from satisfactory. – Pte. Cyril G. Hepher was transferred from the Yeomanry to a battalion of the East Yorkshire Regt. on his arrival in France at the end of last month.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 20th Sept. 1918

Sergt. C. Wood, Royal Fusiliers, arrived at home on short leave from France during the small hours of last Friday morning. He had passed through a strenuous time, having been in the thick of the fighting in the great advance since August 8th, and had reached the neighbourhood of Havrincourt when he left his battalion on Tuesday, September 10th, to tramp thirty-five miles to the nearest railway. He reached Cambridge Station by the mail train on Thursday night, and walked with full pack to Swavesey, a distance of about eleven miles. Sergt. Wood is in excellent health, though somewhat war-weary after four years' service in the Army, two years and eleven months of which have been in France.

After long and vexatious delay Swavesey prisoners of war appear to be receiving letters from home. Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, the Buffs, taken prisoner on March 21st, writes on August 4th to his parent at Boxworth end that his first letters from home reached him on 29th July, and that he was receiving regimental parcels regularly. He says: "I have a good mate from Suffolk, whose home is not far from Cambridge, so it is all right and the work is not bad." In a letter dated 6th September from "Somewhere in France," Pte. George E. Hepher, Labour Company, says: "Strange to say, I ran against a lad yesterday who was in the hospital at Swavesey, so, as you can guess, I heard a little home news. He says how much he would like to be at Swavesey now, as he had a good time there." Pte. Hepher is quite well. Sec.-Lieut. Edward Williams, Northants. Regiment, returned to France on Tuesday.

THE SCHOOLS. 27th Sept. 1918

The National School was reopened on Monday after the harvest holidays.

COLLAPSE OF A BARN. 27th Sept. 1918

During a storm last week a large barn at the New Inn facing the Huntingdon-road was blown down. The landlady, Mrs. Oakman, had a narrow escape, as she was leaving the building when it collapsed. Stables adjoining were damaged.

GONE FROM SWAVESEY. 27th Sept. 1918

Mr. R. E. Bartley, having sold Burnham Cottage at Boxworth End, where he had lived during part of each year for the last 15 years, left Swavesey on Tuesday. Although he had taken no active share in the public life of the village, both he and Mrs. Bartley and their family have always been ready with their assistance, financial and personal, in social and charitable projects. They will be missed, and so will their donkey and its equipage, which had become a village institution.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 27th Sept. 1918

A thanksgiving service for the harvest was held at the parish church on Thursday evening in last week, and considering the early hour, 6 p.m., at which it began, was well attended. The church was nicely decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables, but owing to the failure of the fruit crop and the great call for vegetables at the present time, the contributions of these commodities, which are always sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, were not as plentiful as in other years. The Rev. C. H. Crossley, Rector of Willingham, preached. The collection was in aid of Addenbrooke's.

SUGAR FOR BLACKBERRY JAM. 27th Sept. 1918

The quantity of sugar allotted to the Swavesey Rural District Food Committee for making blackberry jam was 352 lbs. There were 560 applications from householders for the sugar, practically every householder in the district applying, so that it was impossible to distribute the sugar to all applicants except in ridiculously small quantities, and it was therefore decided to allot the 352 lbs. to those families who had not previously had any sugar for jam-making. The distribution, regulated by number in family, is being made this week to 145 applicants. 145 is the number of applicants who stated in their applications that they had not previously received any sugar for jam.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 27th Sept. 1918

Lance-Corpl. Jethro Linford, Military Foot Police, elder surviving son of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, the Bell Inn, is in Swavesey on 14 days' leave from France. He is in excellent health. Before joining up on 22nd November, 1915, he was in the Cambridgeshire Constabulary, and was stationed at Eltisley. On Friday last Gunner Thomas Walter Savage, R.G.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Savage, Trinity College Farm, arrived at home on short leave from the Western front, in the best of health and spirits. He joined up on 2nd May, 1917, and went to France on the 8th September following. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, temporary chaplain to the Forces, who reached England on a few days' leave from France on Tuesday, was in Swavesey for a few hours on Wednesday. His is fit and well. Mr. Sharp served as a chaplain in France from January, 1916, to January, 1917, and went back last May.

WAR NOTES. 27th Sept. 1918

Writing from France on Sept. 9th, Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, says: "Who do you think I saw the other day? Mr. Sharp (the Vicar of Swavesey, now a temporary chaplain to the Forces). He was burying a dead man just behind the lines who had just been killed. He said I was the first Swavesey man he had seen since he came out, and he was very pleased to meet me. I was, he added, a marvel. He said he would see me again, but I saw no more of him. He told me he was coming home on leave this month.” Pte. Whybrow, a hero of Mons, was very severely wounded in the abdomen at La Bassee in 1914. He slowly recovered, and in February, 1916, rejoined his old battalion, with which he had served before passing into the Reserve, and on his return to the colours on mobilisation. He was gassed on 21st March last, but states that he is well. Frank Williams, Royal Fusiliers, who was wounded in the right ankle on 22nd December, 1917, and whose foot had to be amputated, went to Charterhouse Military Hospital, London, on Monday, to be fitted with a mechanical foot. – Mr. R. Mitham, jun., M.M., has received the Military Medal which was awarded him for devotion to duty as a stretcher-bearer when serving with the County Battalion of the Suffolk Regt. on 22nd March last. He was wounded a month later, and has recently been discharged from the Army as no longer physically fit for war service.

LANCE-CORPL. A. C. DODSON. 27th Sept. 1918

Official information, and also a letter from his Commanding Officer, have reached Mr. John Dodson, St. Ives, and late of Swavesey, intimating that his elder son, Lance-Corpl. Alfred Charles Dodson, Essex Regiment, has been missing since the 15th August. It is stated that he was wounded in the region of the stomach. Lance-Corpl. Dodson’s unit had to retire for a time, but a day or two later was again on the spot where he was left, but no trace of him could be found. Lance-Corpl. Dodson is an old soldier of the Bedfordshire Regiment, with eighteen years’ service with the colours, and was with his battalion in South Africa when the war broke out. He was sent to France at once. On 16th May, 1916, he was severely wounded in the leg, and was for a long time under treatment in this country. On recovering he was in June, 1917, transferred to the Essex Regiment, and returned to France on 1st June last. His younger brother, Sidney, who joined the Hunts. Cyclist Battalion early in the war, and saw service in France with the Warwickshires, has been discharged from the Army owing to a severe wound in the left arm, which is at present useless.

PTE. C. G. HEPHER.

Writing to his mother on Monday from No. 8 Stationary Hospital, France, Pte. Cyril G. Hepher, East Yorkshire Regt., says: “I got wounded on Friday morning. We made a big attack on that day, and I got hit in the thigh – not a very comfortable place. It was pouring with rain, so it was not very nice at all.” Pte. Hepher went to France for the first time on 29th August, was posted to his present battalion two days later, and went up the line and into action at once. He had been serving with a Yeomanry unit in Ireland. He is the second of the three children, all boys, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hephher, Market-street, Swavesey. The eldest, Pte. James William Hephher, Suffolk Regt., was posted "missing" on 28th April, 1917, and has since been recorded as believed to have been killed on that day. The youngest, Pte. Alfred Charles ("Fred") Hephher, Middlesex Regt., after eight days service in France was taken prisoner at Fleurbaix on 9th April last, and is at Dulmen, Germany.

CORPL. F. KESTER.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kester, Boxworth End, have been informed that their son, Corpl. Frederick Kester, Welsh Regiment, was wounded in the right leg in France on the 15th instant. A butcher by trade, he joined the Army Service Corps on 26th September, 1914, went to France in February, 1915, was promoted corporal in March, 1917, and was transferred to the Welsh Regiment in August, 1917, carrying his stripes. He was home on short leave at the beginning of January last.

RIFLEMAN A. G. PARISH.

Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, The Homestead, Swavesey, have had news that their only son, Rifleman Albert George Parish, K.R.R.C., was wounded by a bullet in the left thigh on 13th September, and is in Berrington War Hospital, Shrewsbury. He was gassed when in the Cambrai district on 13th March last, and only returned to France on recovery on the 31st August.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 4th Oct. 1918

Lance-Corpl. Harry H. Wells, Canadian Forestry Corps, arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on short leave from France. He is in the best of health.

THANKSGIVING FOR VICTORY. 4th Oct. 1918

The Te Deum was sung at the end of the evening service at the parish church on Sunday as an act of thanksgiving for the recent victories of the Allied Armies, and especially for the release of Palestine from the domination of the Turks.

COAL RATIONING. 4th Oct. 1918

Householders who have not yet returned the requisition for fuel form (F.H.F. 3) to the Local Fuel Committee's office at Swavesey Railway Station, should do so at once, otherwise they may find themselves without supplies of coal. Any householder who has not received the form should immediately apply for one to the coal merchant or the Fuel Overseer, Swavesey.

PUTTING BACK THE CLOCK. 4th Oct. 1918

The change from summer to normal time was not effected without one or two amusing incidents in Swavesey. Here are two of them: One family solemnly stopped their clock at 7 p.m. on Sunday, and at 8 p.m. set it going again, but at the same time moved the hands forward an hour. Next morning one of the family who had to travel by the 8.23 a.m. train reached the railway station shortly after 7 o'clock. The head of another family vigorously roused his household two hours too soon on Monday morning, and reproached them for being sluggards. He had put his clock forward one hour before going to bed, and on Monday morning was two hours in advance of time.

WAR NOTES. 4th Oct. 1918

Pte. Joseph B. Parish, the Buffs, has been promoted lance-corporal. He was at home last week on draft leave. Driver Henry Carter, R.F.A., is sick, and in the 3rd Canadian General Hospital, France. An old soldier, he was recalled to the colours on 4th August, 1914, was sent to France at once, and went through the retreat from Mons and the subsequent terrific fighting. With the exception of two short periods of leave, he has been in France ever since, and, though he has had several narrow escapes, he has so far come out scot free from wounds, and until now had not spent a day in hospital. He was "mentioned" in Lord French's despatch of 1st January, 1916. The report in a recent issue of the "Press and News" that Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., was in hospital in Manchester, was seen by a Swavesey man living in that city, who at once went to visit the invalid. Gunner Prior, who is still far from well, is at Alma Park Hospital. — Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, the Buffs, a prisoner of war at Giessen, Germany, writing on August 13th, says that he had just received the "personal" parcel sent to him by his family in June, and that everything shown in the list of contents had reached him safely. He reports himself "in the best of health and in the pink of condition."

PTE. F. PRIOR. 4th Oct. 1918

News has reached Swavesey that Pte. Frank Prior, Suffolk Regiment, youngest son of Mr. Charles Prior, Taylor's-lane, was wounded by shrapnel in the right shoulder on the 21st ult. when serving in France. He is at the Middlesex Hospital, Clacton-on-Sea. Pte. Prior joined up on 25th October, 1916, went to Egypt in February, 1917, and was wounded in the shoulder in Palestine. Last May he was sent to the Western front.

GUNNER J. R. SMITH. 11th Oct. 1918

News has reached Swavesey that Gunner John R. Smith, Canadian Horse Artillery, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Boxworth End, has been wounded in the right hand, his little finger being smashed. He is now in the War Hospital, Chester.

PIONEER W. COULSON.

Mrs. W. Coulson, the Limes, Swavesey, was informed by telegram from the Record Office on Tuesday evening that her husband, Pioneer Walter Coulson, R.E. (Road Construction Company), youngest son of the late Mr. Thomas Coulson, Swavesey, had died of gunshot wounds in a clearing station in France on the 2nd inst. Prior to enlisting in the Suffolk Regiment on 1st June, 1916, Pioneer Coulson was employed as a roadman by the Cambridgeshire County Council. He went to France on 18th October, 1916, being transferred to the Lincolnshire Regiment on arrival, and he saw service in the trenches with his battalion. On the 1st March, 1917, he was transferred to a Road Construction Company of the Royal Engineers, and took his share in the laying and repairing of roads immediately behind the lines. He leaves a widow and two young children, a boy and a girl, for whom much sympathy is felt. Pioneer Coulson was 31 years of age.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 11th Oct. 1918

Quartermaster-Sergt. Fred Stockbridge, R.F.A., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stockbridge, Swavesey, paid a short visit this week to his parents and his native village while on 14 days' leave from France. He was in the best of health and spirits. Q.M.S. Stockbridge, then a staff-sergeant in the Lincolnshire Territorial Artillery, was called up on mobilisation in August, 1914. He went to France with the North Midland R.F.A. Brigade on 28th February, 1915, and has been serving on the Western front ever since. His Division had the honour of being awarded the green lanyard of the French Army, last June.

WAR NOTES. 11th Oct. 1918

Corpl. Fred Kester, Welsh Regt., who was wounded on 15th September, is now in the Metropolitan Hospital, Kingsland-road, London, and reported to be doing well. Pte. Harry Prime, Manchester Regt., is now in France. Pte. William H. Metcalfe, Royal Fusiliers, has returned to his regiment at the front on recovery from his wound received in July last. Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, who was wounded by shrapnel on 6th August, and has been in hospitals at Perth and Dunblane, arrived in Swavesey by the last train on Monday. Pte. Key had been previously wounded in the leg and foot in March. The division to which his battalion was attached was awarded the green lanyard of the French Army in June last.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 11th Oct. 1918

A thanksgiving service for the harvest was held at Bethel Baptist Church on Thursday evening in last week, and was attended by a good congregation, which included soldier patients from Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital, who were largely responsible for the tasteful decorations of flowers, fruit, etc. The Rev. M. E. Aubrey, of St. Andrew's-street Church, Cambridge, preached. The collection, which was in aid of the Chapel Renovation Fund, amounted to £4 4s. The gifts of fruit unfortunately were not very abundant, and vegetables were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

FIRST TIME OVER THE TOP AND WOUNDED. 11th Oct. 1918

Pte. Cyril G. Hephher, East Yorkshire Regt., landed in France for the first time on 29th August, and two days later went "up the line." On 20th September he was seriously wounded. Writing to a friend in Swavesey on the 2nd instant from a hospital in France, he states he has been under two operations, but is getting on now. "My wound," he continues, "is high up my leg – a shrapnel wound right through. That is better than if it had stopped in the middle. The piece just got through, so I pulled it out myself. I shall never forget it. It was my first time over the top. I went over with a good heart; I thought it was no use to go over otherwise. My poor old mate got put out as soon as we got on top. We went over at 4 o'clock on Friday morning. There was a very big barrage on, so we did not half give old Gerry socks. He went back like anything. We had nothing to do, only advance. I stuck it for six hours before I got hit, and then I think we got too far forward and got into our own barrage, because I think it was one of our shells that hit me, for it struck me in the back of my leg first. I shall get back to Blighty, but not just yet, because the bone is fractured, so I have to wait until that gets set. It had been pouring with rain all night, and we were wet through. I lay in the trenches three hours all in the wet and slud. You may bet I was glad when I got moved to the dressing station. Four German prisoners carried me away. The sentry was with them. Nobody could wish for anybody any more careful than they were. They were as pleased as horses that they were taken. They said they are fed up."

SWAVESEY MILK PRICES. 18th Oct. 1918

RURAL FOOD COMMITTEE MEETING.

A further meeting of the Swavesey Rural Food Committee took place on Friday last. A letter had been received from the Divisional Food Commissioner, Cambridge, drawing attention to the unauthorised retail prices fixed by some rural districts, and pointing out that 9d. per quart was in excess of the price allowed to be charged in rural districts. The retail price in the Swavesey district from November 1st to April 30th was unanimously set at 2s. 8d. per gallon.

It was specially pointed out that this rate of 8d. per quart includes delivery, and in view of the statement that a certain retailer was likely to give up his milk round at Swavesey and send his milk to Cambridge, it was decided to let the matter of delivery rest for a time in the expectation that someone would come forward and take up the round, failing which the Committee would take further action.

The Executive Officer drew attention to the fact that the present Committee would shortly be dissolved, the term of office for which they were appointed having expired; and after a short discussion, during which no re-appointments were suggested, the matter was left in the hands of the Local Authority for them to deal with.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 18th Oct. 1918

Pte. Christopher Day, R.A.M.C., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday afternoon on 14 days' leave from France. He is in excellent health.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION. 18th Oct. 1918

Sermons on behalf of the National Society for Promoting the Education of the Poor were preached at the Parish Church on Sunday morning, by the Rev. Hubert Shears, of Henley-on Thames. The collections in aid of the Society realised £4 6s.

EARLIER CLOSING. 18th Oct. 1918

During the winter months the grocers' and drapers' shops in Swavesey are closing at the following hours: Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 6 p.m., Thursdays, 1 p.m., Fridays and Saturdays, 7 p.m. One establishment is closing at 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

A PRESENTATION. 18th Oct. 1918

A tea service and tray subscribed for by the children attending all departments of Swavesey National School were presented on Wednesday morning to Miss Ethel Robinson, one of the teachers, on the occasion of her approaching marriage. The presentation was made by Mr. G. Hicks, the acting headmaster, on behalf of the children.

THE LATE PIONEER COULSON. 18th Oct. 1918

At the evening service on Sunday at Bethel Baptist Chapel, sympathetic reference was made to the late Pioneer Walter Coulson, R.E., by the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher in his sermon, and the favourite hymns of the deceased were sung. Pioneer Coulson, whose death from wounds was announced last week, had been for some years a member of Bethel Sunday School, and was identified in other ways with the Chapel. A comrade has written to say that Pioneer Coulson was wounded on October 1st when at work with his party, and was immediately taken to hospital, where he died on October 2nd.

WAR NOTES. 18th Oct. 1918

Writing to our Swavesey representative on the 7th instant from somewhere in France, Pioneer Dick Wilderspin, R.E., says: "I had the pleasure of meeting one of our Swavesey lads this morning. I was just coming out of the P.O. when a six-foot fellow walked up to me and asked if I was D.W., and who should it be but Albert Girling (Sergt.-Major A.A. Girling, R.A.F.), looking well and fit. Unfortunately the cafes were all closed, so we went and had a basin of tea, a piece of cake, and a Woodbine, and a good long talk. He said I had passed him twice before, but he could not make me hear." This can well be understood if Pioneer Wilderspin rides his motor cycle in France as he rode in France as he rode in England, where in point of fearlessness and speed he emulated Jehu, the son of Nimshi. The gallant pioneer wishes to be remembered to "all the boys." He is fit and well, but will be pleased to get home. – Pte. Fred Carrier, Labour Company (late Suffolks), has been in Swavesey, his native village, while on short leave from France, looking in the pink of condition. He was wearing one red and four blue chevrons, and the ribbon of the 1914 star, in addition to that of the Queen's South African medal. – Pte. Joseph Ding, the Queen's, went to France on the 4th inst., and Lance-Corpl. J. B. Parish, The Buffs, on the 9th inst.

THE PARISH COUNCIL. 18th Oct. 1918

A correspondent writes: Have the Parish Councillors of Swavesey abdicated? According to their own Standing Orders, framed under the Local Government Act, 1894, they should have held their annual meeting on 15th April, but for some unexplained reason they held it on March 25th, the day fixed by the Act for the Annual Parish Meeting, which, by the way, has not taken place this year. April 15th should be the commencement of a Parish Council's year. The Swavesey Standing Orders require statutory quarterly meetings on certain duly specified dates, and the second meeting should have taken place on the third Monday in July. The Councillors have, however, not met since March 25th, and their third statutory meeting is due on Monday next. Will it be held? By Section 46 of the Act a Councillor who is absent from meetings of the Council for more than six months should vacate his office. By parity of reasoning it would appear that a Council that does not meet for six months should automatically cease to exist. Some critics of the present system of local government have been of opinion that Parish Councils fulfil no useful purpose, and it must be admitted that the Swavesey Councillors are doing their best to give point to the arguments of these critics. A Parish Council ought to be of great service as the representative body in immediate touch with the parishioners and possessing first-hand knowledge of their requirements. In addition to carrying out the duties specially assigned to them, the Councillors should act as local watch dogs, and when other authorities – District and County Councils for instance – are remiss in matters affecting the interest of their parish, by representation or other action should take up the role of champions. Possibly the Swavesey Councillors may think that being busy men their time and energies are better employed in these days of stress in looking after their own farms and businesses than in attending Council meetings; but they should not forget that they were elected by the ratepayers, and accepted office, in order to carry out certain public duties and in times like the present it is more than ever important that no public duties should be neglected. The Councillors may also think that their clerk can do all that is necessary, but if that is the explanation of their apparent apathy, they would appear to be unmindful of the fact that the clerk by reason of the numerous public offices he holds is already overburdened with work and responsibility. It may be opportune to remind the Councillors that the new Food Control Committee, about to be appointed must include two or three representatives of Labour, and that, if working men and working women can usefully serve on Food Control Committees, they are equally capable of the less onerous task of a member of the Parish Council.

SWAVESEY LIEUTENANT'S M.C. 25th Oct. 1918

Sec. Lieutenant W. Lawson Hephher, R.F.A., who arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday afternoon on short leave from France, has been awarded the Military Cross for services rendered during the recent advance. At one period his battery was in steady action for fourteen days. Sec.-Lieut. Hephher is the youngest son of the late Mr. Jesse Hephher, Swavesey. On the outbreak of war he was in British Columbia, and with his companion, also a native of Swavesey, the late Pte. Henry Beaumont, endeavoured to enlist in the Canadian Infantry. Pte. Beaumont was accepted, but Sec.-Lieut. Hephher was rejected on medical grounds. Determined to do his bit, he came to England at once, underwent an operation, and succeeded in joining the Canadian Infantry in February, 1915. Towards the end of April he went to France and was soon transferred to the Canadian Engineers, with whom he saw considerable service. In August, 1917, he returned to England to train for a commission, joined an Officers' Cadet Battalion, and on 31st January last was posted Sec.-Lieut. in the Royal Field Artillery. He returned to France on 20th March. An elder brother, Sergeant Wilfred Hepher, R.E., won the D.C.M. in June 1916. He was killed in action on the following 15th September.

A LOST CHEQUE AND THE SEQUEL. 25th Oct. 1918

Whilst recently walking across Market-hill, Cambridge, with his uncle, Pte. H. G. Key, Sherwood Foresters, Alfred Hawkes, a Swavesey schoolboy, picked up a cheque for £10, payable to "Self." The cheque was immediately taken to Lloyd's Bank, Sidney-street, for return to the unknown owner. A few days later a letter was received in Swavesey from a captain in the Royal Fusiliers, stationed in a south-eastern county, expressing his gratitude, and enclosing a postal order for ten shillings as a mark of his appreciation of the finder's promptitude and honesty. Alfred Hawkes is delighted with the gift, and is looking for more dropped cheques.

BUTTER AND MARGARINE. 25th Oct. 1918

In a letter, dated 23rd inst., to our Swavesey representative, Mr. G. A. Harrison, Clerk to the Swavesey Rural Food Control Committee, says:- "I have this morning received official notification from the Ministry of Food that individual consumers who have registered their butter-margarine leaf with a farmer or producer of British-made butter may obtain such butter at the rate of 5 ounces per coupon until further notice. I have also received notice in the case of grocers that in order to meet the difficulty of the small retail sales of butter, retailers may supply any customer his ration in the form of 5 ounces of margarine in the first week, and 3 ounces of margarine and 2 ounces of butter in the second week, or vice versa so far as the supplies of margarine permit."

Diver Frederick G. Clarke, A.S.C. (attached to an hospital unit), writing from Palestine on 23rd September, says: "We are having a busy time, and all is going well with us. There is plenty of sport chasing the Turks, also plenty of work. I think they will soon be tired of fighting." Driver Clarke added that he had just received a copy of the "Press and News," and was most pleased to get it. Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., a prisoner of war at Giessen, Germany, in a very cheerful letter dated 1st September, reports himself "in fine health, and going on fine, too." Letters from home appear to be reaching him very irregularly. Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, The Buffs, also at Giessen, has written home too. He said he was in the best of health. Lance-Corpl. Arthur Prior, Cambs. Regiment, has been promoted corporal.

THE SCHOOL AND WAR. 25th Oct. 1918

One hundred and thirty-seven old boys of Swavesey National School are known to be serving, or to have served, in the Navy, Army, or Royal Air Force during the present war. Of these, 18 have been killed in action, or have died of wounds or illness due to the rigours of active service, two have been posted "wounded and missing," and four are prisoners of war. The list of wounded is a long one. The school has also won its share of honours. Two old boys have gained the Military cross, one the D.C.M., and three the Military Medal, while one has been mentioned in the Commander-in-Chief's despatches. Five have been given commissions. In addition to the 137 old boys, the Headmaster, Sergt. C. Wood has been serving for four years.

TWO LETTERS. 25th Oct. 1918

The following extracts from letters written by two of the "Byng Boys," both men of Swavesey, who left wives and little children to fight in the great struggle for freedom, and who have taken their share in the recent victorious advance which has resulted in the release from German thralldom of many French towns and villages, will be read with interest by those who know the writers and by our readers generally. Pte. Alfred Prime, a stretcher-bearer in the Queen's who has been three times wounded, writing on the 11th October, says: "I am quite well. We have been over again twice since I wrote last, and have liberated French civilians who have been under the Germans since the war began. It was a sight to see. They kissed us and gave us coffee and everything they could. They were half mad with joy, poor beggars. It was a grand day for them, but I expect you will have seen all about it in the papers. Really, I think it will soon be over, and if so, I shall thank God that I was able to live and be in at the finish, and I know you will be too. I am very tired, having been walking since 1 a.m. yesterday until 5 p.m. today without food or rest, but I have just had a good feed and drink, and want to go to sleep. I have just taken off my boots, the first time for fifteen days. I am writing this on a table, and am sitting on a chair. The people have gone from here, but not from the other villages where we have been. It is a lot better to get where people live, as it cheers us up as well as the people."

The second letter, dated October 13th, is from Sergt. Charles Wood, Royal Fusiliers, who before he joined up on the 14th October, 1914, was Headmaster of Swavesey National School. He has been in France since the 14th October of the following year. He says: "Thanks for your letter of the 7th, which I received safely this afternoon. I had just finished a ten miles' march when the mail arrived, and so got your letter at once. We are out of action for the present, and are busy following Fritz up from the positions from which we have driven him to where he is trying to make a stand. I expect from the papers you have seen that we have been in action and what we have been doing. I have got a splendid billet to-night in one of the evacuated villages, and have a roof over my head once again. As a curious coincidence, I am billeted in the village schoolhouse, and am writing this letter to you on the table in the family front room."

RIPE RASPBERRIES. 1st Nov. 1918

Signalman W. Kester last week gathered a quantity of fine raspberries of excellent flavour from canes in his allotment at Swavesey Railway Station.

NATIONAL SCHOOL CLOSED. 1st Nov. 1918

In accordance with instructions from the County Education Authority, Swavesey National School has been closed since Monday. On Friday last 70 children were absent, either suffering from the prevailing illness, or having been in contact with children who were down with it. It is understood that Mr. Robinson Mitham is acting as "correspondent," or secretary, of the school during the absence of the vicar on active service.

NEWS OF LOCAL SOLDIERS. 1st Nov. 1918

Writing from Munster 11. Camp, Westfalen, Germany, on Sunday, 25th August, Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., youngest son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, who has been a prisoner of war since 25th March last, says:- "Some of the boys have just gone out for a short walk; the sentry has taken them. I should have gone with them, but have not had time to clean myself up for it. I only finished a twelve hours' shift down in the (coal) pit at six o'clock this morning, so I decided to stay in and write this letter. I am quite well, and still working very hard." – Pte. Cyril G. Hephher, East Yorkshire Regiment, who is lying seriously wounded in a hospital in France, states: "I am getting on grand. Sister says that my wound is healing up finely. I get hardly any pain from it now, and I don't think it could be going on any better, so there is no need to worry about me. I hope to be in Blighty soon." – Pte. A. C. Hephher ("Fred"), Middlesex Regiment, younger brother of Pte. C. G. Hephher, a prisoner of war at Hameln, in a letter dated 30th August, says: "I am working in a stone quarry, and am getting on all right. I have got some good mates, including five 1914 English ‘old contemptible,’”

PTE. J. DING. 1st Nov. 1918

Pte. Joseph Ding, London Regt., who went to France on 4th October, has been wounded by a bullet on the right arm, and is in hospital in France.

SCHOOL CLOSED. 8th Nov. 1918

The village school has been closed on account of influenza.

TO HELP IN FRANCE. 8th Nov. 1918

The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Pastor of the Bethel Baptist Chapel, will be absent from Swavesey for a few months, having undertaken service with the Y.M.C.A. huts in France. He said farewell to his congregation on Sunday, and is leaving the village tomorrow (Saturday).

PETER DING OPTIMISTIC. 8th Nov. 1918

Lance-Cpl. Peter Ding, of the Dragoons, who has long been serving in France, writes to say that he is receiving his “Press and News” regularly. He adds: “I see some very interesting news in the paper about the old village and the Swavesey boys. It’s fine out here now that things are going so splendidly. I hope to see you all soon – somewhere about Christmas – if we keep on going as well as we have done lately.”

FOR THE FALLEN. 8th Nov. 1918

A solemn service in commemoration of Swavesey men who have made the supreme sacrifice in the present war, was held in the Parish Church on Sunday afternoon, the morrow of All Souls’ Day, and was attended by a considerable congregation, which included relatives of the fallen, soldiers from the local hospital, and V.A.D. nurses. The Rev. E. G. Peterson, after reading the roll of the dead, gave an inspiring address. The remainder of the service consisted of prayers, psalms and hymns – and the lesson from the Burial Office (I Corinthians, xv., 20). Before the last hymn the organist played the Dead March in “Saul”, the congregation standing, and the Nunc Dimitis brought a memorable service to a close. The cards affixed to the notice board in the south aisle on which the names of the dead men are recorded, were surrounded with laurel, and vases of white flowers stood in front. A Union Jack drooped overhead.

PARISH COUNCIL. 8th Nov. 1918

A meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, R. Norman, A. T. Scard, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The Clerk brought up the question of replacing the thatched roof of a building on the parish property in High-street, and arrangements were made for the work to be done forthwith. It was agreed that a fence in Wallman's-lane should be repaired, and that permission be given for the storage in the Parish Council building of a new snow plough belonging to the Rural District Council. The consideration of a suggestion respecting the adverse balance brought forward in the Council's petty cash account for the present year, which had been made at the Parish Meeting held earlier in the evening, was postponed until the Council's next meeting.

“OUR DAY.” 8th Nov. 1918

“Our Day” was duly observed in Swavesey, the main effort being at the V.A.D. Hospital, where a small jumble and work sale was held and three short concerts were given. The organisation of the sales was kindly taken by Mrs. Twist, and the concerts were under the management of Miss Elsie Dodson, both of whom were assisted by members of the staff. The results far exceeded expectation. It was most regrettable that Miss Jean Capper, whom Mrs. Cooksey regards as “the ruling spirit of the village representatives” was unavoidably absent through an attack of influenza. The total raised was £14 5s. 10d., which has been handed to the vice-president. The village children also did their “bit”, and by a “mile of pennies” collection, gathered £3 14s. 5½d., which has been sent to Dr. H. Waite for the Red Cross Fund. On the following evening the little people attended an entertainment given for their benefit by the patients and staff of the hospital, assisted by friends. This year's “Our Day” collections, etc., realised in all £18 0s. 3½d., a record for Swavesey.

PARISH MEETING. 8th Nov. 1918

The annual Parish Meeting was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, Mr. Arthur Norman presiding. The Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) presented the parochial and charity accounts and some discussion followed. Mr. George Clarke, referring to a deficit in the Parish Council petty cash account, moved that a cheque be drawn for the amount due to the clerk. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey seconded. The Clerk pointed out that the Parish Meeting had no power to act in the matter, and the resolution was accordingly altered to a suggestion that the Council should draw the cheque. The motion, as amended, was carried. – Mr. Clarke called attention to the fact that there was no Roll of Honour in Swavesey, and strongly urged that there should be one. The church lists were incomplete and inaccurate, and the Roll which had been on the school was private property. – Mr. Mitham admitted that the church lists were out of date, and made a strong appeal to the late compiler of both Rolls, Mr. Vincent, to again take over the care of a Roll of Honour for the parish, speaking in terms of warm appreciation of the way in which the record had been kept until May, 1917. – Mr. Vincent replied that there were other persons in the parish far better qualified than he was to undertake the duty, but that if no one was willing to act, and it was the wish of the parish, he would again become compiler on certain conditions. He was, however, not prepared to state these conditions at that meeting. There would be several matters of detail to settle before he could consent to act. – The matter then dropped and the meeting ended.

The first news of the signing of the armistice to reach Swavesey on Monday was contained in a telephone message from the "Cambridge Daily News", received at 11.20 a.m. The message was immediately displayed in the window of the Post Office, and the glorious news spread with lightning speed. The official notification was received about an hour and a half later and telegrams to the same effect from other sources handed in on Monday were not delivered to Swavesey until Tuesday. A flagstaff flying the Union Jack was rigged up in the National School yard by about noon, and flags of all sorts and sizes made their appearance from end to end of the village. The bells of the parish church were rung in the evening, and on Tuesday Messrs. Walter Thorp, Key and R. Mitham managed to erect a lengthy pole above the extinguisher-shaped steeple on the top of the tower, and by the afternoon a Union Jack floated bravely in the breeze. On Tuesday evening a thanksgiving service was held and was attended by a large congregation, which included many Nonconformists. On Wednesday evening the juveniles of the parish celebrated victory by a bonfire on the Recreation Ground, in which they cremated the Kaiser in effigy.

Owing to the suspension of the "Shading of Lights," Order, the Sunday evening service at the parish church will be at 6.30 p.m. for the future. Next Sunday there will be special thanksgivings for the armistice and our victory. The lists in the church of Swavesey men who are serving or have served in the war have been corrected and brought up to date. A new frame, kindly provided by the Rev. E. G. Paterson, has materially contributed to this happy result.

KILLED IN ACTION. 15th Nov. 1918

Mrs. Peter Ding, High-street, Swavesey, was informed last week-end that Lance-Corpl. Fred Chaddock, Gloucestershire Regt., who had married her elder daughter on 19th February, had been killed in action in France. The greater part of Lance-Corpl. Chaddock's 13 years in the Army has been served abroad in Malta, China, India, and in France since the early days of this war. He had been twice wounded. Much sympathy is felt for the young widow.

PTE. J. W. WRIGHT. 22nd Nov. 1918

Although he had not lived in Swavesey for some years, the news that Pte. James William Wright, West Riding (Duke of Wellington's) Regiment, has been killed in action in France on 1st November, was received with great regret and deep sympathy is felt for his widowed mother, Mrs. Charlott Wright, Gibraltar-lane, and his widow and children. Pte. Wright joined up in Yorkshire on 15th August, 1916, and had seen considerable service in France, having been present at Bullecourt in May, 1917, and Bourlon Wood last November. He was in Swavesey for a few days last March when on short leave from the front.

PTE. J. B. PARISH.

The sad intelligence that Pte. Joseph Barker Parish, The Buffs, who was reported last week to have been dangerously wounded in his back on the 30th October, had succumbed to his injuries on the 11th inst., reached his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Parish, on Wednesday morning, and was received by the people generally with deep regret. Pte. Parish was well known in the district, and was respected and beloved. He was a keen member of the Cambridgeshire Volunteer Regiment, in which he held the rank of sergeant before he joined the fighting forces on the 12th June last, and he had only been twenty-one days in France when he received his fatal wound. He leaves a young widow and one little child, who, with his bereaved parents and brothers and sisters, have the sincere sympathy of all who knew him.

STRANGE ROOSTING PLACE. 22nd Nov. 1918

Pte. Frank Prior, Suffolk Regiment, youngest son of Mr. Charles Prior, who was wounded by shrapnel in the shoulder on 21st September, is at home on a month's convalescent leave. A piece of shrapnel is still in his body. He joined up on 25th October, 1916, and went to Egypt in February, 1917. He served in Palestine, being wounded in the shoulder, and was transferred with his division to France last May.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 22nd Nov. 1918

Corpl. Arthur Prior, Cambridgeshire Regiment, arrived in Swavesey during the small hours of Monday morning on fourteen days' leave from France. He is in excellent health and spirits. He went to France with his battalion in February, 1915. Pte. Frank Day, Canadian Forestry Corps. eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, is also at home on short leave from France, and reports himself in the pink of condition. His appearance does not belie his words.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 22nd Nov. 1918

In the absence of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, who is under training for immediate service in France, Mr. Smith, of Bourn, preached at the morning and evening service at Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday. In the evening taking his text from 4th chapter of Esther, verse 14, he made special references to the armistice and the early promise of peace. Mr. Ussher is expected to be in Swavesey this week-end. The collections at the chapel next Sunday afternoon will be in aid of St. Dunstan's Home for Blinded Sailors and Soldiers. Bethel Sunday School will be re-opened on Sunday morning.

VICTORY AND PEACE. 22nd Nov. 1918

In the course of the centuries during which the parish church of Swavesey has been the home and centre of the religious life of the people of the village, songs of thanksgiving for victory and other blessings under God's good providence have resounded within its ancient walls, and amongst those services of gratitude and joy, the simple but dignified thanksgiving service last Sunday evening cannot be unworthy of high place. It was a notable service, and was attended by a congregation of thankful worshippers remarkable for its size. The form of service authorised by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York was used, and all the hymns, sung with great heartiness, were most appropriate. The Rev. E. G. Peterson, who is in charge of the parish in the absence of the Vicar on active service, preached a sermon which will long be remembered by those who were privileged to hear it. At the close Mr. Peterson read the full roll of Swavesey men who are serving or who have served in the war, specially mentioning as he went along those who had fallen or had won honours. At his request the people stood during the recitation of the roll as an act of gratitude and respect. The authorised collects, psalms, lessons, etc., were used at the other services, and the collections throughout the day were on behalf of the King's Fund for Disabled Sailors and Soldiers. They amounted to £12 0s. 9d. The chancel and organ screens were decorated with Union Jacks, while upon the chapel screen was the star-spangled banner of America. Flags surmounted the Roll of Honour.

Pte. George E. Hephher, Labour Company, and Pte. Harry Prime, Manchester Regt., have arrived in Swavesey on short leave from the Western front, the former on Monday evening and the latter on Wednesday. They are in excellent health and spirits.

Pte. Alfred Prime, the Queen's, has been presented with a card bearing the following commendation from Major-General Commanding the 33rd Division in France: "Your Commanding Officer and Brigade Commander have informed me that you distinguished yourself in the field on 22nd-26th October, 1918. THE COUNTY BATTALION. 6th Dec. 1918

Eight men from Swavesey have served during the war with the County Battalion of the Suffolk Regt., but none are with the battalion now. One of the eight has been killed in action, three have been recorded missing, believed killed, and one is missing, wounded. The remaining three men have been wounded, two of whom have been discharged from the Army, and one is serving with another battalion of the regiment. One man has won the Military Medal.

FLAGS. 6th Dec. 1918

Our Swavesey representative writes: When the armistice was signed temporary flagstaffs were rigged up on the tower of the parish church and in the yard of the National School, and it is believed in each case the flag hoisted was lent by a private individual. It is suggested that before Peace Day permanent flag poles should be provided for both church and school, and that it should not be necessary to use borrowed flags. The provision of flags and poles would be one way of commemorating the declaration of peace.

PTE. C. G. HEPHER. 6th Dec. 1918

A telegram reached Swavesey about noon on Monday stating that Pte. Cyril George Hepher, East Yorkshire Regt., had died suddenly on Saturday afternoon at No. 8 Stationary Hospital, France. He was the second of the three children (all sons) of Mrs. Charles Hepher, Market-street, Swavesey. His elder brother has been recorded missing, believed killed, on 28th April, 1917, and the youngest taken prisoner by the Germans on 9th April last. Cyril Hepher arrived in France on 31st August, and at once proceeded up the line. On 20th September he went over the top for the first time.

PRISONER HOME. 13th Dec. 1918

Pte. Walter G. Prior, North Staffordshire Regiment, who has been a prisoner of war in Germany since last March, has arrived home, and is in good health.

Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., youngest son of Mrs. Beaumont, Swavesey, has written from France to say that he is on his way home, and in good health. He was captured on 21st March.

MARCHING INTO GERMANY. 13th Dec. 1918

Lance-Corpl. Peter Ding, Dragoon Guards, writes: "I am receiving the 'Press and News' regularly. Many thanks. We are well in German territory, on our way to a town the other side of the Rhine. We are being treated very fair by the German population at present. There are, however, no flags flying like there were in Belgium, where they gave us a very hearty reception, decorating our horses with flowers as we passed along the roads. They are fine people. What we are missing now is our smokes."

WEDDING. 13th Dec. 1918

The marriage of Miss Kate Elizabeth Wells, elder daughter of Mr. Harry Wells, and Mr. Charles Wilfred Ding, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ding, took place at Swavesey parish church on Tuesday afternoon, in the presence of a considerable congregation, both families being well known in the district. The Rev. A. P. Senior, Fen Drayton, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a brown costume, with hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jessie Wells, and Mr. George Hephher, jun., acted as best man. After the ceremony the guests were entertained at the residence of the bride's father.

DISCHARGED. 13th Dec. 1918

Corpl. James Smith Dean, Australian Light Horse, eldest son of Mrs. Dean, Swavesey, has been granted his discharge from the Army, being no longer physically fit, in consequence of wounds received east of the river Jordan on the 27th March last, when attached to the Imperial Camel Corps. Corpl. Dean is a veteran of the South African War (Queen's and King's medals). He went into Australia some years ago, and in November, 1915, enlisted in the Australian Light Horse. In May, 1916, he landed in Egypt, and saw service there and in Palestine until he was wounded last spring. After two or three months in hospital in Palestine and Egypt, he was sent back to Australia, where, it is stated, he was discharged.

NEWS OF A PRISONER. 13th Dec. 1918

A letter dated 2nd December has been received from Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, The Buffs, who was captured by the Germans on 21st March last, stating that he is in a French hospital at Metz, suffering from a cold, but hopes to be home before Christmas. He is evidently gratefully appreciating plenty of excellent food, a warm bed, and good treatment. He says: " I have had a rough time with the Bosches, working in a stone quarry from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and for food given cabbage soup and potatoes. If it had not been for our Red Cross parcels there would not be many prisoners of war coming home. If ever there was a country beaten, Germany is that one. I am sorry to say nearly half of the prisoners of war are ill – French, Italians, Russians and English – it is a shame to see the poor fellows. Nobody knows what they have suffered, only those who have had some of it." Lanc-Corpl. Symonds was interned at Giessen.

MR. MONTAGU'S MEETING. 13th Dec. 1918

A meeting in support of the candidature of the Right Hon. E. S. Montagu was held at Swavesey on Tuesday evening, and the large schoolroom was crowded. Mr. H. Capper, who presided, briefly introduced Sir Richard Winfrey, M.P., Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, who spoke on the general situation, and also dealt with the question of the wages of agricultural workers. Mr. Montagu on entering the room towards the end of Sir Richard's speech, had a most cordial reception. After a while with many interruptions from the leader of the local labour party, he decided to discontinue his speech and answer questions. The Conservatives, who were present in strong force, were evidently satisfied with Mr. Montagu, and asked none. A Liberal supporter of the candidate, however, made an inquiry respecting Protection, which the candidate answered. The labour leader then took the field, and instead of asking definite questions, proceeded to make a series of rambling speeches on various subjects. He also made imputations reflecting on Mr. Montagu's sincerity and good faith, which the candidate strongly resented. A resolution of confidence in Mr. Montagu was proposed by the Chairman, and seconded by Mr. F. J. Beales, who declared himself a Trades Unionist, and said that in his opinion the true Labour leader of the country was Mr. Lloyd George. The resolution was carried without opposition.

A PRISONER'S EXPERIENCES. 13th Dec. 1918

Sapper Samuel F. Mitham, R.E., youngest son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, who landed at Hull from Germany on the 3rd instant, arrived at his home in Swavesey on Thursday evening in last week. He was in good health, the result, he said, of the splendid provision made for the prisoners by the Red Cross Society since the armistice. Sapper Mitham was slightly wounded in the left leg by a bullet during the retreat on 25th March last. He was captured immediately after being hit. He was one of a crowd of about fifty men who had been collected by a colonel of the Seaforths, all of whom except half-a-dozen were either killed or wounded. The six were captured. Notwithstanding his injury, Sapper Mitham was at once employed in carrying wounded, and his first night was spent in a captured British hospital. He was then removed to Dulmen Camp, Germany, where he was isolated for fifteen days, and inoculated four times and vaccinated once. Then he was drafted to a coal mine at Dortmund, about 18 miles from Munster No. II. Camp to which he was supposed to belong. Here from the 18th April until his release on 25th November he was employed on underground work, 8½ hours on four days a week, and 12 hours on the other two. No work was done on Sundays. His breakfast before going down the pit consisted of a piece of black bread, eight men sharing a 6lb. loaf, and a cup of coffee made of burnt acorns. On returning to the surface he had a pint of "soup," usually merely cabbage water, and sometimes about 1oz. of horseflesh, black in colour and highly scented. At night another pint of cabbage water was supplied. Bread was only obtainable at breakfast. For the first eighteen weeks he was always hungry and weak. Then the blessed Red Cross parcels of food began to arrive, and they reached the prisoners fairly regularly. It was, however, not unusual for some of their contents to have been looted. Sapper Mitham says that he was cruelly knocked about by the civilian ganger in the pit. When all went well and plenty of coal was got, the ganger behaved fairly well, but when, owing to the weakness of the starving men or shortness of supply, not enough coal was obtained, then the ganger, who invariably carried a heavy stick, was wont to belabour the poor victims. This treatment was meted out to all the prisoners. The soldier sentries contented themselves with pushing and kicking on the least provocation. Russian prisoners received exceptionally cruel treatment. They were so weak from want of food that they could not work properly. At Dortmund pit there were 150 prisoners, viz., 37 British and the rest Russian. The cage in which both nationalities were confined measured about 60 yards square, and the barrack building contained two rooms, both cruelly overcrowded and infested with vermin of all kinds. It was at times impossible to sleep, and the air was most foul. Russians shared the rooms with British. Sapper Mitham says he cannot adequately express his gratitude to the British Red Cross Society. It was certainly due to the parcels of food and clothing supplied through the Society that the prisoners were able to exist. Without them few men would have lived through the terrible ordeal. An incident that marked the end of Munster II. Camp is worth mentioning. As the 1,700 British prisoners were leaving they sang "Rule, Britannia," and Germany heard a decent song sung by decent men.

WAR NOTES. 20th Dec. 1918

Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., is at home on twelve days' special leave from hospital. He was wounded on 15th June last whilst serving in Italy, and before he was convalescent had a recurrence of old heart trouble, for which he has been in hospital in this country ever since. He is still far from well. – Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, The Buffs, whose arrival in France from Giessen Camp was notified last week, reached his home in Swavesey on Wednesday evening. – Gunner Fredk. A. Prior, R.F.A., has been promoted Bombardier. He is still in France. – The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Bethel Baptist Chapel, is also in France, and working at a Y.M.C.A. Hut.

THE ELECTION. 20th Dec. 1918

Polling day passed off very quietly. About 350 electors from Fen Drayton and Swavesey recorded their votes out of a total of 480 resident voters. Mrs. W. F. Gleaves, who entered the polling station about 8.20 a.m. with her husband, had the distinction of being the first woman in Swavesey to record her vote for a Parliamentary candidate. Mr. Montagu paid a brief visit to the village at 4 p.m., only ten minutes behind his scheduled time. It is anticipated that he obtained a substantial majority over the Labour candidate in the Swavesey polling district. It may be interesting to mention that there are 24 voters bearing the surname Parish on the register for the parish of Swavesey, 14 that of Hepher, and 13 Dodson.

MILITARY MEDALLIST HOME. 20th Dec. 1918

Pte. Alfred Prime, M.M., The Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regiment, eldest son of Mr. Alfred Prime, Taylor's-lane, reached Swavesey by the last train on Tuesday, having only left his battalion in France at 9 o'clock the same morning. He was in the best of health and spirits. His many friends gave him the warmest of welcomes, and their heartiest congratulations on having been awarded the Military Medal, a distinction won for his conduct whilst carrying in wounded under heavy barrage fire on 21st September last at Ephey. He was subsequently commended by his Divisional General for good work from 22nd to 26th October. Pte. Prime joined up on 8th April, 1916, and proceeded to France on 25th August of that year. He was wounded slightly in the head on 7th October following, and again in the leg on 1st August, 1917. On recovery he returned to France on 23rd January last, and has seen much strenuous service with the Byng Boys. Mr. Alfred Prime's second son, Corpl. James Prime, London Regiment, also won the Military Medal in June, 1917.

RETURN OF PRISONER OF WAR. 20th Dec. 1918

Pte. Arthur Beaumont, M.G.C., youngest son of Mrs. Beaumont, Swavesey, reached home on Saturday night, in pretty good health. He was taken prisoner by the Germans at Quessy, near La Fere, about noon on 22nd March last, and spent his first night of captivity in La Fere. Next day he went on to Ribecourt, and thence to Guise, where he stayed during the week preceding Easter, and was employed on an ammunition dump and fatigues. On Easter Day he was marched to Landrecies, and on Easter Monday entrained for Giessen, to which prison camp he was attached until the armistice. He reached Giessen at 7 p.m. two days later. He was first employed at iron smelting works, and for eight days worked in an iron mine at Eiserfeldt, but was taken ill and returned to Giessen. On recovery he was sent to a tannery at Burgel, near Offenbach, where he remained until the end. His illness was doubtless due to insufficiency and bad quality of food, and like other returned prisoners, he says he depended mainly on the contents of food parcels sent through the Red Cross Society, but he believes that his camp was better supplied with German food than most of the other camps. Beyond the usual Hunnish kicking, Pte. Beaumont makes no complaint of brutal treatment. He returned from Giessen by way of Metz and Calais.

IN MEMORIAM. 20th Dec. 1918

PRIOR. – In loving memory of William prior, who died December 11th 1917, loving husband of Esther Prior, High-street Swavesey

“Thy Will be done” seemed hard to say

When our dear father was called away;

A loving husband, true and kind,

No one on earth like you we find;

On earth there's strife, in Heaven there's rest,

They miss you most who loved you best.

FROM THE FRONT. 27th Dec. 1918

Pte. Dick Wilderspin, R.E. (despatch rider) arrived home on Tuesday night on 14 days' leave from Ypres. He is in excellent health. He went to France on 1st January last.

WOUNDED MAN COMES HOME. 27th Dec. 1918

Corpl. Fred Kester, Welsh Regt., who was severely wounded in the leg on Sept. 15th last in fighting near St. Quentin, and has since been in hospital in London, is spending his Christmas leave at his home in Swavesey. Although improving he is still lame.

DISCHARGED. 27th Dec. 1918

Pte. Thomas Howlett, Cheshire Regt., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Howlett, Swavesey, has been discharged from the Army as physically unfit. He joined up on 6th April, 1915, and proceeded to France early in the following October. On the 25th May, 1916, he was wounded in the knee at Gommecourt. In September, 1917, he was taken ill with appendicitis and was sent to this country where he underwent an operation. Returning to France on the 15th April last he was soon in the thick of the fighting outside Arras, and on 20th May was dangerously wounded by shell (compound fracture of right forearm and common fracture of left arm near wrist). He has recovered the use of his left arm, but his right hand and arm are still disabled, though improving.

MESSAGE BY ENEMY AEROPLANE. 27th Dec. 1918

Not long after Pte. A. Beaumont, M.G.C., was taken prisoner of war last March, his mother in Swavesey received a message from him written on the back of a wrapper of a packet of German cigarettes, stating that he was "a prisoner and safe and sound." The message was forwarded to Mrs. Beaumont by an officer attached to the British Mission at French General Headquarters, who explained that it had been taken from a captured German airman who had evidently intended to drop it in the British lines. Pte. Beaumont states that he asked a German flying officer to take the message when he was at Guise and that the officer, after some demur, accepted the message with a promise to drop it when he paid his next air visit to England.

PRISONER OF WAR'S EXPERIENCES. 27th Dec. 1918

Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds, the Buffs, whose repatriation from a German prison camp was briefly recorded last week, has furnished some interesting details of his capture and captivity. He was taken prisoner at Vandual, near St. Quentin, at 7 a.m. on 22nd March last. His platoon had been surrounded on the previous evening, and had taken refuge in a dug-out. About midnight the officer in command and Lance-Corpl. Symonds left the dug-out to endeavour to find a way of escape. Passing along a trench they saw Germans in a neighbouring dug-out, but succeeded in getting by without attracting notice, and at length reached the cookhouse of their battalion, a ruined building, but found it occupied as enemy headquarters. Realising that escape was impossible they returned to their comrades in the dug-out, and at 7 a.m. on the 22nd surrendered. After employment on ammunition dumps, etc., Symonds reached Guise, where he met another Swavesey lad, Pte. A. Beaumont, M.G.C., who had also been captured on 22nd March. At Guise they witnessed a brutal incident. They were endeavouring to obtain food from a German cookhouse when they saw a little French boy offer bread to some French prisoners. A German sentry attempted to bayonet the little fellow, but failed. He then shot him through the head. The two Swavesey lads kept together until they reached Giessen, when they were separated and sent away on different work. Symonds was employed in the stone quarry at Hahnstattin, Wiesbaden. He says that for about three months until the Red Cross parcels began to arrive he was in a state of semi-starvation. The food, mainly vegetables such as turnips, cabbage, etc., was utterly insufficient in quantity and unsuitable for keeping body and soul together. On one occasion water in which a German woman had poached eggs was given as soup for supper. Lance-Corpl. Symonds cannot adequately express his gratitude for the parcels of food supplied through the Red Cross Society. Without them he declared he would have starved. On November 13th the prisoners learned that the armistice had been signed, and that they were to be repatriated. Taking advantage of the absence of the sentry, who was busily engaged in conversation with the manager of the quarry, Symonds and those Englishmen and an American cut the barbed wire and escaped. After wandering for three days and nights, being guided by the American's compass, they found Giessen, and at the beginning of December Symonds was sent by train to Metz. Here he had to go into hospital suffering from influenza and bronchitis, and after a few days was removed to another French hospital at Moulins, where he was detained for a week. Thence he came back to Blighty by way of Paris.

CONVALESCENT. 3rd Jan. 1919

Rifleman Albert G. Parish, King's Royal Rifle Corps, who was wounded in the thigh in France on 13th September last, has been discharged from hospital and has been spending a few days' leave at home. He was gassed near Cambrai on the 13th March last, and was sent to a hospital in this country. He returned to France on the 31st August, and 13 days later came to grief again.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 3rd Jan. 1919

Sapper Arthur Parish, R.E., and Pte. John Taylor, Northants. Yeomanry, are spending their 14 days' leave from the front in Swavesey. The former arrived from France on Boxing Day morning, and the latter on Saturday from Italy. Both are in good health. Lance-Corpl. Harry H. Wells, and Pte. Frank Day, Canadian Forestry Corps, were at their homes in the village for Christmas. They had recently been sent back to this country from France, pending, it is presumed, their return to Canada.

WAR PRISONER'S STORY. 3rd Jan.1919

Pte. Walter G. Prior, North Staffordshire Regt., the eldest of the five sons of Mr. Charles Prior, Taylor's-lane, Swavesey, who are serving in the Army, arrived in the village on Boxing Day on a visit to his father. He was captured by the Germans at Bullecourt on 21st March last. His battalion was in reserve, and when the alarm that the Boche was over and the regiment in the front line badly cut up, he was at work as cook. Seizing rifles, he and a comrade, coatless, at once joined the boys. A very heavy barrage and gas for four hours had preceded the attack, and the North Staffords were surrounded, and at length the survivors surrendered. Private Prior was at first employed in carrying German wounded, and was kept for 48 hours close behind the line. Then he and other prisoners had a two days' march to a railhead, where they entrained for Munster No. 1 Camp. They were 50 hours on the journey, 44 men being crowded into one cattle truck, and two halts were made, when cabbage water soup was provided, but no water to drink. At Munster the prisoners were inoculated four times and vaccinated once. On the 21st April, Pte. Prior was sent to work in a coal mine at Oberhausen, and here he remained until after the signing of the armistice, being fairly well treated except as regards food, which was utterly inadequate in quantity and unsuitable for a strong man engaged on hard work. A loaf was supplied to each prisoner once in five days, and twice a day soup was provided. Pte. Prior became very weak in consequence. In August parcels began to arrive from the Red Cross, and the men gained strength. On 17th November the prisoners at Oberhausen (French and Russians, as well as 30 British) heard of the armistice, and that no work was being done in other camps, so they refused to work any longer. The Germans threatened them with revolvers and fixed bayonets, but the prisoners held firm in their refusal, and at length the Huns desisted. On the following day 11 British went by train to Friedrichsfelde for food, and returned to Oberhausen the same night. Having distributed the food amongst the prisoners, all nationalities sharing equally, the Britishers left at 5 a.m. next day for Friedrichsfelde, and on 22nd November for Amerfurt. On 6th December Pte. Prior reached Rotterdam, and spent the night on board s.s. Londonderry. On the following day he set sail for Blighty. The sea was calm, but 40 minutes were passed on the voyage, and at 11 a.m. on December 8th the ship reached Hull. On their passage up the Humber ships gave the returning exiles a fine and noisy welcome, for they were received with shrieking sirens. When they landed they had the warmest of receptions and were given a pint of hot tea and a bag of food before they entrained for Ripon. Arriving here at 4.30 p.m. they found motor cars waiting to convey them to the reception camp. Here Pte. Prior was regaled with plenty of good food and a bottle of real English beer – Bass. He is in pretty good health. It is sad to record that during his little more than two years' service in the Army one of Pte. Prior's children has died, and in June last his wife passed away after an illness of some duration.

PTE. H. C. HOWLETT. 3rd Jan. 1919

Mrs. William Howlett, Swavesey, received a letter on Monday from the Adjutant of the 11th Suffolk Regiment in France, stating that he had received news that her son, Pte. Harold Charles Howlett, was killed in action on 9th April last, and was not taken prisoner as was thought at the time. "His grave," the adjutant writes, "has been found (he was buried by the enemy) near La Rolanderie Farm, Erquinghem, which is quite near Armentieres. I fear he must have been hit fatally a second time, as his first wound was not to all appearances a fatal one. May I express to you anew my sympathy in this sad blow. Your son was a stretcher bearer in my company then, and was greatly liked by all." Pte. Howlett joined the Suffolk Regiment on the 29th March, 1916, and went to France on the 7th of the following September. He was reported wounded and missing (at Fleurbaix Farm) on the 9th April last, and no tidings of him had been received until this week. Much sympathy has been felt for his parents during their months of terrible suspense, and especially now the worst is known. Two other of their sons have been serving their country in the war, one of whom is now in Belgium, while the other, who had been twice wounded in France, has recently been discharged from the Army, as no longer physically fit. His right arm is still disabled. "Charlie" Howlett was 21 years of age when he met his death. In Swavesey, as in his regiment, he was greatly liked by all, and his popularity was thoroughly well-deserved.

PROMOTION. 10th Jan. 1919

Pte. Percy V. Maltby, South Staffordshire Regiment, has been promoted lance-corporal.

THE SCHOOLS. 10th Jan. 1919

Having been closed for a fortnight for the Christmas holiday, the National Schools were re-opened on Monday morning.

ANOTHER WAR CAPTIVE HOME. 10th Jan. 1919

Pte. Alfred C. Hephner, Middlesex Regiment, the last of the four prisoners of war from Swavesey, arrived home by the last train on Tuesday night. He landed in France for the first time on 1st April last, and on 9th April was captured at Fleurbaix, near Armentieres. An account of Pte. Hepher's experiences will appear next week.

A MACHINE-GUNNER AND AUTHOR. 10th Jan. 1919

Gunner James Prior, M.G.C., who has been serving in India since January last, has published a booklet entitled "The Machine-Gunner's Trip from Grantham to India, November, 1917 – January, 1918," containing an interesting account of his long voyage to the East via the Cape of Good Hope, and of his arrival in India. Prior to joining up, Gunner Prior was well known in the Swavesey district as a furniture dealer, insurance agent, etc. He was also a deacon at Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey.

WEDDING. 10th Jan. 1919

The marriage of Miss Gladys Emily Culpin, second daughter of Pte. M. C. Culpin, R.D.C., and Mrs Culpin, Church End, Swavesey, and Sec.-Lieut. Percy John Stubbings, R.E., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stubbings, was solemnised at Swavesey parish church on New Year's Day. The Rev. E. G. Peterson officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a blue costume, with hat to match, and carried an ivory prayer book, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Grace Stubbings, W.R.A.F., sister of the bridegroom, and Pte. West, A. O.C., was best man.

PARISH CHURCH. 17th Jan. 1919

The services in the parish church on Sunday last were taken by the Rev. H. S. Cronin, of Cambridge.

PRISONER'S WELCOME. 17th Jan. 1919

The four Swavesey returned prisoners of war, Lance-Corpl. J. A. Symonds (Bufs), Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., and Ptes. A. Beaumont (M.G.C.) and A. C. Hepher (Middlesex Regiment), attended the reception, etc., held at Cambridge on Wednesday.

NEWS OF A SOLDIER. 17th Jan. 1919

In a recent letter, Sapper Arthur C. Garner, R.E., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garner, Carter's-lane, announced that he had arrived at Constantinople. Sapper Garner landed at Salonica on 7th September, 1917, and served in that area until his removal to the Turkish capital.

SEC.-LIEUT. LAWSON HEPHER, M.C. 17th Jan. 1919

In the latest list of awards for gallantry and devotion to duty in the field published in the "London Gazette," the following appears: "Military Cross, Sec.-Lieut. W. L. Hepher, R.F.A. (Special Reserve). Attd/ A 223rd (H.C.) Bde., R.F.A., T.F. – During an exceptionally intense period of shelling, when two detachments of his battery had been scattered, he took the place of No. 2 at one of his guns, and kept it in action during a S.O.S. call. His example of gallantry and devotion to duty at a very trying moment was most timely and steadied the men, who were shaken by the heavy shelling."

A PRISONER'S EXPERIENCES. 17th Jan. 1919

As announced in our last issue, Pte. Alfred C. Hepher, Middlesex Regiment, arrived home on the 7th inst., after being in the hands of the Germans since April 9th. He was captured at Fleurbaix near Armentieres, eight days after he landed in France. His battalion, after a heavy bombardment of shells and gas during the previous night, was practically surrounded, and near noon about a hundred men, including young Hepher, were taken prisoners. He was first employed in carrying wounded – German and British. His first night was spent at the Arsenal, Lille, where he and his comrades had to struggle for a little water. No food was given them until two days after capture, and then only a little cabbage water soup and bread. The men, says Pte. Hepher, felt "very near dead," but they had many more days and weeks of abstinence before them. Three days were spent at the Arsenal, and then the prisoners were removed to Fort Macdonald, Lille, where they stayed for about a week, each man's daily ration of food consisting of half a bowl of cabbage water soup and a little bit of bread and some jam. Then the prisoners entrained for Dulmen, Germany, in overcrowded cattle trucks, and during the four days of the journey the only food supplied was one ration per man, consisting of a small bowl of "soup" and a thin slice of black bread. At Dulmen Pte. Hepher and his comrades remained for a month, being inoculated three times and vaccinated once, and he was mainly employed on clearing out latrines. They "lived" on watery soup and short commons of bread, and became so weak that they were hardly able to walk. From Dulmen Pte. Hepher went on to Hameln, and on the day after his arrival there had some food that he had been supplied through the Red Cross Society. He was soon sent on a commando at Brambury-bei-Adelebsen, and here he met British soldiers who had been in captivity since 1914. His work was to fill four large wagons, heavy work for an underfed lad just nineteen – he spent his 19th birthday four days after reaching Adelebsen. Red Cross parcels did not reach Pte. Hepher until he had been at Adelebsen for about two months, and until they arrived he had to depend on German soup and bread, eked out by contributions from other men's parcels. After the armistice the prisoners refused to work, and were sent to a civilian camp at Holzminden, where they fared very badly, as only German-supplied food was available, viz., two bowls of thin soup and five or six ounces of bread per man daily. Here Pte. Hepher remained until 27th December, getting weaker and weaker. As he left the camp he was given a parcel of food, and at the railway station two more parcels. On the homeward journey the first stop was at Hameln. Some five hundred prisoners reached the camp at midnight, and were kept standing outside for a very long time, with the temperature below freezing point. Window-frames and other wood lying handy were commandeered, and fires were soon set going. Next day they moved on to Holland, and last Saturday sailed from Rotterdam, arriving at Hull on Sunday morning, where they had a warm welcome, food, etc. Then on to Ripon, and on Tuesday home. Pte. Hepher is in fairly good health. He says he has pulled up wonderfully since 27th December. Although he does not complain of personal ill-treatment in Germany, he admits that he saw other prisoners being knocked about and otherwise badly treated.

DEATH OF AN OLD MAN. 24th Jan. 1919

Mr. George Norman, well known in the district as a marine store dealer, died on the 15th instant at the New Inn, Huntingdon-road, where he had been living for some time. He was 79 years of age, and had been ill for only a short time. He was buried in Swavesey churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Rev. A. P. Senior officiating.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 24th Jan. 1919

Mrs. Susan Walker, High-street, widow of the late Mr. Owen Walker, died on the 13th inst., after a short illness, aged 78 years. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. A. P. Senior, Fen Drayton, officiating. The chief mourners were: Messrs. George, Charles, Ernest, Frederick and James Walker (sons), Mrs. J. Froment (daughter), Mrs. G. Walker and Mrs. C. Walker (daughters-in-law), Mr. Joseph Froment (son-in-law) Messrs. T. C. Froment and B. Walker, Miss F. Large and Miss B. Froment (grandchildren). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The late Mrs. Walker left six sons and one daughter.

DISCHARGED. 24th Jan. 1919

Gunner Ernest Prior, R.F.A., has been discharged from the Army, being no longer physically fit for service through ill-health. He joined up on 3rd May 1917, and went to Italy in the following November. On the 13th June last he was wounded by one of the first shells fired by the Austrians in their attack early in the morning of that day. The shell dropped into the gun pit where Gunner Prior was, wounding him in three places, and killing the rest of the gun crew. For a short time he was “knocked silly,” and on recovering he called to his comrades, but received no reply. Crawling out of the wreckage, he made his way to a dug-out near by, and then another shell burst in the pit he had just let. He lay for some hours in the dug-out before it was possible for him to be removed to the rear. Although he recovered from his wounds fairly quickly, Gunner Prior’s health broke down, and he did not leave hospital until his discharge on the 15th instant.

A VILLAGE HALL. 24th Jan. 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: During the discussion on the housing question at the Parish Council meeting on Monday night the provision of a village hall was mooted. One of the sites for labourers’ cottages selected by the Council was the property in High-street, which was bequeathed to the parish some years ago by the late Mr. George Long. There is an impression in the village that Mr. Long had in his mind the erection of a village hall on the site, and since his death the project has been talked about at meetings on more than one occasion, but nothing has been done. A village hall is needed in Swavesey. Meetings, entertainments, and so forth have now to be held in the National Schools – an obviously unsuitable place for several reasons. For some functions the heavy school furniture has to be moved, and its wear and tear is increased in the process. For others – last Monday’s Council meeting for instance – the furniture and accommodation generally are inconvenient. It does not add to the dignity of the parish legislators to have to sit on the top of school children’s desks facing the Chairman and Clerk more comfortably seated on chairs at a small table, while to squat on the seats is, as I know from painful experience, conducive to cramp and “pins and needles.” The lighting arrangements are defective. Last Monday we sat in semi-darkness for a considerable part of the more than two hours’ meeting. Further, is it not a fact that under the new Education Act the school will be needed for educational purposes during the evenings, and therefore will not be available for meetings, etc.? I venture, therefore, to suggest that a public hall is a necessity, and would respectfully ask whether it is wise to allow a site suitable in every respect for such a building, and already the property of the parish, to be diverted to another purpose. I would also suggest that a hall would be a fitting memorial of the Great War in which so many Swavesey men have taken part; and if too a room for meetings, a library, reading room and gymnasium were added, its value to the parish generally would be enhanced. The complaint now is especially among the younger people, that there is nothing to do and nowhere to go during the evenings. A village institution, such as I suggest, would go a long way to meet the not unreasonable complaint, and would be an inducement for the younger generation to remain in Swavesey.

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Jan. 1919

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, when the following councillors attended: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. J. S. Goad, Robert Norman, A. T. Scard and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting it was reported that a permit to obtain the straw needed to repair the thatched roof of a parish building in High-street had at length been obtained; that the brick rubbish on the High-street property had been sold, and that the fence dividing the property from Wallman's-lane had not yet been repaired, but would be attended to soon. The question of an official Roll of Honour for the parish was then discussed, and the Chairman moved the following resolution: "That an official Roll of Swavesey men who have served in the Navy, Army or Royal Air Force during the Great War, 1914-1919, be exhibited in a suitable position in the parish; that Mr. C. R. Vincent be asked to act as compiler of the Roll; and that in event of his accepting the office, this Council assures him of its support and protection." Mr. Twist seconded, and the resolution was carried nem. con. Mr. Goad did not vote. The Chairman announced that he would be glad to provide a suitable case for the Roll to the parish, and that he was having one made. The question of the site for the case was discussed at some length, and a final decision on this point was postponed until 1st February. This matter having been disposed of, the Council proceeded to consider a letter which had reached the Chairman that morning from the Swavesey Rural District Council concerning the provision of new houses for the workers under the great National Housing Scheme. On the suggestion of Mr. Goad, Mr. Alfred Day, one of the Swavesey representatives on the District Council, who was present, was invited to explain the scheme. This he did. He urged the vital importance of providing additional housing. More workers were needed on the farms, and at present there were no houses for them to live in. After the Great Fire, when many cottages were destroyed, the housing question was brought forward, but the rebuilding was eventually left to private enterprise. It was true that new houses had been erected, but none of them were labourers' cottages. An interesting discussion ensued, in which there was a general consensus of opinion that fresh houses were urgently required. The District Council asked the Parish Council to suggest suitable sites, and before the meeting concluded sites for some 18 or 20 new cottages in various parts of the village were selected, and the Clerk was instructed to send a list of the sites to the District Council forthwith.

SNOW. 31st Jan. 1919

During Monday night snow fell heavily, and on Tuesday morning lay on the ground to the average depth of about 9 inches.

A "CONTEMPTIBLE" COMES HOME. 31st Jan. 1919

Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, an old "Contemptible," arrived in Swavesey on Saturday on short leave from the Army of Occupation at Cologne. He is in excellent health. Private Whybrow was one of ten men (four Reservists and six Territorials) who left Swavesey on 5th August, 1914, when the Army was mobilised. Of these ten he and his brother-in-law, Driver Henry Carter, R.F.A., were in the retreat from Mons, but he alone was in the fighting line when the armistice was signed. Driver Carter is still in France. Pte. Whybrow began the war in the region of Mons with the 3rd Division, and was with the same Division close to that town at the end. In October, 1914, he was very seriously wounded in the abdomen at La Basse, and was not able to return to France until 13th February, 1916, when he rejoined his old battalion. He was with the same Brigade and the same Division – the famous Iron Division – from start to finish of the war.

ACCIDENT. 31st Jan. 1919

As the children were collecting for afternoon school on Wednesday, Maurice Claud Godfrey, the seven-year-old son of Mr. Prime Godfrey, haulage contractor, Swavesey, was knocked down and ran over by a two-horse van belonging to Messrs. Johnson and Randall, grocers, St. Ives. He was standing near the fence of the school yard, at the corner of the main street and Carter's-lane, when, seeing some boys on the other side of the road, he ran towards them, apparently not noticing that the van was turning out of the main street. He seems to have run against the off-side horse, which knocked him down, and then both off-side wheels passed over his body. The little lad was seen to scramble to his feet and try to hold on to the back of the van, which had been pulled up, but he fell backwards on to the road. The driver picked him up and carried him to the schoolhouse. Dr. Ellis and the school nurse, who happened to be in the village, were promptly in attendance, and later the child was removed to his home.

A HIGH-HANDED PROCEEDING. 31st Jan. 1919

As the 11.5 a.m. train from St. Ives was running into Swavesey Station on Thursday, 23rd instant, a female passenger missed her small handbag, which, she said, contained her purse. In the compartment with her were six other passengers, two of whom, a child aged 13 who had been to St. Ives for medicine for her sick father, and a lame lady, wished to alight. The lady of the purse decreed otherwise and refused to allow them to leave the carriage until her bag had been found, although neither of them had been sitting near her. The child tried to attract the attention of a porter, but the train was leaving the station before she succeeded, and then it was too late. The bag was soon found underneath the seat opposite to where its owner was sitting, having evidently fallen from her lap. She offered no apology to the passengers she had imprisoned and over-carried – in fact, she is stated to have treated their protests with silent contempt. At the next station, Longstanton, the lame lady and the child alighted, but the railway officials could do nothing, as the incident was not reported to them until the train was well away on its journey. The next train to Swavesey was not due for five hours, and rather than wait, the two unfortunates set out to walk to their homes, a distance of 4½ miles. The Longstanton station-master telegraphed to Swavesey a request that the child's parents might be informed that she had been over-carried and was walking home, and her mother went to meet her with a pony and cart, but unfortunately the lame lady, owing to her infirmity, was unable to get into the vehicle, and so had to tramp the whole distance. One of the imprisoned passengers is stated to have been an elderly man, and it is strange that he did not champion the cause of the child and the cripple.

THE INJURED BOY. 7th Feb. 1919

Maurice Godfrey, the seven-year-old son of Mr. Prime Godfrey, who, as reported last week, was injured by two wheels of a pair-horse van passing over his body, is progressing as well as can be expected.

DEMOBILISATION. 7th Feb. 1919

Eight Swavesey men are now on 28 days' furlough preparatory to demobilisation. Trooper Frank Hepher, Northants Yeomanry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hepher, Black Horse-lane, arrived at his home on Saturday, having been demobilised.

EX-PRISONER RETURNS TO DUTY. 7th Feb. 1919

Sapper Samuel F. Mitham, R.E., left Swavesey for Chatham on Tuesday, on the expiration of his two months' furlough. Taken prisoner by the Germans on 25th March last, he was sent to Munster No. 2 Camp, and was employed in a coal mine at Dortmund. He reached home on December 5th.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 14th Feb. 1919

Pte. Alfred Prime, M.M., the Queen's (R.W. Surrey) Regt., Pte. Isaac Parish, Labour Co., and Pte. Sidney W. Wright, Labour Co., have arrived at their homes from France. Pte. Wright is on 14 days' leave and the other men are on demobilisation furlough.

RACES AT SWAVESEY. 14th Feb. 1919

Skating began in earnest last Friday on "Twenty Acres," close to Swavesey Railway Station. On Tuesday, however, the scene shifted across the main road to the famous Mere Fen, where local races were brought off during the afternoon. The chief event was a race for a cup, to be competed for by Over and Swavesey skaters, presented by Mr. King, a native of Over, who has resided for many years in the United States of America. Boys' races were also held. There was a large attendance, estimated by one authority as exceeding one thousand. People came from far and near by motor-car, motor-cycle, push-bicycle, traps, etc. The ice was fairly good, but as the day went on a thaw set in and rendered the surface rather wet and soft in places.

SWAVESEY AND ST. IVES TRAIN SERVICE SUSPENDED. 21st Feb. 1919

The floods around Swavesey are serious. On Tuesday night and during Wednesday the rise was rapid. During Wednesday morning the G. E. railway line was covered, and in the afternoon the train service between Swavesey and St. Ives was suspended. The main road near the Swan pond at the Station end of the village was inundated with flood water rushing out of Hog Pastures. Planks for pedestrians were placed across the entrance to Hog Pasture and over the openings in the raised causeway by the Swan pond. Mr. R. Bedford, Friesland Farm, and family, and the occupants of Mow Fen and Hog Pasture railway gate houses, had to leave their homes.

ILLNESS OF A "CONTEMPTIBLE". 21st Feb. 1919

Pte. Arthur Whybrow, Royal Fusiliers, who left Swavesey on Friday in last week, on his return to Cologne after 14 days' leave, was taken seriously ill with influenza while passing through London, and has been admitted to a military hospital. The latest news of him states that he is slightly better. Pte. Whybrow is a genuine "Contemptible". He began the war near Mons in August, 1914, and was close to that town when the armistice was signed. We much regret to hear that his brother, whom he went to see on his way through London, has died from influenza.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 21st Feb. 1919

Sergt. Cyril Day (1914 Star). Northants. Yeomanry, has arrived home from Italy and has been demobilised. He was called up on mobilisation in August, 1914, went to France on the 7th November, 1914, and in November, 1917, he proceeded to Italy. Sergt. C. Wood, Royal Fusiliers, who has also been demobilised, reached Swavesey on Sunday evening from Cologne. He joined up on October 14th, 1914, and has been serving on the Western front since 14th October, 1915. Pte. Henry Wilderspin, Garrison Guard, has likewise come home from France and has been demobilised. Down to the present 19 Swavesey residents have obtained their discharge on demobilisation.

LOCAL HONOUR. 21st Feb. 1919

Sergt. C. Wood, 23rd Royal Fusiliers, has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal, the announcement having been made in the recent New Year's Honours List. In civil life he is the headmaster of Swavesey National School. He joined the 23rd Royal Fusiliers, then the Sportsman's Battalion, on the 14th October, 1914, and was promoted sergeant on 14th July, 1915. On the 14th October, 1915, he proceeded with his battalion to France, and remained with it until he left Cologne last week to be demobilised. In May, 1918, he was for a short time attached to the American Army as a cookery instructor, and recently he was detached for duty in connection with the Belgian food supply.

PARISH COUNCIL. 21st Feb. 1919

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held on Monday evening at the National School, and was attended by Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman) Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Day, jun., J. S. Goad, R. Norman and A. T. Scard, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The minutes of the quarterly meeting held on 20th January were signed, after amendment. The Chairman then brought up the question of the Roll of Honour for the parish, and asked the Council to decide finally where it should be exhibited. He had received, he said, a letter from the Vicar, a trustee of the National School, from which it appeared that that gentleman could not guarantee that no bills, etc., would be posted on the wall of the school where it was proposed that the case to contain the Roll should be placed. The Vicar, however, suggested that the Council should hire that portion of the school wall for a nominal annual rent of 6d., but added that the hiring would have to be renewed every year, as he could not bind his successor. After a short discussion, Mr. Scard proposed that the new case for the Roll, which has been presented to the parish by the Chairman, should be placed on the parish property in High-street. Mr. Goad seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously. A further resolution proposed by Mr. Scard and seconded by Mr. Cole, empowering the Chairman and Mr. Goad to superintend the erection of the case, and authorising them to have the necessary alteration made in the wall of the property, was also adopted unanimously. Mr. Burton, on behalf of Mr. Twist, who could not attend through illness, asked where the stretcher which had been presented by the Swavesey Voluntary Aid Detachment should be deposited. The Chairman said that Mr. Burton had anticipated what he was about to mention. He had received a letter from the Commandant, Mrs. Ellis Long, who, in announcing the gift, had asked that the stretcher might be kept at Mr. Robinson Mitham's house. Mr. Mitham strenuously protested that he had no convenience for housing the stretcher, and Mr. Goad proposed that, subject to the consent of the managers, the stretcher should be kept at the school, and that the headmaster be authorised to give the children object lessons with it if he should see fit. The motion was carried unanimously, the Clerk being instructed to convey to Mrs. Long the thanks of the Council. The Chairman then mentioned the question of the petty cash account which had been raised at the annual parish meeting held on 5th November last. The Clerk explained that the sum of £5 was still owing to him, and that he had not been paid for repairs executed on the parish property in High-street. He had, however, not yet submitted his bill. The councillors were anxious to get out of the Clerk's debt then and there, but unfortunately in the absence of the bill and the cheque book nothing could be done. The Clerk mentioned that the hitch which had arisen in settling up the matter of last year's seed potatoes had not yet been removed, and he added that he had been unable owing to the bad weather during the previous fortnight to repair the parish fence in Wallman's-lane. At the close of the meeting Mr. Scard announced that he was leaving Swavesey, and he took the opportunity of bidding farewell to his colleagues on the Council and of thanking them for the kindly and considerate way in which they had always treated him during his years of office. On behalf of the Council and himself, the Chairman expressed regret at Mr. Scard's departure, and their grateful appreciation of his useful services to the parish.

HOME FROM THE FRONT. 28th Feb. 1919

Pte. Christopher Day, R.A.M.C., youngest son of Mr. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, has arrived at home from France, having been demobilised after over three years' active service in Egypt and France.

A LONG LIFE. 28th Feb. 1919

Mr. Thomas Prior, Stanton View, Swavesey, was 88 years of age on Sunday. With the exception of nine months spent in Fenstanton some sixty years ago, he has passed the whole of his life in Swavesey. He is the oldest man in the parish.

THE FLOODS. 28th Feb. 1919

There is some improvement to report in regard to the floods at Swavesey. The train service to St. Ives which was suspended, was resumed on Saturday. Turn Bridge Cottages in the middle of the village were flooded in addition to the other houses mentioned last week. On Friday they were clear of water, and were cleaned out, but on the following day the muddy water returned. They were free once again on Tuesday.

HAVE YOU A VOTE? 28th Feb. 1919

Persons entitled to go on the Register of Parliamentary or Local Government Electors for the parish of Swavesey should see that their names duly appear in the new list of voters now exhibited at the Post Office. If their names, etc., have been omitted, or are incorrectly entered, they should follow the instructions given in the official notice posted on the parish notice board in High-street. Claims must be sent in by the 8th March. At the time of the General Election, it may be remembered, more than one person eligible for a vote was unable to poll as his, or her, name was not on the register.

NEWS FROM CONSTANTINOPLE. 28th Feb. 1919

Sapper A. C. Garner, R.E., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garner, Swavesey, writing on the 11th inst. from Constantinople, says: "The Y.M.C.A. have taken over one of the theatres here for concerts, "pictures", and lectures. There was a good concert last Friday given by the pierrot troupe of the 85th Infantry Brigade. (Sapper Garner enclosed the programme, and an excellent one it was). Now I must tell you what we had to do on Saturday morning on account of General Franchet D'Esperey coming to Constantinople – he is a great French General. Our company, myself included, had to get up at 5 a.m., have breakfast at 5.30, and parade at 6 o'clock. Then we marched through the town to the quay, where we found civil labour, and about 20 lorries filled with sand, waiting for us. One sapper and four civilians were allotted to each lorry, and we had to see the men spread the sand all over the road through the main street from the quay to the British Embassy. General D'Esperey arrived at 10 o'clock, and there was a brilliant display of military splendours. The houses and shops were decorated with French, British, Italian, Greek, Armenian, Jewish and other flags of all sizes. The windows and balconies of the houses in the street along which the General had to pass were occupied by groups of men and women. All private traffic was suspended. Soldiers representing all the Allied troops stationed in Constantinople were lined up on both sides of the route from the quay to the French Embassy in the following order: Companies of Scotch Highlanders and other British troops, French, and then Italian. It was fine but very cold, and in the evening it was snowing. The General had a good reception.

THE COAL QUESTION. 28th Feb. 1919

A meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Fuel and Lighting Committee was held at their office at Swavesey on Tuesday, when the question of the short supply of coal was thoroughly gone into. The Local Fuel Overseer reported having attended a meeting at Cambridge on January 24th, which was addressed by a representative from the Coal Controller's Headquarters, who impressed upon those present the great necessity of carrying out the instructions as to the registration and distribution, and pointed out that emergency coal was now unobtainable, and customers should use every effort to reduce their consumption to the lowest possible level. Although a slight shortage had been experienced in the district during the past two or three weeks, supplies have during the past few days come to hand more regularly, and the thanks of the Fuel Committee and also of the consumers are due to those gentlemen, Mr. A. Day and Mr. F. Kirby, who mutually handed over to the local coal dealers the small stocks of coal which they had on hand for agricultural purposes, and which alleviated the shortage for a few days. A further small supply is promised by Mr. Ingle Hemington, of Over, from the brickyard there if necessity arises. The registration of consumers so far as this district is concerned is quite complete. An application from the local coal dealers for an increase in the price of coal was considered, and the committee being of the opinion that the dealers had put their case fairly and reasonably, and were entitled to the increase asked for, it was proposed, seconded, and carried unanimously that the retail maximum prices of all class of coal retailed in the district be increased 1½d. per cwt., or 2s. 6d. per ton, as from March 1st next, subject to the approval of the Divisional Officer.

VILLAGE HALL. 28th Feb. 1919

A ratepayer writes: - A few weeks ago the Swavesey correspondent of the "Press and News" called attention to the urgent need for a village hall in the parish, and made the excellent suggestion, with which I entirely agree, that the property in High-street, bequeathed to the parish by the late Mr. George Long, was the most suitable site for such a building, and that the hall should be a memorial of the war and of the Swavesey men who have taken part in it. I sincerely hope the proposal will be adopted, but some time must necessarily elapse before a hall could be erected. In the meantime may I suggest a way in which immediate needs can be met? In a London daily paper of a few days ago I saw an announcement that large numbers of huts, built all over the country during the war, for the Army, munition work, and other purposes, will shortly be sold by the Hut Department of the Disposal Board. Some, it was stated, will be sold by tender and others put up for auction locally, and it was added that although up to the present the huts have not been handed over for disposal in large numbers, there is a great demand for them by local authorities, Crown agents for the Colonies, and manufacturers. The journal went on to say that the huts can be used for many purposes, including recreation rooms and village dancing halls. Why, may I ask, should not the Parish Council of Swavesey obtain one of these huts and erect it in High-street for a village hall? The school which is now used for meetings, entertainments, etc., is not suitable for the purpose, and moreover, is not the property of the parish. There is also a probability that under the new Education Act it will not be available so freely as at present for public purposes. I am no mushroom ratepayer. My name has been on the Swavesey rate-book for over 30 years. I am no advocate of reckless expenditure, nor of wild cat schemes. But this proposal I strongly urge my fellow parishioners to adopt as the preliminary step towards the provision of a permanent village hall, and a worthy memorial of the gallant sons of Swavesey who have served and fought, and some, alas, have died in the war.

SWAVESEY MAN AWARDED THE D.C.M. 28th Feb. 1919

Sergt. Cyril Day, Northants. Yeomanry, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, Mill Farm, Swavesey, has been awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for conspicuous gallantry in Italy. On the first day of the advance over the Piavo last November, Sergt. Day, commanding a detached section of nine men, was on patrol, and the party was held up by heavy machine-gun fire. Seeing that the party had not been detected, he promptly worked round to the rear of a large body of Austrians, whom he decided to attack. Ordering the men to fire one round without dismounting, he called upon them to draw swords, and then the party charged at the gallop. The surprise was complete. The Austrians, one man alone excepted, held up their hands, and nine hundred surrendered to the sergeant and his nine troopers. The man who showed fight levelled a revolver at one of the troopers, who promptly ran him through the throat with his sword. For his gallant service Sergt. Day was given the D.C.M., while one of the troopers received the Military Medal. Another incident, hitherto unrecorded, of Sergt. Day's pluck and resource happened in France in the trenches at Monchy. A German had been giving considerable trouble with rifle grenades, and the gallant sergeant determined to see what he could do to abate the nuisance. So one night, carrying only a revolver, he went out by himself through the barbed wire into "No Man's Land." He found the Hun's dug-out, but to his disappointment, no trace of the man. In the dug-out there was a parcel fresh from the man's German home, and an overcoat, and both of these Sergt. Day brought back to his own lines.

SEEDS. 7th March 1919

Just received, Sharp's reliable Vegetable and Flower Seeds. – H. S. Aldred, Swavesey.

AN ANNIVERSARY. 7th March 1919

Last Monday was the sixth anniversary of the great Swavesey fire.

AN INFLUENZA VICTIM. 7th March 1919

The sad news reached Swavesey last week-end that Miss Walpole, who resided at Ivo House, Middle Watch, had died on the 27th February in London from influenza.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 7th March 1919

After an absence of nearly four and a half years serving with the Royal Fusiliers, three and a half of which were spent on the Western front, Mr. Charles Wood resumed his duties as headmaster of Swavesey National School on Monday. His place during the last three years has been taken by Mr. George Hicks, late of Fenstanton, to whom the children have made a presentation of a silver ashtray.

FROM THE FRONT. 7th March 1919

Pte. Frank H. Wilderspin, Manchester Regt., has arrived at home from Italy, where he had been serving since November, 1917, and has been demobilised. He was called up with the Northants. Yeomanry on mobilisation in August, 1914, but did not go to France with his regiment, as he was under age. Soon after his transfer to the Manchesters in August, 1917, he was sent to France and thence to Italy. Sergt.-Major Albert A. Girling, R.A.F., after four years in France, has returned to this country.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE DAY. 7th March 1919

Death has claimed another of Swavesey's aged and greatly respected parishioners in the person of Mrs. Betsy Day, widow of the late Mr. George Day, who passed away in the early hours of Saturday morning at her residence in Wallman's-lane. She had attained the great age of 85 years, and had been in feeble health for some time. The daughter of the late Mr. James Williams, butcher, etc., of Swavesey, she had spent the whole of her long life in the parish. She leaves one daughter and three sons. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery, and was attended by many friends. Mr. E. Short, Baptist minister, Swavesey, officiated. The mourners were Mr. Alfred Day, Mr. Ezra Day, Mr. Jabez Day (sons), Miss Emma Day (daughter), Mrs. Alfred Day, Mrs. Ezra Day, and Mrs. Jabez Day (daughters-in-law), and Miss Bessie Day, Mr. Alfred Day, jun., Mr. Cyril Day, D.C.M., Mr. Christopher Day, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Parish, and Miss Mary Day (grandchildren). (Further mourners in newspaper). The coffin was of oak. Mr. Robinson Mitham carried out the funeral arrangements.

SERGT. CYRIL DAY. 7th March 1919

Sergt. Day writes: - "Some mistake has been made in your issue of February 28th. It stated that I went to the enemy post from the trenches in France alone; on this occasion I had three mates who had volunteered to go with me. It was also stated that 900 Austrians surrendered to us; this number is far above the actual number who surrendered. What I was enabled to do was by help given in answer to prayer and through faith in God. These errors may lead to much unpleasantness or trouble afterwards, so I felt it my duty to correct them." - Our Swavesey representative says: Sergt. Day's modesty, which might be described as somewhat excessive, must be held responsible for the inaccuracies of which he complains. He kept the fact that he had even won the D.C.M. a secret. I heard of it by chance, and was informed on the highest authority that it was useless to apply to him for information, as I should "get nothing out of him." More than that, he was away from home at the time. I had therefore to go elsewhere for the story, and got it from a source that was in some respects better than Sergt. Day himself. And now for the inaccuracies. Sergt. Day says not so many as 900 Austrians surrendered to his little party, but he does not give the actual figure. 900 was apparently the number credited to him and his men by their comrades in the regiment. He does not deny that a large body of the enemy was captured. Why quibble over a score or two more or less? Again he says he was not alone when he visited the Hun bomber's dug-out in France, but had three mates with him on this occasion. To this I reply that I am informed that this was not Sergt. Day's sole adventure of this kind. My informant may therefore easily have muddled up one midnight prowl in "No Man's Land" with another, and in confirmation of this let me quote the sergeant's words "on this occasion." As regards the D.C.M., comrades of the gallant sergeant have told me that the distinction was honestly won and thoroughly deserved.

ADVERT. 14th March 1919

ARTHUR PRIOR has opened a shop in the centre of the village for the sale of Fish, and he solicits the patronage of the neighbourhood. Fresh Fish on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Bloaters, Kippers, Fresh Herrings, etc., three times a week.

PARISH COUNCIL ELECTION. 14th March 1919

A Parish Meeting is to be held at the National School at six o'clock on Monday evening for the election of a new Parish Council. It is understood that a local branch of the Agricultural Labourers' Union intend to run candidates.

DIED A PRISONER OF WAR. 14th March 1919

Official intimation has been received that Rifleman Arthur George Ding, Rifle Brigade, died on the 16th August last while a prisoner of war. He was wounded and captured on 1st August, when serving with the Salonica Force, and no tidings of him had been received since the news of his capture. Rifleman Ding was the eldest son of the late Mr. Joseph Ding, of Swavesey. He leaves a widow and two children.

BAD FOR PASSENGERS. 14th March 1919

The footpath of the main road through Middle Watch and Boxworth End is in a very bad condition. Opposite Mill Farm, owing to the bursting of a public water supply pipe, that path has been bridged with two sheets of corrugated iron and some boards, and is dangerous to pedestrians in the dark, and in one or two places nearer to Boxworth End the path is frequently completely flooded in consequence, it is believed, of a blocked or defective drain. Mr. James Prior's shop is surrounded by water.

A WAR MEMORIAL. 14th March 1919

We have received the following letter from a correspondent: "I'm very glad a suggestion has been made in your columns concerning a memorial of our boys' sacrifices and heroism during the Great War. Surely the excellent idea of a public hall for Swavesey will, and does, appeal to all, more especially as our late respected townsman, Mr. George Long, bequeathed, amongst other property, a site near the Post-office, to the parish of Swavesey. Doubtless the income, small though it is, has accumulated, being, I assume, carried to a separate fund. Surely a Y.M.C.A. Hut could be secured now, and utilised till sufficient funds are in hand for a permanent building. It is said, 'He that gives promptly gives twice.' My name has been for over 20 years on the ratepayers' book, and is still there. Trusting there will be no postponement of the good work, and that a united effort will be made at once. – Yours, etc., 'Pro Bono Publico.'”

PLEASANT EVENING. 14th March 1919

On Thursday evening, 6th inst., Bethel Schoolroom was filled with an appreciative audience on the occasion of the Sunday School scholars giving a pleasant evening. The Superintendent (Mr. H. S. Aldred) presided, and the long and varied programme was arranged by Mrs. W. Savage and Miss Ridley. Miss Endersby was accompanist. Among those taking part were: Leah Spearman, Ethel Savage, Beatrice Savage, Ruby Williams, Hilda Dodson, Joyce Dodson, Doris Aldred, Winnie Godfrey, Rose Spearman, Hubert Dodson, George Spearman, Frank Aldred, and George Day. Those in addition to the scholars taking part were Miss I. Spearman and Miss E. Prior. Thanks were accorded at the close to all who had contributed to the success of the evening.

WEDDING. 14th March 1919

A pretty wedding took place at St. Matthew's Church, Cambridge, on the 1st inst., the happy couple being Miss Violet Jeanette Middleton, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Middleton of Cambridge, and Mr. Charles Symonds, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Symonds, Boxworth End, Swavesey. The Rev. F. Hawtrey May officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dove grey dress, with bridal veil and orange blossom. She carried a bouquet of carnations and narcissi, the gift of the bridegroom. Attending her were four bridesmaids, Miss Evelyn Symonds (sister of the bridegroom), Miss Florence Middleton (sister of the bride), Miss M. Garner and Miss W. Hensley. They wore gold brooches, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. J. Symonds (brother of the bridegroom) was best man.

ILLNESS OF A SOLDIER. 21st March 1919

Trooper A. Large, Yeomanry, has been dangerously ill with pneumonia, following influenza, and his parents were telegraphed for last week. His condition has improved slightly, but he is still seriously ill. He is in hospital at Colchester.

TRAP FOR THE UNWARY. 21st March 1919

The iron hydrant box connected with the public water supply near the school, at the corner of Carter's-lane, juts above the level of the footpath, and has been the cause of several people tripping up. On Monday evening a lady narrowly escaped a serious fall.

DISCHARGED. 21st March 1919

Pte. A. F. Welch, Yorkshire Regiment, who enlisted in 1911, has been discharged from the Army, being no longer physically fit for service. He went to France on 4th October, 1914, and was wounded during that month. On recovering he went to Gallipoli, where he was again wounded. His subsequent service was in this country.

DEFECTIVE STILES. 21st March 1919

A prominent ratepayer desires to call the attention of the Parish Council to the condition of the stiles on the bank of the Navigation Drain – a favourite way to the river from the village. The stiles were repaired a few years ago by the Council, but are now useless for practical purposes. He also thinks the Council might with advantage have the stiles on the footway from Swavesey Recreation Ground to Over repaired.

DISTRICT COUNCIL ELECTION. 21st March 1919

Nominations closed yesterday for the election of two district councillors and guardians for the parish of Swavesey. We understand that Mr. Alfred Day, sen., who has represented the parish as district councillor and guardian for the last 25 years, has again been nominated, and also Mr. J. L. Stanton. Mr. Ebenezer Parish, an old member of the Council, has been compelled to retire in consequence of ill-health. Rumours have been current that the Labour party intend to run candidates, but no names have transpired.

MAJOR R. ELLIS. 21st March 1919

Having been demobilised, Major Robert Ellis, R.A.M.C. (T.) has returned from the Western front, and is now in Swavesey. Major Ellis, then lieutenant, was mobilised on 4th August, 1914, with the county regiment, 1st Battalion Cambs. Regt., and was one of the six Territorials from Swavesey called up that day. He proceeded with the 88th Field Ambulance in the famous 29th Division to the Dardenelles on 20th March, 1915, and took part in the original landing on the Gallipoli Peninsula on Sunday morning, 25th April, 1915. After the evacuation of the Peninsula, he accompanied the Division to Egypt, and remained at Suez until March, 1916, when the Division proceeded to France. Major Ellis served on every part of the Western front between Ypres and the Somme, and in all five Armies. Latterly he was with a casualty clearing station as second in command.

RETURN OF A "CONTEMPTIBLE." 21st March 1919

On the morning of Wednesday, 5th August, 1914, Driver Henry J. Carter R.F.A., a reservist, left Swavesey on mobilisation. A few days later he sailed from Dundalk with his battery, and on August 17th landed in France. He fought in the battle of Mons with the 5th Division, and took his share in the ever-famous retreat. His brigade lost 16 of its 18 guns, but kept on the fight with two. With the exception of two or three short periods of leave Driver Carter never left the Western front throughout the war, and was never in hospital until a few days before the armistice was signed, when he had to undergo treatment for trench fever and gas. Latterly he has been with the 18th Division at Le Cateau. Close to his billets in the village of Roumont was a board affixed to a wall bearing the inscription "5th Division Headquarters – 1914." Thus in 1919 Driver Carter ended where he began in 1914. He was demobilised on Friday last on his arrival from France, and reached his home in Swavesey on Monday night.

PARISH COUNCIL ELECTION. 21st March 1919

A Parish meeting for the election of parish councillors was held at the National School on Monday evening. Major R. Ellis, on the proposition of Mr. C. W. H. Cole, was elected chairman by acclamation, and on taking the chair was received with hearty applause, this being his first public appearance in the parish since his return from more than four and a half years' strenuous active service. Fourteen nomination papers were handed in, five in excess of the number of persons to be elected, and a show of hands was therefore taken in favour of each candidate with the following result: Mr. F. J. Beales (railway stationmaster), 26 votes; Mr. W. Burton (fruit grower), 24 (old member); Mr. J. L. Stanton (gentleman), 23; Mr. J. S. Goad (farmer), 22 (old member); Mr. R. Norman (farmer), 22 (old member); Mr. A. Norman (farmer), 21 (old member); Mr. W. Twist (fruit grower), 21 (old member); Mr. C. W. H. Cole (farmer), 20 (old member); Mr. F. Norman (farmer), 19; Mr. J. Ansell (railway platelayer), 13; Mr. H. Hovell (railway platelayer), 11; Mr. A. P. Payne (chauffeur and gardener), 11; Mr. C. W. Savage (temporary postman), 11; Mr. J. E. Loades (agricultural labourer), 10. Messrs. Ansell, Hovell, Payne, Savage and Loades demanded a poll, which will be taken on a date to be arranged later. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

The five candidates who received the fewest votes were the nominees of the local branch of the Agricultural Labourers' Union.

IN MEMORIAM. 21st March 1919

GRAVES. – In everloving memory of my dear husband, Henry George Graves, R.G.A., of Swavesey, who died of wounds on 25th March, 1918, at Ypres.

“Gone from us, but not forgotten.”

LOCAL HONOUR. 4th April 1919

Corpl. Jack Wilderspin, Canadian Infantry, son of the late Mr. John Wilderspin, Swavesey, has been awarded the Military Medal. He joined up in Canada soon after the outbreak of war, and went to France early in 1915. In November, 1917, he was wounded by shrapnel in the right leg. Corpl. Wilderspin paid a flying visit to his native village on Monday.

REV. E. G. PETERSON'S FAREWELL. 4th April 1919

The Rev. E. G. Peterson, who has been in charge of the parish during the absence of the Vicar on active service, said farewell to the congregation at the parish church on Sunday evening. He has won golden opinions during his stay in Swavesey, and his departure is much regretted. The Vicar has been demobilised, and is expected home this week.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE. 4th April 1919

A demobilised soldier who had been away in France and elsewhere for three years proceeded to the Hale Allotments the other afternoon to dig his land. After he had been at work for some time another allotment holder asked him if he knew whose plot he was attending so carefully. The “demoralised” man then discovered to his sorrow that he had been digging another man's land.

DISASTER TO A VILLAGE PUMP. 4th April 1919

A horse and van belonging, it is believed, to a Cambridge firm was drawn up outside the New Inn, Huntingdon-road, on Thursday morning in last week, when something startled the horse, which bolted along Bucking Way towards the village of Swavesey. The horse galloped gaily along until it came into collision with a wayside village pump in Middle Watch. The pump collapsed, and the animal stopped and was secured by Mr. Cecil Dean, whose shop and bakehouse were close by.

PARISH COUNCIL. 4th April 1919

The final meeting of the old Parish Council was held on Friday evening at the National school. Major R. Ellis presided, and the other councillors present were: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. S. Goad, R. Norman and W. Twist, and the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. The Chairman of the Council, Mr. A. Norman, arrived during the meeting. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been signed, and one or two matters arising out of the minutes had been settled, the councillors proceeded to deal with their accounts for the year. Major Ellis then brought up the question of a war memorial for the parish. He believed that the parishioners generally felt that there should be a memorial, and that it should take the form of something useful to the community. A village hall had been suggested, and was needed, as the school was most unsuitable for meetings, entertainments, etc. He assured the Council that an Army hut would not be satisfactory, and he suggested that the mission church at Boxworth End, should, if possible be purchased and removed to the parish property in High-street. The church was of wood, and being built in sections, could be taken down and re-erected without much difficulty. A hall could be used as a place of recreation for the younger people, who now had nowhere to spend their spare time, besides being useful for meetings, entertainments, etc. He maintained that the Mission Church was now practically useless. Major Ellis concluded by asking the views of the councillors, and suggesting that a resolution should be drawn up for submission to the annual Parish Meeting to be held the following week. A discussion followed, in which all the councillors joined. Major Ellis gave the measurements of the church, and expressed the opinion that two bays should be added to the building to enable 300 people to be accommodated. Mr. Burton urged that a good brick building of a permanent character should be erected. He believed that as the church had been built for a good many years it could not be in good condition, and would therefore be a continual expense. Major Ellis, on the contrary, thought the church would last a hundred years. The subject then dropped.

PARISH MEETING. 4th April 1919

The annual Parish Meeting was held at the National School on Thursday evening. In the absence of the Chairman of the Parish Council, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey was voted to the chair. There was a good attendance. The minutes of the previous meetings having been read and signed, the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham, read the annual accounts of the Parish Council and the Recreation Ground, and lastly, of Galon's Charity. In connection with the charity accounts there was an interesting discussion relative to the non-distribution of coal this winter. Mr. A. Payne wanted to know whether the money not spent on coal could be devoted to any other purpose. The Chairman replied that he could not answer the question off-hand, but if the money accumulated for some years the Charity Commissioners would have to be applied to for instructions. The Clerk stated that the merchant to whom the order for this year's coal had been given was unable to obtain "additional" coal. Mr. F. J. Beales, who spoke with authority as the Clerk of the Local Fuel and Lighting Committee, explained the difficulty in which the coal merchant was placed – additional coal was unobtainable. He asked whether the trustees could spend the money in paying for the ordinary supply of coal to those house-holders who are entitled to charity coal. The Chairman thought the trustees could adopt the suggestion, and after some discussion Mr. Beales proposed "that the trustees of Galon's Charity be asked to meet at an early date with the view of disposing of the Charity Coal Funds now in hand by paying for the ordinary deliveries of coal to the qualified householders so far as the cash will go." Mr. J. Ansell seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. Mr. Hovell was anxious to know how much the trustees received in salaries for their services in connection with the charity. The Chairman, who is one of the trustees, replied that they received no remuneration, and the Clerk added that the only administration expense incurred by the charity was the salary of the Clerk, £2 per annum, and a trifling sum for postage. He provided stationery, etc., free of charge. The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by Mr. Walter Thorp, and seconded by Mr. C. Savage.

PARISH COUNCIL. 11th April 1919

The poll demanded at the recent Parish Meeting for the election of the parish councillors took place at the National School on Monday. The hours of polling, originally fixed at from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., were on Saturday altered to noon to 8 p.m. At first voting proceeded slowly, but after 4 o'clock the Deputy Returning Officer, Mr. George A. Harrison, St. Ives, and his poll clerk, Miss Gladys Harrison, were kept hard at work. In all 211 of the 400 local government electors of Swavesey went to the poll, and there was only one spoilt ballot paper. Shortly before 9.30 p.m. Mr. Harrison announced the result as follows:-

ELECTED.

F. J. Beales	180
*W. Burton	158
*R. Norman	156
*A Norman	155
*J. S. Goad	154
*W Twist	152
J. L. Stanton	151
*C. W. H. Cole	138
F. Norman	120

Not elected:- J. Ansell 58, A. W. Payne 42, C. W. Savage 27, H. Hovell 22, J. E. Loades 14.

* Old Member.

A crowd was in waiting outside the school to hear the results announced, but there was no excitement. The proceedings concluded by Mr. Beales proposing a vote of thanks to Mr. Harrison for the able and impartial way in which he had carried out his duties. Mr. Ansell seconded, and Mr. Harrison briefly responded. The poll more than confirmed the verdict of the parish meeting. The candidates successful then were triumphant at the poll, and in practically the same order. Mr. Beales, the top scorer obtained 26 votes at the meeting, as against 13 votes given to Mr. Ansell, who headed the list of unfortunates at the meeting and at the poll. On Monday Mr. Beales received more votes than were given for all the defeated aspirants to parochial honours put together, all of whom were nominees of the local branch of the Agricultural Labourers' Union.

OBITUARY. 18th April 1919

Mr. John Parish, son of the late Mr. Abraham and Mrs. Sarah Parish, of Swavesey, has died in London, where he had been living for many years. He left a widow and one daughter. The funeral took place in London on Wednesday.

CRICKET CLUB. 18th April 1919

A general meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on the 9th instant. The accounts for the year 1914, which showed a balance to the credit of the club of £3 10s., were audited and passed. Officers for the ensuing season were elected, viz., captain, C. Wood; vice-captain, A. J. Willson; hon. sec. and treasurer, E. J. Mitham; assistant secretaries, Frank Hepher and Cyril Godfrey. The secretary was instructed to write to the clubs in the surrounding villages for fixtures for the ensuing season, and the captain and vice-captain undertook to look through the property of the club and report to the committee respecting its condition, and what renewals, etc., were necessary. It is specially desired that the younger men of the parish should join the club, and take their share in representing Swavesey in the national game. The subscriptions have been fixed at 2s. for members between 16 and 18 years of age, and 2s. 6d. for those above that age. It is hoped that matches will be played at the feast, which this year falls in the first week in June.

CORPL. JACK WILDERSPIN. M.M. 18th April 1919

It was recently announced in these columns that Corpl. Jack Wilderspin, 4th Canadian Infantry, had been awarded the Military Medal. Information has since come to hand as to the circumstances in which the distinction was won. On the 27th September, 1918, Jack Wilderspin was called upon to lead a party to silence a machine gun which was holding up the advance on Cambrai and causing many casualties. The gun was silenced, and also every man with it. For this service Wilderspin was promoted and awarded the Military Medal. On October 1st he was again called upon, this time to lead his platoon into action, and he gained his objective and held it. Though wounded in the shoulder, he carried on till the roll was called, and then only five out of the platoon answered to their names, three of whom were wounded. He was again recommended for promotion. With his battalion, Corpl. Wilderspin marched into Germany, and remained there with the Army of Occupation for several weeks before returning to this country. He has paid what he believes to be his final visit to his relatives in Cambridgeshire, and hopes shortly to go back to Canada to be demobilised, and to resume the work in which he was engaged when early in August, 1914, he enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

WAR MEMORIAL. 18th April 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: - It seems desirable that no further time should be lost in bringing the question of a war memorial for the parish of Swavesey within the region of practical politics. The suggestion first made in the columns of this journal that a village hall, which is badly needed, might be a suitable memorial, was brought before the last meeting of the Parish Council by Major Ellis, who proposed the acquisition of the wooden mission church at Boxworth End and its re-erection after lengthening on the parish property in High-street. His suggestion that a resolution framed by the Council should be submitted to the annual Parish Meeting, which was to be held within a few days, was, however, not adopted. Notwithstanding this, several persons, it is understood, specially attended the Parish Meeting on April 1st, because they believed the subject would be discussed, but it was not even mentioned. At a previous meeting of the Council a list of sites, suitable for the erection of labourers' cottages, was drawn up for the information of the Rural District Council. In that list the High-street site was included, but it is obvious that the land cannot be used for a village hall and also for the erection of cottages. It is eminently suited for the former – in fact it would be difficult to find a better position for a hall – while opinions differ as to its suitability for cottages. The site is in the centre of the village, exactly where a hall should be, and is already the property of the parish. If used for cottages, it would presumably cease to belong to the parish, and, in the event of a hall being decided on, other land would have to be purchased. There are other points worthy of consideration and inquiry. The late Mr. George Long, who bequeathed the property to the parish, had in his mind for some years before his death the erection of a hall on this piece of land. Did he in his will, or otherwise, specifically indicate to what purpose the land should be put, or did he authorise the handing over of the property to another public body if the Parish Council should think fit? Further, has the Parish Council to dispose of the property, which, presumably, it holds in trust for the parish, or even to offer it, without previously obtaining the consent of the Parish Meeting? If Swavesey is not to be one of the few villages without a memorial – Swavesey with its long roll of fighting sons who have served and suffered, been maimed or have died in this war – now is the time to decide what form the memorial should take. If a hall be found to be beyond the resources of the parish, then let the memorial take a humbler form. Let us, however, have a tangible, visible, monument of some kind. A formal Parish Meeting, at which only duly registered local government electors can speak and vote is not the best method of ventilating the question. What is wanted is a public meeting at which all parishioners can be present, and can give expression to their opinions.

VESTRY MEETING. 25th April 1919

The Easter Vestry meeting was held at the Parish Church on Monday, and was attended by about a dozen parishioners. Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp were re-appointed churchwardens. There was no other business.

DEMOBILISED. 25th April 1919

Sergt. George Dean, R.A.M.C., has returned home from Italy, and has been demobilised. He joined up on January 20th, 1915, and went to France on May 9th following. Here he remained until November, 1917, when he was sent to Italy.

REV. H. T. N. USSHER. 25th April 1919

After some months' service with the Y.M.C.A. in France, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Bethel Baptist Chapel, has returned to his duties in Swavesey. He has, we regret to say, been suffering from pleurisy and trench fever, and is still looking far from well.

A BAD START. 25th April 1919

The newly-elected Parish Council is making an unfortunate start. According to the standing orders, the first (or annual) meeting of the Council should have been held on April 15th, or on the Monday immediately following. Both of these dates have passed, and the Council has not yet met.

BITTEN BY A DOG. 25th April 1919

Mrs. Cooksey, wife of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, was severely bitten by her own dog, a cross-bred spaniel, at Swavesey railway station, on Monday afternoon. The dog had a fight with another animal, when Mrs. Cooksey interfered, with unfortunate results. Accompanied by Mr. Cooksey, she went to St. Ives by train, which arrived shortly after the mishap, and was attended to by Dr. Grove.

OBITUARY. 25th April 1919

A well-known personality has departed. Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, once a carrier from this village to Cambridge and St. Ives, passed away full of years during the early hours of Tuesday morning. He had been in failing health for some time. As a young man he enlisted in the Coldstream Guards during the Russian War, and was sent to the Crimea, but did not land until just after the cessation of hostilities.

MILK PRICES. 25th April 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent, writing on Wednesday says: From inquiry it is learned that no meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Food Committee has yet been called to consider the question of the summer prices of milk, which should come into force on May 1st. Last year, when prices were reduced, the Committee was late in acting, and in consequence the public were called upon to pay more than they should have done for about a month.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 25th April 1919

An entertainment provided entirely by the children of the Band of Hope was given at the Friends' Meeting House on the 14th inst., and afforded great satisfaction to the crowded audience. Mr. H. S. Aldred was in the chair. The programme included hymns, recitations, songs, action songs, and dialogues, and was contributed to by Lily Melbourne, Beattie Mann, Gertie Froment, Winnie Godfrey, Emily Prior, Sally Daintree, Maggie Prior, Teddy Melbourne, Dolly Coulson, Stanley Godfrey, etc. The children were well trained by Miss Gaunt. Miss Riley, Wisbech, presided at the organ.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 25th April 1919

On Good Friday a public tea was held in the schoolroom attached to the Bethel Baptist Chapel, and was well attended. A concert in the chapel followed, the Rev. H. T. Ussher, pastor, being in the chair. The excellent programme was provided by kind friends from St. Ives, under the capable management of Mr. C. York, and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. At the conclusion, on the proposition of the Chairman, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the performers. The proceeds, after payment of expenses, will be devoted to the Chapel Renovation Fund, which incurred very heavy liability a few years ago, owing to extensive repairs to the chapel buildings. (Programme in newspaper).

PARISH CHURCH. 25th April 1919

A meeting of the congregation was held in the tower of the Parish Church on Tuesday, the Vicar presiding. He first expressed his thanks to the churchwardens and all other church workers for their services during the past year. After the re-election of sidesmen, Mr. W. T. Thorp (people's warden) read out the balance sheet, showing £20 14s. 9d. in hand. The Vicar stated how grateful all were to the Rev. E. G. Peterson for the kindly and efficient way in which he had fulfilled the duties of a locum tenens. The presence of some demobilised soldiers elicited expressions of welcome and gratitude that so many had returned to the parish. It was decided to purchase a church room now at Willingham, and re-erect it by the Vicarage gates at a cost of £70. A question of a war memorial was raised, and the unanimous opinion of the meeting was that this should be a religious and permanent one. It was decided that it take the form of a large granite cross, bearing the names of all those who had fallen, to be erected by the gates of the churchyard.

PREFERMENT. 2nd May 1919

The Rev. Anderson W. Wells, son of Mr. James Wells, Swavesey, has been appointed to the living of Golthorp, Yorkshire, in the diocese of Sheffield. Mr. Wells is a graduate of the University of Durham.

FROM THE FRONT. 2nd May 1919

Second Lieut. E. Williams, 5th Northants. Regt., arrived in Swavesey on Monday on short leave from France. He is in excellent health. On Saturday Pte. William H. Metcalfe, 13th Royal Fusiliers, attached P.O.W. Company, came home from France on 14 days' furlough. He is also in good health.

SNOW. 2nd May 1919

The weather last week-end was more remarkable than acceptable. On Saturday there were hail storms with occasional heavy showers of rain, and on Sunday evening a blizzard which quickly covered land, roads, buildings, etc., with at least six inches of snow, hardly a vestige of which remained at mid-day on Monday.

DEMOBILISED. 2nd May 1919

Pte. Sidney W. Wright, Labour Co., has arrived home from France, having been demobilised. He joined the Bedford Regt. on 1st November, 1915, but was transferred to the Machine Gun Corps in April, 1916, and soon found himself in France. Last December he was posted to a Labour Co. He has been wounded three times.

FUNERAL. 2nd May 1919

With rain falling heavily the funeral of the late Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, village pinder and erstwhile carrier, whose death at the age of 84 years was announced last week, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Mr. E. Short, of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated. The mourners were Mr. Joseph Wilderspin, Plaistow (son), Mrs. Devereux, London (sister), Mrs. Cracknell, Cambridge, Miss F. Gaunt, Mrs. Bishop, Pte. and Mrs. S. W. Wright, Mr. Jethro Linford representing the Wheatsheaf Lodge of Shepherds, to which the deceased had belonged for many years, and two or three other villagers. Mr. R. Mitham was the undertaker.

WAR MEMORIAL. 2nd May 1919

A second meeting of members of the congregation was held in the tower of the parish church on Tuesday evening to discuss the question of a memorial to the fallen soldiers of the village. A few more parishioners were present than at last week's meeting. The Vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, who presided, outlined what had been said and decided at the first meeting. It was proposed as an amendment that the memorial should be only a mural tablet in the church, but this was not approved by the majority of those present. To meet this proposal it was suggested and carried that an inexpensive marble tablet bearing the names of all the fallen should be placed in the church in addition to the cross to be erected by the gate of the churchyard. For these two objects it was thought that at least £200 must be raised. The Vicar and churchwardens were appointed official recipients of donations.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER. 2nd May 1919

We have to record the death of yet another Swavesey man, who has been serving his country in the war. Trooper Alfred Large, Yeomanry son of Mrs. Joseph Froment and the late Mr. Samuel Large, of Swavesey, passed away on Tuesday evening at the General Military Hospital, Colchester, where he had been lying seriously ill for some time. He was 25 years of age. Trooper Large joined the Northants. Yeomanry on February 15th, 1915, and served in France with that regiment. In June, 1917, he was invalided to this country with trench fever, but in December of that year, although far from being in good health, he returned to the front, and was transferred to the Yorkshire Dragoons. In July last he strained himself whilst bombing, and, after treatment in France, was sent to a hospital at Ipswich. He never regained his health, and at Christmas was down with influenza. Later he was removed to Colchester, where in March he was on the danger list with pneumonia, following influenza. His mother and sister were with him at the end. Alfred Large was a fine young fellow, universally beloved and deservedly popular. His loss will be keenly felt in Swavesey. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Parish Church on Monday afternoon. It is hoped that it will be of a military character.

WAR MEMORIAL. 2nd May 1919

No decision has been arrived at with regard to a war memorial for the parish of Swavesey; in fact, the matter has not yet been brought formally before the parishioners. The general opinion in the village appears to favour the erection of a public hall for meetings, entertainments and purposes of recreation, and at a recent meeting of the Parish Council, Major R. Ellis made the suggestion that the Mission Church at Boxworth End – a picturesque wooden structure about thirty years old – should be acquired, removed to a site belonging to the parish in the centre of the village, and utilised as a public hall and place of recreation. His suggestion that a resolution recommending the proposal should be drawn up and submitted to the annual parish meeting was, however, not adopted. So far as the Parish Church is concerned, it has been decided to erect a granite cross in the churchyard and place a tablet bearing the names of the fallen in the church. The villagers have not yet been afforded an opportunity of considering the proposed Cambridge Town, County, and Isle of Ely memorial, and if there has been any discussion on the subject, it has been in the privacy of home. There is reason to believe that the general feeling of the village will be that a local memorial should have first consideration, that to provide an adequate memorial will impose a severe strain on the resources of the parish, and that therefore there will be little, or nothing, to spare for the proposed county memorial.

A SOLDIER'S FUNERAL. 9th May 1919 IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT SWAVESEY.

The funeral of the late Pte. Alfred Large, 1/1st Yorkshire Dragoons, whose death from influenza, pneumonia, etc., at the Military Hospital, Colchester, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, in the presence of a very large concourse of people. When it was known that the body was to be brought home for burial, the dead soldier's local comrades decided that, if practicable, full military honours should be accorded. But there were difficulties. Major R. Ellis, R.A.M.C., and Sergt. C. Wood, however, took the matter in hand with characteristic energy, and by the courtesy of Col. H. J. Edwards, C.B., O.C. Troops, Cambridgeshire, Major F. G. Morgan, O.C. 1st Vol. Batt. Cambs Regt., and Capt. W. R. Elworthy, Secretary Territorial Force Association, rifles, bayonets, etc., were provided, and Regimental Sergt.-Major Bassett, 1st Cambs. Vol. Regt., was detailed to take charge. Sergt. Bugler J. J. S. Kent, 1st Cambs. Vol. Regt., was also sent to sound the "Last Post."

The firing party, all local men, with the exception of R.S.M. Bassett (viz., Sergt. G. Y. Goad, Sergt. Cyril Day, D.C.M., Lance-Corpl. R. Stubbings, Ptes. P. Badcock, F. Hephew, A. Holmes, R. Mitham, M.M., W. H. Metcalfe, A. G.

Parish, A. Prime, M.M., Russell, J. Taylor, and S. W. Wright), with a number of other soldiers, discharged, demobilised, or still serving, nearly all in khaki, under Sergt. C. W. Gray, assembled outside the National School, the whole being under the command of Major Ellis. They marched up Market-street and formed up outside the dead man's home. The bearers, Lance-Corpl. H. G. Key, Driver H. Carter, Ptes. E. J. Linford, C. H. Parish, W. Spolton and A. Whybrow, were in waiting. The coffin, with Union Jack as pall, and with bayonet, cap and belt resting on top, with a beautiful wreath from "his comrades", was placed reverently upon the hand hearse. The family mourners fell in behind, and the party of soldiers followed. Then, preceded by the firing party with arms reversed and with head bowed, the sad procession slowly wended its way through the sympathetic crowd to the parish church. The church bells were ringing muffled. The Vicar of Swavesey, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, lately a temporary chaplain to the Forces, met the body near the churchyard gates, and the coffin, followed by the mourners and soldiers, passed between the ranks of the firing party into the church. The choir, which included Sergt. Wood and Corpl. Prime, M.M., was already in the chancel, and the service began with the hymn "On Resurrection morning." Psalm xc. was said, and then Sergt. Wood read the lesson. After the hymn "Peace, perfect peace" had been sung, the Dead March in "Saul" was played most impressively by Mr. Jack Mustill, who presided at the organ, the congregation standing, and their utter stillness was most striking. Then whilst the Nunc Dimittis was being chanted, the coffin, preceded by the Vicar, was borne by the six stalwart bearers to the grave at the western end of the churchyard, opposite the tower. The bells, now half-muffled, rang once more. At the close three volleys were fired over the grave, and Sergt. Bugler Kent sounded the "Last Post." So ended the most impressive funeral in Swavesey in the memory of living man. It was a local concourse, drawn from Swavesey and neighbouring villages.

The family mourners were: Mrs. J. Froment (mother), Mr. J. Froment (step-father), Mrs. J. E. Loades and Miss F. Large (sisters), Messrs. T. C. G., and J. Froment, Misses B. Grace and Gertie Froment (half-brothers and sisters), Mrs. C. Walker (aunt), Mrs. B. Walker (sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Loades, Mr. and Mrs. C. Froment, Miss S. Savage, Miss M. Loades, Mrs. S. Daisley, Mr. J. Daisley and Miss F. Daisley.

At the close of his sermon on Sunday evening the Vicar made a sympathetic reference to the death of Pte. Large.

Mr. and Mrs. Froment and family desire to express their most sincere thanks for the sympathy they have received in their great loss. They especially appreciate the arrangements made for the funeral and the very large attendance.

FROM THE FRONT. 9th May 1919

Pte. H. G. Howlett, Royal Sussex Regt., arrived home on Wednesday on 14 days' leave from France. He is in the best of health.

ARMY ECONOMY. 9th May 1919

A demobilised soldier has just received his suit of "civvies," and on putting on the trousers discovered that the buttons had been forgotten.

DEMOBILISED. 9th May 1919

Pte. Joseph Ding, Royal West Kent Regt., reached home on Sunday from Germany, having been demobilised. He joined up on 31st May, 1918, went to France on 4th October, and was wounded during that month.

PERSONAL. 9th May 1919

Capt. B. J. Ellis has been in Swavesey this week on short leave from the front. He reports himself in the best of health. Second Lieut. E. Williams, during his leave from France, has been taken ill and has been confined to the house.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 9th May 1919

The Roll of Honour for the parish of Swavesey was restored to a prominent and most appropriate position in the village on Saturday. Mr. Arthur Norman, chairman of the Parish Council has presented a new case, and the Council have had it placed on the parish property in High-street in a kind of alcove specially built for its reception.

THE COAL SITUATION. 9th May 1919

During the past two or three weeks the Swavesey district has experienced the greatest shortage of coal for the whole of the winter season. The general situation has been relieved by farm supplies mutually surrendered by Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, sen., and Mr. Robert Norman, and about a truck load has been generously placed at the disposal of the Fuel Committee by Dr. Ellis. The situation has so far improved that normal quantities of coal are now arriving daily.

MAY QUEEN. 9th May 1919

After school hours on May Day the village was treated to a pretty spectacle. The nine-year-old Winnie Beales, wearing a white embroidered frock, with a white veil and crown of narcissi, and seated in a miniature wagon decorated with blackthorn, primroses and polyanthus, was drawn through the village by two schoolmates, Sally Daintree and Margaret Wells. Two maids of honour were in attendance, Gertie Beales and Winnie Froment, and the pageant was completed by a choir of about a dozen other small girls, who sang songs.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 9th May 1919

The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, was given a warm welcome home on his return from France at a meeting of the church and congregation held in the schoolroom attached to the chapel. Mr. Arthur Norman, deacon, presided, and he and others voiced the general feeling of pleasure and satisfaction at Mr. and Mrs. Ussher's return, of which the Chairman provided substantial proof by handing Mr. Ussher a cheque for £22 from his friends. Mr. Ussher suitably responded. During the evening songs were sung by Miss C. Goad, Miss Reade, Miss Stanton and Mr. David Stanton.

WAR MEMORIAL. 9th May 1919

At a well-attended and representative meeting of parishioners on Wednesday evening, Major R. Ellis in the chair, it was unanimously decided that the Swavesey parish memorial of the war should be a village hall and institute, to be erected on the parish property in High-street. It was further agreed that the arrangements should be entrusted to a committee, consisting of four parish councillors, and eight persons elected by the meeting, with power to add to their number. These eight were appointed, and Mr. C. R. Vincent was elected honorary secretary. A full report of the meeting will appear next week. Later in the evening the parish councillors met specially and chose their four representatives.

PARISH COUNCIL. 9th May 1919

The first meeting of the newly-elected Parish Council was held at the National School last Friday evening, and was attended by all the councillors. On the proposition of Mr. F. J. Beales, a new member who headed the poll at the election, seconded by Mr. J. L. Stanton, another newcomer, Mr. Arthur Norman, the old chairman, was re-appointed to the chair. Mr. Beales said that as every old councillor, who stood for election, was successful at the poll, it was evident that the last council had the confidence of the parishioners. Mr. J. S. Goad, proposed by Mr. Twist and seconded by Mr. R. Norman, was again chosen as vice-chairman. Mr. James Smith and Mr. J. L. Stanton were appointed overseers, and Mr. George Clarke pinder and village crier. It was agreed to purchase, at a valuation, the bell used by the late crier, now deceased, and to have it inscribed as being the property of the parish. Messrs. Burton and Twist were authorised to sign cheques with the chairman. The following committees were also appointed:- Fire Engine, Messrs. Goad, Burton and Twist; Destruction of Sparrows, Messrs. Burton and Twist. Messrs. S. Challis and George Clarke were re-appointed captain and vice-captain respectively of the fire engine. The Street Lighting Committee was not chosen, as it was felt that as many of the lamps, posts, etc., were in a very bad condition, the whole Council should inspect them before a committee was appointed. A special meeting to deal with the matter is to be held in June. The selection of Parish Council representatives on the board of Feoffees of Galon's Charity was also postponed to the June meeting. Mr. Stanton moved a resolution that a representation from the Council should be made to the Great Eastern Railway respecting the present inadequate and inconvenient service of trains on the Cambridge and St. Ives line, and asking for better accommodation. Mr. Goad seconded. The resolution was carried unanimously, and the Clerk was instructed to communicate with neighbouring Parish Councils, asking them to join in the representation. The Vice-Chairman brought up the question of a war memorial for the parish. There was, he said, a strong feeling in the village in favour of a public hall for use for meetings, entertainments, and recreation purposes generally. Other councillors warmly supported the Vice-Chairman, and it was decided, on the motion of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Frank Norman, that a public meeting be held in the school on Wednesday evening to consider the subject. Mr. Beales asked for information on the housing question. He desired to know whether the Rural District Council had invited the co-operation of the Parish Council. The Chairman replied that a letter had been received from the District Council respecting the number of cottages required and suitable sites, and that an answer had been sent. – Our Swavesey correspondent writes: May I once more mildly protest against the inadequate and inconvenient accommodation afforded at the school for Parish Council meetings? The Council last Friday sat from 7 p.m. to nearly 9 p.m. There was no light, and the latter part of the proceedings was conducted in gradually deepening gloom. Surely as the Council pay for the use of the school one or more lamps should be provided. Desks suitable for children are inconvenient for adults.

Anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday, 8th inst., the special preacher being the Rev. S. W. Hughes, Westbourne Park Church, London. The afternoon service was at a quarter to four, and the evening service at a quarter past six, the chapel being crowded on both occasions. Mr.

Hughes' powerful address at the latter service was on God's Fatherly interest in the individual. Between the services there was a public tea, which was well attended. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the Church Fund, and realised £23 11s. 4d.

WAR MEMORIAL. 16th May 1919

As briefly stated last week, the well-attended meeting of parishioners held on the 7th inst., and over which Major R. Ellis presided, decided unanimously that the war memorial for the parish should take the form of a village hall and institute, brick and slate built, and that the names of all Swavesey men who have served in the war should be inscribed inside the building. The resolution was moved by Mrs. Cole and seconded by Mr. C. Savage, and was supported by Mr. F. J. Beales, Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) and Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman of the Parish Council). On the proposal of Mr. W. Twist, seconded by Mr. J. Ansell, it was resolved that the building should be erected on the parish property in High-street. Some discussion followed as to whether the Parish Council should appoint a committee to carry out the scheme, or whether the committee should be elected by the meeting, and at length it was agreed that the committee should consist of four parish councillors, to be nominated by the Council, and eight non-councillors, elected by the meetings, with power to add to their number. The following were elected: Major R. Ellis, Mr. H. S. Aldred, Mr. J. Ansell, Mr. C. Wood, Mr. A. J. Willson, Mr. P. Godfrey, Mr. W. Parish, and Mr. A. Day, sen. Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Capper, the Vicar, Messrs. William T. Thorp, J. Day, E. J. Mitham and R. Mitham, sen., were also nominated but declined to serve. The Chairman proposed that Mr. C. R. Vincent be honorary secretary. The Vicar seconded and the motion was carried unanimously. Mr. H. S. Aldred proposed a resolution that "The inhabitants of Swavesey, in public meeting assembled, desire to express their appreciation of the handsomely framed roll of honour presented to the parish by the Chairman of the Parish Council (Mr. Arthur Norman), also to the compiler (Mr. C. R. Vincent) for the interesting details so clearly recorded, and the splendid work he has achieved. Mr. Vincent, in responding, stated that he had been compiling since the beginning of the war a record giving the fullest available particulars of every Swavesey man who has served, and that it was his desire to present a copy of the record, when completed, to the parish, an announcement that was received with applause. The Chairman thanked Mr. Vincent on behalf of the meeting, and Mrs. Cole proposed, Mr. Ansell seconding, that the record be placed in the new institute. Mr. Vincent, however, objected. The Parish Council was, he thought, the proper authority to take charge of such a record. The Chairman agreed with Mr. Vincent and the subject dropped. After the public meeting the Parish Council met specially, and selected Messrs. A. Norman, F. J. Beales, W. Burton and J. S. Goad representatives of the Council on the War Memorial Hall Committee. On Tuesday evening the committee assembled for the first time and appointed Major Ellis chairman, Mr. F. J. Beales vice-chairman, and Mr. C. Wood treasurer, and also co-opted six additional committee men, all representative of the younger generation.

ADVERT. 23rd May 1919

GEORGE BURLING has opened a Shop at Boxworth End, Swavesey, for the sale of Cycles, Fittings, etc. Repairs promptly executed. He respectfully solicits the patronage of the village and neighbourhood.

PROMOTION. 23rd May 1919

Lance-Corpl. P. V. Maltby, South Staffordshire Regt., has been promoted corporal.

FROM GERMANY. 23rd May 1919

Gunner Thomas C. Savage, R.G.A., arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday on 14 days' leave from Germany. He is in good health.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 23rd May 1919

The War Memorial Hall Committee have set to work with energy, and all preliminary arrangements are well in hand. The subscription list has been opened, and the treasurer, Mr. C. Wood, School House, will be glad to receive donations, large and small. A village hall for Swavesey is a necessity, not a luxury. At the present time the National School is the only building in the village in which meetings, entertainments, etc., can be held. Under the new Education Act it will not be available, as it will be required for educational purposes on five evenings a week. An institute also is urgently needed, as a place of recreation and resort for the younger people of the parish, who now have nowhere to go in their leisure time. Above all, Swavesey, with her 900 inhabitants, ought to have a worthy and lasting memorial of the war, and especially of those who gave their lives in the great struggle. One great aim of the Committee is to spare the ratepayers' pockets. The bigger the contributions to the Memorial Hall Fund, the less danger there is of a demand being made on the rates.

IN HOSPITAL. 23rd May 1919

Second Lieut. Edward Williams, Northants. Regt., and Pte. H. G. Howlett, Royal Sussex Regt., have been taken ill while at home on short leave from the Western front, and have been removed to the 1st Eastern General Hospital.

PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd May 1919

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held on Friday evening, and was attended by Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), who presided, and Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, R. Norman and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). The meeting was called respecting the title deeds of the property in High-street, which had been bequeathed to the parish by the late Mr. George Long, who died in April, 1902, and which the Swavesey Memorial Hall Committee desired to inspect. It transpired that the deeds were not in possession of the Council, and the clerk read a letter from Messrs. Watts, Son and Harrison, solicitors, St. Ives, dated May 26th, 1913, which, he stated, was in reply to a letter written by him by direction of the then Parish Council, requesting that the deeds might be handed over to the Council. The solicitors' letter intimated that the deeds would be duly handed to the chairman and clerk, on production of a properly authenticated copy of a resolution requesting that this might be done. This letter, the Clerk explained, had never been brought to the notice of the Council, and nothing had been done in the matter since May 1913. The councillors were, not unnaturally, greatly surprised. After some conversation, a resolution was carried unanimously that the chairman, vice-chairman and clerk should attend at the solicitors' office in St. Ives on Monday, 26th inst., to obtain the title deeds of the property devised to the parish by the late Mr. George Long, and also obtain a copy of that portion of the will which relates to the bequest. Further, that a letter to this effect be sent to the solicitors. Mr. Beales gave notice that at the next meeting of the Council he would ask for a list of the sites which had been suggested by the Council as suitable for the Government housing scheme. Arising out of the minutes of the meeting held on the 2nd May, the Clerk reported that in accordance with instructions he had written on May 14th to the Great Eastern Railway, in regard to the unsatisfactory railway service, and had also sent postcards to the clerks of six neighbouring Parish Councils, asking their co-operation in the representation.

PROMOTED. 30th May 1919

Corpl. Charles S. Hepher, 4th Suffolk Regiment, now serving with the Army on the Rhine, has been promoted sergeant.

FROM GERMANY. 30th May 1919

Sapper E. H. Hodson, R.E., son of Mr. J. Hodson, has been in Swavesey this week while on short leave from the Rhine. He is in excellent health.

CONGRATULATION. 30th May 1919

The Parish Council must be congratulated on at last being able to accomplish the re-thatching of the dilapidated roof of the building on the parish property in High-street, used as a butcher's shop, etc. Instead of an eyesore, the building is now a "thing of beauty" – almost.

THE HIGH-STREET PROPERTY. 30th May 1919

The title deeds of the property in High-street bequeathed to the parish of Swavesey by the late Mr. George Long, who died in 1902, were handed to representatives of the Parish Council on Monday, together with a copy of that portion of Mr. Long's will relating to the bequest.

THE FEAST. 30th May 1919

Sunday next will be Feast Sunday. Optimists are inclined to predict a "full" feast, but others are content with hoping that the ancient village festival will this year be something like the feasts of pre-war days. The Swavesey Cricket Club have arranged three matches, viz., against Lolworth on Saturday, Elsworth on Monday, and Over on Tuesday. Play will begin at 2 p.m. each day.

COAL SUPPLY. 30th May 1919

At a meeting of the Swavesey District Fuel Committee held last Friday, it was decided that, if the local coal merchants would agree to stock a fortnight's reserve coal supply by the end of June, the restrictions now in force would be considerably relaxed. The merchants agreed to the proposal. This decision will enable consumers to lay in a stock of coal for the winter. Extra coal for stocking is arriving daily.

SHORTAGE OF CHEESE. 30th May 1919

A member of the Swavesey District Food Control Committee has informed our local representative that the present scarcity of cheese in the shops in the district should not exist. It would appear that no complaints have been made by the retailers to the Food Office. Had any complaints reached there, steps would have been taken to increase the supply of cheese to the retailers.

THE INADEQUATE TRAIN SERVICE. 30th May 1919

At a meeting of the Parish Council held on the 2nd inst., a resolution respecting the unsatisfactory train service on the G.E.R. between Cambridge and St. Ives, due to the suspension of the mid-day trains during the war, was carried unanimously, and the Clerk was instructed to write to the General Manager of the Company. He was also instructed to communicate with neighbouring Parish Councils, with a view to their co-operation in the representation. The following reply has been received from the Railway Company: "Your letter of 14th inst., addressed to the General Manager, in regard to the mid-day service between Cambridge and St. Ives, has been handed to me. This matter has received consideration, and arrangements will be made for the mid-day train to be reinstated on and from 1st July. – Yours faithfully, F. V. Russell, Superintendant of Operation." It is understood that the Clerk of the Parish Council has written to the Company in terms of appreciation of the promised concession, but whether his satisfaction will be shared by the inhabitants of the district generally is doubtful if by "the mid-day train," the train to Cambridge which used to leave Swavesey about 12.20 p.m., is the one referred to. What is required is a train from Cambridge as well as a train to that town. In other words, the people desire the restoration of the up and down trains due in Swavesey about 2 p.m.

FROM GERMANY. 6th June 1919

Sergt. Charles S. Hepher, 4th Suffolk Regt., Pte. George E. Hepher, Labour Corps, and Pte. H. Prime, 5th Border Regt., are in Swavesey on 14 days' leave from the Army of the Rhine.

ACCIDENT. 6th June 1919

Mrs. Levell, who for many years has been a teacher at Swavesey National School, seriously injured her wrist on Saturday through falling on a polished floor. She is under treatment at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

GOOD NEWS. 6th June 1919

The up and down passenger trains to Cambridge and St. Ives respectively, due at Swavesey soon after 2 p.m., which have been suspended during the war, will be reinstated on and from Monday next, and will run daily. The times are as follows: - Down: Leave Cambridge 1.45 p.m., Swavesey 2.9 p.m., arrive St. Ives 2.15 p.m. Up: Leave St. Ives 2.5 p.m., Swavesey 2.12 p.m., arrive Cambridge 2.38 p.m.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 6th June 1919

Anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, on Tuesday, and were attended by excellent congregations, which included many friends from Chatteris, St. Ives and the neighbouring villages. Mr. Chalcot, Coventry, was the special preacher both in the afternoon and evening. Between the services there was a public tea, which attracted a goodly gathering.

SWAVESEY MAN IN U.S.A. 6th June 1919

Our Swavesey representative has this week received a letter from Mr. Stuart Goad, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goad, Ryder's Farm, Swavesey, from Genoa Jet, Wisconsin. Mr. S. Goad says that he joined the U.S.A. Army on 15th June, 1918, and was attached to the U.S. Machine Gun Training School Camp at Augusta, Georgia, as an instructor. On July 19th he was promoted sergeant, and on 15th January last he was discharged. A number of the officers at the Training School were British officers. Genoa Jet is only a little town with a population of about 800, yet it contributed 198 "boys" to the U.S.A. Army.

LOCAL HONOUR. 6th June 1919

In the King's Birthday Gazette published on Tuesday, Corpl. Arthur Prior, 1st Cambs., was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for service in France and Flanders. Corpl. Prior is one of the sons of Mr. Charles Prior, Taylor's-lane, all of whom have served in the Army in the war. One, Bombardier Harry Prior, R.F.A., won the Military Medal in October, 1917, two have been twice wounded, a third once wounded, and another was a prisoner of war. Corpl. Prior served with the Devon Yeomanry in the Boer War (medal and two bars). He joined the 1st Cambs. on 5th September, 1914, went to France with the regiment in February, 1915, and remained with the battalion until he was demobilised last January. Our Swavesey representative had the pleasure of breaking the news of his distinction to him on Wednesday. The gallant corporal smiled.

Although it cannot be claimed that this year's feast just ended equalled some of the memorable feasts of bygone days, it can be stated, without fear of contradiction, to have been a real live feast, with a roundabout, swings, cocoanut shies, and such like attractions. A week ago it must be admitted things looked gloomy. Pessimists declared that the war had killed the old and much-loved festival, and their contention was supported by facts. In 1917, instead of the spacious Market-street being crowded with vans and other fair-time impedimenta, one solitary stall represented the feast. Last year even that lonely stall failed to appear. But optimists took a brighter view of the situation. They maintained that the feast was not dead, but only in a state of suspended animation "for the duration." And the optimists were right. This year the roundabout was not the most up-to-date specimen of its tribe ever seen in Swavesey; its horses were small, and so were their tails, and its carriages lacked the luxurious comfort of the modern motor car. Still it pleased the children, likewise some older devotees of rotary horse exercise. A patient pony, which gently ambled round and round, supplied the motive power, and an equally patient youth, for hours at a stretch, turned a wheel which operated an organ, somewhat erratic in its notes. This organ provided the music of the festival until Tuesday evening, when a rival appeared on the scene in the Salvation Army band from Willingham. The weather until Wednesday was fine, though cooler than it had been, and there were many visitors, including one old Swaveseyite who had not been at the feast since 1870. The village cricket club played three matches, winning two and losing one. Two collection boxes in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute, taken round the cricket ground during the matches by Miss C. Goad, and Miss Parsons, netted £1 16s. 2d., the former young lady collecting £1 6s., and the latter 10s. 2d.

ON FURLOUGH. 13th June 1919

Lance-Corpl. Fred Ding, Suffolk Regiment, has arrived in Swavesey from Egypt on three months' furlough. He is in good health. Joining up in January, 1916, he landed in Egypt in the following July, and from April, 1917, until the beginning of the present year he served in Palestine.

DEMOBILISED. 13th June 1919

Pte. Frederick George Clarke, R.A.S.C., elder son of Mr. George Clarke, has arrived in this country from Egypt, and was demobilised on Wednesday. He joined up on 25th May, 1916, and went to France in November of that year. From France he proceeded to Salonica, and then in June, 1917, to Egypt, but soon found himself in Palestine. Here he went through General Allenby's arduous and victorious advance, being attached to an ambulance unit. He reports himself in excellent health.

DEATH. 13th June 1919

Mrs. Mary Ann Trundley, Market-street, widow of the late Mr. James Trundley, died on the 6th inst., after a painful illness. She left four sons and four daughters. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, the Vicar officiating. The immediate mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Adams, Mrs. Attwood, Mr. and Mrs. Medlock, and Miss L. Trundley (daughters and sons-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. James Trundley, Mr. C. Trundley, Mr. and Mrs. John Trundley, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Trundley (sons and daughters-in-law), Mr. C. Adams (brother), Mrs. J. Norman (sister), Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. A. J. Norman (nephew) and Miss C. Adams (granddaughter). The Rev. J. F. Cooksey was also present in church and at the graveside. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

MR. F. BEAUMONT MARRIED. 13th June 1919

The marriage of Mr. Francis Beaumont, second surviving son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, of Swavesey, and Mrs. Beaumont, and Miss Alice Martin Marshall, took place very quietly on Wednesday morning at the Church of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, only near relatives and intimate friends being present. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Hillersdon, Vicar of St. Mary's. The bride, who wore her travelling dress, was given away by her half-sister, Miss M. Heath, and Mr. P. J. Beaumont, the bridegroom's oldest brother was best man. After the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at luncheon at Anderton's Hotel, Fleetstreet, and later in the afternoon the happy couple left for Lewes, where the honeymoon is being spent. The numerous wedding presents included a gift to the bride from her late pupils, and another to the bridegroom from his colleagues in the Accountant-General's Department of the Post Office.

LOCAL HONOUR. 13th June 1919

In the honours list issued in connection with the King's Birthday, Lieut. Martin Surrey Caine, Canadian Infantry (Alberta Regiment), son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, Swavesey, was appointed a member of the Order of the British Empire (Military Division). Lieut. Caine, who is now on his way back to Canada, where prior to the war he had lived for some years, enlisted in the 49th Canadian Infantry (Edmonton, Alberta, Regiment) on the 4th January, 1915. He speedily attained the rank of sergeant, and in October, 1915, went to France. On 2nd June, 1916, in the third battle of Ypres, he was slightly wounded, and on the 28th of that month was promoted lieutenant for service in the field. In the following September he was severely wounded, his jaw being smashed, at Courcellette, and after a long spell in hospital he recovered sufficiently for duty in this country. Latterly he has been an officer in charge of musketry instruction at Bramshott Camp.

SOLDIERS v. CIVILIANS. 13th June 1919

On Bank Holiday morning the official crier, with clanging bell, perambulated the village, and announced to all and sundry that at 5 o'clock that afternoon a cricket match would be played between Swavesey Soldiers and Swavesey Civilians, and that a collection would be made on behalf of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund. Shortly after 5 p.m., Messrs. Beales and Wood, the captains of the Civilian and Soldier teams respectively, tossed, with the result that the military took the field. The Soldiers' XI. – all discharged or demobilised men – deserve a word or two in passing. Four of the players have won distinctions in the war, viz., R. M. S. Heasman (late R.F.A.) the French Medaille Militaire, the brothers A. and J. Prime the Military Medal, and Sergt. Wood the Meritorious Service Medal, and seven have been wounded (four more than once), one having lost his foot. On paper the military side were the stronger lot; in fact the cricket-wise ones prophesied that the "Civvies" total would not reach double figures. The Soldiers had Wood and Ellwood, the chief bowlers of the Swavesey Club, whereas the "Civvies" had no trundlers reckoned of any account. The "Civvy" captain stood pledged to deposit the sum of 2s. 6d. in the collection box if his team failed to achieve what seemed to be a miracle. In the end the Soldiers won by one run.

ACCIDENT IN HAY FIELD. 20th June 1919

Through the breaking of a rope a lad named Reginald Trundley fell from the top of a cart load of hay on Tuesday, and fractured his wrist. He is under treatment at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

REV. ANDERSON WELLS. 20th June 1919

The induction of the Rev. Anderson W. Wells, son of Mr. James Wells, Swavesey, to the living of Goldthorpe, Yorkshire, took place on the 12th inst. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Sheffield in the presence of many clergy of the diocese and of a large congregation. Mr. Wells had been in charge of the parish since February last.

IMPROVED TRAIN SERVICE. 20th June 1919

The restoration of the two o'clock up and down trains from Swavesey station, which had been suspended during the war, has been greatly appreciated by the people of the district. On Whitsun Monday, the first day, about fifty passengers booked to St. Ives, and an appreciable number to Cambridge by these trains, and they have been well patronised each day since.

THE GALE. 20th June 1919

The gale on Thursday, 12th inst. did a considerable amount of damage to the fruit trees in the Swavesey district. At 4.15 p.m. a large branch of a tree in front of the Manor crashed into the main road, breaking the telephone wires in its fall. Mr. Frank Norman, of the Manor, and Mr. Charles Froment, who were close by, immediately sent word of this mishap to Swavesey Post Office, and proceeded with saws and other implements to clear the obstruction from the road. The wires were repaired the following morning. Owing to the Over Post Office being closed on Thursday afternoon, telegrams for Swavesey were delivered from Elsworth.

WEDDING. 20th June 1919

Mr. Fred Kester, son of Mr. Jas. Kester, Boxworth End, was married to Mrs. Florence Burgess, widow of the late Mr. George Burgess, Wedmore-gardens, Upper Holloway, London, at St. John's Church, Upper Holloway, on June 7th. The wedding was a quiet but pretty one. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Fred Stephens and was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Grace Darling (sister of the bride) and Miss Lizzie Kester (sister of the bridegroom). Later in the day the happy couple left London for Wisbech for the honeymoon. Mr. F. Kester saw considerable service during the war. Joining the Royal Army Service Corps on 26th September, 1914, he went to France in February, 1915. In March, 1917, he was promoted corporal, and in the following August was transferred to the 18th Welsh Regt. In April, 1918, he was gassed. On the 18th Battalion being broken up Corpl. Kester was transferred to the 2nd Battalion, and on 15th September last was wounded in the right leg, and was in hospital in this country for about three months. He was demobilised last January.

WELCOME RAIN. 27th June 1919

Rain fell steadily and gently on Friday last, and was welcomed with gratitude by all. There have since been further showers, and on Saturday hail.

IS PEACE TO BE CELEBRATED? 27th June 1919

A correspondent wants to know whether the leading lights of Swavesey are considering in what way peace should be celebrated in the village. If the leading lights are doing nothing, humbler people, he says, are talking about the matter. Perhaps the Parish Councillors at their meeting on Monday will see fit to give the lead by deciding to call a public meeting, as they did with regard to the village war memorial.

FROM GERMANY. 27th June 1919

Bombardier F. A. Prior, R.F.A., only surviving son of the late Mr. William Prior and Mrs. Prior, High-street, is at home on 14 days' furlough from the Rhine. He is in excellent health. Joining up on 1st February, 1917, Bombardier Prior went to France in August of that year, and then to Italy in the following November. In April, 1918, he returned to France, and with the 18th Division he went through the push commencing last August, and at the armistice was within a few kilometres of Mons.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27th June 1919

A meeting of the Parish Council is to be held at 7 o'clock on Monday evening at the National School to consider the condition of the street lamps, and to arrange for lighting the streets during next winter. An appreciable sum of money will have to be spent on the lamps, posts, etc., which are understood to be in bad condition, but in dealing with the matter the Councillors, and the ratepayers generally, should not overlook the fact that between £25 and £30 has been saved during each of the past four years by the suspension of street lighting. Other items on the agenda for Monday's meeting are housing, the appointment of a rat-catcher, and the Recreation Ground.

TRAIN ALTERATIONS. 27th June 1919

Important alterations in the train service from Swavesey Station will come into force on Tuesday next, 1st July. On week-days the down trains to St. Ives will be due to leave Swavesey at 7.15 a.m., 8.44 a.m., 10.49 a.m., 1.55 p.m., 4.32 p.m., 6.44 p.m., and 7.44 p.m., and the up trains to Cambridge at 8.23 a.m., 9.59 a.m., 11.12 a.m., 12.21 p.m., 1.47 p.m., 3.59 p.m., 6.17 p.m., and 7.42 p.m. The two trains on Sundays will, commencing 6th July, run an hour earlier than at present, namely, to Cambridge at 4.23 p.m. and to St. Ives at 5.41 p.m. It will be observed that the 12.21 p.m. up train and the 6.44 p.m. down train (due out of Cambridge at 6.20 p.m.) which were suspended during the war, have been restored, and that the “two o’clock” trains, which were recently reinstated, will run slightly earlier.

LIEUT. HEPHER, M.C., MARRIED. 27th June 1919

Sec.-Lieut. W. Lawson Hepher, M.C., R.F.A., youngest son of the late Mr. Jesse Hepher, Swavesey, was married on the 12th inst. at the Church of St. Mary-le-Strand, London, to Miss Kathleen Rhoda Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Higgins, of Basingstoke. The Rev. Harcourt Hillersdon, Vicar of St. Mary’s, officiated. The bride wore a dress of biscuit crepe-de-chine, and a pink hat, and was attended by one bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Evelyn Higgins, in lemon voile and white hat. Mr. A. Hepher, Datchet, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at Anderton’s Hotel, at which thirty-six guests were present. The honeymoon was spent at Ashdown Forest, Sussex. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hepher expect to leave England for their home in British Columbia early in July.

THE PEACE. 4th July 1919

News of the signing of the Peace Treaty reached Swavesey on Saturday evening, but caused no excitement except to eight or nine little boys, who formed themselves into a jazz band and serenaded the village. A few flags were displayed.

IS PEACE TO BE CELEBRATED? 4th July 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: Notwithstanding the gentle reminder in last week’s “Press and News,” the Parish Council absolutely ignored the question of the celebration of Peace at their meeting on Monday. Now the date of Thanksgiving Day has been officially fixed for Saturday, 19th July, there is little time for making preparations, and if the day is to be kept in Swavesey a public meeting should be held at once, and a committee of management appointed. It is a pity that the Parish Council on Monday failed to take action.

PARISH COUNCIL. 4th July 1919

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, and was attended by Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman, J. L. Stanton, and Mr. Robinson Mitham (Clerk). The Chairman reported that the deeds of the parish property in High-street had been obtained from the donor's solicitors, and were in the custody of the parish. Mr. Beales asked what was being done in regard to the provision of new houses in the parish under the housing scheme. He thought the people of Swavesey ought to know what steps were being taken. Extra houses in suitable positions were urgently needed, and he suggested Dove House Close in Carter's-lane, near the school, and in the centre of the village, as a site which had been selected at a previous meeting should not be used for houses, but should be reserved for the use of the parishioners generally, as it had been bequeathed for their benefit. Mr. Stanton, who is also a Rural District Councillor, explained that the High-street site had been dropped by the District Council, who were dealing with the housing question. The Chairman thought that it would be a mistake to build all the new houses on one site; they were wanted near the men's work. Mr. Stanton did not approve of all the houses being erected at the extreme end of the village at Boxworth End – that he understood was the only site under consideration by the District Council. Considerable discussion ensued, and eventually Mr. Beales proposed that Dove House Close be recommended to the District Council as the most suitable site for the erection of new houses. Mr. Burton seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. Mr. Goad reported that all the street lamps, fittings, etc., were out of order and needed thorough overhauling. The Clerk remarked that they were "good for nothing." After some conversation, in which it was admitted that street lamps during the winter months are necessary for the convenience of the community, Mr. Goad proposed that Messrs. Stanton, Burton, Beales and Twist be appointed a committee with full powers to have the lamps and appurtenances put into proper order. Mr. Cole seconded. The resolution was adopted unanimously. A letter from the County Council respecting the destruction of rats was read, and the Chairman and Messrs. Burton and Twist were appointed a committee to deal with the matter. Mr. Stanton called attention to the Recreation Ground, and urged that it should be put into condition for the young men of the parish to play games upon. He suggested that the balance in hand from the herbage rent should be spent on the ground. Mr. Beales asked whether the Clerk had received a letter from the Swavesey Cricket Club on the subject. The Clerk read the letter which asked the Council to lay a proper cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground. During discussion the erection of a fence to protect the ground from the high road was mentioned, but more than one councillor objected that this could not be done, and the Clerk added that a fence, or hedge, which had been put up years ago, had been destroyed by an indignant populace. The Clerk also observed that even to reserve a portion of the ground for the exclusive use of the Cricket Club would be contrary to the Recreation Ground by-laws. Mr. Beales retorted that the by-laws would have to be altered. At length it was decided, on the proposition of Mr. Beales, seconded by Mr. Goad, that Mr. Dan Hayward, of the University Cricket Ground, be asked to submit an estimate for preparing a cricket pitch, 25 yards square. A letter from the committee of the Swavesey war Memorial Hall and Institute was then read, asking for the formal authority of the Council to use such portion of the parish property in High-street as may be needed for the proposed hall and institute. Authority was granted unanimously, and the Clerk was instructed to write accordingly to the honorary secretary of the memorial. A pitiful letter from Mr. Arthur Welch was then brought forward. He complained of the failure of the public water supply during the recent extremely hot and dry weather. He and others at Boxworth End had been compelled to use pond water, and he asked that the councillors would use their influence with the proper authorities to have the evil remedied. Mr. Goad explained the cause of the failure, and on his assurance that there was now a satisfactory supply of water, the subject dropped. Mr. Stanton called attention to the unprotected state of the large brook, or drain, at Turn Bridge, in High-street. In the dark, he said, pedestrians ran a serious risk of a nasty fall. It was decided to call the attention of the District Council to the matter. Before the meeting ended the Clerk asked for an increase of salary.

A SMASH. 11th July 1919

Frightened, it is understood, by a passing traction engine, a horse backed a cart into the front of Mr. Dick Wilderspin's shop and smashed the large plate glass window on Wednesday afternoon.

PEACE DAY. 11th July 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: As far as I can ascertain, the only event that is being arranged in Swavesey for Peace Day (Saturday, 19th July) is a cricket match between the past and present members of the village cricket club. This will no doubt be very interesting for many people, but it is to be feared will not be equally pleasing to the children. Surely something should be done for the little ones. Peace Day ought to be a great event for them – a red letter day to be remembered throughout their lives. They have been robbed of their “treats”, or have had them severely curtailed, during the five years of war. Cannot some public-spirited parishioners come forward now, and organise a bouncing treat for them on Saturday week? The cost need not be great.

THE VILLAGE PUMP. 11th July 1919

A ratepayer is anxious to know what public authority is responsible for the pump at the corner of Black Horse-lane and High-street. He says in its present condition it is a danger to the public. The wooden case is falling to pieces, the bucket is full of stones, and in consequence the iron handle projects in such a way as to be dangerous to persons turning the corner in the dark. The pump belongs to the old water supply which was condemned some years ago. Up to that time the Rural District Council was the responsible authority; now the pumps appear to be the care of no one. This particular pump in its present condition is useless, and the least that can be done is to remove the handle. If, however, it was repaired, it would be of some service. But then who is to do the job?

THANKSGIVING DAY. 11th July 1919

The authorised forms of thanksgiving and prayer were used at the services at the parish church on Sunday. In the evening the special form of praise was substituted for the ordinary service. A large congregation attended, and the service was bright and hearty. The lessons were read by Messrs. R. Mitham and C. Wood, an addition to the authorised form being made by the introduction of a second lesson (Revelations xxi., 23, to xxii., 5) and of Psalm cl. The anthem was Stainer’s “What are these?” The Vicar preached. The service concluded with the National Anthem, and after the blessing the choir, preceeded by the banner of the church, borne by Mr. R. Mitham, returned to the vestry singing the world-famous seventeenth century German Chorale ”Nun danket alle Gott”, (“Now thank we all our God”). One incident in connection with the thanksgiving festival at the parish church deserves mention. Before the restoration of the tower about six years ago there was a flag staff. It was then removed, and has not been replaced, it is believed because a flag pole was considered dangerous to the stone parapet. On the occasion of a previous thanksgiving in connection with the war, it was held to be imperative that a flag should be flown, so Mr. Walter Thorp and Mr. R. Mitham hoisted a scaffold pole to the top of the tower, and fastened it to the small extinguisher-shaped steeple which carries the vane. Last Saturday the same two gentlemen accomplished the same task, using this time Mr. Mitham’s flag pole. In order to secure the pole, or adjust the flag, Mr. Thorp scaled the extinguisher and stood upon the iron arms indicating the four points of the compass. At Bethel Baptist Chapel special references were made in the sermons at the morning and evening services to the signing of the Peace Treaty and in particular to the courage and constancy of the men who made the Treaty possible. Appropriate hymns were sung.

CRICKET MATCH. 11th July 1919

This match was played at Over on July 3rd, and resulted in a win for the visitors, by 92 runs to 74.

PEACE CELEBRATION. 18th July 1919

Called by order of the Parish Council last week-end, a public meeting was held at the National School on Monday evening. On the proposition of Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Council, the Vicar presided, and it was decided that the children of the parish under 16 years of age should be entertained at tea, and that sports should be arranged for them. All Swavesey men who are serving or have served in H.M. Forces have been invited to a meat tea at the National School at 5.30 p.m. The children's treat is being provided by public subscription and by the Foundation Managers of the school, while the cost of the soldiers' tea is being met out of the unexpended balance of the Christmas Presents Fund.

MISSING, BELIEVED KILLED. 18th July 1919

Mr. William Howlett, Swavesey, has been officially informed that no further news having been received relative to his son, Pte. Harold Charles Howlett, 11th Suffolks, who was wounded on 9th April, 1918, and has been missing since that date, the Army Council have been regretfully constrained to conclude that he is dead, and that his death took place on 19th April, 1918, or since. Pte. Howlett joined the 3-5th Suffolks on 29th March, 1916, and on proceeding to France on 7th September following, was posted to the 9th Suffolks. In February, 1918, he was transferred to the 11th Battalion. In December last the Adjutant of the 11th Suffolks informed Mr. Howlett that his son's grave had been found at La Rolanderie Farm, Erquinghem, near Armentieres, a few miles from Fleurbaise, where he was last seen. The letter was sent to the Record Office at Warley, and there lost. The adjutant's statement was repeated, but all the Record Office would reply was that further search was being made for the missing letter – not for the grave. The Secretary, War Office, was appealed to, but the appeal has not elicited even an acknowledgement of receipt. At last Mr. Montagu kindly took up the case, and after much trouble succeeded in obtaining the Army Council's decision, which in the circumstances cannot be regarded as satisfactory or adequate. The least the Army authorities could have done would have been to verify the adjutant's specific statement – instead of which they send the bereaved parents a leaflet about registration of graves.

DEATH OF THE LATE STATIONMASTER. 18th July 1919

The tolling of the big bell of the parish church on Friday announced the death of Mr. William Perry, who had been stationmaster at Swavesey for 33 years, and who retired after 50 years' service with the Great Eastern Railway Co. in 1915. Mr. Perry, who was 69 years of age, passed away at Huntingdon on Thursday in last week, after an illness of two years' duration. He had been confined to bed for the last three months. He was born at Downham, Norfolk, on 29th November, 1849, being the fifth son of Mr. William Perry, who was for many years stationmaster at Dersingham, and who lost his life on the line at Denver, to which station he had been transferred. The Perry family were and are still intimately connected with railways. Mr. William Perry, the subject of this notice, followed the family tradition from an early age. He joined the G.E.R. service as a gate lad, and then rose by successive steps to porter, signalman, and then relief stationmaster. Forty-six years ago he was appointed stationmaster at Stretham, where he remained for about five years, and was then removed to Hilgay, staying there for three years. In March, 1882, he went to Swavesey station, and here the rest of his railway life was spent. Strange to relate, his predecessor at Swavesey was named William Perry, who, however, was not related to him. Mr. Perry's three sons all joined the G.E. service. The eldest is now at Swavesey station, the second, Herbert, was at Dunmow, where he died some years ago, and the youngest, Stanley, is at March. Two of his brothers were also in the G.E.R. service as stationmasters, but both have retired, viz., Mr. Richard Perry, since deceased, who was at Branston, and Mr. Frank Perry, who since his retirement 15 years ago has been carrying on as a carriage agent at Ramsey, thus bringing his total service in connection with the Company to some 63 years. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. The Vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, officiated, and the service was choral, hymns "On the Resurrection morning" and "Abide with me" being sung, and the choir chanted the "Nunc Dimittis" as the body enclosed in a polished oak coffin, was borne by six members of the Swavesey railway staff to the grave at the western end of the church, under the shadow of the tower, in which were the bells which Mr. Perry had in years gone by rung so often and so dearly loved. Close by are the graves of his first wife and two of their children. The immediate mourners were: Mrs. Perry (widow), Mr. F. W. Perry and Mr. Stanley W. Perry (sons), Mrs. Tyrell (only daughter), Mr. and Mrs. F. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. N. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perry (brothers and sisters-in-law), Mr. C. Perry (brother) and Mrs. S. Atkins (sister).

CRICKET. 25th July 1919

SWAVESEY PAST v. PRESENT.

This match was played at Swavesey on Saturday, and resulted in the defeat of the veterans by 28 runs on the first innings.

PROMOTED. 25th July 1919

Corpl. F. V. Maltby, South Staffordshire Regiment, has been promoted sergeant.

TWO HEADS. 25th July 1919

In a field adjoining the churchyard a cow gave birth to a calf with two perfectly-formed heads early on Monday morning. The calf did not survive its birth.

FLAGS. 25th July 1919

A Swaveseyite wants to know when permanent flagstaffs are likely to be provided for the church tower and the school. Extemporised poles and borrowed flags are not satisfactory, though better than none at all.

DISCHARGED. 25th July 1919

Pte. Henry George Howlett, Royal Sussex Regiment, has been discharged, physically unfit. He joined up on 24th June, 1918, and landed in France on 19th November last. In May, when at home on fourteen days' furlough, he developed serious illness, and was removed to the 1st Eastern General Hospital, where he remained until his discharge from the Army on the 17th inst.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 25th July 1919

The Committee of the Peace Day celebrations at their meeting on Monday evening decided that the unexpended balance of the money collected, viz., £4 6s. 9d., should be given to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund. Miss Elsie Dodson has also devoted the sum of 10s. 6d. not required for the soldiers' tea to the same object. The village is about to be thoroughly canvassed for subscriptions to the Memorial Hall Fund. The architect's plans, etc., for the proposed building have been provisionally accepted by the Committee, and an urgent appeal is being made to all persons interested in the parish for support. The buildings, fittings, and furniture are estimated to cost £1,500.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY. 25th July 1919

Special services were held on Sunday at Bethel Baptist Chapel in connection with the Sunday School. Mr. G. Pratt, of Huntingdon in his sermons ably advocated the claims of young life. Selected hymns were most pleasingly sung by the scholars, who had been well trained by Mr. J. W. Williams, who presided at the organ. At the afternoon service flowers were presented for the St. Ives Infirmary, and Miss Ida Spearman gave a recitation, "Billy's Rose." Solos were well rendered by Dolly Coulson, Beatrice Prior, and Doris Aldred. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the Sunday School Fund, and unfortunately, owing to the rain, were below the average. The flowers contributed by the children were sent to the Infirmary on Monday, and have been thankfully acknowledged.

PEACE DAY. 25th July 1919

Peace Day as duly kept in Swavesey. No ambitious scheme of rejoicing was attempted, one reason being lack of time in which to make arrangements, the public meeting to decide whether anything should be done not having been held until five days previously. Wisely, therefore, it was resolved to limit the public festivities to the entertainment of the soldiers and of the children. Flags flew from the church tower, the school, and from many houses, and the Roll of Honour in High-street was draped with Union Jacks. The sky was overcast, and there was a slight shower of rain now and again, but the day's proceedings were not interrupted. At 1 o'clock a cricket match was played between past and present members of the Cricket Club, and was notable for the deadly bowling of the veteran, Mr. W. Savage, who had not appeared on the cricket field for some years. He captured 13 of "Present's" wickets for 49 runs, with an average of 3.7 runs a wicket – not bad for an old 'un! Mr. Sidney Prime, another veteran, once well known as a batsman and bowler, was top scorer with 19 runs. He met with an accident just before the match began, being struck on the ankle by a ball whilst practising. He was unable to bowl in consequence, and had to have a man to run for him. Present scored 61 and 34, and Past 33 and 15 for 2 wickets. At 2 o'clock sports for children under 16 years of age were held on the Recreation Ground, and at 4 o'clock they had tea in the National School. At 5.30 p.m. there was a meat tea for soldiers, serving and discharged, in the school, and at 6.30 p.m. sports for the soldiers brought off on the Recreation Ground, and attracted a large crowd of highly amused onlookers. The races were : Boot race, Boat race, sack race, whistling race, old soldier's race, potato race, tilting the bucket, wheelbarrow race, threadneedle race and tug-of-war.

The sports were under the capable management of R.S.M. T. C. Heasman, Sergt. C. Wood, M.S.M., Corpl. A. J. Willson and Pte. M. C. Culpin. Major R. Ellis, R.A.M.C., acted as judge, and presided at the tea. Mr. George Clarke was energetic as bell-ringer, both for the children's and for the soldiers' sports. Pte. C. Savage added colour and variety to the scene by appearing in a genuine Serbian costume of brilliant purple, heavily embroidered with gold, while Mr. W. Mitchell hugely amused old, middle-aged and young folk alike by personating a clown, dressed as an eccentric old woman. Mr. W. Twist delighted the children by taking them for joy rides in a gaily decorated wagon, May Mustill handling the reins in workmanlike fashion. A bonfire of bushes, etc., laboriously collected by the Scout cubs and other small boys during the day, was prematurely set alight shortly after 7 p.m., and blazed away ineffectively in full daylight. Fireworks were let off at the Old House about 10 p.m., and it is understood that there would have been another pyrotechnic display, but for an untoward accident on the previous day, which resulted in an untimely explosion in a place not suitable for such an exhibition, and the hurried retreat of the two or three persons who happened to be present. One gentleman, it is alleged, made a precipitate, though graceful, exit through a window. The children had a happy day, and the soldiers an excellent tea. The youngsters were catered for as regards their tea, at which 160 sat down, and their amusements, by a committee appointed by the public meeting, with other helpers, and the soldiers' tea was under the sole management of Miss Elsie Dodson, who was assisted by Mrs. A. J. Willson, Miss G. Dodson and Miss P. Mitham. The sum of £20 17s. 6d. was collected in the village, and the foundation managers of the school added £5.

FOOD CONTROL. 1st Aug. 1919

A meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Food Control Committee, the first for several months, was held at the Clerk's office in St. Ives on Monday. Mr. Ingle Hemington presided.

CRICKET. 1st Aug. 1919

An eleven of the Swavesey Cricket Club visited Lolworth last Saturday, and defeated the homesters by nine wickets. Scores: Lolworth, 21 and 21; Swavesey 32 and 13 for one wicket.

HONOURED. 1st Aug. 1919

Major R. Ellis, R.A.M.C. (T.) has been mentioned in Sir Douglas Haig's last despatch, published in the "London Gazette" of 8th July, for gallantry and distinguished service in the field during the period September, 1918, to March, 1919. Major Ellis was called up on mobilisation on 4th August, 1914, and after service in this country with the 1st Cambs. went to Gallipoli and took part in the famous landing. He subsequently served on the Western front until he was demobilised this year.

WEDDING. 1st Aug. 1919

Miss Joyce Capper, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capper, of Swavesey, was married on Tuesday afternoon at Swavesey Parish Church to Major Frederick John Bullen, son of Mr. Arthur Bullen, of Cromer. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in her going away costume of pale grey blue silk and white hat. She was attended by one bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Jean Capper, in a pale pink silk frock and black hat, and Capt. W. I. G. Ellison was best man. The church bells rang merrily as the bride and bridegroom left the church, and again during the evening. After the ceremony a reception was held in Mr. and Mrs. Capper's garden, and during the afternoon Major and Mrs. Bullen left for their honeymoon in Cornwall.

A LOCAL W.A.A.C. 8th Aug. 1919

Miss Dorothy Gray, daughter of Sergt. and Mrs. C. W. Gray, had the honour of being selected as one of the representatives of the Q.M.A.A.C.'s in the triumphal march through London on Peace Day.

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 8th Aug. 1919

Mr. H. S. Aldred, London House, has been officially informed that his son, Frank H. R. Aldred, has been awarded a County Minor Scholarship at the County School. Frank Aldred was a pupil at the Council School, Over, under Mr. E. Webb.

WAR MEMORIAL. 8th Aug. 1919

At the kind invitation of the Vicar, a garden fete, jumble sale, etc., will be held in the Vicarage grounds on Thursday afternoon, 11th September, and a dance in the National School is being arranged for the evening of the same day. The entire proceeds from the fete, sale and dance are to be given to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund.

SCHOOL TREAT. 8th Aug. 1919

Scholars of Bethel Sunday School will well remember the Peace celebrations at the end of the Great War, as in addition to participating in the village festivities on July 19th, they had their annual treat on July 24th and 31st. The customary tea was given on the former date, but owing to the bad weather the sports were postponed for a week. The sports were held in a meadow kindly lent by Mr. J. Day, and Mr. J. L. Stanton, district councillor, most generously bore the whole expense, and at the close he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, and was loudly cheered.

AID FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 8th Aug. 1919

The house-to-house collections in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital which have recently been made in the villages in the Swavesey district, under the auspices of the County Organisation Fund, have resulted in a larger sum than that contributed in any previous year, being sent to Mrs. Kay Shuttleworth, Babraham, hon. secretary of the fund. The contributions from Swavesey were £10 1s. 10d., and the total collected £53 7s. 5d. Mrs. Kay Shuttleworth is much pleased with the result, and Mrs. Cooksey, Swavesey Manor, the vice-president of the district, is anxious to thank the collectors for their services, and also the contributors.

STREET LIGHTING. 8th Aug. 1919

The late public lamp-lighter of Swavesey estimates that during the 22 years he held the office he had in the performance of his duties to walk 1,300 miles each lighting season, or upwards of 28,000 miles in the course of the 22 years. The Swavesey street lamps were first lighted in 1885. As time went on their number was increased, but the posts and fittings provided in 1885 were in use until 1915, when D.O.R.A. decreed that the streets should be in darkness. Through the wear and tear of so many years, lamps and appurtenances are in a bad state, and the Parish Council, at their meeting on June 30th, appointed a committee, with full powers, to have them put in order ready for use in the autumn.

SALE OF WORK AND CONCERT. 8th Aug. 1919

Attacked by dry rot a few years ago, the fabric of Bethel Baptist Chapel was in danger of collapse, and extensive repairs and renovation had to be undertaken, involving the expenditure of many hundreds of pounds. Much money was contributed at the time, but not sufficient to pay the whole cost of the work, and a substantial debt remained. As time went on the incubus of debt was reduced, by means of collections, sales of work, etc., and on Bank Holiday a final effort was made, and was attended by complete success – the whole of the remaining debt being wiped out. During the afternoon a sale of work, organised by a committee of ladies, assisted by male members of the congregation, was held in the National School. Mr. E. D. Sykes, St. Ives, opened the sale at 2.15 p.m., and crowds of eager buyers attended. There were new work, jumble, and fancy stalls, and all did good business. The refreshment department was kept busily employed, and small tea tables were well patronised. In the evening a concert, organised by Miss May Norman, was given in the school. The large room was filled to its utmost capacity. The excellent programme included songs, duets, quartettes and a violin solo. There were also humorous songs. The day's enterprise has resulted in about £80 being handed over to the treasurer of the Chapel Renovation Fund.

DEATH OF MRS. PONTEFRACT. 15th Aug. 1919

The death occurred at Addenbrooke's Hospital of Mrs. Elizabeth Pontefract, wife of Mr. F. W. Pontefract, and daughter of the late Mr. David Sutton and Mrs. Sutton, of Boxworth End. Mrs. Pontefract who was 47 years of age, had been in indifferent health for some time, and on the advice of Dr. Deighton was removed last week to the Hospital for an operation, which was successfully performed, but unfortunately her strength failed, and she passed away peacefully on Tuesday afternoon. Much sympathy is felt for her bereaved husband and her aged mother. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

COAL COMMITTEE. 15th Aug. 1919

A meeting of the newly constituted Fuel Committee of the Swavesey Rural District was held at the offices of the committee, Station House, Swavesey, on Tuesday evening. Mr. J. Scambler presided, and with one exception, all members were present, with the Fuel Officer, Mr. Hagger, and the Clerk. It was reported that the wholesale merchants were not supplying coal in sufficient quantities to enable the local retailers to store for winter use, and the Committee instructed their officers to bring further pressure to bear on the merchants. The Committee also decided to order 100 tons of coal immediately to be laid down as a special winter reserve stock. The Fuel Officer and the Clerk were re-appointed under the 1919 Order.

PARISH COUNCIL. 15th Aug. 1919

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council due on 21st July was held at the National School on Monday evening. Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. L. Stanton and W. Twist, with the Clerk, were in attendance about the appointed time, 7 p.m., but the Standing Order required five councillors before business could be transacted. The quartette waited patiently and whiled away the time by discussing informally matters that would have to come before the Council. They waited because it was known that one councillor was expected to return to Swavesey by a train due about 8 o'clock, and they did not wait in vain, for at 8.20 p.m. Mr. F. J. Beales arrived, and was rewarded by being voted to the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been signed, two or three letters received by the Clerk were dealt with. It was reported that the Parish Council's complaint of the dangerous condition of the brook where it crosses High-street was under consideration by the District Council. It transpired that the Rats' Destruction Committee had not yet appointed a collector, but Mr. Twist stated that he had already purchased a dozen tails. The Street Lighting Committee reported that the repairs to the lamps, posts, etc., were in hand. An interesting discussion followed, respecting the banks and drains of the parish, and Mr. Stanton, who is also a district councillor, was able to assure the Council that the authority responsible (the District Council) was doing its best in the circumstances. Before the meeting closed notice was given that at the next meeting a resolution to amend Standing Order No. 2 would be moved, so as to reduce the quorum from five to three.

THE BIG DRAINS. 22nd Aug. 1919

Good progress is being made with the work of clearing out the large drain known as Covill's Brook, but owing to years of neglect, the job is a big one, and will take some considerable time to complete. The Rural District Council is responsible for the drains and banks, but the Parish Councillors, as the direct representatives of the parish, have called attention to their unsatisfactory condition. Beyond complaining, the Parish Councillors, however, appear to have taken no practical interest in the work.

"MENTIONED". 22nd Aug. 1919

In a list published this week of names brought to the notice of the Secretary of State for valuable services rendered in the United Kingdom in connection with the war, the name of Mrs. M. Black, Lady Superintendant, V.A.D., Red Cross Hospital, Swavesey, appears. Mrs. Black, then Miss Maud Beales, joined the Swavesey hospital as the professional nurse when it was opened early in 1915, and she remained until the hospital was closed in December last. About two years ago she was married to Mr. Black, a New Zealander, then serving as a trooper in King Edward's Horse, who was a patient at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Black left England for New Zealand about a fortnight ago.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PONTEFRACT. 22nd Aug. 1919

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Pontefract, wife of Mr. F. W. Pontefract, whose death at the age of 47 years on the 12th inst. was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. H. T. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiated, and the first part of the service was held at Mrs. Pontefract's mother's house, Boxworth End. The hymn "Nearer, my God, to Thee," was sung there. The chief mourners were: Mr. F. W. Pontefract (husband), Mrs. D. Sutton (mother), Miss Kate Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sutton, jun., Mr. and Mrs. A. Pontefract, Mr. and Mrs. T. Watts, and Mrs. S. Pontefract. There were many sympathising friends at the graveside. Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. Mr. F. W. Pontefract wishes to convey his deepest thanks for the many kind inquiries and expressions of sympathy.

DEMOBILISED. 29th Aug. 1919

Lance-Corpl. Jethro Linford, Military Foot Police, has been demobilised and arrived in Swavesey from France on Friday last. Before joining up on November 22nd, 1915, Lance-Corpl. Linford was a constable in the Cambs. Constabulary, stationed at Eltisley. He went to France on March 25th, 1916, where he remained, except for a few periods of leave, until demobilised.

KILLED IN ACTION. 29th Aug. 1919

Mr. and Mrs. John Dodson, St. Ives, late of Swavesey, have been informed that their elder son, Corpl. Alfred Charles Dodson, 2nd Essex Regiment, who had been reported wounded and missing on August 15th, 1918, has now been officially recorded as having been killed in action on that date. At the outbreak of the war, Corpl. Dodson was serving in South Africa with the 2nd Bedfords, and had about 14 years' Army service to his credit. His battalion was immediately brought home, and Corpl. Dodson found himself in France in time for the First Battle of Ypres. On May 16th, 1916, he was severely wounded by gunshot in the left leg. On recovery a year later, he was transferred to the 17th Essex, and on June 1st, 1918, returned to France and joined the 2nd Essex. On August 15th following, he was killed. Corpl. Dodson, who was married in 1916, left a widow and one child.

WEDDING. 29th Aug. 1919

At the Parish Church of St. Andrew's, Swavesey, Dr. Edward Hindle, Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge, and lately captain, R.E., son of Mr. E. J. Hindle, of California, was married last Saturday afternoon to Miss Irene Margaret Twist, daughter of the late Mr. John Twist, of Roby, Lancashire. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar of Swavesey, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her cousin, Mrs. H. Capper, of Swavesey, was dressed in biscuit-coloured crepe de chene, with hat to match. She was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Capper, her cousin, in pink silk and black hat. Dr. Adrian, Trinity College, was best man. Appropriate music on the organ was played by Mr. Jack Mustill before the service, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the newly-wedded couple left the church. After the ceremony a reception was held at Mrs. Capper's residence.

THE SWAVESEY ROLL. 29th Aug. 1919

In discussing the question of local War Memorials in a recent issue of the "Independent Press," we drew attention to the Swavesey Roll of Honour. Although this is to form part of a much larger memorial, the idea might be copied in many villages whose people are unable to raise a large sum of money or who wish to make a substantial contribution to the Town and County and Isle of Ely Memorial – the improvement and extension of Addenbrooke's Hospital. The wooden case has a glass front and is divided into three parts. In the centre is the Roll of Honour (the gallant dead) surmounted by the scriptural words selected by Rudyard Kipling for the memorials in France, "Their name liveth for evermore." The Roll of Service which fills the two remaining parts is in two columns, the first giving the full name of each man, but not his rank (all are level) and the second showing honours gained, deaths, prisoners of war, discharged, etc. Numbers or letters explained by foot-notes against the names denote (a) whether a man was serving with the Colours at the outbreak of war; (b) whether he was a Reservist called up; or (c) a Territorial called up on mobilisation; (d) 1919 Star men; (e) 1914-15 Star men; (f) whether wounded, and, if so, how many times. Mr. C. R. Vincent, who compiled the Roll of Honour, is having a booklet printed, with a complete record of the names. This is to be sold for the benefit of the Swavesey Memorial Hall Fund.

AN UNUSUAL VISITOR. 5th Sept. 1919

Airship R 32 sailed majestically over the village on Wednesday afternoon. The villagers were greatly interested in watching the aerial monster.

DEMOBILISED. 5th Sept. 1919

Sergt. Charles S. Hephner, 4th Suffolks, who recently returned to this country with his battalion from the Rhine, has been demobilised. He arrived in Swavesey last Saturday.

PROMOTED AND DEMOBILISED. 5th Sept. 1919

Lieut. Martin Surrey Caine, M.B.E., 21st (Alberta) Canadian Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caine, High-street, who returned to Canada early in the summer, has been promoted captain, to date from 14th April last, and was transferred to the Reserve List of Canadian officers on 25th June. Capt. Caine, joined up on 4th January, 1915, and went to France on 8th October of that year. In the third battle of Ypres, on 2nd June, 1916, he was slightly wounded, and on 28th June was given a commission for service in the field. On 15th September following he was seriously wounded at Courcellette, and was disabled for a considerable period. Certified unfit for general service, he was employed as a musketry instructor in this country. In the last Birthday Gazette Capt. Caine was awarded the M.B.E. (Military Division).

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS PRIOR. 5th Sept. 1919

The tolling of the big bell of the parish church announced that Mr. Thomas Prior, Stanton View, Boxworth End, had died on Saturday. Mr. Prior had reached the great age of 88 years, and was the oldest inhabitant in the parish. For the last seven years he had been blind, but was confined to bed for only five weeks. The son of the late Mr. John Prior, the deceased had spent his long life in the village, where, in addition to farming, he carried on the business of butcher. He was identified in years past in many ways with the public life of the parish, and with the Baptist cause. He left a widow (his second wife), one son, two daughters and 14 grandchildren. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at the parish church, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating. The mourners were Mrs. Prior (widow), Mr. B. Prior (son), Mrs. F. Dodson and Mrs. Barrett (daughters), Miss C. Prior and Miss E. M. Prior (granddaughters), Mrs. B. Prior (daughter-in-law) and Mr. W. Barrett (son-in-law). (More mourners in newspaper). Amongst those present in church and at the graveside were the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher (pastor Bethel Baptist Chapel), Mr. W. Thorp, and Mr. Alfred Day, sen. The coffin was of polished elm with brass fittings. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

DEMOBILISED. 12th Sept. 1919

Private James Kester, 1st Lincolnshire Regt., has been demobilised, and is now in Swavesey. He joined the Suffolks on 1st June, 1916, and went to France in the following October, being transferred to the 2nd Lincolns. He subsequently served with other battalions of that regiment.

WEDDING. 12th Sept. 1919

The marriage of Mr. Thomas Charles Froment, late Guards' Machine Gun Corps, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Froment, and Miss Sarah Jane Savage, sixth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, was solemnised at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, vicar, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in saxe blue voile, with veil and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white and pink asters, the gift of Mr. J. Ansell, Swavesey. Attending her were two bridesmaids, the Misses B. and G. Froment, sisters of the bridegroom, in pale blue and white voile dresses. Mr. George Howlett was best man. After the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at the residence of the bride's parents. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

RATS, PEBBLES, AND LAMP-POSTS. 12th Sept. 1919

Our Swavesey representative writes:- "There are several matters connected with the Parish Council to which I have been desired by parishioners to call attention, and this week I propose to refer to three of them. In the first place I have been asked whether the official rat collector has been appointed, and, if so, who has been selected. The Council discussed the matter on 11th August. Secondly, there are people in the village who would like to know whether any, and if so how many, of the public street lamps will be ready for use by the end of the month, when the lighting of the streets should commence. Some ratepayers are of the opinion that the lamps should not be used this winter, so as to save expense. They urge that, as the village managed to get along without lamps during the war, lamps can be very well dispensed with in days, or rather nights, of peace. As, however, the parish has for many years adopted the Lighting Act, the question of its discontinuance, even for a time, would appear to be one for a Parish Meeting to decide; and the "no-lights" advocates should not overlook the fact that the Parish Council on 30th June gave their Lighting Committee full power to have all lamps and fittings put into proper working order forthwith. If the parish decides to leave the streets in darkness, the sooner the work of repairs is stopped the better. Thirdly, it has been suggested that the Parish Councillors should be reminded that during the earlier part of the war the Council made a representation to the County Road authorities respecting the discreditable condition of the pebble side-path in High Street. Orders were, it is understood, given by the County Road Surveyor to a local tradesman to repair the path, but this gentleman, unless my memory is defective, told the Parish Council some months later that he could not do the work, as his bricklayer had had to join up. Beyond removing the loose pebbles, nothing was done. Part of the roadway in High-street is now being tarred, and the other part, we are told, is to be repaired shortly. Why not attend to the footpath now? Of course, the proper method for anxious seekers after parochial information to adopt is to apply to the Clerk of the Parish Council, but there appears to be a desire on the part of many parishioners not to trouble that already overburdened functionary with personal enquiries. By reason of holding every, or nearly every, public office in the parish he is specially qualified to answer questions and settle difficulties of all sorts. This aggregation of multifarious offices in one human being once tempted a frivolous youth who had lived in London to observe that the Swavesey Parish Council Clerk must occasionally find himself in as awkward a predicament as did the great functionary in Gilbert and Sullivan's opera whose innumerable offices included those of Lord High Everything, Chief Justice, Archbishop, and Public Executioner. Some persons are rash enough to assert that a representation in the "Press and News" is far more likely to be effective than a personal representation to an official. But I would remind these persons that Swavesey Parish Councillors have declared over and over again that they never take notice of anything appertaining to themselves, or their duties, which may appear in the Press."

SWAVESEY ROLL OF HONOUR. 12th Sept. 1919

BOOKLET SOLD FOR BENEFIT OF MEMORIAL HALL FUND.

The Swavesey Roll of Honour and record of men who are known to have served in the Great War was first on sale to the general public yesterday at a garden fete in Swavesey Vicarage grounds organised in aid of Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund. It is an unpretentious booklet, probably at the present moment the only one of its kind in the County, and it is being sold at a price of one shilling a copy for the benefit of the Memorial Hall Fund. Within a small compass much information is given. The Roll of Honour of the gallant quarter-hundred men who gave their lives in the struggle holds first place. Then follows the list of Swavesey men who served in the war, including even those who had left their native parish and found homes elsewhere, and against the names, which are given in full are shown honours gained, deaths, prisoners of war, discharged, etc. Numbers or letters denote (a) whether a man was serving with the colours at the outbreak of the war; (b) whether he was a Reservist called up; or (c) a Territorial called up on mobilisation; (d) 1914 star men; (e) 1914-1915 star men; (f) whether wounded or gassed, and, if so, how many times. Mr. T. Metcalfe, Post Office, Swavesey, has kindly undertaken to sell the booklet, and copies can also be obtained from the compiler, Mr. C. R. Vincent, High-street, Swavesey.

DEMOBILISED. 19th Sept. 1919

Corpl. John K. Savage, R.F.A., has been demobilised. A reservist called up on mobilisation on 4th August, 1914, he served throughout the war. In July, 1917, he was wounded.

GARDEN FETE. 19th Sept. 1919

Bright sunshine and a cloudless sky on Thursday, 11th instant, gave a perfect day for the garden fete in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund held, by kind invitation of the Vicar, in the grounds of Swavesey Vicarage, and the people, or at any rate those who were not kept away by the claims of business, the harvest, etc., took full advantage of the many attractions offered them. Although not organised on such ambitious lines as some previous fetes in Swavesey, it was fully as successful, and in some instances even beat earlier records. The organisers, under Mr. C. Wood, with whom was associated the Vicar, are to be warmly congratulated on their untiring and arduous work, and they have the satisfaction of knowing that the result of their labours was complete success. The chief attraction was the pastoral play, "Alice in Wonderland," of which performances were given at 3 p.m. and 6.30 p.m. The setting was most appropriate, as that part of the garden which had been enclosed for the purpose made a natural sylvan theatre, and the background, with its sloping banks and trees, shrubs and undergrowth, afforded scenery which was just what was wanted. The costumes, all home-made, were most effective, and the different characters, all word perfect, were played with intelligence and zest. The training had been done well by Mr. Wood. Alice was represented by Miss E. Dodson; Alice's sister by Miss P. Mitham; the White Rabbit, Mr. Wood; March Hare, Jack Mustill; Mad Hatter, Mr. A. Prime, jun., M.M.; King of Hearts, Mr. A. Beaumont; Queen of Hearts, Miss M. Cole; Knave of Hearts, Mr. P. J. Beaumont; Duchess, Miss Connie Goad; gardeners, soldiers, ladies-in-waiting, etc. So well satisfied was the afternoon audience that many of them attended again in the evening, and the takings were a Swavesey record.

The other attractions included a shooting gallery, run by Mr. A. Beaumont; Aunt Sally in charge of Mr. Walter Thorp; while Mr. P. Godfrey induced 55 prospectors to peg out claims in Klondike. No one hit upon the right spot, though several were quite near, and the half-prize went to a lady, Mrs. A. J. Willson. In interesting collection of war trophies and souvenirs, lent by Mr. Elliott (Boxworth), Rev. J. S. Sharp, Messrs. Goad, Walter Thorp, Heasman, etc, was on view, and had a most competent exponent in Regimental Sergt.-Major Heasman who also rendered valuable aid in many other ways. The refreshment department was in the capable hands of Mrs. Cooksey, with many energetic helpers, and was well patronised. Customers, however, found fault not with the food, which was excellent, but with the prices – they were too low! A jumble stall was in charge of Mrs. Twist, new work stall of Mrs. Sharp, and a produce stall of Mr. F. J. Beales, with assistants. All did well. Sixty-seven persons contributed to the produce stall from Swavesey, Fen Drayton, Over, Lolworth, Boxworth, Conington, Histon, Ipswich and London. The Beduoin fortune teller, impersonated by Captain Barwell, assisted by his son, both in correct native Arab dress, must not be overlooked. They held their séances in a tent of mystery, decorated with barbaric designs. Guessing competitions were numerous. Ringing the Kaiser's nose was very popular with the young people, and so was the bran-tub. Mr. Twist's Zoo was worthy of special mention, and apart from his show he earned a debt of gratitude for the work he did to make the fete of success both before and after the event. Last of all, reference should be made to the Roll of Honour stall, at which Mrs. Ashby sold the Swavesey Roll of Honour booklet, placed on sale for the first time that day. So great was the demand that the first edition was sold out. (The booklet has since been reprinted). In the evening a dance was held in the National School under the management of Nurses D. Williams and George Goad. The financial result of the fete and dance has been most satisfactory, no less than £71 11s. 6½d. having been handed to the treasurer of the Memorial Hall Fund. The whole of the expenses were borne by the organisers, stall holders, and other workers.

RATS. 26th Sept. 1919

Mr. George Clarke has been appointed rat collector for the parish of Swavesey.

THE SCHOOLS. 26th Sept. 1919

The National Schools will be re-opened on Monday morning after the summer holidays. One teacher will be missing, Mrs. C. S. Hepher (nee Miss E. Robinson) having resigned.

WINTER PRICE OF MILK. 26th Sept. 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: No official intimation has yet been issued by the local Food Committee respecting the retail price of milk during the winter months. Complaint is made that this delay in fixing the price is not fair either to the milk retailer or to the consumer.

TWO QUESTIONS. 26th Sept. 1919

People who think it wise to be prepared for possible trouble, would like to know whether temporary bridges to span the gate openings in the raised causeway at Church End, in the event of flood, have yet been supplied, and whether the snow plough provided by the District Council for use in the parish of Swavesey is now stored in the village and available for immediate use when needed. The original temporary bridges were destroyed in the great fire in March, 1913, and scaffold boards and odd planks, borrowed from various accommodating people, have since been used, but have made a far from satisfactory or safe substitute.

PRICE OF MILK. 3rd Oct. 1919

No official intimation to the public as to the retail price of milk during the winter months has been issued in Swavesey, but it is understood that retailers propose to charge 9d. a quart during October, 10d. in November, and 11d. in December.

THE TURN BRIDGE. 3rd Oct. 1919

At their last meeting the Parish Council decided to call the attention of the District Council to the unprotected state of the large open ditch which crosses High-street at Turn Bridge. Last Saturday an effective fence was erected on one side of the bridge. A fence is, however, badly needed on the other side of the bridge.

ACCIDENT. 3rd Oct. 1919

Mr. Cecil Dean, baker, Swavesey, met with an unfortunate accident whilst delivering bread in Over on Monday afternoon. He was getting into his cart with a basket on one arm, when the horse moved on. Mr. Dean stepped back, but caught his leg in the reins and fell heavily to the ground. Fortunately he escaped the wheel. On his return home, Dr. R. Ellis was called in. No bones were broken.

IN MEMORIAM. 3rd Oct. 1919

COULSON. In loving memory of Pioneer Walter Coulson, R.E., who died of wounds, in France, October 2nd, 1918, aged 31 years. Buried in the British Communal Cemetery, at Doingt, near Peronne.

From our happy home and circle,

God has taken one we loved.

Borne away from sin and sorrow,

For a happier home above.

The parting to us was so bitter,

The meeting will be sweet.

When through our dear Redeemer

In Heaven we hope to meet.

From his sorrowing Wife and Children, Mother and Father, Sisters and Brothers, The Limes, Swavesey.

GOOD ATTENDANCE. 10th Oct. 1919

At the National School on Monday morning a medal awarded by the County Education Authority was presented to Lily Melbourne for one year's perfect attendance. Stanley Brooks received a bar to the medal awarded in 1918 for another year's perfect attendance.

EVENING SCHOOL. 10th Oct. 1919

Arrangements have been made for evening classes to be held at the National School commencing on Monday, 20th October, viz., Mondays and Fridays, 7 to 9 p.m., needlework and woodwork; Tuesdays, 7 to 9, arithmetic; Wednesdays, 7 to 9, drawing; Thursday, 7 to 9, elementary science.

LARGE POTATO. 10th Oct. 1919

A Swavesey small holder can go one better in the matter of large potatoes than the growers of Fen Drayton and Oakington mentioned in last Friday's "Press and News." Last week Mr. James Kester, jun., dug an Evergood potato which weighed 3lb. and half an ounce. It was grown in the Mill Field small holdings.

THE RAILWAY SERVICE. 10th Oct. 1919

The normal service of passenger trains calling at Swavesey Station was restored on Wednesday, including two new trains, late trains, which should have begun to run on the 1st October, viz., up train leaving Swavesey at 8.59 p.m., and due at Cambridge at 9.25 p.m., and down train leaving Cambridge at 8.40 p.m., and due at Swavesey at 9.3 p.m. The regular postal services were also resumed on Wednesday.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING. 10th Oct. 1919

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the parish church on Thursday, 2nd instant, and the sacred building was effectively decorated with flowers and fruit. There was also a quantity of vegetables. The popular service was Evensong at 7 p.m., which was attended by a good congregation. The service was bright and hearty. The Rev. Granville Sharp, Vicar of Longford, Derbyshire, preached. The festival was continued on Sunday, the Rev. G. Sharp again preaching at Evensong. The collections on Thursday and on Sunday morning were, as usual, in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the fruit and vegetables used in the decorations have been sent. The children's offerings of flowers, etc., at their service on Sunday afternoon have been forwarded to the St. Ives infirmary.

PARISH COUNCIL. 10th Oct. 1919

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Mr. J. S. Goad, (vice-chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman, R. Norman, J. L. Stanton, and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The minutes of the last meeting on 11th August having been confirmed, the Clerk reported that he had received no reply to a letter sent by direction of the Council to Mr. D. Hayward, Cambridge, respecting the proposed inspection of the Recreation Ground with the view of laying a cricket pitch. A discussion followed, and eventually Mr. Burton proposed that further consideration of the question of preparing a pitch should be adjourned until the New Year. The voting was three for and three against. The Chairman gave his casting vote in favour of the resolution, which therefore carried. The Council then proceeded to consider the question of the present tenancy of the parish property in High-street which had been placed at the disposal of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Committee at a previous meeting for the erection of the proposed village hall and institute. After a long discussion, it was decided to ask the tenant, Mr. W. J. Hepher, to attend the meeting, and a messenger was sent to him. He quickly put in an appearance and the Chairman and Mr. Beales explained the situation to him. It was suggested to him that he should remain tenant subject to three months' notice to quit to be given at any time. Mr. Hepher replied that he gladly agreed to these terms. Mr. Beales thereupon moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Hepher, which was seconded by Mr. F. Norman and carried unanimously. A communication from the Clerk of the County Council calling attention to the joint war memorial of the County, Isle of Ely, and Borough of Cambridge was discussed, and the Clerk was instructed to reply that as a large scheme for a local memorial was in hand, it was regretted that no assistance could be given to the County Memorial. Mr. Twist asked the Clerk about the Church End Causeway plank bridges for use in flood time. He understood that he had had the order to supply them for some time. The Clerk replied that suitable wood was expensive and difficult to obtain. He hoped there would be no more floods, but if there should be one before he had made the bridges, he had arranged with the District Council Road Surveyor to lend scaffold planks. Some of the Councillors did not think that this was a satisfactory arrangement. Mr. Stanton proposed that the Council should ask owners and occupiers of land to have their ditches cleared out and their hedges cut. Mr. Goad asked that the hedges on the District Council road should not be overlooked. High hedges, he contended, made the roads very wet. The clerk pointed out that the Parish Council had no jurisdiction in the matter, and the Chairman agreed. A long and interesting conversation ensued respecting hedges and ditches, and at length the question was asked as to the number of hours per day the men employed by the District Council in clearing out the public drains in the parish were supposed to work. A resolution directing the Clerk to write to the District Council asking for information as to the hours of work of the men in question, and the wages paid to them, was proposed and carried unanimously. Mr. Stanton asked the Clerk when he was going to replace the fob at Church Bridge which he had removed. The Clerk replied that the fob had doubtless floated down the river. Mr. Twist suggested a flap at the end of the drain from Swan pond under the high road. If that were supplied, the fob would not be needed. Mr. Burton asked what authority was responsible for the fob. The Clerk replied the District Council. Mr. Burton thereupon proposed that a letter be sent to the District council calling attention to the matter. Mr. Twist seconded. Carried unanimously. In view of the Restriction of Lighting Order, it was agreed that the question of lighting the village street lamps during the winter should remain in abeyance for the present. At the close of the meeting the Clerk announced that the returning officer's charges in connection with the Parish Council election in the spring amounted to £8 – Our Swavesey correspondent writes: Some of the matters to which attention has recently been called in the "Press and News" were dealt with by the Parish Council on Monday night, but nothing was said about the defective stiles between the Recreation Ground and Brickhill Drove. Possibly this matter was overlooked owing to the length of the sitting, 2½ hours, and the many and various subjects discussed.

DEMOBILISED. 17th Oct. 1919

Three more Swavesey men, all of whom have served on the Western front, have been demobilised and have returned home, viz., Second Lieut. E. Williams, Northants. Regt., Sergt. P. V. Maltby, 2nd South Staffordshire Regt., and Gunner T. W. Savage, R.G.A.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 17th Oct. 1919

A working party of ladies is being formed in the village to make garments, etc., to be sold for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund. Ladies who are willing to assist are asked to kindly communicate with the hon. secretary, Miss M. Cole, The Farm, as soon as possible, as it is desired to start work without delay.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 17th Oct. 1919

A service of thanksgiving for the harvest was held on Thursday evening, 9th inst., at Bethel Baptist Chapel, which was prettily decorated for the occasion by ladies of the congregation with flowers, fruit and vegetables. The sermon was preached by the Rev. J. Phillips, Free Church, St. Ives, who took his text from the first verse of the 23rd Psalm. A very good congregation attended, and the collection, which amounted to £8, was equally satisfactory. The contributions of fruit and vegetables have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. During the afternoon a clearance sale of fancy and useful needlework left over from the sale of work on August Bank Holiday was held in the Chapel Schoolroom, and realised £14 3s. 6d., and between the sale and the evening service there was a public tea, which attracted a full attendance.

PARISH COUNCIL OMISSIONS. 17th Oct. 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- Attention was called last week to the failure of the Parish Councillors at their meeting held a few days previously to deal with those defective stiles on the right of way from the Recreation Ground to Brickhill Drove. I have since been desired by a parishioner to point out that the plank bridge is unsafe. The Council might with advantage devote attention to the stiles in other parts of the parish – those between the village and the river for instance. Not only are the remnants of the stiles difficult to negotiate except by the young and active, but the disappearance of a footbridge has interfered with a favourite walk to Overcote Ferry. Another parishioner has asked me to inquire whether there is still a right of way from the wooden house in Rose and Crown-lane to Gibraltar-lane, and, if there is none, to suggest that the Parish Council should ascertain under what circumstances the right of public usage which was believed to exist some years ago was lost or surrendered. There was, however, a more remarkable omission from the proceedings at the last Council meeting than matters brought to their notice in the local Press. At their previous meeting on 11th August a councillor gave formal notice that at the next meeting he would move a resolution to amend Standing Order No. 2, with the view of reducing the quorum from five to three. I do not remember that any reference was made to the proposed resolution in the minutes of 11th August, and the resolution was not included in the agenda, it was not moved, nor was it even mentioned at last week's meeting.

PROFITEERING COMMITTEE. 24th Oct. 1919

It is understood that a combined Profiteering Committee for the Swavesey and St. Ives rural districts and St. Ives borough are in course of formation.

SOLDIER INJURED. 24th Oct. 1919

Bombardier F. A. Prior, R.F.A., who is in camp at Ripon, has recently been thrown from his horse through the bit breaking, and is in hospital suffering from concussion and injuries to his nose and face. He returned from the Rhine last August.

RATS. 24th Oct. 1919

During this week war is being waged on rats throughout the country. This is the week of the national campaign for the extermination, or at any rate the substantial reduction, of hordes of rats. Mr. George Clarke is the official rat collector for the parish of Swavesey, and he will be glad to receive, and pay for, any number of rats' tails.

DAMAGED HOUSES. 24th Oct. 1919

Two houses in the main road in Swavesey have had recently to be tied with iron rods, and it is stated that ominous cracks are showing in other houses. It is suggested that the very heavy traffic to and from the railway station, ponderous traction engines hauling heavily-laden trucks, during the past four or five years, is to some extent responsible for the damage.

WEDDING. 24th Oct. 1919

At Croham-road Baptist Church, South Croydon, on the 12th inst., very quietly, the wedding took place of Mr. Frank Shergold and Miss D. E. Savage, of Swavesey. The bride's dress was of pale mauve voile, and she wore a georgette hat trimmed with mauve to match her dress. Miss Winnie Shergold, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and she was dressed in dark blue silk with pale blue hat. The bride was given away by Mr. G. Shergold, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Ernest Deadman was best man. The presents were numerous and useful.

THE POSTAL SERVICE. 24th Oct. 1919

During the war, owing mainly, it is believed, to the restricted train service, the day mail despatch from Swavesey Post Office was altered from 1.30 p.m. to 10.45 a.m., and the night mail despatch from 7.45 p.m. to 7 p.m., while the third, or evening, delivery was suspended. Now that the pre-war railway service has been restored, there appears to be no reason why the pre-war postal service should not be resumed. It is possible that through the earlier closing of the Swavesey Post Office (7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m.) a later night mail despatch may not be desirable from the office point of view, and that the evening delivery, which was obtained for the village a few years ago through the kind intervention of Mr. E. S. Montagu, in the face of strong official opposition, may not be considered to be worth the extra expense, but the only objection apparent to the public eye against a day mail despatch by the 1.47 p.m. train would seem to be the closing of the Swavesey Post Office from 1 to 2 p.m. for the dinner hour, and this objection might, it is thought, be surmounted without causing inconvenience to anyone. A later day mail despatch would not only be a convenience to Swavesey people, who could answer letters received by day mail, but would enable correspondence from Elsworth, Boxworth and other villages served from Swavesey to be included in the day mail despatch, as in pre-war times.

GONE TO INDIA. 31st Oct. 1919

Pte. Albert Holmes, Royal West Kent Regiment, has sailed for India.

PARISH CHURCH. 31st Oct. 1919

Sermons on behalf of the National Society were preached at the Parish church on Sunday last at the morning and evening services by the Rev. A. Hughes.

RAT CAMPAIGN. 31st Oct. 1919

The national campaign against rats was not a striking success in Swavesey. During the week only 15 rats' tails were taken to the official rat collector.

OBITUARY. 31st Oct. 1919

Mrs. Emily Mitham, widow of the late Mr. Edward Mitham, farmer, Swavesey, died on Tuesday in Cambridge, where she had been living during the last few years. Mrs. Mitham, who had attained the great age of 92 years, and had been in failing health for some time, was the daughter of the late Mr. Henry Harman, of Costessey, Norwich. The funeral will take place at Swavesey this (Friday) afternoon.

WOMEN'S MEETING. 31st Oct. 1919

A meeting for women, under the auspices of the National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases (Cambs. Branch), was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. About fifty women were present. Mrs. Bethune Baker presided, and Mrs. Adney, of the National Council, London, gave an address on "How to help and safeguard children and young people." Mrs. Hastree, of the Cambs. Branch, also spoke.

POSTAL SERVICE. 31st Oct. 1919

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: With reference to the paragraph in last week's "Press and News" respecting the postal service, I have been given to understand that the main obstacle to the day mail despatch being made by the 1.47 p.m. train, instead of by the 11.12 a.m. train as at present, is the irregular running of the down train due at 10.49 a.m., by which day mail correspondence for delivering in the Swavesey district is conveyed from Cambridge. This train invariably arrives considerably after scheduled time, and there is in consequence not sufficient time for correspondence to be delivered, collected, and despatched by the 1.47 p.m. train, which now runs rather earlier than in former days.

WHIST DRIVE. 31st Oct. 1919

A successful whist drive, organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee of the Swavesey War Memorial and Institute Fund, was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Twenty-eight tables were fully occupied, and a very pleasant evening was spent. The prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Miss Beaumont, Miss Gadsby and Mrs. H. Holmes; gentlemen, Mr D. Williams, Mr. E. Mitham and Mr. Chandler. Excellent refreshments, given by village friends, were supplied at moderate charges, and were in great request. This department was under the capable management of the Misses G. and E. Dodson. Mr. George Goad acted as M. C. The drive resulted in £7 10s. being handed over to the Memorial Hall Fund, and it is hoped to arrange other drives during the winter months.

IN MEMORIAM. 31st Oct. 1919

CHADDOCK. – In ever-loving and devoted memory of my dear husband, Corporal F. J. Chaddock, 1st Gloucester Regiment, who was killed in France, October 31st, 1918. Buried south of Gaillon, near Sambre Canal.

One sad year has passed away,
Since my loved one was called away.
Time may heal my broken heart,
Time may make the wound less sore,
But time will never heal the longing
For my loved one gone before.
I think of him in silence,
No eyes may see me weep,
But still within my aching heart
His sweet memory I will ever keep.

Faithful unto death

From his loving Wife, Florence, 9, High-street, Swavesey.

HOME FROM THE EAST. 7th Nov. 1919

Gunner G. E. Canham, R.G.A., arrived in Swavesey on Tuesday morning on leave from Egypt. Joining up in March, 1917, he went to Mesopotamia in the July following, serving there until May, 1918, when he was transferred to the Egyptian Expeditionary Force. He is in excellent health.

FUNERAL. 7th Nov. 1919

The funeral of Mrs. Emily Mitham, widow of the late Mr. Edward Mitham, whose death was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Friday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. G. Hawkes (daughter), Miss E. Hawkes (granddaughter), Mrs. Staden, Mrs. H. Beaumont, Mrs. R. Mitham (nieces), and Mrs. J. Day, Cambridge. Several old friends were also present in church and at the graveside. The coffin was of polished elm, with brass fittings. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The late Mrs. Mitham was born on the 11th November, 1825.

FOR THE FALLEN. 7th Nov. 1919

A memorial service for the 25 Swavesey men who fell in the war was held at the parish church on Sunday evening. Preceded by the banner of the church, carried by Mr. R. Mitham, the choir entered in procession, singing Bishop Heber's hymn "The Son of God goes forth to war." Only the opening part of the evening prayer was used, and then followed special Psalms, lessons and prayers, and Stainer's anthem "What are these?" Hymn, "How bright these glorious spirits shine" was sung before the sermon, which was preached by the Vicar, and then came another hymn, "On the Resurrection morning." The service concluded with the Nunc Dimittis.

WEDDING. 7th Nov. 1919

A quiet but pretty ceremony took place at Boston, Lincs., on Saturday last, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. A. Rose, of Boston, to Miss Agnes Stockbridge, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stockbridge, of Swavesey. The bride, who was charmingly attired in a navy blue costume, with hat and veil to match, and carried an ivory-covered Prayer Book (the gift of the bridegroom), was given away by her father. Miss Gladys Stockbridge, of Boston (niece of the bride) was bridesmaid, and S.-Sergt. F. Stockbridge, R.F.A. (brother of the bride), at present home on leave, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom, where several friends extended to Mr. and Mrs. Rose their best wishes. The happy couple left Boston by the 3 o'clock train for Firsby, where for the present they intend to make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Rose were the recipients of numerous and useful presents.

THE DISTRICT NURSE. 14th Nov. 1919

Miss Rowbotham, of the Queen Victoria's Home for Nurses, has been engaged by the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, to undertake the duties of district nurse in the three villages. Miss Rowbotham has recently been employed on district nursing work in Manchester. She is residing at Mrs. James Well's house, Church-end, Swavesey.

WEDDING. 14th Nov. 1919

The marriage of Miss Elsie Savage, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, Swavesey, and Pte. David Brookes, R.A.S.C. (M.T.), eldest son of Mr. Amos Brookes, Solihull, Warwickshire, took place in Swavesey Parish Church, by special licence, on Monday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore cream georgette, trimmed with silver beads, and a veil and orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of white chrysanthemums. In attendance was one bridesmaid, Miss Marjorie Brookes, sister of the bridegroom, in saxe blue voile and white net hat. She wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. Henry Hill (the bridegroom's brother-in-law) was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, and later the newly-married pair left for Solihull for the honeymoon. The presents are both numerous and useful. Pte. Brookes is on leave from France.

DEMOBILISED. 14th Nov. 1919

C.S.M. B. G. Mann, M.M., 8th Royal Welsh Fusiliers, arrived at his home in Swavesey on Monday, having been demobilised. He was a Reservist of the Suffolk Regiment, and was called up on mobilisation on August 4th, 1914. Being an expert signaller, he quickly obtained promotion, and was employed as an instructor with the 3rd Suffolks, and subsequently with the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, to which regiment he was transferred. Promoted sergeant in June, 1915, he was sent, as an instructor, to the Signalling School at Blundell Sands, near Liverpool. In April, 1917, he left with a draft of his regiment for Mesopotamia. In the Mediterranean his ship, the Cameronian, was torpedoed and sunk, with sad loss of life. Sergeant Mann, after swimming for an hour or more, was rescued by a destroyer, and was taken to Malta. From thence, after being re-equipped, he proceeded on his voyage to the East, but his troubles were not over. Between Malta and Egypt three enemy submarines dogged the ship. One torpedo missed her by inches, but the watchful Japanese destroyers which formed the escort were on the alert. One submarine was sunk by gunfire, and another was rammed, whilst the third was chased away and was lost sight of. In the Red Sea, only a few hours' sail from Suez, Sergeant Mann's ship ran aground, and the troops had to be landed on the desolate coast for a couple of days while the vessel was being hauled off the rocks by tugs. He returned to Suez, and after the hole in the ship had been patched up, proceeded to Basoa. On March 28th, 1918, he was wounded by gun shot in the leg, and notwithstanding his injury, distinguished himself by bringing in a wounded officer, for which gallant action he was awarded the Military Medal. He was one of the burial party of General Maude's funeral. On March 4th, 1919, he was promoted Company Sergeant-Major. After leaving Mesopotamia, C.S.M. Mann proceeded to India, where he served until sent home for demobilisation.

ARMISTICE DAY. 14th Nov. 1919

Although no organised arrangements had been made for the parish as a whole, Armistice Day was observed in Swavesey. Services were held at the Parish Church at 8 a.m. and 7 p.m., and one of the bells was tolled from 10.55 until 11 a.m., and again at the end of the two minutes' silence desired by the King, in memory of the Glorious Dead. His Majesty's suggestion was adopted very generally, and work, sound and movement ceased in the parish. Some farmers had given instructions to their workers. The men employed by the Rural District Council in clearing out the main drains were briefly addressed by the District Road Surveyor, Mr. Hagger, shortly before 11 o'clock, and when the Church clock struck the hour they stood at attention in silence for two minutes. At the Railway Station the Stationmaster, Mr. F. J. Beales, reminded the men at work in the goods yard of the token of respect they were asked to consider, and work ceased. With hardly an exception there was silence and stillness throughout the village. Men in the road paused, and carts and other vehicles came to a standstill. Below the Roll of Honour in High-street, which records the names of 25 Swavesey men who made the supreme sacrifice, a wreath of laurel, made by Miss Pook, was flanked by Union Jacks. Another laurel wreath, made by Miss Pook, surrounded the memorial cards of the fallen men in the Parish Church, and vases of white chrysanthemums stood on the ledge below, placed there by the loving care of Miss Grace Froment, whose brother fell in France on August 5th, 1917. The evening service was choral, and was of the nature of a thanksgiving. The Vicar preached, and after the service the bells were rung for a short time.

The day was duly observed at the National School. On assembling at 9 a.m., the children sang the hymn, "O, God of Love, O, King of Peace," and the Headmaster (Mr. C. Wood, M.S.M.) who served in France for nearly four years with the 23rd Royal Fusiliers, recited some special prayers. Later, small models in plasticine of the cenotaph at Whitehall were made by the scholars, after which Mr. Wood read the King's message, followed by a lecture on what the Armistice meant a year ago to the men who were fighting, and to the people at home. He described the horrors of war, and impressed upon the children the importance of peace.

ON LEAVE. 21st Nov. 1919

Pte. George E. Hephher, the King's (Liverpool) Regiment, is at home on fourteen days' leave from the Rhine. He is in excellent health.

POSTAL SERVICE. 21st Nov. 1919

The pre-war mail despatch of letters, etc., from Swavesey Post Office will on Monday next be restored. Commencing on that day the box at the Post Office will be cleared at 1.25 p.m. instead of at 10.45 a.m., and the collection from the wall box in Middle Watch will be made at 1.15 p.m.

DEMOBILISED. 21st Nov. 1919

Pte. Alfred Charles Hephher, 21st Middlesex Regiment, has arrived at his home in Swavesey, having been demobilised. He joined up on September 13th, 1917, and went to France on April 1st, 1918. Nine days later he was taken prisoner by the Germans at Fleurbaix, and was sent to work in a stone quarry at Bramburg-bei-Adelebsen. At the end of December he was repatriated.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 21st Nov. 1919

The name of another old Swavesey man has this week been added to the Roll of Honour. Pte. Herbert James Martin, then a youth, left Swavesey some years ago and enlisted in the Suffolk regiment. He served in South Africa, and in course of time passed into the Reserve. Then he married and settled down in business at Cowes, Isle of Wight. On the outbreak of war in August, 1914, he was recalled to the colours, and soon found himself in France with the 2nd Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment. On September 30th, 1915, he was killed in action. Pte. Martin left a widow and four sons, the oldest of whom was only four years of age. Mrs. Martin has received the 1914 Star awarded to her husband.

ACCIDENT. 28th Nov. 1919

Mrs. George Trundley, Askew-row, met with a serious accident on Friday afternoon. While engaged in her household duties she fell, from some unexplained cause, on two pails, and sustained severe injury, including the fracture of three ribs. She is being attended by Dr. R. Ellis, and the district nurse, Miss Rowbotham. Mrs. Trundley is 74 years of age.

IN MEMORIAM. 28th Nov. 1919

HEPHER. – In proud and loving memory of my two sons, James William Hepher, Private, 11th Suffolks, presumed killed in action, in France, 28th April, 1917; and Cyril George Hepher, Private, 7th East Yorkshire, died at Wimereaux, France, 30th November, 1918, from wounds received on 20th September, 1918.

“Faithful unto death.”

WHIST DRIVE. 28th Nov. 1919

The second series of whist drives for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall and Institute Fund was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, and was nearly as successful financially as the first drive, about £5 being credited to the fund. There were 26 tables, and the prizes all given by members of the entertainments sub-committee were awarded to : Ladies, Miss C. Goad, Miss F. Whybrow, Miss M. A. Parish, Miss Sutton; gentlemen, Mr. F. Causer, Mr. Bert Prime, Mr. Pontefract and Mr. Walter Thorp. Excellent light refreshments were provided at reasonable charges. It may not be inopportune to remind those persons who have not yet contributed to the War Memorial Hall Fund that the subscription list is still open. Donations should be paid to the treasurer (Mr. C. Wood), to one of the authorised collectors, or to any member of the general committee. All money received is paid into the fund's banking account, and there earns interest, thus benefiting the fund. If, however, it may be more convenient for an intending subscriber to pay in a donation at some future date, a definite promise should be given to the treasurer or collector.

ADVERT. 5th Dec. 1919

G. E. CANHAM, Grocer, Draper and Provision Merchant, gladly makes known to his numerous customers, that having secured his release from military service, he is once again free to deal personally with his patrons, whom he thanks most heartily for their patience and forbearance during the past trying period, which it is hoped has come to an end. G. E. Canham's motto for the future will be S.P.Q.R. (small profits, quick returns). A few Special Lines in Drapery are on hand, and are being offered at old prices while they last. Any order, however small, if not on hand, will willingly be procured at shortest notice.

FROM INDIA. 5th Dec. 1919

Gunner James Prior, M.G.C., has arrived in England from India.

A BAD ROAD. 5th Dec. 1919

A correspondent writes:- I shall be much obliged if attention can be called in the "Press and News" to the bad condition of the Swavesey – Longstanton road, commonly called the Ramper Road. It is not fit for man or beast. No roadman comes along to let the water off, or things might be a little better. If you go along the road in the dark you have to walk in single file or have the pleasure of wading through water. Twelve little children have to walk along the road through water and mud every day to and from school. People tell me that it is the worst road round here for miles; at any rate it is a disgrace to the parish.

THE DISTRICT NURSE. 5th Dec. 1919

The Over, Swavesey, and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, which has recently been established is in urgent need of funds.

PROMOTION. 12th Dec. 1919

Gunner James Prior, M.G.C., recently demobilised, was promoted lance-corporal on 9th September last.

RATS. 12th Dec. 1919

During the month of November 68 rats' tails were received by Mr. George Clarke, the official collector, making a total of 120 tails since Mr. Clarke began to collect in October.

THE POST OFFICE. 12th Dec. 1919

The dinner hour closing at Swavesey Post Office has been changed from 1 to 2 p.m. to 12.15 to 1.15 p.m. The alteration is due to the day-mail despatch now being made at 1.25 p.m., instead of at 10.45 a.m.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE. 12th Dec. 1919

As a measure of economy the Parish Council decided that the public lamps should not be lighted this winter, and in consequence the streets of the village are in absolute darkness on moonless nights. Following the example of the Council, some cyclists have adopted the dangerous practice of extinguishing their lamps when leaving their cycles outside shops and houses, with the result that pedestrians groping their way along the sides of the roads are apt to come into painful collision with handlebars and pedals. There is also a risk of a cycle being overthrown, and, if left lying on the ground, it may be the cause of a serious accident in the darkness.

DEMOBILISED. 12th Dec. 1919

Gunner James Prior, M.G.C. and Sapper Arthur C. Garner, R.E., have been demobilised, and have arrived at their homes in Swavesey. Both are in excellent health. Gunner Prior joined the Norfolk Regt. on 12th June, 1917, and two months later was transferred to the Machine Gun Corps. Towards the end of that year he sailed for India via the Cape of Good Hope, and landed at Bombay on 23rd January, 1918. He remained in India until sent home for demobilisation about a month ago, and he employed his leisure in writing an interesting account of his long voyage to the East, which he published as a booklet. Sapper Garner joined up on 25th November, 1916, and, after some months at Chatham, left for Salonica in August, 1917. He served with the Salonica force until December, 1918, when he proceeded to Constantinople, where he was stationed until the 13th of last month. He landed in this country on Friday. His arrival at home has been anxiously awaited, as his father, Mr. Charles Garner, harness maker, who had been in indifferent health for a long time, is, we regret to say, seriously ill. All Swavesey men who are likely to be released from military service for some time to come, have now been demobilised.

SOCIAL EVENING. 12th Dec. 1919

In aid of the Over, Swavesey and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, a social was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, and attracted a large attendance. Mrs. Cole, president of the Association, acted as chairman. The entertainment included songs by Mrs. C. S. Hepher, Miss C. Goad, Miss Alice Newman, Mr. C. Wood and Mr. Barwell. All items were heartily applauded and some were encored. Mr. Barwell, in clown's dress, caused much amusement throughout the evening, as, in addition to his songs he contributed conjuring tricks, and gave an amusing representation of an old lady's troubles at a railway station. The leading feature of the evening was a sketch, entitled “Our at-home day,” the characters in which were taken by Miss E. Dodson, Miss P. Mitham, and Miss M. Cole. Interspersed with the songs, etc., were dances of various kinds and musical games, and the evening ended with Roger de Coverley. Mrs. Banks presided at the piano for the dances, and Mr. Dennis Williams carried out the duties of M.C. Before separating Mrs. Cole proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the performers and helpers. Excellent refreshments were provided at reasonable charges.

ALLEGED BIGAMY. 19th Dec. 1919

Swavesey Man Charged at Liverpool.

A FINE ARMY RECORD.

At Liverpool City Police Court on Tuesday, a Swavesey man, named B.G.M, was committed for trial at the next Assizes on a charge of bigamy.

He was originally brought up on Thursday last, but was then remanded until Tuesday. The charge against him was of marrying, on May 1st, 1916, A. A., of 5 Windsor-road, Walton, Liverpool, his first wife being still alive.

During his absence abroad his wife and four children remained at Swavesey. On being demobilised last month he returned to Swavesey, and after being there for a few days left for Liverpool. Then letters turned up which gave rise to the suspicion that he had married another woman near Liverpool in 1916. The matter was put in the hands of the County Police, and Supt. Allen communicated with the Liverpool police with the result that B.G.M. was arrested and charged as stated above.

ADVERT. 19th Dec. 1919

FESTIVE SEASON. H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey, solicits kind orders for Nuts, Oranges, Lemons, Raisins, Sultanas, Currants, French Plums, Jams, Marmalade, Mincemeat, Fancy Chocolates, etc. Christmas and New Year cards, Toys, Fancy and Useful Mementoes for Christmas and New Year. Please call.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 19th Dec. 1919

In the absence of the pastor, the services on Sunday morning and evening were conducted by Mr. J. Breens of Longstanton. At the service in the Schoolroom in the afternoon, the address was given by Lance-Corpl. J. Prior. The subject was “The Winning Side” and Mr. Prior based his remarks on the story of the re-building of Jerusalem (Nehemiah x). A full schoolroom listened with great interest to a thoroughly practical application of the Bible story to present-day Christian methods and requirements. The service was interspersed with sacred solos and recitations, which greatly added to the interest of the meeting. We understand that Mr. Prior will at some future date tell something of his experiences while serving in India.

DEATH OF MR. C. GARNER. 19th Dec. 1919

We regret to announce the death, at the age of 67 years, of Mr. Charles Garner, the well-known harness-maker, of Swavesey and Over, which occurred at his residence in Swavesey on Thursday night, the 11th inst. Although he had been in failing health for some time, he was ill for only about five weeks, and when the end came he passed away suddenly. Mr. Garner, who was the son of the late Mr. Samuel Garner, has left a widow, two sons, and three daughters, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. J. S. Sharp (Vicar) officiating. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Garner (widow), Mr. S. M. Garner and Mr. A. C. Garner (sons), Miss Garner (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Farr and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hepher (sons-in-law and daughters), Mrs. S. M. Garner (daughter-in-law), Mr. A. Gall and Mr. E. R. Papworth (brothers-in-law) and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Munsey (nephew and niece). Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. – Mrs. C. Garner and family return sincere thanks for kind inquiries and expressions of sympathy in their bereavement.

THE DARK STREETS. 19th Dec. 1919

A parishioner writes:- I am glad attention was called in last week's paper to the undesirable practice of leaving lightless bicycles outside houses, not because I have stumbled over a cycle, but because the paragraph indirectly raised the question of the lightless streets in the village. While admitting that the parish councillors should be as economical as possible when dealing with the ratepayers' money, I do not think that I am the only person who is of the opinion that the councillors should have called a parish meeting to find out the wishes of the parish generally before they decided on suspending the Public Lighting Act. Probably the councillors did not realise that the street lamps are not merely a convenience to people who have to be out after dark, but also contribute to the safety of persons and property of the public. The streets are now much darker than they were before the war. The shops, for instance, are not so brightly illuminated, and are closed considerably earlier, and D.O.R.A. substituted dark blinds for blinds made of calico or other flimsy material. The main street near the Post Office is a specially black spot, and people have difficulty in finding the letter-box. They have to feel for it, and be careful they do not by mistake post their letters through the slatted shutters of a butcher's shop next door. Close to the Post Office is a trap for the unwary in the shape of a drain grating appreciably below the level of the road. Do the councillors recommend that no letters should be posted or Post Office business transacted, after lighting-up time? I do not wish to be a prophet of evil, but may I point out that if an accident should unfortunately happen, the mishap might involve expense heavier than the cost of lighting the streets. Who is to pay – the parish or the unfortunate sufferers?

PARISH COUNCIL. 19th Dec. 1919

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held on Tuesday evening at the National School. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, F. Norman, R. Norman, J. L. Stanton, and the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). After the minutes of the last meeting of the Council on 6th October had been signed, various matters arising therefrom were discussed. Mr. Stanton raised the question of the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground, and expressed the opinion that if anything was to be done in the matter it should be taken in hand without delay. Mr. Burton proposed that Messrs. Stanton and Beales be appointed a committee, with full powers to have the necessary work carried out. Mr. F. Norman seconded, and the proposition was agreed to. The Clerk reported that he had received a reply from the Rural District Council to the inquiry respecting the wages paid to, and the hours of work of, the men employed in clearing out the large drains in the parish, viz., wages 36s. 6d. per week, and hours of work, 6.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., Mondays to Fridays inclusive, with a half-day on Saturdays. The Clerk stated that he had been informed that the District Council had given instructions for the fob at Church Green to be replaced by a pipe and stop. Mr. Mitham further announced that the new causeway footbridges for use at the Swan pond in flood time were ready for use. The Council then considered the Overseers' valuation for the proposed county rate basis, and after a prolonged discussion Mr. Goad proposed that the Council agree with the Overseers' valuation. The resolution was seconded by Mr. R. Norman and carried unanimously. Mr. Goad inquired whether the lamp he had seen outside the churchyard on Sunday evening belonged to the Parish. He quite agreed to it being used, but he wished to know by whose authority this had been done. It was explained that Mr. Twist, a member of the Street Lighting Committee, had given permission for the lamp to be used, the oil, etc., being provided by the authorities of the parish church. Mr. Burton was anxious to know how the official collector of rats' tails was to be repaid the money he had paid out of his own pocket to persons from whom he had received the tails. The Clerk explained that he had written last Saturday to the Clerk of the County Council on the subject, but had not received any reply; there had not been time, he observed. Mr. Beales asked whether all necessary repairs to the street lamps and fittings would be executed during the present financial year. It was, in his opinion, important that this expenditure should be included in this year's accounts, so that only the cost of lighting should fall on next year's rates. Other councillors explained that they understood the work was in hand in accordance with instructions given some months ago. The Chairman raised the question of the destruction of sparrows. He thought the present rate of payment – three sparrows for a penny – was not high enough to induce boys to capture the birds. The Council generally appeared to share this opinion, and Mr. Stanton proposed, and Mr. Burton seconded, that until the 31st March next the collectors be authorised to pay a halfpenny for each sparrow taken to them. The resolution was carried, and the Clerk was instructed to exhibit notices of the increased payment in the village. – Our Swavesey correspondent writes: When Mr. Beales raised the question of the repairs to the public lamps, and gave expression to his anxiety that the expense incurred should fall into this year's accounts, neither he nor any other councillor said anything about the source from which the money to pay the bill would come. If this expenditure is a charge on the lighting rate, it is presumed that a parish meeting will have to be held; and there are, unless I have been misinformed, many parishioners who are most anxious that such a meeting should be summoned without delay, so that the real feeling of the parish in regard to the lightless streets may be ascertained. Shortly after the Council met on October 6th I pointed out in these columns that a resolution to amend Standing Order No. 2, so as to reduce the quorum from five to three, of which a councillor had given formal notice on 11th August, was neither included in the minutes read at the October meeting, nor was the resolution moved or even referred to at that meeting. The matter was not mentioned on Tuesday night, and I assume that a really useful and necessary alteration is not to be effected, but it would be interesting to know under what circumstances and by whose authority a formal notice of resolution was omitted from the minutes.

NEWS OF SOLDIERS. 26th Dec. 1919

Pte. Albert Holmes, 1st Royal West Kent Regt., has arrived safely in India and has gone 600 miles up country. Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., is at home in Swavesey on a month's furlough.

FIRE. 26th Dec. 1919

Some bags of coke which were being carted from St. Ives Gas Works to Over by Mr. James Norman on Friday were found to be on fire when passing through Swavesey High-street. The fire was extinguished with water, but not before three bags had been destroyed.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 26th Dec. 1919

The annual share-out meeting of the White Horse Self-Help Club was held at the White Horse Inn on Monday evening, when 22s. per member was paid out. Forty-five members were on the books of the club, and £9 has been granted in sick benefit during the year. After business had been transacted the members spent the remainder of the evening in social enjoyment, to which a welcome gift from Messrs. Lacon and Co. materially contributed.

THE NATIONAL SCHOOL. 26th Dec. 1919

Models, toys, Christmas cards, calendars, pin-cushions of various shapes and sizes, etc., made by the children, which had been on view in the National School, were on Tuesday morning handed back to their constructors by the headmaster, who also presented prizes awarded by Messrs. Brooke Bond for drawing and painting to the following scholars: Seniors, 1st prize (3s.) Charlie Parish, 2nd (1s. 6d.) Alice Heasman; Juniors, 1st (3s.) Charlie Wood, 2nd (1s. 6d.) George Spearman. The children then sang a carol, and after being briefly addressed by the headmaster were dismissed for the Christmas holidays. The school will be re-opened on Monday, Jan. 5th.

FORTHCOMING CONCERT. 26th Dec. 1919

The newly-formed Swavesey Pierrot Troupe are making their first appearance on the evenings of 31st December and 1st January, when they are giving concerts in the National School in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund. A capital programme has been arranged, including humorous quartettes, songs, duets, and musical monologues, and concluding with a laughable farce, "Blundering Barney." Tickets, 1s. 10d. and 1s. 3d., (including tax) on 31st December, and 1s. 10d., 1s. 3d., and 8d. (including tax) on 1st January, can be obtained from Miss E. Dodson, Messrs. P. Godfrey, A. J. Willson, and C. Wood. Doors open at 6.30 p.m. Commence at 7 o'clock punctually.

WHIST DRIVE. 26th Dec. 1919

Another whist drive, the third of the series in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee, was held in the National School on Thursday evening in last week, and was quite as successful as its predecessors. Twenty-eight tables were fully occupied, and the attendance would have been still larger but for the tempestuous weather which kept away a number of visitors from a distance. The prizes, given by individual members of the Sub-Committee, were won by: Ladies, Miss Clara Thorp, Mrs. Twist, Mrs. Walter Thorp; gentlemen, Mr. E. Mitham, Mr. H. Prime, Mr. R. Gleaves. There was a plentiful supply of excellent refreshments, including mince-pies innumerable, generously provided by friends in the village, but notwithstanding the aptitude of the supply, the demand was so great that at the end of the evening only crumbs remained.

SCHOOL TREAT. 2nd Jan. 1920

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School had their Christmas treat on Tuesday in the National School. After tea they played games, and then Mr. Barwell, dressed as Father Christmas, distributed gifts from the Christmas tree.

A REMINDER. 2nd Jan. 1920

At their meeting on Dec. 16th, the Parish Councillors resolved to increase the reward fixed for sparrows from a penny for three birds to a halfpenny for each bird, and they directed that notices be posted in the village announcing the increase. The notices have not yet appeared.

CHRISTMAS. 2nd Jan. 1920

The Christmas season in Swavesey has been uneventful. Visitors have been few, and until New Year's Eve there was no public entertainment. On that night the newly-formed Swavesey Pierrot Troupe gave their first performance, and repeated it last night. At the parish church on Christmas Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30, and 11.15 a.m. (choral service by Blair); morning prayer at 10.30 a.m., and evensong at 3 p.m., with anthem. Carols were sung at the afternoon service on Sunday. At Bethel Baptist Chapel on Christmas morning the children attending the Sunday School assembled and sang carols, after which short addresses were given by Mr. H. S. Aldred (S.S. Superintendent), Mr. B. Prior, and Mr. James Prior, (deacons and teachers). At the close oranges, sweets, etc., were distributed, and were greatly appreciated by the children.

RATS. 9th Jan. 1920

170 rats' tails have been received by Mr. George Clarke, the official collector down to the end of last year. He has been collecting about three months.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 9th Jan. 1920

The Little White Ribboners invited the members of the combined Bands of Hope to a New Year's tea on Tuesday evening, when over one hundred sat down. After tea a very happy evening was spent in games. A few helpful words on temperance brought the gathering to a close.

TWO ROADS. 9th Jan. 1920

A correspondent writes: "As a regular user of the roads in the Swavesey district, may I call attention to the marked difference in the care bestowed on two roads, both, I believe, under the control of the Swavesey Rural District Council. The road from Swavesey to Longstanton has been allowed to get into a deplorable state, whereas the road from the Huntingdon-road to Boxworth has been kept in very fair condition. Why the difference?

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 9th Jan. 1920

A donation to the War Memorial Hall Fund has this week been received from Mr. James S. Dean, of East Conington, Western Australia, eldest son of the late Mr. James Dean of Swavesey. Mr. Dean, who had served throughout the South African War, subsequently settling in Australia, joined the Australian Light Horse in November, 1915. He landed in Egypt in May, 1916, and a few months later was attached to the Imperial Camel Corps, with whom he fought in Palestine. On the 27th March, 1918, he was wounded in the head in an action east of the River Jordan, and was sent back to Australia. In September, 1918, he was discharged unfit for further service.

PIERROT CONCERT. 9th Jan. 1920

Opinions may differ as to the expedience of raising money for the Swavesey War Memorial by means of entertainments, whist drives, etc., but there can be no question as to the undoubted success of the concerts given by Swavesey Pierrots in aid of the fund on the evenings of the 31st ult. and 1st inst. The large room of the National School was well filled for each performance with an enthusiastic audience. The Pierrots were out to amuse the people, and they succeeded in not only amusing the patrons, but sent them home with aching sides. (Full programme in newspaper). It would be invidious to select any individual performers for special commendation, for all entered heart and soul into their work and fun, and all acquitted themselves right well. The Swavesey Pierrots are entirely a home product, and they made their first bow to the public last week. Mr. C. Wood, their founder, trainer and inspirer, can be heartily congratulated on the results of his strenuous labours, and his own share in the programme was a heavy one. The opening chorus in Part II. contained a verse of local interest respecting the Parish Council, which vastly amused the audience, and at the second performance an encore verse was added which dealt with the Council's economy in the matter of street lighting. A special word of praise is due to the honorary chief stage carpenter (Mr. A. Slater) who out of flags, some of which were kindly lent by Mr. R. Sutton, and other oddments contrived to erect an excellent stage with an effective proscenium and appropriate setting and a curtain that drew up and fell gracefully down with admirable precision.

ADVERT. 16th Jan. 1920

A.C.GARNER, who has recently been demobilised from the Royal Engineers, is now carrying on the Harness Maker's Business of his late father at Swavesey, and on the 20th instant will re-open the branch shop at Over, where he will be in attendance on Tuesdays and Fridays. He thanks all customers for their consideration during his absence in the Army, and promises prompt and careful attention to their business in future.

CRICKET. 16th Jan. 1920

The work of preparing a cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground has begun this week by Mr. George Clarke, who is being assisted by other local men.

THE ROADS. 16th Jan. 1920

Another regular user of the roads in the Swavesey district informs us that the correspondent who in last Friday's "Press and News" described the present condition of the Swavesey – Longstanton road as deplorable, was by no means guilty of exaggeration. As regards his own experience, he says that having recently to drive from Longstanton to Swavesey, he preferred to go round through Over, and, owing to better and cleaner roads, proved the truth of the proverb that the longest way round is the quickest way home.

ENTERTAINMENT. 16th Jan. 1920

The members of the Bethel Band of Hope gave an entertainment on Tuesday evening in the schoolroom attached to Bethel Chapel, under the presidency of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher (pastor). The room was crowded, and the long and excellent programme arranged by Miss I. Spearman was much appreciated. Those taking part gave evidence of the care bestowed on their training, and it is regretted that pressure on our space will not permit the publication of the programme.

FORTHCOMING SOCIAL. 16th Jan. 1920

A party of ladies of the village have been busily employed since the autumn in making articles of clothing, etc., to be sold for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund, and in order to assist them in their work, they are arranging a social evening at the National School on Thursday next, 22nd inst. In addition to other attractions, there will be a stall for the sale of new work. Doors open at 6 p.m.

MISSIONARY TEA. 16th Jan. 1920

After a lapse of two years owing to the exigencies of war, the missionary tea, an annual parochial function instituted half a century ago by the late Canon H. J. Sharp, when Vicar of Swavesey, was revived on Thursday, 8th inst., when an unusually good company assembled in the National School. The arrangements for the tea were in the capable hands of Mrs. W. F. Gleaves. After tea a lecture on Home Missions in Industrial Centres, illustrated by lantern slides, was given by the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, Vicar of Over. The proceeds of the tea and the collection at the lecture were given in aid of the Additional Curates' Society.

DANGERS OF THE DARK STREETS. 16th Jan. 1920

Two mishaps due to the absence of public lights in the streets of Swavesey have to be recorded this week. Last Friday, between 6 and 7 p.m., Mrs. Slater, when about to enter Mr. H. Williams' shop in High-street, stumbled over a large stone which projected from the side of the road. In trying to recover herself, she staggered nearly across the roadway and fell, close to a man, who raised her from the ground, and as he was doing so a cyclist rode by in the darkness over the spot where she had been lying. She and the cyclist had therefore a lucky escape from possible serious injury. Mrs. Slater was badly bruised and shaken. The second mishap occurred about 8 o'clock on Monday evening, also in High-street, when the Clerk of the Parish Council, groping his way homewards in the dense darkness, came into violent collision with our Swavesey correspondent, who was proceeding in the opposite direction. They heard each other's footsteps, but their eyes failed to penetrate the gloom. Their heads clashed together, their noses met, and our correspondent's headgear flew off, and was found subsequently by the aid of a borrowed lantern reposing some distance away in a puddle. The Council Clerk complained that he had lost some skin from his nose, but our correspondent, though somewhat stunned, had no visible signs of damage. His head ached. Both these mishaps were attributable to the lightless streets, though the bad condition of the road contributed to Mrs. Slater's fall. The Clerk of the Parish Council will now be able to report to the councillors that their policy of economy has its drawbacks.

WEDDING. 23rd Jan. 1920

In the presence of many friends and members of their families, Mr. Henry George Howlett, second son of Mr. William Howlett, and Miss Alice Savage, second daughter of Mr. John Savage, were married at Swavesey Parish Church on the 14th instant, by the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, vicar of Over. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in biscuit-coloured silk repp and blue hat, and was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss A. Howlett, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a blue luvisca dress, with hat to match. Mr. P. W. Howlett, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The wedding presents were both numerous and useful.

DEATH OF MR. THURBON. 23rd Jan. 1920

Mr. William Thurbon, basket maker, Swavesey, passed away at 8.45 p.m. on Tuesday. For months he had suffered great pain. He was born in Swavesey 71 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. Charles Thurbon, basket maker, of Market-street, and he leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters to mourn their loss. For some years Mr. Wm. Thurbon was the Swavesey agent of the "Cambridge Express," and when that journal was merged in the "Weekly News" of the combined papers until about three years ago, when he left Swavesey for a time to take up munition work at Coventry. He returned to Swavesey about a year ago.

THE STREET LAMPS. 23rd Jan. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- There appears to be some misapprehension as to the circumstances under which the Parish Council decided last October to suspend temporarily the lighting of the public street lamps. In the report of the Council meeting held on 6th October, which appeared in the "Press and News" on the following Friday, it was stated that "in view of the restriction of Lighting Order, it was agreed that the question of lighting the village streets during the winter should remain in abeyance for the present." The Order in question was issued in consequence of the railway strike, and was withdrawn immediately after the strike ended on 7th October, and with the withdrawal of the Order the reason alleged by the Council for the temporary suspension of street lighting no longer existed. In condemning the village to darkness the councillors may be, and probably are, actuated by motives of economy, but they have never passed any resolution to that effect, and would appear to be acting on a decision based on an official Order, which at a Council meeting held last June, at which a committee was appointed with full powers to have the lamps and appurtenances put into proper order, the Clerk remarked that they (the lamps, etc., not the committee) were “good for nothing.” At this meeting, it may be noted, the councillors generally appeared to hold the opinion that the lighting of the streets was necessary for the convenience of the community. The shed on the parish property in High-street, in which the movable fittings are stored when not in use, is hardly a suitable place for the purpose, and may have contributed in a measure to the unsatisfactory condition of some of the fittings. From the appearance of the earthen floor, the shed is visited by rats, and its door padlock not long ago had gone astray.

PARISH COUNCIL. 30th Jan. 1920

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council, which, according to the Standing Orders, should have been held on the third Monday in January, has not yet taken place.

OUSE DRAINAGE. 30th Jan. 1920

A correspondent suggests that the Swavesey Rural District Council should issue a public statement as to how the new Ouse Drainage Order will affect the six parishes comprised in the Swavesey Rural District.

DEATH OF MR. P. COOKE. 30th Jan. 1920

After some years of ill-health, Mr. Philip Cooke died at his residence, The Brooklands, Swavesey, on Saturday morning, the 24th inst. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. Mr. Cooke went to reside in Swavesey between three and four years ago. He had previously farmed for some years at the Woolpack Farm, Hemingford Grey, but had to retire from business in consequence of ill-health.

THE LATE MR. THURBON. 30th Jan. 1920

The funeral of the late Mr. William Thurbon, whose death, after a long and painful illness, at the age of 71 years, was reported last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. Thurbon (widow), Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thurbon, Mr. Walter Thurbon, Mrs. Laurzzari, Mrs. Jonas Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Mortlock, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fagan (sons, daughters, sons-in-law and daughters-in-law), Messrs. E. Laurzzari, J. Mortlock, G. Fagan, P. Fagan, W. Thurbon, and A. Mortlock (grandsons), Miss C. Dodson (granddaughter), Mrs. John Dodson (sister), Mrs. Laner (niece) and Mr.

George Thorp (uncle). The coffin was of polished elm, with black and brass fittings. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

SOCIAL EVENING. 30th Jan. 1920

The members of the Ladies' Working Party connected with the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund have good reason to congratulate themselves on the complete success of their social evening in the National School on the 22nd inst. They wanted money to aid them in their work, and they succeeded in raising over £25. Business before pleasure was the ladies' motto, so when they opened their doors at 6 p.m., an hour before the entertainment was due to begin, their visitors were confronted with a stall laden with articles made by the party. Trade was brisk, and before the fun of the evening started the substantial sum of £13 14s. 10d. had been realised. During the evening songs, etc., were sung by the Misses C. Goad, and M. Spolton, and Messrs. C. Godfrey, R. Godfrey, A. Prime, H. Prime, and C. Wood, and Mr. Barwell contributed a cornet solo. A sketch, "Aunt Belinda's Burglar," in which the Misses Banks, M. Cole, E. Dodson, and P. Mitham took part, was not the least successful of a most successful entertainment. Mrs. Banks and Miss Ellis were the accompanists. The evening concluded with dancing and games. The refreshments which were served by the ladies of the working party call for special mention. Not only were they excellent, but with the charge made for admission they produced £11 11s. 9d., and brought the total takings for the evening up to £25 6s. 7d.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th Jan. 1920

In the absence of the Pastor (the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher) through illness, the pulpit at Bethel Baptist Chapel last Sunday was occupied by Mr. E. D. Sykes of St. Ives. In the afternoon Mr. G. E. Canham, who served during the war with the Royal Garrison Artillery, gave a very interesting lecture in the chapel on his experiences in Mesopotamia and Palestine. Starting with an account of his long voyage to Basra, he gave many instances of his manner of life and his trials in the land of the two rivers. He spoke of the large amount of sickness amongst the troops during the weary weeks they were lying at Basra being acclimatised, and of the awful dust and other ills to which flesh is heir in that quarter of the globe. He described Kut and Baghdad, and mentioned that he had gone one hundred miles beyond the latter city. From Mesopotamia, Mr. Canham went to Palestine in May, 1918, but although he had had his share of work with the big guns, he omitted all reference to his fighting experiences both in Palestine and previously. His description of his visits to Jerusalem and other holy places was vivid. He had the pleasure and advantage of meeting an old friend of his father, who was in charge of the Y.M.C.A. in Jerusalem, and through this gentleman's kind offices he had the privilege of seeing things he probably would not otherwise have seen. The lecture was excellent in every respect, and was listened to with intense interest by a large audience. The lecturer mentioned incidentally that on his way home he visited Cairo and the Pyramids, and gazed upon the mummy of the Pharaoh who oppressed the Israelites. Two solos were beautifully rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. H. Ridley, of London, Mr. J. W. Williams being at the organ. Mr. Sykes presided. A collection, which was made in aid of the fund for re-seating the Chapel Schoolroom, resulted in £1 7s. being taken.

SUDDEN DEATH. 30th Jan. 1920

The village of Swavesey was greatly shocked on Tuesday afternoon by the sudden death of one of its old and most respected parishioners, Mr. Ephraim Stocker, who for the last year or two has been employed as a County Council roadman, went to his work as usual on that morning. He appeared to be in good health, but he complained of having a cold in his head, which, he remarked to a friend, he hoped would not get "on his chest." He was employed with the steam roller, spreading granite on Bucking-way (the road leading from the Huntingdon-road to Swavesey). At 10 a.m., lunch time, he did full justice to his food, and returned to his work as active and cheery as ever, and at one o'clock he and the other six men of the gang adjourned to the living van for dinner. He ate heartily, and enjoyed his meal, and then noticing that rain was falling, went outside to fetch his coat, which he had left on a hedge at the roadside. Returning to his seat in the van, which was at the end away from the stove, he took his pipe from his pocket, remarking, "There'll be no more work to-day," and then he pitched forward. His old comrade and relative, Mr. James Kester, sen., who was sitting next to him, picked him up. "What's the matter, Ephraim?" he asked, but the only sound was a gurgle. Stocker was dead. A messenger was sent at once to Swavesey to P.C. Breed, by whose instructions the messenger communicated the sad tidings to Mrs. John Williams, Market-street, with the request that she would break the news to Mrs. Stocker who lived close by. The constable hastened at once to Bucking-way. Artificial respiration was applied, but without avail. Dr. Ellis, who had been absent from home, passed by about this time, and satisfied himself that life was extinct. And then the body was taken home. The case was reported to the Coroner, who decided that no inquest was necessary. It is understood that the cause of death was heart failure. Mr. Stocker, who was born in Swavesey 66 years ago, leaves a widow and one daughter, also a widow with two young sons. He was a sidesman at the parish church, but otherwise had taken no active part in parochial matters. He was, however, a keen Conservative in politics, and was a member of the committee of the Swavesey District Conservative Association.

A BIGAMIST SENTENCED. 30th Jan. 1920

Married in Cambridgeshire Twelve years ago.

At Liverpool Assizes on Wednesday, B.G.M. was sentenced to 12 months in the second division for bigamy. He said he had done his best financially for both women. Mr. Justice Bray described the case as a bad one.

MILK. 6th Feb. 1920

The retail price of milk has this week been reduced in Swavesey by one penny per quart.

OBITUARY. 6th Feb. 1920

Mrs. Shepperson, widow of the late Mr. John Shepperson, died at her residence on Saturday. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Wednesday afternoon. This was the fourth death in Swavesey within the last 11 days of January.

MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT. 6th Feb. 1920

Whilst riding on a motor cycle to meet the 6.44 p.m. down train at Swavesey Station on Tuesday, Driver Joseph Walter Davis, S.S.T.C., stationed at Maresfield Park, Sussex, but whose home is at Stockingford, Nuneaton, had an unfortunate spill. Dazzled by the bright moon and the still brighter rays of his cycle lamp, he ran on to the grass bank on the roadside at the end of Hog Pasture, and was thrown from his machine, which fell upon him. Sergt. Pallant, Cambs. Constabulary, who was cycling behind him, went to his assistance, removed the cycle and helped the cyclist to his feet. As Driver Davis complained of injury to his shoulder, Sergt. Pallant took him to Police-Constable Breed's house close by, where the sergeant and the constable rendered first aid and bandaged the injured man for a broken collar bone. They advised him to see a doctor at once, but instead of doing so, being anxious not to alarm his friends, he went to Fen Drayton, where he was staying with his father-in-law, Mr. Munns. The damaged cycle was left at Mr. Dick Wilderspin's shop in Swavesey. Later in the evening Driver Davis went to Dr. Ellis at Swavesey for treatment. The collar-bone was broken.

CRICKET CLUB. 6th Feb. 1920

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held in the National School on Wednesday evening, and was exceptionally well attended. Mr. C. Wood, the retiring captain, presided. Last year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £7 7s., were submitted and passed. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Captain, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. Horace Ellwood; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretaries, Messrs. C. Godfrey and F. Hephew; committee, Messrs. T. C. Heasman, A. Payne, A. Prime, jun., F. Hayward, R. Godfrey and D. Williams. It was decided to run two teams, and to enter the 1st XI in the Milton and District League. It was also agreed that the new pitch which has been laid recently on the Recreation Ground by the Parish Council should only be used for matches and that no practice should be allowed on wet days. It was further resolved that all members chosen to play in a match should be notified by Wednesday morning, and if unable to play a member should inform the captain by noon on the following day, failure to comply with this rule to involve a fine of 1s.

THE LATE MR. COOKE. 6th Feb. 1920

The funeral of the late Mr. Philip Cooke, whose death on the 24th ulto., at the age of 66 years, after an illness of about ten years' duration, was briefly announced last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on the 29th ulto., in the presence of a large number of sympathising friends from Swavesey and neighbouring villages. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The immediate mourners were: Mrs. Cooke (widow), Mr. E. Nicoll, Mrs. Nicoll (sister) and Mr. J. Trapp (brother-in-law). The coffin was of polished oak, with brass furniture. Mr. R. Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

MEMORIAL CROSS AND TABLET. 6th Feb. 1920

At a meeting held in the tower of the parish church on Sunday it was unanimously decided (1) that the memorial cross to be erected near the main gateway of the churchyard should be a plain Latin cross of best hard Mansfield stone, 10 ft. in height, and that the inscription on the base of the cross should be: "In loving and grateful memory of the following men of this parish who gave their lives for their King and country in the Great War, 1914-1919. (Here follow the names of all the fallen.) 'I am the Resurrection and the Life.'" (2) That the tablet to be placed in the church should be of white Sicilian marble on polished red marble background, size 3ft. 11in. by 2ft. 1 in., and that the inscription should be "To the glory of God, and in loving and grateful memory of the following men of this parish who gave their lives for their King and Country in the Great War, 1914-1919. (Here follow the names of all the fallen.) ‘Greater love hath no man than this.’” The cost of the cross and inscription will be approximately £145, and of the tablet and inscription approximately £34 (this includes cost of faculty, viz., £2 2s.) The amount received or promised at present is (1) for the cross £113 11s. (2) for the tablet £21 7s. Both cross and tablet have been ordered from Messrs. Maile and Son, 367, Euston-road, London, N.W. It was also decided that the tablet be placed on the centre of the south wall of the church.

FUNERAL OF MR. E. STOCKER. 6th Feb. 1920

Amidst general manifestations of sorrow and sympathy, and in the presence of a large number of villagers, the mortal remains of the late Mr. Ephraim Stocker were laid to rest in Swavesey churchyard on Friday afternoon. As announced in our last issue, Mr. Stocker, although to all appearance in good health, died suddenly on the 27th ulto., in a living van attached to a County Council steam roller, immediately after eating his dinner. The Vicar met the body at the churchyard gates, and the funeral procession, headed by the churchwardens (Messrs. W. H. Key and William T. Thorp), the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, and Mr. Jethro Linford, the last named representing the Wheatsheaf Shepherds’ Lodge, moved towards the church where Mr. Stocker had been a most regular attendant, and for some years a sidesman. The service both here and at the graveside were taken by the Vicar. The chief mourners were Mrs. Stocker (widow), Mrs. F. Parish (daughter), Masters F. and C. Parish (grandsons), Mr. John Stocker and Mr. Charles Stocker (brothers) and Mrs. J. Stocker and Mrs. C. Stocker (sisters-in-law). The County Council road staff was represented by Messrs. J. Kester, sen., and J. Bester, jun. Instead of the big bell being tolled, the whole peal was rung muffled before the service and half muffled as the body was borne to the grave and again at the end. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. R. Mitham. – On Sunday the Vicar made a sympathetic and appreciative reference to the late sidesman in the pulpit. It may be of interest to mention that the spot where Mr. Stocker died in Bucking Way has been marked by a cross cut in the roadside grass.

PARISH COUNCIL. 13th Feb. 1920

A meeting of the Parish Council has been summoned for this evening (Friday) at 7 o’clock in the National School. Matters connected with the recreation ground and the selection of suitable parishioners to serve as parish constable are included in the agenda.

FUNERAL. 13th Feb. 1920

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Shepperson, who died after a short illness on the 31st ult., aged 80 years, took place at Swavesey parish church on the 4th inst. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (Vicar) officiated, and the mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Swavesey, Mr. and Mrs. William Shepperson, Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mitham, Colchester, Mr. C. James Shepperson, Swavesey (sons, daughters, sons-in-law, and daughters-in-law), Mrs. Carter, Cambridge (sister) and Mrs. P. E. Mitham. The coffin was of polished oak. Mrs. Shepperson, who was the widow of the late Mr. John Shepperson, left three sons and two daughters.

WHIST DRIVE. 13th Feb. 1920

The fourth, and the most successful, of the series of whist drives organised in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund by the Entertainments Sub-Committee, was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Thirty-four tables were manned, and prizes were awarded to: Ladies, Miss Mabel Johnson, Mrs. Cecil Dean, and Mrs. J. J. Marriott; Gentlemen: Mr. E. Mitham, Mr. King and Mr. Bert Prime. The prizes were given by Major R. Ellis, Messrs. F. J. Beales, J. S. Goad, and P. Hayward. Excellent refreshments, generously supplied by kind friends in the village, were provided at moderate charges, and were in great demand. This department was under the supervision of the Misses G. and E. Dodson. The duties of M.C. were undertaken by Mr. George Goad. The next whist drive will be held on Shrove Tuesday, 17th February, at 7.30 p.m.

OBITUARY. 20th Feb. 1920

Mrs. Rebecca Caine, wife of Mr. Alfred Caine, High-street, died on Thursday morning, after a painful illness.

WASTED GRANITE. 20th Feb. 1920

Many months ago a large quantity of granite of various sizes for use on the high road was dumped along the edge of the Recreation Ground opposite the National School. A more inappropriate site could hardly have been chosen, for boys will be boys, and girls are known to be inclined to mischief – sometimes. The heaps have gradually got smaller, and granite cubes will be found in various places where they are not wanted, on the Recreation Ground, in the adjacent pond and ditches, and in the neighbouring gardens. On Wednesday the removal of the granite to the further end of the village by horse and cart was commenced.

WHIST DRIVE. 20th Feb. 1920

The fifth of a series of whist drives in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee was held in the National School on Tuesday, and was even more successful than the previous drive, which had beaten all Swavesey records. Thirty-eight tables were fully occupied, and the prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies, Miss Pook, Miss M. Cole, Miss Ellis, and mystery prize, Miss Bilton. Gentlemen: Mr. J. L. Scambler, Mr. G. N. Goad, Mr. C. S. Hepher, and mystery prize, Mr. J. Culpin. The prizes were given by Mrs. C. Dean and Messrs. R. Williamson, W. Spolton, and W. Burton, Mrs. B. Prior presenting both mystery prizes. As usual, the refreshments, of which there was a plentiful supply at moderate charges, were most excellent. They were generously given by kind friends of the village, to whom the organisers of the drive desire to tender their best thanks. This department was under the supervision of the Misses G. and E. Dodson.

A BAD ROAD. 20th Feb. 1920

A Swavesey ratepayer has asked that attention may be drawn to the condition of Soldier's Drove near Highfield Farm. He says that owing mainly to the activities of a traction engine, the roadway is full of holes and deep ruts, and it not only difficult, but also dangerous for ordinary traffic. A few outlying houses, as well as farms, are served by Soldier's Drove, and as they are some distance from the village, bicycles are a necessity. No cycle can be ridden over the length of road in question. Our Swavesey correspondent writes: If Scotland Drove is a byeway, there may be some difficulty in providing material to put the roadway in proper repair. Although the byeways of the parish are under the control of the District Council, it is understood that the cost of their upkeep is not borne by the rates, but is provided out of the proceeds of the yearly letting of the herbage of the droves and roadsides in the parish. At last Friday's Parish Council meeting it was mentioned incidentally that over two-thirds of these herbage rents are spent in payment of the wages of the roadman specially employed on the byeways, and the Clerk of the Council observed that brooms and scrapers are very expensive at the present time. Very little money can therefore be available for the purchase of gravel, etc.

PARISH COUNCIL. 20th Feb. 1920

Last Friday's meeting of the Parish Council, which ought to have been held on the third Monday in January if the Standing Orders had been obeyed, was quite a happy gathering, the only drawback to complete happiness being the absence of an audience of parishioners, and the lack of proper seating accommodation for the councillors and the representative of the Press. Desks suitable for children of the Infants' School do not make comfortable seats for persons of mature age, and ampler proportions. It is useless, however, to grumble, for until the War Memorial Hall is built, the National School is the only place in the village available for meetings. In the absence of the chairman, Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman) presided, and the other councillors present were Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman, R. Norman, J. L. Stanton and W. Twist. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read by the Clerk, and signed, Mr. Twist ventured to ask where the public notices announcing the increased reward for defunct sparrows, which had been mentioned in the minutes, had been displayed. The Clerk replied that he had forgotten the notices, though he admitted that he had been told that attention had been called to the omission in the local newspaper. The councillors laughed, and the Clerk promised to post the notices next day. Messrs. Beales and Stanton, who had been appointed to arrange for the laying of a cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground, reported that the work had been done, and they submitted a bill from Mr. George Clarke for £12 4s. The councillors unanimously agreed that this should be paid. Mr. Beales also reported that the newly-laid pitch had been damaged by a gentleman of the village, who, when rounding up horses which had strayed from the main road, had ridden over the pitch within a day or two of the turf being laid. The damage had been repaired at a cost of 5s., and he proposed that the gentleman in question should be called upon to pay the bill. Mr. Stanton seconded, and the proposition was carried nem. con. A discussion followed as to the best means of protecting the pitch. One or two suggestions were made, and eventually Mr. F. Norman proposed that a movable wooden fence to surround the pitch be provided, and that Messrs. Beales and Stanton be given full powers to have the matter attended to forthwith. Mr. Twist seconded. The resolution was carried unanimously. The discussion led to an interesting conversation respecting the expedience of erecting a fence along the side of the Recreation Ground abutting on the main road. The general opinion of the councillors appeared to be strongly in favour of such a fence, which would, it was contended, considerably enhance the herbage-letting value of the land, and would prevent animals straying from the Recreation Ground on to the high road, and vice versa. The Clerk mentioned that in olden days, when there was a fence, the herbage brought in £12 a year, whereas now not half that sum was realised. As the land was now the property of the parish the old objection to a fence did not exist. During the conversation Mr. Beales expressed the opinion that no alteration in the Recreation Ground by-laws was needed in regard to either fence. No decision was arrived at respecting the roadside fence, but the subject will no doubt be brought forward again before long. The Council proceeded to select four suitable persons to serve as parish constables during the ensuing year, and it was decided to submit the following names to the justices in Petty Sessions; Messrs. C. J. Shepperson (the present constable), C. W. H. Cole, A. J. Willson and B. Hudson. It was also agreed that the constable's remuneration should remain unaltered, viz., £1 19s. 6d., and "Constable's Rood." Before the meeting terminated, Mr. Stanton said that he had been asked by a parishioner when the next parish meeting would be held. The Clerk replied that he knew no reason why it was necessary that a parish meeting should be called before the annual meeting, which should be held on or about March 25th next, and he appealed to the representative of this paper whether he was aware of any cause for a meeting before that date. Our representative did not deem it expedient to afford any information, as he is not a member of the Council, and no councillor supported the Clerk. – Our Swavesey correspondent writes: With regard to the inquiry addressed to me by the Clerk at last Friday's meeting of the Parish Council, I may perhaps be permitted to point out that reference has been made more than once recently in the "Press and News" to the possible necessity for a parish meeting in connection with the question of the village street lamps. Repairs to the lamps, etc., were ordered by the Parish Council last summer, and it is presumed that the expense cannot be charged to the Council's ordinary account, but must be met out of the special lighting rate. In pre-war days a parish meeting had to be held before this special rate could be levied. Possibly the Clerk, who is also assistant overseer, is of opinion that March 25th, or thereabouts, will be soon enough to authorise this rate, if needed, but he should not forget that the councillors, at their meeting in December, agreed that the cost of the lamp repairs should be included in the accounts for the current financial year, which ends on March 31st. The councillors, on their part, may think that with longer days and shorter nights those troublesome parishioners who have been grumbling about the darkness of the streets will have forgotten their grievance. Mr. Stanton's inquiring friend, may, however, have had the Ouse drainage scheme in mind, and may have thought that a parish meeting would afford the local district councillors an excellent opportunity of explaining how this gigantic scheme, involving huge expenditure of money, will affect the parish of Swavesey. As far as I can ascertain, people here are in profound ignorance on the subject. It is a pity that the parish councillors and their Clerk do not take into consideration matters to which attention is drawn in these columns. Almost invariably the representatives are made by, or at the request of, parishioners, and are not due to any desire on my part to stir up trouble. Amongst matters recently ventilated, let me mention (1) the defective stiles in the parish; (2) the disappearance of the foot-bridge at the end of the Recreation Ground; and (3) the danger of losing rights of way. Then again, what has become of Mr. Beales' resolution to reduce the size of the Council's quorum of which he gave notice last August? I admit that I am interested in this matter, because much time is very frequently wasted in waiting for a quorum to put in an appearance, and sometimes we have waited in vain. On the night when Mr. Beales gave notice of his resolution, we had waited patiently for about an hour and a half for the necessary fifth councillor to put in an appearance. With a Council of nine, a quorum of five is too large. The Act of Parliament, I believe, requires one-third of the Council. Lastly, when is the question of increasing the Clerk's at present quite inadequate salary be settled? This point was, I think, brought up last May, and the Clerk asked that the increase should date from April 1st last.

SAD DEATH. 27th Feb. 1920

We have to record the death, under very sad circumstances, of Mrs. Harriet Williams, wife of Mr. James William Williams, and second daughter of Mrs. Causer, Gibraltar-lane, Swavesey. Mrs. Williams had been confined to her bed with illness for about a month, and on Sunday, 15th inst., gave birth to a son, who is described as an exceptionally fine child. Two days later she was removed to Addenbrooke's for an operation, which was performed immediately after her arrival. The operation, however, was of no avail, for Mrs. Williams gradually sank and passed away at 3.20 a.m. on Monday – the birthday of her four-year-old son. She was 27 years of age, and she leaves four little children, including the baby. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Williams and the bereaved family. The funeral will take place this (Friday) afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery.

THE LATE MRS. CAIN. 27th Feb. 1920

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rebecca Cain, wife of Mr. Alfred Cain, whose death at the age of 75 years on the 19th inst. was briefly announced last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, in the presence of many sympathising friends and neighbours. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, vicar, officiated. The immediate mourners were: Mr. Alfred Cain (husband), Mr. James Cain and Mr. Joseph Cain (sons), Miss Alice Cain and Mrs. R. Mitham, jun. (daughters), and Mr. William Cain and Miss E. Cain, of Histon, late of Swavesey (cousins). Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. Mrs. Cain, who was a native of Swavesey, being the daughter of the late Mr. Joseph and Mrs. Alice Pauley, in addition to her aged husband, leaves four sons and three daughters to mourn their loss. Two of the sons are in Canada, viz., Capt.

M. S. Cain, M.B.E., and Mr. H. L. Cain. The former served in the war with distinction in the Canadian Expeditionary Force from January, 1915, until June, 1919, being twice wounded, the second time severely. In June, 1916, he was given a commission on the field, and in last year's King's Birthday Honours' Gazette he was awarded the M.B.E. – Mr. A. Cain and family desire to thank their many friends for their kind and much appreciated inquiries and expressions of sympathy.

PERSONAL. 5th March 1920

The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, officiated at Bethel Baptist Chapel last Sunday for the first time since his illness. He is still far from well.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT. 5th March 1920

Many in Swavesey will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Mitham, of Stetchworth, widow of the late Mr. Jas. Mitham, both of whom were well known in Swavesey. Mrs. Mitham and her late husband, who passed away in 1915, resided in this village many years ago, Mr. Mitham being born here, and Mrs. Mitham being a daughter of the late Mr. William Selby, of Chatteris.

PARISH CHURCH. 5th March 1920

The Rev. H. E. C. Lewis, who has been blind since his birth, preached at the Parish Church on Sunday evening, on behalf of the National Society for the Blind, and after the service gave an organ recital. A large congregation, larger, it is said, than has been seen in the church for some years, attended, and the collection in aid of the Society amounted to over £5. Many people from neighbouring villages were present.

TWO ANNIVERSARIES. 5th March 1920

Tuesday, the 2nd inst., was the anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. George Long, and in accordance with the terms of his will the bells of the parish church were rung. On the evening of Sunday, March 2nd, 1902, the bells were ringing as was customary on the first Sunday in the month, and Mr. Long, then an invalid, sat at an open window of his house, The Priory, listening to them, for he loved the church bells. On the first Sunday in the following month, while the bells were again being rung, Mr. Long passed peacefully away. – Wednesday, 2nd inst., was the seventh anniversary of the great Swavesey fire, in which over 30 houses were destroyed.

FUNERAL. 5th March 1920

The funeral of the late Mrs. Harriet Williams, wife of Mr. James William Williams, whose death in specially sad circumstances on the 23rd ult., was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Friday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of sympathising friends. The Rev. Smith, of Histon, officiated, in the absence through illness, of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel. The chief mourners were: Mr. J. W. Williams (husband), Mrs. Causer (mother), Miss Ruby Williams (daughter), Mr. Fred Causer (brother), Miss Lizzie Causer, Miss F. Causer, Mrs. A. Eagle, and Miss Louie Causer (sisters), Mr. A. Eagle (brother-in-law), Miss P. Williams and Mrs. Jabez Day (sisters-in-law) and Mr. and Mrs. R. Norman (uncle and aunt). The coffin was of elm. Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

THE RAMPER-ROAD AGAIN. 5th March 1920

A cyclist asks us to warn cyclists and drivers of light vehicles to beware of "grips," which, he says, have been cut in the roadway of the Swavesey-Longstanton-road (known locally as the Ramper-road). He says that when cycling along the road about 7 o'clock one dark evening last week, he narrowly escaped an awkward fall, owing to these grips, of the existence of which he was ignorant. His rear lamp fell off, and he had much difficulty in finding it. It will be remembered that a short time ago complaint was made in these columns that so much water was allowed to stand on the road in question that children could not go to school without getting wet-footed. This complaint was followed by representations from two responsible correspondents concerning the bad state of the road. To remedy the water difficulty, it would appear that channels have been cut in the road itself, not merely in the grass at the sides, but the District Council would seem to have overlooked the fact that other persons than children have occasion to use the highway, which is the direct route between Swavesey and Longstanton, Oakington, etc., as well as serving outlying farms and houses in Swavesey parish.

DEMOBILISED. 12th March 1920

Private W. H. Metcalfe, 13th Royal Fusiliers, has been demobilised, and is staying in Swavesey.

CRICKET. 12th March 1920

The movable fence to surround the newly-laid cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground, which was authorised by the Parish Council on February 13th, was put in position last week-end. The fence was made by Mr. George Mitham.

RATS. 12th March 1920

Owing to the revocation by the Minister of Food of the Rats Order, 1918, payment for rats killed ceased after March 6th. During the time the Order has been in force in Swavesey 277 rat's tails have been received by the official collector, Mr. George Clarke, and have been paid for at the rate of 1½d each.

FIRE AT BOXWORTH END. 12th March 1920

Mrs. Rebecca Edwards, widow of the late Mr. George Edwards, an old lady about 84 years of age, who lived by herself in a cottage adjoining the Black Bull Inn, Boxworth-end, had a very narrow escape last Saturday evening. When Mr. S. Hepher, the Swavesey-Cambridge carrier, pulled up outside her cottage about 7.30, he saw that her front downstairs room was ablaze. He jumped from his cart and ran to the back of the cottage, which is one of a row of three, calling on his way to Mr. Crouch, who was in his tailor's shop at the end of the row. Mr. Hepher opened Mrs. Edwards' back door, and saw her, with a bowl in her hand, standing in the little kitchen, which was full of smoke. Mrs. Edwards immediately collapsed on to the floor. Mr. Hepher, with the assistance of Mr. George Crouch, picked the old lady up and carried her into the next cottage where she received every attention. She is stated to have nearly suffocated. They then set to work to extinguish the fire in the front room, and this was soon done. It appears that Mrs. Edwards had been burning wood in the front room grate, and it is presumed that a spark set fire to a cushion on the couch close by. She says that when she noticed the cushion was burning she opened the front door, and that no sooner had she done so than the flames burst out and spread to the window blind and curtains. She seems to have done her best to extinguish the fire, but it was most fortunate that Mr. Hepher arrived on the scene when he did. Not much damage was done, only the couch, three cushions, the curtains and window blind being burned, and a bear skin rug damaged by singeing. Mrs. Edwards was, later in the evening, removed to Mr. H. Holmes' house, and here she remained pending the arrival of her son, who was summoned from London. After her removal she asked that her purse might be fetched from her cottage. It was, she said, in the pocket of her apron. Upon search being made, the charred remains of the apron, which had evidently been rolled up, were found on the stove in the kitchen, which had not been used. Finding her apron on fire, she had apparently taken it off, rolled it up, and thrown it on the stove. All that remained of the purse was the metal frame. The coins it contained were, however, safe. P.C. Breed, who lives at the other end of the long village, on being informed of the fire at once proceeded to the scene, and made full inquiries. The cottage, which belongs to the late Mr. T. Prior's executors, was insured with the Norwich Union, and Mrs. Edwards' effects were also insured.

DESTRUCTION OF WASPS. 19th March 1920

While engaged in re-metalling the high road between the New Inn and Swavesey School, the County Council roadmen found upwards of fifty queen wasps in the heaps of slag and granite which had been lying on the roadside. Most of the wasps were discovered in the slag. All were destroyed.

WEDDING. 19th March 1920

Owing to a recent bereavement in the bridegroom's family the marriage of Mr. Charles James Shepperson, youngest son of the late Mr. John Shepperson, and Miss Phoebe Elizabeth Mitham, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Mitham, took place very quietly on Monday morning at Swavesey parish church. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a navy blue costume, with light grey hat trimmed with pale blue. Mr. G. H. Skeeles was best man. The happy couple have received many useful presents.

THE LATE PTE. H. C. HOWLETT. 19th March 1920

Mr. and Mrs. W. Howlett, have been officially notified that the grave of their son, Pte. Harold Chas. Howlett, 11th Suffolks, is in the military cemetery at La Rolanderie Farm, south-west of Armentieres (Plot 1, Row A, grave 6). Pte. Howlett was reported wounded and missing on 9th April, 1918. In December of that year his parents were informed by an officer of the battalion that his grave had been found near La Rolanderie Farm, and that he had evidently been buried by the enemy, but this information was not confirmed by the Army authorities until a day or two ago.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 19th March 1920

The parents' tea in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School, a yearly function suspended during the war, was revived on Thursday, 11th inst., and was a great success. Not only was the excellent tea patronised by a large number of guests, but the attendance at the after-gathering was still more numerous. At this social gathering the pastor, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, presided, and a very pleasant and helpful evening was spent in carrying out a long and varied programme, which included hymns and solos, a reading and addresses. The success of the evening augurs well, it is believed, for the future welfare of the Sunday School, and was a great encouragement to the managers and teachers.

ADVERT. 26th March 1920

T. E. LAWS has acquired the Baking and Confectionery Business in High-street, Swavesey, formerly carried on by Mr. A. T. Scard, and he solicits the patronage of all old customers. Confectionery a speciality.

LANTERN LECTURE. 26th March 1920

Under the auspices of the local branch of the B.W.T.A. and the Bethel Band of Hope, a lantern lecture, entitled "An Irish Evening," was given in the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. D. Moore, of Cambridge. The chapel was well filled with an appreciative audience. The pictures illustrated phases of Irish life and scenery, and included slides of animals in the Dublin Zoo, which greatly pleased the younger people. The lecture dealt with the evils of alcoholism, and in the latter part slides were shown of bacteria fostered by alcohol. Mrs. Moore recited an Irish ballad, and hymns shown on the screen were sung during the evening by the children. At the close the pastor, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, on behalf of the audience, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Moore for their lecture, which, he assured them, had been greatly appreciated. A collection was taken and produced £2.

OUSE DRAINAGE. 26th March 1920

The question of the Ouse Drainage Order has at last been tackled by the people in the Swavesey district who are vitally affected by its provisions. Twice this year, viz., on 30th January and on 20th February, has attention been called to the matter in these columns, but the people interested apparently were content to let other districts take action and do nothing themselves. But now at the last moment they have woke up. On Monday evening the village crier announced that a meeting of owners, occupiers, and others concerned would be held in Swavesey School on the following evening to consider the question. On Tuesday the meeting was held, and was attended by a large number of owners and occupiers of the parishes of Swavesey, Fen Drayton, and Over. Mr. J. Evison, of Fen Drayton, presided, and briefly introduced Mr. C. Tebbutt, of Bluntisham and St. Neots, who has been keenly fighting in the interests of the areas affected by the Order in Huntingdonshire. He gave a rousing address, and explained the scheme in detail, showing how it would affect the different areas. Swavesey district had not been represented at the inquiry in Cambridge. "You were not so wide awake as we were," he remarked. The scheme, he said, would involve an expenditure of two millions of money, and he contended that this expenditure would mainly be for the benefit of the valuable Fen districts, and that Huntingdonshire and the Swavesey district would have to pay heavily – at least 15s. an acre for thirty years – and would receive little or no benefit. At the conclusion of Mr. Tebbutt's speech the Chairman inquired whether any present wished to ask questions. Mr. A. Day, a district councillor, desired to know how house property was affected. Mr. Tebbutt replied. The Chairman then suggested that the Swavesey district should join the Huntingdonshire areas in opposing the Order. Dr. Ellis regretted that there had been no opposition, and suggested that a member of Parliament should be asked to take up the matter in the House of Commons. Mr. Tebbutt objected, and gave his reasons. Mr. Day then moved a resolution protesting against the Order, and agreeing to join the Huntingdonshire areas in their opposition. Mr. B. Barker, of Over, seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Tebbutt for his valuable and interesting address. Dr. Ellis seconded, and the motion was carried amidst loud applause. At the close of the meeting the guarantee list was numerously signed.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th March 1920

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Wednesday evening, and was attended by the following councillors: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. S. Goad, R. Norman, J. L. Stanton, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). Owing to the late arrival of the Clerk, the meeting, which had been called for 7 p.m., did not begin until 7.30 p.m. After the minutes had been signed, Messrs. Beales and Stanton presented an account from Mr. George Mitham for £26 17s. 6d., for erecting the fence surrounding the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground. A discussion followed respecting the best way of meeting the cost of the work that has been done in connection with the Recreation Ground, and it was unanimously agreed that War Loan of the nominal value of £20, belonging to the Recreation Ground account, should be sold forthwith. On the proposal of Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. Stanton, it was decided that the herbage of the ground from 6th proximo until Christmas next should be let by tender, instead of at public auction as in past years, and that sealed tenders should be sent to the Clerk not later than Saturday, April 3rd. The following councillors were appointed a committee, with full powers to deal with the tenders: The Chairman, Messrs. Beales, Burton, Stanton and Twist. Mr. Burton pointed out that the order of the Council to pay one half-penny each for sparrows expired on the 31st inst., and on the motion of Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. Stanton, it was decided that the order should remain in force during the ensuing year. It was further directed that all outstanding bills should be paid, and that a precept for £20 be served on the overseers for the Council's expenses. The Clerk applied for an increase of salary, and in doing so, complained of the inadequate remuneration he received, viz., £20 per annum for acting as rate collector. The Chairman objected to this point being raised as it did not concern the Parish Council. Mr. Twist proposed that the Clerk's salary be raised from £3 to £6, to date from April 1st, 1919. Mr. Burton seconded, and the resolution was carried.

ACCIDENT. 2nd April 1920

While taking a horse out of a cart on his premises in Market-street on Monday, Mr. Bert Hodson, farmer, had his shoulder seriously injured. One tag remained unfastened, and the horse moved on, jamming Mr. Hodson between the cart and a wall. Accompanied by his wife, the injured man went at once by motor-car to Wisbech, where he was attended by Mr. Mason, who found that the collar-bone was broken in two places. Mr. Hodson returned to Swavesey.

CONCERNING THE PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd April 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: One of the bills passed for payment at last week's Parish Council meeting was for overhauling the public street lamps. The amount of the bill was small, and presumably does not cover the whole of the cost of putting the lamps and appurtenances into such a state of repair as will enable the village to be lighted next winter. It may be urged that there is plenty of time between now and October for the work of reparation to be completed, but the cost cannot be included in the accounts for the financial year just ended, as Mr. Councillor Beales was anxious should be done when he raised the question at the December meeting of the Council. His object was to pay for the repairs in a year, when there was no expense incurred for lighting, and thus ease the ratepayers. The councillors, I believe, concurred with Mr. Beales. There is, however, another point to which attention should be called. The bill passed last week is apparently to be paid out of a precept issued to meet the ordinary expenses of the Council. Surely repairs to lamps can properly only be met out of the special lighting rate. It is remarkable that the Clerk did not raise this point, as when the Council was considering payments in connection with the Recreation Ground, he appeared to be nervous about the ordinary expenditure of the Council exceeding the limits of the threepenny rate allowed the Council. He maintained that the 3d. rate limit applied to expenditure on the Recreation Ground, but the Council thought otherwise, and rightly, seeing that the herbage rents have paid, and are paying, for all improvements to the ground, and not a farthing has been drawn from the rates. One reason for the irregular inclusion of the bill for lamp repairs in the Council's ordinary expenditure may be that before the lighting rate can be levied, a parish meeting has to authorise the rate. There has been no such meeting, although the annual parish meeting should have been held on March 25th, or within seven days before or after that day. I believe I am right in saying that the date is fixed by Act of Parliament, and that no discretion is allowed parochial authorities to vary it. The haphazard holding of meetings in the parish leads to inconveniences. For example, a meeting of the War Memorial Committee was called on the 19th ult. for 7.30 p.m. on the 24th ult. On the following day summonses were issued for a Parish Council meeting at 7 p.m. on the 24th. As five of the nine councillors are members of the Memorial Committee, and with his knowledge of the usually belated start and length of Council meetings, the War Memorial Secretary thought it advisable to postpone his meeting, and he is now waiting to be informed by the Council Clerk of the dates of public meetings which should be held about this time.

EASTER VESTRY. 9th April 1920

Three or four parishioners, with the Vicar and the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), attended the Vestry meeting at the parish church on Tuesday evening, and the only business was the re-appointment of the old church-wardens, Messrs. W. H. Key and W. T. Thorp.

RECREATION GROUND. 9th April 1920

Only one tender for the right of herbage of the recreation ground between the 6th inst. and next Christmas was received by the Parish Council, namely, from Mr. D. Williams for £7 10s. This tender was accepted. Last year the herbage was sold by public auction and realised £4, from which the auctioneer's fee of 5s. had to be deducted.

PARISH CHURCH. 9th April 1920

The services at the parish church on Easter Day were well attended and were bright and hearty. Holy Communion was celebrated at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m. (choral). Matins 10.30 a.m., children's service 3 p.m., and Evensong 6.30 p.m. Maunder's service was used for the mid-day celebration, and at Evensong the anthem was "Christ being raised from the dead." (Simper).

A PERTINENT INQUIRY. 9th April 1920

A Father of a Family is anxious to know why milk fetched from Swavesey farms by the consumer is charged for at the rate of 9d. per quart, whereas milk is delivered at consumers' houses in Leicester and other towns at the rate of 8d. per quart. He thinks that an explanation is necessary, seeing that the local wholesale price of milk is 2s. per gallon (3d. per pint).

ACCIDENT. 9th April 1920

Leslie Peppercorn, the nine-year-old son of Mr. James Peppercorn, had his hand badly crushed in a cake-breaking machine in a barn at Mill Farm on Easter Monday. As soon as his hand was released he ran out of the barn calling for his father, who was employed on the farm. Mr. A. Day, jun., also was close by, and he, accompanied by Mr. Peppercorn, immediately carried the boy to Dr. Ellis' surgery. Dr. Ellis unfortunately was not at home, but P.C. Breed, who was in the neighbourhood, rendered first aid. The district nurse was sent for, and attended the little fellow. It was decided to take him to Addenbrooke's Hospital, wither he was driven by Mr. Day, who was accompanied by Mr. Peppercorn and Miss Bessie Day. At the hospital it was found necessary to amputate portions of three fingers. The boy was detained.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 9th April 1920

The usual tea was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Good Friday evening, and was so well attended that the schoolroom was packed to its utmost capacity. Later in the evening, a party of ladies and gentlemen from St. Ives, organised by Miss Sykes, gave a concert in the chapel, which attracted a large attendance, notwithstanding the unsettled state of the weather. All the items were received with great favour, and during the interval between parts 1 and 2 the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, who presided, proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the kind friends from St. Ives, who had given so much pleasure by their excellent and well-rendered programme. He also thanked the tray-holders and the organisers of the tea on behalf of those present, and expressed their appreciation of the efforts of Miss Norman and Mr. F. Norman, who were responsible for the arrangements at Swavesey. The proceeds have been devoted to the general expenses of the chapel.

PIERROTS' CONCERT. 9th April 1920

The Swavesey Pierrot Troupe, who, at their first appearance early this year established themselves in public favour, and have since given concerts at Oakington and Fen Drayton, made their second venture at home on Easter Monday and Tuesday, when they again scored a success. These concerts, like those in January, were in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund. Good audiences attended on both evenings, and greatly enjoyed the excellent musical and dramatic fare provided. Tuesday's audience was very enthusiastic, and encores were numerous. The programme included songs, duets, choruses and two farces. That all of the Troupe did their utmost to amuse the audience and do credit to themselves was evident, and it was equally evident that no pains had been spared in their training. For this Mr. C. Wood was responsible, and he can be congratulated on the result of his arduous labours. Once again the honorary stage carpenter, Mr. A. Slater, has to be congratulated on his work. Out of odds and ends, flags, stray curtains, and other unconsidered trifles, he constructed a proscenium, a properly set out stage, and a curtain that worked well.
(Full programme in newspaper.)

BREAD. 16th April 1920

The price of bread was on Monday raised from 9d. to 1s. 1d. per quartern, and flour to 1s. per quartern. Swavesey villagers have now the privilege of being on an equality with London, Cambridge and other towns.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 16th April 1920

At a meeting of the General Committee of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, held at the National School on Wednesday evening, Major R. Ellis (chairman) presiding, Mr. C. R. Vincent resigned the office of hon. secretary, to which he was elected by the public meeting of parishioners in May, 1919, and which he then consented to hold "for a time." The committee appointed Mr. C. Wood to fill the vacancy, the office to be held in conjunction with the treasurership. Mr. Vincent will remain a member of the committee.

MILK. 16th April 1920

“Another Father” writes: Referring to “Father of a Family’s” pertinent inquiry in last week’s paper why milk can be delivered at consumers’ houses in Leicester and other towns at 8d. a quart, while 9d. a quart is being charged in Swavesey for milk fetched by the consumer from the farms, may I say that I have been informed the retail price of milk, at the farm in Sutton, Isle of Ely, is 3½d. a pint, or 7d. a quart. Why 9d. at Swavesey, and 7d. at Sutton. Another correspondent writes: My daughter, who lives in North-West London, has written to tell me that the price of milk in London is 9d. a quart, and that a loaf of bread costs 6d.

MR. STANTON’S ILLNESS. 16th April 1920

According to news received in Swavesey, Mr. J. L. Stanton, who was removed to a nursing home in London on Wednesday in last week for an operation, which was performed the following day, is going on as well as can be expected. He has, however, to undergo another operation shortly. His many friends wish him a happy issue out of his trouble, and a speedy return to Swavesey thoroughly restored to health. Mr. Stanton is a parish councillor, and since April, 1919, has been one of the representatives of the parish on the Rural District Council and Board of Guardians. He has done much useful service on these bodies and in other ways.

OBITUARY. 23rd April 1920

Mrs. Prior, widow of the late Mr. Thomas Prior, died at her residence, Stanton View, Swavesey, on Wednesday afternoon, aged 72 years. She had been ill for some time. Her husband died on 30th August last.

CORRECTION. 23rd April 1920

Owing to a typographical error the old price of bread in Swavesey was stated in our last week’s issue to have been 9d. per quartern, instead of 9½d.

WHIST DRIVE. 23rd April 1920

Another successful whist drive, the fifth organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, was brought off at the National School on Tuesday evening. Thirty tables were fully occupied. The prizes were awarded as follows: - Ladies, Mrs. F. Braybrook, Miss Gadsby, Miss M. Cole, Mrs. Green; gentlemen, Mr. P. Smith, Mr. H. Prime, Mr. T. Daintree, Mr. A. J. Willson. Excellent refreshments kindly given by people in the village were supplied at reasonable charges under the superintendence of Miss E. Dodson.

WEDDING. 23d April 1920

The marriage of Miss Ethel May Brooks, fifth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, Swavesey, and Mr. George William Cracknell, son of Mr. George Cracknell, Linton, was solemnised in Swavesey Parish Church on the 15th inst. The Vicar officiated. The bride wore a navy blue costume, with hat to match, and was given away by Mr. George Holmes. She was attended by two bridesmaids – Miss Hilda Cracknell (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Alice Brooks (sister of the bride) – who were dressed in brown, with hats to match. Mr. P. Orriss, of Linton, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a tea service from the Church bell-ringers at Linton.

CHURCH MEETING. 23rd April 1920

The parochial Church meeting was held in the tower of the Parish Church on Thursday, April 15th. There was a good attendance. It was decided that the Parochial Church Council should consist of nine members, including the ex-officio members of the Council. The ex-officio members are: Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar), Mr. W. H. Key and Mr. W. T. Thorp (churchwardens), Mr. R. Mitham and Mr. R. Barwell (representatives on the Ruri-Decanal and Diocesan Conferences). Four members were elected to complete the Council, viz., Mrs. J. Selwyn Sharp, Mr. C. Wood, Mrs. Banks and Mrs. R. Barwell. The accounts were presented and showed a balance of £13. The sidesmen were appointed, Mr. Hall being elected to take the place of Mr. Ephraim Stocker, whose loyal and devoted service will be much missed.

DEATH OF MR. J. L. STANTON. 23rd April 1920

The sad news reached Swavesey on Monday morning that Mr. James Levi Stanton had passed away at 10.30 the previous night at a nursing home in London, after a very painful illness of three weeks' duration. On Wednesday, 7th inst., he was removed to London for an operation, which was performed on the following day, but unfortunately a second operation was necessary and this took place towards the end of last week. Mr. Stanton failed to rally, and, as stated, died on Sunday night, to the deep regret of his many friends. Mr. James Levi Stanton was born 69 years ago at Willingham, being the son of the late Mr. David Stanton, of that parish. He never married. When a youth he migrated to London, where the next fifty years of his life were spent. In conjunction with his brother, Mr. Frederick Stanton, he carried on with great success the business of salvage brokers until March, 1917, when he retired and the partnership was dissolved. Mr. Stanton then settled in Swavesey, with which village he had family ties, and where he owned property. A year ago he was elected a member of the Parish Council, and about the same time succeeded Mr. E. Parish, J.P., as one of the Swavesey representatives on the Rural District Council and the Board of Guardians. Mr. Stanton was not a talker, but, what was better, was well endowed with common-sense, public spirit, and capacity for business, qualities of the greatest value on bodies dealing with public affairs. To use the happy words of a friend, "Mr. Stanton could do anything but talk." Though not loquacious, he was not an entirely silent member, for he knew when to speak, and when he spoke his words were few, but to the point. The Swavesey Cricket Club have him mainly to thank for their new playing pitch on the Recreation Ground, and had his life been spared he would, no doubt, have been able to effect other improvements in the village. Bethel Baptist Chapel has lost a devoted and generous friend, and the Band of Hope a staunch supporter. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at Willingham Cemetery, where other members of the Stanton family have been buried. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, officiated.

SERVICE OF SONG 23rd April 1920

In the presence of an audience which filled Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday afternoon, the children of Bethel Band of Hope, assisted by the choir, who had been carefully trained by Mrs. Aldred, gave a praiseworthy rendering of a service of song entitled "The Angel of the Tenement." The narrative, which told a pathetic story, was read by the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, and Mr. J. W. Williams ably presided at the organ. At the close, on the suggestion of the Pastor, the children, all standing, sent a message of love and greeting to Mr. J. L. Stanton, who was lying dangerously ill in London, and who had always taken the warmest interest in the Band of Hope and its youthful members. The message, however, never reached Mr. Stanton, for he died at 10.30 on Sunday night.

FUNERAL. 30th April 1920

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Maria Prior, widow of the late Mr. Thomas Prior, whose death at the age of 72 years after three months' illness, was briefly recorded last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, vicar of Swavesey, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated, and the hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung. The chief mourners were: Mrs. James Prior and Miss E. M. Prior (grandchildren), Mr. B. Prior, Mrs. F. Dodson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Barrett, Mr. C. Parker (nephew) and Mrs. J. Carter and Mrs. C. Carter (nieces). The coffin was of polished elm with brass fittings. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

THE LATE MR. J. L. STANTON. 30th April 1920

Conveyed by motor hearse from London, where he passed away on the 18th inst., the mortal remains of the late Mr. James Levi Stanton were laid to rest on Thursday in last week in Willingham Cemetery, the place of burial of other members of his family, in the presence of a considerable assemblage of mourning friends from Swavesey, Over, and elsewhere. The Rev. H. T. N. Usher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, officiated, and Mr. Stanton's favourite hymn, "There is a fountain filled with blood" was sung at the graveside. The coffin was covered with many beautiful wreaths, including one from "Friends at Bethel and members of the Band of Hope and Sunday School." The chief mourners were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stanton (brother and sister-in-law), Mrs. George and Mrs. Godfrey (sisters), Mrs. G. Stanton (sister-in-law), Messrs. Cecil, Frederick and David Stanton (nephews) and the Misses Madge and Muriel Stanton and May Godfrey (nieces). On Sunday evening at Bethel Chapel the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher made a sympathetic and warmly appreciative reference to the late Mr. Stanton, and amongst the many expressions of sympathy and regret which have reached the family is a letter of condolence from the St. Ives Board of Guardians and Swavesey Rural District Council, on both of which bodies Mr. Stanton was one of the representatives of the parish of Swavesey.

PARISH MEETING. 30th April 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: The annual parish meeting, which should have been held on or about 25th March, was announced to take place at 6.30 p.m. last Monday, and the chairman (Mr. A. Norman), the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), and the schoolmaster (Mr. C. Wood), with the representative of this paper, were duly in attendance at the appointed time. They waited patiently for an hour and a half for other parishioners to put in an appearance, but none came, and shortly after 8 o'clock the Chairman, rejecting the urgent prayer of the Clerk that he should be allowed at least to read the minutes of the two meetings held in 1919, decided that the only thing to be done was to go home; so home we went. Except at times of agitation, parish meetings appear to have no attraction for the people of Swavesey. For years past the attendance at such meetings has been very unsatisfactory, usually less than a dozen persons, most of whom have been parish councillors, being present. On Monday the Chairman was the only member of the Council who attended. Very little interest is taken by the parishioners in matters affecting the parish. This is most unfortunate, for if they took a keener interest in matters that concern the welfare of the parish, things that are being neglected would soon be attended to. As regards Monday's meeting, the early hour (6.30 by the clock, but only 5.30 by the sun) and the inadequate method of notification may have had a good deal to do with the absence of ratepayers. A notice written on a small piece of paper affixed amongst numerous other documents to the notice boards at the parish church and Nonconformist chapels may comply with legal requirements, but is hardly likely to attract attention. The Act of 1894 required that notices of parish meetings should be posted in "some conspicuous place or places within the parish," and the board in High-street which was erected by the Parish Council a few years ago would appear to be a "conspicuous place" in Swavesey, but before the board can be used it should be lowered. The Council appear to have forgotten that when it was removed to make way for the Roll of Honour it was merely propped against the wall of the parish property. May I once again suggest that in place of a scrap of paper, skeleton forms of notice with the words "Parish Meeting" in bold type at the top should be provided, and further that notices would stand a better chance of receiving attention if the boards to which they are affixed are kept clear of documents long out of date.

CRICKET. 7th May 1920

Swavesey Cricket Club opened the season on Saturday, when the second eleven visited Oakington and gained a decisive victory. The first eleven should have played Histon I. in a Milton League match, but at the request of Histon the game was postponed.

THE SCOURGE. 7th May 1920

Influenza is rife in the village, and unfortunately in several cases is accompanied by pneumonia. On Tuesday it was decided to close the National School for a time on account of sickness amongst the teaching staff and the children.

THE MAY QUEEN. 7th May 1920

A small child, crowned with flowers and appropriately arrayed as Queen of the May, and seated in state in a decorated car, with a bodyguard of maidens in attendance, traversed the village on May Day. Calls were made at many houses, and the Queen of a day met with a loyal welcome.

DROVE LETTING. 7th May 1920

The annual letting by public auction of the herbage of the droveways and roadsides in the parish of Swavesey took place at the White Horse Inn by direction of the Rural District Council on the 28th ulto., and realised £33 7s. 6d., an increase of £7 10s. on the amount obtained in 1919, £25 17s. 6d. £27 was realised in 1918, £21 10s. in 1917, and £25 5s. in 1913.

FOR HOSPITALS. 7th May 1920

With the view of helping hospitals, Mr. Herbert Wilderspin had the happy thought of having one of his calves specially sold for their benefit at the sale of his farming stock on 7th April. Mr. Cyril Watts was the auctioneer. The calf was knocked down to Mr. Z. Parish for £3, a collection of half-crowns amongst the company realised £2, and Mr. Wilderspin added £3 3s. making £8 3s. in all. This sum has been equally divided between the National Hospital, Queen's-square, London, St. Dunstan's Hostel, and Addenbrooke's Hospital.

THE SCHOOL. 14th May 1920

It is hoped to re-open the National School, which has been closed owing to illness, on Thursday next.

CRICKET. 14th May 1920

The Swavesey Cricket Club will play their first home match this season, to-morrow (Saturday), when they meet Cottenham I in a Milton and District League fixture. Play is to begin at 3 p.m.

AN UPSET. 14th May 1920

Through striking the raised pebble side-path in High-street, near its junction with Market-street, a cart laden with trusses of hay toppled over on Wednesday in last week, throwing the horse down and distributing the trusses over the roadway. No damage was done to horse or cart.

PARISH COUNCIL. 14th May 1920

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School last Friday evening, and was attended by Messrs. J. S. Goad, who presided, F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman and R. Norman. Mr. E. J. Mitham officiated as clerk in place of his father, who was indisposed. Owing to the superior attraction of a sale announced for the same time as the Council meeting, a late start was made, and the councillors had a further illustration of the inconvenience caused by the unnecessarily large quorum fixed by the Standing Orders. The minutes of the last meeting having been signed, after a slight alteration had been made, and questions arising therefrom having been postponed in consequence of the absence of the Clerk, the Council proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. On the proposition of Mr. Beales, seconded by Mr. Burton, Mr. Arthur Norman was re-elected chairman, and Mr. Goad, on the motion of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, was re-appointed vice-chairman. Before proceeding with the selection of the overseers, the Deputy-Clerk read a letter from the Assessment Committee of the St. Ives Union, in which it was stated that the County Council had expressed dissatisfaction with the assessment of property in the county generally, and had threatened to employ a professional valuer if a more satisfactory assessment was not submitted. The St. Ives Committee asked for a fresh valuation to be supplied by July 1st next. The following were appointed overseers: Mr. Arthur Leonard Parish (proposed by Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. F. Norman), and Mr. C. W. H. Cole (proposed by Mr. R. Norman, seconded by Mr. Goad). Messrs. Wallis Parish and James Parsons were also proposed, but were not seconded. Mr. Beales moved that a letter of sympathy with the family of the late Mr. J. L. Stanton be sent to the Clerk. Mr. Goad seconded, and the proposal was agreed to unanimously. Two candidates for the vacancy on the Council caused by the death of Mr. Stanton were proposed, viz., Mr. Cyril Day, D.C.M., proposed by Mr. R. Norman, seconded by Mr. Cole; and Mr. J. Ansell, the unsuccessful candidate who obtained the greatest number of votes at the Parish Council election in April, 1919, proposed by Mr. Beales, seconded by Mr. F. Norman. On a vote being taken, Mr. Day received four votes and Mr. Ansell two votes. The former was therefore declared elected. Mr. Burton reported that only one tender had been received for the right of herbage of the Recreation Ground, and that the Committee had accepted the tender. The Council approved. Mr. F. Norman called attention to the most unsatisfactory condition of the by-roads in the parish, and after considerable discussion it was unanimously decided that a representation in the matter should be made to the Rural District Council, who should be asked to inform the Parish Council who is responsible for the repair of the parish by-roads. Conversation followed respecting the rating of the parish, during which it transpired that the amount required for the Poor Rate during the next few months would be about double the amount needed in the corresponding period of 1919, while the District Council demands for the same period were about three times the sum levied last year. — Our Swavesey correspondent writes: The absence of the Clerk may have been responsible for the omission of several items of business at last Friday's Council meeting. For instance, no committees were appointed, and the Council's representative, or representatives on the board of Galon's Charity, who should have been re-elected last year, if not earlier, were overlooked. No reference was made to the long overdue annual parish meeting, nor to the interesting fact that the public notices as to the reward paid for defunct sparrows are out-of-date. The public notice board in High-street is still a source of amusement to passers-by. When will the Council direct that it should be properly erected, and once more restored to the use for which it was provided? The ancient documents with which it is placarded might with advantage be removed, and the application of a scrubbing brush, followed by a coat of paint, would effect an improvement.

MEETING. 21st May 1920

Under the auspices of the Cambs. Trades Council and Divisional Labour Party, a public meeting was held on the Recreation Ground at 7.30 p.m. on Sunday. The attendance was not large.

A QUESTION. 21st May 1920

When does the Rural District Council propose, it is asked, to finish the clearing out of the branch drain in the neighbourhood of the building known as "The Plough."

LECTURE. 21st May 1920

Major A. Nelson, O.B.E., late Beds. and Herts. Regiment, gave a most interesting and instructive lecture to men only on "England's danger and A 1 manhood" in the National School on Sunday afternoon. About fifty men were present.

RED CROSS WORK. 21st May 1920

On May 10th the V.A.D. Cambs. 12 were on duty at the World Service Exhibition at Cambridge. Quartermaster Cole and Nurse G. Dodson were in charge of the exhibits in the Medical Court, and Nurses E. Burton, J. Kirby, and M. Parsons gave a good demonstration in bed-making and bandaging. Miss May Mustill kindly acted as patient.

THE DISTRICT NURSE. 21st May 1920

The Swavesey, Over, and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association is in need of funds, and a garden fete is to be held in the grounds of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, on Thursday, 3rd June, to raise some money for this most useful, necessary, and deserving Association. One of the chief attractions is a baby show, but plenty of other attractions are promised.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 21st May 1920

When the Parish Council placed the Roll of Honour in High-street a year ago, no provision was made for the cleaning of the case, which was presented by Mr. A. Norman, Hitherto, the compiler of the Roll has occasionally brushed off the dust and polished up the glass, but on Saturday two young ladies, Miss Grace Froment and Mrs. Chaddock, very patriotically volunteered to give the case a thorough spring cleaning. They did their work most effectively, polishing the woodwork, and even removing an accumulation of grass at the base of the wall, which had escaped the attention of the road officials.

THE VACANT DISTRICT COUNCILLORSHIP. 21st May 1920

May I ask, writes a correspondent, what steps are being taken to fill the vacancy on the St. Ives Board of Guardians and Swavesey Rural District Council caused by the lamented death of Mr. J. L. Stanton? It is most important that the parish of Swavesey should be fully represented on both these bodies at the present time, especially on the District Council, which is dealing with matters vitally affecting Swavesey – the public drains and banks, and the new housing scheme, for instance, Swavesey and Fen Drayton suffer from flood water from other parishes in the district, and their representatives have often been in the unfortunate position of being outvoted on the Council on matters of drainage and the disposal of, and protection from, surplus water from other parishes. The question might with advantage be ventilated at the overdue annual parish meeting.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 21st May 1920

After an interval of fourteen years, the Rev. W. Bampton Taylor, of Ely Place Church, Wisbech, re-visited Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey, on the 13th inst., and preached two eloquent and able sermons at the anniversary services held on that day. Both services were well attended, the evening attendance being specially good, and it would no doubt have been larger but for the fact that the Baptist Association meetings were being held at Gamlingay on the same day. Between the services a tea was provided in the chapel, at which a large number was present. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the chapel funds, and realised £17 3s. 1½d.

THE FEAST. 21st May 1920

Market-street, the site in days long past of Swavesey's ancient market, was filled with roundabouts, cocoa-nut shies, stalls, and other paraphernalia appertaining to village feasts during Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and so far as the show folk were concerned, presented a pre-war appearance, but the pre-war crowds were absent, though on Tuesday evening a considerable number of people attended. The cold and stormy weather no doubt kept many visitors from other villages away, and old Swaveseyites living at a distance deemed it wiser to remain at home in view of the heavy cost of railway travelling. Children, however, enjoyed themselves and spent their coppers on squeaking abominations, rides on the horses, swings, etc., but, speaking generally, the Feast this year was a very tame affair. Two cricket matches were to have been played, viz., on Tuesday between the First XI and the Next Sixteen, and on Wednesday between Swavesey II, and Willingham II. The former game was brought off, and resulted in the victory of the First Eleven, but the latter was scratched on Wednesday morning by Willingham. A whist drive in aid of the War Memorial Hall Fund was held on Wednesday evening.

WHIST DRIVE. 28th May 1920

A Whist drive in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund was held in the National School on the 19th inst. Sixteen tables were occupied and prizes were won as follows: Ladies: Mrs. H. G. Key, Mrs. J. Culpin, Mrs. Walter Thorp. Gentlemen: Mr. D. Williams, Mr. J. Culpin, Mr. R. W. Thurbon.

MILK. 28th May 1920

Two Swavesey dairy farmers have reduced the retail price of milk supplied by them to 6d. per quart, and it is rumoured that one of them has in consequence been called over the coals by the other famers in the parish who still charge 8d. per quart (2s. 8d. per gallon). In the neighbouring parish of Over milk is being supplied at 5d. per quart. The wholesale price of milk sent away from Swavesey is at present 1s. 3d. per gallon, and the farmer has to pay the cost of railway transit.

WHITSUN HOLIDAY. 28th May 1920

A fair number of visitors spent the Whitsun holiday in Swavesey, and on Monday the village was enlivened by a cricket match between the local club and Salisbury Club, Cambridge. A very pleasant and keenly contested game was won by the visitors. The day was gloriously fine and the sun intensely hot. The Salisbury Club men were accompanied by a strong contingent of friends, including ladies and children, and while the adults were amusing themselves after their fashion, the youngest enjoyed themselves in their way, and before marching to the railway station for the last train, had enough energy left to run races. During the interval in the match the visitors had tea at Mr. Law's in High-street.

NOTICE. 4th June 1920

We are sticking to our motto, S.P.Q.R. Sliced Corned Beef, 1s. 2d. lb.; Good Currants, 7d. per lb.; Tapioca, 6d. per lb.; Loose Starch, from 10d. per lb. Drapery Department: Sun Hats, 1s. 6d., 2s. 6d.; Men's Caps, 1s. 6d., 3s. 8d. – Canham's Stores, Swavesey.

CRICKET. 4th June 1920

Haddenham Cricket Club visited Swavesey on Saturday, for a Milton and District Cricket League (Division I) engagement, Scores: Haddenham 32, Swavesey 29. The violent thunderstorm interfered considerably with the game.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 4th June 1920

Anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Thursday afternoon and evening, and were attended by good congregations, which included many friends from surrounding villages, St. Ives and Godmanchester. Mr. James Calcott, of Coventry, was the special preacher. Between the services tea was provided in the chapel, which was well filled. The financial result of the anniversary is reported to be very satisfactory, better than for several years, and the same can be said of the attendance at the services and the tea.

THUNDERSTORM. 4th June 1920

The thunderstorm was very severe at Swavesey. The downpour of hail, which is said to have been the heaviest known in the village for many years, did much damage to growing crops, especially peas and beans, and to plum and apple trees. A row of tall poplars in Friesland Farm caught the full force of the hurricane, branches being torn away from the tree trunks, some of which fell on to the Great Eastern Railway line, blocking both up and down roads. Fortunately, Mr. E. J. Mitham and Mr. W. Froment were near by, and they proceeded, without delay to remove the obstruction, being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. C. Ding from Fen Drayton gate-house.

CRICKET. 11th June 1920

After a run of bad luck, having lost the first four games played by them this season in the Milton and District Cricket League (Division I), the Swavesey XI, in their fifth attempt, scored a notable victory over Cottenham I on Saturday, at Cottenham, Swavesey scoring 177 runs against Cottenham's 60, thus avenging the defeat on the 15th ult.

WANTED: A COUNCILLOR. 11th June 1920

As far as the public are aware, no steps have yet been taken to fill the vacancy on the St. Ives Board of Guardians and Swavesey Rural District Council, caused by the death of Mr. J. L. Stanton, on April 18th last. The parish of Swavesey is thus deprived of one of its two representatives, a most unfortunate circumstance in view of the important matters such as drainage, housing, and ever-rising rates, which vitally concern the parish at the present time. A correspondent asks whether the Rule has been rescinded, or altered, which required that the election to fill a casual vacancy on a Rural District Council should be held within one month after notice of the vacancy had been given. The Swavesey Council must be aware of the present vacancy, for their Clerk sent a letter of condolence on their behalf to Mr. Stanton's family.

A RUNAWAY HORSE. 11th June 1920

There were a few lively minutes at Church End last Friday afternoon, when a horse which should have been quietly resting in the shafts of a cart in a butcher's yard for some unexplained reason took into its head to bolt, upset, and smash the cart, bespatter the high road with broken eggs, and then career wildly over gardens and allotments. Mr. Joseph Ellis, of Colne, Hunts., drove into Mr. R. Williamson's yard, and tied up his horse. In the cart was a quantity of eggs. After a time the horse broke loose and bolted out of the yard in the direction of the Swan pond. Near the Old Bottle House it seems to have turned, and in doing so upset the cart. Eggs were pitched into the road, and the shafts were broken. The horse minus the cart then galloped over the vacant site of a house burned down in the great fire into gardens at the back, and here Mr. Ellis managed to seize the reins, which were trailing, but failed to hold the animal, which continued its mad course across onion beds, etc., in Tibbitt's allotments, and so into Mr. James Wells' garden and yard. Turning here, the animal went back across gardens, allotments, and gooseberry and currant bushes, towards the cemetery, where, after endangering the safety of a cyclist and of a lady with a perambulator, it was captured.

GARDEN FETE. 11th June 1920

The Swavesey, Over, and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association benefited to the extent of £40 4s. 4d. by a garden fete on Thursday, 3rd inst., in the beautiful and well-kept grounds of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, and a dance later in the evening. The fete, with its accompanying stalls, amusements, competitions, etc., realised £37 12s. 3d., and the dance, including the sale of surplus refreshments from the fete, £2 12s. 1d. This result is most satisfactory, seeing that the fete was organised on unambitious lines. The whole of the takings were devoted to the Associations, all expenses being borne by private individuals. The weather being favourable, the attendance was good, visitors being present from Cambridge, Over, Willingham, Longstanton, Fen Drayton, Conington, Oakington, and other villages. A great attraction was a baby show under the capable control of Miss Rowbottom, the District Nurse. Entries were limited to Swavesey infants not exceeding twelve months of age, and there were three classes. The entries numbered nine, and the prizes were awarded as follows:- From 1 to 4 months of age, Eric Robert Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Williamson; from 4 to 8 months, Higham Hovell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hovell, Mow Fen Gate House; from 8 to 12 months, Eric Percy Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Parish, Albert Edward Brasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brasher, and John Martin Sharp, son of the Rev. J. S. and Mrs. Sharp were adjudged equal. Mrs. Sharp withdrew her child, and prizes were awarded to babies Parish and Brasher. The judges, Dr. Robinson, County Medical Officer, and Miss Bills, Secretary of the County Nursing Association, experienced great difficulty in selecting the best babies, as all, they said, were exceptionally fine children, and all will receive certificates. The judges declared that Swavesey must be a very healthy spot. Half-hour concerts under the management of Miss M. Cole, assisted by Miss Beaumont and Mrs. Aldred, given in the Coach-house, which had been converted into an excellent concert room, attracted good audiences. Mr. Barwell also gave two magic-lantern exhibitions in the same place, which were much appreciated. A produce stall under the management of Mrs. W. F. Gleaves and Mrs. Cooke, and a jumble and new work stall supervised by Mrs. Twist, assisted by Miss Ethel Garner and Miss Banks, found ready buyers.

CRICKET. 18th June 1920

Playing Willingham I in a Milton and District League (Div. I) fixture on Saturday, Swavesey scored 47 and the visitors 38. Dennis Williams bowled well for Swavesey, taking nine wickets for 18 runs.

A PLEASANT OUTING. 18th June 1920

The members of the Mothers' Union were invited by Mrs. Herbert to meet the Hemingford Abbots and Hemingford Grey mothers on the 9th inst. Fourteen were able to accept, and after a most pleasant drive reached Hemingford Abbots Church shortly before 3 o'clock, when a brief service was held, and a most helpful address given by the Vicar of Godmanchester from the words, "Is it well with thee; is it well with thy husband; is it well with the child?" After the service the visitors adjourned to the beautiful grounds at Hemingford Abbots Rectory, where tea was provided, and a very happy time spent. In the evening the Hemingford Abbots Girl Guides gave a very good entertainment on the lawn, and after a vote of thanks to the kind host and hostess, the Swavesey party returned home at about 7 p.m. It was much regretted that some members were prevented from going. In the early spring Mrs. Herbert held a campaign in Swavesey for the Mothers' Union, and by her kindness endeared herself to all.

SMELLS IN THE HIGH-STREET. 26th June 1920

The stench arising from the open drain at Turn Bridge at the end of High-street has been most offensive this week, and must have been a great nuisance to people living in the cottages close by.

LOCKED IN! 26th June 1920

A respected inhabitant who combines private business with manifold public offices, and his chief assistant, had an unpleasant experience the other day. They were putting the finishing touches to a fowlhouse in the village when the owner came along, and, unconscious of the fact that the two craftsmen were inside, locked the door and went on his way. Why he did not hear the workers is not explained, and the suggestion that they were resting is dismissed as ridiculous. At any rate the two unfortunates were imprisoned for some time in the dark, and to add to their discomfort they could not stand upright, for the roof was low, and the report says that they kept on treading on each other's feet.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th June 1920

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, and was attended by Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, and F. Norman, with the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Mr. A. L. Parish, one of the Overseers, was also present. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting on May 7th, the Clerk reported that he had ascertained that the by-laws of the parish were under the control of the Rural District Council, who made no charge except in regard to the pay of the roadman; that Mr. W. Linford, who had been roadman, had recently resigned, and that it was not proposed to fill the vacancy until Michaelmas. On the question being asked as to Mr. Cyril Day, who had been co-opted at the last meeting to fill the vacancy on the Council caused by the death of Mr. J. L. Stanton, Mr. Goad said that Mr. Day had informed him that he would not accept office. The Clerk, however, stated that he had not formally notified Mr. Day of his appointment, and, when some surprise was expressed that he had not done so, urged that there was nothing in the Standing Orders requiring him to communicate with a newly-elected councillor in the case of a casual vacancy. The Chairman thought the Clerk should write officially to Mr. Day, and on the proposal of Mr. Beales, seconded by Mr. F. Norman, it was decided that Mr. Day should be written to accordingly. Mr. A. L. Parish asked whether newly-elected overseers were not entitled to an official notification of their appointment, but no answer was forthcoming. These preliminary matters having been disposed of, the Council settled down to the consideration of the business for which the meeting was specially summoned. The Clerk was careful to explain that the meeting had been called "at short notice," that two instead of three clear days' notice had been given, and that therefore it was open to any councillor to object to the meeting being held. The councillors one and all declared their attention "to get on with the work." The special business was the appointment of a committee to assist the Overseers, Messrs. C. W. H. Cole and A. L. Parish, in a revaluation of the parish. The discussion was long, but unanimous so far as the necessity for a committee was concerned, and would have been much curtailed but for the Clerk, who, actuated doubtless by a laudable desire to impart information and instruction, introduced matters that did not bear immediately on the subject under discussion. At length the Chairman applied the closure, and on the motion of Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. F. Norman, Councillors A. Norman, F. J. Beales, W. Burton and J. S. Goad, and Mr. A. J. Willson were elected unanimously to serve on the committee. In replying to a question put by Mr. Beales as to the payment of the account for the fence protecting the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground, the Clerk said that the special banking account for the Recreation Ground had been closed, and that the Local Government auditors objected to a separate account. Mr. Beales also asked if the Clerk had received any notification from the District Council as to filling the vacancy on that Council caused by Mr. Stanton's death. The Clerk replied "that the matter did not concern the Parish Council, but he added that nominations had to be in the hands of the Clerk of the District Council by noon on that day (Monday), that he had been informed that one gentleman only had been nominated, and that this gentleman, Mr. C. W. H. Cole, would no doubt in due course be declared duly elected. — Our Swavesey correspondent writes: Very few of the 900 inhabitants of Swavesey knew that nominations were required to fill the vacancy on the District Council. Mr. Beales, for instance, would not have asked his question on Monday night if he had been aware that an election was in progress. Notices were posted on the church and chapel doors, but, as has been pointed out time after time in these columns notices would be better on the notice board on the parish property in High-street.

ROLL OF HONOUR. 2nd July 1920

Copies of the booklet containing the Swavesey Roll of Honour and record of men of the parish who served in the Great War can still be obtained from the compiler, Mr. C. R. Vincent, High-street, Swavesey, price one shilling each.

DANGEROUS HIGH-STREET. 2nd July 1920

The Overseers of the parish of Swavesey, Messrs. C. W. H. Cole, and A. L. Parish, came to grief on Friday evening when cycling along High-street. In getting out of the way of a cart which was being drawn by hand out of a yard, one cyclist collided with the other, and both parochial dignitaries came a cropper. No material damage was done.

CONCERNING THE PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd July 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: It has been suggested that, if for some occult reason, the parish authorities have decided to boycott the notice board in High-street, which was specially erected in 1912 by the then Parish Council for the display of official announcements, the board might be let to an auctioneer. The position is the best in the village for advertising purposes, and the parish would reap a little benefit from the sum paid for rent. Before adopting this suggestion, however, the Parish Council should remember that the board was put up in consequence of complaints that official notices were not seen by the public when only displayed amongst numerous other documents, usually more or less out of date, on the church and chapel doors. One councillor, I recollect, pleaded in excuse for failing to see a notice of a parish meeting that when he went to a place of worship his thoughts were far away from such mundane matters as those dealt with in official documents. The board in High-street was at one time used to a limited extent by parochial officials, but of late years has been boycotted. The failure to post the notices relating to the recent District Council election in a conspicuous place has given rise to the suspicion that the election was a “hole and corner affair,” and that it was not desired the public should know anything about it. Anxiety to save the parish the expense of a contested election – the last Parish Council election cost £8 – may have had something to do with restricting the knowledge that nominations were asked for to as few people as possible. There are two other matters to which attention may be called. At the first meeting held after the present Parish council was elected in April, 1919, the Council representatives on the Board of Feoffees of Galon's Charity should have been appointed, but the matter was postponed until the next meeting. The subject has not even been mentioned at any subsequent meeting. This omission is remarkable in view of the fact that the Clerk of the Council is also clerk of the charity, and it is also unfortunate as the feoffees appointed by the Council are the only feoffees not co-opted by the feoffees themselves. The Council is, however, not unrepresented, as the gentlemen appointed by a previous Council remain in office, but the period for which they were elected expired long ago. Secondly, are the village street lamps to be lighted next winter?

FOOD CONTROL. 9th July 1920

The Food Office for the Swavesey district has been removed from St. Ives to Huntingdon.

OBITUARY. 9th July 1920

Miss Annie Dodson, daughter of the late Mr. Berry Dodson, died during last Friday night, and was buried in Swavesey churchyard on Tuesday afternoon.

OPEN-AIR DANCE. 9th July 1920

The organisers of entertainments in aid of the War Memorial Fund, determined not to be beaten by the elements, announce that an open-air dance will take place on Dr. Ellis's lawn on Thursday next, 15th July, at 8 p.m., weather permitting. The garden will be illuminated, and refreshments provided at reasonable prices. The charge for admission will be one shilling.

WHIST DRIVE. 9th July 1920

Owing to the wet evening the whist drive and dance in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, which should have taken place on Dr. Ellis' lawn on Thursday evening in last week, had at the last moment to be adjourned to the National School. Chairs and tables were removed by willing hands from one place to the other, a distance of a quarter of a mile or more, in a surprisingly short space of time. Cyclists carried loads of chairs and tables, and so burdened rode gaily along the village street. One cyclist in some mysterious way managed to hang six chairs about his body and then mount his machine without difficulty, while another succeeded in transporting four chairs and a table at one fell swoop. Notwithstanding the elements, the attendance was good, but not as good as it would have been if the evening had been fine, and the entertainment held out of doors. Twenty-six tables were occupied for the whist drive, and the prizes were awarded as follows: - Ladies, Miss M. Cole, Mrs. Oakman, Miss M. Ellis; gentlemen, Mr. A. Jenkinson, Mr. H. Burling, Mr. J. Strapps. At 10 o'clock the dancing began, and was kept up with great spirit until midnight.

UNVEILING OF ROLL OF HONOUR. 9th July 1920

Fifty-one old boys of Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School are known to have served in the Navy, Army or Air Force during the war, and eight of them made the supreme sacrifice. A roll of honour, beautifully and artistically illuminated, on which the 51 names are inscribed, has been placed in the entrance lobby of the chapel, and last Sunday afternoon was unveiled by Mrs. Ussher, the wife of the pastor. There was a special service in the chapel, at which the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher presided. A goodly congregation assembled, and the roll for convenience of unveiling was placed on the rostrum. The service opened with hymn "O God, our help in ages past" and prayer by Mr. Benjamin Prior, one of the deacons. Hymn "Jesu, Lover of my soul" followed, and then Mrs. Ussher unveiled the Roll, and gave a brief and suitable address. Another hymn, "God moves in a mysterious way" having been sung, Mr. H. S. Aldred, who has been superintendent of the Sunday School for many years, read the names on the roll, the congregation standing. He concluded with a few words of sympathetic appreciation, especially in regard to those who had died. Mr. James Prior and Mr. G. E. Canham, both returned soldiers, also spoke, and a memorable service closed with hymn "God holds the key of all unknown," and prayer by Mr. Joseph Payne. The roll is enclosed in a fumed oak frame, and is the work of Messrs. Hankin, St. Ives.

CRICKET. 16th July 1920

What ought to be an interesting match from a local point of view is to be played on the Recreation Ground to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, the opposing teams being an eleven captained by Dr. Ellis, and an eleven of Swavesey ex-soldiers. Included in Dr. Ellis's team will be two or three veterans, without whom no Swavesey eleven was complete a few years ago.

ANNIVERSARY. 16th July 1920

Bethel Sunday School anniversary was kept last Sunday, and was particularly interesting, as the special preacher was a former pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, the Rev. B. G. Knight, now of Fletton. Mr. Knight, who left Swavesey about 20 years ago, and has since only paid flying visits, few and far between, had a cordial welcome from his old congregation. His sermons at the morning and evening services were eloquent and helpful, the services were bright and hearty, and the attendance, especially in the evening, good. In the afternoon there was a flower service, when tastefully arranged gifts of flowers were presented by the children. The flowers have been sent to St. Ives Infirmary. At the evening service certificates gained at the Sunday School Union Scripture examination were presented to the successful scholars by Mr. Knight. The collections throughout the day were on behalf of the Sunday School Fund, and amounted to over £6.

NEGLECTED BATHING PLACE. 23rd July 1920

The Swavesey bathing place in the River Ouse is reported to be in a terrible state, and is unsafe for bathers.

OUSE DRAINAGE. 23rd July 1920

At last week's meeting of St. Ives Town Council, Mr. G. G. G. Wheeler reported that the Ouse Drainage Bill had passed the Committee of the House of Lords and would now become law.

COUNTY SCHOLARSHIPS. 23rd July 1920

Six pupils of Swavesey National School – Llewellyn Nicholson, Bernard Parish, Charles Wood, Edward Melbourn, Muriel Beales, and Margaret Prior – succeeded in passing the recent County Minor Scholarship examination, and E. Melbourn and C. Wood have been awarded scholarships.

SCHOOL TREAT. 23rd July 1920

The children attending Bethel Chapel Sunday School had their summer treat on the 15th inst., and spent a very happy time. First of all, they had their splendid tea in the chapel schoolroom, and then their parents and adult friends were entertained. After this games of various kinds were played in Mr. Jabez Day's meadow. Swings were provided, and there was cricket, racing, tugs-of-war, etc. At the close prizes were presented by Mrs. Ussher and the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher (pastor) and Mr. H. S. Aldred, Sunday School Superintendent, said a few words. The children cheered lustily, and with gifts of sweets went home.

FORTHCOMING GARDEN FETE. 23rd July 1920

In aid of Swavesey War Memorial Fund, a garden fete is to be held in the grounds of Swavesey Vicarage on Bank Holiday, 2nd August. Many attractions are announced, including concerts by minstrels, Mrs. Jarley's waxworks, fancy dress football match (Ladies v. Gentlemen), needlework competition (open), with special prize for children, best bouquet of wild flowers arranged by schoolchildren, produce, jumble, and new work stalls. Teas and refreshments will be provided at moderate charges. The lawn will be illuminated for dancing from 7 to 10 p.m., and a string band will be in attendance. The fete will be opened by Mrs. R. Ellis, of Cottenham.

OPEN-AIR DANCE. 23rd July 1920

The dance on Dr. Ellis' lawn which should have taken place on 1st July, but had to be postponed on account of the bad weather, was brought off on Thursday evening in last week, and was a great success. The attendance was good, the weather kind, and the lawn in perfect condition. The roses were exquisite, and won general admiration, and at dusk the garden was prettily illuminated. Dancing was kept up with undiminished vigour until well-nigh 1 a.m., and all visitors thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The pianoforte accompaniments to the dances were played by the Misses Ellis, Goad, Jacobs, and Spolton, and Messrs. Percy Watts and E. Williams. The refreshments under the capable management of Miss Goad and Miss Parsons, were in great request, the excellent and much appreciated viands having been given by friends in the village. Mr. George Goad carried out the duties of M.C. At the close a vote of thanks to Dr. Ellis, proposed by Mr. J. S. Goad, and seconded by Mr. P. Godfrey, was carried with acclamation, and hearty cheers for the pianists followed. The proceeds have been given to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund.

PUBLIC NOTICES. 23rd July 1920

The boycott of the official notice board in High-street by the parish authorities still continues. The board was erected about eight years ago by the then Parish Council, in consequence of complaints that notices posted on the church and chapel doors were not seen by the public. For some reason or other the official responsible for the publication of public documents does not use the board, although attention has been called again and again in these columns to the inconvenience caused by his not doing so. Last Saturday the official compromised; he posted a notice concerning the autumn register of voters (claims and objections, etc.) on the brick wall within a few yards of the board. With tin tacks, he attached the poster to the brickwork about two feet above the level of the footpath, and no better position could have been chosen if his intention was to frighten nervous horses, or give little children something to play with. Dwellers in High-street watched the poster with interest, and speculated as to how long it would remain in position. It survived intact until Monday morning, and then began to flap gaily. During the afternoon it hung by the two top tin-tacks, and flapped still more vigorously. By early evening it had disappeared, and only the tin-tacks remained. Yet it is important that the notice should be on view for at least a month.

NORTH STOWE CHORAL FESTIVAL. 23rd July 1920

Successful Revival at Swavesey Parish Church.

After a lapse of some years, the festival of church choirs in the Rural Deanery of North Stowe has been revived and, on Wednesday evening, six choirs sang evensong in Swavesey Parish Church. The choristers, male and female, over two hundred in number, came from Conington (13), Cottenham (25), Histon (40), Over (65), Swavesey (40), and Willingham (25).

The service was according to the Ely use, and the music selected was that used for Ely Diocesan Church festivals in 1867, when the late Canon Henry Isaac Sharp, who had been vicar of Swavesey from 1862 to 1884 – he was the first resident vicar of the parish – but then held the living of Little Downham, was a leading spirit in matters concerning Church music. The ancient church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, is well adapted for gatherings of the kind. It is close to a railway station, it is large, and it possesses a somewhat ancient two-manual organ of fair size and power, which once did duty in St. Ives Parish Church.

On Wednesday evening a large congregation drawn from all round the neighbourhood, filled the sacred building, when at 7 o'clock the surpliced choirs, all the men and boys, entered in procession, headed by the Swavesey banner, which, it may be mentioned, saw its first service at a choral festival in Ely Cathedral many years ago. The women and girl choristers occupied the front rows of seats on either side of the nave, and the conductor, Mr. H. Adcock, organist of St. Luke's Chesterton, stood at his rostrum in the middle.

The late Rev. S. J. Stone's hymn "Round the Sacred City gather," to music by Henry Smart, was the processional. Following the choirmen came the clergy, the Revs. C. H. Crossley (Willingham), F. Ingle (Willingham and Australia), W. C. Massey (Conington), R. L. B. Oliver (Over), C. W. Tibbits (Elsworth), Canon E. G. Wood (St. Clement's, Cambridge), W. C. Cooke (vicar of Histon, and rural dean), and J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar of Swavesey).

The first part of the service was taken by the Vicar. The chanting was excellent. Rev. W. C. Massey read the first lesson, and the Rural Dean the second. The Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were rendered to an effective setting by Felix W. Morley, and the anthem, "O praise God in his holiness," by Thomas Tallis. Trinnell – a composition which gained the prize offered by the Ely Diocesan Music Society in 1871 – was sung in a way deserving of the highest praise. The succeeding prayers were said by the Rev. C. H. Crossley. The hymn before the sermon was H. Collins' "Jesu, my Lord, my God, my all," to music (St. Katharine) by J. G. Walton.

Canon Wood preached. His subject was "Worship", and in particular worship by the voice and its dangers, illustrating the latter by an old legend. During the collection two hymns were sung.

The Blessing was pronounced by the Rural Dean. The collection was in aid of the expenses of the festival, and amounted to £7 3s. 9d.

Mr. Adcock is entitled to the heartiest congratulations on the success of his labours. The choirs had had only one combined rehearsal, yet they sang well together. They attacked fearlessly and without hesitation. There was not one sign of weakness or of dragging. Mr. G. H. Skeeles, the Swavesey organist, was at the organ.

FORTHCOMING ENTERTAINMENT. 6th Aug. 1920

We are asked to announce that the performances of Mrs. Jarley's Waxworks and the minstrels, which, owing to the rain, had to be postponed last Monday evening, will be given in the National School next Thursday, 12th inst., at 7.30 p.m. Admission 1s. Proceeds in aid of the War Memorial Fund.

PUBLIC SPIRIT. 6th Aug. 1920

Two instances of public spirit on the part of parishioners of Swavesey have to be recorded. A new diving board has been erected at the bathing place in the river by an ex-soldier. Unfortunately, while fixing the board the gallant warrior took an involuntary header into the weedy waters of the Ouse. The second case has to be placed to the credit of the Clerk of the Parish Council, who was seen by astounded ratepayers between 9 and 10 p.m. on Thursday in last week busily engaged in repairing single-handed the disreputable and nearly unusable roadway of River Drove. It will be remembered that the Clerk announced at the last meeting of the Parish Council that the District Council, from motives of economy, had decided to postpone until Michaelmas the appointment of a by-way roadman in place of the official who retired some time ago.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL. 6th Aug. 1920

This year's house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, under the auspices of the County Organisation Fund in the villages comprised in the Swavesey district (Cambs. III, Part I) has resulted in £70 13s. 9d. being handed to the honorary secretary. (Swavesey, Mrs. Cooksey and friends, £12 12s.). Mrs. Cooksey, vice-president, wishes to congratulate all collectors and donors on the splendid result, which exceeds any previous year's collection.

GARDEN FETE. 6th Aug. 1920

Rain seriously interfered with the garden fete in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, which was held in the grounds of the Vicarage, by kind permission of the Vicar, on Bank Holiday. All sorts of entertainments, stalls, competitions and the like calculated to amuse the visitors, and while amusing extract money from their pockets, had been arranged by the energetic and resourceful Entertainment Sub-Committee, under the general management of Mr. C. Wood, and all that was wanted was a fine day, followed by a fine evening. The sun shone brightly during the earlier hours, and then ominous clouds appeared in the sky. Early in the afternoon rain fell for a time, and the weatherwise shook their heads. But notwithstanding the gloomy prospect, a surprisingly large number of people, some of whom came from far away, had assembled when at 3 o'clock Mrs. Ellis, of Cottenham, wife of Dr. Robert Ellis, chairman of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Committee, with a few graceful words declared the fete open. No time was lost in speech-making; business was proceeded with at once. The jumble stall, with Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. Wood in charge, and the produce stall groaning under a large and varied stock of fruit, vegetables, etc., where Messrs. Pontefract and Canham were salesmen, and the new work stall displaying the articles made by the Ladies' Working Party, superintended by Mrs. Burton and Miss Thorp, speedily found eager patrons. Mrs. Sharp sold sweets at another stall, and the craving of the very thirsty was relieved by lemonade dispensed by Mrs. G. Burling and Miss Sutton. Miss Parsons looked after a bran-tub, and had plenty to do. The refreshment stall soon commenced operations, and as the prices were reasonable and the viands excellent, the business was brisk. As time went on the weather did not improve, for steady rain succeeded occasional showers. Still the people defied the elements like heroes. At 3.30 a minstrel troupe, under the command of Mr. A. Prime, M.M., gave their first show to a large audience in an open-air theatre, rigged up in an adjoining field, kindly lent by Mr. Allen Thoday. At 4.30 Mrs. Jarley's Waxworks were presented in the same place by a talented company, organised and trained by Mrs. Ussher. A still larger crowd witnessed this performance, in spite of increasing rain, and the fact that hardly one person left before the show ended ought to be proof of its seductive excellence. It was announced that the second "house" of both the minstrel concert and waxworks show would be in the National School at 7 o'clock, but owing to the drenched condition of the waxworks it was found impossible to carry out this arrangement, and many people who had collected outside the school had to go away disappointed.

STREET LIGHTING. 13th Aug. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: The question whether the public lamps in the village streets should or should not be lighted during the coming winter months should be decided without further delay. If they are to be used much will have to be done in the way of preparation – some of the missing posts, for instance, have yet to be replaced – and only a few weeks remain before the lighting should begin. During the war the village was condemned to darkness by D.O.R.A., but last year the newly-elected Parish Council agreed, unanimously, it is believed, that street lamps during the dark winter season were necessary, and a committee was appointed to have the lamps and appurtenances put in order. At the next Council meeting on the 11th August the Committee reported that the repairs were in hand. In the "Independent Press" of 12th September inquiry was made whether the lamps, etc., would be ready for use by the end of that month, when lighting should start. No reply was forthcoming to this question, but on 6th October, at the end of a long meeting, called, according to the agenda, to discuss “general business,” someone casually mentioned the street lamps, whereupon someone else remembered that a temporary Lighting Restriction Order had been issued in consequence of the railway strike, and the Council promptly decided, in view of the Order, that the question of lighting the lamps should remain in abeyance “for the present.” It should be noted that this Council meeting was held about a week after the lamps should have been alight, that no steps had been taken to obtain the authority of a parish meeting for the necessary lighting rate, and that no steps had been taken to appoint a lamp-lighter. And further, it should be noted that the Lighting Restriction Order was withdrawn on the day the meeting was held, the strike having ended. The lighting question has “remained in abeyance” ever since so far as the Council are concerned. Whether the streets should be lighted during next winter would appear to be a question that should more properly be settled by the ratepayers of the parish assembled in a parish meeting than by the Parish Council. While there is much to be urged in favour of lighting the streets, there are also strong reasons why the expense of lighting should not be incurred. The rates are already very heavy, and the lighting rate would make them still heavier. In pre-war days street lighting cost £25 or £30 a year; now the expense would be far greater, probably more than doubled. Is the game worth the candle? That is the point for the parish and the Council to decide, but the decision should be taken without delay, for if the lamps are to be lighted this year, they should be ready for use within the next six weeks and the lamp-lighter appointed. The summer statutory meeting of the Parish Council will no doubt be held soon – if the standing orders had been obeyed the Council should have met on 19th July – and it will be interesting to see whether any, and if so what, steps are taken by the Council in regard to street lighting. There are two other matters “in abeyance,” viz., the vacancy on the Council caused by the death of Mr. J. L. Stanton, and the appointment of the Council’s representatives on the board of feoffees of Galon’s Charity, the latter question having been in abeyance since 2nd May, 1919, when it was postponed to the next meeting and forgotten. In view of the ominous rumbles of discontent in the village caused by the recent raising of the allotment rents by the feoffees, it would appear to be most desirable that the only feoffees who are in any way appointed except by co-option by the feoffees themselves should not hold office irregularly or on sufferance, the period for which the present Council representatives having expired long ago. A parish meeting, it may be mentioned, can be called not only by the Chairman of the Parish Council, but by any two Councillors, or any six parochial electors. If a parish meeting is summoned, it is to be hoped that it will be adequately announced, not merely by scraps of paper stuck on the overcrowded notice-boards on the church and chapel doors, and that the ratepayers of the parish, women as well as men, will attend in strong force.

CRICKET. 20th Aug. 1920

C. Wood, Captain of the Swavesey C.C., has taken 97 wickets this season.

A RESOURCEFUL HORSEMAN. 20th Aug. 1920

In a field on the confines of the parish a horse tied to the wheels of a cart during the dinner hour was observed to be wearing a novel head-dress the other day. Its thoughtful owner had buttoned his waistcoat round its head to keep away the flies.

ROAD CENSUS. 20th Aug. 1920

A census of the road traffic in Swavesey is being taken this week, but the enumerator has been stationed near the old Red Lion, at the entrance to the village from the Cambridge-Huntingdon road, where he misses at least 50 per cent. – some road-users say 75 per cent. – of the traffic passing through the village. The wheel traffic from the roads under District Council control which join the main road between Boxworth End and Wilderspin's corner would appear to have been overlooked. Much of it is very heavy.

NEGLECTED STILES. 20th Aug. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: A substantial ratepayer of Swavesey, whom even the Parish Council would deem worthy of consideration, has asked me to call attention once more to the neglected and to a great extent unusable, stiles in the parish. He specially referred to the three stiles on the right of way between the Recreation Ground and Brickhill Drove, which affords a shorter and pleasanter way to Over than by the high road for persons residing in Middle Watch and Boxworth End, besides giving access to Cow Fen and adjacent fields. An inspection of the stiles fully bore out the ratepayer's statement. The stile at the end of the Recreation Ground has no step, is very shaky, and is approached by a narrow plank, which spans a morass of deep mud (now dry), and in wet weather of water, and, moreover, wobbles dangerously. And no wonder, for one end of the plank has rotted away to a narrow point, through which an antiquated nail has been driven. When this nail gives way over will go the plank, and the venturesome pedestrian on it will have a muddy bath. The stile at the end of Brickhill Drove is far advanced in decay, and is shaky. It possesses a step of sorts. The intervening stile is not a stile, but an awkward fence, upwards of 4 feet in height, with a bad "take off." The step has disappeared, but one stump, lopsided and tremulous, remains. Not one of these "stiles" is fit for a woman or an elderly or feeble person to get over, and therefore an important right of way is practically closed to the public. A resident remarked the other day that he hoped the Clerk of the Parish Council would take the stiles in hand when he had finished his self-imposed task of mending the road-way in River Drove. The attention of the Parish Council has been repeatedly called in these columns to the stiles – always at the request of ratepayers – but the Council have treated the representations with silent contempt. The subject has not been even mentioned at any meeting during the sixteen months the present Council has been in office. Economy is most desirable, but the neglect of small repairs, which results in the big and expensive jobs, is not economy, but the reverse. "A stitch in time saves nine" is an old proverb, and a very true one.

WAXWORKS AND MINSTRELS. 20th Aug. 1920

Included in the attractions at the garden fete in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, which was held in the Vicarage grounds on Bank Holiday were performances of Mrs. Jarley's waxworks and of a minstrel troupe in an open-air theatre. The afternoon shows were brought off in spite of rain, but the evening performances had to be abandoned, and as many people were greatly disappointed in consequence, the organisers decided to give performances in the National School on Thursday evening in last week. It must be admitted the Mrs. Jarley's "stupendous and unrivalled collection", which that energetic lady declared was "the delight of the nobility and gentry," gained immensely by the change of venue, and moreover more money found its way into the banking account of the Memorial Hall Fund. For one thing, the figures, their dresses, and appointments were bright and dry, whereas on Bank Holiday they were bedraggled and limp with moisture. The lighting of the stage last week was admirable. The large schoolroom was crowded when Mrs. Jarley, in traditional poke bonnet of ample dimensions, appeared before the curtain, accompanied by her faithful ally, the indefatigable and garrulous George. After the introductory speech by the world-famous show-woman, the curtain drew up and displayed eight shrouded figures (Description of display in newspaper). One of the audience declared at the end that it was the best show he had seen in Swavesey, an opinion shared by most, if not all, of those present; but next time Mrs. Jarley visits the village, may we suggest that a little instrumental music during the show might not be out of place. Miss Elsie Dodson was most admirable as Mrs. Jarley, and she could not have had a more capable assistant than Mr. Barwell as George. After the waxworks the minstrel troupe gave a musical sketch entitled "The Black Rivals." Want of space unfortunately prevents anything being said of the performances except that it was well done.

BAD SMELLS. 27th Aug. 1920

Complaint is again being made of the obnoxious odours arising from the main drain near the church bridge on the main road from the village to the parish church, the railway station and to the village of Over, and it is suggested that the Medical Officer of Health might with advantage devote some attention to the matter. The stench is no doubt caused to a great extent by sewage deposited in the drain from a sewer which has its outlet a few yards from the bridge, and as the water in the drain is for the greater part of the year practically stagnant it can well be understood how the nuisance arises. The sewer was laid a few years ago by the Rural District Council. It consists of large tile pipes, and starts at Turn Bridge at the southern end of High-street, where it connects with the old High-street sewer. The pipes follow the course of the large open drain or dyke which passes round Hobbledod's crossing, Cow Fen-road, near Swavesey Manor, and proceeding by Brooklands to Church Green. From Turn Bridge to Church Green the pipes are laid on the side of the bank, and it is reported that in places pipes have broken through the earth giving way, or being washed by flood from underneath them, and that in consequence sewage matter escapes into the open drain. The pipes are carried underground at Church Green, under the main road at the bridge and underground at the outlet. When the sewer was constructed it was understood that the present outlet was only temporary, and that the pipes would be carried on further in a year's time, when more money was available. That the outlet was intended to be temporary only is shown by the rough planking in the drain bank at the outfall. Persons not connected with the District Council have, however, been bold enough to suggest that want of money was not the reason why the sewer ends where it does, but the physical impracticability of obtaining an outfall if carried further. How many feet above sea level is the present outlet? A rumour is current that Dr. Grove has resigned the post of Medical Officer of Health, and if there is any truth in the rumour, it is to be hoped, in view of recent happenings in the district, that a new Medical Officer of Health will be appointed immediately, or that Dr. Grove will withdraw his resignation.

OBITUARY. 3rd Sept. 1920

Mr. Robert Rule died on Thursday, 26th ultimo, aged 76 years. He had been in failing health for some time. Born in Swavesey, he lived in that village until shortly after the death of his wife three or four years ago, when he went to Broughton, Hunts., to reside with his daughter. The funeral took place at Broughton.

CRICKET. 3rd Sept. 1920

The match with Boxworth, which was announced in these columns for last Saturday afternoon, was not played in consequence of the visiting eleven failing to put in an appearance, and not only were they absent, but they failed to let the Swavesey Club know that they could not fulfil their engagement. The home eleven were duly on the ground, and so were the spectators. No explanation or apology has since reached Swavesey from the defaulters.

ACCIDENT. 3rd Sept. 1920

Mr. James Wells, notwithstanding his 80 years and more, mounted a ladder on Friday to cut dead wood out of a tree. Whilst at work the ladder slipped, and Mr. Wells fell, but he hung on to branches of the tree. Unfortunately he had to let go before assistance could reach him, and he dropped to the ground. He is suffering from shock and bruises, and is confined to bed, but no bones were broken.

THE RISING GENERATION. 10th Sept. 1920

Three little children, four years of age or less, a boy seated on a doorstep, another boy and a tiny girl standing on the footpath in High-street, were discussing the other day the all-important question as to what game they should play. A decision was at length arrived at, the boy on the footpath closing the debate by announcing in a lordly tone to the occupant of the doorstep that "We two men will be the drivers."

A DANGER SPOT. 10th Sept. 1920

Complaints are being made of the dangerous condition of the side of High-street near the Post Office, caused by a drain having been opened and the earth not properly levelled afterwards. The danger is increased by a ridiculously deep drain grating, to which attention has several times been called in these columns. This piece of High-street is much used by pedestrians, especially those hurrying to the Post Office about 7 p.m.

SOLDIER ILL IN INDIA. 10th Sept. 1920

The relatives of Pte. Fred Ding, 1st Suffolks, have been officially informed by telegraph that he is lying seriously ill in hospital at Jubbulpore, Central India. Pte. Ding joined up on January 27th, 1916, and served with the 1-5th Suffolks in Egypt and Palestine from July, 1916, until May, 1919, when he signed on for three years' further service. He arrived home on three months' furlough on June 6th, 1919, and in September last sailed for India.

MEAN THIEVING. 10th Sept. 1920

Depredators are abroad in Swavesey- depredators of the meanest type. Fruit and vegetables have mysteriously disappeared from orchards, gardens and allotments, and the people who have suffered most have been the small grower, the cottager, and the allotment holder, though the orchards of the bigger men have, it is believed, not escaped the attention of the pillagers. Trees known one day to be fairly well laden with plums or apples have been found by their exasperated owners next day to have been stripped, except as regards their highest branches. A long stick was discovered under one plundered tree; it had evidently been used to knock down fruit out of reach. Two men with bulging pockets were seen leaving a small orchard the other evening. One man climbed over the gate, while the other crept through the hedge, and both ran off as fast as their legs would carry them when they saw they were observed, and were soon lost sight of in the deepening gloom.

LABOUR MOVEMENT. 17th Sept. 1920

A public demonstration, under the auspices of the National Union of Agricultural Workers, which had been announced to be held on the Recreation Ground on Saturday last, at 6.30 p.m., did not take place. The advertised speakers, Mr. George Hewitt, J.P., C.C. (member Central Wages Board and Cambs. Committee), Mr. H. R. Lovell, J.P. (Assistant Secretary, Head Office), and Mr. J. H. Vincent (Cambs. district organiser), duly attended, but the audience failed to put in an appearance.

CRICKET CLUB. 17th Sept. 1920

Referring to the letter from the secretary of the Boxworth Cricket Club in last week's "Independent Press," our local representative is informed that no communication "refusing the date" of the return match between Boxworth and Swavesey was received by the secretary of the latter club. The feeling exists in Swavesey that when the announcement appeared in this paper on 27th August that the match would be played on the following day, the Boxworth club might, as an act of courtesy, have communicated with the Swavesey Club, as it was evident that there had been some misunderstanding. If there was not sufficient time for this to be done by post, a message could have been sent by one of the carts which continually pass between Boxworth and Swavesey Railway Station.

DEDICATION OF WAR MEMORIALS. 17th Sept. 1920

The large cross which has been erected in the churchyard near the main gate as a memorial of the men of the parish who fell in the Great War, and a tablet inside the church, were unveiled and dedicated by the Rt. Rev. H. M. E. Price, late Bishop of Fuh-Kien, China, and now Archdeacon of Ely and Assistant Bishop of the diocese, on Thursday evening in last week, in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives of the fallen, ex-soldiers, parishioners and friends. A special service was held in the church at 6.30 p.m., before which the bells, fully muffled, were rung. Seats near the table were reserved for the relatives of the men to be commemorated. The ex-soldiers, except those in the choir or engaged as ringers, assembled outside the churchyard, and, under the command of R.S.M. Heasman, marched in half sections to the church and passed to the front seats in the nave. Mr. J. Mustill, who was at the organ, played "O rest in the Lord," and then the choir, followed by the Vicar and Bishop, entered from the vestry at the north-western end of the building, singing the hymn "O God, our help in ages past." Arriving in the chancel sentences from the Burial Officer were said by the Vicar, Psalm xxiii, was chanted, and the lesson (Revelations xxi., 1-5) was read, after which came prayers for the fallen, concluding with one in which the names of the 26 men were recited. The well-known Scandinavian hymn, "Through the night of doubt and sorrow," was sung, and as it ended the Bishop and Vicar, led by the churchwardens, Messrs. W. H. Key and W. T. Thorp, proceeded to the south aisle. Short prayers were here said by the Vicar, and then the Bishop unveiled the tablet, which he solemnly dedicated. The Dead March in "Saul" was played on the organ, the congregation still standing, and the service in the church ended with the chanting of the Nunc Dimittis. A move was now made to the churchyard. The choir led the way, the Bishop and Vicar, preceded by the churchwardens, followed, next came the relatives and ex-soldiers, and lastly the general congregation. The bells, now half muffled, again chimed. The clergy, choir and relatives stood beside the cross, and the ex-soldiers formed in single line behind them. The rest of the congregation grouped around. Sentences from the latter part of the Burial Office having been said by the Vicar, the Bishop gave a brief and simple address, his main points being (1) the pride the people of Swavesey should feel in having been allowed to have had their share in the great and just struggle; (2) sorrow for the loss of the fallen and sympathy with those who were near and dear to them; and (3) the general lesson to be learnt of trying to secure for the nation the ideals for which the country had entered into the war and the fallen had given their lives. At the conclusion of the address the Bishop unveiled and dedicated the cross. The choir and people sang Charles Wesley's hymn, "Let saints on earth in concert sing," and the Bishop dismissed the congregation with the Benediction. Once again the partly muted bells rang out. Many beautiful wreaths and other floral tributes from relatives and friends, including a wreath from the ringers, were placed around the base of the cross. The memorial in the churchyard is a plain Latin cross of best hard red Mansfield stone, 10 feet in height. It stands on a square block of the same stone, on which the names of the 26 men have been cut, with the inscription: "In loving and grateful memory of the following men of this parish who gave their lives for their King and country in the Great War, 1914-1919. I am the Resurrection and the Life.”” The tablet is of white Sicilian marble, on a polished red marble background, and measures 3 ft. 11in. by 2ft. 1 in.

NOTICE. 24th Sept. 1920

The St. Ives ‘Bus will run into Swavesey, Wednesday and Friday. Leave Fen Drayton-road 9.30 and 2.30.

BETTER NEWS. 24th Sept. 1920

In the “Independent Press” of September 10th it was announced that Pte. Fred Ding, 1st Suffolks, was lying seriously ill in hospital in Central India. His relations have this week been informed by telegraph that he is progressing satisfactorily.

WOMEN’S UNIONIST ASSOCIATION. 24th Sept. 1920

It is proposed to form a branch of the above Association in Swavesey, and a meeting for that purpose was held on Friday last. Mrs. Pashler (organising secretary for the county) and Miss Burton (National Unionist Association) attended, and the latter gave a spirited address, explaining the need for such an organisation, and its growing popularity among women. The meeting was well attended, and it having been decided that a branch should be formed, to include Swavesey and Fen Drayton, a chairman, hon. secretary and committee were formally elected.

MYSTERIOUS HOLE. 24th Sept. 1920

A mysterious hole, about 18 inches in depth and 8 inches in diameter, appeared at the side of the road in High-street on Monday afternoon – just the sort of hole to cause an awkward accident to the unwary pedestrian. It is presumed that a drain pipe below had fallen in. During the evening Messrs. Arthur Froment and P. Ding temporarily built in the cavity with brick rubbish, etc. A delay has occurred in remedying this little defect. The County Council have control over the surface of the road, while the Rural District Council are responsible for the drain, and the latter authority have to obtain the permission of the other authority before they can venture to open the road.

ACCIDENT. 24th Sept. 1920

Whilst engaged last Friday in moving part of a stack at Trinity College Farm, in the village of Swavesey, Mr. Robert Henry Norman met with a strange accident. The stack was mainly of lucerne, with some clover at the bottom at one end, and as the latter showed some signs of over-heating, it was decided to cut that end away and stack afresh. The new stack, a narrow strip, was nearly finished, and Mr. R. H. Norman was standing on the top waiting for a ladder by which to descend. Mr. J. Savage, who went for the ladder, called out that the stack was going, and as he shouted, Mr. Norman rolled off between the two stacks. His feet and his pitch-fork struck the old stack about half-way down, and here he remained pinned, the upper part of the new stack falling upon and around him and completely covering him. Mr. Robert Norman, the tenant of Trinity College Farm, and his son, with Mr. Savage, set to work without a moment's delay, but at least ten minutes elapsed before they were able to extricate the unfortunate man. Mr. Norman was unable to stand, and his legs appeared to be badly injured. He was lifted into a cart and taken home, Dr. Ellis being at the same time summoned. He attended at once, and on examination found that no bones had been broken, but that Mr. Norman was suffering from general shock, and was badly bruised, and his muscles, especially those in his right hip and leg, were severely strained. He has since been confined to his bed, but is progressing favourably.

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Sept. 1920

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, and was attended by Mr. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, R. Norman, and W. Twist. Mr. A. Norman, chairman of the Council, entered the room after the proceedings had commenced. The Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham) read the minutes of the previous meeting on June 21st, and they were confirmed. He reported that the new valuation of the parish had been sent to the Board of Guardians, and that nothing had been heard from them since, and he read a letter from Mr. Cyril Day, declining to serve as a parish councillor in place of the late Mr. J. L. Stanton. Having done this, the Clerk admitted in penitential tones that the meeting was long overdue – by Standing Orders the Council should have met on the third Monday in July – but he added that there had been no special business to transact. He had forgotten one or two matters to which the attention of the Council had been called by ratepayers in these columns; for instance, the lighting of the village streets during the winter months, and the scandalous condition of the public stiles in the parish. The councillors raised no question respecting the delay in calling a meeting, and so the Clerk went on to tell them why he had called them together that evening. He had received a letter from the Rural District Council, dated September 4th, asking the Parish Council to recommend a suitable man as by-ways roadman in place of Mr. W. Linford, who resigned a few months ago. The recommendation had to be sent in immediately, as the District Council were to make the appointment on Friday. One or two councillors grumbled about the long time that had elapsed since the receipt of the letter, and the short time left before the reply had to be sent in, but the Clerk, with his accustomed diplomatic tact, smoothed down the grumblers, and announced that he had ascertained that Mr. A. Day, a district councillor, received an application for the vacant post from one parishioner. The councillors could think of no one else, so they instructed the Clerk to recommend the parishioner in question to the District Council. Out of this appointment arose a discussion respecting the unsatisfactory condition of the by-ways, especially the Hale-road, due to the lack of material with which to repair them. A letter was next read suggesting the Council should make definite arrangements for the care and cleaning of the case containing the parish Roll of Honour in High-street, which, owing to its exposed position, required constant attention. The Council, when they accepted the case and had it erected in May, 1919, made no provision for its being kept clean and tidy. This duty had, the letter stated, been undertaken latterly voluntarily and unasked, by Miss Grace Froment and Mrs. Chaddock. It was further suggested by the writer of the letter that the Council should make some arrangement, with the view of exercising control over the placing of wreaths or decorations by private persons on or about the Roll, so as to ensure that no harm was done to the case or the surrounding brickwork. The Council unanimously resolved that a letter should be sent to the two ladies, expressing warm appreciation of their patriotic action, and hoping that they would continue to do the work, but the question raised in the latter part of the letter was relegated to the dim future, that is to say, in plain words, until the case or the brickwork is damaged. The Council then proceeded to elect a new councillor in place of the late Mr. Stanton. Mr. Beales proposed Mr. J. Ansell, who polled the highest number of votes of the unsuccessful candidates at the general election in the spring of 1919. He thought that was a strong reason why Mr. Ansell should be chosen. Mr. Burton seconded. Mr. A. Norman proposed Mr. Alfred Day jun., elder brother of Mr. Cyril Day who had declined the office. He was, Mr. Norman urged, an old member of the Council, but had not been nominated in 1919 for some reason unknown to him. Mr. Cole seconded. On being put to the vote each candidate secured three votes. The Chairman gave his casting vote in favour of Mr. Day, and the Clerk was instructed to ascertain whether he would serve. On the proposition of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Twist, it was agreed that the public notice board in High-street should be lowered and brought out level with the front of the wall running along the street. A desultory conversation ensued respecting the public street lamps. One councillor declared that it was too big a question to go into that evening, and another thought postponement desirable, as any discussion on the subject would involve strong language. The Chairman knew of one mishap due to the dark streets last winter, and that was one in which the Clerk's nose had been damaged. The Clerk would say nothing on this point, but fell back on increasing the rates, a subject which usually acts as a check on expenditure, which can by any means be avoided. The councillors then separated, congratulating themselves on having had a comparatively short and most amicable meeting.

CRICKET. 1st Oct. 1920

The Swavesey Cricket Club's season was brought to a close on Saturday with a match with Lolworth. The visitors won. Scores: Swavesey 45, Lolworth 52.

WOMEN ON JURY. 1st Oct. 1920

The names of six ladies appear in the jury lists now being exhibited on the notice boards at the parish church and Nonconformist places of worship.

STREET LIGHTING. 1st Oct. 1920

New lamp posts have been erected within the past few days in place of those which had fallen down through old age or decay, and people are anxiously inquiring when the lighting of the streets will commence.

GARDEN ITEMS. 1st Oct. 1920

Mr. A. E. Thixton has succeeded in growing gourds in his garden in High-street from seed brought by him from Palestine, where he served during the war. The seed came from El Yehudie, a village about 12 miles due east from Jaffa, close to Kefr-Ana, known in the days of Nehemiah as Ono, the valley of craftsmen. The largest gourd weighs 20lbs. In Mr. W. H. Key's garden at Top Leys Cottage an asparagus top has grown to the height of 9ft. 8in.

FOOTBALL. 1st Oct. 1920

At a meeting held in the National School on Thursday evening in last week, Mr. G. E. Canham presiding, it was decided to revive the Swavesey Football Club, and the following officers were elected: Captain, G. E. Canham; vice-captain, H. Ellwood; hon. sec., E. J. Mitham; assistant sec. C. Godfrey; committee, T. Daintree, T. C. Heasman, H. Holmes, T. W. Savage, and C. Wood. The annual subscription was fixed at 5s. Any clubs in the district desiring matches should communicate with the hon. secretary.

PARISH COUNCIL. 1st Oct. 1920

It is rumoured in the village that Mr. A. Day, jun., has followed his brother's example and has declined to fill the vacancy on the Parish Council caused by the death of Mr. Stanton. The selection of Mr. A. Day, jun., who by the way was not conspicuous for regularity of attendance when previously a member of the Council, or of Mr. Cyril Day, D.C.M., was hardly a happy one. That both belong to the younger generation is in their favour, but against them can be urged the fact that they are farmers, and that the number of farmers already on the Council is out of proportion. Assuming that Mr. A. Day, jun., has not agreed to serve, the Council at present consists of eight members, viz., five farmers, two fruit growers, and Mr. Beales, the railway stationmaster. Mr. Stanton was a retired London business man, who had been successful in his undertakings, and had gained great and varied experience, and he represented general interests. His successor should, therefore, in common fairness, also represent the people generally, and not a section well, if not too well, represented. Mr. J. Ansell, who has twice been proposed to fill the vacancy, and so nearly was successful last week, is a railway man. The strong point in his favour is that he polled the highest number of votes of the five unsuccessful candidates in the contested election in April, 1919, but against him may be urged the objection that he is a railway man, and that that section of the community is already represented on the Council, whereas agricultural labourers, small holders, shopkeepers, and other business men, and last, but by no means least, the ladies have no direct representative. As Mr. Stanton died on the 18th April last, it behoves the councillors to bestir themselves and lose no more time before filling the vacancy, but when they make their next attempt it is to be hoped that the councillors who propose candidates will have previously satisfied themselves that their nominees will accept office, if elected. It is also to be hoped that the new councillor, whoever he or she may be, will endeavour to induce the Council to introduce more business-like and up-to-date methods, and, even if in a minority of one, will not allow, without emphatic protest, such important matters affecting the rights, the convenience, or the safety of the public as the lighting of the street lamps, the neglect of the rights of way in the parish with their stiles, to be shelved, if not absolutely ignored.

BOYS' FOOTBALL. 15th Oct. 1920

The Swavesey Sunday School football team journeyed to Cambridge on Saturday to meet Sturton-street and Tabernacle F.C. After a long cycle ride the boys were not very fresh, and therefore failed to do themselves full justice. A good game resulted in the homesters scoring two goals to the visitors' one, F. Coulson securing the point for Swavesey. The match arranged for tomorrow has been scratched by the visiting team, Newmarket-road Mission, thus giving Swavesey two points. The committee of the Swavesey S.S. Club desire to express their warmest thanks for the generous support given the club by the people of the village.

OBITUARY. 15th Oct. 1920

On his return from market on Monday Mr. William Twist received the sad news that his younger son, Mr. Oliver Lennox Twist, had passed away during Sunday night at his residence in Walthamstow. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Twist in his bereavement. Mr. O. L. Twist was born in Swavesey 42 years ago in the house in which his father now lives, but the greater part of his life has been spent away from his native village. About two years ago he had a very serious illness, from which he never really recovered. During the afternoon of the 4th inst., he was again stricken with illness, which quickly developed into congestion and pneumonia, and, as stated, he succumbed on Sunday night. He leaves a widow and one child.

JURY SERVICE. 15th Oct. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- The question whether a person ceases to be liable to serve on a jury on attaining the age of 60 years, or whether he or she is still liable until 65, has been troubling the minds of certain people in Swavesey. According to some books of reference and also reports which have recently appeared in newspapers, 60 years would seem to be the limit, but the official responsible for the compilation of the Swavesey lists maintains the liability to serve continues until the age of 65 years, and he has no doubt authority for his contention, or he would not, being over 60 years old himself, have included his own name in the lists last month. The question might have been settled at the Petty Sessions on 25th ult., but unfortunately two or three persons who were anxious to be relieved from jury service, and who pleaded guilty to being over 60 but under 65 years of age, were assured by the local compiler that it would be useless for them to appeal, as they were not yet 65. They, therefore, did not put in an appearance at the Shire Hall.

AFTER SIX YEARS. 15th Oct. 1920

Sapper S. F. Mitham, R.E., youngest son of Mr. Robinson Mitham, has arrived at his home on a month's furlough, and on 3rd November will be transferred to the Army Reserve on completion of six year's service with the colours. He was the only Swavesey man who enlisted after the outbreak of hostilities under ordinary conditions, and not merely for the duration of the war. Joining up on 4th November, 1914, he served in France continuously until, after being slightly wounded, he was taken prisoner by the Germans on 25th March, 1918; at that time he was attached to the 51st (Highland) Division. Sapper Mitham was at first interned at Dulmen, but after staying there was drafted to a coal mine at Dortmund, about 18 miles from Munster No. 2 camp, to which he was supposed to belong. Here from the 18th April until his release on 25th November, 1918, he was employed on underground work 8½ hours on four days a week, and 12 hours on the other two. No work was done on Sundays. His fare was hard, and utterly insufficient; he was always hungry; and his bodily strength failed. When things went well and plenty of coal was got, not much fault was found with the civilian ganger, but when, owing to the weakness of the starving prisoners, or shortness of supply, not enough coal was obtained, then the ganger, who always carried a heavy cudgel, was wont to belabour the unhappy victims. Soldier sentries usually contented themselves with pushing and kicking on the slightest provocation. After some 18 weeks Red Cross parcels began to arrive with fair regularity, but often some of their contents had been stolen. Had it not been for these parcels many captives must have succumbed. When Sapper Mitham and 1,700 other British prisoners left Munster No. 2 Camp on 25th November, 1918, for home, they sang with gusto "Rule, Britannia," and the Germans heard a decent song sung by decent men.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd Oct. 1920

The Parish Council did not meet last Monday, when, according to the Council's Standing Orders, the autumn quarterly meeting should have been held.

CONTINUATION CLASSES. 22nd Oct. 1920

Evening classes were commenced at the National School on Monday, and will, it is hoped, be continued throughout the winter months. The following is the programme: Mondays, 7 to 9 p.m., needlework and woodwork; Tuesdays, 7 to 8 p.m., mensuration, 8 to 9 p.m., elementary science (boys), housewifery (girls); Thursdays, 7 to 9 p.m., modelling; Fridays, 7 to 8 p.m., mensuration, 8 to 9 p.m., elementary science (boys), housewifery (girls). Those who wish to attend these useful classes and have not already notified their desire to do so, should see the headmaster at the National School without delay.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 22nd Oct. 1920

On Thursday evening in last week Bethel Chapel was prettily decorated for the yearly harvest thanksgiving service. A very good congregation attended, and a striking and most helpful address was given by the Rev. C. E. Sparrow, the pastor in charge of the Comberton group of Baptist churches. The choir acquitted themselves right well in their rendering of the anthem "Praise the Lord, O my soul" (R. Smart). The collection, which was devoted to a local object, realised a substantial sum, and the gifts of fruit and vegetables, in accordance with custom, have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Before the service there was a public tea in the schoolroom attached to the chapel, the trays for which were provided by various generous friends. Upwards of 70 persons were present.

THE LATE MR. O. L. TWIST. 22nd Oct. 1920

The funeral of the late Mr. Oliver Lennox Twist, a native of Swavesey, and the younger son of Mr. William Twist, whose death after five days' illness at the age of 42 years was announced last week, took place on the 14th inst. at Queen's-road Cemetery, Walthamstow, in the presence of a considerable assemblage of relatives and sympathising friends. The Vicar of St. Saviour's, Walthamstow, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Tillston, senior curate, officiated. The chief mourners were: Mrs. O. L. Twist (widow), Mr. W. Twist, senior (father), Mr. W. Twist, jun. (brother), Mrs. Twist (stepmother), Mr. W. Rayment (brother-in-law), Messrs. Joseph, William, and Frank Rayment, Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Bignell, and Mrs. W. Twist, jun. (brothers and sisters-in-law), Miss Sutton (cousin) and Miss Porter and Miss Rayment (aunts). The late Mr. Twist in earlier life was a keen cyclist, the creator of club records, which it is believed have not yet been beaten, and the winner of innumerable prizes. He was also to his dying day a most enthusiastic campanologist. He belonged to no less than six bellringers' societies, viz., Essex, Hertfordshire, Middlesex, Kent, and London County Associations of Bellringers and the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and was a regular ringer at St. Saviour's Church, Walthamstow, taking the tenor bell, besides very frequently assisting the ringers at the mother church of St. Mary's. On the evening of Friday, 15th inst., muffled peals were rung at St. Mary's and St. Saviour's, as a tribute to his memory, and, but for a strange happening to the tenor bell at St. Saviour's, would have been rung on the night of the funeral. One mark of affectionate respect remains to be mentioned. After the mourners had left the cemetery on the 14th inst. the bellringers who had been present at the funeral rang hymn tunes on handbells over the grave.

BOYS' FOOTBALL. 29th Oct. 1920

Owing to a misunderstanding on the part of the referee, the Cambs. S. S. League match between Chesterton Baptists and Swavesey S.S. Boys was not played last Saturday. It has been arranged that when Chesterton visit Swavesey for the return game, the winning team will take the four points. The Swavesey boys will be at home to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon for another S.S. League fixture, their opponents being the Wesley Church, Cambridge, boys. They will play on Manor Close, near the Railway Station, by kind permission of Mr. A. Watts.

FOOTBALL. 29th Oct. 1920

Swavesey footballers journeyed to Knapwell last Saturday and played a friendly game with the local club. The result was 6-2 to Swavesey.

ACCIDENT. 29th Oct. 1920

When cycling with two companions to the County Girls' School for class work, last Saturday morning, Miss Agnes Linford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Linford, a teacher at Swavesey National School, met with an accident and narrowly escaped death, or at any rate very serious injury. The three cyclists were riding between Oakington and Girton, about 9 a.m., when they met one of Messrs. Chivers' motor lorries. Miss Linford's cycle skidded, it is thought, and she was thrown on to the bonnet of the motor, where she lay. The lorry pulled up at once, but not before the wheels had passed over and smashed the bicycle. Miss Linford, who lost consciousness for a short time, was placed in the lorry with her cycle, and taken to her home in Swavesey, where it was found that in addition to general shock, she had been badly bruised on the left side. Her ear and shoulder were contused, her arm and leg cut, and her clothing torn. She is under the care of Dr. Ellis, and is progressing favourably.

DAMAGED HOUSES. 29th Oct. 1920

Many owners and occupiers of houses in Swavesey have long been exercised in their minds respecting the damage done to buildings by ponderous traction engines and heavily-laden trucks on their passage through the village, many of them on their way to or from the railway station. Houses are violently shaken from foundation to ridge tiles, walls have cracked, and ceilings have fallen, and the knowledge that many, if not most, of the heavy loads are for, or from, other parishes has not tended to allay the general feeling of dissatisfaction and alarm. A suggestion has been made that the Parish Council, as the body directly representing the inhabitants, should send a strong protest on the subject to the road authorities. It is admitted that traction engines and laden trucks serve a useful purpose, and therefore must be tolerated as necessary evils, but it is urged that they should not be a danger to property and a public nuisance. The damage caused by them to buildings might, it is thought, be minimised if a limit were placed on their speed when passing through the village. In view of the universal shortage of houses, and the difficulty in getting new ones built, it seems a pity to shake down those already in existence.

MIDNIGHT BEER. 5th Nov. 1920

Charge Against Swavesey Publican Dismissed.

A charge of a somewhat serious nature was heard at the Cambs. Divisional Bench on Saturday, when, before Mr. J. O. Vinter and other magistrates, E. O. Of Swavesey, was summoned for allowing intoxicating liquor to be consumed on his premises during closing hours, to wit 12.50 a.m., at Swavesey, on October 20th.

Mr. G. A. Wootten appeared for the defence, and pleaded not guilty.

The case was heard together with that of H. H., also of Swavesey, who was charged with being found on O.'s licensed premises during closing hours, at the same time and on the same date.

Police-Sergt. Pallant stated that at 12.50 a.m. he saw a light in the tap-room and heard conversation. He and P.C. Breed looked through a chink in the window, and heard O. say to H., "I'll toss you for a couple of pints." Money chinked, and O. went to the cellar, returning with a pint of beer, which H. drank. Witness then went into the tap-room and questioned H., who said that "he had paid for his bed and was stopping there."

P.C. Breed stated that when he looked through the window he saw H. take the beer from O. and drink it. H., when interrogated, stated that he was staying at the house for the night.

The defence, said Mr. Wootten, rested upon that section of the Act which said that a licensee of an inn was not precluded from selling intoxicating liquor at any hour of the twenty-four, so long as the customer should be either lodging in the house or a bona fide traveller. H. and his wife were lodgers in the house at the time, and in a therefore perfectly legitimate position, whichever way it was looked at. It was an important inn, the landlord has borne a clean character for years, and it was therefore hardly reasonable to imagine that he would endanger his licence by allowing lights to be seen and doors open at midnight, with people drinking in view of the police.

O. in the box said that owing to the illness of his wife, Mrs. H. had been staying in the house for about twelve days as a help. On October 19th H. himself came to lodge with his wife and filled in the registration form produced. On the night in question H. drank no beer whatever – witness drank it himself.

Evidence of a similar nature was given by H., Mrs. O., and Mrs. H.

The whole case, said Supt. Allen, rested upon the point of whether H. had been a bona fide lodger or whether he had been an ordinary customer who, upon the entry of the police, had been “converted into a private Friend.”

The magistrates decided to dismiss both cases.

A GOAT TO THE RESCUE. 5th Nov. 1920

Unable to move a cultivator into a shed, a villager requisitioned the services of a goat. He harnessed the animal to the implement, which was then shifted without difficulty.

WHIST DRIVE. 5th Nov. 1920

It is proposed to hold a series of whist drives during the winter for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund. The first was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, when 23 tables were manned. The prizes were as follows: Ladies, Miss Parsons, Miss Gadsby, Miss H. G. Key; gentlemen, Mr. B. Prime, Mr. C. Lyon. Excellent light refreshments were provided, under the superintendence of the Misses Dodson. Mr. George Goad was M.C.

FOOTBALL. 5th Nov. 1920

Swavesey F.C. played Fen Drayton at home on Saturday afternoon, and scored two goals (Smart and Culpin). The home eleven had the best of the game, but missed many opportunities of scoring. On the same afternoon Swavesey Sunday School boys entertained the boys of Wesley Church, Cambridge, on Manor Close, in a Cambs. S.S. League fixture. After a very good game the visitors won by two goals to one, B. Daintree scoring for Swavesey early in the game. The Swavesey boys are to be congratulated on having put up such a plucky fight, seeing that their opponents were a much heavier lot.

PARISH COUNCIL. 5th Nov. 1920

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening. Mr. Arthur Norman, chairman, presided, and the other councillors present were: Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C.W. H. Cole, F. Norman, R. Norman, W. Twist, and J. S. Goad. The Clerk explained that the meeting was a quarterly one, and ought to have been held a fortnight previously. There was, however, he said, no special business to be brought before the Council. The Clerk read a letter from Mr. Alfred Day, jun., declining to serve as a councillor in the place of the late Mr. J. L. Stanton, whereupon Mr. Twist proposed that Mr. Sidney Prime, who would act, should be elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. R. Norman seconded. Mr. Beales proposed Mr. J. Ansell, on the ground that he (Mr. Ansell) had polled the highest number of votes of the unsuccessful candidates at the contested election in April, 1919, but no seconder was forthcoming. Mr. F. Norman proposed Mr. A. J. Willson, but it was intimated that he would not accept office. On a vote being taken, four councillors out of the seven then present supported Mr. Prime, who was duly declared elected. The Clerk announced that he knew of no other business, but Mr. Twist had a matter to bring forward. He said his period of service as a Parish council representative on Galon's Charity expired some time ago. The Clerk expressed the opinion that in consequence of the war Charity Trustees had remained in office after their period of service expired. The Council thought a re-appointment should be made, but further consideration of the matter was postponed, as it was not on the agenda. The Chairman asked whether the other trustee appointed by the Council was also "time-expired," and the Clerk promised to make inquiries. Mr. Burton said he had been asked by some ratepayers to call attention to the condition of the school pond, which had not been cleared out for about eight years. Discussion followed, and then Mr. F. Norman proposed, and Mr. Twist seconded, that the pond be cleared out. On the proposition of Mr. Goad, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, Messrs. Burton and Twist were appointed a committee to have the work done as quickly as possible. Mr. Goad reported that the gate of the parish pond was out of order, and Messrs. Burton and Twist were authorised to have it repaired. It was also mentioned that the public notice board in High-street had been lowered and brought nearer the street, and that its new position was regarded as satisfactory. A suggestion that the board should be painted black was adopted. The meeting was then declared closed. When Messrs. Burton and Twist, with commendable promptitude, went to inspect the school pond on Tuesday morning, they had proof that the complaint respecting an undue proportion of mud, was justified. A horse belonging to Mr. A. Prime, which had gone into the pond for water, was firmly stuck in deep mud, and considerable difficulty was experienced in extricating it.

WHEN “TWO SPARKS” MEET. 5th Nov. 1920

Alleged Threats at Swavesey.

At the Cambs. Divisional Petty Sessions on Saturday, before Ald. J. O. Vinter (in the chair) and other magistrates, J. K. was summoned for threatening bodily harm to H. W. on Oct. 24th.

Complainant, who is K.'s landlord, stated that on Sunday evening K. “raged up and down the road in his braces, turned his wife out of her house, and ‘hollered’ like a madman” under the witness's window, threatening to “do him in” at the same time. He kicked the railings and “put the wind up” all the neighbours and used “fearful language.” It all arose, said the complainant, from the fact that he had given K. notice to leave his cottage.

Mr. Wootten: But you're not afraid of him? – I am, sir; so would you be!

Mr. Wootten: But were you not a little excited yourself? – No, sir, I never get excited with tenants – or ladies!

It was stated that there were 13 previous convictions against defendant, 10 of which were for assaulting people, including the police.

Mr. Wootten submitted that it was “a case in which two sparks had met,” and the case was dismissed, the Chairman cautioning the defendant against any further outbreaks.

CHILDREN'S CONCERT. 12th Nov. 1920

The children of Bethel Sunday School gave a concert in the chapel schoolroom on Tuesday evening, in aid of the Baptist United Fund. The entertainment provided was excellent, the room was full, and the financial result most gratifying.

AFTER THE STRIKE. 12th Nov. 1920

The passenger trains on the G.E. Railway which had been suspended during the miners' strike, have since Monday been running as usual, and as a consequence correspondence for the night mail despatch can once more be posted at Swavesey Post Office until 7 p.m.

WEDDING. 12th Nov. 1920

The marriage of Mr. George Frederick Holmes and Miss Grace Beatrice Brooks, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, Swavesey, was solemnised very quietly at the Swavesey parish church on 4th inst., the Rev. J. S. Sharp, vicar, officiating. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. B. Rivers, and was attended by one bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Alice Brooks.

FOOTBALL. 12th Nov. 1920

Swavesey F.C. visited Fen Drayton on Saturday and played a return match with the local team. The visitors, who were at full strength, pulled off a runaway victory, scoring 12 goals to Fen Drayton's nil. To-morrow (Saturday) the Swavesey XI are at home to Knapwell, and the Swavesey Sunday School boys will play Histon Baptists in a Cambs. S.S. League fixture on Manor Close. The Histon lads were at the head of the league last year.

MUD. 12th Nov. 1920

The work of clearing the mud from school pond, which was ordered by the Parish Council on the 1st inst., is being carried out with commendable promptitude, but exception is being taken to the dumping of the mud on the northern side of the Recreation Ground, close to where school children and young people play games. It is suggested that a better dumping place could have been found at the eastern end of the Recreation Ground, which is scarcely used for games, and where the land is far from level.

PARISH COUNCIL. 12th Nov. 1920

We have received the following letter: "In your last issue I see that the Swavesey Parish Council have at last found a suitable man to fill the vacancy. May I take this opportunity of thanking Councillor Beales for his strenuous, but unsuccessful, attempt to obtain justice. As the head of the unsuccessful candidates, I should have had the chance of a seat when a vacancy occurred. No doubt if I had been a farmer I should have been put on straight away, but being a worker it makes all the difference. What I should like to know is, why should not the workers be allowed to have a voice in their own affairs. I might say that several of the electors have expressed to me their surprise and regret that some of the councillors should take up such an attitude against the working classes. – Yours, etc., J. Ansell.”

CONCERNING THE PARISH COUNCIL. 12th Nov. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- The Parish Council meeting on the 1st inst., a report of which appeared last week, was unusually brief; it was also disappointing. The Clerk more than once during the proceedings announced that he knew of no business for the Council to transact, and he gave expression to the wish that councillors would advise him before a meeting of any business they desired to bring forward. Parenthetically it may be remarked that the eighth of the Standing Orders of the Council requires that this should be done, but like most of the Standing Orders is more honoured in the breach than in the observance. The minutes of the previous meeting, however, provided one important matter that demanded attention, namely the election of a parishioner to fill a vacancy that had been in existence since last April. The selection of Mr. Sidney Prime, who was chosen, is open to objection that he is a farmer, and that farmers and fruit growers already dominated the Council, as they numbered seven out of the Council of nine. The late Mr. Stanton, whose lamented death caused the vacancy, was a retired business man of great and varied experience gained in London, and he represented – and represented well- the interests of the parishioners generally. Two matters of business were introduced by councillors. One concerning a pond, which it was alleged contained a superabundance of mud, was satisfactorily disposed of. The other, which had reference to the Council’s representatives on the Board of Feoffees of Galon’s Charity, was, after discussion, postponed to the next meeting. The point was raised by a councillor-trustee, who was of opinion that the period for which he had been elected had expired, and the Chairman was anxious to know whether the other trustee appointed by the Council was not also “time-expired.” Strangely enough, the Clerk of the Council, who is also Clerk of the Charity, could give no definite information, but he promised to make inquiries. It may be mentioned that the re-appointment of the two trustees was brought forward at the first meeting of the present Council in May, 1919, and was adjourned to a meeting to be held during the following month, but was not even mentioned at that or any subsequent meeting until the 1st inst. While the Councillors are on the subject of Charity Trustees they might inquire whether any of their other representatives have over-run their period of service; the school managers appointed by them, for instance. While it is possible to understand the Clerk’s difficulty in finding business for the Council, it is not so easy to acquit the councillors from the charge of failing to supply him with items for his agenda. Several matters of considerable importance to the parish have during the past few months been ventilated in the "Independent Press," all of which could usefully have been dealt with by the Council. These matters have been brought forward by, or at the instigation of, ratepayers. Only three days before the last meeting attention was called in these columns to the damage done to buildings by traction engines with heavily-laden trucks, and it was suggested that the Council should make a representation on the subject to the proper authorities. Previously reference had been made on more than one occasion to the lighting of the village during the winter, and to the neglected condition of the public stiles and rights of way in the parish. If the Council are of opinion that, as a measure of economy, the lamps should not be lighted, they should come to that decision in open meeting, and not let the matter lapse by default. If the lamps are not to be used it is suggested that the councillors should satisfy themselves that the lockless, earthen-floored, and rat-infested shed in which they are stored is a fit and proper place for fragile parish property to be kept in. To replace the lamps and fittings would involve the expenditure of a considerable amount of the ratepayers' money. In conclusion, let me add that the complaints in newspapers lose much of their force if they are not backed up by the people interested. Parishioners should attend parish meetings and bring forward their grievances; they should personally tackle their representatives on the Parish Council or whatever public authority is concerned. Their presence at Parish Council meetings would stimulate the councillors to a keener interest in their duties and responsibilities. If ratepaying parishioners are apathetic, it is not surprising that their representatives on Boards, Committees and Councils are also supine.

NEW HOUSES. 19th Nov. 1920

The work of excavation for the foundations of the first pair of houses to be built on Dove House Close, at the back of the National School, under the Government housing scheme, is now in progress.

VISIT OF LABOUR CANDIDATE. 19th Nov. 1920

Sir George Fordham, the prospective Labour candidate for the county, addressed a meeting on Tuesday evening in the White Horse Inn, under the auspices of the Cambs. Trades Union Council and Divisional Labour Party. He was accompanied by Mr. G. J. Huckle. Mr. H. Hovell presided.

FOOTBALL. 19th Nov. 1920

The return match between Swavesey and Knapwell was played last Saturday on Mr. Banks' field, and resulted in a decisive victory for the home eleven, who scored six goals. The visitors, who only played ten men, failed to score.

“OUR DAY.” 19th Nov. 1920

A whist drive, arranged by some of the members of the Cambs. V.A.D. and their friends, in aid of the Red Cross Society, took place in the National School on the evening of the 11th inst. There were 21 tables, and the prizewinners were: Ladies – Miss Goad, Mrs. Smart, Nurse Rowbotham. Gentlemen – Mr. Warboys, Mr. Burling, Mr. Martin. The refreshments were provided, with one exception, by members of the Detachment. Thanks are due to all those who gave their time and energy to make the evening a success, and also to those who lent tables, etc.

ARMISTICE DAY. 19th Nov. 1920

Early on Armistice Day a laurel wreath was placed beneath the parish Roll of Honour in High-street, while Union Jacks flanked the proud record on either side. Another circlet of laurel, made by the same skilful hands, rested against the base of the memorial cross in the churchyard, and floral tributes from bereaved relatives lay around. In High-street one flag was hoisted. Shortly before 11 a.m. the tenor bell of the Parish Church tolled 26 times, the number of Swavesey men who had made the supreme sacrifice during the fateful years, 1914-1919. At the National School the day was marked by a service, conducted by the Headmaster (Mr. C. Wood, M.S.M.). Called to attention shortly after 10 o'clock, the children sang the National Anthem, and the two hymns, “Now thank we all our God” and “For all the Saints who from their labours rest,” and the Headmaster read the 146th Psalm. Then Psalm 124 and the Jubilate were sung, and a few prayers said, after which Dr. J. W. Ellis, the only manager who was present, gave a short address, which was followed by the reading of the Roll of old boys of the school who were known to have served in the Navy, Army, or Air Force during the war, special mention being made of those who had surrendered their lives, 25 in number, and those who had won honours. The Roll contained 145 names, and the record of honours is one of which any village school can justly be proud. It included the M.B.E. (Military Division), two Military Cross, two D.C.M., five M.M., two M.S.M., and one mentioned in Despatches, while five old boys gained commissions. At 11 o'clock children and teachers stood silent and motionless for two minutes, the stillness being broken only by the rapid passing of a horse and cart on the highway outside. The silence ended, Arkwright's noble "O, valiant hearts," was sung, and the little service, unpretentious but memorable, was brought to a close by a short address by Mr. Wood on "Playing the game," and another hymn, "Praise my soul, the King of Heaven." When the youngsters were dismissed at noon, they were given sweets, kindly presented by Dr. Ellis.

BROTHER'S TRAGIC DISCOVERY. 26th Nov. 1920

Sister Dead for Two Days Before Found.

INQUEST ON SWAVESEY WOMAN.

The circumstance attendant upon the death of a Swavesey woman, who, according to medical evidence, had been dead for about two days before she was discovered, were investigated at an inquest conducted by the County Coroner (Col. A. J. Lyon, V.D.) at the Church School, Swavesey, on Monday evening. The dead woman was Miss S. J. B. (39), of Middle Watch, Swavesey.

Deceased's brother, a farm labourer, stated that he last saw his sister alive at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, when she left his house to go to her own home. On Sunday, having missed her for two days, he went to her house, where he found the door locked and the blinds down. Getting no reply, he burst the door open, and found his sister in bed upstairs, dead and cold. He at once sent for Dr. Ellis and a police constable. His sister had quite recently complained of her head.

Susan Spearman said that deceased, who worked in the gardens with her, came to draw her wages at about 4 o'clock on Friday. At that time she complained of her head, and said that it felt "numbed." On Sunday witness went to see her, but could not get in, so went and told Mr. B.

P.C. Breed, of Swavesey, stated that Miss B.'s death was reported to him at 7.45 on Sunday. He went to her house, where he saw her lying dead in bed. A cup stood on the floor by the bedside, which contained Epsom salts. There were no marks of violence on the body. He had known deceased for four years, and had never known her to make any complaint.

Dr. J. W. Ellis, of Swavesey, stated that when he saw the body, the deceased had apparently been dead for about two days. He made a post-mortem examination, and found that death was due to heart failure. He concluded that she had died in her sleep.

A verdict of "Death from natural causes" was returned, in accordance with the medical evidence.

A SILENT CLOCK. 26th Nov. 1920

A correspondent desires to call the attention of the trustees and managers to the inconvenience caused to the village generally by the non-striking of the clock on the National School. For over a year the clock has been silent. The clock on the tower of the parish church strikes the hours, but as the church is at the extreme end of the village, the bell can only be heard in the village when the wind happens to be in the right quarter. The school clock, on the other hand, is in the middle of the long village, and when striking is audible for a considerable distance.

MASSACRE OF CATS. 26th Nov. 1920

"A Victim" writes: During the last week or two, some twenty cats belonging to people living in High-street and adjacent houses have disappeared mysteriously or have died, presumably from poison. Within three days I have lost three of my own cats, and the fourth is ill and probably dying. My neighbours on all sides tell the same tale. If this massacre of cats is due to careless use of poison laid with the intention of destroying rats, I should like to point out that the person responsible is not only guilty of cruelty and the wanton destruction of other people's property, but is defeating his own ends by killing the cats, as many of them were good rat catchers.

AN EFFORT BY MEN. 26th Nov. 1920

With the view of helping the Baptist United Fund, the men of Bethel Chapel attempted great things on Thursday evening in last week, and what they attempted they achieved. With reckless daring they ventured on ground hitherto sacred to the ladies. They organised a tea in the chapel schoolroom which was followed by a concert, and not content with this, they provided a supper to finish up with. The ladies had a "night off"; the men did everything. They attended to the feeding and comfort of their guests – paying guests by the way, for tea, concert and supper were all charged for – and they took their share in the excellent concert programme. Their efficiency in all respects surprised their friends and critics and the general verdict was that the whole evening was a huge success, and reflected the greatest credit on all concerned, the ladies emphatically declaring that it was a very successful affair. As a result of this men's effort the sum of £15 has been handed to the treasurer for the B.U.F.

FUNERAL. 26th Nov. 1920

Miss Sarah Jane Bull, daughter of the late Mr. Edward Bull, market gardener, Swavesey, was on Sunday evening found dead in her bed at Rose Cottage, Middle Watch, where she lived alone. She was last seen alive on Friday evening, and her death is held to have been due to heart failure. A full report of the inquest, which was held on Monday, will be found in another column. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, vicar of Over, officiated, and the following chief mourners attended: Miss Mary Bull, Mr. E. Bull and Mr. J. K. Bull (brothers), Mrs. D. Garner, Mrs. W. Bedford and Mrs. S. Lambert (sisters), Mrs. E. Bull (sister-in-law), Mr. W. Bedford, Mr. S. Lambert and Mr. D. Garner (brothers-in-law), Miss Minnie Bull (niece), and Mr. R. Bedford, Mr. E. Lambert and Master John Bull (nephews).

OBITUARY. 26th Nov. 1920

After a long illness Mrs. Ellen Mary Galligan, wife of Mr. Bernard Galligan, and daughter of the late Mr. George Symonds of Over, and Mrs. Symonds, passed away on Friday last at her mother's house in Swavesey. She was 27 years of age, and leaves one little daughter, three years old. Much sympathy is felt for her husband, mother and sisters in their bereavement. On Tuesday afternoon she was laid to rest beside her father in Over churchyard. The Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, vicar of Over, officiated, and in the church and at the graveside were many sympathising friends. The chief mourners were: Mr. B. Galligan (husband), Mrs. G. Symonds (mother), Miss D. Symonds, Mrs. P. Smith, and Mrs. B. Hodson (sisters), Mr. J. Symonds, Mr. E. Symonds and Mr. F. Asplin (uncles) and Mrs. J. Symonds, Mrs. E. Symonds, Mrs. F. Asplin, and Mrs. C. Parnell (aunts). By special request there were no flowers. The coffin was of polished elm, with brass fittings, and the funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

RED CROSS FUND. 3rd Dec. 1920

The following sums have been sent to the Rev. C. F. Townley, the County Director, from Cambs. 12, V.A.D.: From members of the detachment £2 5s., proceeds of whist drive on "Our Day" at Swavesey £6, from Elsworth, through exertions of Miss Tibbits (a member) £2 19s. 6d; total £11 4s. 6d.

DEATH OF MR. STRAPPS. 3rd Dec. 1920

Many of our readers will learn with regret that Mr. Jonathan Strapps died early on Wednesday morning, at his residence in Middle Watch. He had carried on the business of baker, etc., in Swavesey for the last 21 years. He leaves a widow and a young son and daughter, for whom much sympathy is felt.

ACCIDENT. 3rd Dec. 1920

Muriel Beales, daughter of Mr. F. J. Beales, stationmaster at Swavesey, met with an accident on her way to school on Monday afternoon. She had climbed into a tumbrel cart when near the church for a "lift," and before she had properly settled down the horse moved on and she fell over the back of the cart into the road. On being taken home it was found that her right shoulder had been dislocated. This was soon reduced by Dr. Ellis and she is going on well.

SILENT CLOCK. 3rd Dec. 1920

With reference to the paragraph under the above heading in last week's "Independent Press," it appears that the Swavesey Rural District Council is the authority responsible for the clock at the National School, and not the trustees and managers of the school. The District Council, it is stated, inherited the responsibility from the old surveyors of the parish. The clock's inability to strike the hours is said to be due to a trifling defect, the adjustment of which would involve an insignificant expenditure of time, trouble and money. Yet the clock has been silent for over 12 months.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 3rd Dec. 1920

A well-known figure has been removed from Swavesey by the death on Saturday last, after two months' illness, of Mr. Alfred Cain. Born in Swavesey 80 year ago, he had spent the whole of his long life in the parish. He was also well known throughout the district and in bygone years at Cambridge, St. Ives and St. Neots markets. He is survived by seven sons and daughters, two of the former living in Canada. On Wednesday afternoon he was laid to rest in Swavesey Churchyard, beside his wife, who died on February 19th last. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. James Cain and Mr. Joseph Pauley Cain (sons), Miss Alice Cain and Mrs. R. Mitham, jun., (daughters), and Mr. William Cain, Histon (cousin). The coffin was of elm, with black furniture. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was responsible for the funeral arrangements.

HELPING THE B.U.F. 3rd Dec. 1920

If the men of Bethel Baptist Chapel did wonderful things when, "all on their own," they made their effort on behalf of the Baptist United Fund a fortnight ago, the ladies of the chapel have done still better. On Thursday afternoon in last week they held a sale of work in the schoolroom attached to the chapel. The sale was opened by the Pastor's wife (Mrs. H. J. N. Ussher). There was a new work stall and a jumble stall, and another for refreshments at which teas were provided. All were well patronised by a continual flow of eager customers. In the evening there was a concert in the chapel, which attracted a large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. T. W. Thurlow presided, and the programme included solos, duets, quartets and recitations. No charge being made for admission, a collection was taken during the interval. Refreshments were supplied.

A PERSISTENT FOWL'S JOURNEY. 10th Dec. 1920

While Mr. J. Prior was loading a van with furniture on Monday, one of his hens persisted in getting into the vehicle. Time after time she was routed out, and at last it was thought she had desisted from her efforts, as she was no more seen. On unloading the van in a neighbouring town the hen was found amongst the furniture, and not only the bird, but also an egg that she had laid during the journey.

WHIST DRIVE. 10th Dec. 1920

On Thursday evening in last week a whist drive, the second of this winter's series, in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund, was held at the National School. Twenty tables were occupied and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Miss Sutton, Miss D. Banks, Miss Rich; gentlemen, Mr. F. Causer, Mr. A. Pettitt, Mr. R. Gleaves. The Entertainments Committee desire to thank the donors of the prizes, etc., for their generous gifts.

FOOTBALL. 10th Dec. 1920

In spite of inclement weather, Cottenham Reserves arrived in Swavesey by motor on Saturday afternoon for a friendly game with the Swavesey team. The visitors were by far the better eleven, owing probably to more constant practice, and in the first half they registered four goals, while the homesters failed to score. After the change of ends Cottenham added a fifth goal, and a few minutes later the weather put an end to play. Swavesey Sunday School boys entertained Zion S.S. boys, who came from Cambridge by motor. Swavesey put the best team possible in the field, and a fast game resulted in their winning a very creditable victory, considering the strength of their opponents, by two goals to one. Harold Bridgeford and Jack Clarke scored for Swavesey.

FUNERAL. 10th Dec. 1920

The funeral of the late Mr. Jonathan Strapps, whose death on the 1st inst. was briefly recorded last week, took place on Sunday afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery, in the presence of a large assemblage of sympathising friends from Swavesey, Over, Fen Drayton, Lolworth and Fenstanton. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiated. The chief mourners were Mrs. Strapps (widow), Mr. Marshall G. Strapps (son), Miss Mona Strapps (daughter), and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strapps, Mr. John Strapps, and Mrs. Wyatt (brothers and sisters-in-law). On account of the inclement weather there were no hymns at the graveside, but special hymns were sung at the Sunday evening service at Bethel Chapel, and Mr. Ussher made sympathetic reference in his sermon. Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The late Mr. Strapps, who was 50 years of age and the seventh son of the late Mr. Marshall George Strapps, of Wisbech, had been in bad health for some considerable time, but had bravely remained at work until a few weeks ago. For the last 21 years he had been in business as a baker, etc., in Swavesey, and was well-known in the district.

THE DARK STREETS. 10th Dec. 1920

Our Swavesey correspondent writes:- Villagers continue to grumble about the darkness of the streets owing to the non-lighting of the public lamps, but beyond grumbling they do nothing. It is reported that parish councillors have informed certain rate-payers that the Council have decided that the lamps shall not be used this winter – the sixth winter in succession – in consequence of the heavy rates, but when they arrived at this decision is not clear, as at the Council meeting on November 1st the subject of street lighting was not mentioned, and no meeting of the Council has since been held, unless held in camera. On the other hand, in June, 1919, the councillors agreed, nemine contradicente, that street lamps were necessary for the convenience and safety of the public, and they then appointed a committee with full powers to have the lamps, fittings, etc., overhauled so as to be ready for use in the following winter. No steps were, however, taken to appoint a lamp-lighter, and at a meeting in October, 1919, in consequence of a temporary Lighting Restriction Order, issued in connection with the railway strike, and rescinded, by the way, on the day the meeting was held, the Council decided that the question of street lighting should remain in abeyance for a time. Last winter, it will be remembered, the darkness was responsible for several mishaps, in one of which the Clerk to the Parish Council came to grief, and within the past week or two three or four people have had unpleasant experiences. One prominent gentleman lost his way when going to his place of worship, and found himself in a hedge, last Friday a much-respected lady and a wandering pig fell foul of one another in Middle Watch, and this week a valued parishioner got entangled in the hedge previously mentioned, and a few minutes later discovered that he was walking into school pond. The councillors, in their laudable efforts to save the ratepayers' pockets, seem to have forgotten that the streets are much darker than they were before the war owing to the earlier closing of the shops and to the substitution, by order of D.O.R.A., of dark window blinds for the flimsy white calico ones previously in almost universal use. To post a letter on a moonless, foggy night at the Post Office in High-street, demands the navigating instinct and dauntless faith of a Columbus. The posting-box, unless hit upon by lucky chance, has to be groped for. If the councillors are honestly of the opinion that the Public Lighting Act, so far as Swavesey is concerned should be suspended indefinitely, they should pass a resolution to that effect in open meeting, or better still, they should call a parish meeting, give reasons for the faith that is in them, and leave the decision to the ratepayers. Not to adopt the latter course gives rise to the suspicion that the councillors feel they cannot rely on the support of the general body of ratepayers. Before the Lighting Act could be adopted a two-thirds majority of the ratepayers was necessary, surely a similar majority is needed before the Act can be suspended. It should not be overlooked that the owners and occupiers of houses and property other than land have to contribute in respect of the lighting rate considerably more – three times, I believe – than owners and occupiers of land. A parish meeting can be called, be it remembered, by any six parochial electors.

ADVERT. 17th Dec. 1920

H. S. ALDRED, Swavesey, solicits your kind orders for Bon Bons, Chocolates, Cry's Ginger, Tunis Dates, Loose Dates, Figs, Finest Denia Oranges, Glace Cherries, Nuts, Preserved Fruits (C. and B.), Non-Alcoholic Wines, Christmas Stockings.

WHERE WAS THE SNOW-PLOUGH? 17th Dec. 1920

Villagers were surprised that no attempt was made on Sunday afternoon and Monday morning to clear away the snow on the County Council's roads in the Swavesey district by means of the snow-plough, which is believed to have been provided for use in such emergencies. It is understood that in adjoining districts ploughs were used, and it is not clear why the Swavesey district was neglected.

CATS. 17th Dec. 1920

A correspondent writes: Friends in Worcestershire have informed me that there has recently been a mysterious epidemic amongst cats and dogs in their district, and that many of the animals attacked have died. I wonder whether a similar epidemic was the cause of the death or disappearance of the cats in Swavesey, to which attention was called in the "Independent Press" two or three weeks ago.

MISHAPS IN THE DARK. 17th Dec. 1920

Two more mishaps due to the dark streets in the village have to be recorded. A schoolgirl ran into the parapet of Turn Bridge, and was rewarded with a black eye, and the Clerk of the Parish Council, who came to grief last winter in the Stygian gloom, and whose face was injured last week-end had the misfortune to again come into collision with another pedestrian in the dark. Unfortunately, on this occasion the person with whom he came into contact was a lady, whose hat played havoc with the parochial official's face.

ADVERT. 24th Dec. 1920

H. S. ALDRED, London House, Swavesey, in thankfully acknowledging the kind and liberal support accorded for many years, this being the 25th Christmas, wishes to state that his establishment will be closed from Christmas Eve till Wednesday, 29th.

MUSIC IN THE STREETS. 24th Dec. 1920

The Willingham Salvation Army band perambulated the streets of Swavesey on Monday evening, and played Advent and Christmas carols and hymns.

PROPERTY SALE. 24th Dec. 1920

Messrs. Dilley, Son and Read, auctioneers, sold by auction at the White Horse Inn, on Monday, a freehold dwellinghouse, shop, farm buildings, etc., in Middle Watch to Mr. William Dennis, for £560.

FOOTBALL. 24th Dec. 1920

Swavesey F.C. had no engagement last Saturday, but the Sunday School boys' eleven were booked to play Mill-road Baptists, Cambridge, in a Cambs. S.S. League fixture. The home team turned up in full force on Manor Field, but their opponents failed to put in an appearance, and moreover sent no explanation of their absence.

THE SNOW PLOUGH. 24th Dec. 1920

In reply to the question asked last week re the snow plough, Mr. E. Oakman, of the New Inn, Boxworth End, the contractor, writes that all arrangements had been made by the Council and the contractor for working the plough in the Swavesey district. On getting the plough out from its long resting place, however, one of the horses slipped down and had to be shot. And then it was found that the two horses left were unable to carry out the work.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT. 24th Dec. 1920

The Entertainments' Sub-Committee of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund Committee announce a Christmas entertainment at the National School on Monday and Tuesday evenings, 27th and 28th December, the proceeds to be devoted to the Hall Fund. The programme will include two sketches ("A Nice, Quiet Morning" and "My Turn Next"), songs, dialogues, etc., and last, but not least, Professor Snooker's orchestra will be in attendance. Tickets, 1s. 3d., 1s., and 9d., (including tax), can be obtained from any member of the sub-committee. The doors will open at 7 p.m., and the show will begin at 7.30 p.m.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 24th Dec. 1920

The annual share-out of the White Horse Mutual Benefit Society was held at the White Horse Inn on Saturday evening, when each of the 65 members received £1 5s. 3d., a very satisfactory return seeing that £8 4s. 1d. had been paid out in sick benefit during the year, while the weekly contributions amounted to £1 5s. 6d. per member. After the business meeting the rest of the evening was spent in social enjoyment, songs being sung by Messrs. A. Daintree, J. Kester, jun., J. Peppercorn, Stanley Badcock, and G. Dyer. The chair was taken by Mr. Albert Payne, who was supported by Mr. J. Froment, hon. sec. Before separating the Chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the hon. secretary and the other officers for their services during the past year.

A STRANGE ENDORSEMENT. 31st Dec. 1920

On the back of a £1 Treasury note paid to a Swavesey innkeeper last week the following words were written:- "God be with you till we meet again."

WEDDING. 31st Dec. 1920

Miss Ethel May Daintree, daughter of Mr. Albert Daintree, Swavesey and Mr. Stanley Badcock, son of Mr. Fred Badcock, Cottenham, were married at Swavesey parish church on Christmas morning. The Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in rose pink silk, and was attended by three bridesmaids, Miss Sally Daintree (her sister), and the Misses Doris and Gertie Badcock (sisters of the bridegroom), who were in brown and pink. Mr. Stanley Gawthrop was best man. After the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained by the bride's parents. The happy couple, who are spending their honeymoon in London, received numerous useful wedding presents.

CHRISTMAS NOTES. 31st Dec. 1920

Although the snow had melted away, much to the satisfaction, it must be owned, of most people, and with it had disappeared the traditional outward sign of a good old Christmas; and although the weather was almost spring-like in its mildness, still the festive season was duly celebrated in Swavesey. Sons and daughters of Swavesey who are seeking their fortune far afield revisited their homes, and many were the greetings of old friends long parted. At the parish church, which was tastefully decorated with evergreen, etc., there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30, and 11.15 a.m. (choral), Matins was at 10.30 a.m., and choral Evensong, with the anthem ("Emmanuel," by C. Simper) and sermon at 3 p.m. The collections throughout the day were, as usual, in aid of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society. The work at the local Post-office was very heavy last week, the parcels received for delivery in the district being exceptionally numerous, even for the Christmas season. Mr. A. Day, Mill Farm, very kindly presented all his work-people with substantial joints of meat, welcome gifts that were greatly appreciated.

SCHOOL BREAKING UP. 31st Dec. 1920

A pretty little Nativity play was presented by some of the children attending the National School on Wednesday week prior to breaking up for the Christmas holiday. The youngsters did their part most admirably, and to the evident satisfaction of their comrades and of the few parents and friends who attended. It is a pity more adults were not there. The characters were taken as follows:- Marjorie (the Goose Girl), Lily Laws; Gillian (a shepherdess), Winnie Parish; the Beggar Child, Maggie Parr; Constance (farmer's wife), Sarah Daintree; Alisoun (an old servant), Elsie Pettitt; Mary, Connie Sweetland; Shepherds, A. Kester, S. Culpin, and H. Dodson; Wise Men, Ll. Nicholson, J. Clarke, and H. Bishop. In the play various tuneful songs and Christmas hymns were introduced, and these were sung with taste and heartiness, not only by the performers, but by the scholars generally. The extemporised scenery, which included a manger, and the dresses were quite effective. After the play, elephants and other marvellous animals, dolls and dolls' garments, calendars, cards, and various other things made by the youngsters, which had been on view, were distributed, and then the Headmaster, Mr. C. Wood, wished the children a happy Christmas, which evoked the prompt response, "We wish you the same," and the warning not to indulge too freely in the toothsome luxuries of the season – a warning received with derision, for what child will admit that it is possible to eat too much at Christmastide? The scholars were then dismissed and the school will reopen on Monday, 3rd January.

ENTERTAINMENT. 31st Dec. 1920

Soon after 6 p.m. on Monday people began to congregate outside the National School for the Christmas entertainment, which the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Entertainments' Sub-Committee had announced for that evening. The bills posted in the village had stated that the doors would not be opened until 7 o'clock, but long before that time the waiting crowd had assumed large dimensions, and the officials, taking pity, threw open the doors, and admitted their eager patrons. The large room was soon filled, every seat being occupied, and when the curtain went up for the first time not a foot of standing room was left. An excellent bill of fare was provided, every item of which was to the evident satisfaction of the audience. Professor Snooker's orchestra included many and various instruments. There was a cornet, a trombone, a violin (the identity of the fiddler was the subject of many guesses – was he a "she" or a "he"?), a drum (small in size, but aggressive in tone), banjos, guitars, flutes and other instruments of music – or torture – suggestion of Nebuchadnezzar's famous band. The lady artistes were arrayed in charming raiment, the violinist looked the real musical professional, and the artist who manipulated the cornet was of the true street musician type. Professor Snooker, disguised in a robe of Oriental magnificence, conducted his unruly forces with energy – so great indeed was his energy, and so wobbly was his stand, that once when dealing with a grand outburst of melody, he lost his balance and fell headlong amongst the banjos and guitars. (Long report in newspaper).

PROTECTION WANTED. 7th Jan. 1921

Twelve months or so ago the Parish Council, at the instance of the late Mr. Stanton, called the attention of the District Council to the danger to the public from the unprotected condition of the large drain at Turn Bridge, and the latter Council had a fence erected on one side of the bridge, but did nothing on the other, and equally dangerous, side near Turn Bridge Cottages. One very dark evening this week a valued member of the community, when on his way to the Post Office, had the narrowest of narrow escapes from falling into the unprotected part of the drain, and had he fallen in the consequences would probably have been serious, for not only is the drain deep, but it has a brick bottom. This danger spot should during the winter months be illuminated by a stout lamp, but the parish councillors will not light the lamps. It is suggested that the parish councillors at their next meeting, which in accordance with the Standing Orders ought to be held on the third Monday in this month, should make a further representation on the subject to the District Council.

NEW HOUSES. 7th Jan. 1921

The work of building the new cottages in Swavesey under the Government housing scheme, which has been entrusted to Messrs. B. and W. R. Wayman, of Over, is progressing steadily. Eight houses are to be erected in Dove House Close, with a frontage to Carter's-lane. They are to be in pairs, and the first pair is in hand. The two outer pairs will stand 40 feet back from the road, while the two inner pairs are to be set back in line with the backs of the outer houses, viz., about 60 feet from the road. A roadway 11 feet in width is to separate each pair of houses. Each pair has a frontage of 60 feet, and is 18 feet 10 inches in width. The ground floor of every house will contain a living room, 17 feet by 11 feet, a parlour 10 feet by 10 feet, and a scullery (with copper) 11 feet by 7 feet, with pantry, coalplace, and w.c. (with water). There is also a small hall into which the front door and the living room doors open, and from which the staircase rises. The back door opens into the scullery. Upstairs there are three bedrooms, one 17 feet by 11 feet (approx.), and two smaller in size, and also a bathroom with water laid on. The houses should be attractive in appearance. The walls are hollow up to the ground floor window sills and are faced with red brick. Above this line the walls are to be rough cast. The chimney stacks are to be of red brick, and the houses will be covered with red Broseley tiles. The windows are of good size, and a fair amount of garden land has been allotted to each cottage.

A SUGGESTION. 14th Jan. 1921

A correspondent writes: - "Week by week your Swavesey correspondent tells us of the awful dangers entailed by living in Swavesey, owing to the refusal of the Parish Council to waste money on street lamps. May I offer a suggestion by which the money of the ratepayers should still be saved and valuable lives spared? Like all great ideas, it is simple. Let all those who have a habit of running into walls or tumbling over bridges carry lanterns at night. For fear lest a grateful village should recommend me for the O.B.E., I will not sign my name, but remain, sir, An Inhabitant of a Neighbouring Village."

SMALLHOLDERS' SOCIETY. 14th Jan. 1921

The first general meeting of the recently-formed Swavesey Smallholders' Society, Limited, was held at the White Horse Inn on the 5th inst., Mr. J. Kester, jun., presiding. The first business was to elect officers, and committee for the ensuing year, and the following appointments were made: President, Sir H. G. Fordham (subject to his acceptance); chairman, Mr. J. Kester, jun., hon. secretary, Mr. A. P. Payne; committee, Messrs. C. Eason, W. Large, J. J. Marriott, A. Prior, C. Savage, T. W. Savage, with power to co-opt two additional members. Subsequently Mr. Dennett, of the Agricultural Organisation Society, gave an interesting and instructive address on the future activities of the local society and its possibilities and usefulness.

MISSIONARY TEA. 14th Jan. 1921

This annual event was held at the National School on the Feast of the Epiphany, Jan. 6th, at 6 p.m. There was a very large attendance. The trays were provided by the following members of the congregation: Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Barwell, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. Twist, Mrs. C. Dean, Mrs. Gleaves, and the churchwardens, (being presided over by Mrs. Cook). After a really excellent teas had been disposed of, the Rev. S. Brent Harris, B.D., S.P.G. missionary from Chota Nagpur, India, gave a most interesting and earnest lantern lecture on the work of the Church in Chota Nagpur, which was listened to by the large audience with rapt attention. At the conclusion of the lecture the hymn, "When I survey the wondrous Cross," was sung, and a collection was taken for the S.P.G. After heartily thanking the Rev. Brent Harris, the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, who operated the lantern, and those who provided the trays, the Vicar gave the Blessing. Both tea and lecture were successful in every way; all those present seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The financial result of the evening was satisfactory, rather more than £5 being raised for the S.P.G. A novel feature was a stall of missionary books and cards, presided over by Mrs. Brent Harris, who found many eager customers.

MORE COMPLAINTS. 14th Jan. 1921

The following letter has been received from an indignant parochial elector of Swavesey: - "I should like to call attention to the bad condition of the Ramper-road. We cannot understand why the Rural District Council cannot have some granite placed on the road. There was a little excuse while the war continued, but now the war is over there is still no improvement. What excuse do the councillors make now? I would further like to call attention to the shocking condition of Soldiers' Drove from Golden Cottages to Trinity College Farm. Why don't the authorities send some person to let the water off and fill in the ruts? It is twelve months since any roadman put in an appearance. The Drove is quite unsafe for vehicular traffic, and pedestrians have great difficulty in getting along. Both Ramper-road and Soldiers' Drove are a disgrace to the parish. Children cannot go to and from school without getting wet-footed. If grown-up people are not worthy of consideration, surely the little ones are. If they are kept at home from school they lose the benefits of education, and their parents get into trouble. If they go their health is endangered. Cannot our Parish Council distinguish themselves by taking up the matter?" - With regard to the foregoing communication, it may be pointed out that the remedy for the evils complained of, and for others to which attention has recently been called in these columns, is in the hands of the people of Swavesey themselves.

When electing district and parish councillors they should be careful to select persons who will look after the interests of the parish, and if the elected representatives of the people should fail to do their duty steps should be taken to have a parish meeting summoned. At that meeting the representatives should be afforded an opportunity of defending themselves, and if the parochial electors should consider the explanation given to be unsatisfactory, or if none is offered, measures should be concerted by the meeting to bring the defaulting authority to a proper sense of its duty. It is believed we do not err in suggesting that the people of Swavesey are rather lax in their attendance at parish meetings, and that the last annual parish meeting could not be held because only one parochial elector, in addition to the Chairman and Clerk, found it convenient to be present.

NO MEETING. 28th Jan. 1921

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council, which, according to the standing orders, should have been held last Monday, has not yet been summoned. This is not surprising, as a prominent member of the Council declared not long ago that, being a body of intelligent men, the councillors were not bound by any cast-iron rules.

FOOTBALL. 28th Jan. 1921

The Swavesey football team visited Needingworth on Saturday, but had no luck. Result: Needingworth 3, Swavesey 0.

THE GALE. 28th Jan. 1921

Swavesey did not escape Tuesday's gale, but no very serious harm was done. Slates and tiles were swept off houses, a chimney pot or two disturbed, and stacks suffered. A shed in an orchard is reported to have been blown down, damaging some young trees, and at Boxworth End a small building attached to a cottage collapsed while the cottager was inside.

STRANGE ADVENTURE OF A CAT. 28th Jan. 1921

The thatched roof of a cottage in the village was repaired last week, and at the same time the cottager's cat mysteriously disappeared. Its plaintive mews were, however, faintly heard from time to time, but nothing could be seen of the animal itself. As the mewing appeared to proceed from the roof, some of the thatch was at length removed, and poor pussy released after three days' imprisonment.

A REJOINDER. 28th Jan. 1921

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: "An Inhabitant of a Neighbouring Village" in last week's paper was kind enough to suggest that Swavesey people should carry lanterns when venturing into the village streets on dark nights, and, while claiming that his proposal is simple, and would be effective, he hints that the O.B.E. would be a fitting reward for the suggestion. I am inclined to agree with him on the latter point. But has he reflected that his proposal is reactionary? Why put the clock back thirty years? Many years ago the parish – not the Parish Council – adopted the Lighting Act, and the parish has not been asked to consent to its suspension, temporary or otherwise. Nor, as far as my knowledge goes, have the Parish Council decided at a properly constituted meeting not to "waste money on street lamps." If the Council have come to any such decision, it has been in camera; and why should such an important matter be settled in secret? In my opinion, an opinion shared by other people in the parish, the question whether the lamps should be lighted or not lighted ought to have been submitted to a parish meeting, but the councillors have not adopted that course, and as far as the man in the street is aware, have not even dealt with the matter at a meeting of the Council. They have, however, recently had some new lamp-posts put up, presumably at the public expense, but as they will no doubt be useful for cattle to rub against, your correspondent would not call the expenditure waste of money. The natural inference is that for some mysterious reason the Council dare not bring the lighting question openly before the parishioners either at a parish meeting or at a Council meeting. And why? If the saving of expense to the already heavily burdened ratepayers were the only reason for no lights, the Council would have a very strong case, for no ratepayer is desirous of adding to his burden. Is there some other reason which the Council are anxious not to divulge to the public? Personally, I have not during the last year advocated, neither in these columns nor privately, the lighting of the lamps as a whole. My contention has been that the matter should be submitted to and decided by the parishioners. I have, however, called attention to the urgent need for light at the Post Office and for protection of dangerous places. If the parishioners think the lamps are necessary they should have a parish meeting called and the question fought out there. With regard to the lantern suggestion, let me assure your correspondent that many people do now carry lamps on dark nights, but others fail to see why they should be put to the expense of obtaining lamps or be troubled with carrying them, when street lamps are already in existence.

ANGLING INCIDENT. 28th Jan. 1921

While pike fishing last week in the Ouse, near the Sheepwash, between Holywell and Overcote Ferries, Mr. H. G. Key, who was using spoon bait, hooked a large bream in the back. The fish, which weighed 3lbs. 9ozs., was safely landed, after a long struggle.

LECTURE. 28th Jan. 1921

Under the auspices of the Cambs. Band of Hope Union, a lantern lecture was given in Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 20th inst. by Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, of Cambridge. The lecture, which dealt mainly with the evils of drink, was most interesting and instructive, and the lime-light pictures of life and scenery, many of the latter being Irish, were excellent. The chapel was full, and the collection, on behalf of the Union, realised the satisfactory sum of £1 2s. 8d.

WHIST DRIVE. 28th Jan. 1921

The third of the series of whist drives organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee, in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week. Twenty-nine tables were occupied, and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Mrs. J. Culpin, Mrs. Cecil Dean, Miss. M. Ellis. Gentlemen, Mr. G. Burling, Mr. D. Williams, Mr. Cyril Godfrey.

WHAT AN OVERSEAS' MAN THINKS. 28th Jan. 1921

A native of Swavesey, whose parents still live in the village, who migrated some years ago to a British Dominion thousands of miles away, but still takes a keen interest in his old country parish, and is, moreover, an appreciative reader of the "Independent Press," writes: "I am much interested in the spicy remarks in the 'Independent Press' re street lighting in Swavesey, and quite agree that the street lamps alight add the finishing touch to an ideal village. Perhaps the apparent dislike of the Parish Council to lights is due to the presence of unmarried men." Our far distant correspondent may be interested to learn that only three of the nine parish councillors are bachelors and the councillors will, doubtless, take note that their proceedings are being watched by Swavesey men on the other side of the globe.

MARRIED IN CANADA. 28th Jan. 1921

The following paragraph from the "Acton Free Press", a Canadian journal, of the 6th inst., will be of interest to some of our readers: "At the Methodist Parsonage, Acton, on Wednesday, December 29th, the marriage was solemnised of Miss Alvinna Allen, youngest daughter of the late John and Mrs. Allen, Lake-avenue, Acton, to Sergt. Jack Wilderspin, M.M., of Cambridge, England. Sergt. Wilderspin is a native of Swavesey, being a son of the late Mr. John Wilderspin. He went to Canada some years ago, and in August, 1914, promptly responded to his country's call and joined the 4th Canadian Infantry, with which regiment he served with distinction in France from early in 1915 to the end of the war. He was twice wounded, and in September, 1918, was promoted on the field, and awarded the Military Medal for conspicuous gallantry. His friends at home will wish him a long and happy married life.

A start has been made on the second pair of cottages that are to be erected in Dove House Close under the Government building scheme, and the foundations of the two remaining pairs of cottages are in hand. The work is, however, not progressing as fast as could be wished, owing to the difficulty in obtaining bricklayers.

FOOTBALL. 4th Feb. 1921

Swavesey F.C. were at home to Dry Drayton last Saturday. Although the visitors were the superior team, and had the best of the game, the result was a draw of one goal each. T. Daintree scored for Swavesey. The boys' Sunday School F.C. played Chesterton Baptists in a Cambs. S.S. Football League fixture on Manor Close, and gained a notable victory after a very good game. Score: Swavesey 2 goals (L. Breed and H. Bridgeford), Chesterton 0.

WEDDING. 4th Feb. 1921

A wedding of considerable local interest took place in Swavesey parish church on Wednesday, when Miss Ethel Mary King, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel King, High-street, Swavesey, was married, in the presence of a considerable gathering of relatives and friends, to Mr. Alfred Robinson, youngest son of the late Mr. C. Downs Robinson and Mrs. Downs Robinson, of Over. The Rev. J. S. Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in white silk. Her hat, in which was a spray of orange blossom, matched her dress, and she wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. In attendance upon her was one bridesmaid, Miss Alice Robinson, dressed in blue silk repp, with a fawn hat underlined with blue, and wearing a gold brooch, also the bridegroom's gift. Mr. Noble Robinson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a gold tiepin from the bride to the bridegroom.

CRICKET CLUB DINNER. 4th Feb. 1921

There was revelry on Tuesday night in the National School, the festive occasion being the Swavesey Cricket Club dinner. Between eighty and ninety members and friends attended, and two long tables, nicely decorated, which ran from one end of the large room to the other, were fully occupied. Dr. J. W. Ellis presided, and was supported by the Rev. J. S. Sharp (Vicar), Mr. H. O. Daintree (Lolworth), Dr. Cox and Dr. R. Ellis (Cottenham), Mr. Thomas Johnson and Mr. T. S. Johnson (Fen Drayton), Mr. R. Barwell, and others. The bill of fare was varied, and, when viewed from the standard of village banquets, ambitious. It was the product of the genius of the caterers, Mr. C. Wood, captain of the club, and Mr. J. C. Heasman, committeeman and wicketkeeper, the former having distinguished himself by his culinary accomplishments while serving with the 23rd Royal Fusiliers from 1914 to 1919. The dinner was served in excellent style, and the volunteer band of lady waiters was beyond all praise. There were no waits between the courses, for one delicacy after another followed in quick succession. After the tables had been cleared, the chairman gave the toast of "The King," which was duly honoured. The toast of "The Cricket Club" was proposed by Mr. Thomas Johnson, himself a veteran who for countless years has played on many occasions both for and against Swavesey, and is still good for more runs. He wished the club better luck during the coming season than it had had in 1920, and hoped there would be a return to the good form and notable successes of 1912 and 1913. Mr. Wood, in reply, admitted that last season had not been one of triumph, but the club had, he said, suffered from there having been no cricket during the war. Some of the old reliable players had gone, never to return. He appealed to the members to pull together and "play the game." Bad fielding was mainly the cause of last year's failures, but the fielding improved as the season went on.

FOOTBALL. 11th Feb. 1921

Elsworth Rovers F.C. visited Swavesey on Saturday afternoon, and an even game ended in a goalless draw.

WHIST DRIVE. 11th Feb. 1921

The fourth of a series of whist drives organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, was held at the National School on Monday evening, and, as usual, attracted a good attendance, 27 tables being occupied. The prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. Warboys, Mrs. W. Kester. Gentlemen, Mr. H. Holmes, Mr. T. Savage, Mr. H. Beales.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND. 11th Feb. 1921

A tea and social meeting was held at the National School on Thursday, February 3rd, on behalf of the above Institute. An excellent tea was provided by the following ladies: Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Barwell and Mrs. Wood, who were assisted by a most efficient and willing band of waitresses. After tea the Vicar, who acted as Chairman, briefly introduced Mr. Sydney Temple (himself blind) to the meeting. Mr. Temple then gave a most interesting address, in which he explained the methods used in training the blind for various trades and occupations; he also passed round several models, which aroused great interest. Mr. Usher, in a few happily-chosen words, thanked Mr. Temple for his address. A collection was then taken by Messrs. W. H. Key and H. S. Aldred. The net financial result of the tea and meeting was £6 10s., which has been forwarded to the National Institute. Thanks for this happy result are due to the ladies who provided and dispensed the tea, and to the gentlemen who assisted in every possible way to make the evening a success.

PARISH COUNCIL. 11th Feb. 1921

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the School on the 3rd inst., and there were present: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman, R. Norman, S. Prime, W. Twist, and the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Before the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, Mr. S. Prime, who had been co-opted a councillor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. J. L. Stanton, signed the declaration of acceptance of office. Arising out of the minutes, Messrs. Burton and Twist reported that the School pond had been cleared out, and that the work had been done satisfactorily, at a cost of £4 13s. 10d. for labour, and £2 10s. for cartage. These amounts were passed for payment. The only item on the agenda was the appointment of two feoffees for Galon's Charity. The Clerk explained that the feoffees appointed by the Council should be elected every two years, but that owing to the war and other circumstances there had been no appointments for a long time. The old feoffees were Messrs. W. Twist and Samuel Wright, but it was intimated that the latter desired to retire. Mr. Twist was re-elected, and on the proposal of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Twist, Mr. George Clarke was chosen in place of Mr. Wright. Certain bills were passed over for payment, and a precept on the overseers for £15 was authorised. Mr. Beales said he had been asked by the Committee of the Cricket Club to call attention to the damage done by horses to the fence surrounding the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground, and after some discussion he moved that a letter should be written to the owner of the horses, drawing his attention to the damage, and asking him to kindly make the same good. Mr. Twist seconded, and the resolution was carried. (Unfortunately, no mention was made of a young walnut tree near the pond, which, with its protecting cage, was knocked considerably out of the perpendicular at the time the fence was damaged. The Clerk observed that some time ago the Council had been asked to recommend a parishioner as by-ways roadman. The man who had been selected had, has understood, left the village. Mr. Burton remarked that the man had previously declined to undertake the work. Mr. Cole said that no appointment had yet been made by the District Council, but that something would be done soon. (As the late roadman retired many months ago, this will explain the neglected state of the by-roads.) The Clerk then raised the question of street lighting. There had, he observed, been a good deal said on the subject in the local newspaper lately. Mr. Burton protested with intense, but suppressed, indignation against these newspaper comments, which he described as "rot", and Mr. Twist remarked that no one took any notice of them. Other councillors appeared to be in sympathy with these gentlemen, and Mr. Burton observed that Council meetings would have to be held in camera. Mr. Beales was confident that the Council had been actuated by motives of economy in not lighting the lamps, and, as the strictest economy was necessary at the present time, he thought that things should remain as they are, and that if any parishioners wanted the lamps they should call a parish meeting. The parish could not stand the expense, and in his opinion there had been no neglect on the part of the Council. Another Councillor declared that those people who wanted lamps should pay for them. The Chairman appealed to Mr. Beales to make a proposition, but he declined to do so, whereupon Mr. F. Norman moved that the question of lighting the street lamps should be held in abeyance until the lighting could be done at a reasonable cost to the parish. Mr. Prime seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously. Mr. Beales inquired whether the tenant of the parish land in High-street on which the War Memorial Hall is to be built had signed a formal agreement as to surrendering the land in accordance with the arrangement arrived at in October, 1919. The Clerk replied that no agreement had been signed, but that the tenant had consented to surrender the land at three months' notice, given at any time. After discussion, the Clerk was instructed to prepare an agreement. The meeting then terminated.

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: A few observations from me in regard to the last meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council may not be inappropriate. In the first place, may I say that many of the communications in the "Independent Press" which appear to have raised the ire of the councillors, and which one councillor described as "rot," while another contemptuously remarked that no one took any notice of them, have emanated from, or have been written at the request of, responsible parishioners. Whether these persons will be pleased when they learn how their representations are regarded by the Council is doubtful, and probably they will give expression to their feelings at the Council election next year. Secondly, notwithstanding the declaration that no notice is taken of representations and suggestions in the Press, both Mr. Beales' suggestion that aggrieved parishioners should call a parish meeting and Mr. F. Norman's resolution were in accordance with recommendations in these columns. Thirdly, may I once again raise the question whether the Parish Council have the power to suspend indefinitely the operation of the Lighting Act, which required a two-thirds majority of the parishioners to adopt, and is ineffective each year until the parishioners assembled in a parish meeting have authorised the necessary expenditure. In connection with the lighting question, may I point out that Mr. Beales in his speech on economy overlooked one fact, viz., that the Council had not until last week even discussed the lighting question, neither from the point of view of economy nor of the safety and convenience of the public, since they decided in October, 1919, to temporarily suspend lighting in consequence of an official Order issued in connection with the railway strike. Fourthly, when appointing the charity feoffees, why did not the Council deal also with their representative on the board of school managers? His period of service must have expired years ago. Lastly, in regard to the threat to hold Council meetings in camera, I would venture to suggest that before adopting such a course the councillors would be well-advised to make themselves acquainted with the law on the subject.

SWAVESEY LABOURER'S DEATH. 18th Feb. 1921

Inquest at Addenbrooke's Hospital as Sequel to Accident.

The death of a Swavesey man who met with an accident on January 10th, was inquired into by the Borough Coroner (Mr. G. A. Wootten) at an inquest held at Addenbrooke's Hospital on Friday evening. The deceased was Fred Dodson, farm labourer, aged 67 years.

Evidence of identification was given by Mrs. Dodson, deceased's wife, who said that about 6 p.m. on January 10th her husband took a cart load of bricks to Stanton View Farm, Swavesey. At the entrance to the farm one of the wheels of the cart got into a rut, deceased at the time having his right hand on the shaft of the cart. His left hand got wedged between the cart and the wall. Dr. Ellis was called, and attended deceased until 24th January, when he advised his removal to hospital. Deceased had not been attended by a doctor for three years previously, and was in the best of health.

James Prior, of Stanton View, Swavesey, house furnisher and dealer, said that about 6 p.m. on January 10th, deceased brought him from Cambridge some building material in a cart. Deceased left the horse and cart at the entrance to the farm, and asked witness where he was to put the load. The gate through which the cart had to pass was about 14 or 16 feet wide, and there was a wall on the left hand side. Witness told him to put the load in the yard. Witness took a lamp to show deceased the way. The horse did not start very freely, and witness told deceased to hold the lamp while he (witness) brought the animal forward. Deceased at the time was on the near side of the cart. Witness was prevented seeing ahead because of the lamp witness was holding moving about, and in consequence witness got nearer the wall than he anticipated. Deceased called out, and witness stopped the horse almost immediately. Dodson told witness he had crushed his hand and bruised his back, and witness noticed that the skin was off the back of deceased's hand. Deceased was seen by Dr. Ellis almost immediately afterwards.

Dr. G. W. Theobald, house surgeon at Addenbrooke's, said Dodson was admitted on 24th January, suffering from injury on the back of the left hand. The injury was a fortnight old, and there was some suggestion of tetanus. On January 27th the signs of tetanus were more marked. On February 3rd the tetanus had apparently been cured, but deceased cried out a great deal day and night. On February 9th bronchial trouble appeared, and the heart began to get very weak. Dodson died in his sleep at 10.50 a.m. on February 10th. Death was apparently due indirectly to the accident. Witness made a post mortem examination and found the cause of death was heart failure and septicaemia, probably following an accident.

The Coroner returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence.

RECREATION GROUND TREES. 18th Feb. 1921

By a slip of the pen the young trees on the Recreation Ground were stated last week to be walnuts. They are chestnut trees.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 18th Feb. 1921

Twenty-five aged widows and widowers have received a gift of money, in lieu of tea, sugar, etc., under the bequest of the late Mr. Thomas Payne.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT. 18th Feb. 1921

Our Swavesey readers will be interested to learn that at Christmas the wife of Mr. W. Lawson Hephher, M.C., presented her husband with a son and heir at Boswell, Koatenay Lake, B.C., Canada.

FOOTBALL. 18th Feb. 1921

Swavesey F.C. journeyed to Dry Drayton on Saturday, and a keenly contested game resulted in a win for the homesters by five goals to three. F. Daintree, Oakman and Dangerfield scored for Swavesey. The Swavesey S.S. Boys entertained the Victoria-road, Cambridge, Congregational S.S. team on the same day and failed to score. The visitors, however, captured three goals.

LANTERNS CONDEMNED. 18th Feb. 1921

"Boxworth-Ender" writes: A few weeks ago "An Inhabitant of a Neighbouring Village" writing in the "Independent Press", recommended Swavesey people to carry lanterns on dark nights. I sincerely hope his advice will not be generally adopted, for in my opinion hand lamps are worse than useless; they are dangerous. The other evening I met a lady and gentleman carrying a lantern, and was so dazzled that immediately after passing them, my unfortunate head came into collision with a wall, and my face was damaged. Electric flash lamps as used by some people in the village are worst still, and can only be described as the invention of the Evil One.

COLLISION. 18th Feb. 1921

Shortly before 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening in last week, a man proceeding on foot along the centre of the road in High-street, on his way to the Post Office, came into violent collision with a lady and a lightless bicycle. The night was very dark, and not a glimmer of light shone from the window of any private house or shop. Neither party saw the other. Beyond loss of breath, and possibly of temper, it is believed that, fortunately, neither suffered harm. The bicycle, however, crashed heavily to the ground, but whether it was damaged is not known. The lady, recovering her breath first, reproached the man for not looking where he was going. The man, still panting, ventured to retort that blame, if any, attached to the lady, as the mishap would not have occurred if her bicycle lamps had been alight. At that moment two or three cyclists rode up, but further spills were prevented by the lady's prompt cries of warning. Having business at the Post Office, which closed at 7 p.m., the male collider had to hurry away, and when he returned to the street the lady and bicycle had disappeared.

CRICKET CLUB. 18th Feb. 1921

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, Mr. C. Wood presiding, and about thirty members being present. Last year's accounts having been passed, the officers and committee for the coming season were elected, viz.: President, Dr. R. Ellis, vice-presidents, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Messrs. R. Barwell, H. O. Daintree, Bramwell Davies, T. Johnson, and R. Sutton; captain 1st team, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. H. Ellwood; captain 2nd team, Mr. A. Prime, jun.; vice-captain, Mr. T. Daintree; secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretary, Mr. Cyril Godfrey; committee, Messrs. P. Burton, F. Hayward, T. C. Heasman, G. Hephher, jun., A. Payne, and T. Savage. It was decided to enter two teams in the Milton and District League, the 1st team in Division I., and the 2nd in Division II., and also to enter for the Cambs. Junior Cup. It was further resolved that the annual subscription should be increased to five shillings per member.

FUNERAL. 18th Feb. 1921

The funeral of the late Mr. Fred Dodson, who died in Addenbrooke's Hospital on the 10th inst., as the result of an accident four weeks previously, took place in Swavesey Cemetery on Monday afternoon. The Rev. F. Shellabear, of Fenstanton officiated, in the absence of the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Bethel Chapel, who was unwell. The mourners were: Mrs. Dodson (widow), Mr. James W. Dodson and Mr. E. Dodson (sons), Mrs. Spearman and Miss S.

Dodson (daughters), Messrs. W. Dodson and Jabez Dodson (brothers), the Misses I. Spearman and Joyce Dodson, and Master Hubert Dodson (grandchildren). Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The deceased, who was 67 years of age, belonged to an old Swavesey family, his father being the late Mr. William Dodson. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM THORP. 18th Feb. 1921

We regret to announce the death, after a few days' illness, of Mr. William Twist Thorp, which occurred at his residence in Swavesey shortly before 9 p.m. on Sunday. He had not been in the best of health of late years, and had had occasional spells of illness. On Wednesday morning in last week he complained of feeling unwell, but seemed to recover before he sat down to dinner, which he ate with enjoyment. Shortly afterwards he was seized with acute pains in his chest, and realising that he was suffering from a recurrence of old heart trouble, he went to bed at once, and Dr. Matthewson was sent for. On Saturday and Sunday he appeared to be better and more comfortable, until about 8.30 p.m. on the latter day, when his wife noticed a sudden change, and within a few minutes he had breathed his last. The sympathy of all goes out to Mrs. Thorp in her san and sudden bereavement. Mr. Thorp was born in Swavesey 66 years ago, being the younger son of the late Mr. Edward and Mrs. Maris Thorp. For many years he was in business as a butcher at Swavesey and Cambridge Market, and was well known at St. Ives and throughout the district. He retired nearly twenty years ago. In politics he was a staunch Conservative, and was Vice-Chairman of the Swavesey Conservative and Unionist Association. In 1915 he succeeded the late Mr. William Perry as parish churchwarden, and held the office to the end of his life. He had previously served as sidesman, and in all that concerned Swavesey's noble church he took the keenest interest, and was never a laggard when financial help was needed. Mr. Thorp was also a life feoffee of Galon's Charity, and was a member of the Parish Council in its earlier days; on several occasions he has also acted as overseer of the poor.

ADVERT. 25th Feb. 1921

SHARP'S Reliable Seeds; also Special Stock-taking Bargains to clear. — H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey.

THE CAMBRIDGESHIRE HOUNDS. 25th Feb. 1921

After an interval of some years the Cambridgeshire Hounds met at Swavesey last Friday. A good company assembled on the Recreation Ground, and attracted a large number of interested spectators, some of whom subsequently followed on foot, on cycles, or in motor-cars. The hounds first tried Friesland Farm, but drew blank, and then moved off towards Lolworth and Childerley, by way of Cow Fen and Longstanton.

A FAMILY DISPUTE. 25th Feb. 1921

A case of some local interest was heard at Huntingdon County Court on Feb. 16th, when D. W. sued his father, H. W., for possession of land. It was stated that the claim for possession was based on the fact that defendant had assigned or underlet land contrary to the provision of an agreement made between the then owner of the property, Mr. S. W. C., of Cambridge, and defendant. The property in 1917 was sold and conveyed to plaintiff for £995. The breach of the agreement alleged was the sale last year of the grazing rights of part of the occupation. For the defence it was argued that even if there had been a breach of the agreement, this had been definitely waived, and plaintiff had no right of action. The letting of the feed in 1920 was not an isolated instance, and had occurred twice previously without complaint by the landlord. Among the witnesses was Mr. C. W., auctioneer, of St. Ives, who said that he had never heard of the sale of grasskeeping being a breach of a leasing agreement. – Cross-examined: He simply sold the feed. The vendor had a perfect right to sport on the land, though the right was not expressly reserved. – After a long hearing his Honour reserved his judgement, and the question of costs was allowed to stand over.

THE LATE MR. W. T. THORP. 25th Feb. 1921

Amidst manifestations of sorrow and respect, the funeral of the late Mr. William Twist Thorp, whose sudden death on the 13th inst. was reported last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Saturday afternoon, a large assemblage of people from Swavesey and the surrounding district being present. Before the service the bells rang muffled peals. The body, enclosed in a panelled and polished elm coffin, with brass furniture, was met at the churchyard gates by the Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Sharp) and the choir. After a hymn, lesson and prayers the Nunc Dimittis was chanted. The procession left the church for the grave in the south-western angle of the churchyard. After a hymn was sung, the bells were heard from the tower close by, this time only partially muted. The immediate mourners were: Mrs. W. T. Thorp (widow), Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thorp (brother and sister-in-law), Miss Metcalfe (sister-in-law) and Misses Clara, May, and Ivy Thorp (nieces). (Full list of mourners in newspaper report). The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey. – On Sunday the Vicar made reference to the late Mr. W.

T. Thorp both at the morning and at the evening service in the parish church. "We have," he said, "suffered a great loss in the passing of William Twist Thorp. For five very anxious years he was churchwarden of this church; he was a most loyal Churchman, a conscientious and devoted worker, a trusted colleague. The passing of such a man must be deeply felt in our church life. In all that concerned the upkeep and repair of our noble church he was always willing and anxious to help; when the tower was repaired in 1913 he was one of the first to come forward, and again when the work on the south aisle was started the following year his support was given generously. His end came very suddenly, and our deepest sympathy goes out to those, his nearest and dearest, whose grief was made even more grievous to bear by the shock of his departure, so startling in its suddenness. An upright man of unshaken faith has been taken away, and we cannot but feel a sense of great loss at his going from us." After the Blessing at the evening service the Dead March in "Saul" was played by the organist, the congregation standing.

HOCKEY. 4th March 1921

On Thursday, Feb. 24th, the ladies' eleven from the Lilley Club, Cambridge, visited Swavesey, and after a very good game were defeated by the home team by 4 goals to 2.

CIRCUS. 4th March 1921

For the first time for many years a travelling circus visited Swavesey on Thursday in last week, and gave two performances, viz., in the afternoon for children, and again in the evening, the latter attracting a good-sized company.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 4th March 1921

The annual tea of members, seat-holders and friends of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on the 24th ulto., and was largely attended. After tea the treasurer (Mr. A. Norman) presented the year's accounts, which were most satisfactory in every department, and the reports of the various workers were also most encouraging. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, presided.

ELECTION OF CHURCHWARDEN. 4th March 1921

A Vestry meeting was held at the parish church on Monday evening to elect a churchwarden in place of the late Mr. William T. Thorp. The Vicar presided. Mr. Henry James Walls, who was proposed by Mr. C. Wood, and seconded by Mr. W. H. Key, was the only candidate, and his election was unanimous. On the motion of the Vicar, seconded by Mr. Wood, a vote of condolence with the widow and relatives of the late churchwarden was carried, and the clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) was instructed to write to Mrs. Thorp accordingly.

FOOTBALL. 11th March 1921

Swavesey F.C. entertained Needingworth on Saturday, and were defeated by four goals to nil. The boys' eleven were also at home to Coton boys in a Cambs. S.S. Football League fixture. Each side scored two goals.

UNIONIST MEETING. 11th March 1921

A meeting of Swavesey Unionists was held at the National School last Friday evening. After an address by Mr. W. de L. Devereux, Unionist agent for Cambs., it was decided that the Swavesey Polling District Conservative Association, which had been suspended during the war, should be revived, and a small committee was appointed to prepare a scheme of reorganisation.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th March 1921

An interesting and instructive lecture on temperance, illustrated by chemical experiments, was given by Mr. David Moore, of Cambridge, in Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday evening in last week, under the auspices of the Bethel Band of Hope. The attendance was good, especially of young people, who were invited to take notes and write essays for which prizes would be given.

MISSIONARY MEETING. 11th March 1921

By the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Banks, a drawing-room meeting on behalf of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, was held at the Priory on Thursday, March 3rd, at 3 p.m. The Vicar took the chair, and the speakers were the Revs. R. P. Moline, Rural Dean and Rector of Cottenham, and A. E. Burne, for 21 years missionary in China. The attendance was excellent. After the meeting Mrs. Banks kindly invited those present to tea.

PARISH COUNCIL. 11th March 1921

The Swavesey Parish Council met at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, the following councillors being present: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, J. S. Goad, F. Norman, R. Norman, W. Twist, and the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). The minutes of the previous meeting having been confirmed, the Clerk reported that he had written to Mr. H. Wilderspin as directed at that meeting with reference to the damaged cricket pitch fence on the Recreation Ground. Mr. Twist asked when the letter had been sent, and the Clerk replied "Two or three days after the meeting." Mr. Twist said that a fortnight after the meeting Mr. Wilderspin had told him that he had received no letter. The Clerk thought that he had sent the letter, but could not say for certain, as he had not his letter book with him. He promised to make inquiries. The Clerk then submitted a draft agreement between the Council and Mr. W. J. Hepher, the tenant of the parish property in High-street. The agreement was approved, and the Clerk was instructed to have it signed forthwith. The next business was the selection of four men eligible to serve as parish constable during the ensuing year, and Messrs. B. Hodson, A. J. Willson, C. W. H. Cole, and C. J. Shepperson were chosen. On the proposal of Mr. Twist, seconded by Mr. Beales, it was agreed that the constable's remuneration should be the same as that authorised last year. Mr. Burton called attention to a young tree on the Recreation Ground, which, with its protecting railing, had been knocked considerably out of the perpendicular at the time the cricket-pitch fence was damaged, and instructions were given that Mr. Challis should attend to the matter. Mr. Burton also drew attention to the nuisance of many years' standing in the large open drain at Church Bridge caused by an accumulation of undesirable and highly offensive matter deposited from the sewer, which has its outlet into the drain within a few yards of the bridge. It was suggested that a letter should be sent to the District Council, but a councillor objected that perhaps this might lead to the ratepayers being put to the expense, and therefore an alternative suggestion that Mr. Beales should speak to the District Council Surveyor on the subject was adopted. After some cheques had been signed the meeting concluded.

B.W.T.A. SOCIAL. 18th March 1921

The members of the Swavesey Branch of the British Women's Temperance Association held a most successful social evening in the Schoolroom attached to Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 10th inst., under the genial chairmanship of Mrs. Ussher. An excellent miscellaneous programme of singing, recitations, etc., was rendered, and refreshments were served during the interval. A special feature of the evening was the hearty welcome given to new members. The school-room was well filled.

A NUISANCE TACKLED. 18th March 1921

The recent representation of the Parish Council to the District Council respecting the longstanding nuisance at the Church Bridge has had prompt attention. A gang of men during this week has been employed in clearing the accumulation of mud and other offensive matter out of the large open drain, but it is to be feared that though some abatement of the nuisance may be effected, it will not be entirely removed so long as the outlet of the sewer remains within a few yards of the main road. It is understood that the original scheme provided for the sewer outfall at a considerable distance from the road.

CONFIRMATION. 18th March 1921

A confirmation was held at the parish church on Thursday, March 10th, at 3 p.m., by the right Rev. Bishop Price, D.D., Archdeacon of Ely. There were 19 male candidates (Swavesey 8, Over 8, Willingham 1, Fen Drayton 1) and 19 female candidates (Swavesey 3, Over 10, Willingham 1, Fen Drayton 2, Boxworth 3). The congregation was very large and the service most impressive. After the service tea was provided in the School, where the candidates and their relatives met the Bishop.

A REMINDER. 18th March 1921

Parishioners of Swavesey should note that in the ordinary course the annual parish meeting should be held within a few days before or after the 25th March. These meetings, except in times when something has occurred to stir the villagers out of the "noiseless tenor of their way," are usually very poorly attended, and last year no meeting could be held, as only the Chairman, the Clerk, and one parochial elector found it convenient to be present. Annual parish meetings are of importance, and should be of interest to ratepayers, especially in these days, as the accounts of the parish are submitted for the information of the parishioners. Furthermore, they afford an opportunity to "discuss parish affairs and pass resolutions thereon."

ADVERT. 25th March 1921

SPECIAL LINES. – Curtains, Curtainettes, Bordered Casement, Art Muslin, Toilet Covers, Duchesse Set, Cushion Covers, Wallpaper (newest designs), Rugs, Mats. – H. S. Aldred, London House, Swavesey.

Swavesey F.C. visited Needingworth on Saturday afternoon, and a well-fought game resulted in a draw of three goals each. G. Oakman, H. Holmes, and E.

Smart scored for Swavesey. The S.S. Boys' Club should have played St. Andrew's-street Baptists' boys in a Cambs. S. S. League fixture, but the Cambridge team failed to put in an appearance, and therefore conceded two points to their rural opponents.

HARBOUR OF REFUGE WANTED. 25th March 1921

It is suggested that a more suitable place for keeping the local snow plough when not in use or not likely to be wanted might be found than the edge of the Recreation ground, close to the main road and immediately facing the National School. The plough is not a thing of beauty, though at times it may be useful; in its present position it is in the way, and is a possible danger to the public, children especially who play their games on that portion of the Recreation Ground. Ratepayers have been heard to grumble that the plough will not improve in condition by being left at the roadside month after month. It will be remembered that a few years ago the Parish Council protested against the present plough's predecessor being dumped upon the Recreation Ground.

WEDDING. 1st April 1921

WILLIAMS - WELLS

The marriage of Miss Agnes Annie Wells, second daughter of Mr. James Wells, of Swavesey, and Mr. Tom Williams, of Tolworth, Surbiton, son of the late Mr. John Williams, once of Swavesey, but later of Cambridge, was solemnised at the church of St. Matthew, Surbiton, on Wednesday. Ussher, pastor, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore old rose eolienne, very tastefully embroidered, and she was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss May Thorp and Miss Louie Causer, the former in navy blue crepe de chine, and the latter in white voile embroidered. Mr. Richard S.

At a meeting of the Swavesey Cricket Club on Tuesday evening it was decided to enter Division I. and Division II. of the Milton and District League and also the knock-out competition in the same league. The proposal to enter the Cambs. Junior Cup was dropped.

DROVE LETTING. 1st April 1921

The annual letting by public auction of the herbage of the drove ways and roadsides in the parish of Swavesey took place at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening, by order of the District Council, and realised £19 2s. 6d., being £14 5s. less than last year (£33 7s. 6d). £25 17s. 6d. was realised in 1919, £27 in 1918, £21 10s. in 1917, while before the war in 1913 the herbage brought in £25 5s.

Education Committee to those candidates who passed the County Minor Scholarships Examination last year have recently been presented to the following pupils of Swavesey National School, viz.: 1st division – Edward Melbourne, Emily Prior and Charles Wood; 2nd division – Muriel Beales, Llewellyn Nicholson and Bernard Parish.

FOOTBALL. 1st April 1921

An unusually large number of spectators witnessed the match between Swavesey and Knapwell on Manor Field last Saturday afternoon. The visiting team was a good one, and the home eleven was stronger than usual, owing to holiday time. The game, fought keenly and cleanly, ended in the defeat of the visitors by one goal to nil. J. Mustill scored for Swavesey.

AN OFFENSIVE DRAIN. 1st April 1921

Complaints are being made of the most offensive odours arising from the open drain which runs parallel with Middle Watch, between Gibraltar-lane and the School. These odours are held to be not only objectionable, but deleterious to the public health. It is understood that a representation has already been made to the sanitary authority, but that no effective steps have yet been taken to remedy the evil.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 1st April 1921

Preceded by a tea, a sacred concert was given in Bethel Baptist Chapel on Good Friday evening by the choir, assisted by friends from Cambridge and Over. The interesting programme included solos and choruses, all of which were much appreciated by the large audience, over whom the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher presided. The proceeds have been devoted to the Church Expenses Fund.

PARISH CHURCH. 1st April 1921

The services at the Parish Church on Good Friday were well attended. On Easter day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6 a.m., 7.30 a.m. and 11.15 a.m. (choral). Morning Prayer at 10.30 a.m., children's service and baptisms at 3 p.m., and Evensong and sermon at 6.30 p.m. A large congregation was present at the evening service.

VESTRY MEETING. 1st April 1921

The only business at the Easter Vestry meeting held in the parish church on Monday evening, under the presidency of the Vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, was the election of the churchwardens for the ensuing year. Mr. W.H. Key, who had been churchwarden for 22 year, having intimated that owing to advanced years he wished to be released from office, the Vicar nominated Mr. C. F. Banks as vicar's warden, and in doing so spoke in terms of the warmest appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Key, whose retirement he deeply regretted. Mr. Key thanked the Vicar for the kind way in which he had spoken, and declared that it had always been a pleasure to work with him. Mr. H. J. Wells, who was appointed people's warden on 28th February, in place of the late Mr. W. T. Thorp, was re-elected nem. con.

WAR MEMORIAL FUND. 1st April 1921

A sale of new work and jumble, organised by Miss M. Cole and the Ladies' Working Party, was held in the National School on Easter Monday afternoon in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, and was well patronised. Tea and refreshments were also provided, and found a ready sale. A whist drive followed in the evening. Twenty-one tables were occupied, and the prizes were awarded as follows: - Ladies, Miss Gadsby, Miss N. Dodson, Miss Barwell. Gentlemen, Mr. Walter Thurbon, Mr. J. Mustill, Mr. T. Froment. A donation of one guinea to the Memorial Hall Fund has been received from Mr. Thomas W. Dean, a native of Swavesey who has been living in South Africa for many years.

MILK. 8th April 1921

The retail price of milk in Swavesey has this week been reduced to 8d. per quart by all retailers, except one, who is charging 6d. per quart, the price he charged at this time last year.

RAILWAY AND POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 8th April 1921

In consequence of the coal crisis, the following trains calling at Swavesey station have been suspended: 6.44 p.m. to St. Ives, 7.41 p.m. to Cambridge; also the following trains which run on Mondays and Saturdays only: 8.59 to Cambridge, and 9.14 p.m. to St. Ives. Owing to the withdrawal of the 7.41 p.m. train, the night mail from Swavesey is now sent to Cambridge by the 6.17 p.m. train, and the latest time for posting at Swavesey Post Office is now 5.55 p.m.

BOYS' FOOTBALL. 8th April 1921

The last and best match of the Sunday School boys' football fixtures was played on Saturday last on manor Close, by kind permission of Mr. Watts, with Hills-road Wesleyans as their opponents, whose present position in the Cambs. S.S.F.L. makes them holders of the shield for the year. The game ended in a goalless draw, but the Swavesey lads gave a very good account of themselves, taking one point, the only point lost by their worthy visitors during the season. Swavesey boys now look forward to continued support and still greater improvement for next season.

PARISH CONSTABLE MISSING. 8th April 1921

For some reason at present not known to the public, the parishioner who had been chosen to fill the office of parish constable during the ensuing year, and who should have been sworn in last Saturday, did not appear before the magistrates at the Shire hall, although the Assistant Overseer was duly in attendance. Villagers need, however, be under no apprehension that they are in danger of losing the protection of the parish constable, for it is understood that Mr. C. J. Shepperson, who has been constable for some years, will be sworn in to-morrow (Saturday).

AN AUSTRALIAN MARRIAGE. 8th April 1921

A cable message was received in Swavesey on the 30th ulto. announcing that Mr. Leonard Williams, third son of the late Mr. John Williams and Mrs. Williams, Market-street, Swavesey, had been married that day at Sydney, New South Wales, to Miss Clara Sutherland, of Harlinghurst, Sydney, and on the same evening the bells of Swavesey parish church rang merrily in honour of the event. Mr. L. Williams left Swavesey ten years ago to join an older brother in Australia, and he has not since revisited his old home. He has the best wishes of his friends in Swavesey for a long and happy married life.

WEDDING. 8th April 1921

The marriage of Miss Minnie Prime, daughter of Mr. Alfred Prime, sen., of Swavesey, and Mr. Henry William Andrews, son of Mr. Arthur Andrews, of Pinner, Middlesex, was solemnised at Christ Church, Roxeth, Harrow, on Easter Monday, the Rev. Stower officiating. The bride, given away by her cousin, Mr. William Wright, wore a navy blue costume, with hat to match, and was attended by two bridesmaids, the Misses Fanny Prime and Doris Gleary. Mr. Arthur Andrews, brother of the bridegroom was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at Albion House, Middle-road, Harrow, the residence of the cousin of the bride. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

EXIT THE VILLAGE PUMP. 8th April 1921

The chief pump of the old, but now condemned, water supply of the village, known locally as the town pump, which stood at the junction of Black Horse-lane with High-street, has disappeared, but whether it has been removed by a public authority, or has vanished into thin air, is not known. All the public knows is that it has gone. The pump had been a sad wreck for a long time, and was useless as a pump, but it afforded much amusement to children, by whom its disappearance will doubtless be regretted. When the new water supply was introduced some years ago, the pumps of the old system were handed over by the Rural District Council to the tender mercies of the Parish Council.

ADVERT. 15th April 1921

H. S. ALDRED, London House, Swavesey. – Agent for Liverpool, London and Globe Fire Insurance Coy.; Thompson's Dye Works, Perth; Sharp's World-renowned Seeds; Cash's Woven Names.

SNOW PLOUGH. 15th April 1921

Under the superintendence of the District Council Road Surveyor, the snow plough which had been lying on the Recreation Ground, close to the main street, was removed last week and duly stored.

THE CEMETERY. 15th April 1921

A great improvement has been effected in the Cemetery by the cleaning of all the grave stones. The work was done by Mr. Jethro Linford.

THE PARISH PUMPS. 15th April 1921

A correspondent writes: "With regard to the paragraph in last week's paper about the disappearance of the old public pump from the corner of Black Horse-lane, may I ask whether another of the parish pumps has not also been removed, and is now lying in a private yard, whither it had no doubt been taken for safety? These pumps are useless as pumps, but their metal pipes, etc., are probably of some value. Why cannot they be sold, and the money realised applied in relief of the rates?"

PARISH MEETING. 15th April 1921

The annual parish meeting is to be held at the National School on Monday next at 6.30 p.m., for the presentation of parochial and charity accounts, and "for any other business." The Local Government Act, 1894, states that "a parish meeting may discuss parish affairs and pass resolutions thereon." As usual, the notice calling next Monday's meeting is hardly likely to strike the eye of the unofficial parishioner, as it has been written on small pieces of paper. The notice on the board in High-street is particularly inconspicuous, having been superimposed on a list of voters, which has been on view for some time. The suggestion has more than once been made in these columns that printed skeleton bills, boldly headed with the words "Parish Meeting," should be used, but like other useful and inexpensive suggestions, has been ignored by the parish authorities. The Clerk of the Parish Council, it is understood, defends his economy in the use of paper by the plea that he has to provide stationery for parish purposes out of his own pocket.

CHURCH MEETING. 15th April 1921

The annual parochial church meeting, held at the National School on the 7th inst., was attended by between 60 and 70 Church electors, and was presided over by the Vicar (the Rev. J. S. Sharp), who was supported by the churchwardens, Messrs. C. F. Banks, and H. J. Wells. The Vicar, in his introductory remarks, eulogised the devoted work of the Church Council, whose year of office had expired. Their attendance at meetings had been well-nigh perfect – it was 97 per cent. – and their responsibilities has been heavy, seeing, for instance, that they had been faced not only with increasing ordinary church expenses, but with the expense of providing for vitally urgent repairs to the parish church, estimated to cost £2,700, towards which £352 17s. had been received or promised. The Vicar read the annual report of the Council, and Mr. W. H. Key, late churchwarden, presented the year's accounts, which disclosed the satisfactory fact that the collections for church expenses had been the largest on record, viz., £101 0s. 3d., but, said to say, this satisfaction was neutralised by the expenses having been heavier, and although at Easter, 1920, there was a balance in hand of £13 1s. 10d., the balance at Easter, 1921, had dwindled to 18s. 1d. Mr. R. Barwell, who had had charge of the finances of the Council, urged the importance of larger contributions to the collections for church expenses, and strongly advocated the contribution by each member of the congregation of a fixed sum each Sunday, whether present at a service or not. Mr. R. Mitham also spoke, and other electors made suggestions. The accounts were passed, and, it being recognised that the organ blower's remuneration was inadequate, it was decided that it should be augmented this year. The Council, in their report, having recommended that the number of elected councillors should be increased, the Vicar moved a resolution to that effect, which was carried. Mrs. Cooksey proposed that the elected councillors should be ten in number, instead of four. Mr. R. Mitham, sen., seconded. Mr. Barwell moved, and Mr. Banks seconded, an amendment that the whole of the Council should number eleven, that meant an addition of two elected members. On being put to the vote, the amendment was carried by 26 votes to 15. The alteration will not take effect until Easter, 1922. Messrs. Barwell and R. Mitham, sen., having been re-appointed parochial representatives to the Diocesan and Ruridecanal Conferences, the election of church councillors was proceeded with, and when the voting papers had been collected, and the votes counted, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Banks and Mr. C. Wood were found to have received most votes, and were declared duly elected. The unsuccessful candidates were Mrs. Barwell, Mr. C. Dean, Mrs. Cooke, and Mr. A. Spolton. This year's Council will consist of the following: the Vicar, the two churchwardens, the two representatives to the Diocesan and Ruridecanal Conferences, and four elected members, and Mr. W. H. Key, the late churchwarden, who had been co-opted by the late Council. Last year's sidesmen, eight in number, were re-elected with the addition of Messrs. W. H. Key and F. Howard.

FIRE ENGINE. 22nd April 1921

The parish fire engine was brought out for its quarterly test on Thursday evening in last week, and advantage was taken of the occasion to thoroughly water the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground. The engine was kept at work for about an hour, members of the Cricket Club assisting in pumping.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 22nd April 1921

The Ladies' Working Party connected with the War Memorial Hall Fund Committee have handed to the treasurer, Mr. C. Wood, the sum of £25, the results of the sale of work on Easter Monday and of work done for private persons since the garden fete and sale of work on August Bank Holiday last. The Working Party have now raised nearly £50 for the fund.

TRAIN AND POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 22nd April 1921

Further alterations in the railway and postal services at Swavesey have been announced this week in consequence of the coal miners' dispute. The following trains have been suspended: To Cambridge, 12.22 p.m., 1.47 p.m., and 7.41 p.m.; to St. Ives, 1.55 p.m., and 6.46 p.m. The 8.59 p.m. train to Cambridge and the 9.4 p.m. to St. Ives, which used to run on Mondays and Saturdays only, have also been withdrawn. The 10.49 a.m. train to St. Ives now leaves at 11.4 a.m. Commencing on the 24th inst., Sunday trains will run as follows: to Cambridge, 5.18 p.m. (instead of 4.23 p.m.), and to St. Ives 6.41 p.m. (instead of 5.41 p.m.). Owing to these changes the letter box at Swavesey Post Office is now closed at 10.50 a.m. for the day mail despatch, and at 5.55 p.m. for the night mail despatch.

COAL SHORTAGE. 22nd April 1921

To deal with the present coal shortage in the Swavesey rural district a meeting was held at the residence of Mr. W. I. Hemington, Over, on Tuesday last. A small committee was formed, consisting of Mr. F. Kirby (chairman), Mr. I. Hemington (co-opted), Messrs. Parish, Williams and Adams (merchants), and Beales (Swavesey station, hon. secretary), and it was decided to adopt the orders now generally in operation. This means that no householder will be entitled to a delivery of more than $\frac{1}{2}$ -cwt. of coal per week, and if anyone is fortunate enough to get a full cwt. it will have to last a fortnight. Cases of sickness will be specially dealt with, and arrangements for issue of permits have already been made. A very generous offer has been made to the committee by the Over Drainage Commissioners, who have a fair quantity of coal on hand at the Over drainage engine station, near Earith Bridge, and it is hoped to get a portion of this coal carted into the villages during the next few days. Unfortunately this extra cartage will considerably increase the delivery price of coal, but in the circumstances it cannot be avoided. Any person now holding more than one month's stock of coal is invited to assist by advising Mr. Kirby or the hon. secretary of what they have to spare.

PARISH MEETING. 22nd April 1921

Although there are 400 parochial electors in Swavesey, only eight found it convenient to be present at the annual parish meeting, held at the National School on Monday evening, and even most of these eight seemed reluctant to attend. At the appointed time, 6.30 p.m., only one parochial elector and the representative of this paper were waiting. They were soon joined by Parish Councillor Beales, and the trio waited patiently until 7 o'clock, when the Clerk put in an appearance. Coun. Burton arrived about this time, and it was decided to open the meeting. In the absence of the Chairman of the Parish Council, Mr. Burton was voted to the chair, and before long Alderman Dr. Ellis, Mr. S. Challis, Mr. W. J. Hephher, and Mr. J. S. Goad, another parish councillor came in. The meeting began with the minutes of last year's annual meeting, which was not held owing to no one but the Chairman, the Clerk, and one parochial elector attending, also the minutes of the parish meeting on 1st April, 1919, and of the public meeting on 14th July, 1919. These minutes were signed, and then the Clerk desired to read the minutes of a Vestry meeting, but this was objected to, and he proceeded to present the Parish Council accounts for last year. When these had been read Dr. Ellis called attention to the dilapidated and dangerous condition of a wall on the parish property in High-street, and the Clerk undertook to bring the matter before the Parish council at their next meeting, which, he said, would be held shortly. (According to the Standing Orders the annual meeting of the Council should have taken place on Monday evening.) Dr. Ellis also wanted information respecting certain expenditure on street lamps and posts, and expressed the opinion that the lamps and fittings should be inspected, but unfortunately he omitted to ask about the condition of the shed in which they are stored. Mr. Beales assured Dr. Ellis that the lamps had been overhauled, and in reply to other inquiries, said he believed a parish meeting would be called before the autumn to decide whether the lamps should be lighted next winter.

ALDERMAN. 22nd April 1921

Dr. Joseph Watson Ellis, of Swavesey, who was elected an alderman of the Cambs. County Council, in succession to Mr. D. L. A. Huddleston, of Sawston Hall, was born on June 10th, 1853, at Swavesey. He is the son of the late Mr. Robert Sage Ellis, surgeon, who was in practice at Willingham, and a grandson of Captain John Hitch Ellis, 66th Foot, who was with Napoleon I at St. Helena, and who subsequently resided at Meldreth. He was educated at Epsom, St. John's Hurstpierpoint, and St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London (M.D. Brussels, M.R.C.S. Eng.; and L.S.A.). In 1876-7 he was house surgeon at Huntingdon Hospital, and then settled in Swavesey, where he has been in practice ever since.

Alderman Ellis was a member of the first Cambs. County Council, having been elected in January, 1891, as representative of the Swavesey Electoral Division, in place of the Rev. F. Shaw, of Fen Drayton, who died in December, 1890. Re-elected in 1892, he was defeated in 1895 by the late Mr. George Long, of Swavesey, but regained the seat from Mr. Long in 1898, and has since represented the division without a break. He is the only member of the original Council serving as alderman or councillor at the present time, and with 27¼ years' service (23 years' continuous) may well claim to be the senior member.

Ald. Ellis has served on many committees of the Council, and since February 5th, 1916, has been chairman of the Old Age Pensions Committee.

OBITUARY. 29th April 1921

The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated, and the following chief mourners attended: Mrs. P. Hepher, Miss J. Webster and Mrs. A. Day (cousins). Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. A SWAVESEY JUDGEMENT. 29th April 1921

At the last sitting of the Huntingdon County Court, his Honour Judge Farrant delivered judgment in the action D.W. v. H. W., of Swavesey, in which the son sued the father to recover possession of land, on the ground that the terms of the agreement entered into by the defendant with the previous owner, the son having since purchased the property, had been broken. His Honour found that the action of the defendant in selling grasskeeping was a breach of his covenant under which he was not to assign or sub-let any of his land. On the other hand, he found that it was within the knowledge of the plaintiff that the land had been previously sub-let; that he took no steps to enforce his right of action until nearly eight months after the grass had been sold, and further, that plaintiff before the expiration of the period of sub-letting accepted a cheque from defendant in respect of these fields. His Honour held that these constituted a waiver of the terms of the agreement. There would be judgement for defendant; but in view of the letter defendant wrote to his son's solicitors – a letter which in his opinion ought never to have been written – he made no order as to costs.

COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTIONS. 6th May 1921

Mr. Stubbs to Stand Against Mr. Mailer in Swavesey Division.

Mrs. Anderson-Scott unopposed.

Nominations for the vacancies on the County Council caused by the election of Col. Tebbutt and Dr. Ellis to the Aldermanic Bench closed on Monday.

Mrs. Anderson-Scott, of Iona, Gresham-road, has been nominated for the New Town Ward, which was formerly represented by Col. Tebbutt, and as she is the only candidate she will be returned unopposed.

There will be a contest in the Swavesey Division, two candidates, Mr. Robert Mailer and Mr. A. E. Stubbs, having been nominated. Mr. Robert Mailer, farmer, of Boxworth, is standing as an Independent candidate, his nomination papers having been signed by members of all political parties. His proposer is Mr. Kirby (Over) and his seconder Mr. A. day (Swavesey). The assentors are: Dr. J. W. Ellis (Swavesey), Messrs. H. O. Daintree (Lolworth), C. W. Elliott (Boxworth), Thos. Johnson (Fen Drayton), Ingle Hemington (Over), Alfred Hawkes (Over), Robert Norman, sen. (Swavesey), and C. Hines (Over).

In his election address, published in our advertisement columns, Mr. Mailer points out that he has had a considerable experience of public work, having been for several years a Rural District Councillor and Guardian. He mentions that he farms 1,000 acres of land, and is well acquainted with the needs and requirements of the district.

Mr. Alfred Ernest Stubbs, Trades Union organiser, 3, Arbury-road, Cambridge, has been nominated in the Labour interests.

Mr. Stubbs put in two nomination papers – one from Swavesey, and the other from Lolworth. In the former village, we understand, six of the eight assentors are women and two men. Both the Lolworth nominators are women, and six of the eight assentors also.

Mr. Stubbs was to have addressed a meeting in Swavesey on Saturday evening. A company of between 25 and 30 men awaited his coming on the Green, but Mr. Stubbs did not put in an appearance, and no meeting was held. On Sunday morning, however, Mr. Stubbs went over to the village, and explained that he was unable to get there on the previous night owing to the motor cycle breaking down.

Polling will take place on Tuesday, May 10th.

CHURCH REPAIR FUND. 6th May 1921

A meeting to decide about holding a garden fete on behalf of the above fund was held at the Vicarage on Thursday, April 28th. The Vicar reminded those present of the extreme urgency of the repair of the church roof. He said that it had been decided that the work should be started as soon as £500 had been collected; at present £350 had been given or promised. It was decided to hold a fete on Thursday, July 7th, in the Vicarage garden. An attractive programme of events, etc., was drawn up, and numerous offers of help were given.

ACCIDENT. 6th May 1921

Whilst cycling round the corner of a road near Brampton, Hunts, on Saturday, Mr. Joseph Froment, Market-street, Swavesey, had a nasty fall, badly cutting his face. A motor cycle, travelling in the same direction, was passing at the time, but whether it slightly collided with the push bicycle, or in trying to keep clear, Mr. Froment swerved, is not known. The motorist, however, went on his way as if nothing had happened. Notwithstanding his injuries, Mr. Froment managed to cycle home, but has since been under medical treatment and confined to his house. The only damage to his bicycle was a bent carrier

WELL-EARNED TESTIMONIAL. 6th May 1921

On his retirement from the office of churchwarden, a post he had held for 22 years, and in warm appreciation of his services to the parish church in ways too numerous to mention, Mr. W. H. Key has been presented with a testimonial, consisting of an easy chair, tobacco and leather pouch, subscribed for by over one hundred past and present members of the congregation, including the Rev. A. C. Vidler, late vicar of Swavesey. In compliance with Mr. Key's wish, the presentation was not made in public, but he will be glad if subscribers will call at his house and inspect the gifts and afford him the opportunity of personally expressing his thanks.

OBITUARY. 6th May 1921

The funeral of the late Mr. Rebecca Nixon, wife of Mr. Alfred Nixon, who died at their residence in High-street on April 27th, aged 70 years, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiating. The following chief mourners attended: Mr. Nixon (husband), Mrs. H. W. Hawkes (niece and adopted daughter), Mrs. C. Hephher and Mrs. Maltby (sisters), Mr. G. Thorp (uncle), Mr. A. C. Hephher, Miss F. M. Maltby and Mr. H. W. Hawkes (nephews and niece). Other relatives were unable to be present owing to the restricted railway service. The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. Mrs. Nixon belonged to an old Swavesey family, being the eldest daughter of the late Mr. James Coulson, blacksmith and horse and cow doctor. With the exception of the last 17 months, the whole of her married life of 44 years was spent at Newport, Essex, and Ely, where her husband was employed as a signalman on the Great Eastern Railway. On his retirement at the end of 1919 after 45 years' service, they settled in Swavesey. Mrs. Nixon has been in failing health for some time.

TRAIN ALTERATIONS. 13th May 1921

Since Wednesday the train leaving Cambridge at 6.30 and due at Swavesey at 7.14 a.m. has been suspended, in consequence of the coal crisis. The night mail letters for Swavesey and district are being sent from Cambridge by road.

SERVICES RECOGNISED. 13th May 1921

Alderman Dr. J. W. Ellis, who was chairman of the Cambridgeshire Local Pensions Committee, who deal with old age pensions, from February 5th, 1916, until his recent promotion to the aldermanic bench, has been informed by the Clerk of the County Council that the following resolution was passed at the last meeting of the Committee on the 7th inst: "That the best thanks of the Committee be offered to Alderman J. W. Ellis for the exceedingly able and gracious way in which he has carried out the duties of chairman of the Committee during the last five years."

ELECTION NOTES. 13th May 1921

During Tuesday morning, while the County Council election polling was in progress, Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis made the following estimate of the result of the poll: For Mr. Mailer 600, for Mr. Stubbs 212. The actual figures as announced elsewhere in these columns were: Mr. Mailer 602, Mr. Stubbs 209. The poll was a fairly heavy one, as 820 electors, including nine whose papers were rejected as spoiled, went to the poll out of a total of 1,120 local government electors for the Swavesey electoral division, viz., 73 per cent. At Boxworth polling district the total number of electors was 197, of whom 177, or 90 per cent., polled. At Over polling district the electors numbered 438, of whom 322, or 73 per cent., polled, and at Swavesey polling district the total number of electors was 485, of whom 321, or 66 per cent., polled.

THE FEAST. 13th May 1921

Notwithstanding all the drawbacks, Swavesey Feast has been held this year and, if not the big affair of pre-war days, has attracted visitors, and been far from a failure. A fair number of show folk attended with their paraphernalia, including a roundabout, swings, cocoa-nut shies, etc., and did good business, especially on Tuesday evening. The village Cricket Club played matches on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, but, unfortunately, failed to win any of them. On Sunday the Rev. Canon R. F. Wilson, vicar of the Cathedral Church, Bury St. Edmund's, officiated at all services at the Parish Church, in the absence of the Vicar, and his sermons were greatly appreciated by those who were privileged to hear them. A large congregation was present at Evensong. Tuesday was the polling day for the vacancy on the County Council. Electors turned up in strong force, but there was no excitement.

WEDDING. 13th May 1921

Bethel Baptist Chapel was crowded on the afternoon of Thursday in last week for the marriage of Mr. Frank Prior, youngest son of Mr. Charles Prior, Swavesey, and Miss Caroline Rosetta Crisp, only daughter of Mr. Charles Crisp, also of Swavesey. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, officiated. The bride, given away by her uncle, Mr. E. J. Warboys, Fen Drayton, looked charming in grey eolienne, with veil and wreath of orange blossom, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies. In attendance upon her were two bridesmaids, Miss Mary Warboys, her cousin, and Miss Beatrice Prior, niece of the bridegroom, in white silk and carrying bouquets of narcissus. They wore gold brooches, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. F. Chapman, of Sawston, cousin of the bride, was best man. At the close of the service the Wedding March was played by Mr. H. S. Aldred, who presided at the organ. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. F. Prior left for Brighton for the honeymoon. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

Mr. Robert Mailer's Big Majority Over Mr. A. E. Stubbs.

The result of the County Council by-election in the Swavesey division, to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Dr. Ellis to the aldermanic bench, was declared on Tuesday as follows:

Mr. Robert Mailer (Ind.)..... 602

Mr. A. E. Stubbs (Lab.)..... 209

Majority 393

These figures were announced about ten minutes past nine at the Swavesey School by Mr. Ashley Tabrum (Clerk to the County Council). There was very little excitement. A vote of thanks to the Returning Officer was proposed by Mr. Robert Mailer, and seconded by Mr. G. J. Huckle (secretary of the County Trades and Labour Council). There were nine spoilt papers.

Both candidates addressed meetings at Swavesey on Monday evening.

Mr. Mailer's meeting was in the National School. Ald. Dr. Ellis was in the chair, and the speakers were Mr. Sam Gibson, of Hardwick, and the candidate. A resolution pledging support was carried unanimously.

Mr. Stubbs' meeting was on the Recreation Ground, opposite the school, a motor car being used as a platform. Mr. T. Langan, of Willingham, presided, and the speakers were Sir George Fordham (ex-chairman of the County Council and prospective labour candidate for the County), Mrs. Leah Manning and Mr. Stubbs.

OBITUARY. 20th May 1921

Mr. James Smith, who until May, 1919, had resided in Swavesey for some years, died on the 17th inst. at Bishop's Stortford, where he had been living with his daughter, Mrs. Edwards. He was 79 years of age, and had been ill for about three months. Mr. Smith was an old soldier, having had long service with the East Yorkshire Regiment in India and elsewhere, and when he retired with a pension held the rank of colour-sergeant. He will be best remembered in Swavesey as the father of Mrs. H. G. Graves, late of the Rising Sun Inn whose husband was killed in the action in France on March 25th 1918. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Parish Church to-morrow (Saturday), the late Mrs. Smith already lying in the churchyard there.

DANCE. 20th May 1921

Nearly 100 people attended an open-air dance held on Whit Monday evening on Dr. Ellis' lawn, which was kindly lent for the occasion. The dance was in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, and was organised by the Entertainments Sub-Committee. Visitors, including Mr. R. Mailer, the newly-elected County Councillor for the division, came from all surrounding villages. The lawn was in perfect condition for dancing, and was prettily lighted with fairy lamps. Light refreshments were provided, and found a ready sale. The evening's entertainment realised £5 18s., which included the contents of Miss C. Goad's collecting box, with which she diligently plied the visitors. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Dr. Ellis. Mr. George Goad acted as M.C.

AN OBJECTIONABLE AMUSEMENT. 20th May 1921

The pastime of squirting was once again freely indulged in by thoughtless juveniles at the recent feast, much to the disgust and resentment of older and wiser persons, who are wondering why the reprehensible practice is permitted by the authorities. Victims are reported to have returned home with clothing drenched or damaged, while staid folk have curtailed their visits to the feast ground, or have stayed away altogether. A further reason for prohibition is being urged, namely, the risk of a breach of the peace resulting from the squirting of a lady being actively resented by her male companion and protector. Who would be the prisoner in the dock, it is asked, if a husband knocked down the oaf who insulted and assaulted his wife by deluging her with the dubious contents of one of these toys? At present the police appear to have no power to deal with the nuisance, and it is suggested that the County Council should adopt a by-law which would enable them to act.

WHITSUN HOLIDAY. 20th May 1921

The severely restricted railway service on Saturday and the total suspension of trains on the Cambridge-St. Ives line on Sunday and Monday, prevented the usual Bank Holiday influx of visitors, but on Whit Monday the village was brightened up by a team of cricketers from the Salisbury Club, Cambridge, who came to play Swavesey C.C. a friendly game. The cricketers, accompanied by the families and friends, travelled by motor 'bus from and to Cambridge. The game was a very pleasant one, but was keenly fought out to the end, and resulted in Swavesey avenging their last year's defeat at the hands of the Salisbury Club. Between the first and second innings 42 of the visitors had an excellent meat tea, provided by Mr. T. C. Heasman, of the Rising Sun, Swavesey, in the Infant's School, at the end of which the Salisbury Club Vice-President proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Heasman for the capital feed he had supplied, adding that his party were having a very enjoyable outing. The Captain, in seconding, added his tribute of satisfaction, and announced that it was hoped to repeat the visit next year, but with a still larger party. An unusually large crowd of villagers and visitors from other parishes witnessed the match. The holiday concluded, so far as Swavesey was concerned, with an open-air dance on Dr. Ellis' lawn.

DEATH OF DR. W. H. ELLIS. 20th May 1921

Dr. William Henry Ellis, who passed away on May 8th at his residence, Oak Royd, Manningham, Bradford, Yorks., belonged to the Cambridgeshire branch of the Yorkshire family of Ellis, of Kiddal, and was the eldest son of the late Mr. Robert Sage Ellis, surgeon, of Swavesey, and later of Willingham, and half-brother of Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis, of Swavesey. Born 76 years ago at Swavesey, Dr. W. H. Ellis, after receiving his medical education at Cambridge and St. Bartholomew's Hospital, migrated about 55 years since to Shipley, Yorks, where he had a large practice for a long period, and held the offices of Medical Officer of Health for Shipley, and certifying factory surgeon for a considerable area. Closely associated with the Salt family as medical adviser and friend, he was intimately connected with the hospital which the late Sir Titus Salt established at Saltaire. Apart from his medical activities, Dr. Ellis did much useful public work. He was a member of the Shipley School Board and of the Board of Governors of the Salt School, and was active in Church work and a churchwarden.

Thirty-two members of the parish church choir attended the Diocesan Choral Festival at Ely Cathedral on Tuesday. With a few of the congregation they travelled by motor 'bus to and from Ely, leaving Swavesey at 9 a.m. and arriving home at 9 p.m.

FUNERAL. 27th May 1921

The late Mr. James Smith, whose death at Bishop's Stortford on the 17th inst., aged 79 years, was announced last week, was buried in Swavesey Churchyard, in the grave in which his wife's body already rested. The body had been conveyed from Bishop's Stortford by motor. The Rev. W. M. Bellamy, Vicar of Newport, Essex, officiated in the absence from home of the Vicar of Swavesey, and the chief mourners were: Mrs. Edward and Mrs. Graves (daughters), Mr. Edwards, Bishop's Stortford (son-in-law) and Moss C. Edwards, Miss C. Graves, and Master Henry J. Graves (grandchildren). Old Swavesey friends and neighbours, including the Rev. J. F. Cooksey and Mr. Walter Thorp, were also present in church and at the graveside. The coffin was of polished elm with brass furniture. Mr. S. F. Mitham, Swavesey, acted as undertaker.

LISTS OF VOTERS. 27th May 1921

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: At the recent County Council election several parishioners of Swavesey were surprised to find that they were not able to vote, as their names did not appear in the register of voters. In days gone by the lists of voters were closely checked by the agents of the different political parties, and omissions from, or inaccuracies in, the electoral register were few and far between, but under the present system no such check exists. It is therefore most important that every person, male and female, who is entitled to a vote, should see that his or her name duly appears in the lists of voters which are published every half-year, and are open to inspection at the Post Office and at the office of the Assistant Overseer. In the event of the omission of a name, or any inaccuracy in the description of a voter, a claim form should be obtained at once from the Assistant Overseer, who will doubtless be pleased to give full instructions as to its filling up and disposal.

POSTAL NOTE. 3rd June 1921

The day mail despatch from Swavesey Post Office, which was temporarily suspended owing to the non-running of the 11.12 a.m. train, has been resumed since Monday.

The following is the present service: To Cambridge 8.23 a.m., 9.59 a.m., 11.12 a.m., 3.59 p.m., 6.17 p.m. To St. Ives 7.15 a.m., 8.44 a.m., 11.14 a.m., 4.34 p.m., 7.44 p.m. The Sunday service is still suspended.

CAMPANOLOGY. 10th June 1921

Ringers from Great St. Mary's Church, Cambridge, visited Swavesey Parish Church on Saturday evening, and rang the bells for a short time.

CRICKET. 10th June 1921

Swavesey schoolboys journeyed to Lolworth on Thursday evening in last week, to play a game of cricket with Lolworth boys, and a keenly-fought struggle resulted in a decisive victory for the Swavesey youngsters. Scores: Swavesey 29 and 48 for 3 wickets, Lolworth 19 and 35.

A DELUSIVE COMPOUND. 10th June 1921

Mistakes happen in the best regulated families, and even the most careful and expert workmen are known occasionally to make a slip. A well-known Swavesey artisan was the victim of an unfortunate error last week. He filled a bucket with a sticky substance he believed to be creosote, and tramped a mile with bucket and brush, but he soon returned, hot and tired, and indignantly told his employer that he could not get the creosote to work anyhow; it must be bad stuff, so he had buried it. He asked for a fresh supply. Then it was discovered that the artisan had drawn his supposed creosote from a barrel containing treacle, used for feeding stock.

ACCIDENT. 10th June 1921

While doing a good turn for a neighbour on Tuesday evening, Mr. Alfred Prime, sen., came to grief. A handcart laden with coal-dust had to be dragged up an incline into the blacksmith's shop in High-street. Mr. Prime kindly lent a hand, and grasping a rope attached to a staple in the cart pulled vigorously. The staple gave way and Mr. Prime, a man of weight, fell backwards, his head striking the hard ground with great force. Here he lay stunned. He was taken to his house near by, and on Wednesday it was reported that though no serious results were anticipated, Mr. Prime was compelled to stay at home, and unable to attend to his business.

TENANTS WANTED. 10th June 1921

A local rural district councillor on Tuesday morning posted on the parish notice board in High-street an official notice, intimating that persons who wish to become tenants of the new cottages in Swavesey now in course of construction, under the Government housing scheme, should make formal application to the clerk of the Rural District Council on or before to-morrow (Saturday). The rent of each cottage is to be 8s. per week, the tenant paying rates. The notice was superimposed on a collection of ancient and shabby official documents, all out of date, and therefore is hardly likely to catch the eye of those persons for whose information it is intended.

CAMBS. CHURCHES ROBBED. 17th June 1921

Offertory Boxes Rifled in Seven Villages.

A SUPPOSED CLUE.

Offertory boxes in a number of village churches in Cambs. were broken open last week and the contents stolen. The facts have been reported to the County Police, and it has been ascertained that a man was seen to visit Swavesey Church on the morning of Tuesday, June 9th. From there it is stated he went to Over, and thence to Willingham, and on the same day was seen in Longstanton. In all the churches in these parishes the offertory boxes were broken open and the contents removed. The boxes in the churches at Swaffham Prior, Swaffham Bulbeck and Exning have also been rifled, and it is presumed this occurred about the same date as the other cases.

The man who was seen in Swavesey, Over, Willingham and Longstanton is about 50 years of age, and about 5ft. 10ins. to 6ft. in height. He has rather a heavy beard, and was wearing a grey sports jacket, grey flannel trousers and grey cap. His boots were black, and had toe-caps, and were very much down at the heel. The most conspicuous thing about the suspected man is that his right hand is missing, and the end of the arm is covered with a leather shield. He was riding a bicycle when seen in the neighbourhood concerned.

If anyone can supply any information regarding a man answering this description they are asked to communicate with Supt. A. E. Allen, at the County Police Office, Cambridge.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 17th June 1921

The Rev. S. W. Hughes, successor to Dr. Clifford at Westbourne Park, was the welcome preacher at Bethel anniversary on Tuesday, when friends gathered from surrounding villages and from Cambridge to greet him. There was a large congregation, and the tea tables were all crowded. At the evening service Mr. Hughes' sermon was specially eloquent. His subject was "The unique plan and power of Jesus." The collections throughout the day, and the proceeds of the public tea between the services, which amounted to rather more than £13 were devoted to Bethel Chapel Fund.

GARDEN FETE. 17th June 1921

For the benefit of Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association, an institution which has proved of inestimable value since its inception about two and a half years ago, a garden fete, organised by Mrs. Cooksey, the treasurer, and the other officers of the Association in Swavesey, was held on Thursday in last week in the beautiful grounds of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. A similar fete in June, 1920, for the same beneficent object, followed by a dance in the school, brought in £40 4s. 4d.; this year that sum was exceeded for last week's fete, which did not include a dance, resulted in £42 2s. 2d. being added to the association's banking account, and patrons of the fete will be gratified to learn that no deduction whatever was made for expenses which were borne by private individuals, and that the whole of the proceeds have been placed to the credit of the Association. The weather was fine, though the temperature dropped towards the evening, and the people of Swavesey, with many visitors from all round the district, attended in full force. The fete having been opened by Miss Downham, of Fen Drayton, the stalls began business. The new work stall (Mrs. W. Twist and helpers), jumble stall (Mrs. Cooke), and produce stall (Mrs. Beales), quickly found customers, and various side-shows were soon in full swing. The baby show, from which much had been expected, was rather a disappointment, as fewer infants put in an appearance than were expected. The judges, Dr. Frank Robinson, County medical Officer, and Miss Bills, gave their decision as follows: Infants between 6 and 12 months, prize and certificate, Mrs. E. Adams' baby (Over); between 1 and 6 months, prize and certificate, Mrs. Ingle's baby (Fen Drayton), certificate, Mrs. H. Asplin's baby (Over). Three most excellent half-hour concerts, under the superintendence of Miss M. Cole, drew large and enthusiastic audiences, who keenly appreciated the attractive programme provided by local talent and friends from Cambridge and Oakington. Competitions of many kinds, all calculated to capture money, met the visitor at every turn, while Aunt Sally, and rocking horse for youngsters, which unfortunately soon came to grief, bran tubs, etc., were to be found in different parts of the grounds. In the beauty competition, for which there were numerous entries, the guerdon was awarded to Miss Alice Upchurch, Fen Drayton. The refreshment department, in the capable hands of Mrs. J. Dean and Mrs. Aldred, with assistants too numerous to mention, did a roaring trade, and for a very good reason – the tea and toothsome viands, dispensed at moderate charges, could not have been better. The arrangements at the gate, in charge of Mr. Pontefract, worked admirably.

CENSUS. 24th June 1921

The census was duly taken in Swavesey, Messrs. E. J. and S. F. Mitham acting as enumerators.

THE PONDS. 24th June 1921

A correspondent writes: - The village ponds are nearly dried up. Why not have them thoroughly cleaned out before the rain sets in?

NEW HOUSES. 24th June 1921

It is reported that tenants have been found for four of the eight houses in Carter's-lane, now being erected by the Rural District Council under the Government housing scheme.

THE MISSION CHURCH. 24th June 1921

The Mission Church, dedicated to St. Peter, a picturesque wooden structure at Boxworth End, built in 1893 during the later years of the vicariate of the Rev. T. G. L. Lushington, has disappeared, much to the regret of some Swavesey people. With the approval of the congregation of the parish church and with the sanction of the diocesan authorities, the building has been sold, and will, it is understood, re-appear at Over – not as a church, but as a bungalow. The money realised by the sale of the building is to be used in connection with the extensive repairs in early contemplation at the parish church.

ADVERT. 1st July 1921

If you want a Bargain, call at Prior's Stores and Buy a 9-piece Drawing-room Suite in Tapestry, for £10 10s.

PARISH CHURCH. 1st July 1921

Members of the congregation at the parish church met at the National School on Thursday, 23rd June, to concert measures for placing the finances of the church on a business basis, and after an interesting discussion, a tentative scheme was adopted, to which all present promised their hearty support.

BAND OF HOPE. 1st July 1921

The members of Bethel Band of Hope have this year resumed their annual excursion, which had been discontinued during the war, and on Tuesday spent a very pleasant day at Hunstanton, travelling there and back by motor 'bus. The party started from the National School at 7 a.m., and reached home about 9.45 p.m.

THE THUNDERSTORM. 1st July 1921

A short but violent thunderstorm, which roused many people from their beds, passed over Swavesey during the early hours of Sunday morning, and most welcome rain fell, followed during the day by further grateful showers. Although the lightning was very livid, and much of it of the forked variety, no damage appears to have been done in the parish.

REVISED TRAIN SERVICE. 1st July 1921

The following revised train service came into operation to-day (Friday), and will remain in force until further notice: To Cambridge 8.23 a.m., 9.59 a.m., 11.12 a.m., 1.47 p.m., 3.59 p.m., 6.17 p.m. To St. Ives 7.15 a.m., 8.44 a.m., 10.49 a.m., 2.9 p.m., 4.34 p.m., 7.44 p.m. In consequence of the restoration of the 1.47 p.m. train to Cambridge, the day mail will from to-day be despatched from Swavesey Post Office at 1.25 p.m., instead of at 10.50 a.m.

ANNIVERSARY. 1st July 1921

Sunday School anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday, but unfortunately, owing, no doubt, to the unsettled weather, the congregations in the morning and afternoon were not as large as in previous years, but at night the attendance was good. Mr. A. Rhodes, of Histon, officiated, and preached throughout the day. In the afternoon there was a flower service, the flowers, of which there was a plentiful supply, being sent subsequently to the St. Ives Infirmary. Special hymns were sung, and sung remarkably well, by the scholars at all services, and at the close of the evening service the certificates gained in the recent Sunday School Union examination were publicly presented.

GARDEN FETE AT SWAVESEY. 8th July 1921

Successful Effort on Behalf of Church Repair Fund.

A successful garden fete, in aid of Swavesey Parish Church Repair Fund, was held in the Vicarage grounds yesterday (Thursday). The object of the fete was to raise money to repair the roof of the church. The work must be put in hand without delay, and its estimated cost is £2,700, towards which sum between £400 and £500 has already been received or promised. Col. T. W. Harding, of Madingley Hall, High Steward of Cambridge, and chairman of the Diocesan Board of Finance, performed the opening ceremony. Col. Harding congratulated the people of Swavesey on their glorious church – one of the most beautiful and interesting in the county. Its records dated from the time of Henry VIII, but the present building belonged to the 14th century. There had been still earlier churches on the same site, and for 20 generations at least Swavesey people had worshipped on that spot. They ought to be proud of their church, which, they should remember, they did not build, nor had they provided the comparatively small endowment. It was, therefore, their duty to keep the building in repair, and he begged them to make sacrifices, for the restoration that was now contemplated would cost much money. He was glad the work was to be carried out by so competent an architect. In conclusion, Col. Harding referred to the grant of £100 to the Repair Fund, which had been made by the Diocesan Finance Board, and added that a further grant of £100 would be made if Swavesey people did their utmost on behalf of the fund.

Stalls for the sale of new work, jumble, sweets and produce were a great feature of today's venture. The new work stall, well stocked with useful and ornamental goods, was run by the Vicarage Working Party, under Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Barwell; Mrs. E. J. Linford, jun., and Mrs. Gilby presided over the jumble, while Misses Banks and E. Dodson dispensed most excellent sweets, most of which were home-made. Messrs. A. Slater and F. Hayward sold produce. At 3.30, and again at 6.30 performances were given of a play, entitled "Caught in his own trap".

Side-shows, competitions, etc., were numerous, and varied. (Full list in newspaper) The tea and refreshment department was under the experienced management of Mrs. Cooksey and Mrs. J. Dean, who were assisted by a host of most capable, charming and willing young ladies far too numerous to specify.

In the evening there was dancing on the lawn, under the superintendence of Miss Banks and Miss Dodson, to the strains of Mr. W. Newman's band from Huntingdon, Mr. D. Williams acting as M.C. The duties of gate-keepers were undertaken by the churchwardens (Messrs. C. F. Banks and H. Wells), and Messrs. W. H. Key and W. Twist, Mr. H. J. Hall being in charge of the storage of bicycles.

CRICKET. 15th July 1921

In the return match between elevens of married and single men, played on the Recreation Ground last Friday evening, the married team were again victorious.

A GREAT AGE. 15th July 1921

Mrs. Caroline Covell, High-street, celebrated the 89th anniversary of her birth last week. It is understood that she is the oldest woman but one in Swavesey.

A LONG CHIT. 15th July 1921

A potato stored with others in a cupboard in the cottage occupied by Mr. Alfred Prime, jun., M.M., Market-street, was found last week with a stout healthy chit 8ft. 2in. in length.

MORE TRAINS. 15th July 1921

The Sunday train service on the Cambridge – St. Ives line will be re-instated on and from Sunday, 17th inst. Trains will run from Swavesey Station at 4.23 p.m. to Cambridge, and 5.41 p.m. to St. Ives. Commencing on Monday a train is due to run to Cambridge and intermediate stations at 7.41 p.m., and the train to St. Ives now timed out at 2.9 p.m. will leave at 1.55 p.m. In consequence of the restoration of the 7.41 p.m. train a later despatch of the night mail from Swavesey P.O. is probable.

AN OFFICIAL ANSWER WANTED. 15th July 1921

Although applications from persons who wished to become tenants of the houses in course of erection by the Swavesey Rural District Council had, after very short notice, to be in the Clerk's hands on or before 11th June, no official notification of acceptance or rejection has yet reached any of the applicants, and as most of the applicants will have to give notice to quit their present residences, some inconvenience, and possible difficulty, may arise from the Council's delay. The councillors may have overlooked the fact that quarter day, old as well as new style, has passed.

THE VILLAGE PUMPS. 15th July 1921

The pumps connected with the old and condemned village water supply would have been most useful during the drought for watering stock and purposes other than for human consumption. But they cannot be used. Two of them having fallen down, have been removed, and the rest are out of order. When the new water supply was introduced a few years ago, the District Council handed the pumps over to the Parish Council, and that sapient body, actuated possibly by motives of economy, has allowed them to go to ruin. At the last Parish Council meeting the pumps were discussed, but the debate was adjourned.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 15th July 1921

Certificates of merit awarded by the County Education Authority have been presented to the following children attending Swavesey National School: For the year's form work, Stanley Wood, Mary Parish (Form 2), Winnie Froment, John Wells (Form 3), Ruby Williams (Form 4), Winnie Godfrey, Maggie Prior (Form 5), Lilian Laws, Constance Sweetland (Form 6), Llewellyn Nicholson and Margaret Wells (Form 7); for needlework, Marjorie Coulson (Form 2), Bessie Linford, Rose Spearman (Form 4), Gertie Froment (Form 5), Carrie Froment and Vera Symonds (Form 6); for drawing and modelling, Harry Bishop (Form 5), Leslie Godfrey and Arthur Kester (Form 7).

THE HEAT WAVE. 15th July 1921

The great heat has been much felt by the fruit pickers and other persons working in the open, and everything growing, or trying to grow, vegetable and animal, is languishing from want of water and the scorching sun. The highest temperatures registered daily in the National School garden from Thursday, 7th inst., to Wednesday, inclusive, have been as follows: Thursday, 102, Friday 104 (sun), 88 (shade), Saturday 105 (sun), 88 (shade), Sunday, the hottest day, 106 (sun), 90 (shade) at 2.15 p.m., 100 (sun), 90 (shade) at 4 p.m., 90 (sun), 88 (shade) at 7.30 p.m., 72 (shade) in open at 10 p.m., Monday 100 (sun), 93 (shade), Tuesday 100 (sun), 88 (shade), Wednesday 98 (sun), 86 (shade). Other thermometers in the village hanging on walls or tarred fences have shown considerably higher figures. The pupils in Standard ex-VII, have daily compared neatly and accurately-drawn temperature charts, and those done by Lilian Laws, which were adjudged the best, have been posted outside the school.

RECENT GARDEN FETE. 15th July 1921

The garden fete in aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, held in the Vicarage grounds on the 7th inst., was an unmistakeable success, and financially a record so far as similar ventures in Swavesey are concerned. The total takings amounted to £112 11s. 5d., and the expenses to £11 0s. 6d., leaving a net profit of £101 10s. 11d., over £20 more than was realised by a garden fete for the same object in July, 1914, the £80 then raised being regarded as a record for the village. The Thrift Club ticket system, which was introduced this year to assist the Repair Fund, is reported to have contributed appreciably to the financial success of the fete. That the system worked so satisfactorily was due to the indefatigable efforts of Mr. H. J. Hall. One or two items of revenue may be mentioned. The gate money (6d. for adults and 3d. for children) realised £11 18s., the new work stall £35 17s., and the play £8 1s. 7d. The dancing on the lawn in the evening was much appreciated, not only by the many dancers, but by a large crowd of on-lookers and the Huntingdon Comrades' Band, under Bandmaster Newman, played excellently for the dancing and also the outdoor theatre before the evening performance of the play. The evening, after a threatening day, was as fine as could be desired, but the temperature was high, and unfortunately the supply of liquid refreshment, for which there was a great demand, ran out early. Mr. A. C. Hephner, an ex-prisoner of war, however, gallantly came to the rescue, and obtaining a fresh supply after some delay, showed what the British Army could do in an emergency. He and his assistant, Mr. R. Seekings, did a roaring trade, and when he was sold out he was able to hand over £1 11s. 1d. to the fete funds.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 22nd July 1921

Certificates of merit awarded by the County Education Authority to children attending the National School were presented on Wednesday afternoon.

GRASS ON FIRE. 22th July 1921

By some unknown means the grass at the side of the main road at Boxworth End got alight on Wednesday, close to the fence of the garden in front of Mr. David Garner's house. Fortunately, the fire was detected before the old fence caught, and was soon extinguished by Mr. J. Kester, sen., and Mr. R. H. Norman.

BOYS' CRICKET MATCH. 22nd July 1921

The return match between the boys of Swavesey and the boys of Lolworth was played on the Recreation Ground on June 30th, and was keenly contested from start to finish. The fielding by both teams was very smart. The visitors lost by 29 runs.

MARKET FARES WANTED. 29th July 1921

A correspondent writes: Wednesday's daily papers announced that market tickets at reduced fares are to be re-introduced by the Great Western Railway Co. Cannot the Great Eastern Railway Co. pluck up courage to grant a like concession on their system? Three shillings and fourpence for a return third-class ticket between Swavesey and Cambridge is a very heavy impost. A reduced charge would undoubtedly result in more people travelling and probably in a larger revenue to the railway company.

SCHOOL TREATS. 29th July 1921

The children attending the Sunday Schools attached to the Parish Church and Bethel Baptist Chapel were given their summer treats on Thursday in last week. The Church School treat was held at the Vicarage, where tea was provided on the lawn. Afterwards the youngsters amused themselves in playing cricket and other games and running races in Mr. Allen's field adjoining. Bethel children had tea in the Chapel schoolroom, and then spent a very happy evening in games of all kinds in Mr. Jabez Day's meadow, kindly lent for the occasion.

TRIP TO THE SEASIDE. 29th July 1921

Organised by Messrs. H. S. Aldred, and A. J. Willson, a party of Swavesey people had a pleasant day's outing at Hunstanton on the 21st inst. They were 24 in number, and should have been more, but several intending holiday-makers found at the last moment that they were obliged to deny themselves the pleasure of a day at the seaside owing to the urgent need of beginning harvest work. The party left Swavesey in a motor omnibus at 7 a.m., and arrived home safe, sound, tired, but happy, about 10 p.m.

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th July 1921

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council, which was held on Monday week, the precise date fixed by the Standing Orders, which, it may be remarked, are usually more honoured in the breach than in the observance, may have consequences of far-reaching importance to the parish, for the Council agreed, with only one dissident, to a proposal or suggestion from the Rural District Council to block the river end of Navigation Drain in order to save the expense, estimated at £300, of cleaning it out. Navigation Drain runs from the River Ouse to the Lock and landing-place near Hoy Pasture Gatehouse, on the G. E. Railway, and in years gone by was used for the water transit of goods. Mr. Arthur Norman, chairman, presided, and the other councillors present were Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. S. Goad, F. Norman, R. Norman and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. Robinson Mitham. The minutes of the previous meeting on April 25th having been passed without challenge, the Clerk in reply to a question stated that he had not received the bill for repairing the cricket pitch fence on the Recreation Ground, but had been given to understand that it had been sent to the owner of the animal which did the damage, and in answer to a further inquiry he admitted that the agreement in regard to the tenancy of a portion of the parish property in High-street, approved at the April meeting, had not yet been signed. Mr. Beales protested against the prolonged delay, and the Clerk was instructed to have the agreement signed at once. Mr. Twist reported that a wall and the main gate on the High-street property had been satisfactorily repaired, and that the herbage of the Recreation Ground had been let to Mr. T. C. Heasman, whose tender was the highest received. The only matter specified in the agenda was then considered, namely, the village ponds. The Chairman remarked that some of the councillors were of the opinion that this would be a good time to have them cleaned out, as there was little or no water in them. (A suggestion to this effect from a correspondent appeared in these columns on June 24th). Mr. Goad was anxious to know how the mud would be disposed of. The Chairman replied, "Put it in carts at once." Mr. Goad inquired further where the carts were to be obtained, and he thought as many horses and carts as possible should be employed, as there would be no difficulty in regard to labour. Mr. Beales suggested that farmers using the ponds for watering stock would assist, and Mr. Goad thought they ought to be approached on the subject. The Clerk observed that as soon as mud was removed from Swan pond there would be water, as there was a spring in the pond, and probably the same would happen in the Market-street pond. After considerable discussion, it was agreed, on the proposition of Mr. Beales, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, who maintained that no time should be lost in getting to work, that a committee should be appointed with full powers, to have the four public ponds in the village cleaned out, and Messrs. Burton, Twist, R. Norman, and Goad were nominated to serve on the committee. Mr. Goad, however, declined to act, and Mr. Sidney Prime, who was not at the meeting, was chosen in his place. In reply to the Chairman, the Clerk said he anticipated no difficulty in providing money to pay for the work. Mr. Goad informed the Council that Messrs. A. Day, sen., and F. Kirby, representatives for Swavesey and Over respectively on the Rural District Council, had asked him to bring before the councillors a suggestion or proposal to erect a dam at the river end of Navigation Drain, which would, it was held, have the effect of preventing water from the river entering the fen, and would save the expense of cleaning out the drain – some £300. The drain, he said, was intended to give access to the dock near the railway, and was for navigation purposes only. Mr. Beales asked whether the Clerk had received any communication on the subject from the District Council. The Clerk admitted that he had had some conversation with Messrs. Day and Kirby, whom he had cautioned, as the dock is the property of the Great Eastern Railway Co. Mr. Twist contended that the drain was under the control of the District Council, whereupon a chorus of councillors exclaimed, "Then it has nothing to do with us." Conversation ensued, and eventually Mr. Goad proposed that the Parish Council do agree with the proposal of Messrs. Day and Kirby, but accept no responsibility in the matter, and that a letter to this effect be sent to the District Council. Mr. Cole seconded, and the Chairman declared the resolution carried. Mr. Burton, however, protested that he had not voted for the resolution, and could not vote against it, as the Chairman had given him no opportunity to do so. He was strongly of the opinion that the Parish Council should have nothing to do with the proposal. If Navigation Drain were blocked there would be only one very small fob by which flood water could be let off, and that would be quite inadequate. A parishioner present, Mr. C. H. Parish, asked the Chairman's permission to make a statement, and on this being granted, he said that as an occupier of land in the Hale, he emphatically protested against the blocking of Navigation Drain, and he assured the councillors that having formally expressed agreement with the proposal they could not divest themselves of responsibility by the saving clause in the letter. No Councillor attempted to answer Mr. Parish, and the Chairman declared the meeting at an end. – Our Swavesey correspondent writes: Towards the end of the April meeting of the Parish Council a discussion took place respecting the pumps connected with the old village water supply, which had been handed over to the care of the Parish Council by the District Council, but allowed by the former body to become useless, two pumps having fallen down and been removed to private yards for safe custody. The discussion was adjourned to the next meeting, but no reference was made to the pump question in the minutes of the April meeting, and the subject was not even mentioned during Monday's meeting, notwithstanding that attention had been called in last week's "Independent Press" to the great use the pumps, if in order, would have been for watering stock and other purposes during the present drought. Honour where honour is due. The committee appointed to see after the cleaning out of the ponds must be congratulated on their promptness. Work at the Swan Pond was begun on Tuesday, and at the school pond on Wednesday.

ADDENBROOKE'S HOSPITAL COUNTY ORGANISATION FUND.

SWAVESEY DISTRICT 1921 COLLECTION. 5th Aug. 1921

The total collection amounted to £77 4s. 7d; Swavesey's contribution was £12 18s. 9d., co-ordinated by Mrs. Cooksey.

A BROKEN WIRE. 5th Aug. 1921

For a short time on Tuesday communication with Swavesey by telegraph and telephone was interrupted owing to the wires being broken by the strong wind. The necessary repairs were effected with remarkable rapidity.

FIRE. 5th Aug. 1921

The destruction by burning of rough grass and rubbish on the small holdings in Rose and Crown-lane on the evening of the 28th ult., nearly led to a serious conflagration. The smouldering grass set alight to a hedge, and the fire then spread to a field belonging to Mr. R. Norman, containing lucerne, some of which was destroyed or damaged before the fire was extinguished.

ADVERT. 12th Aug. 1921

We have for sale this week some Good Carpets, £10 10s., £4 10s., £3 17s. 6d.; Strips of Carpetting, 37s., 32s., 25s.; Sofa Rugs, £2 7s. 6d.; Hearthrugs, 15s. 9d., 14s. to 8s. 6d., for bedrooms; Good Second-hand 20ins. Wringer, £4 12s. 6d.; Chest of Drawers, £4 10s., and £4 (mahogany), and £3 15s.; Good Couches, Rexine, £4 10s., Saddlebag, £2 12s. 6d., Leather, £3 17s. 6d., Horsehair, £1 10s. – Prior's General Stores, Swavesey.

NEW HOUSES. 12th Aug. 1921

The eight cottages that are being erected in Carter's-lane by the Rural District Council, under the Government housing scheme, are approaching completion. One pair are practically ready for occupation, two pairs are roofed in, plastered and well forward, and the remaining pair will be roofed in a few days. What appears to be an excellent system of drainage is being installed. The work is being carried out by Messrs. Wayman Bros., Over.

THE DRAINS. 12th Aug. 1921

The doors at Webb's-hole, where for some time there has been a serious leakage, have been thoroughly repaired, together with the sill, and a new foot bridge has been erected. The work has been done by Messrs. Wayman Bros., Over, under the superintendence of Mr. F. W. Hagger, District Council Surveyor. Covell's drain, by which water from Conington, Elsworth and beyond is conveyed to the Ouse, is being cleaned out in a most effective way by Mr. Hagger and his band of workers.

THE VILLAGE PONDS. 12th Aug. 1921

Three of the four public ponds in the village, which the Parish Council recently decided should be cleaned out, have been attended to, and a large quantity of mud, the accumulation of years, has been removed from each of them. The committee entrusted with the supervision of the work are to be congratulated on the thoroughness with which the work has been done, and they will no doubt accept in the friendly spirit in which they are given, suggestions on three points, viz., that the grass and soil partly blocking the entrance to the tunnel leading from Swan pond should be cleared away, a hole which may be dangerous for stock in School pond filled up, and some dry mud at the side of Chapel pond be removed before it is washed back by heavy rain. Nothing appears to have been done so far at the pond in Market-street.

A pretty wedding was solemnised at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. James Godfrey Brown, son of Mr. John Brown, of Wangford, Surrey, was married to Miss Kathleen Culpin, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millice Charles Culpin, of Swavesey. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar, officiated. The bride, who carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, and was given away by her father, looked charming in ivory crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossoms. In attendance upon her were her sisters, Misses Ethel M. and Hilda Culpin, and her niece, Kathleen Stubbings, in pale blue and hats to match. The two younger maids carried baskets of flowers. Mr. Reginald Stubbings (brother-in-law of the bride) was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and at 6.9 p.m. the happy couple left Swavesey for London. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

A GOOD ROAD. 19th Aug. 1921

Thanks to tarring by the County Council, the main road through Swavesey is in excellent condition just now.

THE PONDS. 19th Aug. 1921

In justice to the Parish Councillors responsible for the work (Messrs. R. Norman and S. Prime), it should be stated that the removal of the dry mud at the side of chapel pond had been begun before the paragraph on the subject appeared in our last issue.

RAILWAY CHANGES. 26th Aug. 1921

A correspondent suggested in these columns a week or two ago that the Great Eastern Railway Company should follow the example of the Great Western Railway, and introduce cheaper fares for passengers on market days. It is now pointed out that the G.E.R. might with advantage consider whether their charges for the conveyance of parcels are fair and just. Within the past few days a Swavesey lady accidentally left on a seat on St. Ives station platform a roll of wall paper, which she had bought at a St. Ives shop for 1s. 3d. On alighting at Swavesey station she reported her loss to the railway authorities there, and a message was promptly sent to St. Ives, asking that the parcel, if found, should be forwarded to Swavesey. The roll was found, and before long was delivered to the lady, whose satisfaction at recovering her property was modified by an accompanying official notification in writing that there was one shilling to pay, exactly four times the cost of the pre-war third class passenger fare from St. Ives to Swavesey.

A MESSAGE AND GIFTS FROM AUSTRALIA. 26th Aug. 1921

Although Mr. Leonard Williams, third son of the late Mr. John Williams, and Mrs. Williams, of Market-street, left Swavesey ten years ago for Australia to join his elder brother, he retains a keen interest in his native parish, and his old friends and companions at home; and he has given practical proof of his interest by remitting through our Swavesey correspondent the sum of £3 to be distributed in donations of £1 each to the War Memorial Hall Fund and the Cricket and Football Clubs. He has also sent a contribution of £1 to the Swavesey Parish Church Repair Fund. Mr. Williams writes: Please tell the older members of the Cricket and Football Clubs – and the younger ones too – that although it is ten years since I played with them, I shall never forget them, nor the games I played with them. When I read the home paper I am often with them in spirit playing again the old games we used to play at home. Alas, some of the older men, amongst them S. J. Froment, W. Goad, G. Beaumont, I shall not play with again, for they have played their last game in the big one just over. Please assure their friends, and my friends too, in the old home, that I have not forgotten them, and never will.” Mr. Williams adds that he hopes to revisit Swavesey next year, and to bring his wife, whom he married on March 30th last, with him.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 26th Aug. 1921

A meeting of the Swavesey Football Club was held at the National School on Saturday evening, Mr. G. E. Canham presiding. The secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham, presented a satisfactory report respecting last season, and the year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £3 11s. 4d., which included a donation of £1 from Mr. Leonard Williams, of Brisbane, Queensland, an old Swavesey player. The members warmly appreciated the gift, and the kindly thought that prompted it. The following officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp; vice-presidents, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, and Messrs. C. F.

Banks, R. Barwell, W. Mustill and A. L. Parish, subject to their acceptance of office. The re-election of Mr. Canham was proposed, but he pleaded that owing to his business engagements he could not undertake the office, and Mr. Percy Burton was appointed instead; vice-captain, Mr. Canham; secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. J. Mitham; assistant secretary, Mr. Cyril Godfrey; committee, Messrs. T. Daintree, H. Ellwood, A. C. Hepher, H. Holmes, and T. W. Savage. It was decided that the club should enter the Histon and District Football League, and that the subscription should be 4s. New members are cordially invited to join the club. Practice has already been begun, and a trial match was played on the Recreation Ground yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

A DRAIN AND A TABERNACLE. 26th Aug. 1921

Ratepayers and others interested should pay a visit to Covell's Drain, or rather that section of it that runs between the railway line and the river, and see for themselves the work in progress there. Many years must have elapsed since the drain has had so thorough a clearing out, and the extremely dry season and the low level of the river water has enabled the work to be done without extensive and expensive damming. Within the last few days the large doors protecting the drain from the river have been overhauled, and made sound and watertight, each door having been relined and thoroughly repaired, the posts and the V sill have been re-cased, and the latter filled in with concrete, and the floor on each side of the doors has been renovated. The work has been carried out by Messrs. Wayman Brothers, Over. This week the channel between the doors and the river is being cleared of mud, weeds, etc. After inspecting the drain and the doors, a visit might be paid to a unique structure at the side of the drain near the railway line. This structure is known locally as "The Tabernacle", and a stranger who had not heard of it before might be excused if he came away with the impression that he had stumbled on a prehistoric building, or the habitation of a successor of the cave man. It is not unlike some buildings seen in old pictures. Thick tree trunks placed in close proximity form pillars to support the roof beams, which are also tree trunks, and the roof itself is composed of bushes. The drain bank, surmounted by trees laid longitudinally, constituted the back wall, and tree trunks firmly bedded in earth divide the structure into three or four compartments, and help to hold up the roof. All the timber is securely bound together with strong wire, no nails or screws being used. The building, it is understood, is used as a shelter and milking shed, and fastened at one end will be found a very modern appliance, namely a refrigerator. Notwithstanding its prehistoric appearance, the Tabernacle is not a relic of bygone days, for it was only erected two or three years ago. Its architect and builder must be congratulated on the solidity and ingenuity of his work. Whether the design was evolved from his inner consciousness, or from close study of "Robinson Crusoe", or was the outcome of vivid descriptions of pioneer buildings in the wilds of Canada by a son at home on holiday from the Dominion, is not known, but whatever its origin, the Tabernacle ought to stand, and doubtless will stand, for many a long year as a monument of the patient toil, dogged perseverance, and inventive genius of a true-bred Swavesey man.

GARDENING ITEM. 2nd Sept. 1921

While digging potatoes last week, Dr. Ellis' gardener turned up one tuber through which a fibre of twitch had grown from side to side.

SNAKE IN THE GARDEN. 2nd Sept. 1921

A snake over two feet in length was killed last Friday morning in the garden at the back of Mr. James Cain's house in High-street. It was found coiled up on the top of the hedge dividing Mr. Cain's garden from the parish property, and was promptly despatched by him with a spade.

BURST WATER PIPES. 2nd Sept. 1921

The not infrequent bursting of the pipes connecting private property with the water main, especially in Middle Watch and Boxworth-end, is causing anxiety to thoughtful ratepayers, who are asking on whose shoulders the cost of repairing, or upkeeping, the damaged pipes falls, and whether means cannot be devised to prevent leakages. The bursts are attributed, it is understood, to gault in the soil eating into the pipes, and the question is asked whether the evil could be remedied, or at any rate considerably modified by the trenches in which the pipes are laid being filled in with gravel wherever a defect is dealt with. Although there may be no gravel at Boxworth-end, there is an ample supply elsewhere in the parish, and any extra expense incurred in obtaining and carting the gravel would be counter-balanced by fewer repairs being necessary and less water, for which it is presumed the parish is charged, being allowed to run to waste. Some people are under the impression that, either directly, or indirectly, the ratepayers have to pay for the repair of the bursts, but perhaps this impression is a mistaken one, and an authoritative statement on the point would be welcomed.

FAIR AND FETE AT SWAVESEY. 2nd Sept. 1921

In aid of the Swavesey Memorial Hall Fund, an old English fair and fete will be held in the Manor Field, Swavesey, adjoining the railway station, on Thursday, Sept. 15th. A very attractive programme has been arranged, including Mrs. Jarley's Waxworks, a gipsy camp, an art gallery, a tug-of-war (open to cricket and football teams within a radius of seven miles), and many side-shows. The Cambridge Town Silver Band will play selections during the afternoon and for dancing in the evening. Trains for Swavesey leave Cambridge at 1.31 p.m. and 4.10 p.m. and St. Ives at 1.40 p.m., 3.51 p.m., and 6.9 p.m. Cycles and motors can be stored on the ground.

ADVERT. 9th Sept. 1921

SNAKE IN THE GARDEN. 9th Sept. 1921

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: - The paragraph respecting the killing of a snake, 2ft. in length, in a garden at the back of a house in High-street, which appeared with Swavesey news last Friday has inspired an indignant but anonymous protest from Cambridge. The protest, which is addressed to the person who killed the snake, and is written on a postcard, is as follows: - "Cambridge, 5th Sept., 1921. I much regretted to read this week-end in the 'Cambridge Weekly News' that a snake was killed by you because it was discovered in your garden. Why on earth was it 'promptly despatched' with a spade? Why kill it at all? The thing would be perfectly harmless, and surely might have been left alone, being, as it undoubtedly was, only a grass snake. This shameful desire of Englishmen to kill anything and everything alive is disgusting. You never need be afraid to meet a poisonous snake within 100 miles of your home. – (Signed), C.H.R." It is some satisfaction to learn that no poisonous snakes are to be found within 100 miles of Swavesey, but the assurance would be far more satisfactory if we knew on whose authority it is given. It is true that the snake in question was "promptly despatched" because it was discovered in the garden, but it is also true that the garden and others adjoining are happy playgrounds of little children, and for their sake it was hardly wise to leave a snake to roam about at will pending the arrival of an expert who would decide whether the "thing" was poisonous or harmless.

Further, these gardens are in the centre of the village, and are close to the back doors of houses and outbuildings, and it is well known to most people, though possibly "C.H.R." may be ignorant of the fact, that to ladies, even those whose nerves are under control, snakes are as abhorrent as mice, toads, and black beetles. Surely no man ought to be dubbed a monster of cruelty, or something analogous, simply because he painlessly decapitated a snake with one blow of a spade, and thereby enabled the ladies of the district to walk in their gardens and carry on their duties around their back doors free from the haunting dread of encountering a reptile. Speaking from my own personal knowledge of the destroyer of the snake, I can vouch for his being the last man who would "kill anything and everything alive" merely from a shameful desire to destroy life, and I venture to suggest that if "C.H.R." had pause to reflect, or had taken the trouble to ascertain what perhaps may be described as the local circumstances of the case, he would not have inflicted an unmerited rebuke on an honourable and kind-hearted gentleman, or if after reflection and inquiry he still felt impelled to give expression to his feelings, he would have adopted a method more in accordance with the sentiments of the country in which he is living than an anonymous postcard.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 16th Sept. 1921

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday in last week, Mr. Curtis, of Southill, Bedford, being the special preacher, both in the afternoon and evening. Between the services there was a public tea.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 16th Sept. 1921

During the holiday a glass and panel partition on the Coburn system of sliding accordion screens has been erected in the large room, the work having been executed by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey. The school will be reopened on Monday.

ACCIDENT. 16th Sept. 1921

Mr. Ingle Hemington, who for many years has been one of the representatives of Over on the Swavesey Rural District Council and St. Ives Board of Guardians, met with an unfortunate accident on Thursday in last week, by falling off the back of a cart in Swavesey station goods' yard. He injured his hip, and was confined to his house for two or three days.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 16th Sept. 1921

A service of thanksgiving for the harvest was held in Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday evening in last week, the special preacher being the Rev. C. T. Allen, of Cottenham. His subject was God's preparation for his people, which sometimes was not fully understood by them. There was a good congregation, and the collection was satisfactory, but the offerings of fruit, vegetables and flowers were not as bounteous as in other years, owing to the drought. These offerings have, as usual, been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Before the service there was a public tea in the Schoolroom attached to the chapel, which was well attended.

MOTOR OIL VAN STRANDED. 16th Sept. 1921

For at least three hours on Monday afternoon a large motor oil van, belonging to Shell-Mex, Ltd., was stranded at the side of the main road in Middle Watch, opposite the Particular Baptist Chapel. A short time ago the roadside grass bank at this point was removed, owing, it is said, to its being a cause of stumbling to worshippers at the chapel. The oil van, which was proceeding in the direction of the railway station, seems to have pulled on one side to allow another vehicle to pass, and in doing so the rear wheels ran off the hard metalled road on to the softer earth at the side, where they sank in deeply and the van came to a standstill. Plenty of helpers soon came to the scene, the van was unloaded as far as possible, and baulks of timber, jacks, levers, etc., were quickly produced, but despite all efforts the van could not be extricated. Shortly before 4 p.m. another determined effort was made to get the van out under its own engine power, and was nearly successful, but not quite. At this juncture another large oil van, belonging to the Anglo-American Oil Co., arrived, and chains being provided by Mr. Alfred Day, jun., the new arrival was attached to the derelict, and both engines being set to work a rescue was effected. Amongst others who rendered help were Mr. Ben Thorp, of the Swavesey Motor Garage, and his assistant, Mr. R. Godfrey, while Mr. George Mitham provided timber.

PARISH COUNCIL. 16th Sept. 1921

A special meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, and was attended by Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. J. S. Goad (vice-chairman), F. J. Beales, W. Burton, F. Norman, R. Norman, S. Prime, W. Twist and the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). The minutes of the previous meeting having been approved, the Clerk reported that the agreement between the Council and Mr. W. J. Hephher, in respect of the parish property in High-street, hired by the latter, had duly been signed. It was also reported that the four public ponds in the village had been satisfactorily cleaned out at a cost of £40 13s. 4d. A good deal of the mud had been carted away without a charge to the parish. A letter was read from the Clerk of the Swavesey Rural District Council, stating that that Council had appointed Messrs. F. Kirby, A. Day, sen., and Ingle Hemington to serve with the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Swavesey Parish Council as a committee to inspect and decide what action should be taken in regard to Navigation Drain, and asking the parish councillor's approval of the appointment of their Chairman and Vice-Chairman. After considerable discussion as to the usefulness, or otherwise, of Navigation Drain for drainage purposes, in which some difference of opinion was disclosed, Mr. Twist proposed that the Chairman and Vice-Chairman be empowered to act on the committee. Mr. R. Norman seconded and the resolution was carried unanimously.

OLD ENGLISH FAIR AND FETE AT SWAVESEY. 16th Sept. 1921

Successful Effort in Aid of War Memorial Hall Fund.

The Old English Fair and Fete in aid of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund (organised by the Fund Committee's Entertainments Sub-Committee) was held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon and evening in the Manor Field adjoining Swavesey Railway Station, by kind permission of Mr. A. Watts. The Sub-Committee consisted of Messrs. C. Wood, M.S.M., A. J. Willson, P. Godfrey, F. W. Pontefract, J. S. Goad, and G. Goad, and many helpers. As an instance of the difficulties that had to be surmounted, it may be mentioned that a long range of canvas-covered erections, in which the stalls, etc., were to be housed, was more or less blown down on Tuesday night, and this necessitated its removal from one side of the fairground to the other, which was carried out under the able generalship of Regtl.-Sergt.-Major T. C. Heasman, late R.F.A., the chief superintendent of the erections.

Dr. R. Ellis, Chairman of the War Memorial Hall Fund Committee declared the fair open, and in doing so reminded people that the subscription list to the fund was still open and in need of support. Although subscriptions already received amounted to a considerable sum, a still larger sum, he said, had been raised by means of entertainments, fetes, whist drives, etc.

During the afternoon and early evening the Cambridge Town Silver Band (Mr. A. E. Tucker conductor) played selections of music.

Business was brisk at the various stalls. The amusements included a Gipsy Camp; an Art Gallery; shooting gallery; darts; bran tubs; cokernut shies; hidden treasure hunt; football kicking; candle-lighting.

Many of the officials, stallkeepers, and entertainers were attired in fancy dress. During the afternoon there was a short variety entertainment under the management of the Misses E. Dodson and C. Goad, consisting of songs, a monologue, and a Charlie Chaplin impersonation by Mr. Eric Bloom. The attendance was good.

"The Swavesey Hippodrome," housed in a commodious marquee kindly lent by Mr. Dale, of Cambridge, gave two performances under the capable management of Mr. R. Barwell. The programme included "Mrs. Jarley's Waxworks."

Refreshments were served in a marquee. A second performance of the "Hippodrome" took place and later there was a balloon race. The tugs of war announced for 6 o'clock had to be abandoned owing to lack of entries. The day's entertainment was brought to a close with dancing to the strains of the Cambridge Town Silver Band.

ADVERT. 23rd Sept. 1921

Let us recommend you to join our Christmas Club. Pay in what amount you like; draw out what you like. – Canham's Stores.

SMALL HOLDERS' SOCIETY. 23rd Sept. 1921

A meeting of the Swavesey Small Holders' Society was held at the White Horse Inn on the 16th inst., Mr. J. Kester, jun., presiding. After an interesting address by Mr. A. Dennett, Agricultural Organisation Society, it was decided to commence trading in coal, feeding stuffs, etc. The proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to Mr. Dennett.

HOCKEY CLUB. 23rd Sept. 1921

At a meeting of the Swavesey and Over Ladies' Hockey Club, held at the National School on Tuesday evening, the following officers were reappointed for the ensuing season: - Captain, Miss J. Kirby; vice-captain, Miss D. Banks; secretary, Miss K. Banks; and it was arranged to start play on Thursday, 29th inst. Six new members were admitted, and others will be welcomed.

A RUNAWAY. 23rd Sept. 1921

A horse attached to a cart bolted in Middle Watch last Friday, and after running some distance collided with a telephone pole on the roadside near School Pond. The telephone wire was snapped by the impact, and the contents of the cart, packages of grocery, etc., were scattered all around. The horse broke free from the shafts, but did not get away owing to the reins. The axle of the cart, a rave, and a step were bent, and some of the harness was broken. A linesman being fortunately in the neighbourhood, the telephone wire was repaired very quickly.

LAST WEEK'S FAIR. 23rd Sept. 1921

Only four balloons could be released in the balloon race, owing to the non-arrival of a cylinder of gas from London. Nothing had been heard of any of them by Wednesday evening. As the gas has since come to hand, it has been arranged to bring off the balloon race at 6 p.m. to-morrow (Saturday), on the Recreation Ground. The Committee responsible for organising the Fair desire to thank most cordially everyone who helped in any way and contributed to the great success of the enterprise.

A LOSS TO SWAVESEY. 23rd Sept. 1921

Death of Mrs. W. C. Cole.

The village of Swavesey has sustained a heavy loss by the death on Saturday last of Mrs. Catherine Mary Cole, of "The Farm," Swavesey, widow of the late Mr. William Carter Cole. Mrs. Cole had been ill for about a year, and she passed away at Evelyn Nursing Home, Trumpington-road, Cambridge. Born at Longstanton, being the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Charles King, farmer, of that parish, she was connected with the district throughout her life. In Swavesey she always took the keenest interest in all social activities, and in connection with the Parish Church. During the war she was Assistant Quartermaster, and afterwards Quartermaster, of the Swavesey V.A.D. Hospital, and a member of the Swavesey District Food Control Committee. She was Chairman of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, and an active member of the Mothers' Union. In politics a staunch Conservative, she was a sub-warden of the Primrose League, and latterly chairman of the Swavesey Polling District Branch of the Women's Unionist Association. She is survived by an only son and two daughters, for whom sincere sympathy is felt.

THE FUNERAL.

A large congregation assembled at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon for the funeral. The cortege had to traverse the long village from end to end, and drawn blinds and other tokens of sorrow and respect were manifest throughout the sad journey from The Farm to the church. In waiting at the churchyard gate were the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar of Swavesey), the Rev. F. E. Herbert (vicar of Hemingford Abbots), and the surpliced choir. The body, enclosed in a polished oak coffin, was borne into the church, and later to the grave by employees on the Swavesey and Oakington farms. The service in church, which was fully choral, and at the graveside, was taken by the Vicar of Swavesey, and the Rev. F. E. Herbert read the lesson. Mrs. Cole was laid to rest in the flower-lined grave in which her husband was buried in May, 1916.

The immediate mourners were: Mr. C. W. H. Cole (son), Miss Cole and Miss M. Cole (daughters), Mr. A. E. King (brother), Mrs. F. Cole and Miss King (sisters) and Mr. and Mrs. H. Cole (cousins).

Many others were present, including representatives from the V. A. D., Cambs. 12, Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, the Mothers' Union and the Women's Unionist Association.

The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

OF TO INDIA. 30th Sept. 1921

Trooper Gamaliel Froment, son of Mr. Joseph Froment, Market-street, sailed from Southampton last Saturday with his regiment for India. He recently spent a month's furlough in the village.

CRACKING WALLS. 30th Sept. 1921

Several houses in Swavesey are showing serious cracks in consequence of the prolonged drought, and the fissures in the brickwork at the north end of the National School which have been in evidence for some years would now appear to have reached a stage worthy of the earnest attention of the trustees and managers.

FOOTBALL. 30th Sept. 1921

The Swavesey football eleven journeyed to Elsworth on Saturday for a friendly game, which resulted in a draw, three goals being captured by each team. Oakman, Brooks, and Canham scored for Swavesey.

REVISED TRAIN SERVICE. 30th Sept. 1921

On and from Monday next the train service at Swavesey station will be as follows: - Week-days – To Cambridge, 8.25 a.m., 9.59 a.m., 11.9 a.m., 1.46 p.m., 3.59 p.m., 6.17 p.m., 7.49 p.m.; To St. Ives, 7.18 a.m., 8.44 a.m., 10.49 a.m., 1.55 p.m., 4.34 p.m., 6.42 p.m., 7.48 p.m. Sundays – To Cambridge, 4.23 p.m.; to St. Ives, 5.41 p.m. It will be observed that the train to St. Ives due to leave Swavesey at 6.42 p.m. (Cambridge 6.18 p.m.), which was suspended some time ago, has been restored, and that the times of six other trains have been slightly altered.

LONG SERVICE. 30th Sept. 1921

Mr. John Savage, of Middle Watch, who was 64 years of age on the 20th instant, has been employed on Trinity College Farm during the whole of his working life of 55 years, and has served with only two farmers, the late Mr. T. W. Carter, and Mr. Robert Norman, the present tenant. On his birthday he was at work as usual, but on the following day, it is sad to relate, he was examined by a doctor, who told him that he must toil no longer, as, although he might not know it, he was seriously ill. Mr. Savage has the sincere sympathy of his fellow villagers, and it is their earnest hope that he may be restored to health.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 30th Sept. 1921

The erection of a dam at the river end of Navigation Drain has been commenced this week. It will be remembered that at the Parish council meeting on the 13th inst. a letter from the Clerk of the Swavesey Rural District Council was read, stating that that Council had appointed three of its members, Messrs. F. Kirby, A. Day, sen., and Ingle Hemington, to act with the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Parish Council as a committee to inspect and decide what action should be taken in regard to Navigation Drain. The blocking of this drain is being strongly criticised in the parish, many people maintaining that a most necessary outlet in case of flood is being done away with, and it is thought that before such an important step was decided upon the consent of the parish should have been obtained, or at least that the owners and occupiers of land specially affected should have been consulted. At the Parish Council meeting there was considerable divergence of opinion as to the usefulness or otherwise of the Drain for drainage purposes. One objection to the blockage is that if Navigation Drain is put out of action the only outlet for certain water will be through "the Dock," which, being the property of the Great Eastern Railway Company, could be stopped at any time. Other people live in hope that the day may not be far distant when it will be possible to transport goods, etc., to Swavesey, as in years gone by, by water, and when that day arrives Navigation Drain will be a necessity. A councillor at the last Parish Council meeting urged that useful work could be found for men out of employment during the coming winter by using them in clearing out the Drain.

BALLOON RACE. 30th Sept. 1921

The scene on the Recreation Ground last Saturday evening for the start of the miniature balloon race was most animated. The committee of management, Messrs. C. Wood, S. Godfrey, G. Goad, F. W. Pontefract and R. Barwell, were located on the cricket pitch, which is protected by a movable fence. The spectators, many of whom invested in balloons, lined the fenced-in area. In all one hundred and one balloons were sent up between 5.30 and 7.30 p.m. and to each was attached a stamped and addressed postcard, which the finder was requested to return, stating where the balloon was found. All balloons rose well and sailed away in a nearly cloudless sky in a south-westerly direction, that is to say, towards Bedford and Oxford, but according to the cards that have already been returned, their course must have changed from a south-westerly to an easterly or south-easterly. Four balloons landed in Germany. It is significant to note that every card returned from Germany bore a German postage stamp in addition to the British stamp. The final result of the race will be announced in about a fortnight's time.

ADVERTS. 7th Oct. 1921

Mrs. Stockbridge, of Swavesey, desires to thank her late husband's customers for their patronage during many years, and begs to inform them that she is continuing the business of Saddler and Harness Maker. All orders will be promptly attended to.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 7th Oct. 1921

At a meeting of the managers on Friday evening it was decided to carry out immediately certain temporary measures with a view to ensure the safety of the northern end of the main room, pending the consideration of a more comprehensive scheme of restoration. This week the brickwork above the large northern window has been removed.

HOCKEY CLUB. 7th Oct. 1921

A meeting was held in the National School on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of forming a mixed hockey club. Mr. Barwell presided over a large attendance. Mr. A. Herman was elected captain, Miss J. Kirby vice-captain, and Miss K. Banks secretary and treasurer. Miss D. Banks, Miss Goad, Mr. B. Johnson, and Mr. H. Ashby were also elected on the committee.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 7th Oct. 1921

The agitation against the dam which is being erected at the river end of the Navigation Drain by a Committee of the Swavesey Rural District Council is materialising. A requisition signed by more than the necessary number of parochial electors has been sent to the Chairman of the Parish Council, calling upon him to summon a parish meeting to afford the ratepayers an opportunity of publicly giving expression to their views on the subject.

COUNCIL HOUSES. 7th Oct. 1921

The first of the eight cottages erected in Swavesey by the Rural District Council under the Government housing scheme, has been occupied this week. Notices have recently been posted in the district inviting applications from persons who could undertake the duty of collecting the rents from the Council houses in Swavesey and Over, ten in all, the collector to be remunerated on a percentage basis. There are economists in Swavesey who are of opinion that a paid collector is an unnecessary expense at the present time, and that arrangements could be made for receiving the rents which would involve no deductions from the rents or cost, direct or indirect, to the ratepayers.

WHIST DRIVE. 7th Oct. 1921

The first of the series of whist drives which are being arranged for the winter months by the Entertainments Sub-Committee for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund took place at the National School on Wednesday evening. Twenty-two tables were occupied, and the prizes were won as follows: Ladies, Mrs. Hayward, Miss G. Goad, Mrs. Smart; gentlemen, Messrs. G. Oakman, F. Day, Mr. T. Daintree. Mr. George Goad acted as M.C.

BALLOON RACE. 7th Oct. 1921

Three more of the postcards which were attached to balloons sent up in the miniature balloon race on Sept. 24th have been returned to Swavesey since last Friday. One card announced that Mr. Topham's balloon fell at Boxford, Suffolk. The other two cards came back from Germany reporting that Mr. Frank Aldred's balloon had dropped in a potato field at Hagendieringhausen, Westfalen, and that Miss K. Banks' second balloon had been found on 30th September at Kohlhausen, Heesen-Nassau. Sixteen of the 101 balloons that were despatched have been accounted for down to the present, six of which are known to have reached Germany.

OBITUARY. 7th Oct. 1921

After a long and painful illness, borne with great fortitude, Mr. Joseph Stockbridge, the well-known Swavesey harness maker and saddler, passed away on Saturday night at his home in Wallman's-lane. He is survived by his wife, an invalid, for whom much sympathy is felt, three sons, the youngest of whom Staff-Sergt. (Saddler) Fred Stockbridge, R.F.A., is lying ill in hospital at Constantinople, and three daughters. Mr. Stockbridge was born at Gamlingay 69 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. Peter Stockbridge of that parish. When 22 years of age he migrated to Swavesey, where he commenced business on his own account as harness maker and saddler – a business he carried out until his death 47 years later. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Parish Church, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, vicar, officiating. The immediate mourners were Mr. W. Stockbridge, Gransden (son), Miss E. Stockbridge (daughter) and Mr. and Mrs. Wagstaff and Mr and Mrs. A. Rose (daughters and sons-in-law). Mr. J. Stockbridge, eldest son, was unable to be present owing to urgent business. The coffin was of polished elm. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham.

FOOTBALL. 14th Oct. 1921

Swavesey footballers sustained their second defeat of the season in the Histon and District league last Saturday, when entertaining Bourn, and the visitors captured three goals to Swavesey's one. F. Causer scored for Swavesey.

LADIES WORKING PARTY. 14th Oct. 1921

At a meeting in the National School on Wednesday evening of ladies interested in the Working Party whose labours in the past have resulted in substantial contributions to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, it was decided to hold working meetings every Wednesday afternoon during the winter months in a room in Mr. Prime Godfrey's house, generously lent by that gentleman. The first meeting is to take place on Wednesday next at 2 p.m. New members will be heartily welcomed, and Miss M. Cole, hon. secretary, and Miss G. Dodson, treasurer, will be glad to furnish information, and, it is needless to add, will gratefully receive contributions in money and materials from those who cannot join the party as active members, but are desirous of assisting the Memorial Fund.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 14th Oct. 1921

Harvest thanksgiving services were held at the Parish Church on Thursday in last week and again on Sunday, the church being nicely decorated with flowers, fruit, corn, etc. A good congregation was present at Evensong on Thursday. The sermon was preached by the Rev. C. R. Caffry, Precentor of the Cathedral Church, Bury St. Edmund's. On Sunday afternoon there was a children's service, to which the young ones brought gifts of fruit and flowers, to be sent to St. Ives Infirmary. The collections on Thursday and on Sunday morning were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the offerings of fruit vegetables, etc., other than the children's, have been forwarded.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 14th Oct. 1921

The Chairman of the Swavesey Parish Council has given notice that a Parish Meeting will be held in the National School on Monday, October 17th, at 7 p.m., "for the purpose of hearing any suggestions on the work done by the Rural District Council in the Navigation Drain." It may, however, be pointed out that the six, or more, parochial electors at whose request the meeting has been summoned, stated in their letter to the Chairman that they wished the meeting to be called in order "to protest against the action of the Rural District Council in erecting a dam at the end of the Navigation Drain, near the River Ouse," and they expressed no desire either to hear or to make suggestions on the work done in the drain. It is understood that down to the present the making of the dam is the only work done in the drain. As it is most desirable that the question whether the dam should remain or should be removed should be definitely settled one way or the other without delay, every ratepayer of the parish interested in the matter should attend Monday's meeting. On the one hand the District Council Committee may be able to prove that the fears of the objectors to the dam are groundless and that their scheme will save the ratepayers heavy expenditure. On the other hand suggestions may be made that would be of great assistance to the committee.

B.W.T.A. 21st Oct. 1921

Members of the Swavesey branch, British Women's Temperance Association, held a meeting, preceded by a tea, at Bethel Chapel on the 13th inst. Mrs. Ussher presided, and the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher gave an address.

BALLOON RACE. 21st Oct. 1921

The result of the miniature balloon race was announced on Wednesday, viz.: 1st prize, Miss Kathleen Banks (second balloon), 2nd Mr. H. G. Key and Miss Queenie Spolton (equal), 3 Mr. Frank Aldred. All of these balloons reached Germany.

ACCIDENT. 21st Oct. 1921

Leslie Peppercorn, aged 11, only son of Mr. James Peppercorn, Gibraltar-lane, is lying in Addenbrooke's Hospital suffering from serious injury to his eye, caused by a flying fragment of a gun cap. Shortly after 1.30 p.m. on Friday last a lad of 15 was striking gun caps with a hammer on the iron railing at the National School. The noise of the explosions attracted other boys, one of whom was Leslie Peppercorn, who was standing about six yards away when struck. He was at once taken home by the older lad, and, after attention by the district nurse, his parents obtained a pony and light cart and set out for the hospital. Before they had gone many yards something went wrong with the harness, and the cart tipped up and the whole party were thrown out into the road. The pony bolted a short distance. Rather than risk a further mishap, the boy was conveyed to Cambridge by the 3.59 train. On Wednesday he was reported to be progressing satisfactorily. Leslie Peppercorn has been most unfortunate, for on Easter Monday, 1920, his left hand was crushed in a cake-breaking machine and he lost the fingers on that hand.

WEDDING. 21st Oct. 1921

A wedding of considerable local interest was solemnised at Frimley, Surrey, Parish Church on the 12th inst., when Mr. Samuel Furniss Mitham, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Mitham, sen., of Swavesey, and Miss Emma Ellen Mann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mann, of Stoke-by-Nayland, Suffolk, were married in the presence of many relatives and friends. The Rev. H. J. Stone, assisted by the Rev. W. Basset (rector of Frimley) officiated. The bride, who wore a navy blue costume and grey hat, and carried a bouquet of cream roses, was given away by her cousin, Mr. Basil Southgate, and was attended by one bridesmaid, her cousin, Miss Queenie Southgate, in navy blue with blue velour hat, and carrying a bouquet of pale pink carnations. Mr. Ernest J. Mitham, the bridegroom's eldest brother, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Southgate, The Bakery, Frimley, and later the happy couple left for Bournemouth for the honeymoon. The wedding presents were numerous and useful. The bridegroom "did his bit" in the war. Joining the Royal Engineers on November 4th 1914, he went to France on June 12th, 1915, and there he served until on March 25th, 1918, when attached to the 51st (Highland) Division he was taken prisoner. His captivity was mainly spent in a coal mine at Dortmund, and his experiences were unpleasant and painful, and his health suffered. At the Armistice he obtained his freedom, and on his arrival in Swavesey on December 5th, 1918, he received a hearty welcome.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 21st Oct. 1921

An important and largely attended parish meeting was held at the National School on Monday evening. It had been called on the requisition of about a dozen parochial electors "to protest against the action of the Rural District Council in erecting a dam at the end of Navigation Drain, near the River Ouse." The dam, it may be observed, had been authorised by a committee appointed by the District Council (Messrs. F. Kirby, A. Day, I. Hemington, District Councillors, and the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Parish Council), who were empowered "to inspect and decide what action should be taken with reference to the drain." Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Parish Council, presided, and in his opening remarks, after detailing the circumstances in which the committee had been appointed, said that it was only after a good deal of discussion that the committee had unanimously come to the decision that the best plan of dealing with Navigation Drain was by means of a dam. He explained the discrepancy between the wording of the requisition and the notice calling the meeting was due to a misunderstanding between the Clerk and himself, and he was grateful to the "Independent Press" for having called attention to the discrepancy. Mr. Herbert Wilderspin opened the attack by emphatically declaring that the committee had done wrong, and that the building of the dam was the worst bit of work ever done in Swavesey. Drains were a necessity, and none ought to be blocked, besides that, Navigation Drain might be needed for transport purposes before long. The discussion was continued by Messrs. H. Hovell, W. Parish, W. H. Key, C. H. Parish, Dr. Ellis, Messrs. Walter Thorp, D. Williams, J. Kester, jun., and A.

Payne, all of whom condemned the dam, maintained that the drain was a public waterway, and generally criticised the action of the District Council and the committee. Mr. Alfred Watts, an Over resident with land in Swavesey, held that the drain had been provided for navigation purposes, and that it was a great mistake to say that it is a drain or waterway. It had not been cut by the Dutch Fen drainers, and never had been a waterway. Mr. A. Day championed the committee and the District Council, and stoutly maintained that they had done, and were still doing, the right thing in regard to the complex drains of Swavesey. Mr. R. Mitham, who in addition to being Clerk of the Parish Council, is also a considerable owner and occupier of land in the flooded area, remarked that the District Council have full control over the drains, and that the Parish Council should not be blamed for what had been done. In his opinion the dam would stop flooding of Mow Fen Road and adjacent land. He gave interesting information respecting the Swavesey Enclosure Act of 1837, and the work of the Enclosure Commission between that date and 1841, and he reminded the meeting that before the Great Eastern Railway line was constructed in 1848, the only means of transport for corn, etc., was by road. In his opinion Navigation Drain was not intended for drainage purposes, as there was a bank on one side only. This statement was contradicted by Mr. Hovell. Mr. Mitham, continuing, admitted that an old waterway known as Barrow Ditch (Navigation Drain is now also called Barrow Brigg Ditch) was in existence before Navigation Drain was cut on practically the same course, and he read the following extract from the Swavesey "Award": "Navigation Drain. One public drain called the Navigation Drain, commencing at the north-east corner of an allotment to John Dodson and Philip Dodson, and proceeding in westward and north-westerly directions nearly on its ancient course between Mow Fen and Middle Fen to the River Ouse." Finally, he said he did not wish to express an opinion whether the dam would be of benefit to his own land or not, but he thought the District Council should have gone to the magistrates before putting in the dam. Mr. D. Williams inquired whether the District Council had the right to pass water through the "dock," which is the property of the Great Eastern Railway Co. The Chairman replied that he could not say. Mr. A. Day contended that people were under a delusion in regard to the dam, which was merely a continuation of the bank of Conington Brook, and he proceeded to deal with various complaints and requests respecting the drains that had been made at different times by occupiers of land, and he specified the steps that had been taken to meet the requirements of the complainants. After a long and occasionally irrelevant discussion, Mr. W. J. Hephner moved: "That the safety doors at the end of Navigation Drain be repaired and put in order, the drain be cleaned out, and the dam removed." Mr. Hovell seconded.

The Chairman asked Mr. Hepher if he was aware of the expense his resolution involved. Mr. Alfred Watts proposed as an amendment "that no action be taken until it is ascertained who is responsible for Navigation Drain." Mr. Charles Norman seconded. On the amendment being put to the meeting only Mr. A. Day voted in its favour, while practically every other parochial elector present voted for the resolution. The meeting, which had lasted for nearly two hours, was then declared closed. Mr. John Evison, the local candidate for the Ouse Drainage Board, was present, but not being a Swavesey elector, took no part in the proceedings.

A well-fought game resulted in the victory of the homesters by three goals to nil.

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th Oct. 1921

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening, and was attended by Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. F. J. Beales, W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, F. Norman, R. Norman, S. Prime, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). A considerable number of parishioners were also present, anxious no doubt to hear what decision the Rural District Council had come to in regard to the vexed question of the Navigation Drain. The minutes of the previous meeting having been signed, the Clerk reported that he had informed the Swavesey Rural District Council that the Parish Council had agreed to Messrs. A. Norman and J. S. Goad serving on the Committee appointed by the District Council to inspect and decide what action should be taken in regard to Navigation Drain, and that he had also sent the resolution respecting the drain which had been passed at the recent Parish Meeting to the District Council, with a covering letter. He read the following reply from the Clerk of the District Council: "St. Ives, Hunts, 22nd October, 1921. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Clerk to Parish Council, Swavesey. Dear sir, - Navigation Drain. I read your letter of the 19th inst. to the Council at their meeting yesterday, and was directed to remind you that the Navigation Drain has for a great number of years ceased to be used for the purpose for which it was originally made, namely, navigation purposes. The Council received an estimate for cleaning out the Drain at a cost of £7 per chain, and as there are about 40 chains this would entail a cost of about £280, and if the doors were repaired the cost of the same would be in addition. The water on that side has another and lower outlet into the river, and the dam in question has been put in order to prevent a back flow from the Conington water and to save the heavy expense of repairing the Navigation Drain and doors. Before taking any action in the matter the Council's representatives met the representatives appointed by your Council for the purpose, and the action that they have taken in the matter was taken with their approval, and was believed to be in the interests of the parish generally. - Yours faithfully (signed), Geo. D. Day, Clerk." (It will be observed that no mention is made in this letter of the parish meeting, or of the resolution passed practically unanimously at that meeting. The resolution requested that the safety doors at the end of Navigation Drain should be repaired, the drain cleaned out, and the dam removed.) The Chairman ruled that before the question of the Navigation Drain was discussed the first item on the agenda should be disposed of, viz., street lighting. This subject led to much debate, and eventually Mr. Beales proposed that the public street lamps in the village be lighted this winter. Mr. F. Norman moved an amendment that only alternate lamps be lighted. Neither resolution nor amendment found a seconder, so both fell through. Mr. Twist then proposed that the lamps be not lighted. Mr. Prime seconded, and on the resolution being put, was voted for by four councillors and was declared carried. During the discussion it transpired that some of the lamps and fittings are not in a condition to be used, and that to put the lighting of the village on a proper footing would involve heavy expense. Mr. Burton opened the discussion concerning the Navigation Drain by inquiring whether the District Council had decided to remove the dam. The Chairman replied that the letter did not say. Mr. Burton, continuing, said that the parish meeting requested the removal of the dam. Was the parish meeting to be ignored? The Chairman, replying to

Mr. Beales, said that the committee was still in existence, and he added that the dam had been put in as an experiment, and there was no intention of retaining it if it proved a failure. Personally he thought it would be successful. He complained that the committee had been accused of wasting money. He was one of the largest ratepayers in the parish, and his great aim was to save money, not waste it. Some of those who voted at the parish meeting, he observed parenthetically, were not ratepayers. Mr. Beales, in a somewhat lengthy speech, referred to various aspects of the question, and expressed the opinion that the committee should have approached the land agent of the Great Eastern Railway, who would no doubt have been able to give expert advice. Neither he (Mr. Beales) nor anyone else in Swavesey was authorised to speak for the G.E.R. He reminded the Council that the railway company was the largest ratepayer in the parish, and that its line had been flooded again and again, stopping and disorganising traffic. He had confidence in the committee and was sure that if they found they had made a mistake they would reconsider their line of action. He proposed a vote of confidence in the members of the Rural District Council and of the Swavesey Parish Council, who are acting as a committee in the matter of the Navigation Drain. The resolution was seconded by Mr. R. Norman and was carried. Messrs. Burton and Twist did not vote. Mr. Twist now asked whether the District Council had power to over-ride a parish meeting, and the Clerk replied that the District Council, having taken over the duties of the old Surveyors, had full control over the Drains. Mr. Burton thought that all that was necessary was to put the doors in order. The Chairman answered that they could not be repaired, whereupon Mr. Burton retorted, "Then why not put in a concrete wall and fob?" The Chairman assured the Council that the committee had done what they thought was best. Mr. F. Norman complained of unfair criticism to which the committee was subjected at the parish meeting, and Mr. Beales appealed to the parishioners generally for a little brotherly love. The Clerk expressed the opinion that if the owners and occupiers of the land affected found that the dam was a failure, they would send a petition to the District Council, who would doubtless remove the dam. The subject then dropped, and the Council passed on to a matter on which there was no difference of opinion. It was agreed that the case containing the Roll of Honour in the High-street should be re-varnished, etc., and on the proposal of Mrs. Twist, seconded by Mr. Prime, a vote of thanks to Miss Grace Froment for her voluntary services in dusting and cleaning the case every week was carried unanimously. Shortly before the meeting was declared closed Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis, who was in the audience, requested permission to ask the Chairman a question relating to the parish. The Chairman refused permission, and Dr. Ellis resumed his seat in silence.

Another parishioner then rose and handed to the Chairman a duly signed requisition for a parish meeting to be held at an early date. The Chairman vouchsafed no reply.

HOCKEY CLUB. 4th Nov. 1921

The first match of the season was played at Swavesey on Thursday, Oct. 27th, between the Cottenham and Swavesey teams. A very enjoyable game resulted in Swavesey being beaten by two goals to one.

A TESTIMONIAL. 4th Nov. 1921

Mr. James Taylor, who prior to his recent retirement had been verger at the parish church for nearly forty years, has been presented with a testimonial subscribed for by members of the congregation. The sum of £5 17s. 7d. was collected, and has been expended in useful articles of clothing, which were handed to Mr. Taylor last Saturday. He expressed his warm appreciation of the gift and of the kindly feeling that prompted it.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 4th Nov. 1921

At a special service at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the Sunday School, a most interesting address was given by Mrs. Mill (nee Miss Ethel Starte), who a few years ago was a well-known personality in Swavesey. Since leaving the village she has been engaged in missionary work on the Congo, and the subject of her lecture was missionary effort in those regions, particularly in relation to the family life of the natives. She mentioned that it was only within the last two years that the New Testament in the native dialect had been introduced, and that there are now a good number of native teachers, who after instruction in schools had been sent back to work in their own villages. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, presided, and there was a very good attendance. A collection was taken at the lecture on behalf of "Save the Children" Fund, which, with retiring collections at the other services on Sunday, amounted to £4 4s. 6d.

FOOTBALL. 4th Nov. 1921

SWAVESEY v. COMBERTON.

Played at Swavesey on Saturday. Swavesey lost by four goals to one. Canham scored the Swavesey goal.

HOCKEY. 11th Nov. 1921

The mixed team were at home to the Cam hockey team on Thursday, Nov. 3rd. Owing to bad weather, neither of the teams were in full force, but after a good game the Cambridge team won by 3 goals to 1.

SMALLHOLDERS' SOCIETY. 11th Nov. 1921

At a meeting of the Swavesey Smallholders' Society, held on Monday evening at the White Horse Inn, the Secretary reported that a horse and cart had been purchased, and that the business prospects of the society were favourable. Mr. A. Dennett, A.O.S., who was present, congratulated the society on the progress made.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. 11th Nov. 1921

A service of thanksgiving and memorial for those who were killed in action, or died of wounds or sickness during the Great War was held at the Parish Church on Sunday evening. Proper psalms and lessons were used, the hymns were appropriate to the occasion, and during the specially appointed prayers the names of the 26 men of Swavesey who had made the supreme sacrifice were recited. An address was given by the Vicar, and before the Blessing the "Last Post" and the "Reveille" were sounded by a bugler stationed at the west end of the church. In the churchyard a large wreath of laurel and rosemary rested against the foot of the memorial cross, and around the base were white flowers from the relatives of the fallen.

PARISH MEETING. 11th Nov. 1921

For the further consideration of the question of the blocking of Navigation Drain by the Swavesey Rural District Council, a parish meeting, called on the requisition of parochial electors, was held in the National School on Tuesday evening. A large number of parishioners attended the first meeting of protest on the 17th ulto., but a still larger number was present on Tuesday, and at times the proceedings were decidedly animated. Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman of the Parish Council) presided, and was supported by Mr. R. Mitham (the Clerk). Amongst the audience was Mr. R. Mailer, who represents the Swavesey district on the County Council, and is also a district councillor. He is, however, not on the committee which was appointed by the District Council "to inspect and decide what action should be taken in regard to Navigation Drain." The only members of that committee present at the meeting were the Chairman (Mr. A. Norman) and Mr. A. Day, a district councillor. After the minutes of the last meeting had been signed, the Clerk read the letter from the Clerk of the District Council, which was read at the Parish Council meeting on the 25th ulto., and was given in the "Independent Press" on 28th ulto. The Chairman begged that parishioners would not indulge in personalities as at the last meeting, and with emphasis he declared that the committee had acted as they thought best for the interests of the parish in the circumstances. Mr. C. Wood, referring to the letter from the District Council, asked whether Navigation Drain was a public water-course before it was cut for navigation purposes. The Clerk quoted from the Swavesey Award, and admitted that there was an ancient ditch called Barrow Drain. (Later in the meeting he said that Barrow Drain was a public drain.) Mr. Wood, continuing, suggested that the District Council Clerk had been misinformed when he stated in his letter that the drain had been cut for navigational purposes. Had the District Council any legal authority to block a right of way? The Clerk replied that he was not in a position to answer the question. Ald. Dr. Ellis then took up the attack. He spoke, he said, on behalf of those parishioners who had very strong opinions on the subject, but could not give adequate expression to them at meetings. Referring to the Local Government Act, 1884, he challenged the authority of the District Council to block a public watercourse. They had no more right to erect a dam across Navigation Drain than they had to place a gate across a highway. They had acted illegally. The Chairman, in reply, said the committee had not thought of doing anyone any harm, and if the Parish Council thought the dam would injure any person, they would reconsider their action. Give the dam a chance, he pleaded; it would be wanted if the drain was cleared out at any rate. The discussion was continued by Messrs. Hovell, Herbert Wilderspin, W. H. Key, P. S. Spring and C. H. Parish, all of whom were strongly opposed to the action of the District Council, and some reflected with much emphasis on the neglect of the rights of way generally in the parish by the District Council. Mr. A. Day defended the Council and the committee in a discursive speech, in course of which he said he wished to express his thanks to the Great Eastern Railway Company for the assistance rendered and the consideration shown when the tunnels under the railway line were being cleared out. He mentioned incidentally that the District Council derived its drainage authority from a special Act of Parliament passed years ago to deal with the drainage of Swavesey, but which had never been put into operation. Mr. R. Mitham, speaking in his private capacity, expressed qualified approval of the dam. He thought it should be given a trial, and if it proved a failure it could be removed. Mr. Wood maintained that the main point at issue was what right had the District Council to block the drain, and he suggested that if the legal course had been adopted there would have been little or no trouble. In reply to Mr. Frank Norman, who inquired whether the expense of putting Navigation Drain into order would fall on the six parishes comprising the district, or on Swavesey alone, the Chairman replied "On Swavesey alone," whereupon Mr. Hovell ejaculated, "Then why did six parishes pay for putting in the dam?" The following resolution was moved by Mr. W. H. Key: "That this meeting of the parochial electors of Swavesey is of opinion that the letter dated 22nd October, 1921, from the Clerk of the Swavesey Rural District Council to the Swavesey Parish Council, is no reply to the resolution passed at the parish meeting held on 17th October, 1921, and again requests the District Council to repair the safety doors at the river end of the Navigation Drain, to clear out the drain, and to remove the dam; that this meeting emphatically protests against the stopping of an ancient water-course by the District Council without the consent of the parish having previously been obtained; further, that this resolution be sent to the District Council without delay." Mr. H. Wilderspin seconded, and on being put to the meeting, the Chairman declared the resolution carried, 20 having voted in its favour and none against. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, proposed by Mr. C. Parish.

LANTERN LECTURE. 18th Nov. 1921

In aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, a lantern lecture, entitled "Across Canada," was given in the National School on the 10th inst. by Mr. Nigel Wilson, who could speak from personal knowledge of the Dominion. There was a fairly good attendance.

PRIZE FOR NEEDLEWORK. 18th Nov. 1921

Carrie Froment, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Froment, High-street, and a pupil of Swavesey National School, has been awarded a third prize with certificate in a needlework competition open to all England in connection with "The Watkin Needlework Scheme, 1921".

HOCKEY. 18th Nov. 1921

A match between the Huntingdon Grammar School girls' team and the Swavesey ladies' team was played at Huntingdon last Saturday, and resulted in a win for the home team by 8 goals to nil, after a very enjoyable though rather one-sided game. The visiting team were very kindly entertained to tea by the school, and afterwards danced and played games until it was time to make for the station.

NAVIGATION DRAIN. 18th Nov. 1921

A correspondent writes: In the controversy concerning Navigation Drain, I have neither heard, nor seen, any reference to the Ouse Drainage Board. Surely the Board has some sort of interest in the Swavesey drains, even if it has not control over them. I cannot, therefore, understand why the District Council did not consult the Board before putting in the dam, and thereby blocking an ancient water-course. The expert advice of the Board's engineer on the drainage side of the question ought to be of great value. The interference with a public right is, of course, another, and a most important point in the dispute, and should not be lost sight of.

ARMISTICE DAY. 18th Nov. 1921

Last Friday, the third anniversary of Armistice Day was duly observed in Swavesey. From early morn Union Jacks flanked the Roll of Honour in High-street, and beneath the base was hung a large wreath of laurel, rosemary and Flanders poppies. At the base of the Memorial Cross in the churchyard a similar wreath was placed, both being the work of Miss Pook. At the cross there were also two wreaths in memory of individual soldiers, one of whom, Pte. Joseph B. Parish, had died in France on Armistice Day, 1918, from wounds received in action a few days previously. The tenor bell of the Parish Church tolled twenty-six times at 11 a.m. – twenty-six Swavesey men made the supreme sacrifice – and a little band of ladies spent the few moments of silence within the church. There was no service, the only man present being the sexton tolling the bell. In the village the request that all work and movement should cease and that silence should prevail was almost universally obeyed. At the National School the children stood to attention in silence for two minutes, and then followed prayers and hymns and an address by the headmaster. Flanders poppies were sold in the village for the benefit of Earl Haig's Appeal by some of the older schoolgirls, but the supply, six dozen, was utterly inadequate, and every poppy was disposed of within a few minutes. Lord Haig's fund, however, benefited to the extent of £1 1s.

SWAVESEY STATIONMASTER'S PROMOTION. 18th Nov. 1921

Mr. F. J. Beales Appointed to Wisbech.

Mr. Frederick J. Beales, stationmaster at Swavesey, has been appointed stationmaster at Wisbech in succession to Mr. R. Thompson. Mr. Beales is no stranger to Wisbech, for a considerable portion of his railway life of 35 years has been spent at that town, and it is probably due to his great experience in dealing with the transport service there, especially during the fruit seasons, that his promotion to such an important centre is due. Mr. Beales belongs to an old railway family. His father, the late Mr. Isaac Beales, was a signalman at Audley End, and both his paternal and maternal grandfathers were in the G.E.R. service all their lives. His brother and other members of the family are in the same Company's employ at the present time. Mr. Beales entered the G.E.R. service at Saffron Walden in March, 1886, and amongst the shoal of congratulations he has received on his promotion, there is none he prizes more than that from the stationmaster at King's Lynn, under whom he started his railway career at Saffron Walden. After holding clerkships at Audley End (twice), King's Lynn, Newmarket, March, Haverhill, Hunstanton, and Wisbech, he was transferred in 1904 to the District Superintendent's staff, and, though he continued to reside at Wisbech, his duties took him to all parts of the district as relief stationmaster. During this period he had also the management of the fruit traffic at Wisbech, and while loyally working for the advantage of the railway, he never lost sight of the true interests of the growers, whose confidence he won. The industry increased by leaps and bounds, and from a comparatively small beginning developed to a wonderful extent. In April, 1915, Mr. Beales was appointed stationmaster at Swavesey in succession to the late Mr. William Perry. At Swavesey he has coped successfully with all the railway difficulties which have arisen in the last few troublous years, from the war and from subsequent untoward happenings, and has gained the confidence and respect of his staff and the customers of the Company.

Apart from the railway, Mr. Beales will be missed in the Swavesey district, for he has done much useful work for the community generally. His friends there, while heartily congratulating him on his well-earned promotion, sincerely regret his approaching departure. He served on the local Food Control Committee on the nomination of the Ministry of Food, and was also a member of the Profiteering Company. He was secretary of the Swavesey Rural District Fuel and Lighting Committee, and it was largely due to his energy and resourcefulness that the six parishes in the district were so well served with fuel. During the miners' strike he acted gratuitously as Emergency Coal Officer for the whole district, and for his services was formally thanked by the Rural District Council. Mr. Beales has rendered valuable services as a parish councillor, having at the election in April, 1919, been returned at the head of the poll, and he has been vice-chairman of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund Committee since its formation. Charitable enterprises of all kinds have found in him a sympathetic, generous and active helper.

SWAVESEY v. OVER HOTSPURS' RES.

The result of this match was a win for Swavesey by three goals to 1, Prime scoring all three goals for Swavesey.

ADVERTS. 25th Nov. 1921

Mr. Beales took up his new appointment as stationmaster at Wisbech on Monday, the 21st inst.

DISTRICT COUNCIL. 25th Nov. 1921

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: - It is understood that Mr. C. W. H. Cole, who succeeded the late Mr. J. L. Stanton in June, 1920, has ceased to be a member of the Swavesey Rural District Council, in consequence of non-attendance, and it is unfortunate that at the present time, when matters of supreme importance to Swavesey are being dealt with by the Council, that the parish should not be fully represented, especially as the other local representative is credited with being the author of the dam to the erection of which the majority of his fellow-parishioners strongly object as being an infringement of their rights. A report is current in the village that at last Friday's Council meeting the Chairman ruled that the question of the legality of the Council's action in erecting the dam could not be discussed, as the point was not mentioned in the resolution passed by the Parish Meeting on the 8th inst. This ruling seems rather strange to the lay mind, as the resolution contained an "emphatic protest against the stopping of an ancient watercourse without the consent of the parish having previously been obtained." It is also stated that only five councillors attended the meeting, three of whom are members of the committee whose action was condemned by the Parish Meeting, and whose decision in regard to the dam has been publicly announced to have been unanimous.

THE ROLL OF HONOUR. 2nd Dec. 1921

The Parish Council at their meeting on Tuesday, the 25th October, gave instructions for the case containing the Roll of Honour in High-street to be revarnished and otherwise attended to. It was hoped that this little job would have been completed before Armistice Day, but it has not yet been begun.

CONSERVATIVE GATHERING. 2nd Dec. 1921

A concert under the auspices of the Conservative Party in Swavesey Polling District was given in the National School on Thursday evening in last week by a concert party from Cambridge. During the interval Mr. W. de L. Devereux gave an address on current politics.

HAPPENINGS IN THE FOG. 2nd Dec. 1921

Several mishaps, none, fortunately, of a serious nature, occurred in the thick fog which enveloped Swavesey on Saturday night. Two youthful cyclists attempting, when near the school, to get out of one another's way, came into collision, and both narrowly escaped a ducking in the adjacent pond. Both youths were shaken by falling, and one went home with a bleeding nose and damaged machine. A farmer who had been visiting relatives at Church End had some difficulty in finding his bicycle, which he had left outside the house, and while groping for the machine struck his head with considerable violence against a brick wall, sustaining a cut face and nose. Earlier in the evening a party set out gaily for an evening's entertainment in Cambridge, but did not get far before they found themselves in the chapel pond. The driver refused to go any further, and so they went back home.

SUDDEN DEATH. 2nd Dec. 1921

The village was deeply shocked on Tuesday to learn that Miss Jane Webster had died suddenly. Miss Webster was 80 years of age, and lived alone in an old house which belonged to her in High-street, facing Market-street. Last week she had sold this house by auction, and was to have removed on Tuesday into a smaller house adjoining, also her own property. The sad discovery was made by Mr. Ernest Mitham, of Middle Watch, who called at 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday to assist in the removal of the furniture. Finding the back door half open, he called out, and receiving no answer walked into the kitchen. On looking round he discovered Miss Webster lying on a couch fully dressed, and a cursory examination was sufficient to show him that she was dead, having to all appearances passed peacefully away without the slightest struggle. As far as can be ascertained, Mr. Mitham was the last person who saw her alive when he called on Monday at noon to make arrangements for the following day's work. She then explained to him that she was not feeling well, but continued notwithstanding to busy herself in moving small articles from one house to the other. To Miss E. S. Eason, who had been helping her with her work during the morning, she also mentioned that she was feeling unwell, and wondered if she had hurt herself by lifting. Miss Eason left at 11.40 a.m. At 5 p.m. a lady knocked at the front door of the house, but failing to get an answer, went away, thinking that Miss Webster had gone out. In the kitchen on Tuesday morning the blind was found drawn down, but there were no signs of any lamp or candle having been lighted. The bed upstairs had not been slept in. Police-constable Breed was quickly on the scene, and Dr. Robert Ellis called in. The matter was reported to the Coroner, who decided that there was no need for an inquest. Miss Webster belonged to a very old Swavesey family, being a daughter of the late Mr. Robert Webster, farmer and inn-keeper. She was greatly respected in the village, and will long be remembered by many people for her unobtrusive acts of kindness.

OUSE DRAINAGE. 16th Dec. 1921

A correspondent writes: I am given to understand that three local bodies in Bedfordshire are considering the question of undertaking certain work in connection with the River Ouse between Olney and Bedford, and that if this work is done the upland water would come down faster, which would involve serious flooding in Huntingdonshire, and especially at St. Ives. What would affect St. Ives would also be likely to affect the Swavesey district. May I therefore ask if the local authorities who are responsible for the protection of our low-lying areas are taking any steps in the matter?

A FAITHFUL WORKER. 16th Dec. 1921

After two and a half months' painful and distressing illness, Mr. John Savage passed away during Wednesday night at his home in Middle Watch. Mr. Savage's life's record is a notable one, for the whole of his working life of 55 years was spent on Trinity College Farm, and during that long period he served with only two farmers, the late Mr. T. W. Carter and Mr. Robert Norman, the present tenant. On the 20th September last, his 64th birthday, he was at the farm as usual. On the following day, not having felt well for some time, he went to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he was told that he was seriously ill, and must work no longer. He returned home, and the fell disease from which he was suffering made rapid strides, and, as stated, he succumbed on Wednesday night.

SALE OF WORK AND CONCERT. 16th Dec. 1921

In aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, a sale of work, under the auspices of the Ladies' Working Party, was held at the National School on Tuesday afternoon. In addition to the new work stall, which was in charge of Mrs. J. S. Sharp, assisted by several ladies, Mrs. Cooke presided over a sweets stall, Mrs. Barwell another for Christmas cards, etc., and Miss Banks for pottery, including some quaint specimens of Swavesey pottery, manufactured by Master John Barwell, a ten-years-old craftsman. Excellent teas and refreshments were dispensed by Mrs. Cooksey and a band of willing helpers. Miss Beaumont ran a fish pond. There were two competitions, one of which for a cake given by Mrs. H. G. Key was won by Mrs. Cooke and Miss M. Ellis, who divided the spoil, and the other, for chocolates was taken by Miss Vera Williamson. At the close of the sale articles remaining unsold were disposed of by Dutch auction conducted by Mr. Nigel Wilson. A concert, under the management of Mr. N. Wilson, followed in the evening, and attracted a large and keenly appreciative audience. Every item in the programme was warmly applauded, and encores were the order of the day, or rather the evening. During the interval there was another Dutch auction of articles left from the sale, Mr. Barwell acting as salesman. It is understood that the day's venture has resulted in about £30 being handed over to the Church Repair Fund.

LETTER FROM AUSTRALIA. 16th Dec. 1921

The following extract from a letter, dated October 21st last, from Mr. Leonard Williams, of Brisbane, Queensland, will be of interest to some of our readers. Although Mr. Williams, who is the third son of the late Mr. John Williams, of Market-street, Swavesey, migrated to Australia ten years ago, he still takes a warm interest in all that concerns his native village, and is, moreover, an appreciative reader of the "Independent Press"; "As far as this country is concerned," he writes, "just at present, things are very quiet, and I expect it is the same over at home. There are a lot of unemployed out here, and I see by the papers that it is the same over there. They are still migrating people out here, but I do not personally advise anyone to come out here unless they have someone to come out to, as they will find it very hard to get a go on just now, as the labour troubles break out very often here, and they make things go very hard for those who do not know the ways to get the little things to get along with. Just at present the Queensland Government are in a happy mood, as they have floated a loan of something over two million in New York, but before that they were just about on their beam ends, and as you well know when the Government is up against it things are bad, although as you also know that every State has a separate Government, and that things are not quite so bad in other parts of Australia. Of course, it is getting summer-time now, and that makes things a little better, although taking things all round there does not seem any money about for any kind of big works that make for employment. Those who are in some kind of business are all right, as they can afford to wait a little while, and that is what they are doing, and in the meantime they have their money at so much per cent. in some bank for a sure return. I must say, in conclusion, that the labour unions must see their fault very soon, or they and also other people are going to see some trouble. I myself believe in the unions for what they in their proper place are meant for, and I sincerely hope that they will see their fault and work for the future, for the benefit of the country at large. There is one thing that helps them out here, and that is, we never get much cold weather, and that is a great help to all concerned at a time when things are so bad as they are at present, although honestly speaking, the Governments are so extravagant with other people's money that it makes one a little bit afraid what they are going to do next, and, what is worse, no one can say anything to stop them.

TO THE EDITOR. 16th Dec. 1921

Sir, - I hope you can find a corner in your paper for this letter about the agricultural wages. I think the farmers are doing too much to it, as the wages are going down a lot faster than foodstuffs and other necessities. I don't say they ought not to go down, but they want dealing out a bit fairer. The present standard rate of pay for a single man, who calls himself a man, is fair, for he has only his board and lodging to pay, but a married man with a family of five children earning nothing is in a very different position, with 4s. a week rent, 1½ cwts. of coal a week (3s. 9d.), 12½ quartern loaves of bread and half-a-stone of flour (6s. 10d), groceries, meat, clothes and boots to buy. Either the children will have to go to school ill-fed and badly shod, or the breadwinner will have to go to work hungry. There is many a working man to-day who deprives his own inside on purpose to let his children live, and in time he either falls ill for want of nourishment, or the children don't grow and develop as they should, and are grumbled at because they don't do enough work. - Yours, etc.,
"FAIR PLAY."

By their direction the village crier announced on Tuesday morning that a competition to guess the weight of a bullock had been arranged, that prizes would be given by Mr. Williamson and Mr. Page, and that the animal would be driven through the village during the afternoon. In due course, headed by the crier ringing the bell, the bullock perambulated the streets, accompanied by collectors, who recorded the names and competitors and received their entrance money. On Wednesday the bullock visited Over. The prizes offered were: 1st, 14lbs. of beef; 2nd, 9lbs. of beef; and 3rd, 5lbs. of beef. The first day's takings amounted to over £6.

The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Ernest Mitham, Middle Watch, Swavesey. Two football matches were to have been played in Swavesey last week-end, but only one was brought off. On Saturday a team from Needingworth were expected, and the Swavesey eleven waited long and anxiously, but no visitors appeared, nor did any explanation of their absence. On Monday afternoon Elsworth Rovers gave the home team a good game, and went back to Elsworth with four goals to one to their credit.

PARISH CHURCH. 30th Dec. 1921

The Parish Church was simply but effectively decorated with flowers and evergreens for the Christmas festival and the services on Christmas Day were well attended. Holy Communion was celebrated at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m. (choral). Matins was at 10.30 a.m., and Evensong with sermon by the Vicar at 6.30 p.m. Owing to the Vicar being unwell, he was assisted throughout the day by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. SUPPER. 30th Dec. 1921

The first annual supper of the Rising Sun Sick and Share-Out Club was held at the National School on Thursday evening in last week, and was attended by a full muster of members. An excellent repast was provided by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Heasman, of the Rising Sun Inn. Mr. Albert Payne, who presided, proposed a vote of thanks to the host and hostess, which was seconded by Mr. James Culpin. Mr. Heasman, in responding, announced that the club would start again on Saturday, January 7th. The rest of the evening was spent in social enjoyment and songs were sung by Messrs. S. Badcock, C. Wood, F. Brickwood, Giddings and E. Oakman, while Mr. Wood recited and Mr. Badcock presided at the piano.

For the joint benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund and the Parish Church Repair Fund, a variety entertainment was given by the Swavesey Hippodrome on the evening of Boxing Day, when the large room of the National School was filled to its utmost capacity. The programme opened with an historical pageant play, entitled "Boadicea," most excellently performed by the school children. The play was capitally mounted, and the dresses and properties, which were, it is understood, the work of the youngsters themselves, were quite appropriate and artistic. The chief characters were taken by Llewellyn Nicholson, Alice Heasman, Muriel Beales, Margaret Prior, and Harry Bishop. The audience showed their appreciation of the programme by enthusiastic applause. A comic wrestling bout by Alphonsi (Mr. P. Barwell) and Uglimugski (Mr. R. Banks) followed, and then Miss C. Goad, in Quaker garb, sang "The Quaker Girl." The curtain next rose to enable Mr. Has-been (Mr. Topham) to present Chocolate, the wild man (Mr. R. Godfrey) and Camelia Blot, the bearded lady (Mr. T. W. Thurlow), and the first part of the programme concluded with "'Arriet of 'Ampstead 'Eath," sung by Miss Elsie Dodson, attired as 'Arriet with feathers, hat and all complete. After the interval, "Watteau Bille," the magician (Mr. H. Ashby) gave a display of magic. Miss Marjorie Barwell and Mr. Topham warbled a duet, "Dear mamma," and danced; and then came Harry Tate's famous sketch, "Motoring," in which Mr. R. Barwell as the motorist, Mr. Topham (his son), Mr. S. F. Mitham (the chauffeur), with the assistance of a friend, an urchin, ladies and a policeman, showed what a motor car could not do, and extracted fun out of the process. The entertainment was repeated on Tuesday evening.

Twenty-one years of age when first appointed, the whole of his career as agent has been spent in the Swavesey district, and while regretting his retirement, his numerous friends hope that he many long be spared to enjoy his well-earned rest.

HELPING THE BLIND. 6th Jan. 1922

The result of the recent bullock guessing competition in aid of St. Dunstan's was announced last week-end. The actual weight of the bullock was 40 stone 5 lbs., and the first prize (14lbs. of beef, given by Mr. R. Williamson) was won by Mr. W. Mustill, whose guess of 40 stone 4lbs. was nearest. The second prize (9 lbs. of beef, given by Mr. C. Page) went to Miss Lucy Key (40st. 7lb.) The third prize (5lbs. beef, given by Mr. Page) was secured by Mrs. Hall (40st. 2lb). The competition realised £7, which has been sent to St. Dunstan's. Messrs. Pontefract, H. Prime, and T. W. Thurlow acted as collectors, and the bullock in its perambulation through the village was in charge of Messrs. A. C. Hepher and Joseph Linford.

WEDDING. 6th Jan. 1922

Mr. Percy James Beaumont, eldest son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, who was for 42 years the greatly respected headmaster of Swavesey National School, organist at the parish church, and local assessor and collector of income tax, and Mrs. Beaumont, of Swavesey, was married very quietly to Miss Elizabeth Rowbottom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Rowbottom, at Christ Church, Tunstall, Staffordshire, on December 28th. The Rev. A. T. Down, Vicar of St. Mary's, officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss L. Beaumont, the bridegroom's only sister. Mr. Arthur Beaumont, the bridegroom's youngest brother, was best man. The bride is well known in Swavesey, as she was the first nurse of the Swavesey, Over, and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, and during her period of service from November, 1919, to 31st December, 1920, won golden opinions by her kindness and the capable performance of her duties.

THE GALE. 6th Jan. 1922

During last week's gales poultry houses recently erected in the gardens of the new Council houses suffered disaster. One collapsed entirely, while another, which faced in one direction at night, was discovered next morning to be facing exactly the opposite way. Fortunately, the poultry escaped injury. Sheets of corrugated iron forming the roof of a builder's shed were carried a considerable distance by the wind to different parts of the gardens, and along iron bath put out to catch rain-water once travelled many yards until its mad career was stopped by the entrance gate, and a later disappearance led to its discovery in a ditch. A respected householder at Boxworth End lost his headgear one dark, blustery night, when on his way to a card party at a friend's house. Having searched in all directions without success, he groped his way to his friend's residence for assistance and a lamp. But so intense was the darkness that he could not find the house, and for a time wandered aimlessly, but probably not painlessly, amongst outbuildings, until at long last he found himself in one, some of the contents of which he recognised, and was able to take his bearings. With the aid of his host and a flash lamp, the hat was recovered, and the party settled down to a quiet rubber.

TEA. 6th Jan. 1922

For forty years or more it has been the custom to have an annual missionary tea during the Christmas Season, a kind of family party of members of the congregation of the parish church. This year's function was held in the National School on Wednesday evening, and was well attended. It is customary for a lecture on missionary effort, abroad or at home, to follow the tea, and this year's lecturer was the Rev. Walpole Sayers, Vicar of Burwell. Before the lecture, Mr. R. Barwell, the treasurer of the Parochial Church Council, explained the duplex envelope system of freewill offerings for church purposes, which had been brought into use in connection with the parish church during last year. Mr. Sayers' interesting lecture was divided into two parts. Firstly, he rapidly sketched the history of the church down to the beginning of Queen Victoria's reign, when the Additional Curates' Society, on behalf of which he was speaking, was established, and then he gave a brief outline of the growth of the society since its inception. The second part of the lecture, which was illustrated by lantern slides, manipulated by Mr. Barwell, dealt with the work of the people and of the church in Grimsby, where some 28 assistant clergy labour under the auspices of the society for which he was pleading. At the close the collection was taken which, with the proceeds of the tea, realised £4 5s.

HOCKEY. 13th Jan. 1922

The Swavesey mixed eleven were at home to the St. Ives "Incogniti" holiday team on Tuesday, when, after a fast and enjoyable game, the home team were beaten by six goals to four.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 13th Jan. 1922

The annual New Year's meetings were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday. There were special services in the afternoon and evening, at both of which Mr. Curtis, of Southill, Beds., preached, and between the services there was a public tea. The attendance was good, especially in the evening. The collections, etc., were in aid of the chapel funds.

HOCKEY. 13th Jan. 1922

At a meeting of the Swavesey Hockey Club on the 5th inst., Mr. B. Johnson was elected captain in the place of Mr. Herman, resigned, and at a further meeting on Monday a selection committee for picking match teams was formed, consisting of the Misses A. Norman, M. Parsons, J. Kirby, E. Parish and Mrs. Wood, with the Captain and Vice-Captain. It was decided to post all notices connected with the club on the School.

TREAT. 13th Jan. 1922

The children attending Bethel Sunday School had a very welcome treat on the 5th inst. After doing full justice to a sumptuous tea in the Chapel Schoolroom, they played games until 7 o'clock, when, with some of the parents and friends, they adjourned to the Chapel, where, to their great delight two Christmas trees were discovered, gay with lights, flags and dazzling ornaments, and heavily laden with gifts. The trees were greeted with rapturous applause, and the gifts – no child was forgotten – gave supreme satisfaction. When the trees had been relieved of their burdens, the happy party returned to the Schoolroom for further refreshments, and before going home the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, in proposing a vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the enjoyable evening, referred sympathetically to the absence of young Leslie Peppercorn, owing to a serious accident, by which he lost an eye and had had the sight of the other imperilled. He had, however, not been forgotten for his Christmas gift and share of other good things had been sent to him. The success of the entertainment was due to the Misses Ridley and Mrs. Isgrove, who collected money and gifts in kind for tea and trees, and, with the help of Miss A. Norman, dressed the trees, besides arranging and superintending the entertainment generally, and to Mr. H. S. Aldred (supt. of the Sunday School), Mrs. Ussher, Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. W. Coulson, Mrs. J. Day and Mrs. W. Savage, who assisted in various ways.

HOCKEY. 20th Jan. 1922

The Swavesey ladies' team played the Cam Ladies at Cambridge on Thursday in last week. Play was fast, keen and very even, the score at half-time being one all. The game looked like being a draw two all, but in the last three minutes the Cam scored again, bringing the total to three – two.

ENTERTAINMENT. 20th Jan. 1922

The concert arranged by Mr. Nigel Wilson, in aid of the Church Roof Repair Fund on Friday evening, was held under rather trying circumstances, as owing to the prevailing influenza epidemic both performers and audience were much reduced in numbers. However, those who did attend listened to a most enjoyable programme, several hearty encores being responded to. The following ladies and gentlemen took part: Miss C. Goad, Mr. R. Barwell, Mr. N. Wilson, Mr. E. Papworth, Mr. H. Topham and Mr. P. Ding. Mesdames Barwell, Ashby and Papworth kindly acted as accompanists.

OBITUARY. 20th Jan. 1922

By the death of Mrs. Susan Mitchell, widow of the late Mr. Joseph Mitchell, on Tuesday morning, Swavesey has lost a very old and most highly respected inhabitant. Although in her 90th year, Mrs. Mitchell, with faculties unimpaired, had been able to attend to her domestic duties, and even do her own washing until the last day of her life. She was about as usual on Sunday, but on Monday morning was unwell, and at 5 a.m. on Tuesday passed peacefully away in the cottage in Askew-row, in which she had lived for upwards of fifty years. Mrs. Mitchell was a native of Longstanton, being a daughter of a Mr. Bell, of that village, and she was married to Mr. Joseph Mitchell, of Swavesey, who died nearly half a century ago, leaving her with a young family, four of whom, three sons and a daughter, survive her.

SNOWSTORM. 20th Jan. 1922

About three o'clock on Sunday afternoon snow began to fall, and by Monday morning the land was covered to the depth of four inches, or thereabouts. The County Council snow plough was brought into use with commendable promptitude, and early on Monday the main road through the village was cleared for vehicular traffic. The accumulation of snow on the roof of the Parish church wrought havoc inside the building when a thaw set in on Monday; and if there are any people in Swavesey who have any doubt as to the urgent need for the repair of the roof, they would probably have had those doubts removed if they had paid a visit to their ancient church on Monday afternoon. Snow water had penetrated in copious showers through the old timbers of the roof, and had deluged the floor beneath and the seats, with their hassocks, cushions, books, etc. If the leakage had occurred during Sunday night's service a considerable portion of the congregation would have had to beat a hasty retreat, in order to escape a shower bath.

CONCERT. 27th Jan. 1922

“The Merrie Mummers” Concert Party from Cambridge paid a visit to Swavesey on Friday last, and gave a most enjoyable concert in the schools.

A CANADIAN MEMORIAL. 27th Jan. 1922

In Boswell, British Columbia, a hall has been erected as a memorial of the Great War and of the men who went out from Boswell to fight in it, two of whom, Henry Beaumont and W. Lawson Hephher, were natives of Swavesey. The former was reported missing, believed killed in action in France in April, 1915, and the latter, after serving with the Canadian forces, obtained a commission in the Royal Field Artillery, and won the Military Cross in October, 1918. The hall, which was opened with due ceremony on 20th December last, is built on a commanding site overlooking the Kootenay Lake, given by Mr. J. Johnstone, of Nelson, and is constructed of native cedar logs, peeled and dove-tailed together at the corners, and has inside measurements of 40ft. by 24 ft. The interior has been finished with stained boarding, and at one end is a sanctuary for divine services. The building is, however, also intended for other purposes, such as social gatherings, entertainments, educational lectures, etc. Upon the south wall is hung a framed collection of photographs of all the Boswell men who served in the war, and nearby is a temporary “In Memoriam” tablet enclosed in a massive oak frame, on which are inscribed the names of the nine men who made the supreme sacrifice. The cost of the materials used in building the hall was met by local subscriptions, and the whole of the work of construction was done voluntarily as a labour of love. At a memorial service which followed the opening ceremony, Mrs. Lawson Hephher acted as organist.

The Swavesey mixed hockey team played the Cambridge Town Mixed Club last Saturday on the Cherryhinton-road Polo Ground. Play was very even, both sides putting five ladies and six men in the field, but the game was rather slow owing to the muddy condition of the ground. Some good shots were, however, scored on both sides, and the game resulted in the Town scoring 6 goals to the villagers' 5 goals.

Lyon. The duties of M.C. were carried out by Mr. A. J. Willson.

SWAVESEY MAN'S SUDDEN DEATH. 3rd Feb. 1922

Found in Chair by Sick Wife's Bedside.

Mr. Charles Stocker, of Market-street, Swavesey, was found dead last Friday morning, the 27th January, in a chair at the foot of the bedside of his wife, who was ill, and with whom he had been sitting up. He was seen by neighbours late the previous evening, and, though he had complained of being unwell during the afternoon, he said he was then all right. Shortly after 7 o'clock on Friday morning Mr. B. Sutton, who lives in the next house, on crossing the joint yard, noticed that Mrs. Stocker was sitting on a chair just inside her back door, clad only in a nightdress and with a bag over her knees. In her hand was a broom with which she appeared to be trying to attract the attention of her neighbours. Mr. Sutton called Mrs. Wagstaffe, another neighbour, who went to Mrs. Stocker. Failing to get any explanation from Mrs. Stocker, and fearing something was amiss, Mrs. Wagstaffe went through the back room into the front room, in which was Mrs. Stocker's bed. Here she discovered Mr. Stocker leaning back in a chair as if asleep. He was facing the fireplace, with one foot resting on the fender. The fire was out, but a lamp on a table close by was alight. She summoned Mr. Sutton, who satisfied himself that Mr. Stocker was dead. Mrs. Stocker was unfortunately not in a condition either then or later to give any information as to what had happened during the night. She was at once carried into an adjoining house and put to bed. Police-constable Breed was immediately sent for, and he reported the matter to the Coroner, who decided that an inquest was not necessary, the death being obviously due to natural causes.

Mr. Stocker belonged to a very old Swavesey family, being a son of the late Mr. Thomas Cole Stocker, who died on 27th February, 1890. Strange to say, an older brother, Mr. Ephraim Stocker, died with tragic suddenness at Swavesey whilst at work for the Cambs. County Council, on the same day in 1920. Another brother, Mr. Thomas Stocker, a well-known Cambridge cabdriver, died on 26th March, 1921. In addition to his wife, Mr. Charles Stocker is survived by two sons and one daughter.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at Swavesey parish church, the Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) officiating. The chief mourners were: Mr. George Stocker and Mr. Charles Stocker (sons), Mrs. A. Roberts (daughter), Master P. Roberts (grandson), Mrs. E. Stocker (sister-in-law), Messrs. James Stocker (St. Ives), William Stocker, Bert Stocker, Cambridge, and John Stocker (nephews). The coffin, which was of polished elm, was borne to the grave by four of the deceased's fellow workers, employed by the Rural District Council in connection with the large drains of the district. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

OBITUARY. 10th Feb. 1922

Mrs. Charlotte Dodson, widow of the late Mr. Charles Dodson, died after a short illness on Tuesday night. She was 84 years of age.

THE VICAR. 10th Feb. 1922

Acting under doctor's orders, the Vicar of Swavesey, whose health for some time has been far from satisfactory, has gone away for a few weeks' rest and change.

WOMEN'S UNIONIST ASSOCIATION. 10th Feb. 1922

At a meeting of the Swavesey polling district branch of the Women's Unionist Association, held on the 2nd inst., Mrs. Cooke presiding, the following ladies were added to the committee: Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mrs. F. Hemington, Miss E. Dodson and Miss Banks. Amongst other business, a proposal that the Men's Conservative Club should be approached with the view of arranging a joint whist drive was considered.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 10th Feb. 1922

The Parochial Church Council met at the Vicarage on Thursday in last week, Mr. R. Barwell taking the chair, in the absence, through illness, of the Vicar. The leaking condition of the chancel roof of the church, repairs to which were ordered some time ago, was discussed, and Mr. Mitham was instructed to attend to the work without further delay. The Finance Committee presented the annual accounts, which were approved. An inventory of the church property, which had been prepared by Mrs. Cooksey, Miss Banks and Mr. Banks, was submitted, and on the suggestion of the churchwardens, it was agreed that the architect should be asked how soon after Easter it would be desirable to begin work on the main roof of the church.

RECREATION GROUND. 10th Feb. 1922

Some two or three years ago the Parish Council at the instigation of the late Mr. J. L. Stanton, went to considerable expense in levelling and relaying a cricket pitch on the recreation ground, and in providing a movable fence to protect from cattle the levelled space. The whole of the accumulated funds derived from the herbage rents of the ground were spent, but were not sufficient to pay the cost of the work, and it is understood the Council had to find more money to settle the bill. During the past few months many of the rails of the fence have been removed from the posts, and now lie about the ground, and nothing has been done to repair the turf which was damaged in last summer's cricket matches. Ratepayers are not unnaturally asking who is responsible for the neglect – the Parish council or the Swavesey Cricket Club.

A DRAINAGE QUESTION. 10th Feb. 1922

A report is current in the village that the overflow from the cesspools, which take the drainage from the newly-erected Council houses, either runs into, or is about to be run into, the open drain which passes close to the backs of the National School and neighbouring houses, and thence under the bridge in High-street, along the front of Turn Bridge Cottages. This open drain has in times past been the cause of unpleasant odours, and of numerous complaints, and some years ago the sewage of the High-street district which fell into it at the bridge was diverted at no small cost into pipes, with the view of abating the nuisance. But even this relief did not entirely remove all cause for complaint, and it is feared that if the overflow from the cesspools at the Council houses is allowed to enter the drain the odours arising therefrom will be as objectionable as in days gone by. The possibility of a nuisance would be minimised if there was a regular flow of water along the drain, but unfortunately, except in times of heavy rain or of flood, there is practically none.

FOOTBALL. 17th Feb. 1922

The game with Girton Reserves in the Histon and District Football league, which should have been played at Swavesey last Saturday, was scratched owing to the visitors being unable to run a team through illness. The Swavesey Boys' team met Cherryhinton Boys in a Cambs. S.S. League fixture on Saturday at Cherryhinton, and the game resulted in a draw of one goal each.

HOCKEY. 17th Feb. 1922

Two very good and enjoyable games have been played within the past few days. On the 9th inst. Swavesey visited Cottenham, and although they were one player short, owing to illness, succeeded in beating the home team by 4 – 3. Cottenham lent Swavesey a lady, who played in goal, and although only a beginner, saved several good shots. On Saturday a team which included several of the younger players journeyed to Willingham, where they were beaten by 4 – 0. No goals were scored until five minutes before time, and then Willingham made a spurt, scoring the four goals in quick succession. It was a very even and enjoyable game.

ANOTHER AGED INHABITANT DEAD. 17th Feb. 1922

The village has lost another very aged inhabitant – the third within the short space of about three weeks – by the death on Sunday afternoon of Mr. George Thorp, after a brief illness. Born in Swavesey on the 10th March, 1834, the son of the late Mr. William Thorp, farmer, he had nearly completed his 88th year. Migrating as a young man to London, he worked for many years for the Islington Vestry, afterwards the Islington Borough Council, until about twelve years ago, when he retired and returned to pass his remaining days in his native village; and here, unable to be idle, he devoted, until recently, much of his time to the care of the churchyard, tending the graves, and keeping the paths tidy – a labour of love, undertaken entirely on his own initiative. The funeral took place at the parish church yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

OBITUARY. 17th Feb. 1922

The funeral of the late Mrs. Charlotte Dodson, widow of the late Mr. Charles Dodson, whose death at the age of 84 years on the 7th inst. was briefly recorded last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The chief mourners were: Mr. John Dodson (son), Mrs. P. Ding, Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. D. Prime and Mrs. S. Gray (daughters), Mr. P. Ding and Mr. S. Gray, Cambridge (sons-in-law) Mrs. J. Dodson and Mrs. Hayden (daughters-in-law), Mr. C. Ding, Mrs. Chaddock, Mr. Albert Ding and Miss M. Ding (grandchildren), and Mr. Walter Thorp (nephew). The coffin was of polished elm. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

WAR MEMORIAL HALL. 17th Feb. 1922

A meeting of the General Committee of the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund was held at the National School on the 9th inst., when there were present: Dr. R. Ellis (chairman), Mr. C. Wood (hon.sec and treas.), Messrs. H. S. Aldred, J. Ansell, W. Burton, G. Goad, J. S. Goad, P. Godfrey, and A. J. Willson. Mr. Wood submitted a statement showing the present financial position of the Fund, from which it appeared that money in the bank (including interest) amounted to £569 15s. 7d., cash in Treasurer's hands £5 0s. 8½d., subscriptions promised, but not collected £29 17s., by Working Party and unsold goods £22, making a total of £626 13s. 2½d. It was resolved that the Building Sub-Committee should approach the architect with the view of obtaining an amended estimate, and that the building of the Hall should be begun, if possible, during the coming summer. The names of certain members of the Committee who had not attended meetings were removed, as it was taken that they had resigned, and their places were filled by the election of Messrs. F. Hayward, T. C. Heasman and F. W. Pontefract.

BILLIARDS. 24th Feb. 1922

The third round of the billiard tournament at the White Horse Inn for the benefit of St. Dunstan's is in progress this week, and it is hoped to play off the semi-final within a few days.

WHIST DRIVE. 24th Feb. 1922

Another whist drive, organised by the Entertainments Committee for the benefit of Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund, was brought off at the National School on Wednesday evening. Twenty tables were in play, and the prizes were won as follows: Ladies, Mrs. W. Hodson, Mrs. C. Wood, Miss A. Wilderspin; Gentlemen, Mr. Payne, Mr. Topham, Mr. H. Beales.

GALON'S CHARITY. 24th Feb. 1922

The feoffees of Galon's Charity met at the National School on the 15th inst. and passed the accounts for last year. Amongst other matters, it was decided that two new gates should be provided for the Scotland Charity land, adjoining the Huntingdon-road, and that two existing gates should be repaired. The feoffees accepted Mr. S. Challis's tender for the new gates, and instructed him to repair the other two. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided.

RETURNED FROM HOLLAND. 24th Feb. 1922

The card attached to a miniature balloon sent up by Mr. Harold Beales in the Swavesey balloon race last September has been returned within the past few days from Holland. The finder, P. Scherpenige, Weststraat, Oosterland, Zeeland, states that the balloon, which he is keeping as a souvenir, and the weather-stained card were picked up recently in a field at Dykblok, by Nieuwerkek, Holland. Several of the other balloons found their way to Germany.

ACCIDENT. 24th Feb. 1922

Bernard Parish, a County School boy, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Parish, was knocked down near the Turn Bridge, High-street, on Tuesday evening by a lad riding a bicycle, and was seriously injured. It would appear that three lads were cycling along the street, and young Parish, who was on foot, in avoiding two of them, came into collision with the third, who knocked him over, and, with his machine, fell on him. The injured boy was at once carried to his home close by, and Dr. Grove, of St. Ives, who was promptly in attendance, with his assistant, ascertained that a leg had been badly fractured just above the ankle. On Wednesday, on the advice of Dr. Grove, the patient was removed to Addenbrooke's hospital.

PARISH COUNCIL. 24th Feb. 1922

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on the 16th inst. There were present: Mr. J. S. Goad (Vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, R. Norman, S. Prime, and W. Twist, with the Clerk, (Mr. R. Mitham). The question of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. F. J. Beales arose out of the minutes of the previous meeting, and after some discussion it was unanimously resolved not to elect a fresh Councillor in view of the fact that the term of office of the present Council would expire in a few weeks. Messrs. C. J. Shepperson (the present constable), B. Hodson, J. J. Marriott, and Prime Godfrey were selected as suitable persons to act as parish constable during the ensuing year, and their names will be submitted to the Justices in Petty Sessions, and it was agreed that the constable's remuneration for the past year should be 35s., as hitherto, and that no deduction should be made on account of the land known as Constable's Rood. The Chairman inquired who was responsible for the cricket pitch fence on the Recreation Ground. The Clerk replied that he could not say. Whereupon the Chairman expressed the opinion that as the neglected condition of the fence had been called attention to in the "Independent Press", the local representative of that paper should ascertain who is responsible – a somewhat astounding suggestion considering that the Recreation Ground is the property of the Parish Council, and that the fence was erected by the present Council and was paid for out of a fund in the hands of the Council. Another matter, to which attention was directed in these columns some time ago, was then brought up by Mr. Burton, namely the pumps of the old village water supply. Mr. Burton proposed that the Black Horse-lane pump should be put in order at once, and that the cost of repairing three of the remaining pumps should be ascertained. He thought it desirable that the matter should be attended to before the Council went out of office. Mr. Twist seconded. Mr. Prime moved, and Mr. R. Norman seconded, an amendment that an estimate should be obtained of the cost of putting the four pumps in order, and that the value of the pump near Ramper-road, which it was not proposed to restore, should be ascertained. The amendment was carried and the six councillors present agreed to act as a committee to meet Messrs. Branson and Bagley, engineers, of Over, who it was proposed to employ.

The presentation was made by Mr. E. T. Druce,

The result was 4 – 2 in favour of Swavesey.

Ussher presided, and a number of solos, duets, and recitations were given by the younger members. During the evening an interesting address was given by the Rev. Allen Poole, of Willingham. DISTRICT COUNCIL. 24th March 1922

Messrs. Alfred Day, sen., farmer; Frank Hayward, signalman; Robert Norman, sen., farmer; and Charles Wood, schoolmaster, have been nominated as candidates to represent Swavesey on the Swavesey Rural District Council and St. Ives Board of Guardians. Mr. Day has, however, withdrawn. He was first elected a Guardian of the Poor for the parish in November, 1893, and has served on the District Council since its formation some 28 years ago. As Swavesey is entitled to only two representatives, if none of the other three candidates has withdrawn, a poll will take place on Monday, April 3rd. Down to Wednesday night no official notification that any candidates had been nominated had been exhibited in the village for the information of the electors, or if nominated, whether any of them had withdrawn, the only official notification, it is understood, being posted at the St. Ives Union Workhouse at Hemingford Grey, a village in another county and another rural district.

DISCHARGED. 31st March 1922

Owing, it is said, to shortage of funds, four Swavesey men, who have been employed for a considerable time by the Rural District Council in cleaning out the large drains in the district, have been informed that their services will not be required after to-day (Friday). One man has a wife and seven small children dependent on him.

SUMMER TIME. 31st March 1922

The only noteworthy incident in Swavesey in connection with the change from Greenwich time to summer time occurred at one of the places of worship, where the congregation on Sunday morning was kept waiting for a short space while a messenger went to remind the minister that the clocks had been advanced an hour since the previous night.

HOCKEY. 31st March 1922

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey team visited Cambridge on the 23rd inst., and played the fourth and last match for the season with the Cambridge Town Ladies. Swavesey played up well, especially considering that several of the players were in unaccustomed places on the field. The Town players, were, however, stronger, but Swavesey kept them busy, and after an enjoyable and well fought game the home team won with the score 7 – 2.

Twist, the old Councillors, who stood for re-election with Mr. J. Linford, were unsuccessful. Notwithstanding the bad weather, 249 of the 410 electors on the local government register recorded their votes.

REPRIEVED. 7th April 1922

It was announced last week that owing to shortness of funds, the services of four men who had been employed by the Rural District Council for a considerable time in cleaning out the large drains of the district would not be required after Friday. On that afternoon one of the men was informed that he could continue at work in consideration of the fact that he had a wife and seven small children dependent on him.

HOCKEY. 7th April 1922

The Swavesey ladies' hockey team visited Lilley's ladies at Cambridge on the 30th ult. Swavesey played well together and had most of the play for the first half, and at half-time led by six goals to two. For the rest of the game play was much more even, and though Swavesey was only able to score one more goal, the backs worked hard, and only let the opposing team through once more, bringing the score at the finish to 7 – 3 in favour of Swavesey.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 7th April 1922

Two delightful Thursday evenings have been spent with the young friends from the Band of Hope, who, under the leadership of Mrs. Aldred and Mrs. W. Savage, have provided a very pleasant entertainment. Very prettily the little ones rendered songs, recitations, and dialogues, and in the second part of the programme several of the elder boys presented an effective and instructive dialogue. The collections, for the Piano Fund, were respectively £1 10s. and £1 3s. It is hoped to hear the children again shortly.

PARISH COUNCIL. 7th April 1922

The last meeting of the Swavesey Parish Council, whose three years' term of office will expire in a few days, was held at the National School on the 30th ult. Mr. Arthur Norman presided, and the other Councillors present were Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. S. Goad, F. Norman, R. Norman, S. Prime, and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Arising out of the minutes, the Clerk reported that two of the pumps of the old water supply had been repaired, and that a pipe from another pump which it was not proposed to restore had been used in connection with the work. He read letters from the County Medical Officer, Dr. Robinson, who had raised the question whether the pumps might not be used by children, and said that he did not think he could regard favourably the re-opening of a polluted supply, and that he was consulting the Medical Officer of Health for the district on the subject. The Clerk added that he had informed Dr. Robinson, in reply to his first letter, that it was not intended that the pumps should be used for drinking purposes, but for stock. After considerable discussion, Mr. Goad proposed that Dr. Robinson be informed that a printed notice would be affixed to each pump, forbidding the use of the water for drinking purposes, and that the handles would be secured by locks. Mr. R. Norman seconded. Mr. Cole moved, and Mr. F. Norman seconded, an amendment that locks should not be provided. On being put to the vote, two voted for the amendment, and four for the resolution. All outstanding bills were submitted, and were ordered to be paid forthwith, and a precept on the overseers for £25 was issued. Before the meeting closed votes of thanks to the Chairman and Vice-Chairman were carried unanimously. Mr. Goad, in asking the Councillors to place on record their appreciation of Mr. A. Norman's conduct in the chair, observed that he had held the office for the last six years, and Mr. Twist, who seconded, warmly supported the proposer, and expressed the hope that Mr. Norman would be re-elected. The Chairman, in reply, assured the Councillors that it had been a pleasure to preside over their meetings. The Council, he believed, acted in a businesslike manner, and every member had done his duty. He referred sympathetically to the loss the Council and parish had sustained by the death of the late Mr. J. L. Stanton, and more recently by the removal of Mr. F. J. Beales, both of whom had done valuable work. Mr. Cole proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Goad, the Vice-Chairman, for his services to the parish and the Council, of which he had been a member since Parish Councils came into existence some 28 years ago. Mr. F. Norman seconded. Mr. Goad, in returning thanks, remarked that the Councillors had sometimes been a bit at variance, but had always ended good friends. His farewell was a final one, as he was not a candidate for re-election.

Swavesey Ladies' Hockey team were at home to Milton Ladies on April 6th. Although quite a new team, the visitors played a good game, and up to half-time had scored the only goal. After that Swavesey scored three in succession, Miss N. Parish shooting two and Miss B. Burling one.

PARISH COUNCIL ELECTION. 14th April 1922

By a slip of the pen, it was stated last week that Messrs. Burton and W. Twist, retiring members, were unsuccessful at the parish meeting on March 15th. They were the only old councillors out of the six who were candidates for re-election who were successful at the meeting. At the poll on April 3rd all of the six ex-councillors were elected, Mr. Burton being second and Mr. Twist sixth in the list.

BRITISH LEGION. 14th April 1922

A meeting was held in the schools, Swavesey, on April 4th, for the purpose of forming a branch of the British Legion in the village. Mr. Wright, the President of the Willingham branch, explained the object of the Legion to about 40 ex-Servicemen, and after his address it was decided to found a branch of the Legion in Swavesey, all the ex-Servicemen present signifying their intention of becoming members. The following officers were chosen: President, Rev. J. S. Sharp; chairman, Mr. R. Barwell; vice-chairman, Mr. A. J. Willson; secretary, Mr. T. Thurlow; treasurer, Mr. E. Williams; committee, Messrs. A. Prime, jun., M.M., C. Page, H. Prime, C. Wood, M.S.M., and C. Culpin. At a further meeting on April 11th it was decided to incorporate Lolworth, Boxworth, Fen Drayton, and Conington with the Swavesey branch, that the branch should be recognised as the Swavesey and District Branch, and that the representation of Swavesey on the committee should be reduced and one representative from each of the other villages, to be chosen by the villages concerned, should be added. About 50 members and representatives from Fen Drayton were present at the meeting, which adjourned until 8 p.m. on April 25th, when it is hoped that all members will attend, both from Swavesey and surrounding villages.

OBITUARY. 21st April 1922

Had she lived until the 17th of next month she would have attained the great age of four score years and ten. Her health began to fail about three years ago, and for the last five months she had been bedridden. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Cemetery at 2.30 p.m. on Monday next.

Company's assessments in the parish by 30 per cent., pending a decision in the matter. The G.E.R. Co. are large ratepayers in the parish.

HOCKEY. 21st April 1922

The Cam mixed hockey eleven from Cambridge visited Swavesey on Saturday. The high wind made playing hard, and the game was not very even, as the visitors had much the stronger team, but the homesters did their best, and had a good and enjoyable game, although they were beaten. Score: Cam 8, Swavesey 0.

WHIST DRIVE. 21st April 1922

In aid of the Swavesey war memorial hall fund, a whist drive was held at the National School on Monday evening. Twenty-three tables were in play, and prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Miss May Loades, Miss Gladys Holmes, Mrs. H. Culpin; gentlemen, Mr. S. Clark, Mr. P. Barwell, Mr. W. J. Hephher.

Dodson, while the tea and refreshment department was in the capable hands of Mrs. Cooksey and Mrs. Dean, who were assisted by Miss M. Cole, hon. sec. of the working party, and numerous other ladies.

PARISH CHURCH. 21st April 1922

The numerous services at the parish church on Good Friday and Easter Day were well attended. The "Three Hours" service on Good Friday was taken by the Rev. G. A. W. Wilkinson, Rector of Great Eversden. For the Easter festival the church was nicely decorated with an abundance of spring flowers, and at Evensong, notwithstanding the wet night, there was an exceptionally good congregation. The Vicar was assisted at the various services by his father, the Rev. C. Sharp, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey.

BRITISH LEGION. 21st April 1922

A meeting of the newly-formed Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion was held in the school on Tuesday evening, Mr. R. Barwell, chairman, presiding. After routine business had been transacted, it was resolved that five members should visit Boxworth, Conington, Fen Drayton and Lolworth, to explain the objects of the British Legion to ex-Service men in those villages, with the view of inducing them to join the branch. Nine new members were enrolled before the close of the meeting.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 21st April 1922

Preceded by a public tea, attended by upwards of 80 persons, Maxfield's sacred cantata, "The Old, Old Story," was given at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Good Friday evening, in the presence of a large audience, by the chapel choir, specially augmented for the occasion. The cantata was followed by a miscellaneous musical programme. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, presided. A collection was taken in aid of the church funds.

CHURCH WINDOW BROKEN. 21st April 1922

While attending to family graves in the south side of the churchyard on Saturday, Mr. Walter Thorp was startled by the loud report of a gun, and later, having occasion to go to the north side of the church, he found a crow that had been shot. He failed to notice whether any damage had been done, and took the bird home. On Sunday it was discovered that five small panes of glass in a large four-light window at the back of the organ in the north aisle had been smashed, and the lead work bulged inwards. A few bird's feathers were found, and also traces of blood, but no bird, and for a time the breakage was a somewhat disturbing mystery. On Tuesday, however, Mr. Thorp's discovery became known, and it was then clear that the damage had been caused by the jackdaw striking the window. But, who fired the shot that drove the bird into the window?

FOOTBALL. 21st April 1922

We have received the following communication signed "For the Committee, L. W. Ablett (capt.)": Re the paragraph in the Swavesey news about the football match with Wesley, Cambridge, on Saturday April 1st. The weather was awful, and the ground was in an unfit condition for football. Only five of our team turned up. The rest thought we should not play. Swavesey turned up, and we played them with five men, which, I should like to say, isn't a very discreditable performance. When a team is due to play us from the country, we always play, whether we have half a team or not. I should like to say we went over to Swavesey, but they knew nothing about it, as their secretary had forgotten all about it. As I have said, a 2 – 1 victory against half a team is not very convincing.

OBITUARY. 21st April 1922

Mr. David Prime, a G.E.R. foreman platelayer, who had been in bad health for some time, and latterly had suffered greatly, died on Easter Day at Hog Pasture Gate House, aged 50. He belonged to an old Swavesey family, being the third son of the late Mr. James Prime, and he leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters. Mr. Prime had been employed on the G.E.R. Permanent Way staff for 33 years, and for at least two-thirds of that time had been a foreman platelayer. Since a lad in his teens he had been an enthusiastic bell-ringer, and for a considerable period was leader of the Swavesey ringers. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. – Miss Eliza Prior, daughter of the late Mr. Philip Prior, of Swavesey, passed away in London on Saturday. Born in Swavesey 70 years ago, she spent the greater part of her adult life in London, but returned to her native village a few years since, and kept her mother's house until about six months ago, when, owing to failing health, she returned to London. She was buried at Bow Cemetery on Thursday. – Mrs. Susanna Jane Froment, wife of Mr. Charles Froment, who had been in ill-health for a long time, died at the residence of her daughter at Hartford, Huntingdon, on Wednesday. She was 71 years old. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Parish Church to-morrow (Saturday).

PARISH MEETING. 21st April 1922

The attendance at the annual parish meeting on the 13th inst. was rather better than had been the case of late years. In addition to the chairman (Mr. A. Norman) and the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham) four members of the old Parish Council and two recently-elected members of the new Council were present, with seven other parochial electors, a small proportion, it must be admitted, of the 410 electors on the local government register. Arising out of the minutes of a previous meeting, the Clerk read a letter from the Rural District Council respecting the dam at the river end of Navigation Drain. (The letter had already appeared in these columns in a report of a Parish Council meeting.) Mr. Hovell and Mr. C. Parish were of opinion that the letter was contradictory and misleading, and after some discussion a resolution, proposed by Mr. Hovell and seconded by Mr. Heasman, that the newly-elected Parish Council should take the letter into consideration, was carried. The Parish Council accounts for the years 1920-21 and 1921-22, and the Recreation Ground accounts for 1919-20, were submitted. Mr. Hovell asked whether the cricket pitch fence erected about three years ago had been put up to tender, and was told that the matter had been left in the hands of the parish councillors, one of whom had died and the other had left the parish. The Chairman, however, assured Mr. Hovell that the two councillors had made full inquiry as to cost, etc., before giving the work to the carpenter who had been employed. Mr.

Hovell also raised the question of the repair of two pumps of the old and condemned water supply, the cost of which was included in the Parish Council accounts. As, in accordance with District Council instructions, the pumps were to be kept locked, and the water only used for stock, they would not be available for the parish generally, and he therefore thought that those persons who would derive benefit from them should pay for their repair. Mr. Jethro Linford, who appeared to be of the same mind, declared that in his opinion the water from the old and condemned supply was very good and not at all injurious. The Clerk pointed out that any ratepayer who objected to the payment could attend at the next audit and there state their case. The reading of Galon's Charity accounts brought Mr. Hovell to the front once again with a complaint that although he had applied for a vacant allotment, the feoffees had not granted him one. Mr. Hovell's allegations led to somewhat animated rejoinders from Messrs. Twist and George Clarke, the two charity feoffees appointed by the Parish Council, until at length the Chairman interfered and peace was restored. Lastly, Mr. Hovell asked the Chairman to have the Award of the parish posted up on the parish property in High-street. This request quite upset the equanimity of the Clerk, and caused other parishioners to gasp for breath. It was explained to Mr. Hovell that the Award was contained in a very bulky volume, and that to post up a copy of it would involve heavy expense, and would, moreover, not be practicable. It then transpired that all Mr. Hovell wanted was a one-inch scale map of the parish. This modified request did not meet with favour and the meeting was declared at an end.

The chief mourners were: Mr. C. Froment (husband), Mrs. Whittaker (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark (daughter and son-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. J. Froment (cousins) and Mrs. Netherwood (aunt). Mr. R. Mitham (Swavesey) was the undertaker.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 28th April 1922

On Thursday evening, last week, about 30 children of the Band of Hope who had taken part in the series of entertainments for the piano fund sat down to a dainty and sumptuous tea, provided by Mrs. Arthur Norman, to whom a prettily worded vote of thanks was proposed by Miss Hilda Dodson, and seconded by Miss Connie Sweetland. After tea a successful entertainment was given in the chapel by the children, who had been well trained by Mrs. W. Savage. This brought a very happy session to an end, and £1 5s. 7d. was added to the fund.

HOCKEY. 28th April 1922

The last match of the season was played on Saturday, when the St. Ives mixed eleven visited Swavesey. It was a bad afternoon, a fine rain falling all the time, but not enough to hinder the game. Play was quick and fierce, there being several fast players on both sides. Goals at half-time were two all, and the play was even all over the field. During the second half St. Ives scored three more goals, and Swavesey only one, bringing the total to 5 – 3 in favour of St. Ives. The game was rough towards the finish, and although beaten the homesters were almost as strong as the visitors. St. Ives played seven men to Swavesey's six.

THE LATE MISS NEWMAN. 28th April 1922

On Monday afternoon the late Miss Mary Ann Newman, who, as reported last week, passed away in her 90th year, at the house of her sister in Swavesey on April 18th, was laid to rest in Swavesey Cemetery. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Chapel, conducted the service. The immediate mourners were: Mr. Harry Newman (brother), Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Pilgrim (sisters) and Mrs. George Newman (sister-in-law), Nurse Walters (Swavesey Nursing Association), and Miss Bell (matron of Addenbrooke's Hospital), where for 32 years Miss Newman had rendered devoted service, first as a nurse and later as sister in Victoria Ward. Mr. George Newman (brother) and Mr. Pilgrim (brother-in-law) were unable to attend owing to ill-health. The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. George Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

CHURCH MEETING. 28th April 1922

At the annual meeting of the parochial Church electors on Wednesday, the following appointments were made: Lay representatives, Diocesan and Ruridecanal Conferences: Church Council, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Sharp, Miss Beaumont, Messrs. G. J. Paine, and C. Wood; sidesmen, as last year, with the addition of Mr. F. Hemington. The Church accounts for 1921-22 were passed, and Mr. Wood submitted the Financial Committee's budget for the coming year. The Vicar, who presided, thanked the congregation for their support during the last twelve months, and after referring to the contemplated extensive repairs to the roof of the church, called upon Mr. E. E. Bowden, the architect in charge of the work, to make a statement. Mr. Bowden said that he hoped to make a start within the next two or three weeks, beginning at the eastern end of the nave, and taking two bars at a time. The beautiful roof was, he added, in a bad state. The Vicar said it ought to be known that when work on the south aisle roof had to be stopped in August, 1914, owing to the war, Mr. Bowden, before joining the Army, returned his fees. Mr. R. Mitham remarked that in his opinion Mr. Bowden had been the biggest supporter of the Repair Fund.

PARISH COUNCIL. 28th April 1922

The first meeting of the newly-elected Parish Council was held on Monday evening. There were present: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, W. Twist, and C. Wood, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). The following appointments were made: Chairman, Mr. A. Norman; vice-chairman, Mr. Wood; overseers, Messrs. P. Barton and W. Mustill. It was agreed that the whole of the Council should act as the Fire Engine Committee, that Messrs. Burton and Twist should continue to receive sparrows, and that the keys of the old water supply pumps should be for the present kept by the Clerk. Arising out of a resolution passed at the recent parish meeting, the question of the dam erected at the river end of Navigation Drain by the Rural District Council was exhaustively debated, and the following resolutions were carried: (1) "That the Swavesey Rural District Council be requested to remove the dam and repair the sluice doors, or put in a concrete wall with a self-acting fob to carry off flood water" – proposed by Mr. C. H. Parish, seconded by Mr. J. Linford. (2) "That the Swavesey Parish Council consider that Navigation Drain is a charge on the District Council, and will not take over the District Council's duties" – proposed by Mr. Wood, seconded by the Chairman. Mr. Wood called attention to the footpath by the side of Navigation Drain, which was, he said, blocked by barbed wire. In reply to the Chairman, the Clerk said that the path was under the control of the District Council. Mr. Linford was anxious to know whether there was a Street Lighting Committee. On his way to the meeting he had inspected the public lamps stored in High-street, and had found many of them broken and their condition generally a disgrace to the parish. It was a sin, he indignantly declared to "chuck away" all the money that had been spent on the lamps. Other councillors agreed that extensive repairs and renewals were necessary, though some of the lamps could be used again. The matter was allowed to drop for the present, and the meeting ended.

RAILWAYMAN'S BURIAL. 28th April 1922

Amidst many manifestations of sympathy and respect, the mortal remains of Mr. David Prime, a G.E.R. foreman platelayer and native of, and lifelong resident in, Swavesey, were laid to rest in Swavesey churchyard on the 20th inst. The bells of the church, where Mr. Prime had for years been a leading ringer, were pealing fully muffled as the procession, headed by railwaymen in uniform, slowly wended its way from Hog Pasture Gate House. At the entrance to the churchyard the Rev. J. S. Sharp (vicar) and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey were in waiting, and the coffin of polished elm was borne into the church by four members of the Swavesey permanent way staff, Messrs. H. Hovell (foreman), H. Wright, L. Webster, and S. Carrier. The first part of the service was taken by the Vicar, and at the graveside the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The immediate mourners were: Mrs. D. Prime (widow), Messrs. Charles, George and Stanley Prime, Misses Mary, Grace and Eva Prime (sons and daughters), Mr. Alfred Prime, sen. (brother), Mrs. S. Kester and Mrs. G. Hephher (sisters), and Mrs. A. Prime, sen., Mrs. C. Gray, Mrs. E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. P. Ding, Mr. G. Hephher and Mr. J. Hodson (brothers and sisters-in-law). (Very long list of mourners in newspaper) As the body was carried from the church to the grave, and again after the funeral the bells were rung half muffled. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

WHIST DRIVE. 5th May 1922

A successful whist drive was held in the National School on April 27th, in aid of the Swavesey Hockey Club, when 22 tables were played. Excellent refreshments and prizes were provided by members of the club, which benefited to the amount of £8 9s. 3½d. by the evening's entertainment. Prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies, Miss D. Hepher, Mrs. Walter Thorp, Miss Pook; gentlemen, Mr. L. Breed, Mr. H. Ashby, Mr. W. Thurbon; mystery prize, Mr. H. Holmes.

FOOTBALL. 5th May 1922

Swavesey entertained St. Ives Reserves on Tuesday evening, in the presence of a fairly large crowd of spectators, who were delighted to see the homesters hold the visiting team, and eventually score the first goal through J. Mustill. Well in the second half St. Ives responded, after many vigorous attempts. Play continued lively and fast, each end being visited frequently, and at the call of time each side had scored a goal. By request, an extra twenty minutes were played, during which J. Hall netted twice for Swavesey (once from a penalty).

WOMEN UNIONISTS. 5th May 1922

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and Fen Drayton branch of the Women's Unionist Association was held at the National School on Monday evening, Mrs. Cooke presiding over a fair attendance of members. Last year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand, were presented by the secretary and passed, and the following appointments for the ensuing 12 months were made: President, Mrs. Banks (subject to her acceptance of office); chairman, Mrs. Cooke; vice-chairman, Mrs. E. J. Warboys; treasurer, Mrs. Page; secretary, Mrs. C. Wood; committee, Mrs. W. F. Gleaves, Mrs. F. Hemington, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mrs. Walter Thorp, Misses D. Banks, L. Beaumont, and E. Dodson. The remaining business was of a routine character.

WEDDING. 5th May 1922

A marriage of considerable local interest was solemnised at Swavesey parish church on Tuesday morning, in the presence of many friends and neighbours, the bride being Miss Ellen Maud Prior, granddaughter of the late Mr. Thomas Prior, of Swavesey, and the bridegroom Mr. Hon Goodwin, son of the late Mr. Goodwin, of Audletts, near Nantwich, Cheshire. The Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (vicar) officiated. The bride, given away by her brother, Mr. James Prior, was charmingly attired in white taffeta silk with veil and orange blossom. In attendance upon her was one bridesmaid, Miss Louie Causer, in navy blue crepe de chine, trimmed with gold beads, and a black picture hat, trimmed with cream crepe de chine. Mr. Wilfred J. Nichols was best man. As the newly wedded couple left the church, and again during the afternoon, the bells of the parish church rang merrily. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was held at Stanton Vue, the residence of the bride's brother, and later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodwin left for London for the honeymoon. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

ORGAN RECITAL. 12th May 1922

An organ recital was given in the Swavesey Parish Church by Mr. Edmund V. Megson, of Cambridge, before a fairly large congregation on Wednesday evening. The programme, though light, was of an interesting character, the principal items being the Allegro from Schumann's Suite for Strings and Chant Seraphique (Rowland), the latter being well suited to the lighter stops of the organ. Mr. Megson had the assistance of Mr. A. H. Wilson, of Histon, bass vocalist. The collection, which was in aid of the church repair fund, realised £2.

THE DAM AND THE PUMPS. 12th May 1922

It is understood that the Swavesey Rural District Council at their meeting last Friday decided that the recently-erected dam at the river end of Navigation Drain should be raised so that it should be one foot higher than the banks on either side, and that it should be grassed down. This decision was arrived at in spite of resolutions protesting against the erection of the dam and requesting its removal passed by recent parish meetings, and a further resolution adopted by the Parish Council on April 24th, which, in addition to the removal of the dam, asked for the repair of the existing sluice doors, or the erection of a concrete wall with self-acting fob to carry off flood water. Five Parish Councillors out of the eight who were present voted for the resolution on April 24th, and none against, and one of the eight, who is also a District Councillor, was, it is said, the gentleman who moved the resolution on Friday to raise the dam, thus ignoring the Parish Council and the publicly-expressed wishes of the parish he was elected only a few weeks ago to represent. The District Council's decision was not unanimous, but those members who objected to the dam were not given an opportunity of voting against the proposal. It was held by speakers at the parish meetings that the unauthorised blocking of Navigation Drain, an ancient watercourse, constituted an infringement of the rights of the public, and that the District Council had no more authority to dam the drain than they had to erect a fence across a highway. Other matters dealt with by the District Council on Friday included the sewer in Market-street, which burst about a fortnight ago and is said to have since discharged its odoriferous contents into an adjacent pond, and the repair of the public clock at the National School, and it was resolved that the use of the pumps of the old water supply, which have recently been repaired by the Parish Council, should be prohibited except in times of drought, and then only for watering stock.

TERLINCTHUN CEMETERY. 19th May 1922

One Swavesey man, young Cyril G. Hephher, 7th East Yorks. Regiment, was buried in Terlincthun Cemetery, Wimereux, near Boulogne, where the King delivered his memorable address on Saturday at the conclusion of his pilgrimage to the British graveyards in Belgium and France. Private Hephher was seriously wounded in the thigh by shrapnel on September 20th, 1918, when, with a gallant heart, he went "over the top" for the first time, and he died in hospital at Wimereux on November 30th following.

A SWAVESEY MISSIONARY. 19th May 1922

Mr. Christopher Day, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Day, sen., Mill Farm, Swavesey, who has been in training for foreign missionary work, conducted the evening service at Bethel Chapel on Sunday, 7th inst., and preached an excellent sermon. Last Sunday evening he held an open-air service in Market-street, and gave an earnest address, bidding farewell to his fellow villagers. There was a good attendance. Mr. C. Day is leaving England immediately for Lisbon, preparatory to taking up mission work in West Africa.

WEDDING. 19th May 1922

A quiet wedding, but one of considerable local interest, took place at Willingham Parish Church on Monday afternoon, in the presence of many relatives and friends from Swavesey, Stetchworth, London and elsewhere, when Mr. James Cain, eldest son of the late Mr. Alfred Cain, was married to Miss Sarah A. Mitham, only daughter of the late Mr. James Mitham, of Stetchworth. Both bride and groom belong to old Swavesey families, and are natives of the parish. The Rev. C. H. Crossley, rector of Willingham, officiated. The bride, who was attended by her niece, Miss Marjorie Mitham, was given away by her brother, Mr. F. R. Mitham, of Kensal Rise, London, and Mr. Robinson Mitham, jun., M.M., was best man. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cain entertained their relatives and friends at their residence in Swavesey.

PARISH CHURCH. 19th May 1922

The services throughout Sunday last at the Parish Church were conducted by the Right Rev. Bishop Price, assistant bishop of the diocese and Archdeacon of Ely, who also preached at Matins and Evensong. At the latter service there was a very good congregation. The collections were on behalf of the Central Church Fund. On Monday a commencement was made with the work of repairing the roof of the nave of the church, the ancient timbers in which are in urgent need of thorough restoration. The work is being carried out under the immediate supervision of Mr. E. E. Bowden, of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, who has done much good work in connection with other old churches in the district, and with various ancient buildings elsewhere in the country.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 19th May 1922

The Rev. S. W. Hughes, of Westbourne-park, London, preached the anniversary sermons at Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 11th inst. to large congregations, which included many people from surrounding villages. A public tea, to which over 130 sat down, followed the service, and in the evening Mr. Hughes delivered another eloquent and inspiring sermon to an even larger congregation. The service closed with the Doxology. A liberal collection for the Church Funds of over £16 was taken. On his way from London Mr. Hughes met with a mishap near Baldock, through a back wheel of his motor car coming off owing to a faulty nut. Large mud guards, however, prevented a serious accident. A passing motor car brought Mr. Hughes to Cambridge, and he proceeded to Swavesey by taxi cab, arriving during the afternoon service.

THE WEEK'S THUNDERSTORMS. 26th May 1922

Post Office and House Struck by Lightning at Swavesey.

DAMAGE TO FRUIT CROPS.

After a day of oppressive heat a severe thunderstorm visited Swavesey on Monday afternoon, accompanied by hail of exceptionally large size. About 4 p.m. there was a very vivid flash of lightning, followed immediately by a terrific thunder clap. The Post Office in High-street and another house about 100 yards distant, over which telephone wires pass, were struck, apparently simultaneously. The noise inside the Post Office is described by the sub-postmaster as having resembled the explosion of a large gun, and both he and an old lady transacting business were much alarmed. The casing of a new lightning conductor inside the office, which was only installed last week, was forced from its fastening, and all the telephone instruments were thrown out of action, and the village was cut off telephonically and by telegraph from the outside world. A chimney at the other house, owned by Mr. W. J. Hephher, and occupied by Mr. Robert Hephher, was partly demolished, but beyond brick rubbish, soot, etc., falling down the chimney, no damage appears to have been done inside the house, though the occupants, who were at tea, were much alarmed. Some tiles on the roof were smashed. In a stable in the White Horse Inn yard on the opposite side of the street, Mr. Charles Savage and a horse were knocked down but neither man nor horse was injured.

The storm was over the neighbouring village of Over about 4.39 p.m., and the hail stones are reported as having been "something very extraordinary, such as had not before been seen by the oldest inhabitants," being lumps of ice of various shapes and sizes, some measuring 2½ inches in circumference. Some damage was done to windows and glass frames.

BRITISH LEGION. 26th May 1922

A meeting of the Swavesey and district branch of the British Legion was held in the National School on Wednesday evening, Mr. R. Barwell presiding. Mr. C. Wood was appointed to represent the branch in all questions relating to pensions, and it was decided that a further appeal should be made to ex-Service men in other villages in the district to join the branch.

DEATH OF LATE RESIDENT. 26th May 1922

Mr. Charles Smith (a native of Elsworth), who for 20 years carried on the business of blacksmith in High-street, Swavesey, until a few years ago he migrated to Pidley, Hunts., died on Sunday morning at Pidley, aged 69 years. He had suffered from a painful ailment for a considerable time. The funeral took place at Pidley on Wednesday. Mr. Smith leaves a widow and one daughter, an invalid.

GIRLS AT CRICKET. 26th May 1922

A keenly-contested game of cricket was played on Monday evening on Over village green between teams of Over and Swavesey girls. Scores: Over, 1st innings, 15, 2nd 46; Swavesey 1st innings 26, 2nd 39. The departure of the Swavesey party on their homeward cycle ride was marked by an unpleasant incident. A youth pelted one young lady with birds' eggs, which broke and bespattered her clothing.

ADVERTS. 2nd June 1922

A frequent remark heard in Canham's Stores this week. "I didn't know you sold so and so!" Our aim is to supply your many needs at the lowest possible prices. Chivers' Ginger Beer Powder, 3d. per packet, makes three gallons.

CYCLING EXTRAORDINARY. 2nd June 1922

A little boy, five years old or thereabouts, caused much amusement last Friday evening by riding his diminutive tricycle at top speed up and down a road in the village, and at the same time bowling an iron hoop with a stick. Following him on a still smaller tricycle was a sister younger in years, but of equal pluck and determination, and nearly equal skill.

LONG SERVICE. 2nd June 1922

After 48 years' service as a teacher in public elementary schools, 32 of which have been spent as mistress of the infants' department of Swavesey National School, Miss Laura Pook, is about to retire, owing to the operation of the age limit rules. Her old pupils, a very numerous company, not only in Swavesey and elsewhere in this country, but in far distant parts of the Empire, will unite in wishing that she may be blessed with good health, long to enjoy her well-earned rest.

THE FEAST. 2nd June 1922

The village feast, a hardly annual that had its origin possibly in Saxon times, has been held this week, and, although the attendance of show folk and their paraphernalia and of visitors fell short of that at some feasts in pre-war years, was quite a success. On Tuesday evening in particular Market-street was crowded with feasters bent on enjoying themselves, and Manning's roundabout, swings, shooting gallery, cocoa-nut shies, etc., and the various stalls were well patronised. Two cricket matches have been played. On Monday Swavesey Second XI had their colours lowered by Fen Drayton, a village small in size, but happy in the possession of cricketers of merit, but on Tuesday the home first XI inflicted an innings defeat on the first XI from the neighbouring village of Over. The services at the parish church on Sunday were bright and well attended, especially in the evening, when there was a large congregation.

WEDDING. 9th June 1922

NORMAN – STANTON

A marriage of considerable local interest, as the families of both bride and bridegroom are well-known in Swavesey, was solemnised on Saturday, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends, at Leytonstone Congregational Church, between Mr. Frank Norman, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norman, of Swavesey and Lolworth, and Miss Margaret Annie Stanton, elder daughter of Mr. Frederick Stanton, of Wanstead. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, Bethel Baptist Church, Swavesey, officiated. The bride was given away by her father. Her dress was of ivory satin charmeuse and georgette, pearl trimmed, with Honiton lace veil worn with silver leaves and orange blossoms. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a shower bouquet. In attendance were two bridesmaids, Miss M. Norman, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Muriel Stanton, sister of the bride, in powder blue georgette and silver, and carrying shower bouquets. Mr. Frederick Stanton, brother of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony, a reception, attended by upwards of 50 guests, was held in a marquee on the lawn at Dernelough, Grove Park, Wanstead, the residence of the bride's father, and later in the day the happy couple left for the honeymoon which is being spent in Jersey. The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful, and included a silver biscuit casket from the employees of Messrs. A. Norman and Son, a diamond scarf pin from the bride to the bridegroom, and an aquamarine brooch and a gold bracelet from the latter to the bridesmaids.

BOYS' CRICKET MATCH. 9th June 1922

A keenly-contested game of cricket between elevens of Swavesey and Over boys was played on the Recreation Ground on Wednesday evening, and was won by the homesters by an innings and 9 runs.

GIRLS AT CRICKET. 9th June 1922

The return cricket match between the girls of Swavesey and Over was played on Swavesey Recreation Ground last Friday evening and the young ladies of Swavesey were again victorious.

PUBLIC DRAINAGE. 9th June 1922

A correspondent suggests that before the Rural District Council spend more of the ratepayers' money on the sanitary drainage of the village, steps should be taken to ascertain whether the present sewerage system, which was only installed about 12 years ago, is likely to prove effective, when the blocked pipes have been cleared and the broken ones replaced.

PARTICULAR BAPTISTS. 9th June 1922

Attended by excellent congregations, the largest for some years, anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the special preacher being Mr. Calcott, of Coventry. Between the services there was a public tea in the chapel, at which a considerable number of people sat down. A good collection was taken.

ANNIVERSARY. 9th June 1922

Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School anniversary was kept on Sunday. Sermons were preached at the morning and evening services by the Rev. C. E. Sparrow, who also conducted a flower service in the afternoon, at which offerings of beautiful flowers were received. The flowers were subsequently sent to St. Ives Infirmary. Special hymns were sung throughout the day, Mr. J. W. Williams presiding at the organ. At the end of the evening service certificates awarded in connection with the recent Sunday School Union Scripture examination were presented by Mr. Sparrow to Doris Aldred, W. Parish, W. Godfrey, M. Prior, P. Willson, S. Daintree, D. Daintree, F. Coulson, K. Williams, and G. Day. All the services were well attended, especially that in the evening.

GARDEN FETE. 9th June 1922

The Swavesey, Over, and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association, which during its comparatively short life has increasingly proved its usefulness, benefited to the extent of £42 2s. by the garden fete held in the gardens of Swavesey Manor on 1st June, by kind permission of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. A similar fete last year realised about the same amount. The weather, though hot, was all that could be desired, and the well-trimmed lawns fringed with umbrageous trees and masses of lovely roses and other bright flowers, formed an ideal place for the enterprise. After the fete had been opened by Mrs. R. L. B. Oliver, the stalls soon were busily engaged. The new work and jumble stall was in charge of Mrs. Aldred and other ladies, the pound and produce stall of Mrs. Cooke and Mrs. Twist, and the sweet stall of Misses E. Dodson and M. Parsons, while the refreshment and tea department, which was largely patronised, was under the superintendence of Mr. Dean and several capable ladies. There were fourteen side-shows, too numerous to mention in detail, but all brought grist to the mill. One of the chief attractions was the baby show. The twenty-one entries were arranged in five groups, and the judge, Dr. Grove, St. Ives, who was assisted by Nurse Jacques, Willingham, awarded the prizes as follows: - Gerald Wayman (Group 1), Edward Adams (2), Muriel A. Peacock (3), Victor G. Leggett (4), Jessie Asplin (5), all of Over, and special prizes to Horace G. Careless and Brian Papworth, of Over, and Alfred J. Richardson and Albert G. Walker, of Swavesey. Only three competitors out of seven who entered put in an appearance for the fancy dress bicycle parade, namely, Mrs. Kemp, Fen Drayton, who as an Italian gipsy was allotted first place; a little girl as "Marguerite," and two Swavesey ladies representing the Red Cross in effective fashion, to whom a special prize was awarded. Half-hour concerts were given by Miss M. Cole and friends from Swavesey and Over, and two charming performances of Morris steps by eighteen young Swavesey girls, well trained by Miss Beaumont, deserve a special word of commendation, as also do the songs sung during the performances by two little girls, pupils of Miss Beaumont at Fen Drayton School. Miss Goad played the piano accompaniments. Two matters remain for attention, namely, that Messrs. Pontefract, Aldred, and Twist undertook the duty of keeping the gate, and that the officers and Committee of the Association are most grateful for, and thoroughly appreciate, the work done so willingly and unselfishly by all who helped in many different ways before, at, and after the fete.

PRESENTATION. 16th June 1922

Miss Laura Pook, who retired under the age limit rule on the 2nd inst., has this week been presented with a silver-mounted and engraved umbrella as a farewell testimonial from her late colleagues and teaching staff of Swavesey National School. Commencing as a pupil teacher at Oatlands Park School, Weybridge, Miss Pook has been engaged in scholastic work for 48 years. She held temporary posts at Brighton and Cheam, Surrey, was headmistress at Bovington, Herts. (6½ years), and Handborough, Oxon (5 years), and in February, 1890, she went to Swavesey, where for 15 or 16 years she was headmistress of the Infants' School until it was merged with the mixed school, and she became an assistant teacher, with charge of the infants. For fifteen months during the war, in the absence of the headmaster, she had charge of the whole school, until Mr. George Hicks was appointed temporary headmaster. All the pupil teachers were taught by her until they went to the "Centre", and for her work in this respect she was commended by H.M. Inspector of Schools. In various other ways Miss Pook has rendered valuable service, especially in connection with the Parish Church, and for the last five years has been local secretary of the National Savings scheme.

FORTHCOMING GARDEN FETE. 16th June 1922

During the afternoon and evening of next Thursday a garden fete will be held in the grounds of Swavesey Vicarage. A brass band has been engaged, amusements, side shows, etc., have been arranged, and dramatic performances will be given at 3.30 and 6 p.m. Teas and refreshments will be provided, and there are to be stalls for the sale of new work, jumble, produce and sweets. From 8 to 10 p.m. dancing will take place on the lawn, during which light refreshments will be obtainable. The fete will be opened at 2.30 p.m. by the Master of Jesus College, Cambridge. Admission 6d., children half-price. The object of the fete is to augment the Parish Church Repair Fund, the present claim on which is the beautiful nave roof, which is in urgent need of extensive repairs, involving a heavy expenditure. Few persons after an inspection of the roof, could fail to appreciate the necessity of the work and the uselessness of further patching. They would see wall plates practically reduced to dust, tie-beams decayed at the ends, though sound elsewhere, the ridge piece completely eaten through in places, principal rafters so rotted away that they do not reach the walls, jack legs decayed and off their corbels, and so forth. The carved bosses of the ridge piece and purlins, the quaint beauties of which have been hidden by dust and cobwebs, are fortunately in good condition. The tie-beam nest to the chancel is thickly pitted with slugs and shot, the result apparently of a method adopted in the past of exterminating bats. The church is one of the largest in the county and is a fine old building in the Early English and Perpendicular styles. The nave roof which is 75 feet in length, and has a span of 18 feet 6 inches, is of considerably later date, probably the 16th or early 17th century. Some portions of the roof in other parts of the church are older. A considerable amount of repairs to the building generally has been undertaken of recent years, until the outbreak of war put an end to operations for the time being, and about £800 has already been spent on the work.

DEPREDATING MAGPIES. 23rd June 1922

It is not generally known that magpies and jackdaws will kill, and sometimes take away, chickens several weeks old. Last Sunday at least eleven chickens were killed at Mr. Barwell's Swavesey Poultry Farm by a marauding magpie.

THE ROOT OF THE EVIL. 23rd June 1922

It has been authoritatively ascertained that the damage to the timber in the roof of Swavesey parish church, now under repair, has been caused by the xestobium tessaliatum, the same wood-boring grub which has worked havoc in the roof of Westminster Hall and the woodwork of Hampton Court and other old buildings in this country. A specimen of the argas vespertilomis, which appears to be a parasitic tic found on bats, has also been discovered in the Swavesey roof. The church was at one time infested with bats.

PARISH COUNCIL. 30th June 1922

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Monday evening, and there were present: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C.W.H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, C. Parish, S. Prime, W. Twist, C. Wood, and the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. The Clerk reported that he had sent the resolutions passed at the last meeting relative to the navigation drain and the recently-erected dam, to the District Council, and that he had received a reply, which he read, that the District Council did not see their way at present to comply with the Parish Council's request, but might re-consider the matter at some future date. Mr. Wood called attention to the wording of the resolutions in the Clerk's letter to the District Council, which he said differed from the wording of the resolutions as adopted. The Clerk pleaded that he thought "the sense was the same." The Chairman said that the resolutions should have been forwarded as passed by the Council. The following appointments were made: Mr. Twist to be a feoffee of Galon's Charity (re-elected), Mr. H. S. Aldred to be a school manager (re-elected), Mr. Wood to be local hon. librarian of the proposed County Library, with Mrs. Ussher, Messrs. H. S. Aldred, P. Godfrey and C. Parish as a Committee, and Messrs. Barton, Parish and Wood to be Parish Council representatives on the War Memorial Hall Fund Committee. Permission was granted for Mrs. General Bramwell Booth to hold a meeting on the Recreation Ground on August Bank Holiday. It was agreed that Mr. W. J. Hephner should be warned that he may be required in a short time to vacate the land and premises in High Street which are required for the erection of the War Memorial Hall. The Clerk was instructed to repair the stile and plank bridge leading from the Recreation Ground, and it was decided that the keys of the Black Horse pump should be kept by Mr. Wood and the keys of Middle Watch pump by Mr. R. Norman. At the request of Mr. Linford, the question of providing a new storage place for the public street lamps was ordered to be included in the agenda for the next meeting.

GARDEN FETE AT SWAVESEY. 30th June 1922

To raise money for the repair of the roof of Swavesey parish church, a garden fete was held in the Vicarage grounds on June 22nd, and in spite of dull and threatening weather a financial success has to be recorded. The attendance of visitors was not as good as it would have been if the day had been brighter, and some of the stalls did not dispose of the whole of their goods, but the gross takings amounted to £96 8s. 10d., and after deducting expenses, the satisfactory sum of £83 has been handed to the treasurer of the fund.

As the living of Swavesey is in the patronage of Jesus College, Cambridge, it was fitting that the fete should be opened by Mr. A. Gray, Master of the College, who was accompanied by Mrs. Gray, to whom a bouquet was presented by little Miss Helen Sharp. The Vicar, supported by members of the Church Council, and the architect, Mr. E. E. Bowden, introduced Mr. Gray, who briefly, effectively, and with quiet humour pleaded for generous support of the fund to repair their fine old church. The burden cast on the parishioners he admitted was heavy, and he asked them to bear it manfully. He told the story, already known to some of his audience through the medium of these columns, of the 18th century vicar, or curate, of Swavesey, Dr. Richard Farmer, Master of Emmanuel College, who in common with most, if not all, of the vicars of that time, lived in Cambridge and only visited the village on Sundays. Dr. Farmer, it is recorded, after the morning service was wont to repair to the publichouse for a mutton chop and potatoes, and after reading prayers in the afternoon, to return to the inn for punch, pipes and tobacco with a few of the principal farmers until six o'clock, when he mounted his horse Taffy and went back to Cambridge. Mr. Gray thought that this worthy cleric, who by the way held several high preferments in the church, but drew the line at a bishopric, would have been surprised to hear of a fete for church restoration.

There were several stalls, viz., the Vicarage Working Party stalls (a) fancy, in charge of Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Barwell and Mrs. Cooke, (b) plain work, superintended by Miss C. Martin, Miss Willson and Mrs. Pettett; gift stall (Mrs. G. Burling), sweets (Misses Banks and Miss Parsons), jumble (Miss Pook, Mrs. Gilby and Mrs. E. J. Linford, jun.), produce (Mr. and Mrs.

Hayward), flowers (Miss Banks), refreshments and teas (Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Dean, and a host of helpers), strawberries, cream and ices (Miss E. Dodson). Mr. Bowden had an instructive exhibition of pieces of timber from the roof, which clearly showed the terrible havoc wrought by the wood boring pest, the Xestobium Tessallatum. Some of the quaint and beautifully carved bosses from the roof which, fortunately, have escaped damage, were on view, and in a glass-covered box there were specimens of the Xestobium Tessallatum, both the grub and the beetle. He had photographs showing the church under repair for sale, some of which were enclosed in frames made from oak from the roof. These latter somewhat inexplicably failed to find many purchasers, though they were not only interesting souvenirs, but were well worth the money asked for them.

The competitions, organised by Mr. Topham, did good business and brought in about £20. (List of competitions in newspaper)

In a spacious marquee performances were given of a humorous play, entitled "The Wrong Flat." The demand for admission to the second performance was so great that the tent was not large enough for all who desired to enter, so a third performance had to be given. The play was well acted by the Misses Goad, E. Dodson and Kirby, and Messrs. Thurlow, Topham, S. F. Mitham and Barwell. A critic, usually inclined to be captious, was heard to say that it was the best show of the kind he had seen in Swavesey.

During the day the band of the 5th Hunts. Battalion, Northants. Regt., played selections, and in the evening provided the music for the dancing on the lawn. The duties of gatekeeper were shared by Messrs. Banks and Wells (churchwardens), W. H. Key, W. Twist and J. Hodson. Mr. George Clarke acted as bellman and herald of events.

The Swavesey Rural District Council at their meeting on Friday decided to increase the wages of the men employed in connection with the large drains, from 25s. to 30s. a week.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 7th July 1922

Four out of the six scholars at Swavesey National School, who entered for the recent County Minor Scholarships examination, have passed the first part of the examination, viz.: John Wells, Wilfred Webster, Edwin Parish and Winnie Froment.

THE MAIN SEWER. 7th July 1922

Strange things, such as horns, hoofs and bones of animals are reported to have been found in the main sewer of the village, which was blocked from end to end with an accumulation of solid matter, and is now being cleared out. As at present there is no medical officer of health for the district, Dr. F. Robinson, the County Medical Officer, has inspected the drain, which was installed about thirteen years ago, and his report is expected very shortly. The District Council on Friday decided that the bottom of Thistledown Green open drain should be concreted for some distance, commencing at its junction with Turn Bridge drain.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 7th July 1922

A meeting of the Parochial Church Council was held at the Vicarage on June 29th, all members attending, with Mr. E. E. Bowden, the architect in charge of the repair work now in progress at the Parish Church. The Vicar presided. Mr. Bowden, submitted a report respecting the work that had been done, etc., and mentioned that up to date £193 had been spent, this sum including £54 the cost of "stock-in-trade," which will be sold on completion of the work. Mr. Barwell announced that after paying the £193 the balance in hand to the credit of the repair fund was £396, exclusive of the promises and the grants from the Diocesan Board of Finance not yet received. The Council decided that new ropes should be provided for the six bells of the church, that the clock in the tower, which has not struck the hours for some time, should be attended to, and that choir surplices, cassocks, etc., should be overhauled and replaced where needed. On the recommendation of the architect, it was also agreed that some system of ventilation for the benefit of the nave roof should be provided, through the clerestory windows, as economically as possible.

VICAR OF SWAVESEY. 14th July 1922

Appointed Rector of Elveden, Suffolk.

The Rev. John Selwyn Sharp, Vicar of Swavesey, has been presented by the Earl of Iveagh to the rectory of Elveden, Suffolk. Mr. Sharp was educated at St. John's Leatherhead, proceeding thence as a scholar to Jesus College, Cambridge, where he graduated with honours. Ordained in 1906, he was appointed to the curacy of Godalming, Surrey, under the Rev. G. C. Fanshawe, chaplain to Bishop Ryle, when Bishop of Exeter, and after five years at Godalming he went to East Greenwich. In 1912, on the presentation of Jesus College, Mr. Sharp became Vicar of Swavesey in succession to the Rev. A. C. Vidler, who had been appointed Rector of Tewin, Herts. During Mr. Sharp's ten years at Swavesey there have been times of trouble. A serious flood during harvest not long after his appointment was followed by the great Swavesey fire which devastated part of the village, and then came the war, and with other Swavesey men, the Vicar "did his bit," serving as a chaplain on the Western front. The noble old church, one of the largest in the county, he found in need of extensive repairs, and these, with persistent energy, not always appreciated by his people, he did his utmost to effect by raising the funds needed for the work. Much has been done, but much more remains to be done. Yet what has been done will remain a lasting memorial to Mr. Sharp's vicarate. Mr. Sharp does not propose to leave Swavesey before the end of September.

While waiting near Cambridge Post Office for an omnibus on Saturday, Mr. John Wilderspin, of High-street, had his pocket picked, and thereby lost his purse, which contained money, keys, and his return railway ticket, etc.

THE RECENT GALE. 14th July 1922

During last week's storm a tall elm tree near the school was uprooted, and fell by the side of Turn Bridge open drain, and a massive branch was torn from a large acacia in the National School yard. Considerable damage was also done to fruit trees and their fruit in the orchards.

THE ROYAL SHOW. 14th July 1922

One success was recorded for Swavesey at the Royal Show, Mr. R. Barwell, of Swavesey Poultry Farm, being awarded a third prize in the utility poultry class (Class 517) for a Rhode Island Red cockerel. 425 passengers were booked from Swavesey station to the Show.

WOMEN'S GUILD. 14th July 1922

By collections at the monthly services of the Women's Guild attached to the parish church, the sum of £6 2s. 1d. has been raised, and with this amount the members propose to buy a silver dish for use in the sanctuary. The Guild, which was established many years ago for the care and decoration of the church, has rendered much valuable service, not only by keeping the church and its appointments clean and tidy, but by providing various articles, such as a case for the altar frontals, under-felt for the sanctuary carpet, and so forth.

A VILLAGE PROBLEM. 14th July 1922

During last year's drought, when it was decided that the public ponds in the village should be cleaned out, the parish councillors were warned by their clerk that water might be troublesome in the Swan Pond, because that pond was fed by a spring, whereas the school and chapel ponds were not so supplied. No difficulty was, however, experienced, for the spring gave forth no water. For some time past, while the school and chapel ponds have been full, the Swan pond has had comparatively little water in it, and villagers are asking the reason why. It has been suggested that the pond has sprung a leak. If this is the case, where does the water go?

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET. 14th July 1922

An exciting game of cricket was played on the Recreation Ground on Monday evening, between teams of Swavesey and Longstanton schoolboys. Neither team was at full strength, for the visitors were able to put only seven boys into the field and Swavesey eight, but these 15 youngsters played the game in deadly earnest. Longstanton batted first, and knocked up 32. Swavesey replied with 21 (B. Kester 5). On going in again the visitors only managed to compile 15 against the homesters' 36 (W. Wright 9, H. Bishop 7). Swavesey, therefore, won by 10 runs. Sam Bishop, with a boundary that scattered the crowd of onlookers, crossed the road and reached the school, made the winning hit amidst vociferous applause. Harry Bishop, bowling for Swavesey, achieved the "hat trick."

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 21st July 1922

The managers of Swavesey National School have appointed Miss Eva Elizabeth Matthews West as assistant teacher in the school. The appointment is, however, subject to confirmation by the County Education Committee. Miss West has been on the teaching staffs at Shelton, Notts., Elsworth and Knapwell Schools.

SCHOOL TREATS. 21st July 1922

The children attending the Sunday Schools attached to the Parish Church and Bethel Baptist Chapel respectively, had their annual summer treats on July 13th. The day was dull and the clouds looked threatening, but fortunately the rain held off, and the young people spent a very happy time. The Parish Church scholars were entertained at the Vicarage. After an excellent tea on the lawn there were sports and games in an adjoining meadow, and also a cricket match. Mr. Barwell distributed sweets, and his quaint method of doing so led to an amusing scene, suggestive of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. Prizes were presented towards the close, and the treat ended with the singing of the National Anthem. The youngsters of Bethel Chapel began their treat at 2.30 p.m., with games in a field kindly lent by Mr. Jabez Day.

BOYS' CRICKET MATCH. 28th July 1922

Swavesey boys succeeded in beating a team of older and bigger Willingham lads on the Recreation Ground on Monday evening. Scores: Swavesey, 1st innings 14, 2nd innings 34 (B. Daintree 9, E. Thompson 7, S. Godfrey 6); Willingham, 1st innings 19 (C. Haddow 5), 2nd innings 14. H. Brooks and B. Daintree bowled well for Swavesey.

GIRLS AT CRICKET. 28th July 1922

Swavesey girl cricketers met with a severe reverse on July 20th, when they played a game with the girls of Needingworth on Swavesey Recreation Ground. The visitors, batting first, compiled the substantial total of 75 runs, to which Swavesey replied with 18, and having to follow on, fared no better, for they could only knock up 18. In Miss Payle Needingworth had an exceptionally effective bowler. The break she put on her balls was, it is said, worthy of a professional trundle.

OBITUARY. 28th July 1922

Mr. Frank Thorp died in Lewisham Hospital, London, on Friday night, after an operation. He was a native of Swavesey, being the eldest son of the late Mr. Samuel Thorp, butcher, of Wallman's-lane. When a young man he joined the Metropolitan Police, and rose to the rank of sub-divisional inspector, and at the time of his retirement a few years ago was in charge of the large and populous district of Stoke Newington. He leaves two sons and two daughters, one of whom is in India. His wife died three years ago.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 28th July 1922

A rally in connection with the local Primitive Methodist Circuit took place in the grounds of the Manor on the 20th inst., and afforded an excellent opportunity of welcoming the new Circuit minister, the Rev. H. P. Ellis. A meeting in the afternoon was followed by a tea, after which another meeting was held, under the presidency of Mr. J. Chapman. The speakers were the Revs. H. P. Ellis, H. T. N. Ussher, and Yaxley, Messrs. W. Fuller, and J. Hindes. Collections were taken on behalf of the Circuit funds.

LOCAL WEDDINGS. 28th July 1922

PEELING – COLE

At St. Andrew's parish church, Swavesey, on Wednesday, the marriage was solemnised of Miss Ella Gertrude Cole, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Carter Cole, of The Farm, Swavesey, and Mr. George Samuel Peeling, of Barton Mills, Mildenhall, Suffolk. There was a large attendance of relatives, friends and villagers. Owing to the roof of the nave being under repair, the service was held in the spacious south chantry, a portion of the church used as a side chapel, in which in all probability no marriage had taken place for centuries, if indeed at any time in the church's long history. The officiating clergy were the Rev. C. H. Lacon, rector of Barton Mills, the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, vicar of Swavesey, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The bride, given away by her brother, Mr. Charles W. H. Cole, wore a charming dress of ivory white georgette and silver lace, with black and silver grey hat. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her sister, Miss Mary Cole, who was in attendance, was attired in a frock of tangerine coloured crepe de chine, with bronze bead trimming, and a hat to match covered with nigger brown lace. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations, and she wore a gold and platinum brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. Francis Cole, the bride's aunt, was attired in a becoming black ratine silk dress, with blue and steel bead trimming, and black lace hat. She carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations. Mr. Percy Cuddeford, of London, was best man. As the congregation were assembling, the organist, Mr. G. H. Skeeles, played appropriate music, and during the signing of the register and when the happy couple left the church, the bridal chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The church bells rang merrily after the ceremony, and again during the afternoon.

The wedding breakfast, attended by upwards of 50 guests, was held in a marquee on the lawn at The Farm, which had been prettily decorated with rambler roses, and later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Peeling, the bride wearing a grey coat and skirt with hat to match, left by motor car to catch the 3.15 p.m. train at Cambridge, en route for London and Winchelsea, Sussex, where the honeymoon is being spent. The wedding presents, more than 80 in number, included a massive Sheffield plated tea tray from the staff at the Lion Hotel, Cambridge, a handsome china tea service from the commercial travellers staying at the Lion, and a cheque from Mr. Moore and other farmers.

The annual meeting of the Swavesey United Football Club was held at the National School on the 25th ult., Mr. G. E. Canham presiding. The years' accounts were presented, and showed a balance in hand of £4 3s. 7d. The following officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, Mr. R. Barwell, vice-presidents, Revs. J. F. Cooksey, H. T. N. Ussher, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Messrs. C. Banks, W. Mustill, A. L. Parish, C. W. Parish, Walter Thorp and L. Williams; captain, Mr. G. E. Canham; vice-captain, Mr. T. Savage; hon. secretary, Mr. C. Godfrey; assistant secretary, Mr. H. Holmes; committee, Messrs. G. Crouch, S. F. Mitham, A. P. Payne, F. Pontefract, A. Prime, jun., C. Savage, and G. Winter. It was decided that the first eleven should enter Division III of the Cambs. Junior League and the Minor Cup, and that friendly matches should be arranged for the second eleven.

A DRAINAGE QUESTION. 4th Aug. 1922

The drainage system adopted at the new Council houses in Swavesey is not only not a success, but is a very serious nuisance, and a probable danger to the residents in the neighbouring houses, the teachers and children at the National School, and the village generally. In theory the system is an excellent one, but in practice it does not work. Two dumb wells dug in gault have to take the whole of the drainage from the eight houses, four houses being allotted to each well. The authors of the scheme intended that the liquid drainage should soak into the soil, but the soil being gault, refuses to absorb the liquid, and the result has been disastrous. Three weeks ago one dumb well, which has been dug close to a large open public drain which runs by the side of the National School garden, and turning, crosses the main street, "blew" with a loud report, and gas and sewage of the foulest description gushed forth, poisoning the air and the latter flowing into the open drain, along which it rushed like a "bore". The vile smell has continued ever since. The other dumb well has also caused trouble, and is still far from satisfactory. It is understood that the Swavesey District Council discussed the drainage of their Swavesey houses last Friday, and that a suggestion was made that if pails were substituted for water closet, the nuisance would be minimised, if it did not disappear altogether. The councillors, it is said, did not feel that they could adopt the suggestion without the consent of the Ministry of Health, and they decided to lay the matter before the Ministry. In the meantime the nuisance continues, but doubtless the school managers will take action, in the interest of the children.

INQUEST. 11th Aug. 1922

Open Verdict Returned At Inquest on Man Killed on Line.

NO PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY.

The County Coroner (Col. A. J. Lyon) returned an open verdict at the inquest held on Saturday at Swavesey Station on Arthur Adams, of Over, who was killed upon the railway at Swavesey on Saturday. Mr. Adams leaves a widow and three children to mourn their loss.

The G.E.R. Co. were represented by Mr. F. Harradine, and Mr. T. Tagg, station-master.

Edward Adams, of Over, a small holder, identified deceased as his brother, who was a labourer, aged 47. Witness last saw him alive at 7.5 a.m. that morning, going to his holding. They discussed business and deceased was quite rational. Witness heard of the occurrence and came to the station and saw the body. Deceased had been under the doctor for illness caused by eating pork. He had not been strange in his mind, and had never threatened suicide. Witness did not expect that he would do anything of that sort. Barring that slight illness, he had nothing to worry him at all. His allotment was about 9 or 10 chains from the place of his death. Witness could not understand why he was on the line. There was, he believed, no public footpath there.

William Whybrow, of Over, a foreman plate-layer on the G.E.R., said he was working on the line about 10 to 12, about 200 yards from the Skew Bridge, on the up-side. He and the others saw a man come from the allotments, walking on the outside of the up-road towards them. When he saw them approaching him he turned back; he kept looking back, and at the time the down Midland had the signal. Just as the man got against the Skew Bridge he seemed to spring across the road into the front of the train, the down Midland. He was struck by the train, and was carried some yards. Witness and others went up to him, and saw him lying on the four-foot, cut to pieces, and quite dead. They took him out of the four-foot, and deceased was eventually removed. Ansell fetched the police. Witness knew the man, but not intimately. Witness had never seen him on the line before. He was almost certainly trespassing at that time. Witness did not know of any right of way where the deceased was walking. There was certainly none where the body lay. When he looked back witness thought deceased was looking at the train, which passed them. Deceased was about 200 yards from them when the train struck him.

By Sergt. Pallant. Witness's man Webster recognised deceased and told witness who he was – before he was struck.

John Ansell, of Swavesey, also a plate-layer, spoke to being with Whybrow on the morning in question, and said he saw deceased walking alongside the line, and described the manner in which deceased sprang across the line in front of the train. He did not think there was any right of way near to deceased.

By Sergt. Pallant: Deceased did go up to a shovel as if to take it, but witness did not think he touched it.

P.C. Breed, of Swavesey, said that at 12.25 he heard of the occurrence, and saw deceased lying on the outside of the down line. Pieces of the body were strewn about on the down line between the spot where he lay and the bridge. The place where the train caught deceased was four or five yards the Swavesey side of the bridge. There was no public right-of-way there at all, and there was no doubt that deceased was trespassing at the time. Witness searched the body and found some money and pocket-knives, a handkerchief, tobacco box, etc., but nothing to throw any light upon the matter. Witness had found that deceased was a little deaf at times, and had had a slight operation to one ear when a lad. He could find no evidence to throw any light upon deceased's state of mind. The body had been carried by the train about 50 yards.

The Coroner found that deceased, whilst trespassing on the line, was killed by a train. He found that there was not sufficient evidence to show whether he committed suicide or whether his death was accidental: therefore he would return an open verdict.

MRS. GENERAL BOOTH. 11th Aug. 1922

After a meeting in St. Ives, the motoring party left shortly after 2. On the way to Cottenham a short service was held at Swavesey. The proceedings began about 2 p.m., when the Godmanchester Salvation Army Band, after a short march in the main street, played and sang hymns on the Recreation Ground. Mrs. Booth and party on their arrival found a good number of villagers and visitors assembled. At the open-air meeting which followed the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, presided, and Mrs. Booth gave a short and characteristic address. Lieut. Sanjivi, of India, and Col. Rich also spoke, and the latter closed the meeting with prayer. The party then hurried away to Cottenham, passing through Over and Willingham, where there were earnest entreaties for a short address from Mrs. Booth. But time pressed, and it was necessary to proceed.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 11th Aug. 1922

Swavesey National School broke up for the harvest holidays last Friday. The school will re-assemble on Monday, 18th Sept.

LARGE FISH. 11th Aug. 1922

Fishing with roach hook in the river Ouse, near Holywell Ferry, Mr. Henry G. Key, Swavesey, has recently caught a tench weighing 3½lbs. The fish is being “set up” in Cambridge.

SCHOLASTIC SUCCESS. 11th Aug. 1922

The Cambs. Education Committee have awarded John Wells, a pupil at Swavesey National School, a Minor County Scholarship, tenable at the County Boys' School. He is the son of Mr. Horace Wells, Church End.

STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. 11th Aug. 1922

The large open drain at Turn Bridge, the subject of numerous complaints, was on Wednesday thoroughly washed out and swept, and all objectionable matter removed. It is hoped that in future the operation will be carried out weekly, as in pre-war days.

BANK HOLIDAY. 11th Aug. 1922

A good number of visitors spent the holiday week-end in Swavesey, but so far as the village was concerned, Bank Holiday passed off very quietly, the only special incident being the brief visit of Mrs. General Booth and party early in the afternoon. About 60 passengers were booked from Swavesey Railway Station to Cambridge for the Mammoth Show.

LOCAL SUCCESS. 11th Aug. 1922

At the Mammoth Show on Monday, Mr. R. Barwell, Swavesey Poultry Farm, gained the third prize for a white leg-horn hen.

INTERESTING FINDS. 18th Aug. 1922

The workmen engaged in repairing the nave roof of the parish church have recently discovered two small objects which may be of some antiquarian interest, viz., an iron ferrule, probably an arrow-head of perhaps the 16th century, found embedded in the roof boarding through which it had penetrated, and in the wall below a wall place a piece of pottery believed to be a fragment of a 14th century ewer, or some such article, once in use at the Priory, which stood on land adjoining the church.

THE NEW VICAR. 18th Aug. 1922

The Rev. Charles Ferdinand Stebbing, Rector of Cogenhoe, Northampton, has been appointed Vicar of Swavesey by the Master and Fellows of Jesus College, Cambridge, in succession to the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp. Mr. Stebbing, who is 43 years of age, is married and has four children, was educated at Jesus College (3rd Class Theological Tripos, B.A. 1902, M.A. 1906). He was curate of All Saints' Peterborough, 1902-1906, curate of Kingsthorpe, Northampton, 1906-1909, and Rector of Cogenhoe from 1909 to the present time. Incidentally it may be mentioned that he was in his college tennis six. It is not known when the new Vicar will be able to take up his duties at Swavesey, but Mr. Sharp is to be instituted Rector of Elveden, Suffolk, on the 8th October.

COUNCIL HOUSE DRAINAGE. 18th Aug. 1922

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: - The stench caused by an overflowing cesspool connected with the drainage of the new Council houses was particularly offensive last Sunday, and occupiers of neighbouring houses in the main street had to keep their windows and doors closed. The cesspool "blew" about six weeks ago, the spontaneous combustion being due to its failure to do what its designers required it to do, namely, absorb its own liquid sewage, an impossible operation seeing that the cesspool is dug in gault, through which water will not soak. As far as can be ascertained, no remedial measures have been decided upon, or, if they have, nothing has been done to put them into force. The District Council, at their last meeting, after discussing the matter, came to the conclusion, it is understood, that they could not take action without the consent of the Ministry of Health, and now it is rumoured that the Council will not meet again for two months or thereabouts. For the sake of the children of the village, the evil should be remedied before the National School, which is in the midst of the stench, is re-opened on the 18th September, but nothing has yet been heard of even a mild protest to the sanitary authorities by the school managers. Visitors to the Swavesey Flower Show on Thursday next will not be affected by the nuisance, for the show ground is half a mile distant.

CAMBS. DIVISIONAL BENCH. 18th Aug. 1922

SATURDAY. – Before Mr. A. S. Campkin (in the chair), the Mayor (Coun. G. P. Hawkins), Prof. Courtney Kenny, Mr. B. Pearson, and Mr. G. Hart.

ALLEGED THREATS AT SWAVESEY.

J.K. of Swavesey, was summoned for using threats towards H. C. at Swavesey on July 30th, with intent to do bodily harm.

Defendant pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Jasper Lyon appeared for complainant, and Mr. Oliver Papworth for defendant.

H.C. stated that he lived in – Swavesey. On the 30th July last his wife woke him up in bed at about 10.45 p.m. He heard K. start to knock the door and offer to fight. Defendant made use of very threatening remarks and then went away. He also said that he would make a “box of cold meat” of C. Defendant said this (Saturday) morning that he would cripple him. He was rather afraid that defendant would do him serious injury. Defendant had resided in that village ever since he could remember. He had never had an ill word with defendant at any time before.

By Mr. Papworth: He went to bed about 10 o’clock that night. They had to go down a passage to get to his door. His bedroom window was open. His wife woke him up, but he did not strike any light. He did not throw anything out of the window. K. said, “Come on out here, Trout,” made other very offensive remarks, and used bad language. He had a grievance against his brother-in-law, W. He did not wish to interfere with anyone. His mother did not say, “Go home, H., and leave these men alone.”

Mrs. L. C., wife of the complainant, said about 10.45 p.m. Mr. K. and Mr. W. came down the lane. They came to her door and stood there some minutes. K. asked W. if he should fetch her husband out to fight. K. used most offensive language and threats, and kept on knocking the door. She woke her husband up when they started to hit the door. She did not throw anything over K.’s head, nor did anyone else. Her children were crying at the time. This (Saturday) morning, at quarter to two, she heard K. shouting, “Trout, Trout, come out, and fight.”

By Mr. Papworth: There were two ways of getting to her house. The back bedroom window was not open. Nothing was thrown over them that night.

She listened to K. and W. from her front bedroom. She did not see anyone that morning, but she was sure it was K. who was shouting.

S.W., of Swavesey, a labourer, said he lived three doors from Mrs. C. He remembered the 30th July, and heard the noise. It was most abusive language, and it was spoken by K. He was threatening Mr. C. He heard Mr. K. again that Saturday morning, and he said that if he got punished at court he would make C. rue it.

J. W., wife of the previous witness, gave corroborative evidence.

K., the defendant, said on oath that as they were passing C's house something was thrown over them from C.'s house. Defendant said that he called, whoever did it, "a dirty coward." As complainant had threatened him before, he thought it was he, and he asked him to come out and fight like a man. Defendant denied making any of the other threats. Defendant denied making any threats that morning.

A.W., a labourer, of Swavesey, gave corroborative evidence for the defence.

Inspector Evans said that the defendant had been before the court on 14 previous occasions for assault, wilful damage, threats, and other offences.

The magistrate bound defendant over to keep the peace for 12 months. He was also ordered to pay costs.

SWAVESEY HORTICULTURAL SHOW. 25th Aug. 1922

Successful Exhibition in Aid of Village Memorial Hall.

Rain, though it detracted somewhat from whole-hearted enjoyment of the function, did not by any means completely mar the proceedings at Swavesey Horticultural Show and Sports, held yesterday (Thursday) in the Manor Fields, by kind permission of Mr. Albert White, of Over. The show was organised in aid of the village Memorial Hall, and the efforts of all who worked for the success of the function were satisfactorily rewarded. The judges in the horticultural section were Messrs. A. T. Paskett and George Hart, of Willingham. The exhibits were, general conditions considered, of a high standard. Stalls, etc., were in charge of the following: Refreshments, Mesdames Godfrey, Thurlow, Savage, Marriott, Wilson and helpers; bursting balloons with football, Mr. C. Godfrey; shooting gallery, Mr. A. E. Thixton; produce stall, Messrs. J. Linford and F. W. Pontefract; work stall, Mrs. Burton and Miss G. Dodson; sweet stall, Miss Parsons; cocoanut shies, Messrs. T. Thurlow, Seekings and A. C. Hepher.

A balloon race was arranged by Mr. P. Godfrey, and it proved interesting. Small balloons were inflated with gas, the name and address of the sender were attached and the balloons were released, the one going the farthest distance securing the prize. Pleasing half-hour concerts were given, arranged by the Misses Dodson and Goad, and Mr. Ashby. The artistes taking part were Mr. L. Ashby, Miss J. Kerling, Mr. A. Topham, Misses Cole and Dodson, Miss Goad, Mr. D. Stanton and Mr. Canning. They were assisted by an efficient party from Histon. Dancing took place in the evening, for which the Cambridge Railway Silver Band, who were in attendance during the afternoon, played. Messrs. D. Williams and G. Goad acting as M.C.'s.

The rain which fell in the afternoon caused some little delay in the starting of the sports, the officials for which were Messrs. J. Mustill (starter), A. Beaumont, F. Hepher and T. Thompson (judges).

(List of awards in newspaper.)

HOCKEY CLUB. 25th Aug. 1922

At a meeting of the Swavesey and District Hockey Club, held in the schoolroom on the 16th inst., it was decided to re-open the club for the coming season, and the following officers were elected: President, Rt. Hon. E. S. Montagu, M.P.; vice-presidents, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Messrs. F. Kirby, R. Mailer, and G. J. Paine (subject to their acceptance of office); captain of mixed eleven, Mr. F. Johnson; vice-captain, Mr. H. Topham; captain of ladies' eleven, Miss M. Parsons; vice-captain, Miss D. Banks; hon. sec. and treasurer, Miss A. Norman, Trinity College Farm, Swavesey, with whom intending members should communicate. Practice will commence on Sept. 7th.

A SWAVESEY TOY BALLOON AND A GERMAN ORGAN. 1st Sept. 1922

At the recent Swavesey Horticultural Show several miniature balloons were despatched and two of these crossed the North Sea. One, sent by a boy was found at Aalten, Netherlands, on the border of Germany, by Herr Joh. Deunk, and the other released by a young lady, went right into Germany on the following day. The receipt of the latter was acknowledged in a long and interesting letter, of which the following translation is kindly furnished by a Cambridge lady:

Translation of Letter.

“To assure Pleasure to oneself give pleasure to others.”

Gersdorf am Quies

Silesia,

August 26, 22.

On August 25th, at 7 a.m., a schoolchild discovered in a local field a Balloon with postcard attached. It was caught flying and brought to my Rectory. I showed it to the assembled schoolchildren. We accept it as a “greeting” from your School House to ours. How wonderful that the tiny Balloon was so well preserved!

This village where the Balloon descended upon is situated in Lower Silesia, between the rivers “Elbi” and “Oder”, not very far from the Sezeck-Slovakin State border. The nearest township is called Kunglau and the nearest city is Gorlitz. Your postcard calls for our compliments and greetings, but we beg a favour from you. In consequence of the distress of the past few years, which doubtless you have read of in your newspapers, starvation reigns in our country to such an extent that all our funds are devoted to feeding our hungry, and our village church organ, which is broken, cannot be repaired for lack of money. We should love once more to hear our organ play. Would you have the great kindness to make a collection in your schools to help us repair our organ? You, also, serve the Almighty God with song and music, and if you would only send a few of your Treasury Notes it would help us (owing to the terrible depreciation of our money value) to carry out the repairs, and our people would realise that the English people mean Peace and not to destroy us. I thank you in anticipation,

PASTOR KUNZEL,
Evangelical Church
Gersdorf am Quies,
Silesia.

P.S. – When was the Balloon sent up?

FRUIT. 1st Sept. 1922

The fruit traffic at Swavesey station, G.E.R., has been exceptionally heavy this year, so far as plums are concerned. On Tuesday something like 70 tons of plums were despatched, and for days previously the consignments had been nearly as heavy. The largest consignments have been sent to Manchester, London, Liverpool and Bradford.

COUNCIL HOUSE DRAINAGE. 1st Sept. 1922

After waiting in vain for nearly two months for the district councillors to take effective steps to abate the nuisance caused by the overflowing cesspool connected with the Council houses in School-lane, the managers of the National School, which is seriously affected by the stench, have now sent a representation on the subject to the Council. Rumours are current in the village that certain parents will not allow their children to return to school so long as the stench continues. The school should re-open after the harvest holidays on September 18th.

BALLOON RACE. 1st Sept. 1922

Of the many miniature balloons despatched from the Swavesey Horticultural show during the afternoon of August 24th, seven had been accounted for by Wednesday evening. Those sent up by Miss Irene Podmore and Mr. Walter Spolton respectively fell ingloriously in the railway station yard adjoining the show ground. Mrs. Smart's balloon came to earth at Over Cemetery, not half a mile distant, and Master Stanley Wood's descended in a field a little way further away in the same parish, but Miss Dorothy Banks' travelled as far as Brockford, near Stowmarket, Suffolk. The other two balloons crossed the North Sea. Master Bernard Kester's was found at Aalten, Netherlands, on the border of Germany, by Herr Joh. Deunk, and Pastor M. Kunzel, Pfarrer der OEvangalischen Kirche, has written to say that the balloon released by Miss Clara Adams, of Willingham, reached Gersdorf am Queis, Schlesien, Deutschland, on August 25th.

SWAVESEY MINIATURE BALLOONS. 8th Sept. 1922

Interesting Letters Received from Germany.

PAST AND PRESENT PRICES.

In last week's "Independent Press" it was announced that seven of the miniature balloons which were despatched from the horticultural show at Swavesey on August 24th had been accounted for. The discovery of another balloon near Dortmund, Westphalia, has been notified since last Friday.

The finding of the balloons in Germany has led to receipt by Mr. C. Wood, School House, Swavesey, who acted as hon. secretary of the show, of two long and interesting letters, translations of which were very kindly furnished by a Cambridge lady.

(1st letter already reported previously).

The appeal (in this letter) has already met with some response. Four contributions towards providing a new organ for Pastor Kunzel's church have been promised in Swavesey, and a gentleman residing in London has asked the secretary of the Swavesey to supply him with the pastor's address as he is "thinking of sending a small sum in token of the fact that our common discipleship of Christ knows no racial quarrels."

"A POOR AND UNHAPPY COUNTRY."

Herr Theodor Blumenkemper, of Lunen, near Dortmund, also tells a sad story of the condition of Germany and its people, and his letter will probably be read with interest by Cambridgeshire ex-Service men who spent a far from happy time in Germany as prisoners of war. A Swavesey man's experiences in 1918 in the coal mines of Dortmund could, for instance, hardly be described as a “fairly good time.” In his letter, dated 31st August, Herr Bolmenkemper writes:-

Respected and Dear Sir,

On August 25th, at 8 a.m., in a meadow I discovered a Toy Balloon with postcard attached, requesting the finder to post the card; but I regret it could not be posted as English stamps are not accepted by our Post Office. Therefore, I acquaint you by these few lines that I do not mind returning you the original postcard on hearing from you that you have received this letter.

We Germans are now a poor and unhappy people, and we cannot find any pleasure in life. In consequence of the war our German money is now valueless. You can judge how dear everything is by the cutting enclosed.

I am a poor small tradesman with a large family to support. If you and your friends are living in poor circumstances you have my greatest sympathy; but should you and your club friends be well-to-do people I pray you to remember my neediness. I served during the war, in Turkey, on the railways, and became acquainted with many British prisoners of war, and often played football with them. They had a fairly good time there and were provided with a sports ground.

I hope this letter will safely reach the correct addresses there is another address on the back of the card, hardly decipherable, but which may be: “Mr. Steine, 141, Ross-street, Romsey Town, Cambridge.”

The balloon is a red coloured one, and flew gallantly into Germany, and is a good omen that the enmity between the two nations is at an end.

An Englishwoman living here translated your message, and I hope there is someone in your town that can read German. I eagerly await your letter and will not regret my time, paper and postage.

THE HARVEST. 8th Sept. 1922

Wheat appears to be the best of the white straw crops this year. There has not been much threshing at present, but I have heard of 10 or 11 sacks an acre in the neighbourhood. The samples are not so dry, nor of such good quality as last year. Barley, very little grown in this parish, at the most I should say 8 sacks per acre. Winter oats are, I think, the best. Oats sown in the spring suffered from the six or eight weeks' dry weather. This dry weather did not produce so much straw. Three-fourths of a crop may be expected. Beans are rather a poor crop. Some pieces have suffered from the fly, and none of the land when the crop is off will be as clean as last year. Peas are a very poor crop as a rule. The fly seems to have attacked some sorts of peas very badly, in fact there are several pieces not worth cutting and threshing, and the straw is no use, except for litter. Hay is a good crop this year, especially in the fens. The showery weather in gathering it was against the quality, and made it a long time in hand. Mangolds, where a plant was obtained and put in fairly early are a good crop, and with three or four weeks more fine weather and sunshine they will be a good size. There are two or three excellent pieces on the smallholdings. Potatoes, not so many at a root on account of the few weeks' dry weather, but the late rains have made them come to a fairly good size. Fruit is an abundant crop; plums are especially plentiful and the Victoria's seem to be the heaviest of all. — Robinson Mitham.

A PIOUS ASPIRATION. 8th Sept. 1922

When on his rounds one day this week a Swavesey tradesman received a 10s. Treasury note, the back of which was endorsed "God send you back to me."

AN INDUSTRIOUS HEN. 8th Sept. 1922

Having filled one nest with eggs of her own production, a hen constructed another nest close by, in which she proceeded to lay more eggs. The nests were found amongst nettles and brick rubbish in a yard in the village, and when discovered contained twenty eggs.

A MOTOR MISHAP. 8th Sept. 1922

A motor-car proceeding from Chatteris to Cambridge on Sunday morning came to grief on the Huntingdon-road, near the New Inn, in attempting to avoid a collision with a number of horses on their way to Fenstanton. One animal collided with the car, but escaped injury. The front axle of the car was, however, broken, and another car had to be hired to enable the passengers to continue their journey.

COUNCIL HOUSE DRAINAGE. 8th Sept. 1922

The Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Swavesey Rural District Council, with two Councillors, Messrs. Ingle Hemington (Over) and C. Wood (Swavesey), on Tuesday afternoon inspected the drainage of the Council houses, respecting which grave complaints have been made. As a result of their investigations, the contractor was ordered to at once provide a stench pipe, 15 ft. in height, for the cesspool, which is mainly the cause of the nuisance, and the Clerk was instructed to call a special meeting of the Council on Monday next to deal with the drainage of the houses generally.

FOOTBALL. 8th Sept. 1922

The Swavesey Football Club has a rather ambitious programme for the coming season. The Cambs. Junior League has been entered, and also the knock-out competition. A League match will be played every week at home or away, and when the first team are absent the second eleven will have a game at home. The aim of the club is to provide suitable sport for the young men of the village to engage in, and for other parishioners to witness and encourage by their presence on the playing ground and by their financial support, as no charges will be made for entrance, in spite of heavy travelling and other expenses.

PLUMS. 8th Sept. 1922

Fruit growers are complaining bitterly of the exorbitant charges levied on their consignments of fruit. The following is an example. A Swavesey grower sent two tons of plums, or thereabouts, to Manchester, where they realised £13 13s. 3d. in the market. From this sum no less than £8 15s. 7d. was deducted, viz., charges £6 13s. 5d., market dues £1 1s.5d., commission, £1 0s. 9d. the grower, therefore, only received £4 17s. 8d.

ADVERTS. 15th Sept. 1922

ABUNDANCE of Glass Jam Jars, 1, 2 and 3 lbs., very cheap. – At Prior's Stores, Swavesey.

ALDRED'S HARVEST SALE, from Saturday, 23rd September, to Monday, 9th October. – H. S. Aldred, Swavesey.

COUNCIL HOUSES. 15th Sept. 1922

A stench pipe, 15 feet in height, which had been ordered by a committee of the District Council after their inspection of the drainage of the Council houses last week, was inserted in the offending cesspool on Wednesday.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 15th Sept. 1922

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the special preacher being Mr. S. Curtis, of Southill, Beds. There were good congregations, and the public tea between the services was also well attended. Collections were taken for the chapel funds.

DISTRICT COUNCIL. 15th Sept. 1922

The defective drainage of the Swavesey Council houses was exhaustively discussed at a special meeting of the Swavesey Rural District Council, held at St. Ives on Monday. It would appear that no effective steps have been taken to abate the serious nuisance and danger to health caused by the stench from an overflowing cesspool because the Ministry of Health insist on their system of drainage being maintained. This system has been in operation for about a year, and has been proved to be a failure. It depends upon cesspools, which were expected to absorb the liquid sewage, but which, being dug in gault, they are incapable of doing. A practical scheme for dealing with the matter has, it is understood, been submitted to the Council by the Council's Sanitary Officer, Mr. F. G. Reynolds, but the scheme cannot be adopted without the consent of the Ministry of Health, with whom the Council are in communication. The people of Swavesey cannot understand why the Government Department charged with the care of the health of the community should be the stumbling block in the way of a prompt abatement of a grave peril to the public health. Had the nuisance occurred on private property, they say, remedial measures would have been enforced long ago. The village school is close to the overflowing cesspool, and the stench pervades the school buildings and cannot be conducive to the well-being of the boys when at gardening work in the garden. The school has been closed for the past six weeks for the harvest holidays, and will be re-opened on Monday. The expense of putting the drainage of the Council houses in good working order should be included in the cost of erecting the houses, and not fall upon the already overburdened ratepayers of Swavesey. In fairness to the local architect, who supervised the building of the houses, it should be stated that his scheme of drainage was rejected by the Ministry of Health in favour of their own which has proved disastrous.

EXCURSION. 22nd Sept. 1922

Twenty-three passengers booked from Swavesey station by the excursion train to Yarmouth on Wednesday morning.

GERMAN SCHOOL CHILDREN AND A SWAVESEY BALLOON. 22nd Sept. 1922

The Swavesey miniature balloons are becoming quite famous. Two more letters have come from Germany with regard to them. The most pleasing which Mr. C. Woods, of Swavesey School, has received, is from a German school teacher, who in a letter "to the school at Swavesey" describes how on Friday, August 25th, at 8 a.m., one of his class pupils found the balloon in a neighbouring meadow and brought it into the schoolroom to the great joy of the children there. The letter proceeds: "The balloon, relieved of the card attached, was so well preserved that it floated merrily in the schoolroom. Now it is lying well packed in a box and rests after its long journey, and will be preserved as a 'keepsake.' Gladly we would like to re-charge it and dispatch it back to you, but we fear the wind might carry it to the Balkans, where the Greeks and Turks are fighting each other. There it might receive an undeserved buffeting. We should like to know the date it was 'sent up'. I personally enclose three cards, a newspaper cutting and some stamps for your stamp album. Beyond these I cannot send anything, as I possess nothing. Beyond paper, there is not much left in Germany, and this is also getting scarce. With a colleague's greetings, Hans Urban." The German newspaper cutting is also worth quoting:

THE BALLOON IN THE SCHOOLROOM.

A great journey behind it has the little toy balloon which was found in a Newmannscher meadow and carried off to the schoolroom. It was a sturdy little balloon such as one buys at the Fair. Great was the joy of the children, and everyone seemed to know where it came from. Towns like Naumberg, Laubrun and Gorlitz were quickly named as its home. One pupil declared it was despatched at last year's local Fair, and had been floating in the air ever since then. The discovery of the English postcard quickly revealed its real place of dispatch.

In the English language it stated "When found please post the postcard to the address on the other side. This was C. Woods, Schoolhouse, Swavesey. Therefore the balloon must have been dispatched from an English school and quickly flew to a German school. Really one cannot expect more from a Fair balloon.

PERSONAL. 22nd Sept. 1922

Mr. Percy James Beaumont, eldest son of the late Mr. Henry Beaumont, Swavesey, was ordained deacon by the Bishop of Peterborough at his ordination in Peterborough Cathedral on Sunday, and has been licensed to the curacy of St. Martin's Stamford. Mr. Beaumont, who served with the Royal Garrison Artillery in France during the war, has been an assistant master at Stamford Grammar School for the past two years, and will hold his curacy, for which he will receive no stipend, with his mastership. He is an M.A. of Cambridge.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 22nd Sept. 1922

A meeting of the Swavesey Parochial Church Council took place at the Vicarage on Friday evening, and was notable as being the last to be held under the chairmanship of the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who is leaving Swavesey at the beginning of October for his new parish of Elveden, Suffolk. The work of repairing the roof of the church, now in progress, was discussed at some length, and during the discussion Mr. R. Barwell, the treasurer of the Council, announced that the sum of £219 remained to the credit of the Repair Fund. The Council decided to allocate £15 contributed under the duplex envelope scheme to the fund, and to ask the churchwardens to hand over to the fund the sum of £15 from the church expenses account, which it was agreed at the annual meeting of Church electors should be devoted to that purpose. This sum of £249 will not, however, quite meet the expense of completing the repairs to the nave roof, and it is hoped that additional contributions will be forthcoming within the next two or three weeks for this absolutely necessary work. It is anticipated that the nave roof will be finished by the middle of next month. Ventilation of the roof, the want of which had been largely responsible for the decayed condition of much of the timber, was reported to have been economically and efficiently provided by the architect, Mr. E. E. Bowden. Before the meeting closed the Vicar briefly expressed his deep gratitude to the Council for all they had done during the past two years. Their meetings, he said, had been pleasant and useful, and much practical good had resulted. Speaking for Mrs. Sharp as well as himself, he thanked the Council for their unfailing sympathy, and assured them of the sincere regret they both felt at leaving so many kind friends. Mr. Barwell suitably responded for the Council.

CRAFTSMEN IN THE CHURCHYARD. 22nd Sept. 1922

A correspondent writes: When visiting Swavesey Church on Monday I noticed on the northern side of the churchyard two far from slightly sheds, from both of which sounds were proceeding as of men at work. In one I found a carpenter repairing oak rafters from the roof of the church, and the way in which he was splicing on sound wood in place of wood that had been decayed or had been eaten away by wood-boring grubs, and otherwise making the rafters safe and sound and good for many a long year's further service was marvellous. The centre of one rafter I examined was completely decayed through to its face, which had shown to the church, and as it had only been held by tenons at each end must sooner or later have fallen. Its face showed no signs of decay. I marvelled at the carpenter's patience, for the wood being hard and tough, was difficult to work, and nothing but an absolute fit would satisfy the craftsman. Up in the roof were other carpenters, but as a visit to them involved a climb up a long ladder, I deferred an inspection of this work to a future occasion. In the second shed the old lead from the roof was being recast by Mr. William Gibson, the well-known church plumber, of Norwich, and he kindly allowed me to watch him cast a sheet. At one end of the shed was a copper in appearance like those used by our womenfolk on washing day, but instead of soap suds it contained a ton of molten lead. In the middle of the shed was a structure resembling a billiard table without pockets or green cloth, and instead of slate its bed was of damp sand, smooth and level as a billiard table. Mr. Gibson and his assistant ladled the molten lead into an iron trough, which worked on an axle, and then by means of a handle tipped the liquid metal on to the "table," along which it flowed, its progress being assisted and its thickness regulated by a ponderous wooden implement which was quickly run from the trough end to the other by two men. Within a few minutes the sheet was marked out and cut into strips, which were neatly rolled up, and the un-used lead replaced in the copper. As I came away the table was being prepared for another casting – a job that takes considerably longer than the actual casting.

SWAVESEY MINIATURE BALLOONS. 22nd Sept. 1922

Enclosed with the letter from Hans Urban were photographs of (1) Gersdorf am Quies (2) a group of the school staff, including the pastor and the writer of the letter, Hans Urban, and (3) a group of the school children.

Another letter, not so pleasing as Herr Urban's, has been received from a youth of Charlottenbrun, Silesia, who did not find a balloon, but who says that by a lucky chance he became possessed of Mr. Wood's address. "I am 17 years old," he writes, "and work very hard in a coal mine for my daily bread, and lose seven hours per day of the precious day light." He goes on to beg for some small alms, which would "not be heavy for the donor at the low rate of exchange for the mark."

ROADMAN'S RETIREMENT. 29th Sept. 1922

Owing to failing health and advancing years, Mr. James Kester, sen., who will be 79 next birthday, has retired after nearly 26 years' service as a County Council roadman. He had lived the strenuous life of an agricultural labourer when, at the age of 52, he joined the County roads' staff in November, 1896. At first he was employed on the main Cambridge-Huntingdon road between the Five Bells and the turning to Swavesey, but was soon transferred to the Swavesey-road, then in a poor condition, and in the improvement of which he worked heart and soul. His delight was to keep his road clean and tidy, and in sound condition, so far as circumstances would permit. His tall, muscular figure, always active, will be missed by users of the road.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 29th Sept. 1922

Despite the presence of scaffolding in the nave, Swavesey parish church was nicely and effectively decorated for the harvest festival on the 21st inst., the only departure from the arrangements of previous years being the removal of the gifts of fruit and vegetables from the west side of the church to the chapel on the southern side of the chancel. At Evensong, when there was a large congregation, the service was bright and hearty. The sermon was preached by the Rev. T. A. Butcher, Rector of Girton. The festival was continued on Sunday, and in the afternoon of that day there was a children's service, when offerings of flowers, fruit, etc., were made, which have been sent to St. Ives Infirmary. The collections on September 21st, and on Sunday morning and afternoon, amounting to £8 2s. 10d., were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital and the contributions of fruit and vegetables, other than the children's gifts, have been forwarded to the same institution.

TESTIMONIAL TO REV. J. S. SHARP. 29th Sept. 1922

A simple ceremony, touched with a note of sadness, took place at the National School on Wednesday evening, when the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp, who for the past ten years has been vicar of the parish, but is now leaving on appointment to the Rectory of Elveden, Suffolk, was presented with a roll-top desk with inscription and a beautifully illuminated address, bearing the names of 184 subscribers. There was a large attendance, including Messrs. C. T. Banks and H. Wells (churchwardens), Mr. W. H. Key, Mrs. Cooksey, Mr. R. Barwell, members of the Church Council, sidesmen and other church workers, and numerous other parishioners. Mr. Banks, who presided, in a brief but appreciative speech, remarked that the meeting had a sad as well as a sunny side, for while expressing their sorrow at losing the Vicar, they were delighted that he was rising on the ladder of fame. He asked Mr. Sharp's acceptance of the address, desk, and the small unexpended balance of the sum contributed by his friends and parishioners. Mr. Wells added his testimony of the Vicar's work and worth. Mr. Sharp, in warmly thanking the subscribers for their gifts, which he would greatly value, laid stress on two points. He said Swavesey would always have the warmest place in the hearts of Mrs. Sharp and himself from the fact that all of their four children had been born in the village, three of whom had been baptised at the parish church. Secondly, he asked that a kindly welcoming hand might be extended to his successor, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, for from his own personal experience he knew the earlier days of a vicar's life in a country parish were very lonely and friendless ones. Messrs. W. H. Key, R. Mitham and R. Barwell also spoke, and the meeting ended with three hearty cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Sharp. The frame in which the address is enclosed has been made from old oak from the church roof. Its maker was Mr. G. C. Mansell, the foreman of the carpenter now engaged on the repair work at the church, and was a generous gift from him.

CRICKET. 6th Oct. 1922

Milton and District Cricket League.

First Division Championship

SWAVESEY v. LODE

Lode are the champions of Division I of the Milton and District Cricket League. They beat Swavesey handsomely on the Magdalene College Ground on Saturday in a very sportsmanlike game. In the first innings Lode had a lead of 13, but they followed up this advantage by good batting in their second venture, and as Swavesey were dismissed for 46 on going in a second time, the result was an overwhelming defeat for Swavesey.

When the cup was presented to the winners at the conclusion of the match, Fry, of the Lode team, and Mitham, of Swavesey, each paid tribute to the sportsmanship of their opponents. Judging from their remarks, things had not been what they might have been in this competition, and the sportsmanship of one or two of the clubs has left much to be desired. The game on Saturday, however, was played in the right spirit. Swavesey accepted their defeat at the hands of a superior team on the day's play in true sporting fashion. Both teams also paid a tribute to umpires, Messrs. Bellamy and Richardson, and incidentally this is the first time I have heard such a testimony given at any match locally by the teams concerned. I was glad that the teams expressed their appreciation publicly, for very often the umpires have a thankless task, and their judgement is frequently wrongly criticised, and hardly ever given praise due to them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, 81 and 80 years of age respectively, who are now residing at St. Ives, celebrated their diamond wedding on Sept. 20th, having been married on that day sixty years ago at St. Andrew's Church, Swavesey. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Watson was Miss Nightingale Covell, and her father was the late Mr. William Covell, of Swavesey. She has relatives living in Swavesey at the present time.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 6th Oct. 1922

A thanksgiving service for the harvest, preceded by a well-attended public tea in the Schoolroom, was held on the 28th ult. in Bethel Baptist Chapel, which had been tastefully decorated by members of the church and congregation with an abundance of fruit, flowers, vegetables, a little corn and three loaves of bread, one of which was in the shape of a sheaf of wheat. The chapel was crowded, and the bright and hearty service was conducted by the Rev. E. Milnes, Zion Chapel, Cambridge, and Moderator of the Cambs. Baptist Association, who preached a forceful sermon. A generous collection was taken. The gifts of fruit and vegetables were subsequently sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 6th Oct. 1922

The Primitive Methodist Chapel was re-opened after partial renovation on Sunday. The day was also observed as the harvest festival, and was notable as being the occasion of the first appearance in the chapel of the Rev. Herbert P. Ellis, the new circuit minister. Both the afternoon and evening services, at which Mr. Ellis preached, were well attended. On Monday evening a public tea and a march through part of the village, was followed by a harvest thanksgiving meeting in the chapel. Mr. J. Chapman, Longstanton, presided over the crowded audience, and addresses were given by the Revs. H. T. N. Ussher and H. P. Ellis, and Messrs. Jillings (Longstanton) and Fuller (St. Ives). The St. Ives choir assisted in the singing of the hymns, and also rendered two anthems. The contributions of flowers, fruit, vegetables and other produce were sold at the end of the meeting for the benefit of the Circuit funds, and with the collections, realised £6 5s. 1d.

THE VICAR'S FAREWELL. 6th Oct. 1922

A large congregation, the largest for several years, assembled in Swavesey Parish Church on Sunday evening, when the Rev. John Selwyn Sharp bade farewell to his parishioners. Nonconformists, as well as Church-people were there, and many came from Over, Fen Drayton, Histon and other villages. The service throughout was marked by great heartiness; every hymn was an old favourite, and the choir and people sang the well-known tunes with a good courage. The Vicar took his text from Psalm cxxvii., i., "Except the Lord build the house." He said his sermon was in continuation of that preached on the previous Sunday morning, and he went on to refer to three outstanding events during the ten years he had been vicar, namely, the war, with its memorials in the church and churchyard; the great fire in 1913, with its permanent memorial, Frere Cottages for old age pensioners, and inestimable blessing for the old folk in these days of high rents; and, lastly, the repair of their old church. After speaking of more personal and spiritual matters, he concluded by expressing his gratitude for the kindness and help he had met during the time he had been vicar, and he asked that his successor might receive a hearty welcome. Mr. Sharp will undoubtedly in year to come be known as the vicar who in season and out of season laboured for the repair of the church. Though much has been done, as the result of his unceasing efforts, much more remains to be done, and unfortunately all available funds have been exhausted. It was, therefore, most appropriate that the offertories throughout Sunday were on behalf of the Church Repair Fund. They amounted to over £7, the evening collection realising £3 19s. 8d. Mr. Sharp will be instituted to the living of Elveden, Suffolk, on Sunday morning.

THE LATE VICAR. 13th Oct. 1922

The Rev. J. S. Sharp, lately vicar of Swavesey, was instituted to the Rectory of Elveden, Suffolk, on Sunday morning by the Bishop of Edmundsbury and Ipswich, in the presence of a numerous congregation, which included the Lord Iveagh, K.P., patron of the living, and at the same time was inducted by the Bishop and the Rev. C. Sharp, the Rector's father, the latter acting for the Archdeacon. Swavesey was represented by Mr. H. Wells, churchwarden, and Messrs. W. H. Key, and R. Barwell, members of the Church Council, and two or three others. In the afternoon the Bishop dedicated a tower and cloister which had been erected in the churchyard by Lord Iveagh in memory of the late Viscountess Iveagh. The tower contains a peal of eight bells, and it connected with the church by the cloister. Large crowds of people from all parts of the district attended the dedication. Sunday was also the golden wedding day of the Rev. C. and Mrs. Sharp, the Rector's father and mother.

AN ANCIENT SOCIETY. 13th Oct. 1922

A correspondent writes: Two notable events occurred in Swavesey in the year 1827. On March 29th the Swavesey Independent Benefit Society was established at the house of John Mansfield, known by the sign of the George and Dragon, and on Sept. 19th the parish fire engine, then some 20 or 30 years of age, was bought by subscription. The engine is still in use, and when brought from its house last week for a quarterly trial and inspection, was found to be in good working order. The Society, on the other hand, has dropped out of existence, but when and under what circumstances the writer has been unable to ascertain. It was, however, alive on January 31st 1843, for on that day a Mr. William Midcalf was admitted a member, and it could not be dissolved so long as three members remained. The society was governed by 27 "Articles of Agreement" – in these decadent days they would be called rules – some of which contain stipulations that may be of interest to promoters of modern benefit clubs. According to article 1 a meeting had to be held once in every month from 6 to 10 p.m. in winter and 7 to 11 p.m. in summer, at which each member was required to pay 2s. to the stewards, of which 6d. was to be "spent for the benefit of the house, and the remainder put in the box." If the landlord suffered any beer belonging to the society to be drunk after the appointed hour he had to forfeit 2s. 6d. for the first offence, and 5s. for the second, "the said forfeit to go to the stock." The sick benefit allowed was 10s. or 12s. a week, according to whether the funds were below or above £50, and was conditional on no parochial relief being received by the member or any of his family. The society's money, books and securities, had to be kept in a box, "with three different locks and keys, with different wards," the clerk and stewards to have one key each. If a member was drawn for the militia he received £2 towards hiring a substitute, or, if he should think proper to serve himself, he had the £2 as bounty. A fine was inflicted for non-attendance at the funeral of a deceased member, and the clerk had to forfeit 1s. for every member he neglected to "warn to the burial." Article 15 reads, "Every member shall meet at the club house and spend the price of a quart of ale, and walk from thence in order to where the corpse lies, and every member so neglecting shall pay 1s. extra to the box; and every member shall come clean to the funeral, or forfeit 6d.” Another article provided for the custody of hat bands and gloves used by members at funerals, and inflicted a fine of 2s. 6d. for failure to return them in due course. The founders of the society were opposed to vaccination, for no sick benefit was granted a member “ill through inoculation either for the small-pox or cow-pox.

Questions were asked by Mr. Hovell and others, for which they were thanked by Mr. Raynes, as the questions had enabled matters to be dealt with that had not been touched upon in the speeches. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the speakers, proposed by Dr. J. W. Ellis, and seconded by Mrs. C. Wood. On Tuesday night Mr. A. E. Stubbs, Labour candidate, addressed a large gathering of voters in the same room. Mr. E. S. Montagu paid a visit to the village on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Harold Gray addressed a meeting of Swavesey and Fen Drayton electors in Swavesey School on Thursday, 9th inst., and Mr. E. S. Montagu on Monday evening. The large room was crowded on both occasions. On Tuesday evening another meeting in support of Mr. Gray was held.

ARMISTICE DAY. 17th Nov. 1922

Immediately before 11 a.m. on Saturday the tenor bell of the parish church was tolled 26 times, and then the two minutes silence was observed. The base of the memorial cross in the churchyard was surrounded with white chrysanthemums, and around the names of the twenty-six men of Swavesey who made the supreme sacrifice was placed a wreath of laurel and rosemary, while hung on the front of the cross itself was a large wreath of poppies and laurel from the Swavesey District Branch of the British Legion, in memory of their fallen comrades. As usual on Armistice Day, Union Jacks flanked the Roll of Honour in High-street, and a wreath of laurel and poppies hung beneath it. Under the auspices of the British Legion, poppies were on sale in the village, but the supply was utterly inadequate, to the great disappointment of the school children, who acted as sellers, and to the detriment of Earl Haig's Fund, for the benefit of which they were being sold. Five or six times the number provided could easily have been disposed of.

LONG AND FAITHFUL SERVICE. 17th Nov. 1922

A pleasing little ceremony took place at the National School on Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Emily Levell, whose long service as a teacher ended on that day, was presented with a solid leather week-end case by the managers, teaching staff, and scholars. The presentation was made in the presence of the children by Mr. W. H. Key, the senior manager, who was supported by the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Mr. Walter Thorp, Mr. C. Wood (Headmaster), and the other teachers. Mrs. Levell's long and honourable record as a teacher covers some 39 years. Her connection with Swavesey School began 55 years ago as a monitress. After an interval of about 12 years, during which she was engaged in private work, she went to Lolworth School in sole charge for 3½ years, leaving there to take temporary charge of Hemingford Grey School. She then returned to Swavesey as a supplementary teacher until her marriage in 1892. Widowed in 1894, she resumed her post at Swavesey, and held it without interruption until last Friday, when she retired, having attained the age of 70 years.

WEDDING. 17th Nov. 1922

Many relatives and friends assembled at Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 8th inst. for the marriage of Miss Agnes Annie Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Savage, of Swavesey, and Mr. Frederick George Brickwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brickwood, of Lolworth. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, officiated at the choral service. The bride, given away by her father, wore white crepe-de-chine, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, the gift of the bridegroom. In attendance were her sisters, Miss Ethel D. and Beatrice A. Savage, and Miss Mabel Brickwood (sister of the bridegroom), the two older maids in saxe-blue, with black hats, trimmed with blue, and the younger in pale blue luvisca, with head-band of silver. She carried a basket of white and pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Herbert Brickwood, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. “CALUMNY & IGNORANT RUBBISH.” 17th Nov. 1922

Mr. Montagu Deals Further with Conservative Statements.
THE ONLY WAR RECORD TO BOAST OF.

The Right Hon. E. S. Montagu addressed crowded meetings at Swavesey, Over, Willingham, and Histon last night, and made further allusions to the electioneering statements of the Conservative candidate. He said he never remembered having such remarkably large meetings as during the present campaign, and he took that as a sign of the perplexity and strangeness of the new kind of political campaign. It was the new Prime Minister who startled the people by saying he did not know where he was, and he thought there were many people in that constituency who felt the same. Since the second Coalition was formed in 1916 he had done his best to preserve the party unity and the national unity, and he had had the loyal support, even though in some instances it was against their will, of Conservatives as well as Liberals. He quite saw why the Labour candidate found fault with the late Government, for he had never liked it, but he was the only supporter of Mr. Bonar Law in that fight, and that Mr. Bonar Law was the head of the new Government which was comprised of many members of the late Government.

It was also difficult to ascertain why the Executive Committee of the Conservative Party in Cambridge nominated Mr. Gray, seeing that only in May of this year that Committee were convinced supporters of the Coalition Government, and had asked the speaker to give a pledge in writing to support that Government. He was sure it must shock Major Stanley to find that the Government he was so enthusiastic about was being pilloried by the nominee of the Executive Committee.

He believed Mr. Gray represented the extreme, or Die-Hard, section of the Conservative Party, a section which had been wrong in almost every political question since he entered the political arena 20 years ago; a section who were Anti-Home Rulers, out and out Protectionists, and who opposed every Liberal-minded doctrine, and who believed in force. This section of the Conservative Party was the reactionary element, bitterly prejudiced and half-blind to the future, and were almost the most dangerous element in the country.

(Very long report in newspaper).

On changing ends Swavesey played in still better form, and ran out winners by eight goals to one. Misses S. Daintree, B. Burling, and N. Parish scored for the victors. On Saturday the Swavesey ladies' second eleven met Willingham ladies' second eleven, at Willingham, and a keenly-fought game resulted in a draw of 3 goals each. After a long period of ill-health, Mr. William Linford passed away at his home in Swavesey on Tuesday afternoon. He was the son of Mr. Thomas Linford, of Lolworth. Until about 20 years ago, when he removed to Swavesey, Mr.

William Linford had spent the whole of his working life on the Grange Farm, Lolworth, for a long time as foreman. At Swavesey he had charge of the parish by-roads and was custodian of the cemetery, but three years since the state of his health compelled him to relinquish these duties. He was widely known and greatly respected.

The Rev. Charles Ferdinand Stebbing, lately rector of Cogenhoe, Northampton, the newly-appointed vicar of Swavesey, will be instituted at the parish church by the Bishop of Ely at 2.15 p.m. on Monday, and at the same time will be inducted by Bishop Price, Archdeacon of Ely. The Bishop of the diocese will also take the opportunity of saying words of benediction respecting the just completed work of repairing the nave roof of the noble old church, and of encouragement of further efforts for the repair of the north and south aisle roofs, both of which are in urgent need of extensive restoration. Dr. Chase has unfortunately been compelled to fix the early, and for many parishioners, it is to be feared, inconvenient, hour of 2.15 p.m. for his visit, as, in consequence of his recent severe illness, he is not allowed to be out in the night air.

The Clerk reported that he had repaired the stile and plank bridge at the end of the Recreation ground, and also the adjoining stile. Messrs. A. Day, sen., and J. S. Goad were reappointed trustees of the Fire Relief Fund Charity, and it was agreed to renew Mr. W. J. Hephher's lease of the shop in High-street, hired by him from the Council, for a further period of seven years, on the same conditions as hitherto. A proposition that the extension should be for one year only was not carried. Discussion followed respecting the street lamps and fittings that have been stored in the parish property in High-street, which will be needed for the War Memorial Hall. Some councillors were of the opinion that a number of the lamps could not be used again, and eventually Messrs. Wood and Linford were appointed to inspect the lamps, etc., select those worth retaining, and dispose of the remainder. Mr. Linford called attention to the dangerous condition of a footbridge over an open drain at the end of Market-street. The Clerk explained that the bridge was under the control of the District Council, and that he had already received instructions to effect the necessary repairs.

On the motion of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Parish, the Clerk was directed to ascertain from the Lord of the Manor the cost of enfranchising that portion of the parish property in High-street which is copyhold.

Taylor, St. Leonard's-on-Sea Golf Club, had died on November 27th, after an operation. She was 38 years of age. As it was known to be her wish to be laid to rest in her native village, her body was conveyed from St. Leonard's by railway to London, and thence by motor hearse to Swavesey, and the funeral took place on Friday afternoon at the parish church. INSTITUTION OF VICAR. 8th Dec. 1922

A good and representative congregation assembled in the parish church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Monday afternoon, for the institution by the Bishop of Ely and the induction by the Archdeacon of the newly-appointed vicar, the Rev. Charles Ferdinand Stebbing. Evensong to the end of the Third Collect was said by the late vicar, the Rev. J. S. Sharp, rector of Elveden. Before delivering his address the Bishop solemnly dedicated the roof of the nave, extensive repairs to which have just been completed. In his address the Bishop observed that never before had he dedicated a restoration at an institution service. He commended the work that had already been done, and done so well, and he urged the people to continue their efforts so that the much-needed repairs to the north and south aisle roofs might be carried out. Speaking of the institution of the new vicar, the Bishop explained the ordination service and its relation to the institution of a priest. He concluded by appealing to the parishioners to work with their new vicar and to pray regularly for him. The office of institution used in the diocese of Ely then followed, in course of which the Vicar took the oaths of allegiance to the King and of canonical obedience to the Bishop, and also made the prescribed acclamations. After a hymn the Vicar, accompanied by the Archdeacon (the Rt. Rev. Bishop Price) and escorted by the churchwardens (Messrs. C. F. Banks and H. Wells), carrying their wands of office, proceeded to the south door, where, with his hand upon the key, the Vicar was inducted “into the real, actual and corporal possession of this church of Swavesey, with all the rights and appurtenances thereto belonging.” From the door the little procession went to the tower, where the Vicar tolled a bell, and on again reaching the chancel the service was concluded by the Bishop of the diocese. In addition to those already mentioned, the following clergy attended: Revs. F. W. Fulford (St. Andrew the Great, Cambridge), A. H. Thomas (Fen Drayton), A. Temple (Barton), and R. L. B. Oliver (Over), the last named carrying the Bishop’s pastoral staff. The Master of Jesus College, the patrons of the living, had hoped to have been present, but was prevented at the last moment.

In the evening one of the best concerts in Swavesey for a long time was given by the Cantabs Concert Party, under the direction of Mr. Harry Bedwell. The large room of the School was crowded, and during the two hours' entertainment there was not a dull moment or a tedious wait, for songs, duets and concerted pieces followed one another in quick succession. Every item was received with enthusiastic applause, encores were demanded, and when the National Anthem was sung, the audience went away hoping that the Cantabs would soon pay a return visit. The Church Repair Fund benefited by the day's venture to the extent of about £25.

SALVATION ARMY. 22nd Dec. 1922

The Willingham Salvation Army Band perambulated the village on Monday night, playing Christmas and other well-known hymns, including "Lead, kindly light," and "Nearer, my God, to Thee". Their visit was much appreciated.

The following are postal arrangements in Swavesey at Christmas: Sunday, 24th December, one delivery of letters and parcels, no collection; Christmas Day, one delivery of letters and parcels, collection from the sub-post-office at 10 a.m.; Boxing Day, no delivery, no collection.

A BAD ROAD. 22nd Dec. 1922

In conversation after the Parish Council meeting on Tuesday evening a farmer caused consternation amongst the Councillors by observing that if something was not soon done to the Hale-road, he would bring no more milk into the village. After a pause, he added, "It will be butter." The Hale-road is under the control of the District Council.

SHARE-OUT CLUBS. 22nd Dec. 1922

The annual share-out of the White Horse Mutual Benefit Club took place at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening. The total amount paid in during the year, including fines, was £68 18s. 10d., and as there had been no claims on the club for sick benefit, the 49 members, eleven of whom were women, received £1 7s. 9d. each. After the business meeting, light refreshments were served and a social evening spent. – On the same evening the members of the Rising Sun Sick and Share-out Club met at the Rising Sun Inn for the yearly distribution of their funds. The contributions and fines totalled £118 17s., £9 17s. 4d. had been paid out in sick benefit, and each member's share amounted to £1 5s. 4d. The annual dinner of the club was held last evening (Thursday) at the National School.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd Dec. 1922

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, W. Twist and C. Wood, with the clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Arising out of the minutes, Mr. Wood reported that he and Mr. J. Linford had, in compliance with the wish of the Council, inspected the public street lamps and fittings. There were, he said, 40 cages, 32 of which were in good order, but very dirty, six required fresh glass, and two were useless: six reservoirs, etc., were complete and apparently in sound condition, the remainder were incomplete; and there were 23 glass globes. With the lamp now lent to the parish church to give light at the churchyard gate there were 33 capable of being used. A conversation ensued as to the provision of a suitable place in which to store the lamps, etc., as the present shed will probably have to be removed when the building of the War Memorial Hall is commenced. Eventually it was agreed that further consideration of the matter should be postponed until the next Council meeting. The Clerk read correspondence he had had with the Lord of the Manors of Swavesey relative to the enfranchisement of that portion of the property of parish property in High-street, which is copyhold, and on the proposition of Mr. Twist, seconded by Mr. Burton, it was resolved unanimously that steps should forthwith be taken to enfranchise the land. The new county rate basis was then discussed at some length, but no decision was arrived at, as neither the Clerk nor any member of the Council knew what the old assessment was. The Chairman undertook to obtain the required information, and, if he found that the new assessment was substantially higher than the old, it was agreed that he should summon a further meeting of the Council. If, on the other hand, there was no material difference, the Council decided to accept the new basis. A letter was read from the Rural District Council in regard to the public clock on the National School. The clock was provided by public subscription about the year 1848, and is now practically worn out. The letter stated that Mr. Ingram, of St. Ives, would put the clock in order for £10, roughly speaking, but would only guarantee the clock to go for a year. As the cost of the repairs would fall on the parish of Swavesey, the opinion of the Parish Council was asked. Mr. Wood said that he and Mr. R. Norman, as district councillors, had demurred to spending £10 on a clock which would only go for a year, and he added that the District Council would abide by the Parish Council's decision. Mr. Cole thereupon moved that the clock be not repaired out of the rates. Mr. Twist seconded, and the motion was carried, nem. con. Two councillors did not vote. Before the meeting closed the Clerk remarked incidentally that the railway company had refused to pay the cost of repairing the new dock bridge, which, it was alleged, had been damaged by fire from a passing engine.

Topham, being unable to turn out. Swavesey, however, played up well, but unfortunately failed to score, and Cam won by 5 goals to nil.

OBITUARY. 29th Dec. 1922

The death has to be recorded of Mr. Robert Sutton, eldest son of the late Mr. David Sutton, which occurred at his residence, Burnham Cottage, Swavesey, early on Tuesday morning, after an illness of about two months' duration, aged 52 years. He leaves a widow, a daughter of the late Mr. Alfred Williams, the well-known grocer, draper, etc., Swavesey, for whom much sympathy is felt.

HOCKEY. 29th Dec. 1922

Swavesey mixed hockey team entertained the Cam team from Cambridge on the 21st inst. A very fast, good and even game was played, and at half-time, both sides had one goal each to their credit. Despite the heavy rain in the second half, the game was pluckily fought out, each side scoring thrice, and the match ended in a draw of four all. Miss K. Banks, J. H. Johnson and H. Topham (2) scored for Swavesey.

CHRISTMAS AT CHURCH. 29th Dec. 1922

The Parish Church was nicely decorated with evergreens, etc., for the Christmas festival, and the services were well attended. The first evensong of Christmas was sung on Sunday. On Christmas Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion, with many communicants, at 6, 7.30 and 11 a.m. Morning Prayer at 10.30, and evensong with anthem and carols at 3 p.m. The music for the mid-day celebration was by E. V. Hall. The offertories were, in accordance with custom, in aid of the Church of England Waifs' and Strays' Society.

SHARE-OUT CLUB. 29th Dec. 1922

The annual dinner of the Rising Sun Sick and Share-Out Club, held at the National School on the 21st inst., was a great success. Ninety members and friends sat down to an excellent repast, provided by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Heasman, under the presidency of Mr. C. Wood, who was supported by Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis, Messrs. C. Sweetland and F. Johnson. No speeches were made, and after the tables had been cleared, the company settled down to an enjoyable social evening. An admirable programme of songs etc., was contributed by Messrs. Sidney Maltby, Dean and H. Brown (Cambridge), Messrs. B. Prime, P. Ding, S. Badcock, T. C. Heasman, and G. Holmes. Mr. Harrison, Cambridge, was a capable accompanist.

POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 29th Dec. 1922

The announcement in last Friday's "Independent Press," contained in a report of a meeting of the West Cambs. Fruit Growers' Association, that early in the New Year the latest time for posting for the night mail despatch from Swavesey Post Office would be altered from 7.15 p.m. to 6.30 p.m., caused much consternation and indignation in the village. It is felt that Swavesey has not been fairly dealt with, as the change is apparently being made without reference to the Parish Council or any other local representative body. In pre-war days letters could be posted for night mail despatch until 7.40 or 7.45 p.m., half an hour later than the present time, and an hour and a quarter later than the future time, and early in the war the third delivery of letters, etc., was suspended, and has not been restored. The proposed commencement of the first morning post delivery at 7 a.m. (the pre-war time) meets with general approval.

ENTERTAINMENT. 29th Dec. 1922

In aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, the Swavesey Gliders' Concert Party, under the management of Mr. R. Barwell, gave an excellent entertainment to a crowded audience in the National School on Wednesday evening. The programme included songs, humorous and sentimental, by Misses C. Goad, Gardiner (Newmarket), E. Dodson, and Mr. Barwell, Messrs. H. Topham, Barnett-Smith (Newmarket), R. Barwell, and Bert Hodson, whose ditty, "All over the shop," fairly brought down the house, and a dialogue by Misses Goad and Dodson. Two outstanding features of the entertainment were the handbell ringing of Messrs. B. Hodson, E. Williams, R. Mitham, jun., B. Prime, L. Breed, and G. Prime, and a musical medley cleverly played by Mr. Barwell in conjunction with Miss E. Dodson, on various instruments, some improvised, such as a violin piccolo, gun-barrel, horns, cornet. Mrs. Barwell, Mrs. Ashby, and Miss Gardiner played the accompaniments throughout the evening.

WEDDING. 29th Dec. 1922

Mr. Frederick Andrew Prior, son of the late Mr. W. Prior and Mrs. Prior, High-street, Swavesey, was married on Christmas Eve at Trinity Congregational Church, St. Albans, to Miss Ida Elsie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones, 21, Granville-road, St. Albans. The Rev. W. J. McAdam officiated. The bride, who was given away by Mr. F. P. Sparrow, was attired in shell pink soft satin, with ninon fall and spray of orange blossom, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Lily Rester, in pale blue crepe de chine, with hat to match, whose bouquet was of gold and bronze chrysanthemums, and who wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. P. Richford was best man. As the happy couple left the church the organist, Miss M. Wright, played the Wedding March. The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Prior left for London for a brief honeymoon, the bride travelling in a Kolinsky fur coat with toque to match. The presents were numerous and useful, and included a gold hunter watch from the bride to the bridegroom, a gold watch from the bridegroom to the bride, and a cheque from the bride's mother.

A LIFE'S STORY. 5th Jan. 1923

Notwithstanding heavy rain, a goodly company gathered at the Bethel Chapel on Tuesday evening, when Mr. Fuller, of St. Ives, gave his life story. The veteran preacher held the interest of all for nearly three hours as he told of work accomplished and hopes realised. The chair was taken by Mr. Arthur Norman. A collection was taken in aid of the Primitive Methodist Chapel, Swavesey, Renovation Fund.

FUNERAL. 5th Jan. 1923

The funeral of the late Mr. Robert Sutton, whose death on the 26th ulto., at the age of 52 years, was announced last week, took place on Saturday afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery, a short service being first held at Burnham Cottage, the residence of the deceased. The Rev. E. Short, pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel officiated both at the house and at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mrs. R. Sutton (widow), Miss Kate Sutton (sister), Mr. and Mrs. David Sutton (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. F. W. Pontefract, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams (brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law). The coffin was of polished oak. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

PARISH COUNCIL. 5th Jan. 1923

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Wednesday evening. There were present: Mr. A. Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, S. Prime, W. Twist and C. Wood, with the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. A draft of the deed enfranchising the copyhold parish property in High-street was approved, and Messrs. Burton, Parish and Wood were appointed a committee to arrange for the re-housing of the public street lamps, as the shed in which they are stored will probably have to be removed when the building of the War Memorial Hall is commenced. After prolonged discussion the Council agreed not to appeal on behalf of the parish against the new County Rate basis. The revised postal arrangements for the district were also considered, and while the earlier commencement of the first delivery was cordially welcomed, the night mail collection at 6.30 p.m., instead of at 7.15 p.m., as at present, apparently met with the approval of Mr. Linford only. A resolution, proposed by Mr. Cole, and seconded by Mr. R. Norman, directing the clerk to write to the Postmaster of Cambridge on the subject was carried. Mr. Cole did not vote on the resolution relating to the County Rate basis, nor did Mr. Linford on that dealing with the revised postal service.

DEATH OF MR. H. S. ALDRED. 5th Jan. 1923

It is with much regret that we record the death of Mr. Henry Spurgeon Aldred, which occurred at his residence, London House, Swavesey, shortly before 7 p.m. on New Year's Eve. Mr. Aldred, who was 65 years of age, had been ill since the beginning of September, and was confined to his bed for the last two months. The son of the late Mr. William Hayward Aldred, of Denton, Norfolk, he left Denton for Swavesey in 1896, when he acquired the old-established grocery and drapery business previously carried on by Mr. Loveland. His business activities covered a considerable area, and involved large demands upon his energies, but he found time for much useful work in the parish. Seventeen years ago he succeeded the late Mr. T. W. Carter as superintendent of Bethel Sunday school, and until the last took the keenest interest in the welfare of the school and the scholars. Although never a member of the Parish Council, he was time after time chosen as the Council's representative on the board of managers of the National School. In 1912 he succeeded his father-in-law, the late Mr. Jesse Hephher, as Registrar of Births and Deaths for the district. For some years he was the valued local correspondent of the "Independent Press and Weekly News," and was an agent for the combined papers at the time of his death. Mr. Aldred served on many local committees, notably the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund and the War Memorial Hall Committees. He was also an energetic temperance worker and advocate. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery, amidst general manifestations of sympathy and respect, a short service being previously held at London House. At large and representative gathering from Swavesey and the surrounding villages attended. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Chapel, officiated. The mourners were: Mrs. Aldred (widow), Mr. Frank Aldred (son), Miss Doris Aldred (daughter), Miss Aldred (sister), and Messrs. Walter J. and T. L. Hephher (brothers-in-law). There were also present the deacons of Bethel Baptist Chapel, the teachers, officers and scholars of Bethel Sunday School, representatives from other places of worship, and the present and ex-members of the staff at London House.

Mr. George Dean, youngest son of the late Mr. James W. Dean and Mrs. Dean, of Swavesey, sailed from London in ss. Moreton Bay on the 2nd inst. for Western Australia, where he will join his eldest brother, Mr. James Smith Dean, at East Cannington. Both brothers "did their bit" in the Great War. The younger enlisted in the R.A.M.C. in January, 1915, and served in France and Italy from May, 1915, to April, 1919, attaining the rank of sergeant. Mr. J. S. Dean, a veteran of the South African War (Queen's Medal, 4 bars; King's Medal, 2 bars) joined the Australian Light Horse in November, 1915, and saw service in Egypt and Palestine, chiefly with the Camel Corps. He was seriously wounded in the head in an action east of the River Jordan on the 27th March, 1918, and on his return to Australia in September of that year was discharged as unfit for further service and was awarded a pension.

The Church Accounts, Repair Fund Account and the Missionary Accounts, submitted by the Finance Sub-Committee, were passed for presentation to the Parochial Church Meeting. It was decided that the surplus material left from the repair of the roof of the nave of the Church should be sold by auction by Mr. Cyril Watts, in suitable lots, on Thursday, January 18th, at 2 p.m., the sale to take place on the north side of the church, and the proceeds applied to the Church Repair Fund (list of materials for sale may be seen in the Church Porch). The Duplex Envelope Scheme and other matters were discussed in view of the general Parochial Church Meeting which is to be held in the Schools on Monday next, at 7 p.m., when the election of the Parochial Church Council and sidesmen for the ensuing year will take place.

Burne, Diocesan Organising Secretary for the S.P.G., and for 21 years a missionary in China. He spoke of the geography and resources of the country, its customs, superstitions, and its needs. At the close of the evening, the Vicar, Rev. C. F. Stebbing, thanked the speaker for his interesting address. The lantern was lent by Mr. R. Barwell, and manipulated by Mr. P. Barwell.

CONCERT. 19th Jan. 1923

Mr. Sidney Maltby's Concert Party from Cambridge gave an enjoyable entertainment in the National School on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Swavesey War Memorial Fund, and if the audience was not up to the usual Swavesey standard in point of numbers, it did not fail to give expression to its appreciation of the excellent performances of the different artistes by enthusiastic applause and frequent demands for encores. Mr. Maltby, with his party, will pay another visit to Swavesey, also in aid of the Memorial Hall Fund, on Thursday evening, February 1st, when, no doubt, he will be welcomed by an audience as enthusiastic as that on Tuesday, but far larger. An entirely fresh programme will be provided.

PAROCHIAL CHURCH MEETING. 19th Jan. 1923

The annual meeting of parochial church electors took place at the National School on Monday evening, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing (Vicar), presiding. The Church Repair Fund accounts, which were presented by Mr. R. Barwell, showed a deficit of about £35, which he hoped would be met by the sale of surplus building material to be held this week. On the proposition of Dr. J. W. Ellis, the accounts were approved, and the Vicar, on behalf of the congregation, thanked Mr. Barwell for his work in connection with the Fund. The annual accounts for church expenses, the Sick and Needy and the Missionary Funds, and the Thrift Club, were also passed, and it was decided that the allocation of the money raised by the duplex envelope system should be left to the discretion of the Church Council. Messrs. R. Barwell and R. Mitham, sen., were appointed representatives on the Diocesan and Ruridecanal Conferences, and the following were elected members of the Church Council: Mrs. Cooksey, Miss Beaumont, Mr. C. Wood, Mrs. Banks, Dr. J. W. Ellis, and Mr. Smith. Last year's sidesmen were re-appointed, with the addition of Messrs. Barwell and Smith, increasing the number of sidesmen to twelve. Amongst other matters, the question of cleaning the organ was considered, and after discussion it was agreed that the cleaning should be postponed until the roof of the north aisle had been repaired. The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to Mr. Wood and Mr. H. J. Hall, the latter for his services in connection with the Thrift Club.

CHURCH REPAIR FUND. 26th Jan. 1923

The scaffolding used in connection with the repair of the roof of the parish church with other surplus building material was sold by auction on the 18th inst. by Mr. Cyril Watts, of St. Ives, and with the sum of £4 17s. 6d. received for galvanised iron sheets previously disposed of, realised £46 19s. After deducting expenses (printing, bill-posting, advertising, etc.) £1 16s., the net amount realised by the sale was £45 3s., which will more than meet the deficit in the Church Repair Fund accounts. Mr. Watts kindly made no charge for his services.

CYCLE ACCIDENT. 26th Jan. 1923

Through the breaking of the steering tube of his bicycle, Mr. Alfred J. Willson, of London House, Swavesey, was somewhat seriously injured when cycling through Boxworth End shortly after 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday. He had just passed Mr. Charles Burling's blacksmith's forge, when a loud noise was heard, and on Mr. Burling proceeding to investigate the cause of the noise, he found Mr. Willson lying in the middle of the road beside his broken cycle, in the carrier of which had been grocery goods, now scattered in the road. Mr. Willson was in a semi-conscious state. With the assistance of Mr. George Burling and others, the injured man was placed in a chair, and his face and mouth, which were badly cut and bruised, bathed with warm water. Mr. Alfred Day, jun., who was passing, fetched his pony and trap and conveyed Mr. Willson to his home, where the district nurse attended to him, and Dr. Rose, of St. Ives, was subsequently called in. In addition to injuries to his face and mouth, both of Mr. Willson's wrists were cut, and he has bruises on his body, besides being badly shaken. He is progressing favourably. Mr. Willson can give no explanation of the accident. There was no collision, as there were no other vehicles in the road at the time.

Cambridge, where he had been staying since Saturday. The veteran walker remained all night at the inn, where he entertained the landlord's family and the customers with a vivid account of his wanderings. On Tuesday morning he visited the village.

At a meeting of the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion held at the National School on Friday evening, it was announced that the honorary secretary, Mr. T. W. Thurlow, had tendered his resignation in consequence of ill-health. The resignation was accepted, and it was decided that a letter expressive of the members' regret should be sent to Mr. Thurlow. Mr. C. Wood was appointed hon. secretary pro tem. It was resolved that the branch should be registered as a charity under the War Charities' Act, and Messrs. Wood, E. Williams, and A. W. Melbourne were appointed as a committee to recommend cases for the British Legion Unity Relief Fund.

Messrs. F. Kirby, R. Norman and C. Wood (District Councillors), F. G. Reynolds (Sanitary Inspector), and F. Hagger (District Surveyor) were also present.

CONCERT. 9th Feb. 1923

A large and enthusiastic audience welcomed Mr. S. Maltby and his concert party on the 1st inst., when they paid their second visit to Swavesey within three weeks to give an entertainment for the benefit of the local War Memorial Hall Fund. The programme was an excellent one, the demands for encores frequent, and from start to finish the entertainment went with a swing. Further, the financial results were most satisfactory.

A SERIOUS SMASH. 9th Feb. 1923

Startled, it is believed, by a loose shoe, a mare drawing a pig float near Swavesey Cemetery on Friday indulged in antics which resulted in the breaking of a trace and the involuntary transfer of the young man who was driving from the float to the roadway. The young man, who was dazed by his fall, but not hurt, picked himself up and went in pursuit of the mare, which, dragging the float, bolted at full speed along Taylor's-lane, missing a stationary motor-van on the way by inches, and on reaching High-street appeared to be making straight for the large plate-glass window of Mr. D. Wilderspin's shop. Changing its course, however, at the last moment, the animal turned sharp to the right and crashed sideways into the front of the adjoining house, the Little Rose, knocking chips off the brickwork. One shaft, after splintering a shutter, penetrated the window of the sitting-room, smashing glass and window-frame, while the other shaft, now up-lifted, tore the right-hand shutter from its hinges and did further damage to the brickwork. The float was now firmly fixed, and the mare, though free from the shafts, came to a standstill and was secured. Mrs. G. Clarke, the invalid wife of the landlord, who was entering the sitting-room at the moment the crash occurred, was greatly alarmed and upset. Had she been in her accustomed seat, the consequences would have been serious, for the smashed window-frame was knocked inwards, furniture nearby was upset, and the splinters of glass flew all over the room. The float was not damaged.

WHIST DRIVE. 16th Feb. 1923

Nineteen tables were occupied at the whist drive in the National School on the 8th inst. for the benefit of the War Memorial Hall Fund, and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Miss Ivy Thorp, Mrs. C. FOR THE BLIND. 16th Feb. 1923

A pleasant evening was spent in the National School on Friday, on the occasion of a qualifying whist drive in connection with St. Dunstan's National Championship. Thirteen tables were in play, and the prizewinners were: Ladies, 1. Miss H. Johnson (Fen Drayton), 2 Miss Scambler (Conington), 3 Miss Holmes (Swavesey); gentlemen, 1. Mr. H. Burling (Over), 2 Mr. H. Johnson (Fen Drayton), 3 Mr. F. Causer (Swavesey). In addition to the prize-winners, Messrs. R. Asplin (Over), G. Cash and H. G. Key (Swavesey) qualified for the next round. Mr. T. C. Heasman acted as M.C., and Messrs. J. S. Goad, P. Godfrey and C. Wood shared the duties of stewards.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT. 16th Feb. 1923

Swavesey school children greatly distinguished themselves on Monday evening when about 80 out of the 127 on the National School register gave an entertainment in aid of the War Memorial Hall and Church Repair Funds. The large schoolroom was packed, and very few of those persons who had not purchased tickets beforehand were able to obtain admittance. The audience was enthusiastic, and every item on the long programme was heartily applauded, but no encores were allowed. The entertainment was carried out entirely by the youngsters, and the programme included school songs, concerted items, school plays, dialogues, a recitation by a little girl, a Parish Council debate, and the play "Little Red Riding Hood." As one and all did remarkably well and threw heart and soul into their performances it would be invidious to select a few for special commendation. Mr. C. Wood, headmaster, and Mrs. Wood, who trained the children, can, however, be heartily congratulated on the success of their arduous work. The pianoforte accompaniments were played by Mrs. Wood and Miss May Mustill, and the former was responsible for the dresses, which were pretty and original. The entertainment was repeated on Tuesday evening, the schoolroom being again crowded.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 23rd Feb. 1923

Two interesting events in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel took place during last week. The first on Tuesday evening, when some forty of the senior members of the Band of Hope met in the Schoolroom for games; and the second on Thursday, when, notwithstanding the weather, a social evening was arranged by the B.W.T.A. and a goodly number were present to listen to the very able and instructive address given by the Rev. H. W. Shellabear, of Fenstanton. The speaker pointed out how the drink bill had doubled since 1913, that every gallon of beer meant possible drunkenness, that few working men could afford alcoholic drink, and that many a man said more than he meant to say when under its influence. Doctors, lawyers, statesmen – men whom he could not regard as fanatics – agreed that alcohol was dangerous as a beverage, that it lessened self-control, and tended to lower one's ideals and dim the vision of the spirit. Solos and recitations were rendered by friends, refreshments served, and a very enjoyable evening spent.

SWAVESEY HORTICULTURALISTS. 23rd Feb. 1923

SOCIETY FORMED LAST EVENING (TUESDAY EVENING)

At a meeting held at the Schools, Swavesey, this evening, attended by seventy persons from Swavesey and Over, it was decided to form a Flower, Fruit and Vegetable, etc., Society, to be called the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society.

The following officers were appointed: President, Mr. R. Williamson; chairman, Dr. J. W. Ellis; hon. secretary, Mr. C. Woods; hon. treasurer, Mr. G. Pain; committee: from Swavesey, Messrs. Winter, Thorp, Ansell, Pontefract, and Ashby; from Over, Messrs. Hines, Asplin and Haddow. Other villages will be asked to select their own representatives.

It was also decided to hold sports, open to Swavesey and district, and to include eggs and poultry in the show.

HOCKEY. 2nd March 1923

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey XI entertained a Cambridge Town ladies' team on Saturday. The visitors, who were much stronger than the homesters, won a fast game by 4 goals to nil.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 2nd March 1923

Preceded by a tea in the Chapel Schoolroom, the annual meeting of the members and seat-holders of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on the 15th inst. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, presided. Satisfactory reports of the various activities in connection with the chapel were presented, the financial statement being specially pleasing, as it showed a balance in hand. There was a good attendance.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE. 2nd March 1923

A fairly attended meeting was held in the National School on Monday evening, to consider the question of forming a Women's Institute in Swavesey. Among others present were Mrs. Stebbing, Mrs. Banks, Rev. H. T. N. And Mrs. Ussher, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. W. Thorp. Addresses were given by Miss Nightingale (London) and Miss Warrington (Cambridge), in which the benefits accruing from Women's Institutes and other reasons why it was desirable that they should be formed were lucidly set forth, and it was stated that 25 members, 16 years of age or over, were necessary to establish an institute, and that the annual subscription was 2s. On the proposal of Mrs. Ussher, seconded by Mrs. Banks, it was, however, decided to postpone the formation of the institute in Swavesey until the autumn, and the meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Miss Nightingale and Miss Warrington.

DARK STREETS. 2nd March 1923

Several mishaps, none, fortunately, attended with serious consequences, have recently occurred in the dark streets and lanes of the village. The following instances may be cited: A lad walking home collided with the rain-water pipe of a shed in Wallman's-lane, and was knocked down dazed into the mud, injuring his knee, cutting his nose, and grazing his face. Papers he was carrying were damaged with mud and water. On the same evening a fish merchant, riding a cycle, had a spill, apparently through colliding with something in the gloom. On Friday night an old inhabitant completely lost his bearings on a road with which he was well acquainted, and had to wait until another parishioner came along who could put him in the way he should go. A lady, after visiting a sick relation, struck her head against a brick gate post when trying to effect an entrance to her own premises. She sustained a black eye. Passengers alighting at the railway station from the brightly illuminated

L. and N.E.R. carriages experience difficulty in finding their way along the tree-lined road into the village, and it is suggested that a lamp near Swan Pond, or at the main churchyard gate, would act as a beacon towards which pedestrians could make their way.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 2nd March 1923

A meeting of the Parochial Church Council was held at the Vicarage on the 15th inst., all councillors being present, with the exception of Mr. H. Wells, churchwarden, who was ill. The Vicar presided. Messrs. R. Barwell and C. Wood were elected vice-chairman and Press secretary respectively, and the Finance Committee was re-appointed. A balance of £9 10s. 8½d. from the Duplex Envelope Fund was allocated to the Church Repair Fund, an amendment, proposed by Mr. Wood and seconded by Dr. Ellis that the money should be paid into the church expenses account being defeated. A committee was appointed to revise the electoral roll, and on the proposal of Mr. Smith, seconded by Dr. Ellis, it was agreed that the choir boys should be paid 2s. 6d. a quarter, a suitable scheme of payment being worked out by the Vicar. The representatives to the Ruridecanal Conference were instructed to support the four questions which were coming before the conference, and on which the opinion of Church Councils had been requested. The representatives were also requested to present a report at the next meeting of the Council respecting the proceedings of the conference. Dr. Ellis asked that an inventory should be prepared of the deeds and other documents in the church chest, and that the inventory should be kept by the Vicar. The request was agreed to.

LAND WORKERS' UNION. 9th March 1923

At a meeting on the 26th ult., in support of the National Union of Landworkers, whose policy is to work in co-operation with the landowners and farmers for a united agricultural programme, Mr. Lovell, the general secretary, stated that so far as agriculture was concerned the whole position affected not only the workers, but all who were in any way connected with the land. What the agricultural worker had to realise was, that if he had to produce food too cheaply for the great industrial centres of the country it was evident low wages must follow. The Landworkers' Union would not be affiliated to any political party, and its sole aim and object was to work as far as possible with the other sections in trying to formulate a policy that would place the industry on a paying basis, and thus give a far higher standard of living to the agricultural worker. The organisers were convinced that by close co-operation of the three interests concerned there is a great future for agriculture in this country, and they would endeavour to work along the lines of co-operation with the other interests, always reserving the right to maintain their own independent position as a trade union in matters of wages and conditions of labour. So long as the three agricultural interests were divided, the industrial representatives would take advantage of the position, and agriculturists would suffer.

A ratepayer suggests that two tree trunks, which for some years have more or less obstructed the large drain near Church Bridge, might now be removed, as the drain is full of water and the logs are floating.

THE CUCKOO. 16th March 1923

A local railway official reports that he heard the cuckoo in Mow Fen at 6.30 a.m. on Sunday, and he indignantly repudiates the suggestion that the bird he heard was an adjunct of a clock in a house in the neighbourhood.

MARCH 1898. 16th March 1923

Of the nine parish councillors who were elected 25 years ago, four are dead, two have left the village, and three, Dr. J. W. Ellis, Mr. W. H. Key, and Mr. B. Prior, are still resident in the parish, but are not members of the Council.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 16th March 1923

The children of the Band of Hope have been fortunate in hearing during the past two weeks lectures of a truly educational character, delivered in a most interesting manner by Mr. Breens, of Longstanton, and Rev. Alon Pocle, of Willingham, and on Thursday next the young people will give a concert.

HOCKEY. 16th March 1923

The Swavesey mixed hockey team entertained Cambridge Town mixed eleven on Saturday. The game was very fast, both teams playing up well. At the interval the score stood 2 – 1 in favour of Swavesey, but during the second half the Town scored twice and the game ended in a win for the visitors by four goals to three. H. Topham (2) and J. H. Johnson scored for Swavesey.

PARISH CHURCH. 16th March 1923

Services are being held at the parish church on Thursday evenings during Lent, with special preachers. On the 8th inst. the Rev. F. W. Fulford, B.D., vicar of Great St. Andrew's, Cambridge, preached a striking sermon and last evening the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. Next Thursday the preacher will be the Rev. R. L. B. Oliver, vicar of Over.

PARISH COUNCIL. 16th March 1923

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Infants' School on March 8th. There were present: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., C. H. Parish, S. Prime, W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. Robinson Mitham). In the absence of the chairman and vice-chairman, Mr. Twist was voted to the chair. Arising out of the minutes of the last meeting the Clerk reported that the deed enfranchising the copyhold property belonging to the parish in High-street had been duly executed and he produced the deed for the inspection of the councillors. Mr. Burton stated that Mr. W. H. Hephner had granted the use of a shed on that portion of the property which is hired by him, for the storage of the public street lamps, that the shed had been put in a sound state, and that the cost of the repairs would be charged to the Council. Mr. Burton expressed the opinion that the report of the committee who had recently inspected the lamps was misleading for to his mind the lamps and appurtenances were "only fit to be buried." The Clerk read the reply of the Postmaster of Cambridge to a letter he had written by direction of the Council relative to the earlier collection at Swavesey Post Office for the night mail despatch, viz., at 6.30 p.m. instead of at 7.15 p.m., as in late years, and 7.45 p.m. in the pre-war days. The Clerk's letter, which he also read to the Council, was merely a suggestion, expressed in the mildest of terms, that so early an hour for collection might cause inconvenience, and it not unnaturally elicited the answer that the new arrangement must stand. The first business on the agenda was the selection of four parishioners to serve as parish constables for the ensuing year. Messrs. C. J. Shepperson (the present constable), B. Hodson, M. C. Culpin and J. J. Marriott were chosen, and the Council decided that the salary should remain as fixed twelve months ago. Mr. Arthur Leonard Parish, proposed by Mr. R. Norman and seconded by Mr. Linford, was unanimously elected Parish Council representative on the board of managers of the National School in place of the late Mr. H. S. Aldred. Mr. Cole said that he had received a complaint that the school pond was too full of water, owing probably to the blockage of a drain.

BRITISH LEGION. 23rd March 1923

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey District branch of the British Legion, held at the National School on Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. H. A. Daintree, Lolworth (subject to his acceptance of office); chairman, Mr. R. Barwell; vice-chairman, Mr. A. J. Willson; treasurer, Mr. E. Williams; secretary, Mr. C. Wood; committee, Messrs. Berryman, T. Froment, A. W. Melbourne, C. Page, A. Prime, jun., H. Prime and Topham. The treasurer submitted the accounts for the past year, which showed a balance in hand of £8 11s. 7d. (receipts £19 16s. 7d. and expenditure £11 5s.). After some discussion it was decided to organise a sports meeting during the summer, and Messrs. H. Ashby, A. Beaumont, A. Peters, F. Prior and A. J. Willson were appointed a committee to make the necessary arrangements. It was agreed that the branch should enter a cricket team for the Lord Lieutenant's Cup.

AN INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY. 23rd March 1923

Many of our readers in Swavesey and the neighbourhood will be interested, and some surprised, to learn that Mr. William Henry Key will attain the age of 78 year to-morrow (Saturday), and despite his long tale of years, it is satisfactory to record that he is still wonderfully active and in fairly good health. Mr. Key is not a native of Swavesey, but, having lived in the village for nearly 53 years, it is difficult for the present generation to realise that there was a time when he had no connection with the parish. Born at Earith, Hunts., on March 24th, 1845, he migrated on 2nd November, 1870, to Swavesey, and there set up in business as a baker, quickly winning the confidence and esteem of the people. About 12 years ago he handed his business over to his only son, and devoted his attention to his garden and orchard. Mr. Key has been closely identified with the business and social life of the village, and has held many and various offices, so numerous that only a few can be mentioned. A loyal Churchman and a mainstay of the parish church, for 22 years he was a churchwarden, and on his retirement in 1921 he became a sidesman. For 38 years he was a representative to the Ruri-decanal Conference, and is still a member of the Church Council. He was the first chairman of the Parish Council, and a member for many years. In 1900 he was appointed a life feoffee of Galon's Charity, has long been a school manager, and after the great fire in 1913 rendered valuable service on the Relief Fund Committee, and was appointed a life trustee of the Old Age Pensioners' Cottages which were built with the unexpended balance of the fund. A staunch Conservative in politics, he was an active officer of the old Conservative and Unionist Association. For 51 years a member of the Loyal Order of Ancient Shepherds, he has held every office in the Wheatsheaf Lodge, and has the distinction of being the only member of the Lodge who has been Chief Shepherd of the Cambridge District.

BAND OF HOPE. 30th March 1923

The children of Bethel Band of Hope gave an entertainment on March 22nd, in aid of the Piano Fund. The chair was taken by Mr. Arthur Norman, and a long and varied programme, including recitations, dialogues and action songs, was rendered by the young folk. Mrs. Frank Norman presided at the piano, and great credit was reflected on Mrs. W. Savage, who had so ably trained the little ones. The chapel was filled with a very appreciative audience, and as a result two guineas was handed over to the fund. Hearty thanks were accorded to all who helped, not forgetting Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mrs. Canham, and Mrs.

Godfrey, whose thoughtful kindness provided liberal refreshment for the young artistes.

THE CUTT MONUMENT. 30th March 1923

In various published references to the Parish Church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, mention is made of a notable monument in the south chantry to Anne Kempe, first wife of Sir John Cutt, of Childerley, who died on March 13th, 1631. The monument, the designer and sculptor of which was unknown until recently, consists of an altar tomb, surmounted by two life-size figures, which hold open the doors of a triptych. The centre tables bears a long eulogy on the lady's personal merits, and the inner faces of the doors are covered with inscriptions to the memory of five Sir Johns of the Cutt family, with the names of their respective wives. A. G. Hill, in his "Churches of Cambridgeshire," observes that such eulogies are "a great weakness in monuments of the 17th century, contrasting most unfavourably with the simple and pious inscriptions of pre-Reformation times, when great bishops and holy men were content with 'of your charitie pray for the soul of -,' or 'Fili Dei Miserere mei.'" Hill describes the monument as a "semi-classical tomb," possessing "no architectural merit," but Mr. Herbert C. Andrews, in a paper published not long ago, "A Lost Monument, by Nicholas Stone," thinks that if Mr. Hill had "been aware that its designer was Nicholas Stone, he would have given it more attention and have been correspondingly less faint in its praise." It may be mentioned that Nicholas Sone, who was born in 1586, and died in London on August 24th, 1647, was the son of a quarryman of Woodbury, near Exeter. After working in Holland under the sculptor Hendrik de Keyser, whose daughter he married, he became the great sculptor of his time, and the rejuvenator of the art in England. He was also an architect, and his work is associated with Inigo Jones' introduction of Renaissance architecture into England. He is, however, best known by his monuments, which will be found in Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Greenwich, Merton College, Oxford, and elsewhere. The discovery that Stone was the designer of the Cutt monument is due to the researches of Mr. Andrews. In Stone's account book there is an entry relating to a monument he erected in the Church of St. Peter, Great Berkhamsted, in memory of Thomas Baldwin, for which he received £40, "lese thin I had for Sir John Coutts, it being the same model." Stone's entries show that he was deficient in orthography, and therefore the spelling of Cutt as Coutts, and Baldwin as Balding, is of no consequence. The Swavesey monument is complete, and is still in the original form in which Stone erected it, and a photograph of it by Mr. J. H. Bullock, of Cambridge, is included with Mr. Andrews' paper. The Baldwin replica at Great Berkhamsted, on the other hand, was shorn of its figures and doors when the church was “restored” by Butterfield in 1869-70, and the altar tomb and tablet were removed from the north arcade of the nave to the south aisle. Eighteen years later, in order to provide space for additional pews, the altar tomb was discarded and the tablet put upon two ugly corbels, which now support it. The missing figures have recently been discovered in a rubbish corner, or cupboard, of Great Berkhamsted Church, where they had been stored away since 1870, as of little or no value, their sculptor being unknown. Mr. Andrews says they are damaged, but by no means beyond repair. The altar tomb and doors have disappeared, probably having been purchased by stonemasons. Swavesey, therefore, possesses a unique article of the work of a Master Mason of James I and Charles I, for whose sake the monument, which hitherto has been notable only for its unusual form, will in future be prized as a possession of value.

WHIST DRIVE. 6th April 1923

For the benefit of the War Memorial Hall Fund, a whist drive was held at the National School on Monday evening. Seventeen tables were in play, and the prizes were won as follows: Ladies, Miss Prutton, Miss A. S. Cole, Mrs. Podmore; gentlemen, Mr. Utteridge, Mr. W. Twist, Mr. T. Savage. The duties of M.C. were undertaken by Mr. T. C. Heasman.

PERSONAL. 6th April 1923

Mr. Christopher Day, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, left Swavesey yesterday for Southampton, whence he will sail to-morrow (Saturday) for Angola, Portuguese West Africa, to take up mission work. Mr. Day saw service during the war. Joining the R.A.M.C. (East Lancashire Field Ambulance) on the 19th June, 1915, he proceeded to Egypt on the 19th March, 1916, and twelve months later went to the Western Front, where he remained until after the Armistice.

DROVE LETTING. 6th April 1923

The herbage of the droves and roadsides in the parish from the present time until 31st December next was, by direction of the Rural District Council, let by public auction at the White Horse Inn on Monday evening, and realised £22 17s. 6d., against £16 obtained last year. The herbage of the Recreation Ground was let at the same time, by order of the Parish Council, and was secured by Mr. R. Williamson for £3 7s. 6d., an increase of £1 7s. 6d. on last year. Messrs. Underwood, Willingham, were the auctioneers.

VESTRY MEETING. 6th April 1923

At the Vestry meeting on Easter Monday Mr. H. J. Wells was unanimously re-elected people's churchwarden, and the Vicar nominated Mr. C. F. Banks as his warden. In thanking Messrs. Banks and Wells for their services during the past year, the Vicar offered hearty congratulations to the latter on his approaching marriage on behalf of the congregation and himself, and at the close of the meeting handed to Mr. Wells a wedding gift from himself, the Church Council, choir, and other officers and workers connected with the church. Mr. Wells briefly gave expression to his appreciation of the unexpected present.

CONCERT. 6th April 1923

The Cantabs' Concert Party, under the direction of Mr. Harry Bedwell, gave another of their admirable entertainments in the National School on Tuesday evening, and the Parish Church Repair Fund benefited thereby. The programme, it is needless to say, was varied and interesting, and every artiste was in excellent form, but, unfortunately, the audience, though thoroughly appreciative of the good fare provided, was not as large as it might have been.

WEDDING. 6th April 1923

A considerable congregation assembled at the Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, for the marriage of one of the churchwardens, Mr. Henry James Wells, eldest son of Mr. James Wells, a former churchwarden, and Miss Elizabeth Ding, daughter of Mr. William Ding. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated, and the service was fully choral, the choir being present, and two hymns being sung. The bride was given away by Mr. Joseph Ding, and her sister, Miss Alice Ding, was in attendance as bridesmaid. Mr. Ernest Bevan, of North Finchley, was best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the organist, Mr. G. H. Skeeles, played the Wedding March, and as the newly-wedded couple left the church, amidst showers of rice and confetti, the church bells rang merrily. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a gift from the Vicar, church officers, workers and choir.

PARISH CHURCH. 6th April 1923

Owing to the indisposition of the Vicar, only one service could be held at the parish church on Good Friday, viz., at 10.30 a.m., when Matins, the Litany, and the Ante-Communion Service were said, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating. Happily, by Easter Day the Vicar had recovered sufficiently to be able to take all the services that had been announced, viz., Matins at 10.30 a.m., followed by a choral celebration of the Holy Communion, children's service at 3 p.m., and Evensong and sermon at 6.30 p.m. All the services were well attended, the congregation in the evening being especially good. The collections throughout the day were, as usual, devoted as an Easter offering to the Vicar. Between 5 and 6 a.m. the bells were rung merrily. The church had been beautifully decorated by ladies of the congregation.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 6th April 1923

On Good Friday an augmented choir under the able conductorship of Mr. J. W. Williams rendered a sacred cantata by T. M. Pattison, entitled "The Redeemer." There was a large and appreciative audience. Mr. A. Barker, of Over, presided at the organ. The principal soloists were Mrs. F. Norman (soprano), Miss C. Goad (contralto), Messrs. P. Watts and A. Adams (tenors), and Mr. Drake, of St. Ives (bass). Other items in the cantata included a duet by Misses A. Norman and P. Parish, a trio by Mrs. Binks, Misses A. Norman and P. Parish. On the conclusion of the cantata a very hearty welcome was given to Mr. Binks, of St. Ives who provided an excellent programme.

MR. HAROLD GRAY. M.P. 6th April 1923

The Agricultural Problem: Should the Industry be Subsidised?

SPEECH AT SWAVESEY LAST NIGHT.

Speaking at a concert held in the Schoolroom at Swavesey yesterday (Thursday) evening, Mr. Harold Gray, the Member for the County, said that at the first meeting of Parliament last autumn they cleared up a number of things left by the old Government. Referring to his experiences in the House, Mr. Gray said that before he went there he thought that Labour could undertake to govern the country, but since he had sat in front of the Labour members he deplored any chance the country would have if it had to rely upon that party. The difficulty was that the leaders of the party were pushed from behind by the Socialistic element.

The Labour party professed to be in sympathy with those in distress, especially the industrial people in the towns, but they had no sympathy whatever for the agricultural worker. They only thought of their constituents in the towns, and seemed to forget the agricultural workers who provided the people in the industrial centres with their food. Those agricultural workers were working for not much more than the unemployment pay. Labour did not take a broad view, and try to benefit the whole Empire.

The Government had been very much criticised lately, but it must be remembered that they had only been in power for a few months, and they took over a legacy of muddle from the last Government. But the present Government had settled the question of our debt to America. There had been a good deal of bad feeling between Britain and America over the question of the war debt, but now we had got our credit established.

Some people thought the Government were doing nothing, but they were certainly doing something. There was the Merchandise Marks Bill, which would do a good deal for the poultry breeders. He believed that this Bill would be passed, because the Government were going to support it. The Government were also bringing in a Bill for the purpose of giving loans to farmers, and whilst that would not, perhaps, put agriculture on a sound footing, it would certainly help.

Mr. Gray went on to refer to the question of relieving the agricultural community in the matter of rating, and said that they could not get on with such a scheme immediately, but they had succeeded in getting the Chancellor of the Exchequer to put in a temporary measure to tide over the time until a Rating Bill was introduced. A Commission on Agriculture was now sitting, which would issue its report this week, and he hoped that that report would induce the Prime Minister to change his mind in regard to agriculture. The only remedies for agriculture were said to be protection and subsidies, and he did not see that, when they gave subsidies to the miners, they could not do the same for the farmers.

Although he was not an out-and-out Protectionist, he thought the agricultural industry should be safeguarded. They did not want to put up the price of food, but they wanted the industry safeguarded. In conclusion, Mr. Gray said he would do everything he could for agriculture.

Dr. J. W. Ellis presided, and speeches were also delivered by Mrs. Gray, Dr. Spink, and Mr. Bland. An excellent musical programme was presented by Miss Peggy Ellis (piano), Miss Constance Goad (song), Mr. Clover (song), and Miss Dodson.

MILK. 13th April 1923

The retail price of milk in Swavesey has been reduced to 5d. per quart.

CRICKET CLUB. 13th April 1923

At a recent meeting of the Cricket Club it was decided that the first eleven should enter the Turner Cricket League, and the second eleven the Milton and District League.

A VISITATION. 13th April 1923

The Right Rev. Bishop Price, Archdeacon of Ely, who was accompanied by the Rural Dean of North Stowe (Rev. R. P. Moline), on Wednesday made an official visitation of Swavesey parish church, the Vicarage, and the school.

PARISH CHURCH. 13th April 1923

Within the past ten years much has been done to put Swavesey Parish Church, one of the largest in the county, into a state of sound repair, the last work undertaken being the roof of the nave, which was completed in the autumn. The south aisle roof was being attended to in 1914 when the war put a stop to operations. The remainder of this roof, and also the roof of the north aisle, both in bad condition, have still to be done, but unfortunately the nave absorbed all available funds, and the work is costly. The Church Council are, however, endeavouring to raise more money in various ways, and one project they have in hand is a garden fete and sale of work to be held in the Vicarage Grounds on Thursday, 5th July next, when the opening ceremony will be performed by Mrs. H. S. Gray, who has kindly postponed another engagement to enable her to do so.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 13th April 1923

Re-opening services were held at the Primitive Chapel on Sunday, when the Rev. H. P. Ellis, Circuit minister, preached in the afternoon and evening. On Monday evening Mr. Ellis gave an interesting lecture on "Gipsy Smith and his solos." The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher presided, and some of the evangelist's solos were sung by Miss Ruth Chapman and Miss Easter. On Tuesday there was a public tea in chapel, followed at 7 p.m., by a sacred concert by the St. Ives choir, which was much appreciated. Mrs. Ussher, who was in the chair, gave an instructive address, during the interval. The attendances throughout were good. The collections were in aid of the Chapel Fund, which is in urgent need of support, as the extensive renovation and cleaning of the building has involved a heavy expense. A special week's mission will be commenced on Sunday, when Sister Alice, of Cambridge, will conduct services at 2.30 and 6 p.m.

LOSS TO SWAVESEY. 13th April 1923

Death of Mr. Ebenezer Parish, J.P.

The parish of Swavesey has sustained a severe loss by the death of Mr. Ebenezer Parish, which occurred at his residence, Ashlea, Swavesey, shortly before midnight on Monday, after a long period of failing health.

Mr. Parish, who was 71 years of age, was a native of Swavesey, being the eldest son of the late Mr. Isaac Parish. As a young man he went to Manchester, where he established a business of house furnisher and decorator, and by dint of hard work and assiduity, prospered exceedingly. He was only 19 years old when, in consequence of his father's death, the care of his younger brothers devolved on him, and he was instrumental in launching all of them on successful business careers.

Twenty-three years ago Mr. Parish relinquished his Manchester business, which is now carried on by his younger son, and returned to Swavesey, where he did much useful public work. In 1906 he was appointed a Justice of the Peace for the County, and sat on the Chesterton Divisional Bench. For some time he was chairman of the Swavesey Parish Council, and until four years ago, when the state of his health rendered retirement desirable, he was a member of the St. Ives Board of Guardians, and of the Swavesey Rural District Council. In 1913-14 he took an active share in the work of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Committee, and on its dissolution was appointed a life trustee of the old age pensioners' cottages, which were built with the unexpended balance of the fund.

The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at Swavesey Cemetery, amidst manifestations of sympathy and respect, and was attended by a large concourse of people. The service was conducted by Mr. J. T. Wiles, of St. Ives, who was assisted by Mr. Rowell of Huntingdon. The mourners included, Mrs. Parish (widow), Mr. A. L. Parish and Mr. R. Parish (sons), Mrs. R. Parish (daughter-in-law), Masters Edwin and Reg. Parish (grandsons), Messrs. E. and Jethro Parish (Manchester) and Z. Parish (brothers), Mrs. Joseph Parish, Bedford, Mrs. Jethro Parish and Mrs. Z. Parish (sisters-in-law), Mr. James Williams, Surfleet (brother-in-law), and Mr. William Parish, Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Miss Lizzie Parish and Miss Feakes (cousins). (Full list of mourners in newspaper).

The coffin was of polished oak. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, carried out the funeral arrangements. There were no flowers by special request.

A LEAKAGE. 20th April 1923

A correspondent writes: What, may I ask, is the cause of the mysterious leakage which for some days past has been spoiling the fair surface of the public highway near Swan Pond? At first we thought that another water supply pipe had burst, but now the colour of the liquid leads us to suggest that a drain needs attention.

THE DRAINS. 20th April 1923

The report of the Ministry of Health Inspector, Dr. H. T. Calvert, who inspected the drainage of Swavesey on Feb. 2nd, has been received by the Rural District Council, and on Friday last the Chairman of the Council (Mr. J. Frohock), Mr. F. Kirby (vice-chairman), and the two local councillors (Messrs. R. Norman and C. Wood), made a careful examination of the open drain between Middle Watch and Church End, with a view, it is understood, to remedial measures being adopted, including the erection of a flushing tank in Middle Watch. It is not known whether the district councillors included in their investigations the untrapped gratings to the drain in High-street, near Turn Bridge. The stench from these openings is frequently most offensive, especially at night, and can be remedied.

BRITISH LEGION. 27th April 1923

At a meeting of the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion, held in the National School on Tuesday evening, arrangements were made for matches in the competition for the Lord Lieutenant's Cup.

A POULTRY FARM. 27th April 1923

Swavesey is favoured with a fine old Manor House, and its present owner and occupier, Mr. Reginald Barwell, N.U.P.S., S.P.B.A., P.C., B.B.L.C., is one of the men who are needed to make our countryside the happy and money-making places of the good old days. It was only a few years since that Mr. Barwell started his now famous poultry farm at Swavesey, which to those interested is worth a day's journey to visit. To see his birds rushing to lay in trap-nests is a sight not easily forgotten, and buyers of such famous prize-winners will have an opportunity at Messrs. Underwood's spring sale, as advertised, of securing, at a special low reserve, White Leghorn hens (1921), White Leghorn pullets (1922), Rhode Island pullets (1922), day-old chicks and sittings of eggs. Mr. Barwell has kindly consented at the close of the sale to take a limited number of persons interested in up-to-date methods of poultry farming over his utility poultry grounds and pens. Tickets to be obtained only of the auctioneers. – (Communicated)

NATIONAL SAVINGS. 27th April 1923

Mrs. C. Wood has undertaken the duties of local hon. sec. of the National Savings Scheme, and is in attendance at the school every Friday from 6 to 7 p.m., to receive contributions. The scheme is of great service to the individual as well as the State, and is open to all classes of contributors.

"THE HAYMAKERS." 27th April 1923

The Over Choral Society gave a meritorious performance of Dr. Roots' cantata, "The Haymakers", in Swavesey National School on the 19th inst., under the able and energetic conductorship of Mr. G. W. Thoday, and very generously handed over the proceeds to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall Fund. The audience, unfortunately, was not as large as it ought to have been, possibly owing to the numerous entertainments which have recently been held in the village, but perhaps also because Swavesey people do not take their music as seriously as Over folk do, and were frightened away by so imposing a work as a cantata. But if lacking in numbers, the audience was certainly not wanting in appreciation.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27th April 1923

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held at the National School on Monday evening, when there were present: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, A. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, W. Twist, and C. Wood, with Mr. S. F. Mitham, acting for the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham, who is seriously ill. Mr. A. Norman was re-elected chairman, and Mr. Wood vice-chairman; Messrs. F. Hemington and A. G. Parish were appointed overseers; and it was agreed that the whole of the Council should form the Fire Engine Committee. Mr. Parish called attention to the very bad condition of the Hale-road leading to Fen Drayton, over which much traffic passes, and he moved a resolution that the Rural District Council be asked to provide material, slag for preference, for its repair. Mr. Burton seconded, but before the resolution was put to the meeting by the Chairman, Mr. Parish accepted a suggestion that the matter should be left in the hands of the local District Councillors, Messrs. R. Norman and Wood. The destruction of sparrows next came under discussion, and Messrs. Burton and Twist consented to continue to act as purchasers of defunct birds on behalf of the Council, the former reporting that he had done no business last year, while the latter said that a few birds had been brought to him. A proposal that rats as well as sparrows should be purchased did not meet with favour. The reward is to remain the same as last year, viz., ½d per bird. Before the meeting closed Mr. Cole inquired when the Parish Council accounts would be presented. The Chairman replied that they would be considered at the next meeting, when he hoped the Clerk would be present, and, in answer to the question as to when the annual parish meeting would be held, he said that he thought it was useless to call the meeting, as in the past years only one or two persons in addition to himself and the Clerk took the trouble to attend. The subject was not pursued, and the meeting ended.

DEATH OF A RAILWAYMAN. 4th May 1923

The news of the unexpected death of Mr. George Cash, a young and much-liked railwayman, which occurred on Sunday, came as a great shock to his many friends in Swavesey on Tuesday morning. Mr. Cash, then just 18 years of age, went to Swavesey as a platform porter at the railway station at the end of September, 1921. Latterly the state of his health caused much anxiety, and on 5th March, under medical advice, he entered a sanatorium in Cheshire, of which district he was a native.

WOMEN CONSERVATIVES. 4th May 1923

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of the Swavesey Polling District Branch of the Cambs. Women's Unionist Association which was held in the schools on Tuesday evening, under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. J. Warboys: - President, Mrs. Banks; chairman, Mrs. Warboys; vice-chairman, Miss Beaumont, treasurer, Mrs. Page; hon. sec., Mrs. C. Wood; committee, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. W. F. Gleaves, Mrs. F. Hemington, Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mrs. Pettett, Mrs. Walter Thorp, Miss D. Banks, and Miss E. Dodson. The secretary was desired to convey the thanks of the Branch to Mrs. Cooke for her service as chairman during the past year. The members are sending a large dressed doll to the County Garden Fete on June 30th.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 4th May 1923

Bethel Band of hope closed a most encouraging session on April 26th, when the children met for their final tea and concert. Miss Easter presided, and the little ones, ably trained by Mrs. W. Savage, provided an excellent programme, and Mr. A. J. Freestone gave a very helpful address. Arrangements for tea were kindly undertaken by Mesdames Arthur Norman, Frank Norman, G. E. Canham, J. Day, W. Savage, S. Godfrey, and Misses M. Norman and Easter, assisted by a band of willing helpers. A pleasing feature of the evening was that the elder girls took charge of the trays, loyally supported by the elder lads, and the absent members were not forgotten. Mr. Canham generously provided a liberal supply of oranges, and valuable and untiring help was rendered by Mr. Frank Norman and Mr. F. W. Pontefract, not only at last week's tea and concert, but throughout the session.

SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATIONS. 11th May 1923

Fifteen scholars under 12 years of age from Fen Drayton, Lolworth, Over and Swavesey, sat for the examination for County Minor Scholarships and for qualification for admission in the secondary and central schools, which was held in Swavesey National School on Wednesday morning. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar of Swavesey, and the Rev. J. F. Cooksey presided.

JACKDAWS. 11th May 1923

A correspondent writes: Jackdaws are notoriously troublesome birds, and many are the distressing tales told about them. We have it on the authority of the late Rev. Mr. Barham, that in days long ago a jackdaw at Rheims appropriated the Episcopal ring of a cardinal, and in addition to putting an important ecclesiastical establishment to serious inconvenience, brought himself under the ban of a terrible curse, uttered by his Eminence, which had the effect of disarranging his feathers, interfering with his appetite, and eventually of pricking his conscience. In modern days jackdaws may not have the chance of stealing Lord Cardinal's rings, but in Swavesey last week-end they were proved to have blocked a chimney at the Vicarage. The chimney, it is true, had not been used for several years, but recently, when wanted, it was found to be blocked. A local sweep was called in, and thrust his brush up the chimney. It went a certain distance, but could not be induced to go further. The sweep mounted to the top of the chimney, and attacked the obstruction from above, but still could not force a passage. A bricklayer was summoned in haste, to cut a hole in the brickwork, and the two British workmen, the sweep from below, and the bricklayer from above, cleared away an accumulation of sticks, bits of brick and rubbish of all sorts and kinds, solidly packed to a depth of 4 to 5 feet, but nothing approximating to a Lord Cardinal's ring was discovered. While so engaged a jackdaw alighted on the chimney top, and immediately dived down to investigate the interference with his home, only to be caught by the bricklayer, whose hand was in the hole. The bird's career was ended, for the heartless bricklayer promptly wrung its neck. When the rubbish was cleared away the vicar found that he had kindling for domestic use sufficient for many days.

A NOVEL BRAKE. 18th May 1923

Two old boots formed the brake blocks of a hawker's wagonette which passed through the village on Tuesday morning. The wagonette was laden with goods for sale.

THE FEAST. 18th May 1923

"Come, gentle Spring, ethereal mildness, come," was the prayer of Swavesey people last week-end, for nice, fine weather is an essential of a successful Feast. But instead of "ethereal mildness" they had to endure cold, inclement, and stormy weather. Visitors were few compared with the crowds that were wont to attend the annual festival in by-gone years, and the showman element was not up to pre-war average. The services at the parish church on Sunday were well attended, especially in the evening, when there was an exceptionally large congregation. The service was bright and hearty, and the choir sang an anthem. During the evening the Willingham Salvation Army Band played in Market-street amongst the assembling Feast folk, and held a meeting. Cricket matches should have been the attraction on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, but owing to the weather they failed to attract the usual crowds. On Monday Swavesey defeated Lolworth, and on Tuesday managed to score a first innings victory over their Over neighbours. Neither Over nor Swavesey were at full strength – in fact it is understood that there was difficulty in finding players in both villages hardy enough to face the elements. With perhaps two exceptions batsmen and fielders wore coats, and some of the latter even donned long macintoshes. Cricket under such conditions may have been heroic, but was hardly cricket. A few shivering spectators crouched under the shelter of the School and of neighbouring houses. There was a better attendance at the “Feast,” which, in accordance with custom, was held in Market-street, on Tuesday evening, than on Monday, and it was noticed that the stalls, etc., were arranged on a far better plan than in previous years.

LOCAL WILL. 18th May 1923

MR. E. PARISH, SWAVESEY.

Mr. Ebenezer Parish, of Swavesey, for many years in business in Manchester as a house furnisher and carpet factor, and member of the St. Ives Board of Guardians and Swavesey Rural Council, and Chairman of the Swavesey Parish Council, who died on the 9th April last, aged 71 years, left gross estate of the value of £1, 459, with net personalty £190 6s. 6d. Mrs. Hannah Parish, of the same address, widow relict, is the executrix.

TRUSTEES MEETING. 25th May 1923

At a meeting of the trustees of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity held at Frere Cottages on May 17th, Mr. A. J. Willson was elected a co-operative trustee to serve for a period of five years. Mr. W. H. Key is now the sole remaining life trustee, all the other life trustees appointed in 1914, when the charity was established, having died, resigned, or become disqualified. When the Parish Council appoint another representative, the board of seven trustees will be complete. Parish Council representatives serve for a period of four years.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 25th May 1923

A meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society was held at the National School on Friday evening. Dr. J. W. Ellis presided, and representatives from Boxworth, Fen Drayton and Over attended, in addition to a good number of Swavesey members. Mr. C. W. Hines presented a report of the progress made in Over, and the treasurer (Mr. Paine) explained the present financial position of the society. A few additions were made to the schedule for the show, which is to take place on August 9th, and the programme of sports, submitted by Mr. Topham, on behalf of the Sports committee was approved, after discussion. A resolution, proposed by Mr. Walter Thorp (Swavesey), and seconded by Mr. C. W. Hines (Over) that a voluntary guarantee fund should be established, was carried nem. con.

Mr. Harold Gray, M.P., has intimated that he will present a silver challenge cup for the inter-village tug-of-war contest at the sports, to be held in connection with the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society's show on August 9th next.

AN ENQUIRY. 1st June 1923

A correspondent writes: I cannot help noticing that some young men in this district have recently had their bicycles fitted with racing handle bars, in place of those of the ordinary type. Can the alteration have been made in view of the forthcoming Horticultural Society's Sports?

EMPIRE DAY. 1st June 1923

Swavesey National School kept Empire Day very quietly. After the saluting of the flag and the singing of "Flag of Britain," the Headmaster gave an address on the Empire and the reason for Empire Day. Kipling's "Recessional" and the National Anthem concluded the proceedings.

PARTICULAR BAPTISTS. 1st June 1923

Anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the special preacher being Mr. Kemp, jun., of Luton. Between the services there was a public tea. The attendance at the services and at the tea was excellent, many friends from other villages being present, and the collections were good.

COMMENDATION. 1st June 1923

On more than one occasion in recent years complaint has been made of the neglected condition of the roads and lanes under the control of the Swavesey Rural District Council. It is pleasing, therefore, to be able to report that Wallman's-lane, which was slowly but surely assuming the appearance of a green drove-way, has been thoroughly cleaned up within the past few days by two of the Council's venerable, but still energetic, roadmen. Grass which had encroached on the road space has been neatly chopped off, and other intrusive vegetation has been removed from the surface of the cart-way.

BOYS' CRICKET. 8th June 1923

Swavesey junior cricketers, who are taking a keen interest in the national game this year, and arranging a series of matches with juveniles in neighbouring villages, entertained a team of Willingham boys on May 30th, and gained a creditable victory. Scores: Willingham, 1st innings, 19; 2nd innings, 20 for four wickets; Swavesey, 65 (H. Brooks, 14, B. Daintree 11, E. Thompson 16, T. Bull 17 not out).

DEATH OF A NONAGENARIAN. 8th June 1923

Mrs. Ann Sutton, widow of the late Mr. Benjamin Sutton, who belonged to a very old Swavesey family, passed away about mid-day on Wednesday, at the residence of her son-in-law and youngest daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Church End. Mrs. Sutton attained the great age of 92 years last April, and if she was not the oldest inhabitant of Swavesey, was certainly the oldest woman parishioner. Left a widow 16 years ago, she is survived by one son and three daughters. She had been in feeble health for some time.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 8th June 1923

Sunday School anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday. The Rev. H. P. Ellis preached excellent sermons in the morning and evening, and in the afternoon gave an address to the children at an egg and flower service. At the end of the week the older scholars had collected 800 eggs in the village, and these have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, while the flowers have, as usual been forwarded to St. Ives Infirmary. Certificates of merit awarded in connection with the Sunday School Union Scripture examination held earlier in the year were presented in the afternoon to Kenneth Williams (Lower Junior), Maggie Prior (Lower Middle), Winnie Godfrey, Richard Brooks, George Day, and James Kester. Special hymns were sung throughout the day, and a notable musical feature was a quartette capitally rendered by certain of the scholars. Good congregations attended all the services, and collections were taken in aid of Sunday School funds.

FATHER SUES SON. 15th June 1923

Claim for Damages for Alleged Trespass at Swavesey.

HEARING AT SUFFOLK ASSIZES.

Among the civil cases heard by Mr. Justice Lush at Suffolk Assizes, Bury St. Edmund's, last Friday, was an action for damages by H. W., of Swavesey, against D. W., of the same village, for alleged trespass.

Mr. Van den Berg said father and son were respectively plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleged that in 1920 he spent a good deal of money in preparing his land for sowing oats during the autumn, but about Michaelmas in the same year the son, without justification, took the lock off the gate of the field and substituted one of his own, so shutting his father out of his own property. The father afterwards, acting upon legal advice, removed the lock and recovered possession. In the November following the son committed a more serious trespass by getting a number of people to plough up the land, thus preventing the sowing of oats. A little later the son brought an action in the County Court to recover possession of the whole of the land held under his father's tenancy, basing his claim upon the allegation that his father had been guilty of a breach of tenancy agreement, by sub-letting. This action precluded the father from dealing with the land until the County Court Judge had given his decision upon the dispute, and which was not reached until April, when Judge Farrant gave a verdict in favour of the father, but did not allow the father costs, because of a strong letter he had written to his son. Plaintiff claimed for losses sustained in consequence of not being able to sow the land for crops, and asked for £225.

His Lordship suggested that as the case only involved a question of damages, the son might make some offer, which ought to be liberal.

Failing agreement between the parties, the hearing was adjourned till 10.30 on Saturday morning.

FUNERAL. 15th June 1923

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Sutton, widow of the late Mr. Benjamin Sutton, whose death, at the age of 92 years, on June 6th, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Pastor E. Short officiated. The principal mourners were: Mr. Walter Sutton, West Hartlepool (only son), Mrs. Lee, Leeds, and Mrs. Jabez Parish (daughters), Mr. Jabez Parish (son-in-law), Mr. Walter Wilderspin, St. Ives, Mr. A. G. Parish, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brooks, Cambridge, and Miss C. Parish (grandchildren), and Miss Kate Sutton and Mrs. William Crisp, Longstanton (nieces). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey. The late Mrs.

Sutton was the youngest daughter of Mr. William Radford, farmer and butcher of Oakington, of which village she was a native. Seventy-three years ago, on her marriage, she went to Swavesey, and there she passed the rest of her life. Her husband died 16 years since.

GARDEN FETE. 15th June 1923

The village of Swavesey was unusually lively on Thursday afternoon and evening last week. On the recreation ground a cricket match was played between elevens representing respectively the Swavesey district and the Sutton branches of the British Legion, who met in a round of the Lord Lieutenant's Cup competition. The game, which was keenly fought, was won easily by the visitors, who were undoubtedly the better team. It was estimated that at one time at least 300 spectators were watching the play. In the pleasant garden of Swavesey Manor, with its trimly-kept lawns, the annual garden fete was held for the benefit of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, by kind permission of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The weather was propitious, and the fete was a great success, resulting in a net profit to the Association of £46 17s., an increase of about £5 on last year. The takings at the gate, where Mr. John Smith and Mr. Cecil Dean were in charge, alone amounted to £7 6s. 3d. A main feature of the fete was the baby show, open to infants born in the three parishes, for which there were 23 entrants, 17 of whom made their appearance before the judges, Dr. Frank Robinson (County Medical Officer) and Miss Richards (Assistant Supt. County Nursing Association). Prizes were awarded to the following: 1 to 6 months of age Joan Helen Mitham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Mitham, Swavesey; 7 to 12 months, Arthur James Ingle (Fen Drayton) and Philip William John Cook (Over), equal; 1 to 2 years, Brian Hugh Papworth (Over). All of the 17 infants came up to standard, and will receive certificates. Nurse Walters, who was responsible for the management of the baby show, can be congratulated on the result of her efforts. The general attractions included excellent half-hour entertainments, given by Mrs. Banks and Misses Banks, Cole and E. Dodson, and Morris and country dances by children, who had been admirably trained by Miss Beaumont. The Morris dances were undertaken by 18 Swavesey children, all dressed in white, and the country dances by Fen Drayton children, who also sang in capital style "Come to the Fair." Both dances were very effective and were capitally done. Miss May Mustill played the piano accompaniments for the Morris dances, and Miss Vera Furniss for the country dances. A parade of decorated bicycles, organised by Nurse Walters, attracted 21 competitors. Some of the decorations were striking and novel, and all were pretty and effective, but space does not permit of a detailed description being given of each. The judges, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Oliver, and Mrs. Ussher, had undoubtedly some difficulty in awarding the prizes, but eventually they made the following selection: 1 Miss Mary Warboys (sailor boy with boat), 2 Miss Eva Freestone (oranges and lemons), 3 Miss Winnie Froment (Twink dyes), 4 Miss Crouch (Union Jack). The remaining 17 received consolation prizes. There were many other competitions and sideshows (listed in newspaper). The fete was opened by Mrs. Francis, Longstanton. The general management was in the hands of Mrs. Cooksey and the other officers of the Association.

ADVERT. 22nd June 1923

TRUCK DERAILED. 22nd June 1923

Through the derailment of a large fruit van on an "up" goods train, both the "up" and "down" lines at Swavesey Station were blocked for upwards of an hour shortly before noon on Tuesday.

BETHEL CHAPEL ANNIVERSARY. 22nd June 1923

Larger congregations than ever welcomed the Rev. S. W. Hughes, the popular preacher of Westbourne Park, who gave two brilliant and powerful sermons at Bethel Baptist Chapel anniversary on June 14th. Mr. Hughes got very close to the hearts of his hearers, and his message will abide as a memory of real help given to many. The choir finely rendered the anthem. "O praise the Lord, all ye nations." Admirable arrangements were made by the ladies of the congregation for a public tea between the services, when over two hundred sat down. Generous collections were taken for the church funds.

PARISH COUNCIL. 22nd June. 1923

A meeting of the Parish Council was held on Friday in the National School. There were present: Mr. Arthur Norman (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., C. H. Parish, W. Twist, and C. Wood, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). At the outset an important statement relative to the financial position of the War Memorial Hall, which is being erected on parish property in High-street, in accordance with a resolution passed at a meeting of parishioners held in May, 1919, was made by Mr. C. Wood, Vice-Chairman of the Council and Hon. Sec. and Treas. of the Memorial Hall Committee. He stated the amount already expended in building and the amounts still in hand and outstanding. After discussion, the Council unanimously decided to lease the land to the trustees of the Hall, to enable them to raise a loan to cover the cost of completing and furnishing the building and fitting it for the purposes for which it was originally planned. On the proposal of Mr. Linford, seconded by Mr. Twist, Mr. A. Norman was re-appointed a trustee of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity for a further period of four years. An interesting statement by the Clerk on the subject of rates led to some discussion, and after bills for £32 6s. 5d. had been passed for payment, and a precept on the overseers for £25 issued, the meeting was closed.

ACCIDENT. 29th June 1923

When drawing water on Tuesday evening, Mrs. R. Mitham, jun., Church End, slipped and fell against the side of the cistern and fractured one or two of her ribs.

DEATH OF A LATE INHABITANT. 29th June 1923

The sad news was received in the village on Monday night that Miss Caroline Smith, a native of Swavesey, and an old pupil of the National School, had passed away at Pidley, Hunts., earlier that evening, aged 29 years. Her prolonged and very painful illness had been borne with great courage and patience. She was the only daughter of the late Mr. Charles Smith, for twenty years a blacksmith in Swavesey, who some time ago migrated to Pidley, where he died in May, 1922. The funeral takes place to-day (Friday) at Pidley.

SWAVESEY MAN IN INDIA. 29th June 1923

Writing on June 7th from Meerut, India, to a friend in Swavesey, Farrier Staff-Sergt. Warren Wright, 11th Hussars, says that the "Independent Press" is sent to him every week by his sister, and that he has "a good look at the village news and the football and cricket." As regards the latter he adds, however, that there are only about two Swavesey men whom he knows or can remember – Fred Causer and Tom Savage. Staff-Sergt. Wright left Swavesey long ago, and in two and a half years' time he will have completed 21 years in the Army. He served throughout the Great War with the 11th Hussars. His friends will be glad to know that he reports himself "in the pink of condition," and that "he likes being in India very much."

BULLOCK DROWNED. 29th June 1923

A fat bullock, belonging to Mr. W. J. Hephew, butcher, was found drowned in Navigation Drain on Thursday in last week. It will be remembered that last year there was considerable agitation in the parish respecting the neglected condition of the drain, and it was contended that the mud which had been allowed to accumulate for many years not only minimised the usefulness of the drain for taking away flood water, but was a danger to stock in adjoining fields. Parish meetings were held, and passed resolutions requesting the District Council to have the drain cleaned out. The Council, however, declined to do this on the score of expense, and instead had a dam constructed closing the exit of the drain to the river.

OBITUARY. 29th June 1923

Mrs. Lydia Ivett, widow of the late Mr. James Ivett, of Fen Drayton, who had been ill since the beginning of this year, passed away on the 19th inst., at the residence of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Peppercorn, Gibraltar-lane, Swavesey. Mrs. Ivett, who was 83 years of age, was a native of Fen Drayton, and had spent the whole of her life in that village, until seven years ago, when she removed to Swavesey with Mr. and Mrs. Peppercorn. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon at Fen Drayton Parish Church, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing (vicar of Swavesey) officiating. The mourners included Mr. Mark Ivett (son), Mrs. G. Tabram, Mrs. Brent Johnstone and Mrs. J. Peppercorn (daughters), Mrs. M. Ivett (daughter-in-law), Mr. J. Peppercorn (son-in-law) and Miss Emma Squires and Mrs. R. H. Norman (nieces). The coffin was of elm, with black fittings. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

NINETY-ONE. 6th July 1923

Mrs. Caroline Covell, High-street, widow of the late Mr. John Covell, will celebrate her 91st birthday to-morrow (Saturday). She is the oldest woman in Swavesey.

OBITUARY. 6th July 1923

Mrs. Ellen Adams, of Little Walden-road, Saffron Walden, widow of Mr. George Adams, and daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Dodson, of Swavesey, died on June 25th, at the great age of 92½ years. She resided in Little Walden-road for 60 years. The funeral took place at Saffron Walden Cemetery on Friday.

BAND OF HOPE. 6th July 1923

The children of Bethel Band of Hope, accompanied by adult friends, spent a very happy day at Wicksteed Park, Kettering, on June 28th. The main party journeyed to and fro by motor charabanc, but the youngsters who had attended the meetings most regularly were conveyed by Mr. G. E. Canham. The outing was organised by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norman, whose arrangements were admirable.

FUNERAL. 6th July 1923

The remains of Miss Elizabeth Carolin Smith (only daughter of the late Mr. Charles Smith for 20 years a blacksmith in Swavesey), whose death on June 25th, at the age of 29 years, was announced last week, were laid to rest in Pidley, Hunts., churchyard on Friday. The rev. Ponton, Baptist minister, Somersham, officiated.

SWAVESEY GARDEN FETE. 6th July 1923

Another Big Effort for Repair of Parish Church Roof.

“SECOND ROUND OF THE CONTEST.”

Much hard work has been done in the past by the people of Swavesey towards raising funds to put their Parish Church in a fit state of repair, and yesterday (Thursday) they made another praiseworthy effort with the same object in view. Favoured by magnificent weather, they held a garden fete in the beautiful grounds of the Vicarage, which holds out promise of distinctly encouraging result.

In the absence of Mrs. Harold Gray, the wife of the Member for the County, owing to her husband's illness, the opening ceremony was performed by Mrs. Moline, wife of the Rural Dean (the Rev. R. P. Moline, rector of Cottenham). The Vicar of Swavesey (the Rev. C. F. Stebbing) presided, supported by Mrs. Stebbing, the Rev. R. P. and Mrs. Moline, the Rector of Willingham (the Rev. A. C. Hair) and Mrs. Hair, the churchwardens (Messrs. C. Banks and H. Wells), Messrs. W. H. Key and G. Wood, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Cooksey and Mrs. Thoms.

THE OPENING CEREMONY.

Swavesey, said the Chairman in his opening remarks, was a place for big things, and he was told they had got the biggest church in the county of Cambs. That meant to them that when there was anything to do in the way of repairs, there was a very large amount of work to be done. When the roof was put on the church some 500 or 600 years ago, they made a very fine job of it; such a good job that when it came to a matter of repairs it was a difficulty to repair it worthily of the work that had been put into it. When he came to Swavesey about eight months ago, he learned that they had made a very large effort towards the repair of the roof, and that they had completed the repair of the roof of the nave. If he might use a pugilistic phrase, that was the first round of the contest, and it ended very brilliantly. The work had been done worthily, at a cost of some £886 10s. Now they were entering upon the second round, which, he was afraid, would be a great test of endurance, because this time the roof of the south aisle would cost, they were told, £1,350 to do all worthily of the rest of the work. They could not do it in one year, and perhaps not in two, but they were entering upon a severe struggle to get it done. Then would come the third round, the roof of the north aisle, which it was estimated would cost about £550. They had that strenuous struggle in front of them. They had cleared the deficit on the nave roof, and had got together some £80 for the work which they were now undertaking. He asked for the support of all in everything that was got up from time to time for that big work. They were all very sorry that the Member's wife, who had promised to come, had been unable to be there owing to her husband's illness, but they were very fortunate in having Mrs. Moline present, and also Mr. Moline, their Rural Dean, who had always taken a very practical interest in Swavesey and its church, helping them by his donations and his presence there that afternoon.

Mrs. Moline, in declaring the fete open, congratulated Swavesey on securing such a beautiful afternoon, and congratulated those who had worked so generously for the fete. She was quite sure her brother, the Archdeacon, was very much interested in the object of the fete, and would have liked to have been present. She wished the fete every success.

MANY ATTRACTIONS.

There was a capital array of goods on the various stalls, and a large number of interesting competitions. A novel and amusing feature of the latter was a collection of weird figures standing in a row. We are able to contradict, on the most reliable authority, the rumour that they consisted of the Vicar and certain members of the Swavesey Church Council; nevertheless their efforts at collecting money were as successful as they would have been had they been those esteemed personages in real life, instead of cleverly made up dummies. The St. Ives Town Brass Band played a number of enjoyable selections during the afternoon, and accompanied the dancing that took place in the evening. A delightful entertainment was provided by the Swavesey school children, who gave two performances of a little play, "The Daffodils' Easter Party." They were trained by Mr. C. Wood, the headmaster, Mrs. Wood and the teachers. (Names of stallholders etc. in newspaper).

SUNDAY COLLECTION OF LETTERS. 13th July 1923

Commencing on Sunday next, the 15th inst., a collection of letters, etc., will be made from the Swavesey Post Office at 4.5 p.m. There will, however, be no clearance of the wall box in Middle Watch.

THE FETE. 13th July 1923

The garden fete in the Vicarage grounds on the 5th inst., a report of which appeared in these columns last Friday, was a financial as well as a social success. The gross receipts amounted to £96 4s. 3d., and the expenses to £9 8s. 6d., leaving a net balance of £86 15s. 9d. to be handed to the treasurer of the Parish Church Repair Fund. Included in the receipts were several donations. The donors of gifts in kind were far too numerous for mention in detail. Special references must be made to the truly admirable dresses in the children's play, designed and made by Mrs. Wood, and to Mr. J. V. Wallis, of Cambridge, whose wireless demonstrations, kindly given by him free of cost to the management, were greatly appreciated, notwithstanding that he was considerably handicapped by the broadcasting programme for the day being an uninteresting one. (List of prizewinners and workers in newspaper).

MOTHERS' UNION. 20th July 1923

Fourteen members of the Swavesey Branch attended the great Mothers' Union gathering in Cambridge on the 4th inst.

MR. BEN THORP. 20th July 1923

According to the latest reports, Mr. Ben Thorp, who met with a serious motor accident on the Huntingdon-road on the 11th inst., is progressing as well as can be expected. He is still in Addenbrooke's Hospital.

OBITUARY. 20th July 1923

After a long period of ill-health, Mrs. Harriet Utteridge, wife of Mr. George Utteridge, passed away on Saturday at her home in Peterborough, aged 56 years. Mrs. Utteridge was the daughter of the late Mr. William Wilderspin, of Swavesey, and her husband is also a native of the village. They left Swavesey for Peterborough over twenty years ago. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing (Vicar) officiating. The mourners included: Mr. G. Utteridge (widower), Miss M. Utteridge (daughter), Mr. F. Utteridge (son), Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crick (daughter and son-in-law), Mr. J. H. Randall (nephew), Messrs. W. and J. Wilderspin (brothers), Mrs. Hamps, Mrs. W. Prior, and Mrs. Cooper (sisters) and Mrs. W. Wilderspin, Mrs. V. Thompson and Miss F. Utteridge (sisters-in-law). The coffin was of English oak, carved and moulded, with panelled lid and solid brass fittings. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. C. W. Daft, 31, Eastfield-road, Peterborough.

STORM AND HEAT. 20th July 1923

Last week's storms and recent tropical heat have been responsible for a few unusual incidents in the village. One energetic farmer, disturbed by the storm, went milking before 4 a.m. on Tuesday. The downpour of rain, however, had only ceased temporarily, and he was soon drenched to the skin. Some inhabitants left their beds during the very early hours of Tuesday and stood in their doorways, or during the rainless intervals wandered about the road discussing storms past and present, the weather, and kindred topics, thereby incurring the displeasure of other dwellers in the street, who, unaffected by thunder and lightning, were anxious to complete their night's rest. The rain, it may be mentioned, was welcomed with gratitude, not, however, unmixed with regret that there was not more of it. Two heat-wave incidents may be mentioned. One cottager, unable to rest in his hot bedroom, slept outside his back door on a "stabbed" rug made during last winter by the nimble fingers of his industrious wife. Wrapping a light blanket around him, he slept soundly night after night, and woke up each morning fresh and vigorous. A housewife used the oven of her kitchen range as a cold storage. Unfortunately, when she lighted the fire to cook her Sunday dinner, she forgot the contents of the oven, and the condition of her butter, lard, margarine, etc., when the door was opened, is better imagined than described.

SCHOOL TREATS. 20th July 1923

The children attending the Sunday Schools connected with the parish church and Bethel Baptist Chapel respectively had their summer treats on July 12th. the parish church youngsters spent a very happy time, notwithstanding the tropical heat, in the Vicarage grounds. The proceedings opened with tea on the lawn, after which games were played in an adjoining field, and later there were sports, at which many parents were present. During the evening the young people were regaled with strawberries, kindly supplied by Mrs. Banks, sweets, lemonade, etc. The prizes gained in the sports were presented by Mrs. Stebbing, and the treat was brought to a close with three cheers for the Vicar, and three more for the teachers and all others, who had contributed to the happy evening. – The Bethel children met in the chapel schoolroom, where a sumptuous tea was provided, a similar repast being afterwards supplied for adults. Fortified by an excellent meal, the youngsters enjoyed themselves in a field near by, once again kindly lent by Mr. J. Day. Here during the evening games were played and races run, the latter arranged according to classes, and every child who did not win a prize received a consolation gift. Ice-creams, cakes, lemonade, etc., generously provided by two or three friends, were distributed, and, it is needless to say, were greatly appreciated. Before breaking up there were more refreshments, and on leaving for home, tired, hot and happy, every child received sweets and cake.

FUNERAL. 20th July 1923

The funeral of Mr. David Prime Bridgeford, whose death in Huntingdon County Hospital as a result of a terrible accident near St. Ives on July 9th, was fully reported last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Thursday week. Mr. William Fuller, St. Ives, officiated. The mourners included: Mrs. D. F. Bridgeford (widow), Mr. John Bridgeford (father), Messrs. C. and W. Bridgeford (brothers), Mrs. Fred Doggett and Mrs. A. P. Payne (sisters), Mr. G. Bridgeford, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bridgeford (uncles and aunt) and Mr. and Mrs. G. Trundley (father-in-law and mother-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. Mr. David Bridgeford was a native of Swavesey, being a son of Mr. John Bridgeford. He left Swavesey many years ago, and at the time of his death was residing at Woodhurst, near St. Ives.

HOSPITAL COLLECTION. 27th July 1923

The house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital which has recently been made in the village amounted to £17 11s. 1d. This is the largest contribution from Swavesey under the auspices of the County Organisation Fund. (The total collection for the area amounted to £79 5s. 3d.)

AN UNUSUAL ROOST. 27th July 1923

In an open shed, into which the back door of the Bell Inn opens, four swallows – the parent birds with two young ones between them – roost on a clothes' line every night. Although the line is only about 5½ft. above the ground, the birds take not the slightest notice of people passing to and fro beneath.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 27th July 1923

A meeting of the Swavesey District Horticultural Society was held in the National School on Monday evening to make further arrangements in connection with the forthcoming show and sports. Members were present from Boxworth, Fen Drayton and Over, as well as from Swavesey.

WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE. 27th July 1923

The whist drive and dance, organised by Miss Vera Williamson, assisted by Mrs. R. Williamson and Mrs. E. J. Mitham in aid of the Church Repair Fund, which was to have taken place on the 19th inst., but owing to the rain had to be postponed, was successfully brought off on Tuesday evening in the Vicarage garden. After dusk the grounds were effectively illuminated with fairly lamps. Nineteen tables were in play for whist, over which Mr. T. C. Heasman presided as M.C., and the prizes, which were kindly given by Mr. R. Williamson (2), Mrs. Page, Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mrs. Shepperson, and Mr. S. F. Mitham, were won by the following: Ladies, Mrs. Green, Mrs. F. Beaumont, booby, Miss Barrett; gentlemen, Mr. A. Holmes, Mr. H. Holmes, booby Mrs. C. Page (playing as gentleman). Miss Allen (Willingham) and Miss Ellis presided at the piano for the dance, Mr. E. Williams acting as M.C.

P.M. RALLY. 27th July 1923

Rain interfered with the Primitive Methodist Circuit Rally, which was announced to take place at the Manor, Swavesey, on the 19th inst. It had been arranged that the meetings should be held on the lawn, but owing to the weather, the afternoon meeting had at the last moment to be adjourned to the Primitive Methodist Chapel at Over, whither the contingent from St. Ives was conveyed by a motor omnibus, hastily engaged. The Rev. E. W. Lees, of St. Neots, the principal speaker for the day, preached, and a solo was sung. The public tea, however, took place at the Manor, Swavesey, as previously arranged, a large open shed at the side of the lawn being utilised both for the tea and the public meeting which followed. At the meeting, Mr. Chapman, Longstanton, presided, and addresses were delivered by the Revs. E. W. Lees, H. T. N. Ussher (Bethel Baptist Chapel), and H. P. Ellis (circuit minister). Mrs. Burley, Longstanton, sang a solo. The attendance at the Rally was not as large as had been hoped, owing, no doubt, to the unsettled weather.

WEDDING. 27th July 1923

The marriage took place on July 18th at Tenison-road Baptist Chapel, Cambridge, of Mr. Albert George Parish, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Swavesey, and Miss Mabel Linford, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Linford, Oakington. Pastor G. Banks officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Gladys Linford, and Miss Constance Parish, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. Percy Brooks acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception, attended by relatives and many friends from Cambridge and district, was held at the residence of Mrs. Brooks, the bridegroom's sister, and later in the day the happy couple left for Ramsgate for the honeymoon. The presents were numerous and useful. Owing to the recent death of the bridegroom's grandmother, the wedding was a very quiet one. In the great war Mr. Parish served with the K.R. Rifles, being gassed at Cambrai, and wounded at Trescault in the following September.

WHIST DRIVE. 3rd Aug. 1923

The whist drive and dance for the benefit of the parish church repair fund, which was held in the Vicarage grounds on the 26th ult., resulted in a net profit of £8 14s.

MR. BEN THORP. 3rd Aug. 1923

His numerous friends will be glad to know that Mr. Ben Thorp, who met with a serious motor accident on July 11th on the Cambridge-Huntingdon road, was allowed to leave Addenbrooke's Hospital on Monday, and is now at his home in Swavesey. Although still suffering from the effects of the collision, he is slowly recovering.

OBITUARY. 3rd Aug. 1923

The funeral of Barbara Vera Margaret Peppercorn, the 6½-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Peppercorn, Gibraltar-lane, who died in Addenbrooke's Hospital on July 26th, took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The principal mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. James Peppercorn (parents), Leslie Peppercorn (brother), Carissa and Nora Peppercorn (sisters), Mrs. Edward Peppercorn (grandmother), Mrs. Joseph Peppercorn and Mrs. Stebbing. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

A FREAK. 10th Aug. 1923

Amongst some epicure potatoes grown last year Mr. Sidney Prime has found one which had burst open and disclosed inside four perfectly formed potatoes, each of the size of a bird's egg.

BANK HOLIDAY. 10th Aug. 1923

A large number of visitors were in the village over the week-end, some of whom are extending their stay beyond the Bank Holiday. On Monday 180 market tickets were issued from Swavesey Station to St. Ives, and 43 cheap tickets to Cambridge for the Mammoth Show.

ORGAN RECITAL. 10th Aug. 1923

Swavesey parish church possesses an organ of fair size and of considerable excellence, although not a modern instrument and lacking attributes found in organs of more recent date. Some of it once formed the better part of the old organ at St. Ives parish church. Except at the ordinary services, opportunities for hearing it have of late years been few and far between, and therefore the recital in aid of the Church Roof Repair Fund given last Friday evening by Mr.

E. V. Megson, who had the assistance of Miss Dunnachie, of Sawston, was welcomed by those Swavesey people who love and appreciate music. The attendance was good, especially considering that many of the villagers have to devote their Friday evenings to business. The following was the programme; - Organ. Fanfare (Lemmens), Melody in E (Elgar): solo, "Angels ever bright and fair" (Handel). Miss Dunnachie: organ, Fantasia on a chorale, and, by request, "Humoresque" (Dvorak): song, "Lead, kindly light" (Megson), Miss Dunnachie: organ, Barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffmann" (Offenbach), March in G (Smart). Although somewhat handicapped by persistent squeaks and wheezes proceeding from the neighbourhood of the bellows, Mr. Megson's playing throughout was masterly, and his pieces were well-chosen and varied. For example, Lemmen's brilliant "Fanfare" so often heard at weddings, contrasted well with the slow movement of Elgar's beautiful melody, and equally well did the exquisite barcarolle from the "Tales of Hoffmann" contrast with Smart's march. The fantasia on the 16th century chorale suited the Swavesey organ, and brought out the beauties of the swell organ when used as an accompaniment. Miss Dunnachie possesses a true soprano voice, with a wide range, and her perfect singing of "Angels ever bright" and of Mr. Megson's "Lead, kindly light" was a delight to all who were privileged to hear her. In the latter song, in which the music is so expressive of the words, she showed a thorough understanding of, and sympathy with, the spirit of J. H. Newman's poem and of the music. A collection for the Repair Fund realised £4 9s.

SWAVESEY SHOW. 10th Aug. 1923

Horticultural Society's First Annual Event: Excellent Sports.

GOOD EXHIBITS.

Upon the success of their first annual Show and sports the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society may well congratulate themselves. The function was held in the Manor Field, Swavesey, on Thursday, by kind permission of Alfred Watts, and was a great success. The society was formed within the last 12 months, and includes the six parishes in the Swavesey rural district, Boxworth, Conington, Fen Drayton, Lolworth, with Longstanton, Oakington, Willingham and Fenstanton. "Quite a nice little show" was the verdict of one of the judges upon the horticultural exhibits, most of which were, indeed, excellent. Another side of the show that also met with success was the sports section, the races arousing much interest, and competition being very keen.

The Cambridge Railway Silver Prize Band played selections during the afternoon, and provided music for the dancing which took place in the evening. Many witnessed a clever performance of "The Bathroom Door," the scene of which was laid in a corridor of the "Grand Hotel," Swavesey. This was aptly described as a "screaming tragedy." The performers were: Mr. H. G. Topham, Miss W. Westcott, Mr. R. Barwell, Miss E. Dodson, Miss C. Goad and Mr. J. H. Barwell.

Visitors were also able to amuse themselves at various "side-shows," which included cocoa-nut shies, a novelty "lucky dip," a dart competition and other attractions.

The officials of the society were as follows: President, Mr. C. Sweetland; chairman, Dr. J. W. Ellis; chairman of committee, Mr. C. W. Hine; hon. sec., Mr. C. Wood; treasurer, Mr. G. J. Paine; horticultural committee, Messrs. Walter Thorp, W. Symonds, G. Winter, F. W. Pontefract, H. Ashby, C. W. Hines, R. Asplin, C. Haddow, G. Peachey, F. Day, E. J. Warboys and E. J. Gadsby. The sports were arranged by a committee, with Messrs. C. Godfrey and H. Topham as hon. secs. Good work was also done by Mr. Heasman.

The horticultural judges were Mr. A. T. Paskett and Mr. Geo. Hart, and the sports judges were Dr. J. W. Ellis, Mr. C. F. Banks, Mr. F. Norman, Mr. Frank Norman, and the Rev. C. F. Stebbings. The refreshment department was in charge of Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Thurston, Mrs. Godfrey, sen., Miss Ada Smith, Mrs. F. Johnson, Miss E. Johnson, Mrs. E. J. Warboys, Mrs. Hines; ice-cream, Mrs. Ashby.

CRICKET. 10th Aug. 1923

With reference to the recent correspondence on big hitting in cricket, the captain of the Swavesey Cricket Club informs me that some years ago E. J. Warboys, playing for Swavesey against Abbey United, on Parker's Piece, hit a ten. Either two or three of the runs resulted from an overthrow, but as the Swavesey score book has been destroyed, exact details cannot be ascertained.

KILLED BY WASPS. 17th Aug. 1923

A goat belonging to Mr. Charles Savage, while feeding on Tuesday evening in a Drove near Turn Bridge, was attacked by a swarm of wasps, and was stung so badly that it died during the night. It is believed that the animal had disturbed a wasps' nest.

As a small token of the respect and esteem in which he had been held during the seven years he had been chief clerk at Swavesey Railway Station, Mr. H. J. Hall has been presented with a handsome cakestand by the Stationmaster and operating and commercial staffs. Mr. Hall has been promoted to a post in the L.N.E.R. Goods Office at Cambridge.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 17th Aug. 1923

At a meeting of the Parochial Church Council, held at the Vicarage on Tuesday evening, it was decided that the present balance of the fund for the repair of the roof of the south aisle, amounting to £175, should be invested in War Bonds. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. H. J. Hall for his careful and painstaking work as secretary of the Thrift Club for the last three year, and regret was expressed at his impending departure. It was agreed that an attempt should be made to find a successor to carry on this responsible work.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 17th Aug. 1923

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey Football Club, held at the National School on Monday evening, last year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £5 16s. 2d., were presented, and the following officers for next season were elected: President, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing; vice-presidents, Messrs. C. F. Banks, R. Barwell, W. A. Bignall, W. Crouch, Freestone, W. Mustill, E. F. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, T. Tagg, E. Williams and R. Williamson; captain, Mr. G. E. Canham; vice-captain, Mr. H. J. Hall; captain, 2nd XI, Mr. T. Coulson; vice-captain, Mr. A. Heasman; secretary, Mr. Cyril Godfrey; assistant secretary, Mr. H. Holmes; committee, Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Messrs. A. Beaumont, Frank Hephher, A. Prime, jun., C. Savage and G. Winter. It was decided that the 1st XI should be entered in the Cambs. Junior League (Div. III) and the Minor Cup, and the 2nd XI in the Histon and District League. The annual subscription was fixed at 3s. The meeting was well attended.

LAST WEEK'S SHOW AND SPORTS. 17th Aug 1923

The supporters of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society will be glad to know that about 1,400 persons attended last week's show and sports, and that the affair was a complete financial success. No details of the balance sheet can be given at present, as the many accounts have not been received.

CROPS. 17th Aug. 1923

Wheat: a few good pieces of wheat, on average from 7 to 10 sacks per acre. Barley: Not much grown in this parish, owing to dry weather and sowing rather late; a lot of it did not grow; 6 to 9 sacks per acre. Oats: The dry weather also applies to oats – sown late; winter oats are much the best. Peas and beans are better than last year; not much straw, and the weather too hot and dry; 5 to 7 sacks per acre. Clovers and other fodder: A good crop on the high lands, and got in in good condition. Hay crop rather light on the field land; much better in the fens, and carted in good condition. Roots: a few good pieces on the small holdings, but where land was worked late and got too dry a lot did not come up. Potatoes: A very poor crop, and the early potatoes very small. Fruit: Very poor crop of plums and apples; very small. The weather has been too hot and dry for strawberries, raspberries, etc. They have sold fairly well, I understand, but on the whole the fruit growers will have an exceedingly bad year.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 24th Aug. 1923

The prizes awarded at the recent show of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society were distributed on Saturday evening at the National School.

OUTING. 31st Aug. 1923

The members of the Girls' Bible Class connected with the Parish Church had an outing on the River Ouse on Thursday week. Travelling by train to St. Ives, they rowed thence in four boats to Hemingford mill, where they picnicked under the trees. Their enjoyment was unfortunately soon cut short by heavy rain, which rendered an early retreat towards home desirable.

A MOTOR CYCLE MISHAP. 31st Aug. 1923

A motor cyclist with a lady on a pillion behind him, had a narrow escape from a serious accident when riding along the Huntingdon-road on Thursday, the 23rd inst. Near the turning to Boxworth, the handle-bar snapped off, and the cyclist was unable to steer, and completely lost control of the machine. Luckily the road was clear of other vehicles, and, after wobbling about for some yards, the cycle toppled over, depositing the cyclist and his passenger on the ground. Fortunately, beyond a few abrasions, neither was hurt, and a motor car coming on the scene, they were taken on to Cambridge.

CHURCH REPAIR FUND. 7th Sept. 1923

The whist drive and dance, in aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, which was held recently in the Vicarage grounds, resulted in a net profit of £6 8s. 7d., and this sum has been placed to the credit of the fund. The amount previously reported represented the gross takings.

THE RECREATION GROUND. 7th Sept. 1923

A ratepayer writes: I should like to call attention to two matters connected with the Recreation Ground, or Play Green. In the first place, I would point out that when the footbridge and stile leading from the Recreation Ground towards Brick-hill drove were re-erected some little time ago by direction of the Parish Council, no steps were provided for the stile, thus rendering its use practically impossible by women, and also by men who are not as active as they once were? Secondly, who is responsible for looking after the movable fence which was put up a few years since by the Parish Council for the protection of the cricket pitch? Several of the rails are lying in different parts of the green, some are broken, and one or two have been used as football goalposts. The fence, as it stands, is useless for the purpose for which it was provided, and, if the pitch does not at present need protection, it should, I think, be removed and stored in a place where it can be taken care of. It is true that the cost of the fence, about £26, I believe, did not fall on the rates, as it was paid for out of money received from the letting of the herbage on the Recreation Ground. But that is no reason why money should be wasted owing to the neglect of those persons who are responsible for the care of the ground, and in my opinion the cost of putting the fence in proper condition should not be paid out of the herbage money, but should be defrayed by the persons who did the damage, or failing them, by those whose duty it is to look after the ground.

MATTERS OF THE DISTRICT COUNCIL. 7th Sept. 1923

The members of the Swavesey Rural District Council, who, it is understood, are now enjoying their annual vacation, will perhaps take note of the following communications when they resume their deliberations: A cyclist calls attention to the condition of Rose and Crown-lane, the road leading from Boxworth End to Fen Drayton. He says it is in a terrible state. Another correspondent returns to the ancient complaint of unpleasant smells in the village. These odours were, he understands, to have been mitigated, if not rendered impossible, by certain measures which were decided upon after the Inspector of the Ministry of Health paid a visit to the village, and which included, amongst other things, the provision of a flushing tank in the Middle Watch district. Has anything been done, asks the correspondent, to carry out these remedial measures beyond talking about them and paying visits of inspection? Swavesey is a healthy place, but this is due to its dwelling-houses not being crowded together, and not to the excellence of its sanitation. As the village lies flat and only a few feet above sea level, its sanitary drainage is admittedly a difficult matter, but surely something can be done to minimise the nuisance of the smells.

By the entry of two teams heavy expenses will be incurred, but it is hoped that the "gates" will be bigger this season than in previous years, and that generous donors will appear. Jellings (Longstanton), and at the close the contributions of fruit, etc., were sold. Hephher, terminating his tenancy of the butcher's shop and other premises on the property.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 12th Oct. 1923

The Parish Church was nicely decorated by ladies of the congregation for the harvest festival, which took place on Thursday, October 4th. Flowers were plentiful, and the roses which adorned the pulpit were exceptionally lovely, but the contributions of fruit, vegetables, etc., were not as bountiful as usual, owing no doubt to scarcity due to the dry season. At the principal service, which was held in the evening, the singing was bright and hearty. An eloquent sermon was preached by the Rev. J. Selwyn Sharp (rector of Elveden, Suffolk), who until twelve months ago had for about ten years been vicar of Swavesey, and it is needless to say that his reappearance in the pulpit offered much pleasure to his old parishioners. Mr. Sharp took the miracle of the loaves as subject of his address. The festival was continued on Sunday, and at evensong, when Thursday's music was repeated, the Rev. A. F. Muskew, vicar of St. Paul's Peterborough, and Hon Canon of Peterborough Cathedral was the special preacher. Taking his text from Galatians vi., 7, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. Canon Maskew preached a notable and outspoken sermon, towards the end of which he said that the text was as true of nations as of individual. We are always talking, he continued, about reconstruction, industrial prosperity, housing, the nightmare of unemployment. We look to the newspapers and politicians to show us the way out. They don't. God is waiting for us to do it. The population of our big towns must learn that it is as true, as this text is true, that only by industry, thrift, self-denial and united effort for the common weal these problems can be solved. What is England sowing? Less work, more money, shorter hours, more pleasures are what all are seeking. The Englishman used to love his work, and take a pride in it. Now he looks upon work as an evil. Now what he wants is football, kinemas, theatres, till it is true that we are getting like the Romans of the decadent Empire. All they asked for was panem et circenses – free bread and games. So in our big towns they would say, "We will keep quiet if you give us doles and football." – panem et circenses. The preacher drew a contrast with what he had lately seen in France, where for five years they had sown hard work, thrift, self-sacrifice, and were reaping a harvest of prosperity. Canon Maskew, it may be mentioned, has seen much of the world, and as a young man had many adventures as a cowboy and roughrider in Texas, U.S.A. On Sunday afternoon there was a children's flower service, at which nearly every child in the Sunday School was present, notwithstanding the unfavourable weather. Their gifts of flowers, egg, etc., have been sent to the St. Ives' Infirmary. The collections at all services during the festival (Sunday evening excepted), amounting to £8 14s., were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, to which institution the contributions of fruit, vegetables and other produce have also been forwarded.

The Chief Constable remarked that he thought he knew who the offenders were.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 19th Oct. 1923

Thanksgiving for the harvest was held at Bethel Chapel on Thursday week. The Schoolroom was full at tea-time, after which a large congregation gathered in the Chapel to hear the Rev. O. C. Austin, of Cottenham, who delivered an interesting sermon on "Gleaners," based on the story of Ruth. His visit was much appreciated. The chapel was tastefully decorated, and liberal gifts of fruit, vegetables, and bread were received for Addenbrooke's Hospital. The choir gave a fine rendition of Michael Watson's anthem, "Praise the Lord, O my soul," which was repeated by request on Sunday evening. Excellent arrangements were made for the tea by the ladies of the congregation.

In order to more effectually protect the children attending the National School, new motor caution sign-posts were erected on Tuesday, one in High-street opposite Mr. Canham's shop, and the other between the Bell Inn and the adjoining house. It is not known whether the new posts, which are in more suitable positions than those they have replaced, were put up as a result of Dr. J. W. Ellis's protest at the recent meeting of the Standing Joint Committee.

MISSION SERVICES. 26th Oct. 1923

Members of St. Ives Evangelistic Band held open-air services on Saturday evening in Market-street, and later in High-street near the Turn Bridge. Addresses were delivered by Mr. and Mrs. Butler and other members of the Band, and also by Mr. Cyril Day, D.C.M., and Mr. Sidney Wright, of Swavesey, and hymns were sung. Both meetings were well attended. On Sunday afternoon an excellent congregation assembled in the Friends' Meeting House, Black Horse-lane, for a special service, at which Miss Gaunt (Swavesey) presided, and three St. Ives ladies, Miss M. Dunkling, Miss Frances Gaunt, and Miss Vineall spoke. Solos were sung by Misses Dunkling and F. Gaunt, Miss Easter officiating at the organ. There was a good attendance. In the evening of the same day the Band of Hope, whose meetings had as usual been suspended during the summer, again met under the superintendence of Miss Gaunt, who was assisted by Miss Easter. Miss Vineall addressed the young people, and little Miss Lees, of St. Ives, gave a recitation.

WAR ON RATS. 2nd Nov. 1923

A correspondent, who is troubled with rats, points out that the Minister of Agriculture has set apart next week for a special effort to be made throughout the country in the waging of war on rats, those enemies of mankind which devour our grain and roots, destroy our houses and outbuildings, and are the carriers of the worst diseases; and he is anxious to know what steps the local authorities are taking "to stir up the people of the parish to the necessity of trying to keep the brutes down," either by individual effort or concerted action. The rat, the writer adds, is a partial migrant, which at this period of the year leaves the fields and open spaces where it has carried on its destructive work since the spring, to seek shelter for itself and its numerous progeny in houses, barns and stores during the winter, and he urges that it is the duty of everyone who has the public welfare at heart to do everything in his power to reduce the numbers of this very prolific rodent. But a lead should be given by the local authorities.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE. 9th Nov. 1923

A meeting will be held in the Infants' School this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock, to consider whether a Women's Institute should be established in Swavesey. It will be remembered that when the project was brought forward in February last it was decided to postpone further action until the autumn.

POPULATION OF THE PARISH. 9th Nov. 1923

The population of Swavesey at the time of the Census in 1921 was practically the same as it was in 1801, when the first Census was taken in this country, namely, 830 in 1921 and 831 in 1801. During the 120 years which elapsed between the first and the last Census, the population rose and fell, e.g., 1,273 in 1841, 1,344 in 1871, 899 in 1901, and 904 in 1911.

FRIENDS' MEETING HOUSE. 9th Nov. 1923

The Mothers' Meeting at the Friends' Meeting House on Thursday week was open to women generally, and was well attended. Miss Gaunt presided, and addresses were given by Miss Crowe and Miss Fletcher, of St. Ives, who also sang a duet. In the evening an open-air meeting was held in Market-street, when the speakers included Mr. and Mrs. Butler (St. Ives), Misses Crowe and Fletcher, and Messrs. Cyril Day and Sidney Wright.

ACCIDENT. 9th Nov. 1923

When cycling along Bucking Way to his work at Boxworth early in the morning of the 1st inst., Mr. John J. Marriott was pitched off his machine through his food basket, which was slung from his shoulder, catching the handlebar. Mr. Marriott fell heavily, injuring his right shoulder, and cutting his face. Although no one witnessed the accident, Mr. Jack Smith soon came up, and rendered assistance to Mr. Marriott, who returned to his home in Ramper-road. Dr. J. W. Ellis and the district nurse (Miss Walters) were sent for, and on the advice of the former the injured man was conveyed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where it was found that his right arm had been fractured close to the shoulder, and he was detained. He is going on as well as can be expected. Mr. Marriott was accustomed to ride a lady's bicycle, but on the morning in question he was using a man's cycle, and this, it is thought, may have contributed to the accident.

BRITISH LEGION. 9th Nov. 1923

At a well-attended meeting of the Swavesey District branch of the British Legion, held at the National School on Monday evening, it was unanimously resolved to support headquarters in their action with regard to unemployment. Concerning Armistice Day, the secretary reported that a supply of poppies was in hand, that arrangements had been made for their sale, and that a wreath would be placed on the War Memorial in the churchyard. A proposal that the secretary should ask members of the Legion to meet at the churchyard gate at 6.20 p.m. on Sunday, to proceed to the church, where they would sit in a body, and that medals and badges should be worn, was carried unanimously. Amongst other matters discussed were the admission of honorary members to the branch, and the formation of a women's branch. The meeting unanimously agreed to the former proposition, but arrived at no decision in regard to the ladies.

POPPY DAY. 16th Nov. 1923

Under the auspices of the Swavesey and District branch of the British Legion, poppies were sold on Saturday by school children in aid of Earl Haig's Fund in the five villages in the Swavesey district, and realised £9 9s., as against £7 19s. 3d. in 1922. Swavesey realised £5 10s. 11d. Once again the demand for the poppies exceeded the supply, but the responsibility for the shortage does not rest with the local branch of the Legion, for considerably fewer poppies could be obtained from headquarters than were ordered.

LECTURE ON CHINA. 16th Nov. 1923

Notwithstanding the very wet and stormy night, there was a fair attendance in the National School on Thursday week, when Mr. C. W. L. Bailey, of Christ's College, Cambridge, gave a most entertaining and instructive lecture on "China as it is." Mr. Bailey was fully qualified for his task, for he has lived in China for some years, and speaks the language fluently, and therefore the information he gave and his descriptions of the people and their country were the result of personal knowledge and experience. The lecture was illustrated by admirable pictures, mostly taken by himself, shown by an exceptionally good acetylene lantern, manipulated by Miss Banks. A small charge was made for admission, and the proceeds, which amounted to £1, were given to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. The chair was taken by the vicar, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing.

A PROJECT ABANDONED. 16th Nov. 1923

There appears to be no likelihood of a Women's Institute being established in Swavesey, yet awhile at any rate. In February, when the question of forming one was first brought forward, and the proposal was not received with enthusiasm, it was decided to consider the matter again in the autumn, and, in order that this might be done, a meeting was held in the school on Friday evening. Only eight or nine ladies attended this meeting, fewer than in February, and, as there were other indications that a general desire for an Institute did not exist, there was no alternative but to abandon the project. It seems, however, a pity that an organisation which has been proved to be most useful in other villages, should not find favour in Swavesey, but it is only fair to add that there appears to be an impression abroad that there are already enough societies, etc., in the parish.

ARMISTICE DAY. 16th Nov. 1923

The services at Swavesey parish church throughout Sunday had particular reference to Armistice Day. At Matins the third collect had been said, and the Vicar had asked the people to observe the period of silence on their knees, when the sonorous clock bell tolled the hour. For two minutes not a sound was heard, not even a child moved. Then the Vicar recited the names of the 26 men of Swavesey who had made the supreme sacrifice, and after each name the big bell tolled. A prayer followed, and the hymn "They whose course on earth is o'er" was sung. The sermon was preached by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The church bells rang half-muffled before the evening service, which was attended by a large congregation, amongst whom were many Nonconformists. Members of the British Legion and other ex-Service men, 34 in number, wearing their medals, assembled outside the churchyard gates and marched into church, where seats had been reserved for them near the pulpit. Special Psalms and lessons were used both at Matins and at evensong, the lessons being read by an ex-Service man, Mr. C. Wood. The names of the fallen were again read, after which Arkwright's noble hymn "O Valiant Hearts, who to your glory came" was sung, followed by a special prayer. The Vicar preached. Before the Blessing the "Last Post" was sounded on bugles by Messrs. Barwell and B. Sutton, who were stationed under the tower. Mr. E. Williams, an ex-Service man, presided at the organ throughout the day. Around the memorial cross in the churchyard were laid floral tributes, amongst them a beautiful wreath in memory of Joseph B. Parish, who, grievously wounded on 30th October, 1918, died on the day the Armistice was signed. On the face of the cross was hung a large wreath of laurel and poppies from the Swavesey British Legion, and another wreath of laurel, poppies and rosemary "for remembrance," surrounded the names of the fallen on the base of the monument. – At Bethel Baptist Chapel a pause was made during the morning service for the two minutes' silence, and special hymns were sung both at that service and at the Sunday School which preceded it.

The document has been sent to the Charity Commissioners, and when their approval has been obtained, the hall will be opened. A considerable sum remains to be raised before the hall will be free from debt, and with the view of helping to reduce the debt the Swavesey Gliders are giving an entertainment in the National School on Thursday next.

ACCIDENT. 23rd Nov. 1923

Mr. Tom Daintree, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Daintree, Taylor's-lane, is lying in Addenbrooke's Hospital suffering from concussion, cuts, etc., the result of an accident he met with on Monday morning while motor-cycling through Harston. Mr. T. Daintree, who is employed at Welwyn, had spent the week-end with his parents. He left Swavesey shortly before 6 a.m. to return to Welwyn, and when leaving Harston his cycle skidded, and he was thrown on to the road, where he lay unconscious. He was taken to Dr. Young's surgery, and there received attention. Dr. Young telephoned to Swavesey, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Daintree proceeded at once by motor-car to Harston, and they conveyed their son, who had by that time regained consciousness, to Addenbrooke's Hospital. He is progressing satisfactorily.

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey eleven gained a decisive victory over the Cam second team at Cambridge on Thursday week by eight goals to one. Unfortunately, Cam could only put nine players into the field, while the visitors were at full strength. The following scored for Swavesey: Misses E. Heasman (2), B. Thoday (2), D. Carter (2), and J. Kirby (2). The return match was played yesterday (Thursday), and again Swavesey ladies scored a victory, winning this time by six goals to nil.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING. 30th Nov. 1923

The National School was crowded on Monday for a meeting in the interest of Capt. R. G. Briscoe, Conservative candidate for the county. Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis presided. Capt. Briscoe on his arrival from a meeting at Fen Drayton was given a hearty reception, but, owing to his having to speak at meetings at Over, Willingham and two other villages after he left Swavesey, was only able to make a short speech, and answer two or three questions. In addition to the candidate, Mr. Sawyer and Dr. Spink also spoke, and answered questions, mainly from one persistent heckler, who afforded considerable amusement to the audience, but apparently was ploughing a lonely furrow.

Mrs. Dimsdale, Liberal and Free Trade candidate for the County, addressed a largely attended meeting in the National School on Friday evening. Mr. W. A. Bignall presided.

OBITUARY. 7th Dec. 1923

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Jane Berryman, widow of the late Mr. W. F. Berryman, of Wivelscombe, Somerset, whose somewhat sudden death, at the age of 68 years, from cerebral hemorrhage, occurred in Cambridge on November 28th, took place at Swavesey parish church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing (Vicar) officiated. The principal mourners were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Berryman (only son and daughter-in-law), Miss Ada Berryman and Miss Margery Berryman (daughters), and Mrs. John Williams. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. Stearn, Chesterton.

ENTERTAINMENT. 7th Dec. 1923

The inclemency of the weather and the impending election, with its meetings, etc., were no doubt responsible for the audience at the capital entertainment which was given in the National School on Thursday week by the Swavesey Gliders for the benefit of the village War Memorial Hall Fund, not being so large as in ordinary course it would have been. But if the audience was not large, it was thoroughly appreciative of the excellent fare provided, and the Hall Fund benefited to the extent of upwards of £5. Opening and closing with lively choruses by the party, the programme included songs by the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Miss Ashby, Miss Goad, Miss Kirby, Mr. Barwell and Mr. H. G. Topham, a recitation by Miss E. Dodson, and an amusing sketch admirably played by Misses M. Barwell, E. Dodson, C. Goad and E. F. Paine, Messrs. R. Barwell and Topham. The sketch was described as a "screaming tragedy," and the scene was laid in a corridor of the Grand Hotel, Swavesey.

HOCKEY. 14th Dec. 1923

The Swavesey Hockey Eleven, when they entertained Cambridge Town on Thursday week, found themselves up against a considerably stronger team, and although they did their best, they failed to score. The visitors, on the other hand, captured eight goals.

THE ELECTION. 14th Dec. 1923

Polling day passed off very quietly in Swavesey. 78 per cent of the electors in the polling district (Swavesey and Fen Drayton) recorded their votes, against 90 per cent in December, 1918. Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.P., while on a motor tour through the constituency, visited the village on Tuesday, and received a hearty welcome from a number of electors assembled near the school.

DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. 14th Dec. 1923

Miss Arrowsmith, warden for Cambs. of the Young Helpers' League, gave an interesting address on Dr. Barnardo's Homes and their work, in the National School on Friday evening. The address was illustrated by admirable slides manipulated by Mr. D. Moore ("Uncle David"), who also very kindly lent the lantern. The chair was taken by the Vicar. The attendance, unfortunately, was far from what it ought to have been, owing no doubt in a great measure to the very dark and wet evening. The Swavesey Habitation of the Young Helper's League has been in existence for barely six months, but has already 35 members, nine of whom have had boxes, which were opened on Friday evening, and were found to contain £1 6s. 1d., contributed within the past half-year for the benefit of the Homes.

DEATH OF THE OLDEST INHABITANT. 14th Dec. 1923

Mr. William Martin, who attained the great age of 91 years on January 11th last, and was the oldest inhabitant of Swavesey, passed away on December 6th, after an illness of a month's duration. A native of Burwell, Cambs., Mr. Martin lived for 42 years at Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, where he was employed as storekeeper at the L.M.S. Railway Carriage Works, and on his retirement he took up his residence in Swavesey. For 73 years he was a member of the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows. He leaves one son and two daughters. At the funeral, which took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating, the principal mourners were Mrs. C. Smith (Pidley, Hunts) and Miss C. Martin (daughters), Mr. and Mrs. C. Martin, Girton (grandson and granddaughter) and Miss Claudia Martin (great grandchild). Mr. William Martin, only son, who lives at Scarborough, was unable to be present on account of ill-health. The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

PARISH CHURCH. 21st Dec. 1923

The collections at the parish church on Sunday, which amounted to £3, were in aid of the Sunday School fund.

CAROLS. 21st Dec. 1923

Members of the recently-formed Swavesey Choral Society will sing carols in the streets of the village to-morrow (Saturday) evening, starting at Boxworth End about 8 p.m. In course of their perambulation a collection will be made for Addenbrooke's Hospital, and as so many Swavesey people have reason to be grateful to that beneficent institution, it is hoped that the collection will be a good one.

DEATH OF MR. T. DOCKSEY. 21st Dec. 1923

"The Times" of Saturday contained the announcement of the death, at the age of 71 years, of Mr. Thomas Docksey, which occurred at 64, Dorset-road, Bexhill, Sussex, on the 13th inst. Many of the older villagers will remember that he resided for some years at the Old Manor, Swavesey, and farmed somewhat extensively in the parish. He married Miss Agnes Annie Daintree, daughter of the late Mr. Osborne Daintree, who survives him. The funeral took place at Southport, Lancashire, on Tuesday morning.

SHARE-OUT CLUBS. 21st Dec. 1923

The surplus funds of both of the share-out clubs in the village were distributed this week. On Tuesday every member of the Rising Sun Sick and Share-out Club received £1 3s. 3½d. During the year £16 4s. has been paid out in sick benefit. The annual supper, which was held at the National School last evening (Thursday) was well attended, and after the tables had been cleared, the company enjoyed an excellent entertainment provided by Mr. Sidney Maltby and other Cambridge friends. The "share-out" in connection with the club held at the White Horse Inn took place on Wednesday, every member receiving £1 1s. 6d. The sick pay during the year amounted to £8 14s.

A SWAVESEY SUGAR GROWER. 21st Dec. 1923

In a recent issue of "The Producer's Review," a journal published at Toowoomba, North Queensland, two capital photographs appear of the sugar cane farms at Goondi and Badila run by Mr. Fred Wilderspin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, Swavesey. One photograph taken at Goondi shows six trucks containing some ten tons of cane being hauled from the paddock to the headland on a portable line; the other shows a cutting gang at Badila grouped amongst growing canes. The cane on the farms is stated to have been about 11 months old, and to have yielded 30 tons to the acre. Mr. Fred Wilderspin, who was known to his school-mates as "Curly," left Swavesey for Queensland in 1911. In March, 1916, he married an Australian lady, and has one child, a little daughter, who is seen with him in the Badila picture. Although he has not yet had the opportunity of re-visiting his old home, his interest in his native village is as keen as ever, and his family keep him informed of what is going on by sending him every week a copy of the "Independent Press."

SALE OF WORK AND CONCERT. 21st Dec. 1923

The Parish Church Repair Fund benefited to the extent of £30 13s. 8d. on Thursday week by a sale of work and concert under the auspices and management of the Ladies' Working Party, the former taking place in the National School in the afternoon, and the latter in the evening. There were several stalls and competitions. (List in the newspaper and amounts raised.) The concert in the evening was a great success. The audience was large, filling the big schoolroom, and the concert was specially interesting, as it was the occasion of the first appearance in public of the new Swavesey orchestra, who made a very good impression and covered themselves in glory. In addition to items by the orchestra, the programme included a cornet solo by Mr. B. Sutton, cornet duet by Messrs. B. and J. Sutton, songs by Miss Kirby (Over), and Rev. C. F. Stebbing, recitations by Miss Armstrong (Barrington), the dialogue, "Allotments," by Misses Cole and E. Dodson, and handbell ringing by Messrs. B. Hodson, E. Williams, R. Mitham, and G. Prime. Mrs. Banks and Mr. E. Williams acted as accompanists. Messrs. R. Barwell and H. Topham, who were included in the programme, were unfortunately unable to assist, but their places were admirably filled by an old and very popular friend to Swavesey audiences.

SWAVESEY MAN CHARGED. 28th Dec. 1923

Allegations of Infliction of Bodily Harm: Man Knocked Senseless.

LADY'S ARM BROKEN.

The County magistrates were occupied at the Shirehall last Saturday morning in dealing with the charges preferred against J. K., a Swavesey man, of inflicting grievous bodily harm. K. was undefended, and after hearing certain evidence, the magistrates remanded him for one week.

The defendant was J. K., Swavesey, and he was first charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm upon C. W., of Swavesey on December 20th.

Mr. Lyon said that defendant was apprehended late on Friday night, and he (the speaker) understood he wanted an adjournment for the purpose of instructing counsel for the defence, Mr. O. Papworth, who could not be present to-day. Mr. Lyon thought it was quite reasonable that he should have an adjournment, but owing to the serious nature of the case he thought it absolutely essential he should be remanded in custody, or should find very substantial sureties. Mrs. W. had had her arm broken, and Mr. F. received a blow to the head which dazed him, and the defendant was believed to be now in a very vicious state of mind in regard to these people.

In reply to the Bench, Mr. Lyon said they believed now that if defendant were released he would do harm, and because of this the parties had to stay in Cambridge last night.

Mrs. C. W. said that on Thursday, at about 5 o'clock, she was walking on the to Swavesey from Mr. B.'s farm with Mrs. B. and Mr. F., who had a cycle. Mr. B. had given defendant notice and had paid him off. They met K. and his son, W. He stopped straight in front of Mrs. B., preventing her from walking forward, and used abusive language. Finally Mrs. B.'s lips parted in a kind of gasp, and J. K. said that she was smiling at him, with abusive epithets. His conduct then became so threatening that witness moved from Mrs. B.'s right side to her left and stood between her and K. Witness did this to protect Mrs. B. Mr. F. moved against Mrs. B. and began to speak to K., trying to quieten him. He said "Don't make a row here now, there is someone coming along the road." K. said that evidently Mr. F. and witness were taking the part of the B.'s. Witness walked on and helped Mrs. B. away. Witness went about fifty yards and returned to see if she could help to stop K. quarrelling. A short distance from him and Mr. F., she saw K. take the cycle which Mr. F. was trying to keep between them and throw it away and smash it. Defendant said, "I shall smash you," to Mr. F., and Mr. F. said, "No, don't do anything, J. I have not done anything to you." Witness saw K. hit Mr. F. in the face and he fell like a sack, senseless. After a minute he tried to get up, and K. knocked him flat again. Witness said to W. K., "Help me," but he did nothing nor said nothing. Witness had a stick in her hand, and tried to drive K. off her cousin, Mr. F., and struck him with her stick twice. K. wrenched the stick from her hand, advanced on her, and witness heard her cousin say, "Not with the stick." He tried to hit witness over the head, and she raised her left arm. The stick touched her forehead and broke her arm. He struck her again with the stick above her right knee and in the face with his fist twice. The second time he knocked her down. Defendant caused the injuries on her face. He struck her again afterwards, when she left to get help. On this occasion he followed her, caught her up and hit her face again.

Witness stated that K. said he was going to do Mr. B. in and smash him up worse than he had Mr. F. He also said that there was not going to be any more of the B. brood about. Generally, he used terrible threats. Defendant also threatened to "do in the women," as he followed her along the road.

Mr. Lyon: Are you in fear of him?

Witness: In terror of him.

In consequence of his threats, added witness, she, Mr. B., Mrs. B. and Mr. F. slept in Cambridge the next night. The second time defendant attacked her, her cousin, who had followed, saved her. She was examined under the X-rays at the Hospital, and it was found that her arm was broken.

Questioned by the defendant, witness insisted that he did threaten Mrs. B. Mr. F. told her she was wrong in striking defendant.

Defendant: I feel very sorry for you, but I don't feel sorry for the man. It was all your fault.

Witness, further questioned, asserted that Mr. F. did not strike him, and that he struck Mr. F. he certainly did threaten Mr. B. – over and over again.

The Chief Constable (Mr. W. Varney Webb) said that he had known the man a good many years; he was a most violent man, and it was a very grave responsibility in allowing him to be at liberty.

In answer to the Chairman, he advised the Bench that it would be for the public safety that he should not be released.

K. said that of a lot that had been said, half was untrue. He had never used threats against Captain B. He knew he was a very violent man, but he did think it was unfair to him when he was not the aggressor – and what he did he did in self-defence – if he was not going to be allowed liberty.

The Bench retired, and decided to remand defendant for a week. If he wished to be released he must have bail – himself for £10 and two sureties of £10 to be approved by the police.

K. was also charged with a similar offence in respect to M. T. F., of Swavesey, on December 20th, and evidence of arrest having been given, he was remanded for a week.

A third charge preferred was that of using threats towards P. B., of Swavesey, on December 20th. – Defendant pleaded not guilty. P. B., poultry farmer, Swavesey said that Mrs. W. made a communication to him as to threats used towards him by K. to do witness an injury. In consequence witness was in fear that defendant would do him some grievous bodily harm. In consequence he and his wife slept in Cambridge on Friday night and the night before. Witness did not know that defendant was apprehended until 9 o'clock on Friday night.

Defendant: Have I ever threatened you?

Witness: Not me personally.

Witness told the Bench that defendant was unpleasant to his wife on Wednesday, and witness dismissed him.

Defendant: I have never threatened the lady; I have never threatened the gentleman.

Mrs. W. gave evidence to the effect that defendant had threatened to do Mr. B. in and smash him up worse than Mr. F.

Defendant: You say I threatened Captain B. I don't remember anything about it.

W. K. (16), said he had never heard his father threaten Mr. and Mrs. B., particularly on the night in question.

K. having stated that he had no intentions against Mr. B.'s life, he was bound over for six months in the sum of £5.

CHURCH RESTORATION. 28th Dec. 1923

PARISH CHURCH. 28th Dec. 1923

The parish church was nicely decorated for the Christmas festival. The bells rang merrily on the eve, and on Christmas Day the celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30 and after Matins were attended by a large number of communicants. Carols were sung, as usual, at Evensong at 3 p.m.

Saintey, Longstanton, 1,218 (dinner service), Mrs. Chaddock, Swavesey, 16 (lamp). Miss G. Allgood, Hardwicke, 813 (box of cigars), Mrs. T. Metcalfe, Swavesey, 922 (cigarettes).

HOCKEY. 28th Dec. 1923

The Swavesey ladies' hockey team visited Willingham on Saturday, and played a fast and even game, which resulted in a win for Swavesey by 4 goals to 2. The scorers for Swavesey were Miss M. Barwell (3) and Miss N. Parish. On Boxing Day the Swavesey mixed team entertained the Cam mixed eleven, and a good game ended in the victory of the visitors, who scored four goals to the homesters' two. Messrs. S. Culpin and B. Daintree scored for Swavesey.

CLUB SUPPER. 28th Dec. 1923

For the annual supper of the Rising Sun Sick and Share-out Club, which took place at the National School on Thursday week, the members turned up in full strength, and, with several visitors, did full justice to the excellent repast provided by Mr. J. C. Heasman. After the tables had been cleared, the company spent a happy evening listening to and heartily applauding, an admirable programme of songs, etc., contributed by Mr. Sidney Maltby, whose 'chatter' caused great amusement, C. Dean, Fordham and Brown, of Cambridge, Mr. Harrison officiating as accompanist.

CAROLS. 28th Dec. 1923

Between 30 and 40 members of the Swavesey Choral Society sang carols in the village streets on Saturday night. Starting from Boxworth End at 8 o'clock, they did not reach the neighbourhood of the railway station until midnight, being sustained on their way by grateful cups of hot coffee, thoughtfully provided by Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Day, when they visited Wallman's-lane. Their excellent singing was greatly appreciated, and the collection on behalf of Addenbrooke's Hospital, begun on Saturday night and finished on Monday, met with a generous response, the contributions amounting to £7 15s.

MEMORIAL HALL. 28th Dec. 1923

At a special meeting of the Parish Council on Monday evening important matters in connection with the War Memorial Hall were dealt with. Mr. C. Wood (vice-chairman) presided in the absence of the chairman (Mr. A. Norman), and the other councillors present were Messrs. W. Burton, J. Linford, R. Norman and C. H. Parish, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). The vice-chairman having fully explained the present position of affairs in regard to the parish property in High-street, and the Memorial Hall erected thereon, Mr. Linford proposed the following resolutions:- (1) That subject to the consent and approval of the Swavesey Parish Meeting, the Charity Commissioners, the Ministry of Health, and the Cambs. County Council, the sum of £550 be borrowed for the purpose of paying the balance of the cost of building and furnishing the Swavesey Memorial Hall, situate on the Council's property. (2) That the Council approve of the draft lease to the Memorial Committee now produced by which the committee undertake, in addition to insurance and repairs to the hall, to pay a rent sufficient to pay the instalments of principal and interest on the sum proposed to be borrowed as above, and instruct their solicitors, Messrs. Day and Son, of St. Ives, Hunts., to engross the said lease for sealing by the Council in due course, subject to resolution No. 1 – Mr. R. Norman seconded, and the resolutions were carried unanimously. – A Parish Meeting followed the Council meeting, Mr. Wood being elected chairman. In the course of an explanatory statement, the Chairman made it clear that under the proposed scheme the hall would not be a burden on the rates, whereas its rejection, besides involving the resignation of the Memorial Hall Fund Committee, would throw the whole of the responsibility for the hall and the High-street property on the Parish Council, and therefore on the rate. Replying to Dr. J. W. Ellis, the Chairman stated that all vacancies on the Memorial Committee would in future be filled by the Parish Council. Other questions having been answered, Dr. Ellis moved, and Mr. W. H. Key seconded, the following resolution:- "That the Swavesey Parish Meeting hereby approve and consent to resolutions Nos. 1 and 2, passed by the Swavesey Parish Council, including consent and approval to the loan and lease mentioned in the said resolutions." The resolution was carried unanimously.

OBITUARY. 28th Dec. 1923

After a long period of ill-health, Mr. Thomas William Thurlow, son of Mr. Geo. Thurlow, of Cambridge, passed away at his home in Church End, Swavesey, on Friday evening, aged 34 years. The whole of his working life, except during the war, was spent in the service of the Post Office. Entering as a telegraph messenger, he was appointed assistant postman at Cambridge in October, 1906, and established postman in February, 1907. In June, 1910, he was transferred to Elsworth, where he continued until August, 1914, when on the outbreak of war he was mobilised with the Suffolk Yeomanry, which regiment he had joined some time previously. Owing to his health, he saw no overseas' service, but was employed on clerical duties in connection with his regiment in this country. Demobilised in February, 1919, he returned to his postal duties at Elsworth, and in the following June was transferred to Swavesey. About this time Mr. Thurlow joined the Cambs. company of the R.A.V.C. as a sergeant-instructor, and later, on the disbandment of the unit under the Geddes economy scheme, became a reservist. On the establishment of a branch of the British Legion for the Swavesey district he was appointed hon. secretary. In December, 1922, he was taken seriously ill, and his life was despaired of, but rallying, he was admitted to the National Sanatorium at Benenden, Kent, on February 14th last. Here he remained until November 13th, when he returned home, fully expecting to resume his work, but on November 28th he had again to take to his bed, and the end came on Friday evening. He leaves a widow and one daughter, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, after a short service at the house, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiating. The mourners included: Mrs. Thurlow (widow), Miss L. Thurlow (daughter), Mr. G. Thurlow (father), Mr. S. Thurlow (brother) and Miss K. Thurlow (sister). About a dozen members of the British Legion, headed by Mr. C. Wood, who succeeded Mr. Thurlow as hon. secretary, were in waiting at the cemetery gate, and followed the body to the grave, and amongst others present were Mr. T. Metcalfe and Mr. Richardson, sub-postmasters of Swavesey and Over respectively. The coffin was of polished elm with brass fitting. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

CHARGES AGAINST SWAVESEY MAN. 4th Jan. 1924

Allegations of Inflicting Grievous Bodily Harm.

LADY'S ARM BROKEN.

After a hearing lasting some hours, J. K., labourer, of Swavesey, was committed for trial at the Assizes on two charges of inflicting grievous bodily harm upon a man and a woman at Swavesey, on December 20th. It was alleged against him that he broke a woman's arm and struck such blows as caused a man to suffer from slight concussion. K. pleaded that the prosecuting parties were the aggressors.

He was first remanded at the Quarter Sessions, but at the suggestion of Judge Farrant he was committed to the Assizes to allow of more time for the preparation of a defence.

(Long report in newspaper)

The Bench again decided to commit the defendant for trial, and on Judge Farrant's suggestion, both cases were committed to the Assizes, to allow of more time to prepare a defence.

Bail was allowed in the defendant's own recognisance of £10, and the Bench certified for legal aid under the Poor Prisoners' Defence Act.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS. 4th Jan. 1924

The procession of dinners to and from the bakehouses, always a feature in the streets of the village on Sundays and festivals, was specially noticeable on Christmas Day, for on that festive occasion not only was the procession unusually large, but a motor car was employed for the conveyance of the dinner of one family.

DEATH OF MR. SLATER. 4th Jan. 1924

Many of our readers will learn with regret of the death, early on New Year's Day, of Mr. Alfred Slater, for the past 18 years the landlord of the White Horse Inn, Swavesey. Mr. Slater, who had been looking far from well for some time past, retired to rest as usual on the night of Dec. 27th. Shortly after midnight he was taken seriously ill, and Dr. J. W. Ellis was hurriedly summoned, but despite every attention, Mr. Slater passed away about 1 a.m. on Tuesday. The deceased was born 60 years ago in Islington, being the son of the late Mr. Thomas Slater, baker, of Pentonville-road. He learned his father's trade, but as a young man enlisted in the Royal Irish Lancers, transferring after two or three months to the Royal Army Service Corps, and in that corps served as a baker for 21 years, retiring with a pension. He will be remembered in Swavesey for acts of unobtrusive kindness, and for his willing help in connection with entertainments, shows, etc. He leaves a widow, for whom much sympathy is felt, but no children.

RAILWAY STATION SCENE. 11th Jan. 1924

Swavesey Men Fined for Disorderly Behaviour.

At the Cambs. Divisional Bench on Saturday, before Mr. A. S. Campkin, Colonel Tebbutt, and Mr. George Hart, J. K., Swavesey, was summoned for using abusive language at Swavesey Railway Station on December 21st, contrary to the L.N.E.R. by-laws. – Defendant pleaded not guilty.

A.W., Swavesey, was summoned for behaving in a disorderly manner, at the same place and on the same day. – Defendant pleaded not guilty.

Mr. A. S. Dolden (L.N.E.R. Solicitor's Department) prosecuted.

H.A.H., clerk, Swavesey station, said he was on duty when the 3.50 p.m. train arrived from St. Ives. W. gave up a ticket. K. had not got a ticket, and, using bad language, said he had bought a ticket, and was not going to pay again. The ticket was subsequently produced. Defendants went to the porters' room, and the Stationmaster went to them. They followed him out, and K. went up to him as if to fight him.

E.T., Stationmaster, spoke to going to the porter's room and requesting K. and W. to leave. They walked out in front of witness, and directly they got outside K. took off his coat and apparently wanted to fight. He used bad language. Witness went into the booking office and put the counter flap down. K. again followed him and used bad language, but afterwards left the office.

By Col. Tebbutt: K's conduct was threatening.

J.P., porter, said he was in the porters' room when defendants came in and said they wanted a warm. He afterwards left the room, and later returned with the Stationmaster. The latter asked them to leave, but they said they would not leave "for a little – like him." When outside he saw K. in a threatening attitude towards the Stationmaster. K. afterwards went to the booking office, and W. wanted to fight witness. Later another porter came up, and W. wanted to fight them both.

By Mr. Campkin: K. took off his jacket when threatening the Stationmaster.

A.E.C., goods porter, said he saw defendants on the Station. W. was talking to P; against the lamp-room door. Witness asked P. to leave, and W. took hold of both of them, pulled them on to the road, and wanted to fight them.

Thos. Richard Buck, Divisional Inspector, L. and N.E.R. Police, said he saw defendants in that Court on December 29th. He told them he was making inquiries with regard to an altercation on Swavesey Station. K. replied, "We were there. With this other job hanging over my head, I don't remember much about....." W. said, "I suppose I was a bit lively."

K. (on oath) said he was returning from St. Ives to Swavesey with W., and he (defendant) could not find his ticket, but later W. found it for him. They afterwards went to the porters' room, and the Stationmaster came along and said "Come out of this and – off." He went to ask him what he meant, and they had a few words. He did not remember pulling his jacket off to the Stationmaster.

Cross-examined: He did not think he was "muffed" by drink. He did not remember telling the Police Inspector that he had had a drop of beer and was a bit excited.

W. (on oath) corroborated as to finding K.'s ticket and the Stationmaster's visit to the porters' room. He (W.) and P. "argued the toss" for a bit, and later C. came up. He (defendant) asked them if they were going to put him off, and they replied "No."

Cross-examined: He denied catching hold of the porters.

The Bench considered the case proved, and a fine of £1 was imposed on each defendant.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 11th Jan. 1924

In response to an invitation from friends interested in Bethel Sunday School and Band of Hope, Father Christmas spent over an hour with the children at their New Year's gathering, and distributed presents in his usual cheery fashion. His visit was delayed owing to pressure of business, but the little ones were delighted by his ready promise to come again next year (weather permitting).

FOOTBALL CLUB. 11th Jan. 1924

The Secretary of Swavesey Football Club has received a message from Mr. Ezra Williams, of Sydney, Australia, in which he sends cordial greetings to his old Swavesey friends, and wishes the Football Club every success. Mr. Williams, who is a son of the late Mr. John Williams, coal merchant, and for many years parish clerk and sexton of Swavesey, keeps in close touch with his native village by means of the "Independent Press," which is sent to him every week.

FUNERAL. 11th Jan. 1924

In the presence of a considerable number of villagers and friends, the funeral of Mr. Alfred Slater, of the White Horse Inn, whose death at the age of 60 years was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated, and the immediate mourners were: Mrs. Slater (widow), Mr. J. B. Senter, Mr. H. H. Moyne, Mr. F. Dale, and several representatives of the British Legion. The interment took place in the churchyard, the grave, in accordance with Mr. Slater's express wish, adjoining that of his friend James Dodson, who died some years ago. The coffin was of polished elm. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

FOUND. 18th Jan. 1924

The spare wheel of a motor van, which was lost by Mr. Walter Spolton, Swavesey, between Dry Drayton and Swavesey on December 22nd, has been found, through the agency of an advertisement in the "Independent Press." It was picked up on the Huntingdon-road, near the New Inn, and was taken on to St. Ives, whence it was recovered.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 18th Jan. 1924

The usual New Year's meetings and teas were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday. There were services in the afternoon and evening, conducted by Mr. J. T. Wiles, of St. Ives, both of which, and the tea, were well attended. A good collection was taken for the chapel funds.

BRITISH LEGION. 18th Jan. 1924

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey district branch of the British Legion, held at the National School on Friday, Mr. R. Barwell presiding, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman, Mr. R. Barwell; vice-chairman, Mr. H. Ashby; secretary, Mr. C. Wood; treasurer, Mr. E. Williams. Last year's committee was re-elected with the exception that Mr. Frank Hepher took the place of Mr. C. Page. It was agreed that the officers and committee should act as the Relief Fund Committee. The accounts for last year, which showed a balance in hand of £8 4s. 10d., were presented by the treasurer, and approved.

ANCIENT SKATES. 18th Jan. 1924

During the frost in November, Master Alfred Hawkes, aged 15, grandson of Mr. W. H. Key, Swavesey spent some happy hours with companions on a small stretch of ice on a partly-flooded field, between the railway and the river, using a pair of skates on which his great grandfather, who lived at Earith, Hunts., had travelled very many miles, visiting Welney, Huntingdon and other places, and on which upwards of 80 years, ago he had played "bandy" (hockey) on Mere Fen, Swavesey. The old gentleman used to say that Swavesey men were very rough in the play. The skates are still in excellent condition, though the varnish, or polish, has long since disappeared from the wooden portion. Last week's thaw was a great disappointment to local, and doubtless to many other skaters, who in past years have been in habit of visiting Mere Fen.

EPIPHANY TEA. 18th Jan. 1924

In January, 1872, Mr. W. H. Key, who had not long previously migrated to Swavesey from Earith, suggested that a parochial missionary tea should be held in Swavesey, as a similar function at Bluntisham had been a great success. His suggestion was promptly acted on by the then vicar of Swavesey, the late Rev. Henry Isaac Sharp, and the tea has been held annually ever since. This year's tea was held in the National School on Monday last, but the title of the function was altered to the "Epiphany Tea." No alteration was, however, made in the arrangements, which remained as in times past. About one hundred persons enjoyed an excellent meal, provided by the ladies of the congregation, who acted as tray-holders. Mr. W. H. Key was present – in fact, during the past 52 years he has been absent from the tea on only one occasion, and he is, with the exception of Mr. John Hodson, the sole survivor of those who took an active part in the management of the first function. After tea, in accordance with custom, a most interesting lecture was given by the Rev. Frederick Jones, who from 1897 to 1918 had been a missionary in Shantung Province, China, under the auspices of the S.P.G. The lecturer gave a graphic description of the manners, customs, religions of the people of China, and of the missionary work of the Church in that country. The lantern was manipulated by Miss Banks. During the evening the hymns "Thy Kingdom Come" and "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" were sung, the accompaniment being played by the Swavesey orchestra, and at the close the Vicar, who presided, on behalf of the audience, thanked Mr. Jones for his lecture. A collection was taken in aid of Foreign Missions.

"A BRUTAL AND HORRIBLE ASSAULT." 18th Jan. 1924

J. K., 40, labourer, pleaded not guilty to inflicting grievous bodily harm upon C. W. and M. T. F., at Swavesey, on December 20th last.

Mr. Grafton Pryor (instructed by Messrs. A.J. Lyon and Son) appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Gordon King (instructed by Mr. Oliver Papworth) for the defence.

(Full report of case in newspaper).

The jury returned a verdict of guilty in each case.

His Lordship read a number of previous convictions for assault, and asked prisoner if he had anything to say.

Prisoner replied that he was sorry to see in that Court that day that ignorance was predominant in his case. He had served in the Army three years and six months.

His Lordship: That does not entitle you to assault people.

In passing sentence, his Lordship said that was one of the most brutal and horrible assaults he had had to try. Men like prisoner must be taught better. He would be imprisoned for six calendar months on each verdict, the sentences to run concurrently.

FLOODS. 25th Jan. 1924

Much land around Swavesey is flooded, and in places water is running over the banks.

WHIST DRIVE. 25th Jan. 1924

For the benefit of the War Memorial Hall Fund, a whist drive was held in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening. Twenty-three tables were occupied, and the prizes were won by: Ladies, Miss Banks, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. W. J. Hepher; gentlemen, Mr. H. Burling, Mr. J. Hall, Mr. E. Adams, lucky numbers, Miss Holbrook and Mr. Arthur Beales. The duties of M.C. were undertaken by Mr. T. C. Heasman.

FOR THE BLIND. 25th Jan. 1924

A qualifying round of the Whist Championship in connection with the National Institute for the Blind was played in the schools on Thursday week. Twelve tables were in play, and the following were the prize-winners: Ladies, Mrs. Berryman, Mr. H. Unwin (playing as a lady), Miss I. Brunton; gentlemen, Mr. J. R. Smith, Mr. B. Prime, Mr. H. H. Berryman, special prize for highest score, Mrs. Berryman. Only the prize-winners qualified for the next round. Mr. T. C. Heasman officiated as M.C.

RAILWAY TROUBLE. 25th Jan. 1924

The interruption in the railway service caused inconvenience in the Swavesey district, as elsewhere. On Monday many regular attendants at St. Ives Market accustomed to go by train had to travel to and fro by road, and those who depended on the railway spent weary hours at St. Ives Station waiting for a return train. Milk has been despatched by rail as usual every morning, but on Monday evening some 25 to 30 cans of milk had to remain at the station all night, as no train was available for their conveyance. On other evenings the milk was got away much about the usual time. Daily newspapers have reached Swavesey by road. On Monday not many were missing, and on Tuesday practically the whole of the usual supply came to hand. The reduced size of some of the journals, however, led to amusing inquiries, such as "Where's the rest of my paper? You've only given me half."

CHURCH MEETING. 25th Jan. 1924

Notwithstanding the wet evening, the annual parochial Church Meeting, which was held in the National School on Monday evening, was exceptionally well attended. In his opening remarks the Vicar, who presided, supported by the churchwardens (Messrs. C. F. Banks and H. J. Wells), expressed his gratitude to the retiring Church Council, the church workers, and the people generally for their kind assistance during the 14 months he had been in the parish, making special reference to Messrs. J. Smith and A. Spolton, who were ill, and to Mr. Hall, whose duties called him away from Swavesey. Mr. Banks, in presenting the church expenses account, reported that at the beginning of 1923 there was a balance in hand of about £10, but unfortunately the year ended with a deficit of £5 6s. 1d. He explained that there had been several items of exceptional expenditure which would not recur during the present year, and he concluded by proposing that a collection should be made in the room to clear off the deficit. The proposal, however, failed to find a seconder. The Church Repair Fund accounts, which showed a balance in hand of £233 7s. 11d. towards the £1,350 needed for the repair of the north and south aisle roofs, were submitted by Mr. R. Barwell, and other members of the Church Council presented the accounts of the Duplex Envelope collections, the Sick and Needy Funds and the Thrift Club, the last named for five months only. All accounts were passed. The budget for 1924 having been approved, Messrs. R. Barwell and R. Mitham sen., were re-appointed representatives on the Ruridecanal Conference (for one year), and Diocesan Conference (for three years), and the following were elected members of the Church Council: Mrs. Banks, Miss Beaumont, Mrs. Cooksey, Messrs. S. F. Mitham, G. J. Paine, and John Smith. The undermentioned were appointed sidesmen: Messrs. R. Barwell, E. Bridgeford, C. Dean, J. Dodson, H. D. Froment, F. Hemington, C. S. Hephew, B. Hodson, J. Hodson, W. Kester, W. H. Key and R. Mitham, jun. – The newly-elected Church Council met at the close of the meeting and appointed Mr. R. Barwell vice-chairman, and Mr. C. F. Banks and Mrs. Banks treasurer and secretary respectively, for the ensuing year, and co-opted Mr. W. H. Key a member of the Council. It was decided to hand over £5 6s. 1d. from the Duplex scheme to pay off the deficit on the church expense account, and to allocate the rest of the fund to the Church Repair Fund.

BIG BLAZE AT SWAVESEY. 1st Feb. 1924

Four Cottages and Buildings Destroyed

OUTBREAK DISCOVERED BY BOYS.

Four cottages, a large barn, and various outbuildings in Market-street, Swavesey, were entirely destroyed by a fire which broke out on Tuesday evening.

The outbreak was discovered by boys, who, while playing in the street, noticed that the roof of a cottage tenanted by Mr. Rowcliffe was on fire, and they immediately raised an alarm.

The cottage is one of three, built of stud and plaster, with a thatched roof, Mr. Rowcliffe occupying the centre house. The adjoining cottage on the eastern side was not tenanted, but that on the other side was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes and their family of five sons and daughters, two of whom are children. The flames spread with alarming rapidity, and within a few minutes the roof was ablaze. Mr. Rowcliffe, an aged man, living alone, had been ill for some time, and, when rescued by Messrs. H. G. Key and R. Seekings, was found sitting by his fireside, apparently not realising the danger he was in. He was conveyed to a neighbouring house. Mr. Holmes' younger children had just been put to bed, and they had to be hurried from the burning building. The flames spread so quickly that practically no furniture, etc., could be saved. Although the "captain" of the famous Swavesey fire engine – an antique relic some 130 years of age – was soon on the scene, the engine itself did not make its appearance until about 8.45 p.m., and when it got to work it could do little beyond playing on a near-by stack or two and on outlying buildings. The three cottages, and another, also of stud and plaster, with thatched roof, adjoining Mr. Holmes', were doomed from the outset.

Adjoining the back of Mr. Holmes' cottage was an ancient barn of large dimensions, with other outbuildings, and these were soon involved, but a hut in which Mr. Holmes was accustomed to sleep was removed to a place of safety. The fourth cottage, which was owned by Mrs. John Williams, was untenanted, but in it were stored various things, including an officer's active service kit, belonging to her youngest son, and several incubators, the property of Mr. Bayliss, which not many days previously had been removed there on account of Mr. Bayliss' poultry farm being flooded. Only the incubators, which were on the ground floor, were saved.

The fire was burning brightly at midnight. By that time not a vestige of the roofs remained, and the walls had either been burned, or had fallen or been pulled down. Only the four massive chimney stacks were standing, and two of these being obviously unsafe, were felled during the early hours of Wednesday morning. The fire was not extinguished until about 4 a.m. on Wednesday.

The outbreak is supposed to have originated from a beam in Mr. Rowcliffe's chimney, and, as an untraceable smell of burning is said to have been noticed during the afternoon, it is possible that the fire had been smouldering for some time. Fortunately, there was but little wind, and what there was carried the flames and sparks away from the ancient property. Had this not been the case, it is possible that a conflagration approaching in magnitude that which devastated part of the village in 1913 would have had to be recorded. In that fire, it may be mentioned, Mr. Rowcliffe's then house was destroyed and he lost all his belongings.

A large crowd watched the blaze, people being attracted from the surrounding district, and there were many willing and energetic helpers.

The police on duty were Sergt. Keep, P.C. Bell (Boxworth), and P. C. Bullen (Willingham), and Supt. Allen, who motored over from Cambridge with P.C. Read, was present for some time.

The premises, and also, it is understood, the belongings, of both tenants, were insured.

On Wednesday morning a tin box containing money belonging to the Swavesey Football Club, which had been in the custody of Mr. H. Holmes, jun., the club's assistant secretary and treasurer, was found in the ruins. The coins were unharmed, but the Treasury notes had been reduced to charred ashes.

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 1st Feb. 1924

The churchwardens have distributed Payne's Charity this week, 25 widows and widowers receiving 3s. each in lieu of tea, sugar, etc., which used to be given away. The distribution is made every year on or about the 29th January, the anniversary of the late Mr. Thomas Payne's birthday.

HOCKEY. 1st Feb. 1924

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey XI entertained a team of Fenstanton ladies on Saturday, and a fairly fast game resulted in a goalless draw. The play was mostly in the visitors half, and, although the Swavesey forwards made several attempts to score, they failed each time. – Playing Cambridge Y.W.C.A. hockey team yesterday (Thursday), on French's Field, Cambridge, the Swavesey Ladies' XI scored a 6 – 1 victory. Owing to the state of the ground the game was rather slow, and at half-time each side had scored once. Swavesey did better in the second half, five goals going to their credit, while the Y.W.C.A. failed to add to their score. The Misses M. Barwell (3), N. Parish (2) and D. Carter scored for Swavesey, and Miss Johnson for the Y.W.C.A.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 1st Feb. 1924

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society was held at the Memorial Hall of Friday evening, Mr. C. W. Hines presiding over a large attendance of members, including representatives from Boxworth and Over. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Mr. G. Sweetland; last year's vice-presidents were re-elected, with the addition of the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, and subject to their consent, the Rev. A. Kirke Smith, Messrs. P. Bayliss, T. Johnson and F. F. Norman; chairman of general meeting, Mr. C. W. Hines (Over); chairman of committee, Mr. G. Winters (Swavesey); hon. secretary, Mr. C. Wood (Swavesey); treasurer, Mr. G. J. Paine (Swavesey); horticultural committee, Messrs. H. Ashby, A. Payne, F. W. Pontefract, W. Symonds, H. Topham and Walter Thorp (Swavesey), R. Asplin, C. Haddows, W. M. Ingle and G. H. Wayman (Over), T. Day and H. Peachey (Boxworth), E. J. Gadsby and E. J. Warboys (Fen Drayton). The appointment of the sports committee was postponed until the next meeting. A proposal to amend Rule 11 was discussed, but on being put to the vote was not carried. The schedule for this year's show, which it was decided should take place on Thursday, 7th August, was referred to the committee, as also was a suggestion that honey should be added to the exhibits, and the committee were requested to submit a revised schedule to the next meeting.

SWAVESEY ORCHESTRA. 1st Feb. 1924

The Memorial Hall was crowded on Wednesday evening for the first concert given by the Swavesey Orchestra. The orchestra came into existence only a few months ago, and is entirely a local product, for all the members are residents in the parish. Some of Wednesday's audience may have attended to support a laudable effort – probably the majority did – while others may have gone to criticise. But whether they went to support or to criticise, all undoubtedly remained to applaud and applaud vigorously. The orchestra's first venture can confidently be recorded as a complete success, and as reflecting the greatest credit on the members collectively and individually.

The following pieces were played by the band: March, "Sandringham"; selection, "Happy Land"; march, "Shoulder to Shoulder"; march, "Speed Away," and "Royal Windsor." The programme also included a violin and cornet duet by Messrs. J. W. Williams and B. Sutton, viola duet by Messrs. J. W. Williams and Ll. Nicholson, banjo solo Mr. E. Williams, and numerous humorous songs, etc., all greatly to the liking of the audience, by Miss Brinkley and Mr. Walter Moule, of Cambridge. Every item was received with the heartiest applause, and many encores were vociferously demanded. Before the band played their last piece, Mr. E. Williams, whose banjo solo had been a conspicuous success, and who had been a capable stage manager throughout the evening, on behalf of the orchestra thanked the audience for their kind and much appreciated support. The concert, he announced, had been a financial success, and would free the orchestra from debt. He and his colleagues also desired to express their gratitude to the Vicar for lending a room for practices. At the instance of Mr. Walter Thorp a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Miss Brinkley, Mr. Moule and the band for their admirable entertainment. The following comprised the band: Mr. B. Sutton (leading cornet and conductor), Rev. C. F. Stebbing (clarinet), Messrs. J. Sutton (cornet), H. Prime (oboe), J. W. Williams (first violin), L. Breed, Ll. Nicholson (violins), Joseph Linford (?), A. Prime, M.M. (euphonium), and E. Williams (piano).

AN UNEXPECTED DISCOVERY. 8th Feb. 1924

While engaged in threshing operations last March at Moulton Baugate, Lincolnshire, Mr. George Seekings, of Swavesey, lost his watch in the straw stack. Recently a Waggoner was getting some straw for his horses, when he put his fork through the ring of the watch and pulled it out intact. On being wound up, the watch was found to be in good working order.

PROPOSED INSTITUTE. 8th Feb. 1924

When the project of a War Memorial Hall was launched in May, 1919, an Institute for the village was included in the scheme, but until the hall was erected nothing could be done to establish one. Although not formally opened owing to unforeseen difficulties now in course of adjustment, the hall is in use, and a public meeting to organise the Institute is to be held there on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. An Institute will meet a long-felt want in the village, and it is hoped, therefore, that every parishioner, male and female – for it is intended that the Institute should be open to both sexes – who can possibly attend will make a point of being present.

FOR ST. DUNSTAN'S. 8th Feb. 1924

The whist drive and carnival dance organised by Miss E. Dodson, Mrs. Ashby, Miss Goad, Mr. W. A. Bignell, Mr. G. Goad and Mr. H. Topham for St. Dunstan's which took place at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, was a complete success, and resulted in £8 4s. 10½d. being sent to that deserving institution. Twenty-eight tables were in play for whist, and the prizes were won by the following: - Ladies: Miss C. Froment, Mrs. Stebbing; booby, Miss W. Froment. Gentlemen: Mr. H. Prime, Mr. J. Parish (Over); booby, Mr. P. Burton. Balloons, streamers, masks, etc., added greatly to the gaiety of the dance, for which Mr. Baxter's St. Ives String Band played an admirable selection of music. Mr. Bignall officiated as M.C. for the whist drive, and Mr. Topham for the dance.

DEATH OF MR. H. ROWCLIFFE. 8th Feb. 1924

The fire last week in Market-street, when four old cottages were totally destroyed with most of their contents, has had a tragic sequel, for one of the victims, Mr. Henry Rowcliffe, died early on Tuesday morning, his death being attributed to "shock upon shock." Mr. Rowcliffe, who was 77 years of age, was a native of Somerset, his father having been organist at Minehead Church, and a teacher of music. At one time he was in business in Cambridge, but about 20 years ago he removed to Swavesey, the doctors having advised his wife to live in the country. Their house was one of the earliest to get alight in the great Swavesey fire in 1913, when they lost practically the whole of their belongings. Since Mrs. Rowcliffe's death in June, 1917, he had lived alone, being looked after by Mrs. Cooksey and neighbours, and latterly by the district nurse. For some time past he had been ill, and his condition after last week's fire and the lack of suitable accommodation in the village, rendered his removal to St. Ives Infirmary necessary, and here he passed away at 1.30 a.m. on Tuesday.

MEMORIAL HALL. 8th Feb. 1924

Owing to an informality in the notice calling the Parish Meeting on December 24, at which two important resolutions were passed concerning the Memorial Hall and the land on which it is built, it has been held to be necessary to submit the resolutions to another meeting of parochial electors. That meeting took place on Friday evening in the National School, under the presidency of Mr. Arthur Norman, Chairman of the Parish Council. Although for many reasons the delay is to be regretted, for others it was fortunate, for the explanations given at Friday's meeting led, it is hoped, to doubts being set at rest in the minds of some parishioners, including the parish councillor who had moved the resolutions at the Parish Council meeting which preceded the Parish Meeting on December 24th. Moreover, the second meeting was much better attended than the first. The resolution authorised the Parish Council, subject to the approval of the Charity Commissioners, Ministry of Health, and the County Council, to borrow £550 for the purpose of paying the balance of the cost of building and furnishing the Memorial Hall; and the second approved of the draft lease to the Memorial Committee, by which the Committee undertake, in addition to insurance and repairs to the hall, to pay a rent sufficient to pay the instalments of principal and interest on the loan. After considerable discussion, during which Mr. C. Wood, Vice-Chairman of the Parish Council and Secretary-Treasurer of the Memorial Fund, gave a full explanation of the scheme and answered numerous questions, the resolutions being proposed and seconded, were carried unanimously.

DONATIONS FROM AUSTRALIA. 15th Feb. 1924

Mr. Leonard Williams, who left Swavesey for Australia some years ago, has sent donations of 10s. each to the Swavesey Cricket and Football Clubs.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 15th Feb. 1924

The annual meeting of the members and congregation of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on Thursday week. After tea encouraging reports were given of every branch of the work, and a financial statement was submitted by the treasurer, Mr. Arthur Norman, showing a substantial balance to the good.

PIG FEEDING. 15th Feb. 1924

A good-sized and thoroughly-appreciative audience attended the lecture on pig feeding, which was given in the National School on Thursday week by Mr. R. Sayce, County Agricultural Organiser. Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis presided. At the close of the lecture numerous questions were asked, and there was some discussion.

A PROTEST. 15th Feb. 1924

A correspondent writes: - I sincerely hope, and so I believe do many other parishioners, that the posting of bills of any sort or kind on the wooden fence in front of the Memorial Hall will be prohibited. Bills so posted are not only unsightly, but tend to spoil the surface of the fence. What is uglier than the half-torn off remnants of an old poster? If organisers of entertainments, etc., must display bills in front of the hall, why cannot they use removable notice boards?

ACCIDENT. 15th Feb. 1924

While playing with the Swavesey Ladies' Hockey XI at Cambridge on Thursday week against a much stronger Town Ladies' team, Miss Alice Norman, hon. secretary of the Swavesey club, had the misfortune to dislocate her knee. She at once received medical attention, and it is satisfactory to report that she is progressing favourably, though some time must elapse before she will be able to make her re-appearance on the hockey field. The game ended disastrously for Swavesey, for the Town ladies scored a 9 – 0 victory.

THE LATE MR. ROWCLIFFE. 15th Feb. 1924

The funeral of Mr. Henry Rowcliffe, whose death on the 5th inst. was reported last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating. The immediate mourners were: Mr. Shaw, Mr. Mayes, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. G. Hawkes, and Mr. James Prior. The coffin was of polished elm, and the interment took place in the grave in which Mr. Rowcliffe's wife was buried in June, 1917. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

OBITUARY. 15th Feb. 1924

The death occurred in Cambridge on Sunday, after a long period of ill-health, of Mr. David Williams, youngest son of the late Mr. Edward Williams, of Swavesey. He was one of a family of 17 sons and daughters, and his brother, the late Mr. John Williams, was for very many years parish clerk and sexton of Swavesey, an office that has been held by a member of the family for over a century. The funeral took place at Cambridge on Wednesday. – After ten days illness, Mrs. Ann Linford, widow of Mr. William Linford, Turn Bridge Cottages, Swavesey, succumbed to an attack of bronchitis on Monday afternoon at Fenstanton, where she had been residing with her daughter, Mrs. Brickwood, since Mr. Linford's death in November, 1922. Mrs. Linford, who was 81 years of age, was a daughter of the late Mr. William Lincoln, shoemaker, St. Ives.

CRICKET CLUB. 15th Feb. 1924

The annual meeting of the Cricket Club was held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, Mr. R. Barwell presiding over a good attendance of members.

The accounts for last year, which showed a deficit of £3 10s., having been passed, the following officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.C., M.P. (subject to his consent); last year's vice-presidents were re-elected, with the addition, subject to their consent, of Mr. P. Bayliss and Mr. W. A. Bignall; captain, 1st eleven, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. F. Hephher; captain, 2nd eleven, Mr. G. Oakman; vice-captain, Mr. S. Clark, hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. Godfrey; assistant secretary, Mr. C. Godfrey; groundsman, Mr. H. D. Froment; committee, Messrs. A Hephher, A. C. Hephher, G. Hephher, H. Holmes, S. F. Mitham, B. Prime, T. Savage, R. Seekings, and D. Williams; umpires, Messrs. G. Winters and A. Payne. It was decided that the first eleven should be entered for the Turner (Hunts.) League and the Cambs. Minor Cup, and the second eleven for the Milton and District League.

SWAVESEY WAR MEMORIAL. 15th Feb.1924

An important step towards completing the war memorial in Swavesey was taken on Monday evening, when a large and representative meeting of parishioners of both sexes and various ages approved of the draft rules for the conduct of the Village Institute, which formed part of the memorial scheme which was launched in May, 1919

The meeting was held in the Memorial Hall, and was presided over by Dr. R. Ellis, chairman of the Memorial Committee, who, in a brief introductory speech, stated that the Institute would be open to women as well as men, and, under certain conditions, to boys and girls, and was intended, in addition to being a place for recreation, to be a centre for the village clubs and organisations, educational and social.

The draft rules were read by Mr. C. Wood (hon. secretary of the Memorial Committee). They provide, inter alia, for the appointment of officers and a committee, consisting of the twelve Memorial Hall trustees, three representatives from each of the village clubs and societies, including the British Legion, and three members elected by a general meeting of the Institute; that the election of members should be vested in the committee; that the annual subscription for adults should be 6s., or 1s. 6d. quarterly; that the committee should have power to elect members residing outside the village on such terms as they think suitable; and that juniors up to the age of 14 years should be eligible as members at reduced fees, viz., 4s. a year, or 1s. a quarter, and be allowed the use of the club premises from 6 to 8 p.m.

One slight alteration having been agreed to, the draft rules were unanimously adopted, on the proposal of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. A. J. Willson. It was decided that subscriptions should be paid in advance, and that all persons who gave notice in writing to Mr. Wood by March 1st of their intention to join the Institute should be regarded as original members. Further, that a general meeting should be held as soon as practicable for the purpose of electing officers and committee.

The meeting concluded with votes of thanks to Mr. Wood and the Memorial Committee for their services in connection with the Institute, and to the Chairman for presiding.

SWAVESEY HORTICULTURALISTS. 15th Feb. 1924

At a well-attended meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society, held at the Memorial Hall, Swavesey, on Monday evening, Mr. G. Winters presiding several alterations in, and additions to, the schedule for this year's show, which had been recommended by the Horticultural Committee, were approved.

The undermentioned were appointed to a Sports Committee: The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Messrs. P. Burton, G. E. Canham, Cyril Godfrey (sports secretary). R. Godfrey, C. S. Hephher, G. Hephher, F. F. Norman, C. Savage, H. Topham and A. J. Willson (Swavesey), R. Asplin and F. Watts (Over), and J. Mailer (Boxworth). The question of affiliation was referred to the Sports Committee, a proposal that the latter should be dealt with by the general meeting being defeated by a considerable majority. The date of the show has been fixed provisionally for Thursday, August 7th.

FUNERAL. 22nd Feb. 1924

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Linford, whose death on the 11th inst. was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Mr. E. Short, Pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel, officiated, and during the service at the graveside the hymn, "What is it for a Saint to die?" was sung. The mourners included: Messrs. F. and J. Linford (sons), Mr. and Mrs. W. Brickwood (son-in-law and daughter), Mr. H. Brickwood (grandson), Mrs. A. G. Parish (grand-daughter), Messrs. Aaron and Jethro Linford (brothers-in-law), and Mrs. W. Savage (niece). The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, carried out the funeral arrangements.

SOCIAL EVENING. 22nd Feb. 1924

A very pleasant and successful social evening, in aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund, organised at short notice by Mr. Barwell and other members of the congregation, was held at the Memorial Hall on Saturday. The entertainments included music, dancing and a short whist drive. Songs, etc., were contributed by Mrs. C. S. Hephner, the Misses Goad, Paine, Kirby, Cole, Banks and Barwell, Messrs. Barwell, A. Prime, H. Prime and H. G. Topham, and the Swavesey Orchestra played selections. For the whist drive over which Mr. C. Wood officiated as M.C., assisted by Mr. G. Winters, there were seven tables in play, and the prizes were won by:- Ladies: Mrs. C. Dean, Miss Annie Norman; booby, Miss C. Froment. Gentlemen: Mr. C. Savage, Mr. F. Pontefract (after a cut with Mr. Winters); booby, Mr. W. A. Bignall. The music for dancing was supplied by Mrs. Barwell, the Misses M. Ellis, Q. Spolton and N. Mustill, who presided in turns at the piano, and the Orchestra. Excellent refreshments were provided during the evening, under the superintendence of Mrs. Walter Thorp, and her co-adjutors, Mrs. C. Dean, Mrs. B. Prior, Miss E. Garner, and Miss E. Dodson. As a result of the social, nearly £8 has been added to the Church Repair Fund.

BILL-POSTING. 22nd Feb. 1924

A Swavesey correspondent writes: "Referring to the remarks of a correspondent in last Friday's 'Independent Press' on the subject of bill-posting on the War Memorial Hall fencing, I beg to state that, so far as I have been able to ascertain, they are quite in keeping with the feeling of many people in the village. Whilst the matter is fresh in the minds of your readers, I would like to voice another suggestion with regard to the posting of bills. It is that organisers of concerts, socials, whist drives, and other meetings, should advertise the same a little more freely than they do at present. It is no uncommon thing to hear something like this: 'Are you going to the social to-night?' or 'Did you go to the annual meeting of the British Legion?' 'No, when was it? And I am a member, too!' It seems that one notice posted somewhere in the village is deemed sufficient. It is no, as many people may not see it, for the simple reason that for some days they may not go anywhere near it, whereas if about half a dozen notices were posted in different parts of the village people could not help seeing them. I have heard it said that it is too much trouble, but it is a trouble, I think, that would well repay one. Is it not worth the difference between a half empty room, whether concert or ordinary meeting, and a full one?"

BLIND MUSICIANS' CONCERT. 22nd Feb. 1924

Notwithstanding the stormy and wintry night and the falling snow, a thoroughly appreciative audience, that undoubtedly would have been much larger had the weather been kinder, gave the heartiest of welcomes to the Blind Musicians' Concert Party, on the occasion of their concert in the Memorial Hall on Friday last. The Party, it may be remembered, won golden opinions in Cambridge on January 25th, when they gave a memorable concert in the Guildhall. The programme consisted of solos, duets, quartettes, piano music and humorous songs. (Programme in newspaper). Every item was received with hearty and well-deserved applause, and encores were numerous. During an interval Mr. Broom, on behalf of the Party, thanked the audience for their kind and appreciative reception, and he added that they were specially grateful to Miss E. Dodson, and the ladies and gentlemen who had assisted her, for the admirable arrangements they had made. The net proceeds of the concert amounted to £6 0s. 8d.

MEMORIAL HALL. 29th Feb. 1924

The raising of a loan of £550 by the Parish Council for the purpose of paying the balance of the cost of building and furnishing the War Memorial Hall was approved by the County Council on Saturday, subject to the Minister of Health being satisfied that the purpose is one for which a Parish Council can incur expense, and to the Parish Council being adequately protected against loss.

WHIST DRIVE. 29th Feb. 1924

Fifteen tables were in play at the whist drive in aid of the War Memorial Fund which took place in the hall on Saturday evening.

HOCKEY. 7th March 1924

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey eleven entertained the Cam 1st team yesterday (Thursday), and a good game resulted in a win for the homesters by 2 goals to 1. Miss M. Barwell and Miss D. Carter scored for Swavesey.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 7th March 1924

In order to assist the fund for providing a piano for use in connection with Bethel Baptist Chapel, a capital concert was given on Thursday week by the Chapel Choir, assisted by friends. The interesting and varied programme included a number of choruses rendered in excellent style by the Choir, under the conductorship of Mr. J. W. Williams, and songs by Miss Constance Goad, Mrs. H. Asplen (Over), Mrs. C. S. Hepher and Miss E. Freestone, and Mr. B. Sutton contributed cornet solos. Mr. J. W. Williams was an efficient accompanist, and Mr. Dennis Webster (Over) a genial chairman.

PARISH COUNCIL. 7th March 1924

The Parish Council was summoned to meet at the Memorial Hall on the 28th ulto, but as only four Councillors attended, viz.: Messrs. C. Wood (Vice-Chairman), J. Linford, C. H. Parish and S. Prime, and the Standing Orders required a quorum of five, no properly constituted meeting could be held. The Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), however, explained that it was necessary that the list of persons nominated by the Council for the office of Parish Constable for the ensuing year should be published on or before the following Sunday, an informal meeting was held, and it was decided that Messrs. C. J. Shepperson (the present Constable), B. Hodson, J. J. Marriott and M. C. Culpin, who were chosen last year, should again be nominated, and that the Chairman should be asked to call a meeting for yesterday (Thursday) evening, to confirm the nominations and also the Constable's remuneration for the past year. Mr. Linford gave notice that at the next meeting he would call attention to the condition of the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground and its protecting fence.

OUSE DRAINAGE. 7th March 1924

A representative meeting of the owners and occupiers of land in Swavesey and district, held at the National School on Friday evening, resolved to ask for the exclusion Sub Area A.9 (2) from the Ouse Drainage Scheme. Mr. J. Evison, J.P. (Fen Drayton) was voted to the chair, and among the others present were: Alderman Dr. J. W. Ellis, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey and Mr. A. Day, sen. (Swavesey), Mr. R. Mailer (County Councillor for the Swavesey district), Messrs. F. Kirby and Ingle Hemington (Over), J. Scambler (Conington), T. Johnson (Fen Drayton), and Saunders (Fenstanton). After a lucid and detailed explanation by Mr. C. G. Tebbutt (a member of the Ouse Drainage Board), the following resolution, proposed by Dr. Ellis and seconded by Mr. A. Day, was carried unanimously: "That this meeting of owners and occupiers of land in Swavesey and district strongly presses for the exclusion of Sub Area A.9 (2) from the Ouse Drainage Scheme." The Chairman desired to convey the resolution to the representatives of the area on the Ouse Drainage Board. A petition to the effect of the resolution was also signed by all present.

LEAP YEAR FESTIVITIES. 7th March 1924

A whist drive and carnival dance held in the New Memorial Hall to celebrate Leap Year Day, on Friday, proved a great success. About 125 people, many of whom came from neighbouring villages, in spite of bad weather, spent a most enjoyable evening, and nearly £9 was realised and handed over to the Memorial Hall Fund. The prize-winners in the whist tournament were: Ladies, Miss C. Poole (Longstanton), Mrs. Holmes; gentlemen, Mr. C. Hart (Willingham), Mr. C. Savage. Mr. R. Barwell carried out the duties of M.C. for the whist drive in his usual jovial manner. Dancing commenced at 9 p.m., and was continued until after midnight, under the experienced direction of Mr. H. Topham, who acted as M.C. Paper streamers added to the effect of the tastefully decorated hall, and during the evening balloons, masks, etc., with lucky numbers attached, were sold by Miss M. Barwell and Miss L. Goad; two prizes given to the holders of lucky numbers fell to Mr. Tagg and Mr. Jack Clark. The refreshment arrangements were in the capable hands of Mrs. H. R. Ashby and Miss E. Dodson, whose hard work was made lighter by generous gifts of refreshments from Swavesey ladies, and by willing helpers to distribute.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 7th March 1924

An appreciative audience assembled in the Memorial Hall on the evening of Shrove Tuesday for the first concert given by the recently revived Swavesey Choral Society, when the chief item in the programme was Andreas Romberg's cantata, "The Lay of the Bell." The performance of that work was most creditable to the indefatigable conductor, Mr. J. W. Williams, the soloists and the chorus, considering the comparatively short time the present Society has been in existence. The principal soloists were Mr. A. Prime, jun., Mrs. C. S. Hepher, Mr. G. F. Canham, and Mr. E. Williams, while Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. Canham, Miss M. Parish, Messrs. H. Prime, B. Prime, F. Aldred, J. Clark, S. F. Mitham, and S. Godfrey took their share in the quartettes, etc. Miss Alice Wilderspin played the pianoforte accompaniment. The programme also included glees, choruses and quartettes, a banjo solo by Mr. E. Williams, and two pieces by the Swavesey Orchestra, who, unfortunately, were handicapped by the absence, through illness, of their conductor and leading cornet player, Mr. B. Sutton.

THE INSTITUTE. 7th March 1924

At the first meeting of members of the newly-formed Village Institute, held in the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:- President, Mr. G. J. Paine; Chairman, Mr. W. A. Bignall; Vice-Chairman, Mr. R. Barwell; Treasurer and Secretary, Mr. C.

Wood; Committee: Messrs. H. Ashby, T. C. Thompson and W. Twist. The Committee consists of the Memorial Hall Trustees, representatives of the Village Societies and Clubs, and three members elected by the general meeting. Amongst other matters, it was decided that a box for suggestions and a visitors' book should be provided, that temporary members, e.g. visitors staying in the village, should pay a quarter's subscription, and that the Committee Room should be used as a reading room. Some discussion took place in regard to separate accommodation for lady members, but on the motion of Mrs. J. J. Marriott, the proposal was rejected. A resolution regulating the admission of visitors was also passed. The proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks to the Chairman. – the Institute was opened on Monday evening, a large number of members attending, all of whom expressed the greatest satisfaction with the excellent accommodation, and with the many and varied amusements, games, etc., provided. The billiard table was specially appreciated, and was in constant demand throughout the evening. Before the opening, 124 members, all from Swavesey, joined. Persons desiring to become members now have to be nominated by members and elected by the Committee.

BRITISH LEGION. 14th March 1924

At a meeting of the Swavesey District Branch of the British Legion, held on Monday evening, Mr. R. Barwell presiding, Mr. A. W. Melbourne was appointed hon. secretary in place of Mr. C. Wood, whose resignation was accepted with regret.

SACRILEGE. 14th March 1924

Two regrettable cases in connection with the churchyard have recently occurred. The glass protecting an artificial wreath on one grave has been smashed, and bulbs have been removed from another. As regards the latter, three plant-pots containing bulbs were sunk in the earth. One pot and its contents were taken away, and after a fortnight the empty pot was replaced in the hole, which the seeker after bulbs had failed to fill up.

A SAFETY RAZOR. 14th March 1924

A correspondent writes: That shaving is not always an easy or a pleasant operation is, I believe, generally admitted by those who have to wield a razor on themselves, and complaints of razors that decline to cut, or that cut too freely, are common. The recent experience of a Swavesey ex-Serviceman is, however, somewhat unusual. Having well-lathered his face, he scraped and scraped, but his safety razor failed to reap the hirsute stubble, although it effectively removed the soapy lather. When almost in despair, a friend came on the scene, and, examining the razor, pointed out that the shaver had omitted to insert the blade.

THE INSTITUTE. 14th March 1924

Forty-one new members were elected by the Committee of the Institute on Saturday evening, bringing the total membership up to 165. That the institute is appreciated is shown by the large number of villagers who attend every evening and enjoy the multifarious games provided, read newspapers and other literature, or engage in a social chat. The Committee on Saturday decided to allow dancing on Mondays from 6 to 8 p.m., and they hope to arrange lectures, etc., on various subjects. For all these advantages the annual subscription is 6s. for adults and 4s. for juveniles, payable yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, that is less than three halfpence a week for adults, and about a penny a week for juveniles. The subscriptions to the cricket, football and other clubs and societies in the village are, it is believed, at relatively higher rates.

PARISH COUNCIL. 14th March 1924

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on the 6th inst. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, S. Prime, and W. Twist, with the Clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Having approved of the list of persons nominated for the office of parish constable at a meeting held the previous week, when a quorum of councillors was not present, and also of the constable's remuneration, the Council proceeded to discuss the condition of the Recreation Ground. The Clerk reported that a balance of £5 18s. 5d. stood to the credit of the Recreation Ground account, and Mr. Linford, in accordance with notice previously given, called attention to the dilapidated condition of the cricket pitch and of the movable fence that the Council had provided for its protection. He asked who was responsible for keeping both the pitch and the fence in a proper state of repair. The remainder of the Recreation Ground was in a terribly rough state, and in urgent need of attention, for the sake of the children, whose playing field it was. Mr. Twist thought that when the fence was put up in 1920, a condition was imposed on the Cricket Club to keep it in repair. The Vice-Chairman interjected with the question, "Who should pay for the damage when the fence is broken by stock?" A prolonged examination of the minute-book failed to disclose any liability for repairs on the part of the Cricket Club, whereupon Mr. Twist moved that the pitch be put in order by the Council on condition that the Cricket Club had the fence mended and kept in proper repair in future; and further that the Recreation Ground generally be improved and levelled for the benefit of the children, as far as funds would permit. Mr. Linford seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously, Messrs. Wood, Twist and Linford being appointed a committee to superintend the work. On behalf of the Memorial Hall trustees, the Vice-Chairman asked for permission to erect three of the public street lamps, which are not now in use, outside the Hall. The request was granted. Before the meeting closed the Vice-Chairman, in reply to Mr. Cole, stated that the public notice board, which had been removed during the building of the Hall, would be re-erected very shortly.

THE RECENT FIRE. 21st March 1924

Inquiries are being made in the village as to when the men, who were employed in connection with the fire in Market-street on January 29th, will be paid for their services.

PERSONAL. 21st March 1924

The Rev. Anderson W. Wells, B.A. (Durham), who was appointed vicar of Goldthorpe, Yorks., in May, 1919, has exchanged livings with the Rev. H. Howard, vicar of Whitworth, Rochdale, Lancs. He is a native of Swavesey, being the second son of Mr. James Wells, whose death on Saturday last is announced this week.

B.W.T.A. 21st March 1924

Preceded by a tea attended by 50 members, the annual meeting of the British Women's Temperance Association was held in Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 13th inst. Mrs. H. S. Aldred presided. An encouraging and helpful address was given by Miss Newton, of London, and solos were sung by Miss Doris Godfrey and Miss Kirby. Before the proceedings concluded, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place, and two new members were enrolled.

CONFIRMATION. 21st March 1924

A large congregation was present at the Confirmation which was held at the parish church on Thursday week by the Right Rev. Bishop Price, the other clergy attending being the Revs. R. P. Moline (rector of Cottenham and Rural Dean), N. B. Jones (Chatteris), A. H. Thoms (Fen Drayton), and the Vicar of Swavesey (Rev. C. F. Stebbing). The service was fully choral, Mr. G. H. Skeeles presiding at the organ. There were 11 candidates, viz., seven from Swavesey, three from Fen Drayton, and one from Chatteris. The candidates and their friends were entertained to tea at the Vicarage after the service by the lady members of the Parochial Church Council, and the Bishop at tea-time referred to this kindly act of hospitality with much appreciation.

MISPLACED POSTERS. 21st March 1924

A correspondent writes: I should like to protest against the affixing of posters by, or on behalf of, the Ouse Drainage Board, to both parapets of the bridge which carries the main road over the large drain near Swavesey Church. Bills in such a position are unsightly, and, as there is a recognised posting place within a few yards, are quite unnecessary. It is true that by the action of the rain and wind and possibly the nimble fingers of small boys portions of the bills soon disappear, but bits of the paper remain for months, and the stonework is more or less permanently marked. If the bridge belonged to the Drainage Board, there might be some excuse for their disfiguring their own property, but, unless I have been misinformed, no such excuse can be pleaded, as it is said the bridge is under the control of the County Council.

THE LATE MR. J. WELLS. 21st March 1924

The tolling of a bell of the church between 8 and 9 a.m. on Sunday last announced to the parish the death of a former churchwarden, Mr. James Wells, who had passed away the previous afternoon at Tolworth, Kingston-on-Thames, after a long period of failing health. Mr. Wells belonged to an old Swavesey family, and was born in the village 86 years ago, being a son of the late Mr. William Wells. When a young man, he left the village for Elmdon, Saffron Walden, migrating thence to Derbyshire, where he married. In 1870 he returned to Swavesey, and, until advancing age rendered retirement desirable, carried on a successful business as a coal merchant. About three years ago Mr. Wells, whose wife had died some time previously, went to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Williams, at Tolworth. For a number of years he was a churchwarden, and was a member of the first Parish Council, being re-elected to that body on several subsequent occasions. Amongst other offices held by him were those of school manager, and, for a long period, of clerk to the Stock Club. He leaves three sons and three daughters. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, at Swavesey parish church.

THE INSTITUTE. 28th March 1924

A billiard handicap (100 up) is in progress at the Institute. The final will be played on Saturday evening, April 5th.

FOOTBALL. 28th March 1924

The match between Swavesey and Old Chesterton Rovers in the Cambs. Football League (Div. III), which should have been played at Swavesey on Saturday, had to be postponed owing to illness in the Rovers' eleven.

PERSONAL. 28th March 1924

Mr. William Henry Key was 79 on Monday, and, although "in his eighty," he is still wonderfully active, and his interest in his garden and his orchards is as keen as ever. He well remembers his 50th birthday, which fell on Sunday, 24th March, 1895, for on that day a tremendous storm the worse he recollects during the 54 years he has lived in Swavesey, played havoc with the houses, buildings, trees, etc., in the village, as it did in other parts of the country, and even carried the then sexton of the Parish Church "off his legs," when that functionary was struggling to get home after the morning service.

THE LATE MR. J. WELLS. 28th March 1924

The funeral of Mr. James Wells, whose death at Tolworth, Kingston-on-Thames, at the age of 86 years, was announced last week, took place on March 20th at Swavesey Parish Church, where for a considerable period he had held the office of churchwarden. The body, which had been conveyed from Tolworth by motor hearse, was met at the churchyard gates by the Vicar of Swavesey (the Rev. C. F. Stebbing) and the Choir, and as the procession entered the church the organist, Mr. G. H. Skeeles, played "O, rest in the Lord." The service was choral. The immediate mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wells, Mrs. J. Mitham, Rev. A. W. and Mrs. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wells, Mr. and Mrs. H. Corbett (sons and daughters, and sons and daughters-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. C. Ding, Miss J. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hemington, Messrs. J., E. and T. Mitham, Master J. Wells, Misses B. and F. Wells (grand-children), and Mrs. Levell and Mr. and Mrs. Evans(cousins). The coffin was of oak, with massive bronze furniture.

ADVERT. 4th April 1924

Wallpapers, from 3d. per roll. Digging Forks, 3s. 9d. Ely Hoes, 5in. to 8in. Good Paint, mixed any colour to order. – Prior's Stores.

THE INSTITUTE. 4th April 1924

A games' tournament was contested at the Institute on Tuesday evening, between teams representing the Over branch of the British legion and the Institute. The visitors had no difficulty in defeating the home team at draughts and dominoes, but the Swavesey billiard players more than held their own, winning four games out of the six that were played. Scores: Draughts – Over 22, Swavesey 10; dominoes – Over 20, Swavesey 12; billiards – Swavesey 4, Over 2.

DROVE LETTING. 4th April 1924

The annual letting of the herbage of the droveways and roadsides in the parish of Swavesey took place at the White Horse Inn on Tuesday evening, by direction of the Rural District Council. Owing probably to the restrictions due to the foot and mouth disease, competition for the various lots was far from keen, and the total amount was the smallest for many years, viz, £15 7s. 6d. In 1923 the droveways, etc., were let for £22 17s. 6d., and in 1922 for £16. Messrs. Underwood, who were the auctioneers, offered at the same time, by order of the Parish Council, the herbage of the Recreation Ground, from the present time until December 31st next. Mr. Alfred Prime, sen., was the successful bidder, with an offer of £3 15s., 7s. 6d. more than in 1923, and £1 15s. more than in 1922.

THE INSTITUTE. 11th April 1924

The billiard handicap which has been in progress at the Institute was brought to a conclusion on Saturday evening, when Messrs. J. Hall (rec. 15) and W. Spolton (rec. 48) met in the final. Result: Spolton 150, Hall 106.

BAND OF HOPE. 11st April 1924

Bethel Baptist Band of hope brought a very happy and successful session to a close on Thursday week, when about fifty children sat down to a sumptuous tea, provided by friends, after which a much-appreciated entertainment was given by the members.

CAMPANOLOGY. 11th April 1924

A plain Bob peal of 720 changes was rung on the bells of the parish church before the morning service on Sunday by the following: 1 Mr. F. Huckle (Willingham), 2 Mr. B. Hodson (Swavesey), 3 Mr. F. Gleaves (Willingham), 4 Mr. E. Williams (Swavesey), 5 Mr. F. Warrington (Longstanton), tenor, Mr. F. Hemington (Swavesey). Mr. Warrington was the conductor.

CONCERNING THE PARISH MEETING. 11th April 1924

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: The annual assembly of the parish meeting, which, according to Act of Parliament, "shall be held on the 25th day of March in each year, or within seven days before or after that day," has not yet taken place. Last year there was no meeting, the Chairman of the Parish Council being of opinion that it was useless to call one, as in previous years only one or two persons in addition to himself and the Clerk had taken the trouble to attend. I have ventured more than once in these columns to suggest that one reason for the poor attendance at parish meetings in Swavesey, except when some burning question is agitating the village, is the inadequate method adopted for calling them. As a rule the notice is written on inconspicuous pieces of paper, which are affixed amongst other documents, most of them out of date, to the notice boards of the parish church and the Nonconformist chapels, which few people take the trouble to inspect. The Local Government Act, 1894, would seem to call for greater publicity, for in Section 51 it is laid down that "a public notice of a parish meeting shall be given in the manner required for giving notice of Vestry meetings, and by posting the notice in some conspicuous place or places within the parish, and in such other manner, if any, as appears to the (Parish) Council, or to the persons convening the meeting desirable for giving publicity to the notice." Everything possible should be done to encourage the attendance of ratepayers at the annual parish meeting, for at that meeting the Overseers', Parish Council, Charity, etc., accounts should be presented, and ratepayers can gain useful information respecting the finances of the parish. Further, parish affairs may be discussed, and resolutions passed thereon. At the annual Parish Council meeting in April, 1923, the accounts of the Council for the previous year could not be presented owing to the absence, through illness, of the Clerk. Have the councillors forgotten that they have not yet been submitted for their approval?

FANCY DRESS DANCE. 11th April 1924

A very successful fancy dress dance was held in the New Memorial Hall on the 3rd instant, when about 80 dancers in costume spent a most enjoyable evening. Dancing commenced at 8 o'clock, and continued until well after midnight. Mr. Hensher's Jazz Band from Cambridge supplied the music. The Hall was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, kindly lent by Messrs. Robert Sayle and Co. Ltd., Cambridge.
(Full report in newspaper).

EGGS FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 18th April 1924

In response to the appeal of the Secretary-Superintendent, 1,304 eggs have been collected in Swavesey for the use of Addenbrooke's Hospital. Taking the figures of the 1921 Census, this represents, roughly speaking, an egg and a half from each inhabitant, or five eggs from every house in the parish. The gift has been gratefully acknowledged by the Hospital authorities.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 18th April 1924

At a meeting of the Choral Society held at the National School on the 10th inst., Mr. E. Williams presiding, it was decided to suspend operations until the autumn, and to hold a meeting in September to arrange for next winter's work. The accounts for the past season, presented by the Treasurer, Miss E. Dodson, showed a balance in hand of £2 9s. 4d. The proceedings concluded with votes of thanks to the officers.

BILLIARDS. 18th April 1924

A team of Fen Drayton billiard players visited Swavesey on the 10th inst., and played a friendly match at the Institute, but succeeded in winning only one game out of the six contested.

SUMMER-TIME. 18th April 1924

It is credibly reported that certain persons in Swavesey, misled probably by the snowstorm early in the day, put back their clocks and watches on Saturday night, instead of advancing them by an hour, and in consequence of these mishaps on Sunday morning a member of the congregation of one of the places of worship in the village, who is conspicuous by the regularity of his attendance, arrived at the end of the service, while another parishioner took the family dinner to the bakehouse two hours after time.

OBITUARY. 18th April 1924

After three years of ill-health, the last two spent as an invalid at her home in Swavesey, Miss Grace Ellen Prime passed away peacefully, though rather suddenly, shortly before noon on Thursday in last week. She had been able to go out on the previous Monday to see a relative who lived a short distance from her home, but on the following day a decided change for the worse set in. She was born in Swavesey 19 years ago last May, and was a daughter of Mrs. David Prime, Askew-row, and of the late Mr. David Prime, who for 33 years was employed on the G.E.R. permanent way staff, and for at least two-thirds of that time was a foreman platelayer. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Wednesday afternoon, the second anniversary of her father's death. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved mother and her family.

CRICKET CLUB. 18th April 1924

Although arranged in haste, the whist drive and dance in aid of the Swavesey Cricket Club, which was held in the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, was an undoubted success both as regards the attendance and the financial result. For the drive, over which Mr. T. C. Heasman presided as M.C., there were 17 tables in play, and the prize winners were: Ladies, Mrs. W. Burton, Mrs. Bignell, Miss E. Prior; gentlemen, Mr. G. Goad, Mr. G. Whybrow, Over, Mr. C. Savage. Excellent music for dancing was provided by Miss Queenie Spolton and Mr. E. Williams (piano), and Messrs. B. and J. Sutton (cornets), and Messrs. D. Williams and G. Oakman were capable M.C.'s. Light refreshments of admirable quality, all given by supporters of the club, as also were the prizes for whist, were on sale, and so abundant was the supply that at the close of the evening a quantity remained for disposal. These were put up to auction, and realised about 32s., one jam sandwich, sold time after time, bringing in eventually 15s. The net proceeds of the drive and dance amounted to £7 5s. 5d. The club's season will open on Saturday, May 3rd, when the first eleven are to meet Huntingdon in the Turner (Hunts.) League, at Huntingdon, and the second eleven will entertain Willingham Reserves in a Milton and District League (Division II) fixture.

DEATH OF MRS. SHORT. 18th April 1924

Mr. Edward Short, the respected minister of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, has sustained an irreparable loss by the death of his wife, who passed away on Saturday morning after a long illness. Mr. and Mrs. Short had been married for well-nigh fifty years, and had lived in Swavesey since January, 1898, when Mr. Short became minister of the Particular Baptist Church. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, the greater part of the service being held in the chapel. Mr. S. Curtis, of Southill, Bedford, officiated, Mr. A. Day, sen., and Mr. Z Parish, deacons, being associated with him.

The marriage of Mr. Ernest James Beven, son of Mr. William Beven, and Miss Alice Ding, youngest daughter of Mr. William Ding, Swavesey, was solemnised at Swavesey Parish Church on Easter morning, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Vicar, officiating. The Easter Vestry meeting was held under the tower of the Parish Church on Tuesday evening. There was only a small attendance, and the only business was the election of churchwardens for the ensuing year. The Vicar, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, who presided, again nominated Mr. C. F. Banks as vicar's warden, and Mr. H. J. Wells was unanimously re-elected people's warden, on the proposition of the Rev. J. F. Cooksey, seconded by Mr. W. H. Key. The Vicar, on behalf of the congregation, expressed appreciation of the services of the churchwardens during the past year.

PARISH CHURCH. 25th April 1924

The services at the Parish Church on Good Friday were well attended. For Easter Day, the church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers by ladies of the congregation. There were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m. (choral), and the communicants numbered 126. At Evensong, the anthem, "Christ being raised from the dead" (Elvey) was well sung by the Choir. The collections throughout the day, amounting to £8 3s., have been devoted to the payment of the premium for dilapidations insurance. Prior to the festival the War Memorial Cross in the churchyard was carefully cleaned by Mr. Joseph Linford.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 25th April 1924

Preceded by a well-attended tea in the Schoolroom, a sacred concert was given in the Bethel Baptist Chapel on the evening of Good Friday by the Choir, assisted by friends from Over and Cottenham. The first part of the programmed consisted of the cantata, "The Land of Light" (Arthur Pearson), which was capitally rendered, the solo part being well sung by Miss Alice Norman, Mr. Jack Clark, and Mr. Scammell, Over. Mr. J. W. Williams was a capital conductor, and Mrs. Gautrey (Cottenham) an efficient organist. The second part of the programme was miscellaneous, and included songs by Miss Constance Goad and Mr. Scammell, duet by Mr. J. W. Williams, and Mr. F.

Todd (Cottenham), and a quartet by Messrs. J. Clark, B. Prime, J. W. Williams and F. Aldred. A collection was taken for the Piano Fund.

There were about 170 people present, including many from neighbouring villages. The financial result was most gratifying, and the committee have been able to hand the satisfactory sum of £5 7s. 10d. to the treasurer of the War Memorial Hall Fund.

(Full report in newspaper).

WATER RISING. 2nd May 1924

Yesterday (Thursday) morning water was rising rapidly around Swavesey. The River Ouse and the drains were full, and, if more rain fell, there was every prospect of a flood.

WHIST DRIVE. 2nd May 1924

In aid of the War Memorial Fund, a whist drive was held in the Hall on April 24th. Seventeen tables were occupied, and the prizes were won by: Ladies – Miss Pook, Miss C. Goad, after a cut with Mrs. H. Burling. Gentlemen – Mr. D. Williams, Mr. T. C. Heasman, Mr. H. D. Froment. Mr. T. C. Heasman officiated as M.C.

“SPRING’S HARBINGER.” 2nd May 1924

A correspondent writes: The writer of the Bourn local paragraph in last Friday’s “Independent Press” may be interested to know that the cuckoo was heard in various parts of Swavesey parish at least three weeks ago. One bird, when seen in the neighbourhood of The Manor, near the Railway Station, was being driven away by crows and jackdaws.

A RUNAWAY. 2nd May 1924

A runaway horse and cart caused excitement at Boxworth-end last week. Startled, it is said, by a traction engine, the animal bolted, knocking down the youth who was in charge, and then partly demolishing the wall in front of the house occupied by the Pastor of the Particular Baptist Chapel. Continuing its mad career, the horse turned, or was turned, along the Ramper-road, just missing Mr. Robinson Mitham, who flattened himself against a high fence he was erecting, and upsetting his assistant, Mr. Charles Hephher, who, however, was not hurt, though a tool in his hand was smashed. The horse dragging the cart now "untumbrilled," raced along the road towards Longstanton with men in pursuit, but at the second turning ran into a ditch and was captured. The youth with the cart had a marvellous escape, for when he was knocked down he fell between the wheels, neither of which touched him. His face was cut slightly, and he was shaken and bruised.

PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd May 1924

The annual meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening. There were present: Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, S. Prime, W. Twist, and C. Wood, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). The re-election of Mr. A. Norman as chairman was proposed by Mr. Twist, and seconded by Mr. Parish. Mr. Norman, however, said that having held the office for several years, he desired to retire, and he moved that Mr. Wood should be chairman. Mr. Linford seconded, and Mr. Wood was elected unanimously. Mr. A. Norman was appointed vice-chairman, and Messrs. A. Day, jun., and C. H. Parish overseers of the poor. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman reported that the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground had been put in order, and the ground attended to in other respects, and that the fence protecting the pitch was being repaired by the Cricket Club. The question of the public clock outside the National School, which has been out of order for a considerable time, was discussed. The Chairman pointed out that the Council had already resolved not to spend any of the ratepayer's money on repairing it, and on the proposition of Mr. Cole, seconded by Mr. R. Norman, it was decided nem. con. That the original resolution should be adhered to. Mr. Linford did not vote. Attention was called to the dangerous hedge at the junction of the Swavesey-road with the Cambridge – Huntingdon-road, and the councillors being unanimously of opinion that the hedge in its present condition constituted a serious danger to the public, the Clerk was instructed to communicate with the County Road Surveyor on the subject. Before the meeting closed a letter from Mr. R. Mitham was read, intimating his desire to relinquish the office of clerk to the Council, which he had held for 28 out of the 29 years of the Council's existence. After some discussion, and an explanation by the Clerk, in course of which he mentioned that he had been collector of the Poor Rate since 1878, it was decided that the letter should lie on the table for the present. Beyond the re-appointment of Messrs. Burton and Twist as collectors of defunct sparrows, the question of committees for the ensuing year was not mentioned, and the annual accounts of the Council were not presented. The accounts for 1922-23, it may be mentioned, have not yet been before the Council. The councillors were also silent on the subject of the annual parish meeting, which should have been held on or about March 25th last.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING AND ENTERTAINMENT. 9th May 1924

Dr. J. W. Ellis presided over a well-filled school-room on Saturday evening, when the County Member, Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.P., was present, and an excellent programme of music, etc., was provided. In addition to the Member, the chairman was supported by Mr. R. Barwell and Mr. W. W. Light (agent). In the course of a forceful speech, Capt. Briscoe dealt with the position of the Liberal voters who were not in agreement with the leaders of that party in placing a Socialist party into office, and suggested that they should join the Conservative party. He also quoted speeches by Mr. Asquith and Mr. Lloyd George, wherein they showed that there was little difference between the policies of the Conservative and Liberal parties. Turning to the question of Agriculture, the County Member said that the industry was hampered by the want of capital, and he was pleased to see that Mr. Garratt, the Socialist candidate, had said in his first speech in the constituency that it was necessary to attract more capital to the industry, but he regretted to note in a recent speech he had omitted to mention capital as one of the essential for agricultural prosperity. During the evening an excellent programme of songs was rendered, and a screamingly funny play. A vote of thanks to Capt. Briscoe was proposed by Mr. Barwell and carried with enthusiasm.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM THORP. 9th May 1924

We have to record the death, at the age of 68 years, of Mrs. Emily Thorp, widow of Mr. William Twist Thorp, and elder daughter of the late Mr. Henry Metcalfe, which occurred after a very short illness, early on Friday morning, at her residence, Grosvenor House, Swavesey. Mrs. Thorp and her husband, who died on February 13th, 1921, both belonged to old and well-known Swavesey families, Mr. Thorp having been churchwarden for several years, besides holding various other offices in the parish. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, the body being met at the churchyard gates by the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Stebbing) and the choir. The immediate mourners were: Miss Metcalfe (sister), Mr. Dennis Metcalfe (Whittlesford), Miss Sutton (London), Mrs. Beeby (Bournemouth), Mrs. Kidman (Great Stukeley), Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Dodson and Paine.

DEATH OF MR. H. J. HALL. 16th May 1924

The sad news reached Swavesey on Tuesday that Mr. Harold John Hall had passed away at Addenbrooke's Hospital early that morning. His health for a long time had been far from satisfactory, and about six weeks ago he went to Eastbourne. Instead of the change of air effecting an improvement, Mr. Hall became worse, and had to take to his bed. Last week he returned to Cambridgeshire to consult his own doctor, who advised his removal to Addenbrooke's, where he died as stated. Mr. Hall, who was 40 years of age, had spent the whole of his working life in the service of the G.E.R. (now L.N.E.R.), and for some years was chief clerk at Swavesey Station. A few months ago he was promoted to the Goods Office at Cambridge Station, but continued to reside in Swavesey. The funeral will take place at Pampisford at 3 p.m. to-morrow (Saturday).

SWAVESEY'S NEW HALL. 16th May 1924

War Memorial Building Opened by Lord Lieutenant.

FINE VILLAGE EFFORT.

In the presence of a large attendance, the Swavesey War Memorial Hall was formally opened by the Lord Lieutenant of the County (Mr. C. R. W. Adeane, C.B.) at Swavesey on Thursday. The ceremony was the culmination of years of labour on the part of various willing workers, who are to be congratulated upon the splendid result achieved. It was a day that will long be remembered by Swavesey people, for not only does the new hall provide a lasting reminder of those who gave their lives for the country, but it will do a lot to make those who came back much happier. Swavesey was sadly in need of a place where social and educational functions could be held with the maximum of comfort, and here in the new hall this pressing need is splendidly fulfilled.

The hall itself is indeed a building of which any village could be proud. Situated in the centre of the village, it is built of red brick, and stands back from the road. A large ground floor room is capable of seating about 400 people, whilst there is an extensive balcony, which is fitted up as a billiard-room. At one end of the building is a platform, whilst an array of windows ensure good ventilation. In the entrance hall is the roll of honour, containing the names of the fallen, and of those who served. Beneath the roll is a fine laurel wreath, for which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banks were responsible.

For the opening ceremony the hall had been gracefully decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Banks. The platform was effectively draped with hanging of blue and gold, whilst flags tastefully curtained the windows. Across the front of the Chairman's table was a Union Jack, whilst in the scheme of decoration flowers and greenery were not absent. At the rear of the hall is a piece of ground, which, it is hoped, will be used in the future for bowls and tennis.

THE OPENING CEREMONY

The actual ceremony commenced just a little before three in the afternoon, when the Lord Lieutenant inspected a guard of honour drawn up in front of the building. This consisted of ex-Service men, and was under the command of Mr. E. Williams

The Lord Lieutenant had been met by the Chairman of the Committee (Major Robert Ellis), and after the inspection he unlocked the doors of the hall with the words, "I hereby declare the Swavesey War Memorial Hall open." The hall then rapidly filled, and the speeches were proceeded with. Major Robert Ellis presided, and was supported by the Lord Lieutenant, Mrs. Adeane, Mrs. Ellis, Alderman M. V. J. Webber (Chairman of the Cambs. County Council), Alderman J. Frohock (Chairman of the Swavesey R.D.C.), Dr. J. W. Ellis, Mr. Ellis Long, Mr. Robert Mailer (Swavesey representative on the Cambs. County Council), and Alderman O. Papworth.

THE CHAIRMAN

The Chairman said they could congratulate themselves on being able to advance their scheme that afternoon one step further towards completion. This hall was part of their memorial scheme for the village, and formed what he might call the utility part. The sacred part was to be found in the form of a cross in the parish churchyard. That being so, they were reminded once again of those men whom they loved so well and who were not with them that afternoon. There were those who said that the time for war memorials was past, but he did not share that view. He thought they should be often reminded of the stress of those war days, so that by remembering what those men did they could better meet the struggles which lay ahead. As one who served on the Eastern and Western fronts, he could say the most eagerly awaited days for those men at the front were the mail day, leave days, and the time when the war would be over, and they would be able to return to their homes. The pleasure of witnessing that last day was denied those men, whose loss they were mourning that day, but they could bring them back in spirit by letting their thoughts go out in grateful remembrance. (Applause.)

The speaker welcomed the Lord Lieutenant and Mrs. Adeane – (applause) – Ald. Webber and Ald. Frohock, and referred to the active work of the secretary (Mr. C. Wood). He was also pleased, he said, to see Mr. Ellis Long with them, for it was on account of the generosity of a member of his family that the land on which the hall stood had been given to them. (Applause.) He would have been glad if he could have told them that the hall was free from debt, but it was not. The committee during five years had worked very hard and had raised £1,060. (Applause.) With the exception of £210 donations, the whole of this was raised by public efforts, such as whist drives and fetes, which was a fine achievement. There now remained a debt of £550. In this new building he felt they had set an example to other villages.

THE LORD LIEUTENANT.

Mr. Adeane, in the course of his speech, said he felt sure that those who had lost their lives would have approved of what they had done, because they had done something to make the old home happier. (Hear, hear.) There was no doubt in the winter the people in the village had a dull time, and this hall would help to make things happier. He was sure that he was voicing the feelings of all when he thanked the chairman, their secretary, and Mr. George Long, who gave the land, and the committee. It was a great triumph. He was sure that all who came to the hall would always be reminded of those who died, and that its existence would increase the happiness of Swavesey and neighbourhood.

ALDERMAN WEBBER.

Speaking generally of village halls and institutions, Alderman Webber congratulated those responsible for the erection of the hall, and speaking of the debt, said he represented a local body, and in confidence he would tell them that they were always in debt. (Laughter.) At Swavesey they would get clear of it, but the County Council never. (Laughter.) Two main essentials they would have to have, and these were trust deeds and a repairs fund. In the deed they should be able to alter the uses of the hall, and another clause should allow that when a trustee left the village permanently a vacancy should automatically take place. They also should have a clause about the right number of trustees, so that the hall could not get into the hands of one man through others leaving, and the trustees should also have powers to make rules. The speaker dealt with the importance of a Repairs Fund, and said in conclusion that the uses of such a building were illimitable.

VOTES OF THANKS.

Dr. Ellis proposed a vote of thanks to the Lord Lieutenant, and said they were more than thankful that he had found time to come that day.

Mr. R. Mailer seconded.

Alderman Frohock proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman, and said that Cottenham was lucky to have such a medical officer.

Alderman Papworth proposed a vote of thanks to the Hon. Sec. and the Committee, and said it would be much better to have a hall like this than having to use the School. He spoke of the work of the Secretary, and congratulated him upon his election as Chairman of the Parish Council.

Mr. Ellis Long seconded, and said that if Mr. George Long had been alive that day he would have been more than pleased with the way the hall had been built.

Mr. Prime Godfrey responded, and said that they had had a hard struggle at times, but they had achieved success, and he hoped they would be supported in the future. (Applause.)

The proceedings concluded with the singing of "Land of Hope and Glory," the audience being led by Miss Constance Goad, who was in her usual good voice, and the National Anthem.

EVENING CONCERT.

In the evening a concert was given to celebrate the opening event. Thanks to the energies of Mr. H. R. Ashby, a number of extremely talented artistes gave a first-class entertainment, upon which they and Mr. Ashby are deserving of warm congratulation. The concert was followed by a dance, at which the music was supplied by Miller's Cantabrigians.

(Artistes and entertainment in newspaper.)

Arrangements for this years' show, which is to be held on August 7th, were discussed at a well-attended meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society on Friday evening, and it was decided to again engage the Cambridge G.E.R. Band, and to have refreshments and amusements carried out by independent firms of caterers and amusement providers. Members were reminded that their annual subscriptions should be paid to the treasurer, Mr. G. J. Paine.

SOCIAL EVENING. 23rd May 1924

A successful social and dance, organised by Mrs. Thompson, was held in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday, and in spite of the bad weather, over 100 people were present. Miss Netta Mustill opened the programme with an admirably played pianoforte solo, and during the evening, songs were sung by Mr. W. Searle (Willingham), whose "barney Google" was loudly applauded and encored, and Mrs. C. S. Hephher and Mrs. J. Coulson. The music for the dances was supplied by Miss N. Mustill, Miss Q. Spolton, and Mr. E. Williams. Despite the very low charge for admission, the organiser was able to present the trustees of the Memorial Hall with over £3.

PASTOR'S RESIGNATION. 23rd May 1924

Many of our readers will learn with regret that the Rev. Howard T. N. Ussher has tendered his resignation of the pastorate of Bethel Baptist Chapel, Swavesey. When first received, the members and seat-holders of the chapel unanimously asked Mr. Ussher to reconsider his decision, but on Sunday the deacons announced that the Pastor was unable to comply with their request. It is understood, however, that the resignation will not take effect for a few months. Mr. Ussher was pastor of Bethel Chapel for about two and a half years, between 1904 and 1907, and was re-appointed pastor at the beginning of January, 1916. In the meantime he had had charge of Baptist Churches at Oakham and in the United States of America. After the war had been in progress for some months, he returned to this country, and did good work in connection with the Y.M.C.A. tents at Fleet, near Aldershot. Towards the end of the war, Mr. Ussher again served with the Y.M.C.A., but this time in France.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 30th May 1924

Anniversary services were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the special preacher being Mr. S. Pack, of Tunbridge Wells. Excellent congregations attended, and good collections were taken.

Between the services there was a public tea in the chapel, at which a large number were present.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th May 1924

In the absence of the Pastor, the services at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday were conducted by the Rev. Alec G. Mill, a missionary from the Congo. Mr. Mill's visit was of unusual interest, as he was accompanied by his wife, who as Miss E. Starte lived in the village for some years and was greatly liked and respected. Mr. and Mrs. Mill are returning to their work on the Congo very shortly.

WITHDRAWN. 30th May 1924

The return billiard match between Swavesey Institute and Sutton, which was played on Wednesday evening at Sutton Liberal Club, resulted in a win for the home team by four games to two.

DEATH OF MRS. WOOD, SEN. 30th May 1924

Our Swavesey readers will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. S. Wood, mother of Mr. Charles Wood, headmaster of Swavesey National School, which occurred at Cuckney, near Mansfield, with almost tragic circumstances on Sunday. It is understood that when returning from church at mid-day she was taken suddenly ill, and was conveyed home. A doctor was summoned at once, but Mrs. Wood passed away during the afternoon. The funeral took place at Cuckney on Wednesday. The late Mrs. Wood, who was 74 years of age, lived in Swavesey from 1913 to 1920, and during that time made many friends in the village.

SWAVESEY GARDEN FETE. 6th June 1924

Yesterday's Effort for Funds of District Nursing Association.

SUCCESSFUL BABY SHOW.

In glorious weather a garden fete was held at Swavesey yesterday (Thursday), in aid of the funds of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association. The effort took place in the charming grounds of Swavesey Manor (kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey), and a good company assembled to do their bit to help a deserving association. Mrs. Cooksey, the hon. treasurer and assistant secretary of the local Association, was responsible for the arrangement of the function, and she carried out her task in a zealous and painstaking manner. There were a number of attractions for the public, for besides the stalls and entertainments, several competitions, inevitable on these occasions, were organised. Other features included a baby show and Morris dancing by school children.

THE OPENING CEREMONY.

Mrs. Mellish Clark, of Cambridge, hon. sec. of the Cambridgeshire Nursing Association, performed the opening ceremony. She expressed the pleasure it gave her as a representative of the County Nursing Association to declare the fete open. They always considered, she said, the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association one of the busiest and most successful in the county, and they often admired the smooth manner in which the organisation was run. It was difficult to realise that it was only about 70 years ago when the first district nurse came into being at Liverpool, thanks to the generosity of a well-known gentleman. The movement spread, and at the present time there was no district in England or Scotland that had not a nurse within its borders. It was not until the passing of the Insurance Act of 1911, and when Insurance Committees came into being, that the members of the Cambridgeshire Committee realised how many villages there were in the county, which had not a district nurse. A County Nursing Association was therefore formed, and they had hoped to do away with all unnursed areas before this, but the war intervened. They hoped, however, that in the next few years, 27 villages, which at present had no nurse, would follow the example of Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton. She had much pleasure in declaring the fete open.

Little Miss Lucy Wells then handed a bouquet to Mrs. Clark, after which Mrs. Cooksey thanked Mrs. Clark for her kind remarks about the local association, and said much of the success was due to the excellent nurses they had had.

STALLS AND SIDE-SHOWS.

The company then repaired to the well-laden stalls, where some brisk business was done. Those in charge were: Work stall, Mrs. Aldred and helpers; sweet stall, Miss Elsie Dodson and Miss Parsons; produce stall, Mrs. Burling and Mrs. Walter Thorpe. Refreshments and tea were served on the lawn, under the direction of Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Wilson, who had a number of willing helpers. The side-shows included: Hoop-la (in charge of Miss Banks and Mrs. Thurlow); candle lighting competition (Mr. P. Lees); guessing weight of cake (Miss K. Banks and Miss Parrish); guessing name of doll (Mrs. Stebbing); guessing number of chocolates in box (Miss Crouch).

The half-hour concerts were well patronised, those contributing to some enjoyable programmes being Miss Cole (who undertook the arrangements), Miss Elsie Dodson and Miss Payne. Another attractive feature was a display of Morris dancing by the girls of Swavesey and Fen Drayton schools. The children had been trained by Miss Beaumont, the headmistress of Fen Drayton Council School, and the display given spoke volumes for her excellent teaching.

Decorated bicycle and children's perambulator parades, arranged by the district nurse (Miss Waters), attracted some good entries, and considerable keenness was shown in the girls' skipping competition.

BABY-SHOW WINNERS.

Many proud mothers of Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton entered their infants in the baby show, and the adjudicators, Dr. F. Robinson (the County Medical Officer of Health) and Miss Bill (the County Superintendent of Nursing Associations) had a difficult task in deciding upon the winners. The youngsters were divided in classes, according to age, and the following gained prizes and certificates: - Class 1, 1 Derek Wayman, 2 Audrey Mary Doggett, 3 Frank Thoday; Class 2, 1 Geo. Frederick Brickwood, 2 Olive Mary Isgrove, 3 Percy Geo. Skelton; Class 3, Donald Norman, Barbara Mary Cook and William Kenzie (equal); Class 4, 1 Ann Shepperson, 2 Isla Margaret McDermott, 3 Mary Margaret Watts. The following were also awarded certificates: Evelyn Loades, John Mitham Hemington and Basil Simmons.

The funds will be further augmented by a dance, arranged by Mrs. Thompson, which was held in the new Memorial Hall in the evening.

WANDERERS. 6th June 1924

Two horses belonging to feast folk, which had been put out to graze in Cow Fen, Swavesey, on Sunday evening, were found on Monday morning near the stable in Newmarket-road, Cambridge.

ONE WAY OF DOING IT. 6th June 1924

Bicycles nowadays are put to many and various uses. Last week a young Swavesey man, having to take a shafted horse hoe from the village to a field some distance away, was seen riding his bicycle between the shafts, while he controlled his machine with one hand and pulled the hoe with the other.

CRICKET CLUB. 6th June 1924

The dance in the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Cricket Club, was a most successful function. There was a large attendance of dancers, the Swavesey Orchestra provided a good selection of music, the refreshments were ample and excellent, and the club benefitted financially to the extent of about £7. The duties of M.C. were carried out efficiently by Messrs. D. Williams and G. Oakman.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 6th June 1924

On the occasion of its 84th anniversary, Bethel Baptist Chapel was favoured with a visit by Dr. F. E. Marsh, of East London, who delivered two able and eloquent sermons on life and blessing to be found alone in God the Son. The discourses were rich in illustration, gathered from an unusually wide and varied experience. The attendance was good, many friends from surrounding villages greeting the doctor at the tea table. The choir tastefully rendered Barnicott's anthem, "Preserve me, O God." Generous offerings were given to the Church funds.

A CENTURY AGO. 6th June 1924

It may surprise some of the present residents in Swavesey to know that in a great flood in the year 1823 water very nearly reached the Blue Bell inn in Middle Watch, and that a man named Geeson was drowned when carrying, or being carried by, another man over the submerged stone rack in High-street, which some years later was replaced by the present Turn Bridge. The men were on their way home from chapel, and the current was so strong that both men were swept away, Geeson being drowned. The Black Bank, an important defence against flood water, it may be mentioned, was constructed about this time.

LATE MRS. WOOD, SEN. 6th June 1924

The funeral of Mrs. S. Wood, whose somewhat sudden death was announced last week, took place at Cuckney Parish Church, near Mansfield, on May 28th, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and villagers. The Vicar of Cuckney officiated, and the service was fully choral. The immediate mourners were Messrs. C. and F. Wood (sons), Mrs. F. Wood (daughter-in-law), five grandchildren, Mrs. Humphreys (niece), Mr. T. Thrussell (nephew), and representatives of the Mothers' Union, the Women's Unionist Association, and the Women's Institute. The beautiful floral tributes were eighteen in number, and included wreaths from members of the family, the Mothers' Union, Women's Unionist Association, the Women's Institute, and from the agent and estate workers of the Duke of Portland.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th June 1924

At a special meeting of the Parish Council, held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, the following councillors being present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., C. H. Parish, S. Prime and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), it was agreed unanimously that the proposed loan of £550 to pay the balance of the cost of building and furnishing the War Memorial Hall should be obtained from the Public Works Loan Board as recommended by the Council's solicitors, Messrs. Day and Son, St. Ives. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. C. H. Parish, one of the overseers, inquired whether Mr. Mitham was resigning the offices of clerk of the Parish Council and collector of the poor rate, and, if so, when. Mr. Mitham replied that it was his intention to relinquish both offices, and that he desired his resignation to date from March 31st last. A long discussion ensued, and eventually, on the motion of Mr. Parish, seconded by Mr. Twist, it was decided that an advertisement inviting applications for the posts of rate collector and clerk to the Parish council should be published in the "Independent Press," and that notices also inviting applications should be posted in the village. Other business dealt with included the re-appointment of the whole of the Council as the Fire Engine Committee, and the issue of a precept on the overseers for £25 towards defraying accounts, amounting, it was stated, to nearly £50, at present owing by the Council. The next meeting of the Council is to be held on June 20th.

THE FEAST. 6th June 1924

No unusual happenings, except the birth of a child in one of the vans on Wednesday morning, have to be recorded in connection with the village Feast, which has been held this week. The "Feast folk" were present in full strength, Market-street being well filled with shooting galleries, swings, cocoanut shies, galloping horses, or to be exact ostriches, etc., and numerous stalls for the sale of many and various commodities, useful, ornamental, or edible. Except, perhaps on Tuesday evening, when there was a good-sized crowd, the weather adversely affected the attendance of visitors from other villages, and the downpour on Wednesday stopped all business and pleasure. Cricket matches, always a day-time feature of the Feast, have been played. On Saturday Swavesey suffered defeat at the hands of Fenstanton, but on Tuesday in a whole-day match played on Manor Field by kind permission of Mr. Alfred Watts, the regular pitch on the Recreation Ground being too wet, the home team won a well-merited victory over Warboys. To this result the effective bowling of P. Burton contributed materially, for in the first innings he took five wickets for eight runs. Both these games were in the Turner (Hunts.) League Competition. A friendly match with Over on Monday afternoon had to be abandoned in consequence of a thunderstorm. In the evening, a hurriedly arranged dance in the Memorial Hall was a great success. The services at the parish church on Sunday had special reference to the Feast, which probably was originally a religious festival, and at Evensong there was a good congregation, notwithstanding the wet weather. The collections throughout the day were in aid of the school funds, and amounted to £3 4s.

ADVERTS. 13th June 1924

FLANNEL DANCE. 13th June 1924

A successful flannel dance, organised by Mrs. Thompson and friends, in aid of the District Nursing Association, was held in the Memorial Hall on June 5th. About 100 people were present, many of them coming from neighbouring villages. The Swavesey Orchestra, under the conductorship of Mr. Sutton, played a good selection of dance music throughout the evening. Mr. D. Williams was an efficient M.C. Excellent refreshments were provided at reasonable prices. The financial result was pleasing, as after all expenses had been paid, the organisers of the dance were able to hand over to the Nursing Association funds the sum of £3 16s. 3½d.

THE ORCHESTRA DANCE. 13th June 1924

Owing to the uncertain weather and the wetness of the ground, the first of the series of dances, under the auspices of the Swavesey Orchestra, was held in the Memorial Hall on Whitsun Monday instead of on the Vicarage lawn. A good company attended, and an enjoyable evening was spent. The music was, of course, supplied by the orchestra, under Mr. B. Sutton, the conductor.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 13th June 1924

Successful Sunday School anniversary services were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday. The day opened with a prayer meeting at 7.15 a.m., conducted by Mr. G. E. Canham, Sunday School superintendent. The morning and evening services were conducted by the Rev. Allon Poole, of Willingham Tabernacle, whose addresses were greatly appreciated. At a children's service in the afternoon, Mr. Poole, taking as his text verse 105 of the 119th Psalm, gave an interesting and instructive lecture on candles, illustrated by five different types of candles, and the children, who occupied the rostrum, sang special hymns, and two of them, Beattie Savage and Gwen Dodson, gave a dialogue. Certificates gained in the recent Cambs. Sunday School Union examination were presented to Richard Brooks, Winnie Godfrey, Kenneth Williams, Winnie Payne and Gwen Payne. Mr. J. W. Williams ably presided at the organ throughout the day. Collections in aid of the Sunday School were taken at the services, all of which were well attended, especially that in the evening.

NURSING ASSOCIATION. 13th June 1924

The garden fete in aid of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association, a necessarily curtailed report of which was published last week, realised £42 15s. 3½d., against £46 17s. last year, but if the proceeds of a flannel dance, organised by Mrs. Thompson in the Memorial Hall the same evening for the Association, amounting to £3 16s. 3½d., be added, this year's effort realised only 5s. 5d. less than last year's effort. (Full list of people in charge of stalls and competitions in newspaper). It was little Miss Lucy Key who handed the bouquet to Mrs. Mellish Clark, and not as stated last week. During the evening the proceedings were enlivened by the Swavesey orchestra, whose much appreciated services were rendered gratuitously. The duties of gatekeeper were shared by Messrs. Dean and Pontefract, both of whom gave valuable help in the work of preparation, and Messrs. H. G. Key, James Prior and W. Twist kindly lent horses and vehicles for the conveyance of chairs, piano, etc.

PARISH COUNCIL. 20th June 1924

The meeting of the Parish Council, which should have been held this (Friday) evening, has been postponed for a few days.

CYCLIST V. DOG. 20th June 1924

A cyclist riding an ordinary machine, and holding on to the shoulder of a motor-cyclist, when proceeding along Middle Watch at 7 a.m., one day last week, collided with a dog. The dog promptly bolted for home, but the cyclist was thrown over his handle-bar and came a cropper on the hard road. Fortunately, he escaped with no worse injury than a cut knee.

FLANNEL DANCE. 20th June 1924

With the object of raising funds to clear the debt on the Memorial Hall, a flannel dance was held in the Hall on Thursday week. About 40 couples danced to excellent music provided by Hensher's Jazz Orchestra. Spot dances, for which prizes were given, provided variety to the programme. Refreshments were served during the evening, and a thoroughly enjoyable and successful dance was continued until after midnight.

The village of Swavesey has lost another old inhabitant by the death, at the age of 89 years, of Mrs. Naomi Williams, which occurred on Saturday evening.

THE INSTITUTE. 27th June 1924

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Institute, held on Wednesday, it was unanimously decided that in view of the lack of attendance the Institute should during July and August be open from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. instead of from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. After August the regular times of 6 to 10 p.m. will be reverted to.

GIANT MUSHROOM. 27th June 1924

An Elsworth man this week gathered somewhere in the neighbourhood of Swavesey a giant mushroom, which measured 39 inches in circumference, 13 inches in diameter, and 2lbs. 3ozs. in weight. The mushroom was presented to a member of the staff of this journal, who reports that on Thursday morning a party of three, of whom he was one, had a third of it for breakfast, and found it excellent in every respect.

MOTOR VAN IN DITCH. 27th June 1924

In attempting to turn in Mow Fen Drove, near the Railway Gate House, on Saturday afternoon, a motor van belonging to the Peterborough Co-operative Society (St. Ives branch) ran head-on into the ditch at the side of the road, where it remained immovable. Fortunately numerous willing and capable helpers were at hand, including Mr. H. Hovell, a foreman platelayer, who resides at the Gate House, and Mr. S. Challis, captain of the Swavesey fire engine, but it was evening before, by dint of hard work, the vehicle could be extricated, jacks, timber, etc., having been used.

THE LATE MRS. HERBERT WILLIAMS. 27th June 1924

The funeral of Mrs. Naomi Williams, widow of Mr. Herbert Williams, whose death at the age of 89 years was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on June 19th, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The immediate mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Brown (Southall), Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Norman (Swavesey), Mrs. Ernest Day (Walthamstow), Miss E. Day, Mr. and Mrs. J. Day, Miss P. Williams, Miss Bessie Day (nephews and nieces). Her sister, Mrs. William Day, owing to the state of her health, was unable to attend. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

DEATH OF MRS. G. H. CARTER. 27th June 1924

We have to record the death, after a long illness, of Mrs. Susannah Hawkes Carter, wife of Mr. George Henry Carter, which occurred at Harpenden on Sunday. Mrs. Carter, who had attained the great age of 80 years, had resided for over 30 years in Harpenden, where, by her benevolent activities and kindly helpfulness, she was universally respected and esteemed. Her husband is a member of a very old Swavesey family. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church on Wednesday, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners included Mr. G. H. Carter (widower), his two sons, two daughters and daughter-in-law, Mr. J. Carter, Miss Mary Carter, Miss Annie Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirby (brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law), Mr. Frank Carter (cousin), Miss Alice Cattell and Miss Jessie Kirby (nieces). The coffin was of plain oak. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Messrs. Reeve and Son, Harpenden, and Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

DANCE AND WHIST DRIVE. 27th June 1924

The open-air whist drive and dance promoted by the Swavesey Orchestra, which was held on the Vicarage lawn on Tuesday in ideal weather, was a decided success. For the drive, over which Mr. E. J. Mitham presided as M.C., eleven tables were occupied, and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies, Miss Cowlin, Miss Annie Norman, Mrs. Stebbing, lucky table, No. 9, Mrs. Lawrence (Cambridge); gentlemen, Mr. W. A. Bignell, Messrs. S. Clark, R. Godfrey; lucky table, Mr. A. Prime, jun. The prizes were distributed by the Vicar. The attendance largely increased for the dance, for which the garden was effectively illuminated by Messrs. Berryman and H. Prime with Chinese lanterns. The music was supplied by the orchestra. Excellent refreshments were on sale, under the superintendence of a capable band of ladies, who also rendered valuable assistance in the work of preparation. Ice cream, given by Mr. Freestone and dispensed by Mr. Berryman, also found a ready sale. The proceeds have been divided between the Parish Church Repair Fund and the orchestra.

PARISH COUNCIL. 27th June 1924

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held on Monday evening at the Memorial Hall. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. W.

Burton, J. Linford, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, S. Prime and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman announced that the question of the loan of £550 for the Memorial Hall was to be considered by the Public Works Loan Board, on the 13th inst., but that no notification of the result had been received. The Council then proceeded to the appointment of a Clerk to the Council and rate collector in succession to Mr. Mitham, who had intimated his desire to resign. There were two applications for the posts, viz., Mr. Prime Godfrey, of Swavesey, and Mr. Harold Culpin, of Fen Drayton, and the former obtained the votes of the majority of the Council. The Clerk was instructed to send both applications to the St. Ives Board of Guardians, stating that the Swavesey Parish Council recommended Mr. Godfrey for the appointment of rate collector and clerk to the Parish Council. Mr. S. Challis, captain of the fire engine, reported that the leather hose needed repairing. It was, he said, wanted in addition to the new hose, owing to the fire hydrants in the village being so far apart. On the proposition of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Linford, it was agreed that the leather hose should be repaired by Mr. Challis. Before the meeting closed the following petition to the Ministers of Agriculture and Health was signed by the councillors: "We the undersigned, being farmers, smallholders and others interested in agriculture, of Swavesey and the surrounding villages along the Ouse, beg to call your attention to the unnecessary holding up of the water during flood time, whereby valuable land in the aforesaid parishes is flooded and rendered useless. Complaints having been made and found useless, we now desire you to make inquiry into this matter, and remedy the same as soon as possible."

A LARGE FISH. 4th July 1924

Angling in Swavesey waters last week, Mr. H. G. Key landed a bream which scaled 5lbs. 7oz.

OLDEST PARISHIONER. 4th July 1924

WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE. 4th July 1924

The ice cream which gave so much satisfaction at the recent open-air whist drive and dance at the Vicarage was provided by Mr. Isgrove, and not as stated last week.

NEW RATE COLLECTOR. 4th July 1924

At their meeting on Friday the St. Ives Board of Guardians appointed Mr. Prime Godfrey collector of the Poor Rate for the parish of Swavesey, the appointment to date on and from July 1st. Mr. Godfrey had been recommended for the post by the Swavesey Parish Council.

A STARTLING INCIDENT. 4th July 1924

When passing the National School in his motor car on Monday evening Mr. Arthur Norman, Hill View, Huntingdon-road, was the victim of a startling incident. A ball hit by a boy playing cricket on the Recreation Ground near the roadside, struck the wind screen of the car, breaking it and covering Mr. Norman and the dog which was with him with fragments of glass. Mr. Norman fortunately was not injured, although a good-sized triangular piece of glass struck his arm. The boy promptly ran up and asked for the return of the ball. He was told there was plenty of glass in the car, but no signs of the ball, which, however, was found subsequently on the bonnet of the car.

WHIST DRIVE. 11th July 1924

In aid of the parish church Repair Fund, a whist drive was held on the Vicarage lawn on Wednesday evening. Nine tables were in play, and the prizes were won by: Ladies, Mrs. Bignell, Mrs. Banks, Miss K. Banks; gentlemen, Mr. A. Holmes, Mr. W. Thorn, Mr. R. Godfrey. Mr. E. J. Mitham officiated as M.C.

A SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING. 11th July 1924

Villagers have been smiling this week at a little mistake made by an aged and highly respected parishioner. Asked by his son to turn the swaths of hay in a field adjoining Rose and Crown-lane, owing to a misunderstanding he proceeded to a field in Cow Fen, at the other end of the village, and turned the swaths there. The son on his return home expressed surprise that his father had not done his job. The father protested that he had. Explanations followed, and to his chagrin the father discovered that the hay he had been turning belonged not to his son, but to another man, who, it may be remarked, was far from displeased at having his work done for him gratuitously.

PARISH CHURCH. 18th July 1924

The sermon at the evening service at the parish church on Sunday was preached by the Rev. Anderson W. Wells, vicar of Whitworth, Rochdale, Lancashire. Mr. Wells is a native of Swavesey, being the second son of the late Mr. James Wells.

PARISH COUNCIL. 18th July 1924

At a special meeting of the Parish Council, held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, the mortgage deed and other documents in connection with the loan of £550 from the Public Works Loan Board to pay the balance due for building and furnishing the War Memorial Hall were duly signed. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham), read a letter from the St. Ives Board of Guardians stating that his resignation of the collectorship of the Poor Rate in Swavesey had been accepted and that Mr. Prime Godfrey had been appointed collector in his place, the appointment to date on and from the 1st July. Mr. Mitham asked when he would be released from the clerkship of the Parish Council, and was informed by the Chairman that his resignation had not been accepted because no letter of resignation was in the possession of the council, and as soon as it was handed in, the council would take it into consideration. One Councillor thought the Clerk should first present the accounts of the Council, which had not been submitted for the past two years either to the Council or the Parish Meeting. Other Councillors pressed for the accounts and the Clerk made a long and detailed statement mainly about rates and his duties as rate collector. Councillors protested that, although, unfortunately, they were interested in rates, they wanted the Council Accounts, and at length the Clerk gave particulars for the year ended 31st March, 1924. In reply to questions the Clerk stated that a precept for £25 for expenses incurred by the Council, issued over a year ago, had been cancelled as the Overseers "had no money," and that a precept for a like sum issued recently had also not been acted on for the same reason. At a previous meeting the Clerk announced that the Council owed between £40 and £50 for expenses incurred during the past two or three years, a considerable portion of the money being due to himself, and he added that the unpaid accounts included the Returning Officer's bill of costs for the last Parish Council election. Before the meeting closed Mr. Cole reported that Dr. J. W. Ellis had offered to have the public clock on the National School repaired at his expense, provided the Council gave him permission to do so. Dr. Ellis' offer was gratefully accepted. The following councillors were present at the meeting: Mr. C. Wood (Chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman and C. H. Parish.

OBITUARY. 18th July 1924

We have to record the death, after a distressing illness of nine months' duration, of Mr. John Smith, which occurred on Monday morning at his residence, Mayleigh, Swavesey. Mr. Smith, who was 57 years of age, leaves a widow, one son and two daughters. He was the son of the late Mr. Francis Marshall Smith, of Tottenham, and formerly of Bourn, Cambs. Joining the Metropolitan Police on April 29th, 1887, Mr. Smith was attached to the H (Whitechapel) Division, and after 11½ years at Commercial-street Police Station he was transferred to the V Division, serving 12 years at East Molesey and 18 months at Putney. During his 25 years' service, he received the 1887 Jubilee Medal with 1897 bar, and King Edward's and King George's Coronation Medals. Mr. Smith retired in April, 1912, and the next five years were spent at Cherryhinton. In 1917 he joined the police force at the Peter Hooker Aeroplane Works at Walthamstow, and was also a special constable. In March, 1922, he took up his residence in Swavesey, where his worth and usefulness were quickly recognised, and he was elected a member of the Church Council and a sidesman. He also did other useful work. At the funeral, which took place on Wednesday at Swavesey Parish Church, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated, and the immediate mourners were Mrs. Smith (widow), Mr. F. Smith (son), Mrs. Meads and Mrs. Tabor (daughters). The bearers were Messrs. H. Wells (churchwarden), E. J. Linford, jun., R. Mitham, jun., and W. Kester (sidesmen). The coffin was of polished elm with brass furniture. Mr. R. Mitham carried out the funeral arrangements.

SWAVESEY GARDEN FETE. 18th July 1924

Mrs. Adeane Opens Event for Church Repair Fund.

Mrs. Adeane, wife of the Lord Lieutenant, opened a garden fete held in the Vicarage grounds at Swavesey on Thursday afternoon in aid of the Church Repair Fund. The ground had been made very attractive by a number of tastefully decorated stalls, whilst there were many side-shows to hold people's attention.

At the opening ceremony the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Stebbing) presided, and was supported by Mrs. Adeane, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Cooksey, Mr. C. F. Banks and Mr. H. Wells (churchwardens), Mr. R. Barwell (treasurer) and Mr. W. H. Key.

The Vicar said there was no one present, he supposed, who had not worked hard in preparation for the sale to raise funds for the repair of their church. Their magnificent church, which was nearly 600 years of age, was so well built and roofed that it was only now needing extensive roof repairs. The roof had now got to be done entirely, and they all felt that it had got to be done in such a way as was worthy of the work that had been done before. It was not everybody even in this country that had such a treasure of architecture, and they showed their appreciation of this fact by restoring it in such a way that it was the old church still when they had repaired it, not a new departure.

The difficulty, went on the speaker, was in the size of the problem. Swavesey had, of course, done splendidly. The nave roof was completed the year before last at a cost of £800, but this was only less than a third of the whole job, because they had three roofs, each longer than the roof of any but exceptionally big churches. Their present business was the roof of the south aisle. This would cost some £1,350 as it is both longer and wider than the central roof which they had done. After that there loomed in the further distance the north aisle roof, which would cost £550. But this £1,350 was their immediate concern. In the last 18 months they had raised nearly £300. The immediate want, therefore, was £1,000, and he hoped that day they would see £100 of it.

Later on they would try to get what outside help they could from the diocese and county. And they might very reasonably help them with their big burden, because this church was one of the ornaments of the county. Travelling by train, it was a very common thing to hear the people in the carriage draw attention to the church, and say how fine and splendid it was. And therefore they felt it the more appropriate that they had been successful in getting the consent of Mrs. Adeane to come and declare the sale open. They felt that she did in a real way represent the county of Cambridge, and represent its sympathetic and practical interest in the church which belonged to them in particular, but to the county as well.

MRS. ADEANE.

Declaring the sale open, Mrs. Adeane said that it gave her great pleasure to be in Swavesey that day. She could look back upon pleasant memories of previous visits to the village, and she was glad to be there again, especially on such an occasion as that, which was to help to provide the funds to repair their beautiful 14th century church. It was wonderful to think that they had some of these old churches standing to-day, and it was remarkable what Swavesey people had done for their church in the short time of 18 months. She knew what it meant to have to work for these things, but she knew that they would be rewarded if they had a good sum that day. She hoped they would have a successful fete. (Applause.)

Mrs. Adeane was then presented with a beautiful bouquet by the Vicar's daughter, little Miss Jill Stebbing.

Mr. R. Barwell proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs. Adeane for kindly attending, and, whilst confessing that as treasurer he did not know from where the money had come, he urged the people to stick to their work and then they would not be long in getting all the money required.

During the day music was supplied by the Swavesey orchestra, whilst a one-act humorous play, "Uncle Ben" was given under the direction of Mr. R. Barwell. The latter took place in the War Memorial Hall owing to the wet. (There then follows a list of helpers, stalls, side-shows and competitions.)

OBITUARY. 25th July 1924

We have to record the death – the fourth in Swavesey in eight days – of Mrs. Sarah Jane Hephher, wife of Mr. George Hephher, and daughter of the late Mr. James Prime, which occurred on Monday after a long illness. Mrs. Hephher, who was 57 years of age, leaves two sons and a daughter, for whom, with their father, much sympathy is felt.

THE SCHOOL CLOCK. 25th July 1824

In the report of the Parish Council meeting in our last issue it was stated that Dr. Ellis had offered to have the public clock on the National School repaired at his expense. This was not strictly accurate, as the cost of repairs is to be borne by subscriptions collected in the village, Dr. Ellis being one of the contributors. The misunderstanding arose through the application for permission to have the work done being made in Dr. Ellis's name.

GARDEN FETE. 25th July 1924

Although rain seriously interfered with the garden fete, held on Thursday week, in the Vicarage grounds, a report of which appeared in our last issue, the Parish Church Repair Fund benefited by the effort to the extent of about £50. Before evening it was evident that to continue in the open air was out of the question, and it was decided to transfer the play, "Uncle Ben" and the dancing to the Memorial Hall, and to postpone the miniature balloon race. One admirable performance of the play was given at 7.30 p.m., the hall being filled with an audience who keenly appreciated the humorous effects of Mr. Barwell and his capital company. Dancing, for which the Swavesey Orchestra provided the music, followed the play, and was kept up with spirit until a late hour. (Winners of competitions in newspaper). The balloon race was brought off successfully on the Recreation Ground on Saturday evening, under the superintendence of Messrs. C. Wood and Barwell. So great was the demand for balloons that the supply ran short. The majority got well away, but a few came to grief when being inflated. As far as is known at present, the balloon which travelled furthest was that sent up by Miss Juliet Stebbing, which was found at Ipswich.

FUNERAL. 25th July 1924

A large congregation attended the Swavesey Parish Church on Monday for the funeral of Mr. Peter Day Ding, youngest son of the late Mr. Samuel Ding, who died on Friday after a painful illness of some months' duration, aged 62 years. The Vicar (Rev. C. F. Stebbing) officiated, and the choir, of which Mr. Ding had been a member, attended. The service was choral, the hymns "Abide with Me" and "Now the labourer's task is o'er" being sung in church, Mr. G. H. Skeeles presiding at the organ. A hymn at the graveside had to be omitted owing to the heavy rain that was falling. The mourners included: Mrs. Ding (widow), Messrs. Charles and Albert Ding (sons), Mrs. Chaddock and Mrs. Jeffs (daughters), Mrs. C. Ding (daughter-in-law), Mr. J. Jeffs (son-in-law), Mr. George Ding (Oakington), Mrs. Netherwood, Mrs. J. Papworth, Mrs. S. Daisley (brother and sisters), and Miss Daisley, Miss M. Prime, Mr. and Mrs. T. Carter, Mrs. H. Wells, Messrs. J. Daisley, J. Froment, P. Ding (nieces and nephews). Mr. P. Chaddock, who journeyed from London specially for the funeral, was taken ill at the last moment and was unable to accompany the mourners. The coffin of polished elm was covered with beautiful flowers from the family and friends. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham. The late Mr. Ding was a native of Swavesey, and was well known in the district as the possessor of a powerful bass voice. Of late years he had been employed as a roadman by the County Council. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters to mourn their loss.

DEATH OF MRS. T. W. CARTER. 25th July 1924

Swavesey has lost an old and most highly respected parishioner by the death on Sunday, after a long illness, of Mrs. Harriett Carter, widow of Mr. Thomas Watson Carter, and daughter of the late Mr. John Curtis, of Swavesey. A native of Swavesey, Mrs. Carter throughout her long life of 84 years was intimately connected with Bethel Baptist Chapel, of which her husband's grandfather was one of the founders and the donor of the site on which the present building stands. She was an ardent worker in the Baptist cause, and for many years was a Sunday School teacher and one of the mainstays of Bethel Chapel. She will be much missed. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, the first part of the service being held in Bethel Chapel, the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. B. G. Knight, of Peterborough (a former pastor). During the service the hymns "Hark, hark, my soul," and "Our rest is in heaven," were sung. The interment took place in Swavesey Cemetery, where the late Mr. Carter was laid to rest in 1909. The mourners included Miss Beldam and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goad (cousins) with many other friends from the village. The coffin was of oak with brass fittings, and upon it were no flowers, as none were sent, by special request. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

HELPING ADDENBROOKE'S. 1st Aug. 1924

This year's house-to-house collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital amounted to £18 14s. 9d., and is the largest contribution from Swavesey under the scheme of the County Organisation Fund. Mrs. Cooksey (District Vice-President of the Fund), Mrs. Aldred, Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. F. Hemington, Mrs. Walter Thorp and Miss Gaunt were the collectors.

BALLOON RACE. 1st Aug. 1924

News has been received of more of the miniature balloons which were despatched from Swavesey on July 19. As far as is known at present, the balloon that travelled the greatest distance was sent up by Mr. C. F. Banks, which was found in the river Krammer, at Nienwe Tonge, Holland. Mr. R. Banks' balloon found between Ipswich and the sea coming next.

Nominations for the casual vacancy on the St. Ives Board of Guardians and Swavesey Rural District Council, caused by the retirement of Mr. C. Wood, one of the representatives of the parish of Swavesey, must be handed in at the office of the Clerk to the Board and Council, St. Ives, not later than noon to-day (Friday). The polling, if any, will take place on Tuesday, August 12th.

FUNERAL. 1st Aug. 1924

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Jane Hepher, wife of Mr. George Hepher, whose death after a long illness was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Friday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners included Mr. G. Hepher (husband), Mr. G. Hepher, jun. (son), Misses Grace and Doris Hepher (daughters), Mrs. S. Kester (sister), Mrs. F.

Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. A. Prime, jun., Mr. C. Prime, Miss Mary Prime (nephews and nieces) and Mrs. A. Prime, sen., Mrs. D. Prime, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hephher (Lolworth), Mr. and Mrs. S. Hephher (Lolworth) and Mr. and Mrs. F. Hephher (Lolworth) (brothers and sisters-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm. Mr. Robinson Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker. The late Mrs. Hephher left one son and two daughters.

HOSPITAL COLLECTION. 8th Aug. 1924

Mrs. Dean's name was inadvertently omitted from the list of ladies who conducted the recent house-to-house collection for Addenbrooke's Hospital which was published last week.

DANCE. 8th Aug. 1924

The third of the series of dances which are being promoted during the summer by the Swavesey Orchestra took place on Saturday evening in the Memorial Hall instead of on the Vicarage lawn, owing to the wet conditions of the ground. There was a good attendance. The proceeds have been divided between the Parish Church Repair Fund and the orchestra.

DISTRICT COUNCIL. 8th Aug. 1924

Mr. Alfred Day sen., was the only candidate nominated for the vacancy on the Swavesey Rural District Council, caused by the retirement of Mr. C. Wood, and he has been declared duly elected. Mr. Day is not new to office, as he represented the parish of Swavesey on the District Council and St. Ives Board of Guardians from November, 1893, until March, 1922, a period of 28 years.

SCHOOL TREATS. 8th Aug. 1924

The children attending the Sunday Schools attached to the parish church and Bethel Baptist Chapel had their customary summer treats on Thursday week, and the weather being fortunately fine, both parties spent a happy time. The church children were entertained in the Vicarage grounds, and played games, etc., in an adjoining field, and the Bethel youngsters, after a sumptuous tea in the chapel schoolroom, enjoyed themselves in a meadow lent by Mr. J. Day, one of the deacons.

SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT? 8th Aug. 1924

A sparrow met with an untimely end on Thursday week in the ivy at the back of Dr. J. W. Ellis's house. Attracted by a continuous fluttering, Miss Ellis discovered the bird, which was hanging about a foot below a nest in the ivy with a thin strand of bass twisted round its neck. She called her father and his chauffeur, and the latter, mounting a ladder, and breaking the bass, one end of which was firmly woven into the nest, brought the bird, now at its last gasp, to the ground. By the doctor's instructions the bird was immediately put out of its misery. The bass was entwined round the sparrow's neck eight or nine times, but how this happened is a matter for conjecture, as also is the question whether it was a case of suicide or accident.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 8th Aug. 1924

At the annual meeting of the village football club, which was held in the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, it was decided that the name of the club should be altered to "The Swavesey Institute Football Club," that the annual subscription should be reduced to 2s. 6d., and that the first eleven should be entered for the Cambs. League (Div. III) and the Cambs. Minor Cup competitions, and the second eleven in the Histon and District League. Officers for the ensuing season were elected as follows: President, Rev. C. F. Stebbing; vice-presidents, Messrs. C. F. Banks, R. Barwell, A. Beaumont, W. A. Bignell, Blinkhorn, W. Crouch, A. J. Freestone, W. J. Hepher, H. P. Moller, J. Mustill, F. F. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, F. W. Pontefract, T. E. Tagg, E. Williams and R. Williamson; captain, 1st eleven, Mr. G. E. Canham; vice-captain, Mr. T. Savage; captain, 2nd eleven, to be appointed each week by the selection committee; hon. secretary, Mr. H. A. Holmes; assistant secretary, Mr. F. Aldred; general committee, Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Messrs. T. C. Heasman, F. Hepher, S. F. Mitham, A. Prime, jun., C. Savage and G. S. Winters; selection committee, Messrs. S. F. Mitham and H. Froment, with the captain, vice-captain and secretary; groundsman, Mr. H. Froment. The club will start the season with a balance of over £5 in hand.

SWAVESEY SHOW AND SPORTS. 8th Aug. 1924

Good Produce and Interesting Events at Annual Function.

The Swavesey and District Horticultural Society's annual show and sports, held on the Manor Field, Swavesey, by kind permission of Mr. A. Watts, yesterday (Thursday), met with its customary success. There was a large attendance and an attractive programme had been drawn up, including some particularly interesting sports, in which there was some exciting cycle racing. Notable cycling was done by A. Ginn.

Amongst the horticultural exhibits there were some good cooking apples, but dessert apples were poor. Soft fruit, owing to the season, was weak. By far the strongest were the vegetable classes, which included some good onions, carrots and runner beans. Mr. L. Peppercorn, of Lolworth, showed some model runner beans, and Mr. Haggard exhibited some very fine coloured kidney potatoes. Eggs were very good indeed.

The Cambridge Railway Silver Prize Band, under Mr. C. Steele, were in attendance and played attractive selections during the afternoon. They also supplied the music for the dancing which was enjoyed in the evening.

(Full list of officials and prize-winners in newspaper.)

CHOIR OUTING. 15th Aug. 1924

The younger members of the choir of the parish church, accompanied by the Vicar, paid a visit to the Wembley Exhibition yesterday (Thursday), travelling by an excursion train which left Swavesey station at 8.35 a.m. By the same train 40 passengers were booked from Swavesey to Wembley and 11 to Liverpool-street.

DANGERS OF HIGH-STREET. 15th Aug. 1924

Two little children met with accidents in the main street of the village during last week-end. On Sunday morning Walter Isgrove, aged 4½ years, son of Mr. W. D. Isgrove, baker and confectioner, High-street, ran out of the door of his fathers' house to cross the road, and was knocked down by Dr. Ellis' motor car which was passing by. On the following evening Mr. J. Kester's youngest child, when playing with other little children in the road near the school house, collided with a cyclist. The small child was knocked down, and the cyclist, a youth living at Boxworth, had a nasty spill. Fortunately, neither child sustained serious injuries, and the cyclist escaped with damaged clothing and a shaking.

OBITUARY. 15th Aug. 1924

We have to announce the death of Miss Alice Mitham, eldest daughter of Mr. Geo. Mitham, of Middle Watch, Swavesey, which occurred early on Tuesday morning at Addenbrooke's Hospital. Miss Mitham, who was 49 years of age, was a native of Swavesey, but for some years had resided at Luton, where she carried on the business of newsagent and tobacconist. Owing to failing health, she returned home about six weeks ago, and her condition becoming worse, she entered Addenbrooke's Hospital as an in-patient on Tuesday, 5th inst. A week later she passed away. The funeral will take place at Swavesey parish church this (Friday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents and their family.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 15th Aug. 1924

The second annual show and sports promoted by the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society, held on August 7th, a report of which appeared in our last issue, was an undoubted success. The attendance is estimated at over 1,500, the "gate" amounting to £55 11s. 6d., about £3 10s. more than in 1923. As the time allowed for the open-air dance was necessarily limited, and far too short for the enthusiasts who came from far and near, dancing was continued after 10 p.m. in the Memorial Hall, and was kept up until the small hours of Friday morning. The attendance was so large that the room was uncomfortably crowded, and dancing was, to put it mildly, a matter of difficulty. The music was supplied by the Swavesey Orchestra. Mr. Walter Dodson, of Plumstead, a native of Swavesey, who left the village fifty years ago, but still retains a keen interest in its welfare and its people, has presented a gammon of bacon to be given to the Swavesey exhibitor, who obtained most prizes in the cottagers' classes. The gammon has been awarded to Mr. W. Symonds, of Boxworth End, who has 26 prizes to his credit out of 34 exhibits, viz., 11 first, 11 seconds and 4 thirds. The horticultural prizes will be distributed at the National School this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock.

ADVERT. 22nd Aug. 1924

JAM JARS selling very cheap this season to make room. Any quantity at Prior's Stores.

A SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITOR. 22nd Aug. 1924

Mr. W. Symonds, of Swavesey, to whom the gammon of bacon presented by Mr. W. Dodson was awarded as the winner of most prizes at the horticultural show on the 7th inst., discovered on taking his prizes last Friday evening that he had one more success to his credit than he thought, viz., 27 instead of 26 (11 firsts, 12 seconds, 4 thirds).

UNPROFITABLE FRUIT GROWING. 22nd Aug. 1924

A Swavesey resident has not found Lammas pears a profitable investment this year. He sent eight half-sieves of pears to market, where they made 8s. From this amount 5s. 4d. was deducted for railway charges, 8d. for market dues, and 8d. for commission, leaving 1s. 4d. for the grower. Owing to illness, the grower had to employ a man to gather the fruit at a cost of 5s., and therefore found himself out of pocket to the tune of 3s. 8d.

OBITUARY. 22nd Aug. 1924

The news of the death of Mr. William Stocker, which occurred shortly after midday on Tuesday, was received with universal regret. He had been in indifferent health for some time, but was not taken seriously ill until Sunday night. On Monday morning he was unconscious, in which state he continued to the end. Mr. Stocker, who was 54 years of age and unmarried, was the only surviving son of the late Mr. Harry Stocker, a member of an old Swavesey family. The funeral will take place at Swavesey Cemetery this (Friday) afternoon.

LABOUR MEETING. 22nd Aug. 1924

Called by the National Union of Agricultural Labourers, a meeting was held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening. Mr. H. Hovell, branch secretary, presided, and Mr. J. Johnson, J.P., of Ipswich, district organiser, gave an address on the future working of the County Wage Committee, which will assemble for the first time in September. It was decided to revive the Swavesey district branch of the union, and about thirty members were enrolled. The meetings of the branch will, it is understood, be held at the Memorial Hall, the first meeting taking place next Friday, at 7.30 p.m.

THE LATE MISS A. MITHAM. 22nd Aug. 1924

The funeral of Miss Alice Mitham, eldest daughter of Mr. George Mitham, whose death on August 12th at Addenbrooke's Hospital was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Friday afternoon. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated. The immediate mourners were Mr. George Mitham (father), Mr. H. Mitham and Mr. E. Mitham (brothers), Mrs. W. Thorpe (Notting Hill), Miss A. Abrams, Mrs. A. Webb and Miss F. Abrams (sisters), Mr. W. Thorpe and Mr. A. Webb (brothers-in-law), Miss A. Mitham, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Nicholson (aunts), Misses L. and May Mitham (cousins). The coffin was of polished elm, with brass furniture.

SANDY SHOW. 29th Aug. 1924

Record Entries and Many Visitors at 51st Exhibition.

Local Prizewinners:

Mr. A. J. Freestone, of Swavesey, took two fourths in the bread class.

BULL PLAYS HAVOC. 29th Aug. 1924

Breaking through a hedge from an adjoining field, a bull on Thursday week played havoc with the movable fence surrounding the cricket pitch on the Recreation Ground. Charging the fence, the animal tossed the rails and posts high in the air, breaking or splitting many of them. Three or four children, who were playing on the ground, were fortunately able to get out of harm's way. But there might have been a very different tale to tell if the school had not been closed for the harvest holidays.

DANCE. 29th Aug. 1924

A successful carnival dance, organised by Mrs. Thompson and friends, in aid of the Swavesey Cricket Club, was held in the Memorial Hall on Thursday week. The company, which numbered about 120, many of whom came from surrounding villages, spent an enjoyable evening, and the music, supplied by the Cambridge Syncopated Four Jazz Band, was greatly appreciated. Mr. Reg. Godfrey was an efficient and indefatigable M.C. The financial result was gratifying, as the organisers were able to hand over to the cricket club the sum of £2, when all the expenses had been paid.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 29th Aug. 1924

A meeting of the Parochial Church Council was held at the Vicarage on Tuesday week. The proposed visit of the Diocesan Pilgrims was discussed, and it was hoped that they would visit Swavesey towards the end of the month. As the amount of the Church Repair Fund now in hand is over £150, it was decided to invest that sum in National War Bonds. Some valuable old oak has been acquired, through Mr. Bowden, the architect, for the future repair of the roof. The Vicar drew the attention of the Council to the custom that has grown of stonemasons inscribing their own names on tombstones, and a unanimous resolution was passed that in future this should not be allowed in Swavesey churchyard.

THE LATE MR. W. STOCKER. 29th Aug. 1924

The funeral of Mr. William Stocker, whose death at the age of 54 years was reported last week, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Friday afternoon in the presence of a considerable assemblage of sympathising friends. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, pastor of Bethel Baptist Chapel, officiated. The mourners included: Mrs and Mr. Whitehead (only sister and brother-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams, and Mr. C. Adams, Over (uncles and aunt) and Miss H. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Norman (cousins). The coffin was of polished elm and upon it were many floral tributes. Mr. R. Mitham was the undertaker. At the evening service at Bethel Chapel on Sunday the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, taking his text from the 84th Psalm, verse 10, made sympathetic reference to Mr. Stocker, whose sterling worth was well known, and appreciated by, all at Bethel. He had been most regular in his attendance at the services, especially at the week-night meetings; he had acted as sidesman and had rendered numberless other services to the chapel – in short, he had always been ready to do anything, no matter how small, he was asked to do. Mr. Stocker's favourite hymns were sung, viz., "Lead, kindly light," "Rock of ages," "Jerusalem, my happy home," "Safe in the arms of Jesus," and "Abide with me."

AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS' UNION. 5th Sept. 1924

The first meeting of the recently revived Swavesey district branch of the National Union of Agricultural Labourers was held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, Mr. H. Hovell, secretary, presiding. There was a good attendance.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 5th Sept. 1924

Including a balance of £38 0s. 9d. at the bank brought forward from last year, the income of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society for 1924 from subscriptions and various receipts in connection with the annual show and sports on August 7th amounts to £164 0s. 3d., and the expenditure to £124 19s. 5d., leaving a balance in hand of £39 0s. 10d.

THE TURNER CUP. 5th Sept. 1924

The Swavesey Cricket Club 1st eleven, by defeating Huntingdon, at Huntingdon, on Saturday, made their position at the top of the Turner (Hunts.) Cricket League absolutely certain. They have played all their matches, and have only lost three, viz., those against Fenstanton at home, and Bluntisham and Hemingford away, while all the other clubs, whether they have completed their engagements, or have still games to play, have lost four or more. The Swavesey Club will, therefore, have the honour of holding the Turner Cup for one year.

A SPILL. 5th Sept. 1924

A curious collision, resulting in a spill, happened at Boxworth-end on Monday afternoon, between Mr. W. Crouch riding a hand-propelled tricycle, and Mr. A. E. Daintree on an ordinary push bicycle. The two men were riding side by side towards the village, Mr. Daintree being slightly in front. On approaching his home, Mr. Crouch apparently drew towards the left-hand side of the road, and in doing so his tricycle caught in the back wheel and mudguard of the bicycle. Feeling something was amiss, Mr. Daintree jumped off his machine, and as he did so Mr. Crouch fell over with the tricycle on the top of him. The machine was quickly lifted away, and Mr. Crouch, who is crippled, was set on his feet. He had not been seriously hurt, but his shoulder was cut and bruised and he had a severe shaking. His tricycle, however, was damaged, one wheel being badly buckled. The back wheel of the bicycle was also slightly buckled, and one spoke was torn out.

ACCIDENTS. 5th Sept. 1924

While assisting in getting an elevator through a gateway of the property in Market-street, which was the scene of the fire in January last, Mr. John Hodson, on Tuesday afternoon, was caught between the machine and a gate-post. Fortunately the post was an old one, and, not being supported by a wall or fence, gave way, otherwise the consequences to Mr. Hodson, who is approaching 80 years of age, would have been far more serious than they were. As it was, he escaped with nasty cuts on his head and hand, the latter requiring stitching by Dr. J. W. Ellis, who, with the district nurse, was called in. Mr. Hodson is going on well. – On Wednesday morning Mr. George Brooks, Black Horse-lane, had one of his toes badly crushed when driving the engine of a steam plough at Somersham. He was standing on the engine with his foot projecting over the edge of the foot-plate, and his great toe, which had already been injured twice previously, was crushed by a grip attached to one of the wheels. He was conveyed by his employer in a motor car to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he received attention, but was allowed to return home. Yesterday (Thursday) morning, it was ascertained that the injured man had passed an uncomfortable night, and was in considerable pain.

THE REV. A. W. WELLS. 5th Sept. 1924

The Rev. Anderson W. Wells, son of the late Mr. James Wells, of Swavesey, who for some time was vicar of Goldthorpe, Yorks, but has recently been appointed vicar of Whitworth, near Rochdale, has received a hearty welcome from the people of his new parish. He made his first appearance at a public function on August 23rd, when he performed the opening ceremony at the annual flower and vegetable show, and on the following Wednesday a notable reception meeting was held. There was a very large attendance, and both Mr. Wells and his wife, who also hails from Swavesey, were given the most cordial of receptions. One of the churchwardens in his speech, referred to previous vicars, specially mentioning the Rev. Isaac Gaitskell, who held the living from 1825 until his death in 1877, at the age of 80. The son of a Cumberland yeoman and graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge, Mr. Gaitskell was a man of great energy and resource, and was noted for his zeal for the Church. The present church at Whitworth was built during his incumbency and the money was raised entirely by his personal efforts. He was blessed with a ready wit, for it is recorded that when he approached John Bright, whose birthplace was near Rochdale, to ask for a subscription for the fund for building the new church, he met with a refusal, whereupon he promptly asked for aid in pulling down the old church, and got his subscription.

A MISSIONARY'S EXPERIENCES. 5th Sept. 1924

Swavesey Man's Life in Equatorial Africa.

Interesting letters have been received from Mr. Christopher Day, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, of Swavesey, who is engaged in mission work in Angola, Portuguese Equatorial Africa. "It is a bit queer," he writes, "being all alone here, with no one but black folk to talk to, and having no news from the outside world for so long, but I don't mind it now that I can talk their language, enough at least to be understood. It is funny the things one has to do for them. If a child is born they always come for a name, and it must be a swank foreign name which they can hardly pronounce, or it doesn't suit. One fellow wanted me to cut his toe nails, not because he was too lazy to do it himself, but because he had no knife or scissors. Another man wanted an old watch put right. On coming out of school yesterday a party met me with a "word," as they call it, i.e., a grievance that needed settling. This particular case was a debt of such long standing that the old man, who was the debtor, pleaded 'it was of the ages past even before my whiskers began to grow,' and a big, strong man chimed in, "Yes, when I was a little boy." Then out came a long rigmarole as to the old man having paid and paid again so many baskets of corn and cassava root and so many yards of cloth, and how his ox and his sheep had been taken, and now to-day his "child," i.e., his slave, had been tied up and beaten and another demand made by the creditor for the debt. The 'child' was brought as proof, and the fellow, a big, strapping, full-grown man, certainly showed proof of having a rough time.

"They are for everlasting running around after old-standing debts; in fact, nine out of every ten spend half their time in this way, and they think nothing of going weeks on a journey to collect a debt of a few pence. I am frequently called out at night to cases of illness, and once, at midnight, on opening my door, I found a poor fellow, who during the evening had been gored by a cow while breaking it in for ploughing. He had come a five hours' journey on foot through thick forest to get his wounds dressed. I am sorry to say my precious pig which I was so studiously fattening has been carted off by a leopard, so once more I am left with neither fat for cooking or meat to eat. I was hoping to kill the thing in a week or so, as I have had no meat for two months except a shank of a small antelope about a month ago. I badly need the fat, as I haven't a speck in the house for frying or anything. The boys set a trap for the leopard, putting in a live goat, but the beast was so furious at being caught that it smashed part of the trap to pieces, killed the goat, which was partitioned off, and escaped. My gardening is going on fine, in spite of hosts of insect enemies. I have some lovely lettuces, and my tomato plants are coming along by leaps and bounds. Brussels sprouts and cabbages, too, are also doing well, and I have two nice rows of Irish potatoes."

In another letter, Mr. Day says he had managed to get some lard at last, and had a teaspoonful of baking powder left, but would have to wait for the fruit to come in season again before attempting to make pastry, as only oranges were available and they were hardly suitable. He continues: "There are a few Cape gooseberries, or okasussua, about, but I am unable to get any sugar. I have been without it for a month or so. It is wonderful what one learns to do without in this country, first meat, then fat, then milk, then sugar, but in the Lord's goodness I am kept in perfect health. I love the heat, and in fact the thought of your cold, dark, sunless weather makes me shudder. For the last two months we've hardly seen a cloud in the sky, just glorious sunshine from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., and we know we needn't worry about any rain coming for another three and a half months.

"I am hoping to see a bit more of the country during the next few weeks. Dr. ----, at Capango, has asked me to accompany him on a three weeks' trip to explore the country beyond the Quanza River. I expect I shall have to walk, but he will probably have his bush car. We should reach the Quanza on the second day from here, and after that have nearly a week's going through practically uninhabited country.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 12th Sept. 1924

Thanksgiving services for the harvest were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, the special preacher being Mr. Curtis, of Southill, Beds. Both services were well attended, and good collections were taken in aid of the cause. A public tea, also well attended, was provided at 5 p.m.

CRICKET FINALE. 12th Sept. 1924

The Swavesey Cricket Club first eleven, who, as already announced, have achieved the proud position of being at the head of the Turner (Hunts.) Cricket League, will on Thursday next receive medals and challenge cup at the hands of its donor, Mr. H. S. Turner, of St. Ives. On that day a match, commencing at 11 a.m., will be played on the Recreation Ground between the Champions and the Rest of the League, the latter team, it is understood, being captained by Mr. Turner. Lunch will be provided in the Memorial Hall at 1.30 p.m. and tea at 4.30, and at 7.30 a concert in aid of the Swavesey Cricket Club Funds will be given in the Hall by Mr. Turner, who will be assisted by friends.

THE SCHOOL. 12th Sept. 1924

During the vacation the interior of the building has been thoroughly cleaned, all the rooms have been re-painted and the walls distempered. The work has been done by Mr. Mitham, Swavesey. The clock outside the school is being repaired, the expense being borne by subscribers in the village, and it is hoped will very shortly be in going order once again.

LOCAL CRICKET. 19th Sept. 1924

SWAVESEY v. REST OF THE TURNER LEAGUE.

A cricket match of considerable local interest, which was watched by a crowd of cricket enthusiasts, was played on Swavesey Recreation Ground yesterday (Thursday), when Swavesey, this year's champions of the Turner (Hunts.) Cricket League, entertained a team representing the rest of the League, captained by the popular Mr. H. S. Turner, of St. Ives, the donor of the cup which brought the League into existence.

Swavesey won the toss and elected to bat first, on a good wicket. A disastrous start, however, was made, two wickets falling for five runs. The following wickets also fell rapidly, only Johnson and Hepher showing any liking for the bowling. Goodliffe, for the visitors, took seven wickets for 13 runs, and the innings closed for 44. The Rest began well in their innings, 32 going up for the first wicket. Afterwards Goodliffe indulged in some hard hitting, and Harrup also batted well. The total score was 134. There was a large attendance at the match. An excellent luncheon and tea was provided in the Memorial Hall, under the superintendence of Mrs. Wood, Miss D. Banks, Mrs. C. S. Hepher and other ladies.

In the evening a concert was given in the Memorial Hall by Mr. H. S. Turner and friends, and during an interval the cup and medals were presented to the Swavesey team by the donor.

DISAPPOINTED. 19th Sept. 1924

A Swavesey cottager, the winner of the special prize for gaining most successes at the local show in August, had a sad disappointment on Tuesday when he could not find the splendid specimens of kidney potatoes he had selected for exhibition at this week's Fruit and Vegetable Show in the Corn Exchange, Cambridge. On making inquiry, he ascertained that they had been cooked by mistake for his Sunday dinner, and he then remembered that he had remarked on the exceptional excellence of the potatoes he was eating.

In spite of the drizzling rain, an open-air meeting, under the auspices of the Cambs. Barwell, chairman of the polling district association, presided. Mr. W. W. He was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he received attention, but was not detained.

MR. TURNER'S CONCERT. 26th Sept. 1924

After the cricket match on Thursday week, between Swavesey, the champions, and the Rest of the Turner (Hunts.) League, a report of which appeared in our last issue, a concert was given in the Memorial Hall by Mr. H. S. Turner, of St. Ives. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the audience was most enthusiastic, as is always the case when Mr. Turner is announced to appear at any function in the village. In addition to Mr. Turner, the programme was contributed to by Mrs. C. S. Hepher, Miss E. Dodson, Mr. Barwell, and Mr. H. Topham, whose songs were much appreciated, loudly applauded, and often encored. Mr. E. Williams was a capable accompanist. But it was Mr. Turner who was the great attraction. His items included the ancient ditty "Under the circumstances," in which the names of various Swavesey people were introduced. This was undoubtedly the hit of the evening, for it "touched home," and encore verses were demanded again and again. Mr. Turner also gave two amusing sketches, one entitled "His First Case," while in the other he told of his experiences when in charge of an employment bureau, and he sang "The Bassoon," a song that evoked roars of laughter. The presentation of the cup took place during the interval, and in handing the trophy to Mr. C. Wood, the captain of the Swavesey XI., Mr. Turner made a short and humorous speech about the League, the cup, and other things. Mr. Wood suitably responded. The medals could not be presented as they had not arrived, but Mr. Turner shook hands with every member of the team, and he announced that he had enjoyed the entertainment so much that he would pay another visit to Swavesey before long – a statement that was received with prolonged applause.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th Sept. 1924

A meeting of the Parish Council called specially "to sign and seal the lease of the Memorial Hall from the Parish Council to the Trustees" was held at the Hall on Friday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., C. H. Parish, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. R. Mitham). At the outset the Chairman announced that the trustees of the Hall, who had met that evening, had declined to sign the lease as drafted, as they objected to certain words in the deed, which in their opinion threw responsibility on their heirs, assigns, etc. The councillors, after due consideration, also objected to the wording of the document for the same reason, and a resolution authorising the chairman, who is also hon. secretary of the Memorial Hall Fund and a trustee, to interview Messrs. Day and Son, solicitors, St. Ives, in the matter, was carried unanimously. The Chairman further announced that three of the trustees, who had either left or were shortly leaving the village, had resigned, and that it was the duty of the Council to appoint fresh trustees in their places. On the proposition of Mr. Burton, seconded by Mr. Parish, certain parishioners were nominated to fill the vacancies, subject to their consenting to serve. Mr. Norman called attention to the condition of the roadway leading to Mow Fen Gate House. The matter had, he said, been discussed by the District Council, of which he is a member, and he had been desired to obtain the opinion of the Parish Council regarding the steps that should be taken to render the road usable by pedestrians in times of ordinary flood. After discussion it was resolved that the Council should suggest that a bank should be erected for a short distance on one side of the road, and that the roadway should be repaired with gravel. It was agreed that it was not practicable to make the road passable in the event of a high flood. The question of the resignation of the Clerk, which had been before the Council at previous meetings, was again brought forward. Mr. Cole proposed, and Mr. Linford seconded, that Mr. Mitham should remain clerk until the end of the year, whereupon Mr. Burton moved as an amendment that Mr. Mitham's resignation should be accepted forthwith. Mr. Twist seconded, and on being put to the vote four of the seven councillors present voted for the amendment, which was therefore declared carried. At the request of the Clerk, the Council subsequently agreed that the resignation should not take effect until the Government audit had been held.

It is hoped that as many as possible will enrol, and so make the classes a success.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 3rd Oct. 1924

A good congregation attended the harvest thanksgiving service at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday evening in last week. The building had been effectively decorated with flowers, fruit, etc. The service was conducted by the Rev. R. Smith, of Histon, who also preached an appropriate and helpful sermon, was bright and hearty, and the singing by the choir was excellent, the anthem "Praise the Lord, O my soul" (Roland Smart), being particularly well rendered. Mr. J. W. Williams presided at the organ. A good collection was taken in aid of the church funds. Before the service, a largely attended tea was held in the schoolroom attached to the chapel, the arrangements for which were admirably carried out by Mrs. W. Savage, Mrs. A. J. Norman, Mrs. A. J. Willson, Miss P. Williams, and Miss C. Goad. The gifts of flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc., and a large loaf of bread have been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT. 3rd Oct. 1924

Mr. W. J. Nicholls, a motor mechanic, residing at Boxworth End, Swavesey, met with a serious accident on Monday evening when motor cycling along the Huntingdon-road, near the New Inn. Dazzled, it is believed, by the bright head lights of a motor car, he came into collision with two cyclists, and crashing on to the hard road, sustained very serious injury to his head. He was conveyed to his home by the driver of the car, and Dr. Rose, of Willingham, and the district nurse, who were summoned, were quickly in attendance. He was removed later to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where he remains in a serious condition, his skull having been fractured. Both machines the two cyclists were riding were damaged and one of the riders, Mr. Stanley Geo. Coe, an engine driver, residing at 104, Hemingford-road, Cambridge, received cuts and bruises to both hands. He also was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, but after receiving attention was allowed to leave. The other cyclist, a Mr. Jim Cornell, escaped injury.

PASTOR'S FAREWELL. 3rd Oct. 1924

Bethel Baptist Chapel was crowded on Sunday evening, when the Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, who had been pastor since January, 1916, officiated for the last time prior to his leaving for his new pastorate at Blisworth, Northants. Mr. Ussher did not mention his departure in his sermon, but made a slight reference to it in announcing the succeeding hymn, "Abide with me." When the hymn had been sung Mr. A. Norman, the senior deacon, entered the pulpit, and in a few well-chosen words, on behalf of the church and the village generally, presented Mr. Ussher with a wallet bearing his initials in gold letters and containing notes of the value of £30, together with a book in which the names of the subscribers were inscribed. Mr. Ussher, in expressing the thanks of his wife as well as of himself for the gift, said they keenly appreciated the kindly thoughts that had prompted it. Referring briefly to Bethel Chapel, he remarked that while desiring not to single out any branch of activity for special mention, he felt he might say that he had reason to be particularly grateful to the choir who had contributed so largely to the brightness of the services. He was not going far away, he added, and he hoped therefore before long to meet his Swavesey friends again. Mr. Ussher then pronounced the Benediction, and the service closed with the singing of "God be with you till we meet again." Mr. and Mrs. Ussher leave Swavesey to the general regret of the village. That they are appreciated by the people is shown by the testimonial having been subscribed by all classes and all denominations.

HOCKEY. 10th Oct. 1924

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey eleven played their first match of the season on Thursday week, when they entertained the Cam first team. Early in the game the visitors scored, but after that Swavesey bucked up and played a much faster game, but failed to score up to half-time. In the second half E. Heasman captured one goal and S. Daintree another, the latter five minutes before the end, and the match resulted in a win for the homesters by two goals to one. A word of praise is due to the Swavesey half-backs, whose play throughout was fast and strong.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 10th Oct. 1924

The parish church was effectively decorated by ladies of the congregation with corn, flowers, fruit, etc., for the harvest festival, which opened on Sunday. The services were at the usual hours, and at evensong, when there was a large attendance, the choir gave an excellent rendering of Elgar's anthem, "Fear not, O Land," and a striking sermon was preached by the Rev. P. Gardner-Smith, Dean of Jesus College, Cambridge. The festival was continued yesterday (Thursday), the preacher at evensong being the Bishop of Ely. On the occasion of his preaching the harvest sermon at the parish church on Thursday week, the Bishop, accompanied by his chaplain, the Rev. V. H. E. Ritson, arrived early so as to have the opportunity of meeting some of the church officers and workers. The members of the Church Council, the Sunday School teachers and others were invited to the Vicarage, and while partaking of a cup of tea were able to have a personal word with their Bishop, who was glad of this chance of making their acquaintance. In his sermon his Lordship referred to the extensive work that had been done to the roof of the nave, and spoke a word of encouragement for the completion of the work, which requires some £1,900 for the remaining two roofs. He also commended to the congregation the Pilgrims who will be visiting the parish from the 21st to the 24th of this month. The collections on the previous Sunday (Evensong excepted), and on the Thursday amounted to £7 3s., and with the offerings of fruit and vegetables were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. On the Sunday afternoon there was the usual children's flower service, the gifts of flowers and fruit being subsequently sent to St. Ives infirmary.

HOCKEY. 17th Oct. 1924

CAM v. SWAVESEY LADIES.

Cam 3, Swavesey 1.

The Swavesey Ladies' Hockey Club were entertained by the Cam first eleven at Cambridge on Thursday last. Swavesey won the toss. A fairly even struggle ensued, but the Cam gained the lead after 20 minutes' play. Swavesey, after this reverse, played up, and tried hard to get on equal terms, but the Cam had a very strong defence. Before half-time, the Cam scored again, leaving the score 2 – 0 in their favour.

After the change of ends, in their eagerness, both sets of forwards were prone to get offside. Cam forced several corners, but failed to score, and Swavesey, too, had several opportunities but were hesitant in front of goal. The Cam forwards were especially vigorous in attack, and scored another goal. At this stage Swavesey began to show better hockey and certainly greater determination, and Miss K. Banks scored the only goal for Swavesey.

An accident, fortunately not attended by serious consequences, occurred in Market-street last Friday afternoon, when Mr. Joseph Froment, cycling out of High-street, came into collision with a pony attached to a buggy driven by Mr. James Norman, of Over, who turned into the street from Church End. Mr. Froment was thrown to the ground and the pony fell on the top of him. He was able to keep the animal under control by holding on to its ear until Messrs. P. Godfrey, R. Hephew and P. Spring, who witnessed the accident, ran up and released him from his precarious position. Mr. Froment escaped with a shaking and bruised on his legs and head. The pony was not injured.

HOCKEY. 24th Oct. 1924

The Swavesey ladies' hockey team were entertained by the Fenstanton ladies at Fenstanton on Saturday. Winning the toss, the Swavesey forwards swept down the field in a lovely movement, which had the defence completely beaten, and Miss V. Williamson shot the first goal for Swavesey. The game was very open, and the fast moving Swavesey forwards made some dangerous raids on the Fenstanton defences, but failed to score again in the first half. The second half was opened with Swavesey pressing very hard, and the Fenstanton goalkeeper was called on to save several good shots. The game began to get very rough, fouls being frequent, when a sweeping movement was made by the visitors two minutes before the final whistle, which took the forwards clean through, and Miss K. Banks scored another goal for Swavesey. The game ended in a win for the visitors by 2 – 0.

WEDDING. 24th Oct. 1924

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dress of white silk georgette and a bridal veil with orange blossom and white heather, and she carried a sheaf of white chrysanthemums and ferns. She was attended by four bridesmaids, her sisters, Misses Vera, Florrie and Edie Symonds, and Miss Ivy Prior. The first-named and Miss Prior were attired in saxe blue satin stella, with head bandeaux of silver leaves, and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. Misses F. and E. Symonds wore shell pink dresses and carried baskets of white chrysanthemums and fern. Mr. Jack Symonds, brother of the bride, was best man. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a tea service from the bride's fellow workers at Messrs. Chivers' factory.

POLITICAL MEETING. 24th Oct. 1924

At Swavesey the meeting in the Memorial Hall was presided over by Mr. R. Barwell. There was a "full house." Speeches were delivered by Sir Geoffrey Butler and the Rev. Swan Mason.

Captain Briscoe spoke in the same strain as at Elsworth. When he referred to nationalisation of the land and State farming, a member of the audience told him not to tell stories, but that co-operation was the current expression. (Laughter)

Capt. Briscoe said that to the best of his belief that it was nationalisation of the land and State farming that the Socialists stood for. At the close of his address he thanked the audience for giving him a fair hearing and trusted his supporters would be fair to his opponent. (Applause.)

A questioner asked the candidate if he believed the machinery that was set up on behalf of the railway men by the Conservative Government had worked well? Did he believe that machinery to adjust hours and wages worked well to-day?

Capt. Briscoe: I believe it was a very good endeavour to try and make it right. Why did you vote against the same thing that was asked on behalf of the agricultural labourer? – It is not the same thing.

Questioned as to the Agricultural Wages Boards, Capt. Briscoe re-iterated that the Conservatives did everything they could to give full powers to their local Boards and that he believed they were acting in the best interests of the industry. He explained that if the County Board could not come to a decision in two months they could apply to the Central Board, but that Board could not reverse decisions.

We have not got a Central Board? – Yes you have.

No! No! – Oh, but I am sorry, you have. (Laughter.)

You are a strong advocate of tariff reform, I take it?

Capt. Briscoe at first replied that he had already dealt with that but, pressed for a reply, he said, “At the moment, no.” (Laughter.)

On the proposition of Mr. Ellis a vote of thanks was accorded the speakers and the candidate.

The meeting closed with “three cheers” for the candidate, mingled with boos and cat-calls.

HOCKEY. 31st Oct. 1924

WILLINGHAM LADIES v. SWAVESEY LADIES.

Swavesey 3, Willingham 2.

The Swavesey ladies' hockey team were entertained by the Willingham ladies on Saturday. Willingham won the toss, and for some time did most of the pressing, but the visitors' defence was sound. Eventually Willingham attacked, and after a general bombardment scored the first goal. The visiting custodian was having a fairly busy time, although the play was very even, when Miss N. Parish shot the first goal for Swavesey. At half-time the scores were equal.

On change of ends the Swavesey forwards became a little more lively, but several likely attacks broke down through misunderstanding. When the half was ten minutes old Miss N. Parish scored the second goal for Swavesey. Willingham roused up after this reverse, but the Swavesey defence was on top every time. The play had been in progress 20 minutes before Swavesey was put to the test, and there was some excitement near the Swavesey goal, and Miss J. Kirby scored with a good shot. The Willingham goalkeeper made a most marvellous save, and Willingham scored once more before the final whistle.

ADVERTS. 7th Nov. 1924

DEATH OF MR. JAMES NORMAN. 14th Nov. 1924

Funeral at Over.

The sad news reached Swavesey on Saturday that Mr. James Norman, who had been taken ill a fortnight previously while staying at The Manor, his residence in Swavesey, had passed away that morning at Carshalton, Surrey. Mr. Norman, who would have attained the age of three score years and ten had he survived until Monday, was the eldest son of the late Mr. Robert Norman, of Over, in which village he was born. His working life was mainly spent at Carshalton and Sutton, Surrey, where during the past forty years he carried on with great success the business of draper, outfitter, etc. Some years ago he bought the old Manor, Swavesey, for a country residence, and during his occupancy the house and grounds have been greatly improved. Little is known in this district of what Mr. Norman has done apart from his business, but the fact that he was one of the five gentlemen who founded the Carshalton Cottage Hospital, which has recently been rebuilt as a war memorial, may be accepted as proof that his interest in the welfare of the community was keen and active. His generous gifts to the Swavesey War Memorial Hall will not soon be forgotten.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Over Cemetery, and notwithstanding the heavy rain, was attended by many old and sympathetic friends from Over and Swavesey. The Rev. H. P. Ellis, of St. Ives, officiated, and the mourners included: Mrs. Norman (widow), Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Norman (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. F. F. Norman (son), Mr. and Mrs. George Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Norman, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norman (brothers and sisters-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Bowtell (Buckden), Mrs.

His wife died about 20 years ago. He had been in failing health for some time, but was confined to his bed for only three weeks. The whole of his working life was spent in his native village. For many years he rendered faithful service to the late Mr. John Crisp, farmer and butcher, whose sons, Mr. Tom Crisp and Mr. Leyton Crisp, have been

LECTURE. 21st Nov. 1924

There was a good attendance at the Institute on Friday evening to hear a lecture on "Insect Pests and Fungoid Diseases of Fruit Trees" (Part I), by Mr. A. T. Paskett, County Horticultural Adviser. The lecturer dwelt on the great importance of proper time of spraying, what chemicals to use, and how to apply, and also dealt with the various pests. The lantern was kindly provided by Mr. W. A. He also spoke of the assistance rendered by the Society to ex-Service men and their dependents while waiting for pensions, and dealt at some length with the new scheme for Voluntary Aid Detachments, expressing the earnest hope that detachments would again be formed in all places where they had been in existence. In replying to a vote of thanks proposed by Mrs. Cooksey, a Vice-President and Commandant, the County Controller said he was greatly pleased and encouraged by the enthusiasm shown at the meeting. About half-a-dozen recruits have already notified their intention to qualify for admission to the Swavesey district detachment, and as a number of old members are rejoining there is no doubt a detachment will be formed.

Three matters of considerable importance were dealt with at a special meeting of the Parish Council, held at the Memorial Hall on the 20th inst., viz., taking over the management of the Hall by the Council, the appointment of a new assistant overseer and clerk of the Council, and the question of granting a gratuity to the late rate collector. The councillors present were: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, C. Parish and W. Twist, with the retiring clerk, Mr. R. Mitham. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman announced that as they had been advised that the clause in the lease of the Memorial Hall to the committee of the Hall, to which both the Council and the committee objected, could not be altered, the committee had resigned en bloc. After prolonged discussion the Council decided to take over the control of the Hall, in accordance with the original scheme, and to appoint a committee of management. The following were selected to serve on the committee: Messrs. Wood, W. Burton, C. Parish and Twist (Parish Councillors), and Messrs. P. Godfrey, T. C. Heasman, F. W. Pontefract and G. Winters. In July last the Parish Council gave permission for the public clock on the National School, which has been out of order for a considerable time, to be repaired, the cost being borne by private subscribers in the village. Villagers, and it is understood subscribers also, are asking what is the reason for the delay.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT. 5th Dec. 1924

The pupils of Miss Allen, of Willingham, gave a most enjoyable concert in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening. The production reflected great credit both on the children who took part and on the teacher who has had the training of them. It was disappointing to both pupils and teachers that the audience was not larger, but those who did attend were very appreciative, and it is hoped Miss Allen will at a future time give a Swavesey audience a further proof of her pupils' efficiency.

She wore a veil and orange blossom, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. In attendance were five bridesmaids, Miss E. Clowes in pale pink satin, with silver ribbon and feather mount; Misses Irene Holmes and Grace Whybrow (sister and cousin of the bride respectively), in pale pink crepe de chine, with silver streamers and rosebuds, and Misses Iris and Edna Clowes (nieces of the bride), in pale blue crepe de chine, with silver streamers and forget-me-nots. Their efforts were much appreciated by the villagers, and the collection in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, which realised £8 6s. 9d., was larger than at Christmas, 1923. Messrs. J. Day and A. J. Willson were the collectors.

At evensong at 3 p.m. the choir gave a good rendering of the anthem "Behold, I bring you good tidings" (Goss), and carols were sung. The collections throughout the day were, as usual, in aid of the Church of England Waifs' and Strays' Society, and realised £4 5s., an amount over the average of late years. On Sunday evening, in place of the sermon, carols were sung.

MASKED DANCE. 2nd Jan. 1925

About 120 people attended the highly successful masked dance, which was held at the Memorial Hall on New Year's Eve for the benefit of St. Dunstan's. An admirable selection of music was provided by Hensher's band, and dancing was kept up with great spirit until 1 a.m., a break being made at midnight, when the company sang “Auld Lang Syne.” Prizes for lucky numbers were won by Mrs. C. S. Hepher (umbrella), and Mr. A. J. Willson (hair brushes in case), Mr. C. S. Hepher securing the lucky black cat prize (tin of fancy biscuits). Excellent refreshments, the gift of ladies of the village, were supplied during the evening. The piano was kindly lent by Mr. G. H. DEATH OF MRS. SLATER. 2nd Jan. 1925

Many of our readers in the Swavesey district will regret to learn that Mrs. Dorothy Sarah Slater, late licensee of the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, died on Sunday, after a long and very painful illness, aged sixty years. Mrs. Slater was a daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Puttifer, of Chatham, and widow of Mr. Alfred Slater, who after serving for 21 years in the Royal Army Service Corps, was landlord of the White Horse Inn for 18 years, until his death on January 1st, 1924. The licence was transferred to Mrs. Slater, but after a few months she was compelled by illness to relinquish it. She continued, however, to reside in the house, and there she passed away at 1.30 p.m. on Sunday. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, at Swavesey Parish Church. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated, and the mourners were Mr. J. Senter, Mr. H. H. Moyne, Mrs. Wagstaffe, Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Mr. F. Dale and Mr. H. Lee. The coffin was of polished elm.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a gift of blankets from the bride's fellow workers at Girton College.

A YEAR'S RECORD. 9th Jan. 1925

It may be of interest to some of our readers to know that from the 4th January, 1924, to the 2nd January, 1925, the deaths of thirty persons resident in, or at some time connected with Swavesey were reported in the columns of the "Independent Press." Fifteen of the deaths occurred in Swavesey, two at Addenbrooke's Hospital, one at St. Ives Infirmary, and twelve in other parts of the country. The first death to be recorded was that of Mr. Alfred Slater, of the White Horse Inn, who died on 1st January, 1924, and the last that of his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Slater, who passed away on the 28th ult., and was laid to rest by the side of her husband in the churchyard on New Year's Eve. Fifteen of the funerals took place at Swavesey parish church, and eight at the cemetery. Seven of the deceased persons were between 80 and 90 years of age (the oldest was 89), six were between 70 and 80, ten between 60 and 70, four between 50 and 60, two between 40 and 50, and only one was young, viz., 19. The ages total 2,004 years, an average of 66.8 years.

Mr. Leigh, of Fenstanton, who gave an address, also sang a solo. Excellent refreshments, kindly given by friends, were greatly enjoyed.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST CHAPEL. 16th Jan. 1925

The annual New Year's services and tea were held at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday. Mr. Curtis, of Southill, Beds., preached in the afternoon and evening, and the congregations were especially good considering the unfavourable weather. About 50 persons attended the tea between the services, the following ladies presiding over the tables: Mrs. Jabez Parish, Mrs. Frost, Miss E. Day, and Mrs. A. Day. To the regret of all present, Mrs. William Parish, who for many years had regularly presided over a tray, was unable to be present owing to serious illness. The collections throughout the day were excellent.

MEMORIAL HALL. 16th Jan. 1925

At a meeting of the War Memorial Hall Committee, held on Tuesday evening, the accounts for the year 1924, which had been duly audited, were presented and approved. They showed that the total income, including the sum of £25 3s. 8½d., brought forward from 1923, and a loan of £550 from the Public Works Loan Board, amounted to £706 6s. 3d., and the expenditure to £647 6s. 11d., leaving a balance in hand of £58 9s. 4d., out of which the first instalment of £39 10s. 6d. in repayment of the loan had been forwarded to the Public Works Loan Board, viz., £27 principal and £12 10s. 6d. interest. The resignation of Mr. C. Wood of the offices of secretary and treasurer was accepted; he also resigned his membership of the committee, Mr. P. Godfrey being appointed secretary, and Mr. W. Burton treasurer in his place, Mr. T. C. Heasman also resigned from the committee.

MISSIONARY TEA. 16th Jan. 1925

That hardy annual, the missionary, or as it is now called, Epiphany, tea was held at the National School on Friday evening, when about 80 parishioners sat down at the very attractive looking tables, provided by Mrs. Stebbing, Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. Twist, Mrs. Barwell, Miss Paine, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Cain, Mrs. H. Wells, Mrs. W. J. Hephher and Mrs. Banks. In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Stebbing and Mrs. Hephher, their tables were superintended by Miss Banks, Mrs. S. Hephher and Miss Garner. After tea a lecture was given by the Rev. H. J. Cossar, of the British and Foreign Bible Society, on "Strange Languages and Romantic Happenings," in which he gave a very interesting account of the doings and adventures of missionaries in many lands. This tea may well be described as a hardy annual, for, except in 1918 and 1919, it has been held every January since 1872, when at the suggestion of Mr. W. H. Key, it was established by the then vicar of Swavesey, the late Canon Henry Isaac Sharp. Until last year it was always known as "The Missionary Tea," and it seems a pity to alter its name. Mr. Key and Mr. John Hodson are the sole survivors of those who took an active part in the management of the first gathering. The former was present last Friday evening, but the latter could not attend. A lecture dealing with missionary work at home or abroad has always been given except on two occasions in the early days, when a lecturer could not be obtained. Canon Sharp one year gave an address on bells, and another year on the history, cultivation, and uses of tea.

LECTURE ON HORTICULTURE. 16th Jan. 1925

A large number of fruit growers in Swavesey and district met at the Institute on Friday to hear a lecture by Mr. A. T. Paskett, County Horticultural Adviser, on the cultivation of soft fruits. The lecturer dealt fully with the cultivation of raspberries, gooseberries, strawberries and currants, going fully into the details of the different varieties of raspberries, etc., showing how some varieties cropped heavily in one district while a failure in another. He caused some surprise by stating that many growers lost at least half a ton per acre of the raspberry crop by digging too much and cutting too little. Raspberries, he said, required mulching and not digging between, as in digging between the canes many of the best fruiting roots were broken allowing drought to set in later in the ripening stage, and filling the land full of young suckers where the roots had been broken. Many raspberry plantations were too much crowded. Speaking of strawberries, Mr. Paskett mentioned that Royal Sovereign strawberries grew extremely well in the Swavesey district, while in the greater part of the county they were more or less a failure. Many varieties of gooseberries were dealt with, showing the best for the green market, and also for dessert, and the pruning of the bushes and the steps to be taken to prevent attacks of the American gooseberry mildew were also explained. The lecturer also stated that where land was suitable the black currant was the best paying crop of all soft fruits. On no account should land be dug close to the roots of the black currant, which is a gross feeder, and should be heavily mulched, and the soil always turned towards the roots if ploughing is done between the rows. The blackcurrant mite and reversion were also spoken of. Many questions were asked during the evening and answered. A lecture will be given at the Institute this (Friday) evening by Mr. R. Sayce, County Agricultural Organiser, on "Insect Pests on the Farm."²

CHURCH MEETINGS. 16th Jan. 1925

The annual parochial church meeting was held at the National School on Monday evening, under the presidency of the vicar, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been confirmed, the Vicar spoke in terms of warm appreciation of the services rendered by the church officers and workers during the past year, and referred to the loss the Church Council had sustained by the death of Mr. John Smith. The churchwardens' accounts, which disclosed a deficit of £16 1s. 8d., were presented by Mr. C. F. Banks, who explained that the deficit was partly due to the collections in the church having been less than in 1923. The Church Repair Fund accounts submitted by Mr. R. Barwell showed that £146 2s. 2d. had been raised during the twelve months, mainly by the garden fete in the summer, socials, etc., and that the balance to the credit of the fund at the bank was £189 4s. 1d., with £190 in National War Bonds. The accounts of the Duplex Envelope system, the Sick and Needy Fund, the Missionary Fund, and the Thrift Club were also presented. All accounts were passed, and the budget of £130 for the ensuing year (the same as for 1924) was approved. During the discussion on the accounts it was pointed out that the Duplex Envelope system was a business-like way of raising money for the church by small weekly contributions, and the hope was expressed that it would be taken up by more parishioners. Last year's sidesmen were re-appointed, and the following were elected members of the Church Council: Messrs. R. Barwell and R. Mitham, sen. (representatives at the Ruri-decanal Conference), Mrs. Banks, Miss Beaumont, Mrs. Cooksey, Mr. S. F. Mitham, Mr. G. J. Paine and Mrs. John Smith. After the meeting the Church Council met and re-elected Mr. Barwell vice-chairman, Mr. Banks (churchwarden) treasurer, and Mrs. Banks secretary of the Council, and co-opted Mr. W. H. Key a member. It was also decided that the Duplex Fund contributions which had not been earmarked should be allocated as follows: Contributions for church at home to the church expenses account, thus considerably reducing the deficit; church abroad equally divided between the S.P.G. and the S.P.C.K.

THE INSTITUTE. 23rd Jan. 1925

Mrs. Leah Manning gave the first of a series of lectures on drama at the Institute on Tuesday evening. The lectures are under the auspices of the County Education Committee.

INSECT PESTS. 23rd Jan. 1925

Mr. R. Sayce, County Agricultural Organiser, gave a lecture in the Institute on Friday on "Insect and fungoid pests on the farm." There was a small but appreciative audience. The life histories of several of the pests, including the frit and oxwarble flies, were explained and discussed, as also was the latest method of dressing wheat against smut. Mr. A. T. Paskett will lecture this (Friday) evening on "Insect pests on apples and pears."

CONSERVATIVE SOCIAL. 23rd Jan. 1925

There was a large attendance at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening for the social arranged by the Swavesey Polling District Conservative Association to celebrate the victory of Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.C., M.P., at the General Election. The Member had intimated his attention to be present, but early in the proceedings Mr. C. Wood (Hon. Sec.) announced that a message had just been received stating that Capt. Briscoe was unable to attend, as he was confined to bed with a chill. An enjoyable entertainment was provided under the management of Mr. R. Barwell (Chairman of the Association), who acted as M.C. throughout the evening. The first part of the programme was carried out by local artistes, Mrs. C. S. Hephher, Mr. H. Topham and Mr. John Wilderspin contributing songs, and Miss M. V. Ellis, M. Parsons and Q. Spolton and Mr. E. Williams presiding in turns at the piano for dancing. Mr. W. W. Light's Concert Party were responsible for the latter part of the entertainment, dances and games being interspersed between their items. Excellent refreshments were supplied during the evening. Misses E. Dodson and D. Banks, Mesdames E. J. Mitham, F. Hemington, W. Thorp, and J. Pettit being in charge of this department. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the artistes, on the proposition of Alderman Dr. J. W. Ellis.

PARISH COUNCIL. 23rd Jan. 1925

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Mr. A. Norman (vice-chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, C. H. Parish, S. Prime, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey). Arising out of the minutes, there was considerable discussion respecting the present position of the Council, financially and otherwise, and the following resolutions were carried unanimously: (1) That the Parish Council safe be fetched from the late Clerk's residence and be handed over to the present clerk; (2) that three councillors take an inventory of the safe before it is removed; (3) that the late clerk should at once hand over all books, etc., and other property belonging to the Council, but should have access to any books he may require in connection with the Government audit; and (4) that the late clerk should be requested to render a full statement of the amounts owing to him by the Council. The chairman, vice-chairman and Mr. Cole were appointed to take the inventory mentioned in resolution (2). Mr. Burton proposed that Messrs. R. Barwell and A. J. Willson should fill the vacancies on the Memorial Hall Committee caused by the resignation of Messrs. Wood and Heasman. Mr. A. Norman seconded, and the proposition was carried. It was subsequently agreed that Mr. Perry Burton should be an extra member of the committee. The following parishioners were nominated as persons qualified to serve as parish constables during the ensuing year: Messrs. C. J. Shepperson (the present constable), M. C. Culpin, B. Hodson and J. J. Marriott. Before the meeting closed the following resolution, proposed by the Chairman, and seconded by Mr. Twist, was carried: "That when the Memorial Hall is hired, the same shall be in a fit and proper condition for use."

PAYNE'S CHARITY. 30th Jan. 1925

The churchwardens have this week distributed Payne's Charity, a number of widows and widowers receiving 3s. each in lieu of tea, sugar, etc., which used to be given away. The distribution is made every year on or about the 29th January, the anniversary of the late Mr. Thomas Payne's birthday.

RED CROSS SOCIETY. 30th Jan. 1925

The first of a course of six lectures in First Aid, under the auspices of the British Red Cross Society, was given on Friday, in the National School, by Dr. Connan, of St. Ives. Fourteen persons were present, but more ladies will be welcome at future lectures, as it is desired to re-establish the Voluntary Aid Detachment, which did such good work during the war. The remaining lectures will be given this (Friday) evening, and on the four following Fridays.

BILLIARDS. 30th Jan. 1925

A billiard tournament between teams representing Swavesey Institute and Fen Drayton, was played on Friday evening, the homesters winning five games to the visitors' one.

THE MEMORIAL HALL. 30th Jan. 1925

A subscriber to the Memorial Hall writes: - I was greatly surprised on Wednesday to find that a large board displaying a poster had been nailed to the low oak fence at the front of the Memorial Hall. The nails must damage the fence, and the poster is not a pleasing ornament for the outside of the Hall. May I ask if the board was erected with the permission of the Parish Council, who now, I understand have supreme control over the Hall? The board until recently "adorned" a telegraph post, but had to be removed, so I am told, by order of the Post Office authorities.

LECTURE ON HORTICULTURE. 30th Jan. 1925

A lecture on the pruning of apple and pear trees was given by Mr. A. T. Paskett at the Institute on Friday evening to a good audience of fruit growers. The lecturer spoke first of the different systems of pruning required for various varieties of apples. With plum trees the knife, he said, was used far too little in the young trees, and the saw had been used too much in the large trees, the latter giving full scope for silver leaf disease to enter. Mr. Paskett stated that he had taken over the fruit plantation of Mr. W. F. Gleaves, and intended to use that as a demonstration plot for pruning and spraying, etc., of trees. Mr. Gleaves had asked him to say how much he appreciated the help. All growers in Swavesey and district could go at any time on the plot and see what is being done. Pruning demonstration will, it is hoped, be given next Wednesday. Mr. R. Sayce will lecture this (Friday) evening on "Production of clean milk."

THE ROSE OF SHARON. 30th Jan. 1925

An admirable performance of "The Rose of Sharon," a new Epiphany play by Mr. Fred I. Cowles, secretary of the Cambridge I.D.K. Club, was given in the Memorial Hall on the evening of Thursday, 22nd inst., by members of the dramatic section of the club. The play, it may be mentioned, was first produced at the Houghton Hall, Cambridge, on December 31 and January 1, and a subsequent performance was given at St. Luke's School, Chesterton, but last week's was its first presentation to a village audience. The story opens in a slum garret where a boy lies desperately ill. He sleeps and dreams, and in his dream is visited by the three Eastern Kings, Melchior, Casper and Balthazar, with whom he journeys to find The Child. After visiting the palace of Herod, they are seen on the road to Bethlehem, and outside an inn at Bethlehem, and at length find the stable and The Child. In the epilogue an anxious priest and doctor are watching the sleeping boy, who awakes, and the doctor, sorely puzzled, announces that the boy will recover. The whole performance was most excellent, and was marked by the great reverence of all who took part. The music was appropriate, that for the songs in scenes 1 and 3 having been specially composed by Mr. A. M. Hoppett. (Cast list in newspaper). There was no attempt at scenery, the stage merely being hung with curtains of dark hue, but the dresses of the various characters were most effective. A drop curtain would, however, have been welcome, for the shifting of "properties" and the arranging of groups, etc., in view of the audience tended to spoil the illusion. In Cambridge the play attracted large audiences, but at Swavesey, unfortunately, the attendance was not what it ought to have been, possibly because people did not realise what was meant by an Epiphany play. Those, however, who were there spent a profitable and enjoyable evening, and thoroughly appreciated Mr. Cowles' play, and the clever company who gave such an admirable presentation of it. There was one other matter for regret, namely the noise proceeding from that part of the building used as an Institute, which in addition to being an annoyance, at times prevented a portion of the audience from hearing what was being said on the stage.

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT. 6th Feb. 1925

By the death on Friday last of Mrs. Susan Dodson, widow of Mr. Berry Dodson, Swavesey has lost another old inhabitant. The daughter of the late Mr. William Johnson, she was born in the village 83 years ago. Her mother, whose maiden name was Savage, belonged to an old Swavesey family noted for the longevity of its members, one of whom lived until she was within three or four months of completing her 100th year. Mrs. Dodson, who had been a widow since February, 1914, leaves three sons, three daughters, 27 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Parish Church, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners included Mr. and Mrs. John Dodson (son and daughter-in-law), Mrs. J. Rogers (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armitt (daughter and son-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Berry Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dodson, Miss Elsie Armitt and Master Bertram Armitt (grandchildren). Numerous old friends and neighbours were also present. The coffin was of polished elm, and upon it were beautiful wreaths from members of the family and sympathising friends. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

PARISH COUNCIL. 6th Feb. 1925

A special meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. Burton, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., C. H. Parish and W. Twist, with the clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey). Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Chairman reported that the safe belonging to the Council had been removed from the residence of the late clerk to that of the present clerk; that an inventory had been made of its contents; and that Mr. R. Mitham (late clerk) had furnished a statement of petty cash receipts and payments, which showed that £27 5s. 9d. was due to him from the Council. In course of a subsequent discussion it transpired that the Employers' Liability Policy in respect of men employed with the fire engine had apparently been allowed to lapse, and the clerk was instructed to make enquiries in the matter, and on the proposition of Mr. Norman, seconded by Mr. Linford, it was resolved that Mr. Mitham should be requested to furnish a statement of the accounts of the recreation ground for the years 1923 and 1924. A communication was read from Mr. T. C. Heasman, who recently resigned his membership of the Memorial Hall Committee. Mr. Heasman enclosed a letter from the committee, in which he was thanked for his services in connection with the Hall, and stated that he could not accept it unless it was accompanied by an apology from a member of the committee. The communication was referred to the Hall Committee. The new County Rate Basis, which showed a net increase on buildings, etc., in the parish of £409 and on land of £4 was discussed, but the Council decided that no action should be taken. Mr. Linford called attention to the number of Councillors on the Hall Committee. There ought, he thought, to be four, whereas at present there were only three. It was stated that four was the proper number, and Mr. Linford was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Linford asked who gave permission for a large board bearing a poster advertising a cinema entertainment to be nailed on the fence in front of the hall. The Clerk having explained the circumstances in which, he believed, the board had been put up, and the Chairman having spoken of the damage to the fence, it was decided that the Hall Committee should be instructed to have the board removed, and the damage made good by the proprietor of the cinema.

The annual distribution of prizes for regular attendance at the parish church Sunday School, took place at the children's service on Sunday afternoon.

PARISH COUNCIL. 13th Feb. 1925

At the meeting of the Parish Council on the 3rd inst it was stated, as reported last week, that the Employers' Liability Policy in respect of men employed with the fire engine had apparently been allowed to lapse. The Clerk of the council has since made further enquiry, and has ascertained that the premium due in August last was paid in due course.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 13th Feb. 1925

A mission, conducted by Miss Reynolds, of Woodhurst, was held at the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Sunday, February 1st, and during the following week. A Faith tea being given on February 9th. BETHEL CHAPEL. 13th Feb. 1925

The annual meeting of the members of the church and congregation of Bethel Baptist Chapel was held on Thursday week, under the presidency of Mr. Arthur Norman, senior deacon and treasurer. The year's accounts, which showed a balance in hand, were presented, and satisfactory reports were submitted with reference to the various activities connected with the chapel. Short addresses were also given by Mr. Breens, of Longstanton, and others. A tea preceded the meeting.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE. 13th Feb. 1925

The organisers of the dance in the Memorial Hall on Thursday week may be congratulated on its success as "the dance of the season," and on the profit of £6 9s. which was realised for the Memorial Hall Fund. The hall was tastefully decorated with evergreens and flags, kindly lent by Messrs. Robert Sayle, Ltd., Cambridge, and about 80 dancers spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The Y.M.C.A. Jazz Band provided an excellent programme. Several handsome prizes were offered for competition. The prizewinners were: Fox trot, Miss Aves and Mr. J. Freestone (case of knives and cigarettes, presented by Mr. H. Topham); lucky numbers, Miss Banks (leather handbag, presented by Mr. F. S. Salter) and Mr. C. Wood (diamond and ruby brooch, presented by Mr. F. Cresswell). The refreshments, given by various ladies in the village, were excellent.

CRICKET CLUB. 13th Feb. 1925

The annual meeting of the Cricket Club was held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, Mr. R. Barwell presiding over a good attendance of members. After last season's accounts, which disclosed a satisfactory balance in hand, had been passed, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.C., M.P.; vice-presidents re-elected, with the addition of Mr. H. P. Moller and Mr. Walter Dodson (subject to their consent); captain 1st XI, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. F. Hephher; captain 2nd XI, Mr. T. Froment; vice-captain, Mr. S. Clark; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. Godfrey; assist. secretary, Mr. F. Aldred; committee, Messrs. S. F. Mitham, D. Williams, A. Hephher, R. Seekings, H. Wright, C. Savage, H. J. Culpin and T. Savage; umpires, Messrs. J. Culpin and A. P. Payne; groundsman, Mr. H. D. Froment. It was decided to enter the 1st XI for the Furner (Hunts.) League and the Cambs. Junior Cup, and the 2nd eleven for the Milton and District League and Cup.

THE GALE. 13th Feb. 1925

Considerable havoc was caused in Swavesey by the gale on Monday night. A chimney stack at Brooklands, Market-street, with a wireless aerial attached, was blown on to the roof, and at the "Old House" (the Swavesey Poultry Farm) a tall cowl collapsed with some of the brickwork of the chimney, damaging rafters in their fall. Fowl houses there and in other parts of the village were overturned or unroofed; sheds and outbuildings also suffered. Some trees came down, while others were bereft of branches, big and small. A large arm of an elm near the schoolhouse was torn from the trunk, and fell on outbuildings, smashing the tiles and crashing into a lattice screen of considerable dimensions near by. Another massive piece from the same tree narrowly escaped the house. Stacks and thatched roofs of houses and buildings suffered seriously. On Tuesday morning the streets and roads were strewn with branches of trees, fragments of slates and tiles, and thatch litter. A villager, after surveying the mischief, remarked to a friend, "Well, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. This will keep the bricklayer in work for a year."

MEMORIAL HALL. 20th Feb. 1925

Another of the series of whist drives arranged for the benefit of the Memorial Hall was held on Thursday week. The prizewinners were: Ladies, Mrs. H. G. Key, Mrs. Smart, Miss Pook; gentlemen, Mr. S. Clark, Mr. A. Holmes, Mr. P. Burton. The duties of M.C. were undertaken by Mr. P. Burton.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 20th Feb. 1925

A sacred concert in aid of the piano fund was given in Bethel Baptist Chapel on the 12th inst. by the choir, who were assisted by Mrs. H. Asplin, of Over, and Miss Ray, of Cambridge. Mr. Leigh, of Fenstanton, occupied the chair. There was a fairly good attendance.

CAN THIS BE TRUE? 20th Feb. 1925

A correspondent writes: While I was travelling on the L.N.E.R., near Swavesey Station, on Monday, I overheard two of my fellow passengers discussing the water-logged state of the land adjoining the line. One passenger enquired whether land was let by the gallon at Swavesey, and the other replied that the fields in Swavesey had to serve for the drains. I wondered if the gentleman who asked the question was an "uplander."

HOCKEY CLUB. 20th Feb. 1925

A successful whist drive and dance, arranged by the Swavesey District Hockey Club, was held in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening. For whist 16 tables were in play and the prizewinners were: Ladies, Miss Q. Spolton, Miss R. Parish, booby, Miss Pook; gentlemen, Mr. Cyril Hemington, Mr. H. Careless, booby, Mr. Hones. Mr. T. C. Heasman acted as M.C. Miss Parsons, Miss Netta Mustill and Mr. E. Williams presided in turns at the piano for dancing. Excellent refreshments were produced, and from first to last a very pleasant evening was spent.

WEDDING. 20th Feb. 1925

Hepher – Nunn.

The marriage took place at the parish church of St. Andrew, Swavesey, on Tuesday afternoon, of Mr. George William Hepher, only son of Mr. George Hepher, Swavesey, and Miss Florence Ruby Nunn, elder daughter of Mr. Walter L. Nunn, Manuden, Essex. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated. The bride, given away by her father, was attired in golden brown crepe de chine, with hat to match, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by three bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Ellen Nunn, in silver grey silk, and Misses G. and D. Hepher (sisters of the bridegroom) in grey silk marocain. All wore black hats and carried bouquets of daffodils. Mr. Arthur J. Hepher was best man. After the ceremony a reception, which was largely attended, was held in the Memorial Hall. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a clock from Mr. and Mrs. R. Norman and family, Trinity College Farm, by whom the bridegroom has been employed for the last twelve years.

BILLIARDS. 27th Feb. 1925

The billiards match between teams representing Swavesey Institute and the County Hall, Cambridge, which was played at the Institute on February 19, resulted in a win for the visitors by four games to two.

HOCKEY CLUB. 27th Feb. 1925

Visiting the Town Club at Cambridge, on February 19, the Swavesey and District Ladies Hockey eleven were beaten by five goals to one. The game was well played by both teams, and Swavesey should have scored more goals, but their forwards were not fast enough, and, therefore, missed several good shots. Miss N. Parish, who scored the Swavesey goal, has now to her credit 20 of the 35 goals scored this season by Swavesey. The whist drive and dance for the benefit of the club, which was held in the Memorial Hall on Feb 18, resulted in a net profit of £5 8s. 3d.

OCTOGENARIANS. 27th Feb. 1925

Mr. George Trundley, Askew-row, an employee of the Rural District Council, celebrated his 80th birthday on February 14th, and seven days later his wife attained the same age. Their wedding took place at Easter, 1871, and, therefore, in a few weeks they will have been married for 54 years. Both are in good health. Mr. Trundley is a native of Swavesey, and his wife of a neighbouring parish. His father, George Trundley, lived to a great age, and was the last man in the village who wore a smock frock. Including Mr. and Mrs. Trundley, there are at the present time 20 persons 80 years of age or upwards residing in Swavesey, viz., 7 men and 13 women, and three or four more are in their 80th year.

MEMORIAL HALL POSTERS. 27th Feb. 1925

A subscriber to the Memorial Hall Fund writes: In the "Independent Press," of January 30, you kindly published a letter from me calling attention to a large board displaying a poster of a cinema entertainment, which had been nailed to the low oak fence at the front of the War Memorial Hall, and I pointed out that not only had the nails damaged the fence, but that the poster was not a pleasing ornament for the outside of the Hall. In a report of a meeting of the Parish Council, which appeared in the "Independent Press" the following week, I read that the question of the erection of the board had been discussed, and that the Council had decided to instruct the Hall Committee to have the board removed and the damage made good by the proprietor of the Cinema. The Hall Committee, I understand, met shortly after the council meeting and doubtless discussed the matter, but not only has the board not been removed but fresh flaming posters have been displayed on it every week since. If the present Parish Councillors are powerless, or will not take the trouble to see that their instructions are carried out, an opportunity will be afforded of replacing them by others when the new Parish Council is elected next month.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 27th Feb. 1925

Although illness in the district, bad weather, bad roads and counter-attractions elsewhere may to some extent have been responsible for the comparatively small audience at the annual concert of the Swavesey and Fen Drayton Choral Society, which took place at the Memorial Hall on Shrove Tuesday, it is to be feared that the efforts of the society do not appeal to the general public, who prefer music of a lighter and more frivolous character. This want of support is much to be regretted, as the Choral Society ought to be regarded as a valuable village asset. The chief item in the programme was J. B. Van Bree's bright and tuneful cantata, "St. Cecilia's Day," and in their rendering of it the society showed a marked improvement on their performance a year ago. The recitatives and arias were admirably sung by Mrs. C. S. Hephher (Swavesey) and Miss Vera Furniss (Fen Drayton), and the choruses were excellent, and showed that no pains had been spared in the training of the choir. Mr. J. Williams conducted with ability. In Miss Alice Wilderspin, who presided at the piano, the society has the good fortune to possess an efficient and reliable accompanist. The second part of the programme included the part song, "If I had but two little wings," (Hubert Parry); banjo solos by Mr. E. Williams; the quartette, "An evening's pastorage" (Wilfred Shaw), by Messrs. F. Aldred, J. Clarke, S. F. Mitham and B. Prime, who gave "The Song of the Jolly Roger" (Candish) as an encore; song, "Garden of happiness," by Mrs. C. S. Hephher; song, "Maid of Malabar," by Mr. J. E. Young; and the glee, "The Fisherman's Goodnight" (Sir Henry Bishop). Misses Wilderspin and Furniss and Mr. J. Williams shared the duties of accompanist. The various items in the programme were announced by the Vicar of Swavesey (Rev. C. F. Stebbing), who presided.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 6th March 1925

After a long period of failing health, Mrs. Harriett Mitham, wife of Mr. George Mitham, Middle Watch, Swavesey, passed away on Wednesday, aged 83 years.

FLOODED LAND. 6th March 1925

Practically the whole of the low lying land around Swavesey is flooded, and the farmers are experiencing much inconvenience through work being interfered with and grazing land being under water.

A COMPLAINT. 6th March 1925

Owing, it is believed, to a gate in the fence of the Memorial Hall being out of order, cattle driven along High-street on Monday effected an entry into adjoining gardens, doing damage and causing annoyance by trampling on freshly dug and planted land. As these undesirable excursions by animals have happened on previous occasions through the same cause, the occupiers of gardens in the vicinity of the Hall are anxious that steps should be taken to prevent the recurrence.

THE LAST SMOCK FROCK. 6th March 1925

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: Some of the older inhabitants having suggested that the last wearer of a smock frock in Swavesey was the late Mr. John Cain, and not the late Mr. George Trundley, as stated in the paragraph headed "Octogenarians" in last week's "Independent Press," I have made further inquiries and have ascertained that Mr. Trundley, whose death, at the age of 77 years, occurred on 26th July, 1883, outlived Mr. Cain by two or three months. Mr. Cain attained the age of 86 years. He was a well-known poulterer, who for over fifty years on four days in every week attended with unfailing regularity the markets at Cambridge (Wednesdays and Saturdays), St. Neots, and St. Ives. He invariably wore, on Sundays as well as on week days an elaborately worked smock frock, a shiny tall silk hat, white cord breeches and speckled worsted stockings. His Sunday smock and hat were not those he wore on week days. He was never known to wear a great coat, nor when riding in his cart to wrap himself up with a rug, no matter how inclement the weather might be. Mr. Trundley's wife was a famous maker of smock frocks, and it is on record that in one year she made no less than fifty-two.

ELECTION OF PARISH COUNCILLORS. 13th March 1925

A parish meeting for the election of Parish Councillors will be held at the Memorial Hall at 7 p.m. on Monday next, March 16th. The meeting will also be the annual assembly of the parish meeting.

The last lecture of the series arranged by the Cambridgeshire Education Committee during the winter months was given on Friday, at the Memorial Hall, by Mr. A. T. Paskett, County Horticultural Adviser, the subject being "Soils and manures." The lectures through the winter have been well attended, especially that on the Friday previous, when the grafting of apple and pear trees was dealt with.

CARNIVAL DANCE. 13th March 1925

About 120 people attended the carnival dance, held on March 5th, in the Memorial Hall, which had been effectively decorated for the occasion with flags, balloons, etc. Prizes for spot dancing were won by Miss V. Williamson and Mr. Aves, Mr. P. Watts carried out the duties of M.C., and Cornell's Dance Orchestra supplied a programme of the latest music. After expenses had been paid, £5 was handed over for the benefit of the Memorial Hall Fund.

BILLIARDS. 13th March 1925

The second billiards match between teams representing the County Hall and Swavesey Institute, which was played at the Institute on Thursday week, resulted in a win for the homesters by 4 games to 2.

WEDDING. 13th March 1925

Owing to illness in the families of both the bride and bridegroom, the marriage of Mr. Charles Henry Parish, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. William Parish, and Miss Ada May Prime, daughter of Mr. Alfred Prime and the late Mrs. Prime, took place very quietly at Crown Yard Chapel, St. Ives, on Wednesday. Mr. J. T. Wiles officiated, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Prime. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for Gorleston, where the honeymoon is being spent.

THE LATE MRS. G. MITHAM. 13th March 1925

The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Mitham, wife of Mr. George Mitham, Middle Watch, Swavesey, and daughter of the late Mr. John Robins, of Riseley, Bedfordshire, whose death, at the age of 83 years, on the 4th inst. was announced last week, took place at Swavesey parish church on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners were: Mr. George Mitham (husband), Messrs. Harry and Ernest Mitham (sons), Miss Abrams and Miss F. Abrams (daughters), Mr. and Mrs. A. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thorpe (daughters and sons-in-law), Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nicholson, Mrs. W. Mitham and Miss A. Mitham (sisters-in-law and brother-in-law). The coffin was of polished elm, with black furniture. Mrs. Mitham was a native of Riseley, but had resided in Swavesey for about 60 years.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 13th March 1925

The annual general meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society was held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, Mr. C. W. Hines presiding over an excellent attendance of members. The accounts for 1924, which showed a balance in hand of £40 3s. 10d., were passed, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. G. Sweetland; vice-presidents, re-elected, with the exception of Mr. Walter Thorpe (Swavesey), who retired, and, subject to their consent, with the addition of Messrs. H. R. Lovell, F. F. Norman (Swavesey), F. W. Bird, F. Stanton (Lolworth), H. P. Moller (Fen Drayton), P. Elliott and Edwards (Over); chairman of meetings, Mr. C. W. Hines; chairman of committees, Mr. Peachey; joint treasurers, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hephner; secretary, Mr. C. Wood, School House, Swavesey; general committee, re-elected, except Mr. Walter Thorpe, who retired, with the addition of Messrs. A. Brasher, P. Burton, J. Culpin, G. Doggett, W. D. Lucas, W. Thorpe (Over) and H. Wells; sports committee re-elected with the addition of Messrs. F. W. Bird, A. Ginn, C. Hemington and S. Warrington. The other business included the revision of certain of the rules, and a decision to limit the cottagers' classes to the occupiers of not more than one acre. It was further agreed that the annual show and sports should be held in August next. The proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks to the sports committee and to the Chairman.

PARISH COUNCIL. 13th March 1925

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. W. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, C. H. Parish, and W. Twist, with the Clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey). Arising out of the minutes, the Clerk reported that the statement of the Recreation Ground Accounts for the years 1923 and 1924, which the late clerk had been asked to supply, had not come to hand. The Council, therefore, instructed the Clerk to write to his predecessor, requesting him to hand the statement to the Chairman by Wednesday, March ? The Clerk also announced that he had received an intimation that the County Rate Basis, which had been discussed at the previous meeting, had since been revised, and that the rateable value of the parish had been reduced from £7,892 to £7, 871. He further stated that the board displaying a large poster, had been removed on the previous day from the fence at the front of the Memorial Hall, and had been re-erected on waste land on the southern side. A letter was read from the Over Parish Council asking the Swavesey Council to co-operate with the Over and Fen Drayton Councils in a representation to the L. and N.E. Railway Company with a view to the provision of a weighbridge at Swavesey station, and on the proposition of Mr. A. Norman, seconded by Mr. Parish, it was unanimously agreed that the request should be complied with, and that a meeting of representatives of the three Councils should be held at Swavesey. A precept having been issued on the Overseers, the Clerk suggested that a committee should be appointed to examine the Council's accounts. The suggestion was approved, and the Chairman, Messrs. Burton and Twist, were chosen to serve.

RURAL DISTRICT COUNCIL NOMINATIONS. 20th March 1925

The following nominations have been received: - Swavesey (2), Alfred Day and Robert Norman, no contest; Fen Drayton (1 member), Frederick Johnson and Henry Baldwick (old member).

On Saturday the team had their colours lowered at Huntingdon, when, after a very good game, the Grammar School won by three goals to nil.

The two freehold closes of meadow land, containing 3a. 1r. 28p., situate in Mow Fen, Swavesey, which, by direction of Miss Vidler, Messrs. Dilley, Theakston and Read offered for sale by auction at the White Horse Inn on Monday evening, were purchased by Mr. Robinson Mitham, for £120. The land was left by the late Mr. Thomas Payne, who died in October, 1910, for the purposes of Payne's Charity, and on its sale in the following year, under the provisions of the Mortmain Act, was bought by Miss Vidler for £160. The outgoings are stated to be: Commuted tithe £1 2s. 9d., land tax 7s. 11d.

For the dance which followed, Mrs. Q. Spolton presided at the piano. Excellent refreshments were provided, under the superintendence of Mrs. C. S. Hephher and Miss E. Dodson. Mr. C. Savage officiated as M.C. throughout the evening. The net proceeds amounted to about £3 15s.

B.W.T.A. 20th March 1925

Preceded by a tea, the annual meeting of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Association was held on Thursday week, in the schoolroom attached to Bethel Baptist Chapel. Owing to illness and other causes, several visitors who were expected to take part in the proceedings could not attend, and the branch, therefore, had to rely entirely on its own members. Mrs. W. Savage made an excellent chairman, and Miss Easter gave an admirable address. Mrs. Aldred and Mrs. Prime Godfrey sang a duet, and other members contributed solos, recitations, etc. The office of President, which had been held by the late Mrs. H. T. N. Ussher, was left vacant for the present, but the other officers were re-elected with the exception that Mrs. G. E. Canham was appointed treasurer in the place of Mrs. A. J. Willson, who had resigned. Arrangements were made for a social to be held in the near future.

PARISH MEETING. 20th March 1925

There was a large attendance at the parish meeting, held in the Swavesey Memorial Hall, on Monday evening, for the election of nine parish councillors to serve for the ensuing three years. Mr. C. Wood, chairman of the Parish Council and ex-officio chairman of the parish meeting, opened the meeting, but, being a candidate vacated the chair during the election proceedings, over which Alderman Dr. J. W. Ellis was elected to preside. Messrs. W. A. Bignell and D. Williams were appointed tellers. Fifteen candidates were nominated and the voting resulted as follows, an asterisk denoting members of the present council: *Mr. R. Norman, sen., 47, *Mr. C. W. H. Cole 42, *Mr. A. Norman 40, *Mr. C. Wood 39, Mr. M. C. Culpin 34, *Mr. J. Linford 33, Mr. P. Burton 30, Mr. P. Parish 29, *Mr. W. Burton 27, *Mr. W. Twist 27, *Mr. C. H. Parish 23, Mr. H. Wells 23, Mr. H. R. Lovell 21, Mr. H. Hovell 11, Mr. C. Savage 5. Messrs. W. Burton and W. Twist, who had tied for ninth place, withdrew, and this left a further tie to be settled between Messrs. C. H. Parish and H. Wells. Their names were written on separate pieces of paper, which were placed in a hat, and the paper drawn by the chairman bore the name of Mr. Wells. The chairman thereupon declared the first eight candidates in the foregoing list and

Mr. Wells duly elected. A demand for a poll was made by Mr. Hovell, but the chairman stated that it could not be entertained as Mr. Hovell was supported by only two other electors. Mr. Wood then resumed the chair, and the meeting became the annual assembly of the parish meeting. The Clerk (Mr. Prime Godfrey) read the Parish Council accounts for 1923-4, which, so far, had not been audited by the Government auditor, the Recreation Ground accounts for the years 1923 and 1924, and Galon's Charity accounts. Mr. Hovell, who was supported by Mr. S. Seekings, raised the question of the allocation of the Hale allotments by the feoffees of Galon's Charity, and was informed by Dr. Ellis, who said he was the oldest feoffee, that years ago the feoffees had decided that applications for allotments from agricultural workers should have preference over applications from railway men. The proceedings then terminated.

That the sympathy of the people went out to the bereaved family was evident, not only by the large and representative congregation attending the funeral, but by the blinds of every house, cottage and shop being drawn as the cortege passed through the heart of the village on its more than half-mile journey from the Priory to the Church. The report and statement having been adopted, the following officers were elected for the ensuing twelve months: - President, Mr. G. J. Paine; Chairman, Mr. W. A. Bignell; Vice-Chairman, Mr. R. Amongst other matters, it was agreed that a caretaker should be engaged; that the question of closing the Institute during the summer months should be left to the discretion of the Committee; that the annual subscription should be reduced from 6s. to 4s. (or 2s. half yearly); that the charge for billiards should be reduced to 4d., 2d and 1d., according to table, for half an hour's play; that all card games should be played in the downstairs room, and that none should be allowed in the billiard room; and that a team should, if possible, be entered in the Cambridge Billiard League. SETTING A STACK FIRE. 24th April 1925

Leicestershire Man's Alleged Act of Arson.

A Leicestershire man, Joseph Dennis, Freeman, of Higham Ferrars, was committed to take his trial at the next Assizes on a charge of arson, when he appeared before the Cambs. Divisional Court last Saturday morning. The case was a sequel to a stack fire at Swavesey, which was recently recorded in our columns. His Honour Judge Farrant presided at the hearing of the charge.

John Scambler, a Conington farmer, said he had one field in the parish of Swavesey. It was a grass meadow called Mount Pleasant, and extended about 13 acres. He stacked last year's crop in the field close to the main Cambridge-Huntingdon road. On April 8th, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, he went to his field and saw the stack afire. It was ablaze all round, and "three parts" was destroyed. Ten tons was destroyed, which witness valued at £30. The property was insured.

Stanley Endersby, a boy living at Bell-lane, Fenstanton, said he cycled to Cambridge on April 8th, leaving home about 1 o'clock. On the way he noticed a man running out of a gateway leading to a field about half a mile on the Huntingdon side of the New Inn. As the man approached he held out his hand, which had a cigarette in it, and asked for a match. Witness cycled on without taking any notice of the man. When he got near the gate from which the man had run out he noticed a stack ablaze – nearly the whole of one side was flaming. Witness told some men who were tarring the road farther along that the stack was alight. Accompanied by the police constable, witness later went to St. Ives Workhouse, where he identified prisoner as the man whom he saw coming from the field.

P.C. Breed, Swavesey, stated that when questioned in St. Ives Workhouse, prisoner denied having seen Endersby. When searched witness found no matches in prisoner's possession. Asked what he knew about the fire, he replied: "I admit it, but not purposely." He made and signed the following statement: "I sat down against the haystack and read a book. I lit my pipe. I was sitting on some loose stuff against the hedge, with my back against the stack. I might have thrown the match down or some ashes fell out of my pipe. I noticed the cut hedge of the stack was alight. I then went off along the road. It was useless; I could not do anything to put it out. I did not do it wilfully."

After consultation the magistrates, as stated above, committed prisoner to take his trial.

During the past season the Swavesey District Hockey team played 22 games, winning 10 and losing 12, an improvement on the previous season. The club hope to do still better next winter.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 1st May 1925

At a general meeting of the Swavesey and Fen Drayton Choral Society, held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing (president) in the chair, the accounts for the past season, which showed a balance in hand of 16s. 3d., were presented and approved, and at the instance of Mr. E. Williams (chairman of the society) a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the President, committee, Conductor (Mr. J. W. Williams), Secretary (Miss D. Banks), Treasurer (Miss E. Dodson), and especially to Miss A. Wilderspin (pianist), who had worked so hard and enthusiastically throughout the season. Mrs. C. S. Hephher was also thanked for lending a room for committee meetings, and Mr. G. H. Skeeles for a donation, which had enabled the society to show a balance in hand instead of a deficit.

COW RAIDS CYCLE SHOP. 1st May 1925

A cow on Monday wandered into the yard adjoining Mr. Dick Wilderspin's cycle warehouse in High-street, and finding nothing to interest him there, entered the workshop, proceeding thence through a doorway into the front shop, in which there were a number of new cycles, motor and ordinary, children's tricycles, etc; in fact the floor was so covered with various things that only a narrow passage was left. As no one was in the shop there was every possibility that the animal would do considerable damage. But the raider had been "spotted" by Vic Wilderspin, Mr. Wilderspin's seven-year-old son, a fearless and resourceful youngster. Seeing that there was no room for the cow to turn without trampling on cycles, etc., and that if he attacked from the rear the animal might make a dash through the large plate-glass window, he went round to the front of the shop, and entering the door, clambered over packing cases until he faced the intruder. With a small stick he tapped its head, and by persistent tapping induced it to back slowly along the narrow passage into the workshop, dragging with it, entangled in its feet, three small tricycles. In the workshop there was room for the intruder to turn, and it at once walked out into the yard, leaving the tricycles behind. Strange to say, no damage was done, the tricycles even escaping without a scratch.

MAY DAY DANCE. 8th May 1925

The May Day dance at the Memorial Hall on Friday was a great success from every point of view. There was a large attendance, the Cambridge Y.M.C.A. band provided an admirable programme of dance music and the light refreshments were excellent. Prizes were awarded for fox-trot and crossword dances. The net proceeds of the evening will be handed over to the Memorial Hall Fund.

DROVE LETTING. 8th May 1925

A correspondent writes: - "Have the District Councillors forgotten that it is usual to let the herbage of the drove ways, etc., in the parish of Swavesey, before April 1st, on and from which date it is understood the persons hiring the drove have the use of them until December 31st? The money obtained by the letting is used for the upkeep of the by-ways, and as the period during which the herbage will be available will this year be curtailed by six weeks or more by the Council's apparent neglect, even if the letting takes place at once, the sum realised will probably be smaller than usual. If this happens, it will be most unfortunate, as the money hitherto obtained from the letting has not been sufficient to keep the by-ways in proper order, and at the present time they are in a very bad state. Will the Council call upon the already overburdened ratepayers to make up the deficit?"

AN ALARMING INCIDENT. 8th May 1925

A horse-drawn lorry laden with upwards of twenty empty milk cans, which were being conveyed from the railway station, caused much alarm in High-street, and roused several late risers from their slumbers about 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning. When near the Rising Sun inn some of the cans fell off the lorry through the breaking of a cord with which they had been bound. They crashed on to the road, one after another, with an alarming noise, frightening the horse, which started to bolt. Fortunately the driver, Mr. F. Bricklewold, was able to pull it up almost immediately. The noise brought people to their doors and their bedroom windows, but with two notable exceptions the onlookers were content to smile at the mishap. Two Good Samaritans were, however, at hand in the persons of the village blacksmith (Mr. M. C. Culpin), and the parish churchwarden (Mr. H. Wells), and they promptly went to the rescue notwithstanding the heavy rain, and the cans, which had littered the street for some distance, were speedily replaced on the lorry, while Mr. Bricklewold held the horse. Another milk cart, proceeding to the station, was passing at the time, and the noise caused the pony to bolt, but the horse attached to a butcher's cart, standing not far off, though startled, was kept under control.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 15th May 1925

The following children attending the National School have passed the written examination for Minor County Scholarships: Lucy Key, Leonard Lovell, Wilfred Parish, Cecilia Wells, Kenneth Williams and Lionel Wood. They have to attend the oral examination on May 23rd. Out of the ten Swavesey children who were examined, only four were unsuccessful.

THE INSTITUTE. 15th May 1925

The social and dance, organised by the Institute Amusements Committee, on Saturday evening was a great success. The Memorial Hall was crowded – too crowded in fact as far as dancing was concerned – and a capital entertainment was provided by local talent, assisted by friends from Cottenham, whose songs, recitations, etc., were thoroughly appreciated. The refreshments were excellent. The duties of M.C. were capably carried out by Mr. C. Savage.

WOMEN CONSERVATIVES. 15th May 1925

The annual meeting of the Swavesey Polling District Branch of the Cambs. Women's Conservative Association was held at the National School on Friday evening, Mrs. C. Wood presiding in the absence of the Chairman (Mrs. E. J. Warboys). The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. C. F. Banks; chairman, Mrs. Warboys; vice-chairman, Mrs. Wood; hon. sec. Miss Beaumont; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Page; committee: Mesdames J. Cain, F. Cooke, F. Hemington, E. J. Mitham, Pettitt, W. Thorp, Misses D. Banks and E. Dodson.

DR. ELLIS ATTACKED BY DOG. 15th May 1925

Alderman J. W. Ellis, when walking in Market-street early in the evening on Thursday week was severely bitten in the leg by a dog, which attacked him from behind, and getting a firm grip of his calf inflicted a nasty wound, besides tearing his trousers and underclothing. After receiving first-aid, Dr. Ellis was conveyed home in his motor car, and later Dr. R. Ellis, of Cottenham, who was sent for, attended to the wound, the insertion of several stitches being necessary. Dr. Ellis is progressing satisfactorily. The dog is dead, having been promptly shot by the direction of its owner.

RESIDENT MAGISTRATES WANTED. 15th May 1925

In reply to Captain Briscoe, M.P., who asked the Attorney-General in the House of Commons on Tuesday whether he was aware of the inconvenience caused to the inhabitants of Swavesey by the fact that there was no Justice of the Peace residing there, the Attorney-General replied that the Lord Chancellor's attention had been drawn to the matter by his Advisory Committee, that he had been informed that owing to the death of the magistrate who resided in Swavesey there was a need for the appointment of a magistrate who resides in the district, and that he had appointed a magistrate who resides at Over. The Lord Chancellor understood that Over and Swavesey are adjoining villages, and that the newly-appointed magistrate would be available for the inhabitants of both places.

DROVE LETTING. 15th May 1925

The annual letting of the herbage of the droveways and roadsides in the parish, of which notice was given in the village on Saturday, took place at the White Horse inn on Monday evening. There was a fairly good attendance, but the bidding was far from keen, and the results were disappointing. Mr. G. Love, of Cambridge, who acted for Messrs. Underwoods, was the auctioneer, and supporting him were the two District Councillors representing the parish (Messrs. A. Day and R. Norman) and Mr. P. Godfrey (Assist. Overseer and Clerk of the Parish Council). The droves, etc., were offered as usual in 22 lots, most of which were secured by Mr. A. Day. They realised £12 2s. 6d., the smallest sum, it is believed, on record, and £3 5s. less than last year. In 1923 the droves were let for £22 17s 6d., in 1920 for £33 10s., in 1918 for £27, in 1917 for £21 10s., and in 1913 for £25 5s. In 1887 and 1889, when the droves etc., were under the control of the old parish surveyors, they brought in £41 1s. 6d., in the former year and £30 17s. 6d. in the latter. For the herbage of the recreation ground, which was offered after the drove letting, by order of the Parish Council, there was no competition, Mr. Alfred Prime's bid of £3 being accepted, a few shillings less than in 1924. It is stated that the delay in holding the letting, to which a correspondent called attention last week, was due to the illness of the auctioneer who should have officiated.

CHURCH COUNCIL. 22nd May 1925

At a meeting of the Parochial Church Council on Monday evening arrangements were made in connection with the Church Festival which is to be held at Swavesey Church on Thursday, 4th June, at 6 p.m. Choirs from Over, Swavesey, Girton, Impington and Swaffham Prior will attend, and Mr. G. W. Thoday (organist, Over parish church) will conduct. The sermons will be preached by the Rev. Seirol Evans, Precentor, Ely Cathedral.

LENT SAVINGS. 22nd May 1925

The boxes containing the savings during Lent of members of the congregation of the parish church, on being opened, were found to contain £17 2s. 0½d. This amount has been devoted to the Church Roof Repair Fund.

MILK IN DANGER. 22nd May 1925

Milk cans on their journey to or from the railway station have recently been causing excitement in the village. Only a week or two ago, as reported at the time, a number of empty cans returning from the station were scattered in High-street, arousing late slumbering villagers and startling horses in their clattering fall. On Monday evening a further mishap occurred in Middle Watch, when about half-a-dozen cans full of milk were in serious peril through the collapse of a wheel of the float in which they were being conveyed to the railway. The incident again caused much excitement, but fortunately no milk was spilled, and by the prompt commandeering of a lorry belonging to a fruit grower living close by, the station was reached just in time to catch the train.

PARISH CHURCH. 22nd May 1925

A lightning conductor has this week been affixed to the tower of the parish church, which hitherto had had no protection from lightning. The cost of the work has been borne by Mrs. Beaumont and family.

ANOTHER TIE. 22nd May 1925

The cricket match in the Lord Lieutenant's Cup Competition between teams representing the Swavesey District and the Comberton branches of the British Legion, which was played on Swavesey Recreation Ground on Wednesday evening, ended in a tie, each side scoring 89 runs. Play did not start until 6.15 p.m., and long before the close of the game at about 9.30 p.m., while the homesters were fighting hard for runs, the light failed. There was much excitement towards the finish. This was the second match played on the Recreation Ground within the past few days to end in a tie.

HOME FROM AUSTRALIA. 29th May 1925

BETHEL CHAPEL. 29th May 1925

Good congregations, including many visitors from neighbouring villages, were present at the anniversary services which were held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on May 21st. The special preacher was the Rev. F. E. Marsh, D.D., whose eloquent addresses were greatly appreciated. At the evening service the choir gave an excellent rendering of the anthem "The Lord is my Shepherd." A public tea at 5 o'clock was also well attended. Satisfactory collections were taken in aid of church funds.

PROPERTY SALE. 29th May 1925

By direction of Mrs. Prime, widow of Mr. Ebenezer Prime, who is leaving the district, Messrs. Dilley, Theakston and Read offered for sale at the White Horse Inn, Swavesey, on Wednesday evening, the freehold estate known as Wright's Farm, with brick and tiled residence, outbuildings, gardens, and 38a. 6r. 31p. accommodation pasture land; also a freehold detached cottage with garden. Wright's Farm was purchased by Mr. F. Stanton, of Lolworth Grange, for £1,500, but the cottage was withdrawn at £110.

A RECORD DANCE. 29th May 1925

The carnival dance in aid of Swavesey Institute, which was held in the gaily-decorated Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Amusements Committee, was a great success in every respect. The attendance was a record for dances in the hall, the company included numerous visitors, not only from neighbouring villages, but from St. Ives, Girton, Histon, Cottenham, Milton, and even from Sutton in the Isle of Ely. A capital selection of music was supplied by Cornell's Jazz Band, and the refreshments were excellent in quality though moderate in price. Among the attractions was a waltz competition, the prizes for which were awarded to Miss Collins (Cottenham) and Mr. Grumbley (Longstanton). Mr. H. G. Topham was an efficient M.C.

THE FEAST. 29th May 1925

The village feast has been held this week. On Sunday the services at the Parish Church were bright and hearty, and at evensong, when the choir gave an excellent rendering of the anthem, "O, taste and see" (Goss), there was an exceptionally large congregation. The collections during the day were in aid of the National School, and amounted to £3 14s. On other days cricket has been the chief attraction during day time. On Monday the second eleven, who on Saturday had qualified for the second round of the Milton and District League Cup by defeating Milton, met with a reverse at the hands of Over Reserves in a Milton and District League match, and on Tuesday the first team were unsuccessful against Warboys in a full day's game in the Turner (Hunts.) League Competition. Market-street, as usual, was well filled with the customary attributes of a feast, including Manning's galloping horses, cocoanut shies, stalls, etc. On Tuesday evening there was a considerable crowd.

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th May 1925

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Friday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. P. Burton, M. C. Culpin, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, P. Parish and H. Wells. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, the clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey) read a letter he had received from the Traffic Manager of the L.N.E.R., in which it was stated that the amount of traffic was not sufficient to justify the erection of a weighbridge at Swavesey station, as suggested by the Over, Swavesey and Fen Drayton Parish Councils, and that no useful purpose would be served by a deputation from the Councils interviewing him on the subject. The following appointments were made: School manager, Mr. A. L. Parish (re-elected); Feoffee's of Galon's Charity, Mr. W. Twist (re-elected) and Mr. M. C. Culpin (vice Mr. Geo. Clarke). Mr. F. Parish was appointed a member of the Memorial Hall Committee in place of Mr. R. Barwell, who had declined to serve. The late clerk's accounts having been passed by the Government auditor, it was agreed that they should be paid, and, as the Council had not sufficient money in hand, a precept for £25 was issued on the Overseers, to enable this to be done. Among other business of minor importance, it was decided that the public notice-board in High-street, which had been removed during the building of the Memorial Hall, should be re-erected.

PERSONAL. 5th June 1925

Ald. Dr. J. W. Ellis will on Wednesday next celebrate the 72nd anniversary of his birthday.

PARTICULAR BAPTISTS. 5th June 1925

The anniversary services at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, when Mr. F. Kirby, of Ramsgate, who some thirty years ago was well-known in the Swavesey district, was the special preacher, were well attended. Unfortunately the Pastor, Mr. E. Short, could not be present owing to illness, but we are glad to say that his health is improving. Between the services there was a public tea, at which over seventy sat down at well provided tables, superintended by Mrs. A. Day, Mrs. E. Parish, Mrs. W. Parish, Mrs. J. Parish, Mrs. R. Sutton, and Miss E. Day. Good collections were taken, in aid of the chapel funds.

CHURCH GREEN. 5th June 1925

A correspondent writes: At the last meeting of the Parish Council, attention was called to the dilapidated condition of the swing gate on Church Green, and the Clerk was instructed to write to the District Council asking that the gate might be repaired. Down to the time of writing no repairs have been effected, and on Sunday evening I noticed that two horses, which had been grazing on the Green, had made their way through the gateway, and were in grave danger of falling into the large drain. In the event of an animal falling into the drain and getting injured, may I ask whether the District Council would be called upon to compensate the owner, and if so, whether the already over-burdened ratepayers would not have to foot the bill?

WEDDING. 5th June 1925

A very pretty wedding took place on June 1st at the Parish Church of St. Clement's, Burnham Overy Staithe, Norfolk, between Miss Ida Elizabeth Gunston, youngest daughter of Mrs. J. Gunston, of Burnham Overy, and the late Mr. J. Gunston, and Mr. Alfred Pettett, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pettett, of Swavesey, Cambs. The Rev. C. C. Hains, vicar, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. J. Gunston, was attended by a little page, Master Kenneth Clarke (nephew of the bride) and three bridesmaids, Misses Elsie, Dorothy and Jenny Pettett (sisters of the bridegroom). Mr. Allen acted as best man. The bride wore a white crepe de chine dress, trimmed with orange blossom and wreath and veil. She carried a bouquet of wax lilies and white sweet peas and ferns. The bridesmaids wore white silk dresses, trimmed pale blue, and mob caps. Their bouquets were of white stocks and forget-me-nots. The bridal party were conveyed to and from the church by motor car, lent by Mr. Stacey Bell, as a wedding present to the bride. The reception was held at the bride's home, where about 20 guests sat down to the wedding breakfast, at which the Vicar proposed the health and happiness of the newly wedded couple. The presents were numerous and useful.

CHORAL FESTIVAL AT SWAVESEY. 5th June 1925

Performance by Choirs from Six Villages.

A choral festival under the auspices of the Church Music Society for the Archdeaconry of Ely, of which the Rev. Lawrence Fisher is secretary, was held at Swavesey parish church yesterday (Thursday) evening. Choirs from Over, Girton, Cottenham, Impington and Swavesey (North Stowe Rural Deanery) and Swaffham Prior (Fordham Rural Deanery) attended. The singers were about 130 in number, 70 of whom were surplice. (List of attending clergy in newspaper). Mr. G. W. Thoday (organist of Over parish church) conducted, and Mr. G. A. Skeeles (organist of Swavesey Church) presided at the organ.

The congregation was not as large as it might have been. The somewhat early hour of the service, and the commencement of the fruit-picking season doubtless kept many away. The surpliced choirs, headed by the Swavesey banner, proceeded up the church singing the hymn "Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come." The service was taken by the Vicar of Swavesey. The special Psalms 114 and 145 were sung to chants from the Cathedral Psalter, and the Magnificat and the Nunc Dimittis to Parry's setting in "D". The first lesson was read by the Rev. H. G. Hooton, and the second by the Rev. S. G. Weston. An admirable rendering of Elvey's anthem "O give thanks" was given by the choirs. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Seirial Evans, who gave a practical address as to the parts the choir, the organist and choirmaster, and the congregation should take in the worship of the service. Cardinal Newman's great hymn, "Praise to the Holiest in the heights," was sung before the sermon, and H. F. Lyte's hymn, "Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven," during the offertory. "The day Thou gavest" was the recessional. With the exception of the recessional, the music was taken from the English Hymnal. The offertory, which was devoted to the expenses of the festival, amounted to £3 17s. The choirs sang well, and showed that Mr. Thoday and the various choirmasters had spared no efforts in their training.

THE LIBRARY. 12th June 1925

A fresh supply of books having been received, the village library will be re-opened at the National School this (Friday) evening.

MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH'S REPORT. 12th June 1925

According to the report of the Medical Officer of Health (Dr. W. R. Grove), which has just been issued, there were 50 births (23 males, 27 females) in the six parishes comprised in the Swavesey Rural District during 1924, a birthrate of 20 per 1,000 of population, the rate for the year for England and Wales being 18.8. The deaths numbered 39 (20 males, 19 females), a rate of 15.7 per 1,000 of population, the rate for England and Wales being 12.2. No deaths were due to child birth and none to zymotic diseases. The causes of death were not noteworthy, except that there were nine from cancer, and the number of persons over 65 was less than usual. The sanitary inspector made 145 inspections of slaughterhouses and bakehouses, five of the former and three of the latter being registered. He also made 91 inspections of dairies, cowsheds and milk-shops. There are 74 milk-sellers in the district. The abolition of ash-pits, ash-heaps and privy vaults is being proceeded with. In most cases the sanitary pails are emptied by the tenants, but Dr. Grove suggests that it would be better if the larger villages were provided with sanitary carts, as is done in neighbouring districts.

BEHEADED. 19th June 1925

While hedge-trimming at Mr. Ezra Day's farm at Boxworth-end on Monday morning, Mr. C. H. Jones, greatly to his surprise, decapitated a yellow-hammer, which was hatching off eggs in its nest.

A NUISANCE. 19th June 1925

A ratepayer writes: The authorities responsible for the health of the parish should inspect the sewage pipes which run along the side of the drain crossing the main street of the village at the Turn Bridge. These pipes convey the sewage from houses, butchers' establishments, etc., in High-street. One pipe, within a few yards of a row of cottages, is broken, and through the fracture offensive liquid flows into the open drain below. The open drain, I may add, needs more attention, especially during hot and dry weather, than it has received of late, for the accumulation of stagnant, semi-liquid matter is not only offensive, but must be a danger to the public health. Are we, may I ask, to understand that the flushing tank, which was erected some time ago in Gibraltar-lane at the suggestion of an official of the Ministry of Health, is useless?

SWAVESEY'S FINE CHURCH. 19th June 1925

Garden Fete to Augment Roof Repair Fund.

The shady lawn at the back of Swavesey Vicarage was gaily beflagged on Thursday for the annual garden fete and sale of work, organised by the Parochial Church Council for the Church Repair Fund. The church is a very fine structure, nearly 600 years old, and work of restoration has been carried out during recent years under the supervision of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, but much remains to be done and cannot be put in hand until more money is forthcoming. The roof of the nave and part of the roof of the south aisle has been thoroughly repaired, but the north aisle and remainder of the south aisle roofs are in urgent need of attention, work involving a heavy expenditure. The church is one of the largest in the county, and is described in A. G. Hill's "Churches of Cambridgeshire" as a "fine, large specimen of Early English, altered considerably in Perpendicular times by insertions in the style of that period."

The Vicar (Rev. C. F. Stebbing) presided over the opening ceremony, and introduced Miss Lucy Dunn (Milton) to the assembled company. When Miss Dunn and her father resided in Swavesey some years ago she was keenly and actively interested in the church and its Sunday School. On the platform, too, were members of the Parochial Church Council: Mrs. Cooksey, Mrs. Smith, Miss Beaumont, Mrs. Banks, Messrs. W. H. Key, R. Barwell, R. Mitham, S. Mitham, and the churchwardens (Messrs. H. Wells, C. Banks and G. Paine).

A LEGACY FROM THE PAST.

The Vicar remarked that he had always noticed two things about Swavesey and Swavesey people. One was what very hard workers they were, especially in anything to do with their church, and in this connection he noticed that it was the people who were busy themselves who were most ready to help. The other thing he noticed was how people – even after they had left it for some years – were always eager to visit Swavesey and how pleased people were to see them back. He thought this especially applied that afternoon with regard to the presence of Miss Dunn.

Because the church was so noble and fine a structure, continued the Vicar, it led them into extra expense for its upkeep. They had done marvellously well in repairing the nave roof, and now they had reached a position of over £400 in the bank. The smaller job of repairing the north aisle roof would cost £500, so that if they liked they could begin at once, but they preferred to do the larger job first – the south aisle roof, which would cost £1,350.

Miss Dunn expressed pleasure at re-visiting Swavesey, and recalled that during her residence in the village there were great floods, necessitating the use of planks and boats to move from the houses. Everybody acquainted with East Anglia and its architectural buildings knew Swavesey Church, and if ever Swavesey was mentioned people would remark, “Oh, yes, that’s the village with the splendid church.” “So that it is good to hear the efforts the people of Swavesey are making to preserve their splendid church for future generations,” concluded Miss Dunn.

Mr. T. W. Dunn, formerly Headmaster of Bath College, said they had to look back in the far past with gratitude to the children of centuries gone by. When this now ancient church was built it was a demand upon the goodwill and liberality of those who built it for its size and splendour was in no measure comparable with the wealth of the village. How they managed to build so magnificent a structure as had come down to us he could not manage to see.

The formal proceedings concluded with the presentation of a dainty bouquet to Miss Dunn by a dainty little maiden – Gwendoline Froment, the daughter of Mr. H. D. Froment, a sidesman.

(A list of stalls, stall-holders and competitions is in the newspaper).

ADVERT. 26th June 1925

QUANTITY of Oak Water Butts and Boarded Sections for Sale at Prior's Stores.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 26th June 1925

The Rev. F. E. Marsh, D.D., who was the special preacher at the anniversary services held recently at Bethel Baptist Chapel, paid another visit to the chapel on Sunday, when he preached in the morning and evening. His eloquent and impressive addresses were greatly appreciated by the large congregations that assembled to hear him. Good collections were taken at both services.

OBITUARY. 26th June 1925

Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, who for the past seven years had been bedridden, died on Tuesday afternoon in St. Ives Infirmary, where he had been since the death of his wife in November of last year. Mr. Wilderspin, who was well known in the Swavesey district, was 65 years of age. The funeral will take place in Swavesey churchyard at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow (Saturday).

THE FLUSHING TANK. 26th June 1925

The flushing tank in Gibraltar-lane, to which reference was made by a correspondent in our last issue, was brought into use on Saturday morning, but it seemed to have little or no effect on the open drain at Turn Bridge, near which are several cottages, although the comparatively small flush of water may have done some good at the back of houses in Middle Watch. The broken drain pipe at Turn Bridge has not yet been repaired or replaced by a sound one.

WEDDING. 26th June 1925

The Rev. J. F. Cooksey, in the absence of the Vicar, who is taking his yearly holiday, officiated at the marriage of Miss Violet Dean, daughter of the late Mr. James W. Dean and Mrs. Dean, of Swavesey, and Mr. Stanley Francis Hoddinott, son of Mr. Frank Hoddinott and the late Mrs. Hoddinott, which was solemnised at St. Andrew's Church, Swavesey, on Wednesday. The bride, who was charmingly attired in apricot French silk, was given away by her brother, Mr. Cecil Dean, Mr. George Dean acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at Waterton House, Swavesey. The wedding presents were numerous and useful. A merry peal was rung on the church bells at the conclusion of the service, and again in the evening.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 26th June 1925

Mr. Dennis Williams, of Market-street, Swavesey, had a very narrow escape from a serious accident when cycling near the New Inn on the Cambridge – Huntingdon road on Thursday week. A section of the road was being tarred, and Mr. Williams, who was riding an ordinary bicycle, was under the mistaken impression that a motor car, which was approaching from the opposite direction had been signalled to stop. The car, however, came on, and Mr. Williams had to choose between running into it “head on” or turning on to the freshly spread tar. He decided on the latter alternative, with the result that his wheels skidded, and the cycle went under the car while he fell clear. Mr. Williams was not injured, but the bicycle was completely smashed.

LAST WEEK’S FETE. 26th June 1925

The competitions etc., at the garden fete held in the Vicarage grounds on Thursday week, a report of which appeared in our last issue, were won by the following: Hidden treasure, 1 and 2 Mrs. Banks, 3 Mr. Moyne, 4 Mr. W. H. Key; plant pot and marbles, Mr. W. J. Hepher; weight of cake, Miss Hilda Hepher; coin in cake, Mrs. E. J. Linford, jun.; weight of eggs, Mr. W. Kester; chocolates, Mrs. Hall; cross-word puzzle, 1 Mr. F. Aldred, 2 Rev. C. F. Stebbing; age of cockerel, Miss E. Pettett; lucky number, Mr. C. S. Hepher; shooting gallery, Mr. Jack Bull; candle lighting, Miss D. Aldred; hat trimming, Mr. P. Lee. As a result of the fete upwards of £65 will be added to the Church Repair Fund.

SOMETHING LIKE A RECORD. 3rd July 1925

Six of the sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wilderspin, all under eleven years of age, have been attending the National School this week. Is this a record for one family? asks a correspondent.

DANCE. 3rd July 1925

The flannel dance in aid of the Swavesey Institute, which took place at the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening was a highly successful and enjoyable function. An excellent selection of music was provided by Cornell’s dance band, and Mr. H. G. Topham was a capable M.C.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 3rd July 1925

Five of the six pupils of Swavesey National School, who qualified for the oral test for County Minor Scholarships, have passed the final examination, rendering them eligible for admission to secondary schools, and one has been awarded an honorary scholarship. The sixth pupil, who passed the preliminary examination, did not sit for the final. The successful children are: Lucy Key, Leonard Lovell, Wilfred Parish, Cecilia Wells and Lionel Wood (honorary scholarship).

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 3rd July 1925

At a meeting of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society on Monday evening further arrangements were made for the third annual show and sports, which are to take place early in August, and stewards and judges, the latter being the same as last year, were appointed. It was also decided that a dance, arranged by Mrs. Thurlow, should be held in the Memorial Hall on the evening of the show, from 10 o'clock until midnight.

THE LATE MR. S. WILDERSPIN. 3rd July 1925

The funeral of Mr. Samuel Wilderspin, whose death on June 23, at the age of 65 years was announced last week, took place at Swavesey churchyard on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The immediate mourners were: Mrs. Cracknell (sister), Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, sen., (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. T. L. Cracknell and Mr. Herbert Wilderspin, jun. (nephews), Mrs. Askew, Mrs. Golding and Mrs. Harvey (nieces). The coffin was of polished elm with black furniture. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

CRICKET. 10th July 1925

The game between Swavesey and Fenstanton in the Turner (Hunts.) League competition played on Saturday at Swavesey, was attended by an unpleasant and unusual incident. Batting first, Swavesey scored 62, to which Fenstanton replied with 80. It was then 6.20, and according to the rules of the League, play should have continued until five hours' cricket had been completed, i.e., practically two hours longer. The Swavesey eleven were prepared to continue, when the Fenstanton captain asked the Swavesey skipper whether he was going on with the game. On being informed in the affirmative, he replied that he refused to play, as his team's 'bus had been ordered for 6.30, and was then waiting. Swavesey, he added, could report him if they liked. It is understood that the Swavesey club have reported the matter to the League authorities. They do not claim the award of points on the ground that Fenstanton refused to continue to play, but they demand a replay on a neutral ground with neutral umpires.

CHOIR OUTING. 10th July 1925

The choir of Bethel Baptist Chapel had a very pleasant outing on Thursday week when they motored to Clayhithe and enjoyed a few hours' boating on the river.

BRITISH LEGION. 10th July 1925

The quarterly meeting of the Swavesey and district branch of the British Legion was held in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. A. Bignall presiding in the absence of the chairman, who was unable to be present. The business was not of public interest.

DISTRICT COUNCIL NEGLECT. 10th July 1925

A ratepayer of many years' standing writes to complain of the neglect by the District Council of the droveways, bridges and stiles in the parish of Swavesey. Among other instances of neglect, he mentions Brickhill drove, which, he says, is obstructed by old bushes and its stiles are in such a state of disrepair as to be dangerous to all but the most athletic young people; the footbridge over the large drain in Mow-lane, leading to Holywell, which for a long time has been unsafe, and another bridge in Cow Fen, which appears likely to collapse at any moment. Hedges, he adds, are in a very wild state.

HARVEST BEGUN. 17th July 1925

Mr. B. Prime, Swavesey, commenced to cut his winter oats on Wednesday.

AN INQUIRY. 17th July 1925

An occasional visitor to Swavesey is anxious to know why the pond by the side of the main street, near Bethel Chapel, is being used as a repository for carts and wagons.

THE £3,000 PRIZE. 17th July 1925

Mr. H. H. Berryman, High-street, is one of the 1,274 persons who gave a correct forecast of the goal scores and attendance at this year's Football Cup Final in the competition organised by "Tit Bits." He has received £2 7s. 2d as his share of the £3,000 prize.

CRICKET CLUB. 17th July 1925

The flannel dance in aid of the funds of the cricket club, which was held at the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, and for which Cornell's Band provided an excellent selection of music, attracted a large attendance. Mr. R. Godfrey (secretary of the club) officiated as M.C., the general management being in the capable hands of Mrs. T. W. Thurlow.

A RUNAWAY. 17th July 1925

A horse drawing a cart load of hay took fright on Friday, when near the Manor, and bolted towards the railway station. The gates being open, the line was safely crossed, but on the other side the runaway was met by a motor car and a cart, and, in order to avoid a collision, Mr. C. Cook, of Over, who was with the load of hay, at considerable risk to himself, pulled the horse into a ditch. No damage was done, but the cart had to be unloaded before it could be drawn out of the ditch.

WATER WASTED. 17th July 1925

Through the bursting of a pipe of the main supply during Saturday night, water has ever since been running to waste in High-street. It is not known why repairs have not been effected, but ratepayers are complaining of the waste of water and of the inevitable damage to the road, which has recently been freshly tarred. On Sunday there was only a gentle stream along one side of the street into the nearest drain grating, but by Thursday morning the water had spread across the road.

BOY INJURED. 17th July 1925

While driving a horse drag at Messrs. Day and Son's farm at Boxworth about noon on Wednesday, Montague Coulson, 14, of Turn Bridge Cottages, Swavesey, met with an unfortunate accident. Irritated apparently by flies, the horse bolted, and, the harness breaking, the lad was thrown off the drag. He was picked up by men working in the field and conveyed to Mr. George Holmes' house at the Brickyard, where it was found that he had sustained a nasty cut behind his right ear, and his head, neck and back were extensively bruised. He was attended to by the District Nurse (Miss Walters), who was sent for, and later was conveyed home by Miss M. Parsons in her motor car. Dr. J. W. Ellis examined the lad later in the day.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 17th July 1925

The anniversary of Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday School was kept last Sunday, the preacher being Mr. Foreman, of Cambridge, whose address to the children in the morning, and also in the evening were greatly appreciated. A flower service was held in the afternoon, the children bringing bountiful gifts of beautiful flowers, which were sent on the following day to St. Ives Infirmary. Throughout the day there was special singing by the children, whose efforts were most creditable, and at the close of the evening service certificates gained in the Sunday School Union Scripture examination were presented to Fred and Kenneth Williams, Thora and Joyce Jacklin, the only Swavesey children who sat for the examination. The services were well attended, the evening congregation being exceptionally large, but unfortunately the collections on behalf of the Sunday School were not up to the average of recent years.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING. 24th July 1925

During the short but sharp thunderstorm, between 8 and 9 p.m. on Wednesday, a tree in Manor Field, close to the railway station, was struck by lightning.

DEFECTS ATTENDED TO. 24th July 1925

The burst water main in High-street, and the sewer pipes at Turn Bridge, to both of which attention has been drawn in these columns, have been repaired, the former on Thursday week and the latter on Wednesday.

DEATH OF AN OLD SOLDIER. 24th July 1925

Mr. John Beresford Senter ("Jack"), late of the Royal Army Service Corps, who for years was a familiar figure at the White Horse Inn, passed away at St. Ives Infirmary on Sunday morning, aged 61 years. He had long been in bad health. Mr. Senter was unmarried, and, as far as is known, had no immediate relatives. He served with the R.A.S.C. for 18 years, and was with the Corps in the South African War (Queen's Medal with five bars), until his thigh being shattered he was invalided out of the Service in 1901 with a small pension. On August 4th, 1914, he was called up for duty with the Commissariat, but was unable to obey the summons, as a few hours before he received it he had met with a serious accident through a fall downstairs, which resulted in two of his ribs being broken and other injuries. He came to Swavesey with his old comrade, the late Mr. Alfred Slater and the late Mrs. Slater, 21 years ago, and assisted them in the management of the White Horse, remaining there when Mr. H. H. Moyne took over the house about 18 months ago. Owing to his need of constant attention and professional nursing, he was removed recently to St. Ives Infirmary, where he passed away as stated. The funeral took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners were: Mr. H. H. Moyne, Mr. J. Moyne, sen., Mrs. Wagstaff, Rev. J. F. Cooksey, Mr. P. Lee, Mr. H. Holmes and Mr. A. W. Melbourne (secretary of the local branch of the British Legion. The body, enclosed in a polished elm coffin, covered with a Union Jack, was borne to the grave by four ex-Service men, Messrs. H. Carter, J. Froment, A. Prime, jun., M.M., and B. Sutton. There was one wreath – from Mr. H. H. Moyne. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

SWAVESEY GARDEN FETE. 24th July 1925

Yesterday's Effort in Aid of District Nursing Association.

The annual garden fete in aid of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton District Nursing Association was held yesterday (Thursday) in the grounds of Swavesey Manor, kindly lent by the Rev. J. Cooksey. Fortunately the weather was fine, and the attendance was satisfactory. The Association is doing useful work that is being more and more appreciated as the years roll by. The question of finance, however, occasions some anxiety to the President (Mrs. Cooksey) and the Committee. Contributions are not sufficient to meet expenses, and it is with the view of raising extra funds that functions such as yesterday's fete are organised.

The opening ceremony was gracefully performed by Mrs. R. Mailer, of Boxworth, who was accompanied by her husband, the representative of the Swavesey district on the County Council. In her brief speech Mrs. Mailer urgently pleaded for support of the Association which was doing such gallant work. She had heard from all sides high praise of Nurse Walters, who was a great asset to the Association.

A bouquet was then presented to Mrs. Mailer by little Ivory Wagstaff, of Swavesey.

The chief attractions were a baby show, children's fancy dress parade (under the management of Nurse Walters), and the children's country dances. There were also stalls, side shows, competitions, etc., and it is needless to add, a refreshment department, over which Mrs. Dean presided, assisted by a band of energetic lady helpers too numerous to mention. Mr. H. H. Berryman dispensed ice cream.

In the baby show, (limited to the three parishes), the infants were divided into four classes and the judges were Dr. Frank Robinson and Miss Bills (Superintendent of the Cambs. Nursing Association), who awarded the prizes as follows: - Class 1 – 1 Sheila Rachel Watts (Over), 2 Joan Saunders (Fen Drayton), 3 Derek George Brooks (Swavesey); Class 2 – 1 Eric George Dodson (Swavesey), 2 Molly Kenzie (Over), 3 Donald Day (Over); Class 3 – 1 Ruth Shepperson (Swavesey), 2 Margaret Anne King (Fen Drayton), 3 Joseph Powell (Over); Class 4 – 1 Kathleen Adams (Over), 2 Joan Elizabeth Thoday (Over), 3 Enid Frances Hemington (Over).

For the fancy dress parade Mrs. Mailer adjudicated, assisted by Mrs. Stebbing and Mrs. Barwell. They awarded the prizes to the boys representing: 1 Green Peas, 2 Father Christmas, 3 Darby, 4 Pierrot, 5 Indian; and to the girls representing: 1 Nurse, 2 Joan, 3 Toilet Table, 4 Early Victorian, 5 Shepherdess. Ten other girls received consolation prizes.

The children's country dances were pretty and effective, and the performers had been admirably trained by Miss Beaumont, Hon. Sec. of the Association, assisted by Mrs. C. Wood. They both danced and sang excellently. Names of stalls and stallholders in the newspaper. The general management was in the hands of Mrs. Cooksey, who, as usual, was indefatigable both before and during the fete.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 31st July 1925

The Rev. Thomas Boulanger Field, of Kensal Rise, London, Baptist Church, has accepted the call to the pastorate of Bethel Chapel, Swavesey, and it is hoped that he will take up his new duties early in October.

WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE. 31st July 1925

In consequence of the unsettled weather, the whist drive and dance in aid of the Church Repair Fund, which was announced to take place on Tuesday evening, was held in the Memorial Hall, and notwithstanding the change of venue was a complete success. Fourteen tables, over which Mr. E. J. Mitham presided as M.C., were in play for whist, and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies – Mrs. Webb, Mrs. C. Dean, Mrs. B. Prior; gentlemen – Mr. G. Burling, Mr. J. Cain, Mr. Russell Barker. More people came in for the dance which followed the drive, and for which Miss M. Parsons, Miss N. Mustill and Mr. E. Williams, who presided in turns at the piano, provided the music. The net proceeds of the evening's entertainment amounted to £5 4s. 2d.

DANCE EXPENSES. 31st July 1925

A correspondent writes: - Is it not about time, when dances are so popular in the village, that more attention was paid by the promoters to the expenses incurred in connection with the same? Is it absolutely necessary to engage a band to supply the dance music? Could not some arrangement be made whereby the heavy expense could be diverted into the funds of the cause for which the dance is promoted. In any case, the piano is here on the spot. This means that we have to lay out several pounds for someone to come into the village to play it, with a little bit of jazz thrown in, and which is not essential to the success of the dance. Why not engage one or two pianists who live in the village (and we have several good ones) and pay them a reasonable fee for the evening? If two were engaged it would give both the opportunity of dancing themselves, if they so wished, for part of the evening, by playing alternately at the piano. I certainly think it is a scheme well worth considering. As things now stand, the financial success of a dance is jeopardised at the commencement by the heavy fee that is to be paid to the bandsmen for their services. – Yours, etc., A. Newman.

LAST WEEK'S FETE. 31st July 1925

The garden fete in aid of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association on the 23rd inst., a report of which appeared last week, realised a net profit of £39 16s. 11d., and to this must be added £2 10s. 2d., the proceeds of a dance organised by Mr. Percy Watts (Over) and Miss E. Dodson (Swavesey) for the benefit of the Association, which was held the same evening in the Memorial Hall. (List of prizewinners in the newspaper). The piano accompaniment to the children's country dances was played by Miss Vera Furniss, of Fen Drayton. The nicely-illuminated programmes were the work of some of the school children of that village.

SCHOOL TREATS. 7th Aug. 1925

The children attending the parish church and Bethel Baptist Chapel Sunday Schools had their annual summer treats on Thursday week, and as the weather was favourable, both parties spent a happy time. The church children were entertained in the Vicarage grounds and played games, etc., in an adjoining field, and the Bethel youngsters, after tea in the chapel schoolroom enjoyed themselves in a meadow lent by Mr. J. Day, one of the deacons.

WEDDING. 7th Aug. 1925

The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated at the marriage of Mr. Percy John Cartwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cartwright, and Miss Fanny Prime, daughter of Mr. Alfred Prime and the late Mrs. Prime, which was solemnized at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Prime, was attired in ivory crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossom, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern. She was attended by two bridesmaids, her cousin, Miss Grace Hepher, and Miss Daisy Cartwright (sister of the bridegroom), both of whom were in blue silk, with black hats. Their bouquets were of red carnations and fern. Mr. Frank Hayward, of Elsenham, was best man. After the ceremony about 50 guests were entertained at the Memorial Hall. The wedding presents were numerous and useful.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW. 7th Aug. 1925

Good Entries and Exhibits But Poor Weather.

SWAVESEY SOCIETY'S THIRD VENTURE.

Much of the enjoyment of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society's third annual show and sports, held on the Manor Field yesterday (Thursday), was spoilt by rain. The material results of the show, however, did not suffer much – the attendance of 1,400 or so, for instance, at least equalled the total of last year. In the afternoon the weather, although not ideal, was tolerably favourable. Rain commenced at about 6 o'clock, and increased to such a downpour that people were forced to crowd into the tents for over an hour, and marred much of the pleasure of a good show. Besides special classes, arrangements were made for 130 classes, and although no exhibits were staged in some instances the aggregate of entries was much larger than last year. Similarly, the general quality of produce this year represented a much higher standard than last – despite the less favourable season.

The judges in the show were Mr. A. T. Paskett (County Horticultural Adviser) and Mr. Geo. Hart (Willingham). In the fruit classes, apples – especially Cox's Orange Pippin, Bramley's and Beauty of Bath – made the best display. Rivers and Czars plums, too, were particularly good, while raspberries made quite a decent show considering the season. Among vegetables, both white and coloured kidney potatoes were prominent. Marrows were adjudged to be exceptional alike for their size and quality, and similar remarks were made with regard to Tripoli onions. Other vegetables classified as good included parsnips, carrots, long pod beans and globe beet. Flowers made a noteworthy display, particularly in the table decoration section.

OBITUARY. 14th Aug. 1925

After years of ill-health, the sequel of pneumonia from his devotion to duty while shepherd for the late Mr. John Kirby, of Boxworth, Mr. Samuel Kester passed away on Saturday evening. The son of the late Mr. William Kester, a well-known shepherd, Samuel Kester was born in Swavesey 65 years ago in a house in Carter's-lane, adjoining that in which he died. His earlier life was spent in Swavesey, and for 27 years he worked for Mr. Kirby at Boxworth, until 1916, when, incapacitated by ill-health, he returned to his native village. He was greatly respected and much sympathy is felt for his widow, a sister of Mr. Alfred Prime, of Swavesey, and his son and two daughters. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Swavesey Parish Church, the Vicar (the Rev. C. F. Stebbing) officiating. The mourners included Mrs. Kester (widow), Mr. and Mrs. W. Kester (only son and his wife), Miss Eliza Kester and Mrs. Stamp (daughters), Mr. and Mrs. W. Kester (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Daintree, Mrs. D. Prime, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prime, Mr. G. Hephew (brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law), Miss G. Hepher, Mr. and Mrs. A. Prime, jun. (nieces and nephew).

The polished elm coffin was covered with beautiful wreaths. Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey, was the undertaker.

SHOW AND SPORTS. 14th Aug. 1925

The third annual show and sports promoted by the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society, held on August 6th, a report of which appeared in our last issue, was a success, notwithstanding the heavy rain which interfered with the latter part of the day's proceedings. The sports programme was carried out in its entirety, but owing to the wet, concluded later than had been arranged. The "gate" amounted to £51 14s., but this drop in takings was more than compensated by an increase in the number of members, the additional subscriptions amounting to £11. The Cambridge Railway Silver Band played during the afternoon and evening and for dancing after the sports. As the time allowed for the open-air dance was necessarily limited, dancing was continued after 10 p.m. in the Memorial Hall, and was kept up until about 1 a.m. on Friday. The arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. Thurlow, and the music was supplied by Cornell's band. The dance, after all expenses had been paid, added £3 1s. 2d. to the day's takings.

(Sports results in full in the newspaper). At the close of the sports the prizes were presented by the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, who was assisted by Messrs. W. A. Bignell, C. S. Hepher, and P. J. Watts. The distribution of horticultural prizes took place on Tuesday evening.

A PLAGUE OF WASPS. 21st Aug. 1925

Swavesey just now is suffering from a plague of wasps. Men, women, children and even babies have been stung; houses and shops have been invaded, the grocers' establishments being especially happy hunting grounds for the vicious and destructive insects. Six members of one family have been among the victims. Nests are numerous. Some of them have been destroyed, but a more general and organised campaign of destruction is desirable in the interests of the community. Mr. Jethro Linford, within the past few days, has destroyed 14 out of 19 nests in his field and orchard in Gibraltar-lane, and by the time these lines appear in print the remaining five will probably have been dealt with. Dr. J. W. Ellis has also been actively engaged in the work of destruction. One nest was discovered in the wall of an old house at Boxworth End, close to the window of a bedroom.

DEATH OF MR. ZACHARIAH PARISH. 28th Aug. 1925

Funeral at Swavesey.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Zachariah Parish, for forty years a well-known and much-respected butcher at Swavesey and Cambridge market, who passed peacefully away at his residence in Parkside, St. Ives, early on Saturday morning, will be received with regret by many of our readers. A son of the late Mr. Isaac Parish, he was born in Swavesey 62 years ago, and he lived in the village until September last, when failing health necessitated his relinquishing his business, which has since been carried on by his sons, Messrs. Arthur and John Parish. Mr. Parish then removed to St. Ives. He leaves a widow, four sons and two daughters.

The funeral, which, in deference to the well-known desire of the deceased, was as simple and quiet as possible, took place at Swavesey Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, sympathising friends and old neighbours attending in large numbers notwithstanding the rainy weather. The body, enclosed in a coffin of panelled oak with brass furniture, was conveyed by motor hearse from St. Ives to Aylesford house, his old Swavesey home, whence the mourners followed on foot to the cemetery. The burial service was conducted by Mr. J. T. Wiles, of St. Ives, the hymn, "Rock of Ages," being sung at the close.

The mourners included: Mrs. Parish (widow), Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Parish, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parish, Mr. and Mrs. John Parish (sons and daughters-in-law), Mr. Bernard Parish (son), Misses Frances and Annie Parish (daughters), Mrs. J. B. Parish (daughter-in-law), Messrs. Jethro and Ephraim Parish, Manchester (brothers), Mrs. J. Parish (Bedford), Mr. and Mrs. B. Barker and Mr. Frank Barker (brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barker, Messrs. Russell Barker, A. L. Parish and R. Parish (nephews and nieces).

(long list of other mourners in newspaper)

PROPERTY SALE. 28th Aug. 1925

Mr. Cyril Watts, of St. Ives, offered by auction on Monday evening a freehold dwellinghouse in High-street, by direction of Mr. P. S. Spring. The bidding started at £250, and at £300 Mr. Dick Wilderspin, of Swavesey, became the purchaser. The sale was held at the White Horse Inn, a good company being present. Messrs. Maule, Sons, and Winter, of St. Ives and Huntingdon, were the solicitors concerned for the vendor.

DEATH OF A VISITOR. 28th Aug. 1925

Mr. Walter Thorpe, proprietor of the Golden Cross Hotel, Notting Hill, London, who was spending the week-end in Swavesey, with Mr. George Mitham, his wife's father, was taken ill on Monday morning, and despite every attention, passed away at 1 a.m. on Tuesday. Mr. Thorpe, who was 45 years of age, leaves a widow and five children, the eldest of which is about 16. The funeral will, it is understood, take place in London.

WEDDING. 4th Sept. 1925

The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated at the marriage of Mr. Percy Bertram Freestone, only son of Mrs. Freestone, of Cambridge, and Miss Rose May Seekings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Seekings, of Swavesey, which was solemnised at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. George Seekings, was charmingly attired in white crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossom. Her bouquet was of white asters and fern. She was attended by four bridesmaids, Misses Joyce and Sylvia Carter, Miss Emma Lucas (nieces of the bride), and Miss Florrie Ford. The Misses Carter wore peach marocain, with bandeaux of silver leaves, and carried baskets of pink asters, while Misses Lucas and Ford were in old gold crepe de chine; their bouquets were of bronze chrysanthemums and fern. Mr. R. Seekings (brother of the bride) was best man. A reception, numerously attended, was held after the ceremony at the Memorial Hall. The wedding presents were numerous and useful, and included a gift of blankets from the bride's fellow workers at Girton College.

CALLOUS MOTOR CYCLISTS. 4th Sept. 1925

Thomas Henry Coulson, son of Mr. James Coulson, Boxworth End, Swavesey, when cycling home from Cambridge about 10 p.m. on Thursday week, was knocked over near Girton College by a motor cycle combination, which ran over his machine. Another motor cyclist with a pillion rider, who was following, also went over the cycle, the jolt causing a large bag he was carrying to fall on to the road. The second cyclist with his companion, who stopped about 100 yards away, returned on foot to pick up the bag. Coulson was then lying on the roadside where he had fallen in a semi-conscious condition, but neither the motor-cyclist nor his companion rendered, or even offered, any assistance, and, recovering their bag, quickly disappeared from the scene. A Good Samaritan, however, soon came up in the person of Mr. Swift, of Halifax-road, Cambridge, who took Coulson and his damaged machine in his car to Cambridge, where the cycle was left, and subsequently motored him to his home in Swavesey. Coulson was badly bruised and shaken, but was fortunately able to go to his work on the following day.

REPORT ON CROPS. 4th Sept. 1925

Wheat 6 to 8 sacks per acre. Barley 5 to 8 sacks per acre. Dry weather at the end of May and June were against it. Oats 10 to 12; not much oat straw owing to the same cause as the barley. Beans and peas fairly good, beans perhaps 7 or 8 sacks per acre, peas from 6 to 8. The early drought was rather against these. The hot sun quite enough for these crops. Roots: Mangolds are fairly good where sown early, and a good plant obtained. Where sown late they did not grow very fast on account of the dry weather. These will do better if another fortnight's fine weather continues. Hay not very heavy, but most of it secured in good condition. Clover good, and most of it got well. Fruit: Plums good, and sold well on account of a scarcity in some districts. Apples abundant crop, but make very little now. – R. Mitham.

William Northill, the eight-year-old son of Mr. Walter Northill, a leading stoker in the Royal Navy at present serving on a foreign station, while playing on the main road before going to school on Friday morning was knocked down by Mr. W. Spolton's motor van, driven by Mr. G. Oakman. His left knee was injured, his face slightly cut, and he was bruised and shaken. The boy, who is going on well, appears to have run heedlessly into the van, which was proceeding slowly at the time, and no blame is attached to the driver.

NO GLEANING. 2nd Oct. 1925

In years gone by a Swavesey housewife, with the assistance of her children, could, on an average obtain two, and sometimes more, coombs of corn by

HARVEST THANKSGIVING. 2nd Oct. 1925

Preceded by a public tea, the annual harvest thanksgiving service was held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday week. The special preacher was the Rev. R. C. HOCKEY. 2nd Oct. 1925

The Swavesey and District Hockey Club played their first match of the season on Thursday week, when they entertained the Cam (Cambridge) team on Manor Field. After resuming play went in favour of the visitors, for whom Miss Clark obtained two goals and Miss Snelson one. Swavesey also captured another goal, and the game – a very pleasant one – resulted in a draw of three goals each. Misses K. Banks, S. Daintree and W. Godfrey scored for Swavesey.

PARISH COUNCIL. 2nd Oct. 1925

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. P. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, M. C. Culpin, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, P. Parish and H. Wells, with the Clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey). A letter was read from the District Council, in which it was stated that while the District Council were responsible for the footpath across Church Green, they were not responsible for the swing gate near "Brooklands" respecting the dilapidated condition of which the Parish Council had complained. The owners and occupiers of Church Green were, the letter stated, the responsible parties. The Chairman announced that Mr. R. Mitham's bill for £33 0s. 9d. had been paid, and that with this payment all his claims against the Council had been settled. A bill from the Clerk of the District Council for 7s. 6d., the cost of the uncontested Parish Council election in the spring, and another bill from Mr. S. Challis for services in connection with the fire engine, etc., were passed for payment. Mr. A. Norman, who is a member of the District Council, but not for Swavesey, brought up the question of the public drains, especially that at Turn Bridge, which, he said, had been before the District Council at two meetings, and would be further considered at the next meeting in a fortnight's time. An animated discussion ensued. Councillors protested vigorously against the large sums of money that had been wasted in recent years on the drains, which, it was alleged, had not been properly laid, and had been mismanaged and neglected. Why, it was asked, was the sump hole near Turn Bridge cottages not cleared out regularly as in former years. The flushing tank erected by order of the Ministry of Health also came in for adverse criticism, as also did the drains from both of the dumb wells at the Council houses. These wells having been dug in gault, refused to absorb the liquid sewage which overflowed into the gardens. Drains had, therefore, been put in to take the liquid away. In one case the pipes were too small, so a second drain had to be laid alongside the first set of pipes, and in the other the pipes had been forced up by the roots of trees, with the result that the drain was not acting and was emitting noxious odours. This drain was near the school. A suggestion that the old public water supply should be utilised for flushing the closed-in drain at Turn Bridge appeared to meet with general approval. The discussion did not lead to any definite proposal being made, and the matter appeared to be left in the hands of the Swavesey representatives on the District Council, one of whom was present. The councillors then sat in camera to consider the application from the Clerk for an increase in his salary as collector of the poor rate. It is understood that it was unanimously agreed that the application should be forwarded to the Board of Guardians, with a recommendation that it should be granted.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 9th Oct. 1925

The Rev. J. B. Field, the new pastor, who commenced his ministry at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Sunday, received a hearty welcome from the good congregations attending the morning and evening services. A social hour after the usual mid-week service on Wednesday evening enabled him to get into further touch with his people.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 9th Oct. 1925

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and Fen Drayton Choral Society was held on the 29th ult., very few members being present. It was, however, decided to carry on and to begin a new work. The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: President, Rev. C. F. Stebbing; chairman, Mr. E. Williams; vice-chairman, Mr. C. S. Hepher; conductor, Mr. J. W. Williams; pianist, Miss N. Mustill; secretary and treasurer, Miss D. Banks.

AN HOUR TOO SOON. 9th Oct. 1925

There were no untoward happenings in Swavesey in connection with the change from summer to winter time, though it is possible that one person omitted to put back his clock, or forgot that he had done so. The individual in question is a native of Swavesey, who has been living for some years in another part of the country. Revisiting the village last week-end, he met an old friend on Sunday morning. After a short chat he said he must go because he had been warned that dinner would be ready at 1 p.m., and he did not wish to be late. "Why, man," exclaimed the friend, "you've got over an hour yet; it's only 11.40. You evidently forgot to put back your clock."

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 9th Oct. 1925

The parish church was effectively decorated with flowers, fruit, etc., for the harvest festival on Thursday in last week. There was a celebration of Holy Communion in the early morning, and at 7.15 p.m. a large congregation assembled for evensong. This service, at which the vicar officiated, was bright and hearty, and the choir gave a creditable rendering of the anthem "O Lord, how manifold" (Barnby). The lessons were read by the Rural Dean (Rev. R. P. Moline, rector of Cottenham), and the special preacher was the Rev. Cyril Hepher, canon residentiary of Winchester. The festival was continued on Sunday, the Rev. Leonard Abbott, rector of Conington, Cambs., preaching at evensong. The collections on Thursday and on Sunday morning and afternoon were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital. The amounted to £7 9s. The collection on Sunday evening was devoted to church expenses, £2 5s. being realised. The gifts of fruit, vegetables, etc., have also been sent to Addenbrooke's, but the flowers, fruit, jam and eggs presented by the children at their service on Sunday afternoon have been forwarded, as usual, to St. Ives Infirmary for the benefit of the patients.

SWAVESEY MAN'S "FIND." 9th Oct. 1925

Bag of Valuables Picked up on Huntingdon Road.

A story comes from Swavesey of a valuable "find" by a Swavesey man on the Huntingdon-road last Saturday. Mr. Harry Holmes, labourer, of Council Houses, Swavesey, states that he found a small leather handbag containing 40 £1 Treasury notes, two gold rings, a gold watch, and a letter, which apparently had been dropped on the Cambridge – Huntingdon road near Lolworth at 12.30 p.m. on Saturday.

Holmes was cycling home from Lolworth, and when he found the bag he says that no person or vehicle was in sight. The bag was not locked, and, after examining its contents, he placed it in a bag he was carrying and continued his journey home. When near the New Inn, at the corner of the Swavesey road, a motor car containing an elderly gentleman, a lady, and a chauffeur came up from the direction of Cambridge, and after passing him, stopped.

The gentleman got out, and going up to Holmes, asked him how far he had come. Mr. Holmes answered "From Lolworth." "Have you seen a bag?" inquired the gentleman. "Yes, sir," said Holmes, "it's in my bag." The lady, who had arrived on the scene, said "That's my bag," whereupon Holmes replied that if they could describe the contents he would give it up; if not, it was his intention to take the bag to P.C. Breed at Swavesey.

The contents having been accurately described by the lady, the bag was handed to her. Then with a curt "Thank you" from both lady and gentleman, they re-entered their car and proceeded towards Fenstanton.

DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN. 16th Oct. 1925

After many years of ill-health, Mrs. Sarah Crane, wife of Mr. George Crane, Wallman's-lane, Swavesey, passed away on the evening of October 8th. Mrs. Crane, who would have attained the age of 83 years had she lived until to-day (Friday), belonged to an old Swavesey family, being the daughter of the late Mr. Isaac and Mrs. Ann Parish. She left no issue. The funeral took place at the parish church on Tuesday, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, who officiated, taking as much of the service as possible in the church in consequence of the very wet afternoon. The immediate mourners were: Mr. G. Crane (husband), Mrs. Fred Howlett, of London, Mrs. Harry Stevens, of London, and Miss Ann Parish, of Bradford, Yorks (nieces). The coffin was of polished elm, and upon it were wreaths from members of the family. Messrs. George Mitham and Sons, Swavesey, were the undertakers.

WEDDING. 16th Oct. 1925

Bethel Baptist Chapel was crowded on Thursday week for the marriage of Miss Naomi Alice Norman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norman, Trinity College Farm, Swavesey, with Mr. William Donald Chapman, son of Mr. Joseph Chapman, of Longstanton. The Rev. H. T. N. Ussher, of Blisworth, late Pastor of Bethel Chapel, officiated, assisted by the Rev. T. B. Field, the newly-appointed pastor. The service was choral, hymns "The voice that breathed o'er Eden" and "O love, divine and golden" being sung, and at the close Mr. J. W. Williams, who presided at the organ, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. George Norman, of Over, was charmingly attired in cream satin with veil and orange blossoms, and she wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and fern. She was attended by three bridesmaids, her cousin, Miss Ruth Thoday, Miss Ruth Chapman (sister of the bridegroom), and little Miss Verna Smith (niece of the bride). The two older bridesmaids were in pretty dresses of mauve crepe de chine, with black hats trimmed to match, and they carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums and smilax. The little maid wore a cream satin frock trimmed with lace, and a headband of silver leaves. She carried a basket of old rose-coloured chrysanthemums and fern. Mr. Dennis Webster acted as best man. The wedding breakfast, at which 36 guests were present, was held in Bethel Schoolroom, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Chapman left for Cromer for the honeymoon. The wedding presents were about sixty in number, and included a case of fish knives and forks from Bethel Chapel choir, a silver-plated cake basket from the Swavesey and District Hockey Club, and a table lamp from the workmen at Trinity College Farm.

Barwell (chairman) presiding over a fairly good attendance of members. The first business was the appointment of an hon. secretary in place of Mr. A. W. Melbourne, resigned. Mr. H. H. Berryman, proposed by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Frank Prior, was elected. Arrangements were made for the sale of poppies in the villages in the district on Armistice Day, and the question of the programme for the winter season was discussed. It was decided to make a start with a concert in a month's time.

DEATH OF ANOTHER OCTOGENARIAN. 23rd Oct. 1925

The news of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Howlett, widow of the late Mr. Henry Howlett, who passed away at Frere Cottages on Tuesday afternoon, after only two or three days' illness, will be received with much regret by many past, as well as many present, residents of Swavesey. Until advancing years necessitated her retirement, she was in great request in case of illness, and she assisted at the birth of many a child. Mrs. Howlett, who had attained the age of 87 years, was left a widow with a young family nearly half a century ago. Both she and her husband were natives of Balsham, leaving that village for Swavesey a few years before the death of the latter. Mrs. Howlett's maiden name was Jaggard.

MOTOR CYCLE MISHAP. 23rd Oct. 1925

Mr. S. F. Mitham, of Church End, Swavesey, whose eye was injured on Saturday by a fragment of metal, met with a further mishap on Sunday morning, when on his way to Cottenham to consult Dr. R. Ellis. As he was nearing Rampton the head of the motor cycle broke, and he was precipitated on to the road. Fortunately he was riding slowly at the time, or the consequences would have been serious. As it was his right knee was cut in four or five places and badly bruised, his arm was grazed, and he was much shaken. He managed, however, to pick himself up, and Mr. Dodd, of Cottenham, who arrived immediately after the accident, took him on his motor cycle to Cottenham, where Dr. Ellis attended to his injuries. Mr. Mitham is progressing satisfactorily, but will probably be unable to follow his employment for ten days or so.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 23rd Oct. 1925

Recognition services in connection with the settlement of the Rev. T. B. Field will be held at Bethel Baptist Chapel on Thursday next at 3.30 p.m., when the Rev. Dr. McCaig, of Spurgeon's College will preach, and at 6.30 p.m. a public meeting will be held, when Mr. A. Rhodes (Histon), will preside, and the speakers will include Dr. McCaig, Revs. R. C. Griffin (supt. of area), R. Smith (Histon), G. Bird (Over), Messrs. E. Clark and R. Eatwell (Kensal Rise). Mr. Field was pastor of Kensal Rise Tabernacle, London, for ten years, and he left last month, not because he was weary of Kensal Rise, nor that the people were weary of him, but because a sphere of less responsibility would be acceptable. During his pastorate there much was done. He found a debt of £1,915, which has almost gone; structural defects have been attended to, the organ repaired, the Sunday School library reorganised, Scouts and Girls' Life Brigade inaugurated, a Million Farthings Fund instituted, and lastly during his ministry two-thirds of the present members joined the church.

FOX RAIDS POULTRY. 30th Oct. 1925

During Sunday night, or early Monday morning, a fox raided Mr. J. Day's poultry in a field in Mow Fen, 27 hens and pullets being found dead in various parts of the field and on adjoining land. Three other birds were missing, making a total of thirty birds.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 30th Oct. 1925

Last Sunday was observed as Temperance Sunday at Bethel Baptist Church, the Pastor (Rev. T. B. Field) preaching appropriate sermons at the morning and evening services. Mr. Field proposes to preach a series of sermons on Sunday evenings on "Texts which made history." Next Sunday he will deal with the text that converted Spurgeon. A Sunday afternoon Bible Class for adults of both sexes has been commenced by the Pastor. Miss Parish is the secretary. Mrs. Field has been appointed Superintendent of the Sunday School.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. 30th Oct. 1925

At a meeting of the General Committee of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society, held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, Mr. H. Peachey presiding, the accounts and balance sheet in connection with the third annual show and sports were presented by the joint treasurers, Mr. and Mrs. C.

S. Hepher. Including the sum of £40 3s. 10d. brought forward from last year, the receipts amounted to £154 12s. 1d., and the expenditure to £106 15s. 10d. leaving a balance in the bank of £47 16s. 3d. The accounts were approved. The balance sheet has been posted in the Memorial Hall, where it can be inspected.

A NARROW ESCAPE. 30th Oct. 1925

Mr. Edward Williams had a narrow escape on Thursday week from what might have been a serious accident. On his return from delivering bread in neighbouring villages he drove into School pond about 6 p.m. to water his pony, and in the darkness failed to notice that a rail and post belonging to the Recreation Ground cricket pitch were floating on the water. The pony found himself between the rail and the post, which were firmly fixed together at right angles, and in its endeavours to get free stumbled and fell, but fortunately quickly recovered itself, and Mr. Williams was able to pull out of the pond. No damage was done to the pony, cart or harness, but there might have been another tale to tell.

THE INSTITUTE. 30th Oct. 1925

Two successful gatherings, open to members of the Institute only, have been held at the Memorial Hall within the past few days. The first was a social on Thursday week, when the members, who mustered in strong force, spent a very happy time with games, music and dancing, breaking up at 10 p.m., the usual hour for closing the Institute. On Wednesday evening there was a whist drive, ten tables being in play under the supervision of Mr. T. C. Heasman, who officiated as M.C. The prizes were won by: Ladies – Mrs. H. G. Key, Miss E. Brunton, Miss J. Pettett; gentlemen – Mr. P. Burton, Mr. G. J. Paine, Mr. J. Prewer.

B.W.T.A. 30th Oct. 1925

The first public meeting of the season of the local branch of the British Women's Temperance Association was held on Thursday week in Bethel Baptist Church, when, in spite of the rough and wet night, a goodly company assembled. Mrs. Field, the acting-president, occupied the chair, and Miss Easter presided at the organ. Mrs. J. Day (secretary) read the lesson, and recitations were ably given by Mrs. Savage and Miss Easter, and a solo by Miss Godfrey. The speaker was the Rev. T. B. Field, L.Th., who dealt with the drink question from an economical point of view, pointing out that if the vast sum spent upon alcoholic beverages could be turned in other channels it would go far to decrease unemployment and bring greater prosperity to the nation. He also advocated temperance public houses, where a man could spend an evening without the risk alcohol entails. The gathering was enthusiastic throughout, and augured well for the winter's work.

THE LATE MRS. HOWLETT. 30th Oct. 1925

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Howlett, of Frere Cottages, widow of the late Mr. Henry Howlett, whose death, at the age of 87 years, was announced last week, took place at Swavesey Parish Church on Friday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Vicar, officiating. The mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Howlett (only son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. J. Day, Trumpington (daughter and son-in-law), Mrs. Jaggard (sister), Mr. F. Bentley, Bury St. Edmund's (nephew), Mrs. Bridge, Chevington (niece), Mr. and Mrs. P. Howlett, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Howlett, Mr. B. Day, Mr. T. Howlett and Miss N. Howlett (grandchildren). The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham. – The late Mrs. Howlett was a native of Brinkley, and her husband, who pre-deceased her by 47 years, of Borough Green, and not of Balsham, as stated last week. She leaves one son and two daughters.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME. 6th Nov. 1925

A number of live pigeons enclosed in a basket, or hamper, were sent to St. Ives last week for sale in the market. On arrival the carrier was greatly perturbed to find that he had only an empty receptacle to deliver. The birds, not relishing a change of quarters, had escaped, and had flown back to Swavesey.

WHITE RIBONNERS. 6th Nov. 1925

Between 40 and 50 mothers and children spent an enjoyable hour in Bethel Schoolroom on Wednesday afternoon, on the occasion of the first meeting of the season of the Little White Ribboners' Association. Mrs. Field presided. Solos were sung by Mrs. J. Day and Miss D. Aldred, and Mrs. Savage and Miss Aldred gave excellent recitations, and three of the small members – little Mary Lee, Gladys Melbourne and George Norman – charmed the audience by their contributions to the programme. Four new members were enrolled.

CONSERVATIVE SOCIAL. 6th Nov. 1925

An enjoyable social was held in the Memorial Hall on Thursday week under the auspices of the County Conservative Association. Mr. R. Barwell, chairman of the local Association, presided. Capt. R. G. Briscoe, M.P., accompanied by Mrs. Pashler, who had been attending a meeting at Willingham, arrived during the evening, and was given a hearty reception. In his address, he spoke of the work of the Government, including housing, food, the Pensions Act, the Locarno Conference, economy, and the position of the coal industry. He concluded by warning his audience that although at the Liverpool Conference of the Labour Party it was resolved to exclude Communists from their ranks, the programme of the Labour Party was still the same as before, and it was therefore important to fight that programme with as much determination and vigour as ever. On the proposition of Mr. Walter Thorp, seconded by Mr. G. J. Paine, the Member was cordially thanked for his speech, the proposition being received with rousing cheers. During the evening, Miss Spolton provided excellent dance music, and Messrs. C. A. Birkin, J. Geeson, and S. Jones, who arrived with Mr. Light, gave an enjoyable musical and conjuring entertainment, and on the proposition of Mr. E. J. Warboys, seconded by Mr. R. Mitham, jun., all who had contributed to the programme were accorded cordial thanks. The arrangements were most capably made by Mr. Wood and Miss Beaumont and their respective committees. The proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks for the chairman, and with the singing of the National Anthem. Refreshments were served by the ladies' committee to the artistes.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH, SWAVESEY. 6th Nov. 1925

Recognition of the New Pastor.

The public recognition services in connection with the settlement of the Rev. T. B. Field, L.Th., formerly of Kensal Rise Tabernacle, London, took place at Bethel Baptist Church, Swavesey, on October 29th. The Rev. Dr. McCaig, Principal Emeritus of Spurgeon's College, preached in the afternoon to a very full congregation. Following the service a large crowd sat down to tea, during which a conference, presided over by the Pastor, took place, addresses being given by the Revs. R. C. Griffin (superintendent of the area), W. Corke (Waterbeach), and Mr. Allen (Colne).

A public meeting was held in the evening, when the spacious church was crowded in every part, friends attending in goodly numbers from Waterbeach, Over, Histon, Cambridge, Colne, Needingworth, Longstanton, Fenstanton and St. Ives. Twenty-one members of the Kensal Rise Tabernacle were also present to bid Mr. Field Godspeed.

The chair was taken by the Rev. R. Smith, of Histon, in the unavoidable absence, through illness, of Mr. A. Rhodes.

Mr. J. Day (Swavesey) detailed the reasons which led to Mr. Field coming to Swavesey, and read the following resolution which had been sent by the Kensal Rise Church: "That a minute be recorded expressing our very deep appreciation of the untiring service rendered by Mr. Field during the ten years of his pastorate, and his ready sympathy in our joys and sorrows, and his earnest zeal for the extension of the Master's Kingdom. Our earnest desire is that God's richest blessing may rest upon him and Mrs. Field, and that they may be much used for the extension of His Kingdom."

Addresses were given by the Chairman, Revs. Dr. McCaig, G. Bird (Over), Mr. Carley (Moderator of Cambs. Association), Messrs. Ealwell and Clark (Kensal Rise), and the Pastor. Telegrams and messages were received from the Revs. C. A. Linnington (London), I. Jones (March), W. H. Redfern (Great Shelford), C. F. Stebbing (vicar of Swavesey), Messrs. Gibson, Preedy, Lucas, Walters and Chattin (Kensal Rise), and A. Townsend (Ealing).

ARMISTICE DAY. 13th Nov. 1925

The commemoration of the fallen took place at the parish church at evensong on Sunday, when the Vicar read the roll of all Swavesey men who served in the war, and J. S. Arkwright's hymn, "O valiant hearts" was sung. On Armistice Day (Wednesday) the big bell of the church was tolled 26 times, the number of Swavesey men who made the supreme sacrifice, during the Two Minutes' Silence. On the front of the memorial cross in the churchyard a large wreath of laurel and poppies from the local branch of the British Legion was hung, and around the base were wreaths and flowers from relatives of the fallen. At the National School a short service, conducted by the headmaster (Mr. C. Wood) preceded and followed the period of silence. Opening with the hymn "O God, our help in ages past" and a prayer, the service included a lesson (Ecclesiasticus lxiv.), an extract from the "Pilgrim's Progress," and the poem "In Flanders Fields." An address was followed by the hymn "For all the saints," and the service concluded with the singing of "Recessional" and the National Anthem. Flanders poppies were sold in the village on Wednesday on behalf of Lord Haig's Fund by Misses D. and K. Banks, N. Mustill, Mr. Parsons, C. Prior, Q. Spolton, and L. PARISH CHURCH. 13th Nov. 1925

THE INSTITUTE. 13th Nov. 1925

The carnival dances arranged by Miss Q. Spolton for the benefit of the Institute, which was held at the Memorial Hall on the 5th inst., attracted a good number of dances. Messrs. Cornell's orchestra provided the music. The spot dance prizes were awarded to Miss Collins (Cottenham) and Mr. Grumbleby (Longstanton).

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. 13th Nov. 1925

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey Conservative Association, held on Monday evening at the National School, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. G. J. Paine; vice-president, Rev. J. F. Cooksey; chairman, Mr. R. Barwell; secretary, pro. tem., Mr. C. Wood; treasurer, Mr. S. F. Mitham; committee re-elected en bloc, with the addition of Messrs. E. Prior and R. Gleaves. It was decided that the proceeds from the recent social, at which Capt. Briscoe, M.P., was present, should be divided between the Women's and Men's Associations.

MISSING COUNCILLORS. 13th Nov. 1925

The Parish Council should have met at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening to hear the accounts read for the year ended 31st March last, to issue a precept on the overseers for money needed to meet other expenses incurred by the Council, and for other matters, but, as only three Councillors, viz., Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Mr. J. Linford (vice-chairman) and Mr. P. Burton, put in an appearance, no meeting could be held as the standing orders required a quorum of five. After waiting a considerable time in the hope that a quorum would be formed, the Chairman instructed the Clerk to call another meeting for Monday next, at 7 p.m.

FLANDERS POPPIES. 20th Nov. 1925

By the sale of Flanders poppies on Armistice Day, under the auspices of the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion, £13 2s. was raised for Earl Haigh's Fund, an increase of £2 4s. 8d. on last year, viz.: Swavesey, £7 13s. 6d., Boxworth, £2 6s., Fen Drayton, £1 7s 1d, Lolworth £1 1s., Conington 14s. 5d.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 20th Nov. 1925

The first of a series of pleasant evenings with the lantern, took place in the schoolroom attached to the Bethel Baptist Chapel on Saturday. The Rev. T. B. Field, who occupied the chair, gave the needful explanations, and Mr. Field and Mr. G. Day manipulated the lantern. Miss Easter presided at the piano. The next gathering will take place on December 5th, when the subject will be "The Pilgrims' Progress." – On Monday Mr. Gascoigne visited the Band of Hope and gave a lantern lecture, his subject being "Alcohol, a brain poison." Rev. T. B. Field presided.

PARISH COUNCIL. 20th Nov. 1925

A meeting of the Parish Council was held in the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, the following Councillors attending: Mr. J. Linford (vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. P. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, M. Culpin, R. Norman, sen., and P. Parish, with the clerk, Mr. P. Godfrey. Mr. Ernest Prior, High-street, was appointed sub-captain of the fire engine in the place of Mr. George Clarke, resigned. A discussion ensued respecting the improper treatment of the movable fence which the Council had provided at considerable expense for the protection of the cricket pitch on the recreation ground. Portions of the fence, it was stated, were lying about adjacent fields, some were in the school pond, and Councillors were reminded that, as recently reported in the "Independent Press," a rail and post floating in the pond had nearly caused a serious accident. Strong disapproval of this mal-treatment of parish property was expressed by the Council, who accepted Mr. Culpin's offer to collect the various parts and store them at the Memorial Hall. The parish Council accounts for the year ended 31st March last, which had been audited by the Government auditor, were read by the clerk, who was heartily congratulated on having succeeded in placing the accounts on a satisfactory footing. A precept was issued on the Overseers for £15, for current expenses, and a resolution confirming the appointment of Mr. Godfrey as assistant overseer and clerk to the Council was passed unanimously. This resolution was necessary, as the auditor had held that the minute of November, 1924, dealing with the appointment, was not in proper form.

FIFTY YEARS WITH ONE FIRM. 20th Nov. 1925

Mr. Walter Prior, a member of a very old Swavesey family, has recently completed fifty years of faithful service with the firm of Messrs. Crowson and Son, Charterhouse-street, in the City of London. Old villagers will remember his father, the late Mr. Philip Prior, and young and old are well acquainted with his brother, Mr. Charles Prior, of Taylor's-lane. To mark the memorable occasion, Messrs. Crowson and Son's staff were invited to a dinner and concert at the Clarence Hotel, Aldersgate-street, by the present head of the firm, Mr. Isaac Bidwell, a grandson of Mr. Isaac Crowson, who founded the business over 100 years ago. Previous to his going to London, Mr. Walter Prior worked as a lad on Mr. Crowson's farm at Needingworth, Hunts., and during his fifty years in the metropolis he served with Mr. Crowson, then with Mr. John F. Bidwell, father of the present proprietor, and for many years with Mr. Isaac Bidwell. During the evening three presentations were made, Mr. Prior receiving a gold watch, suitably inscribed, and chain, the personal gift of Mr. I. Bidwell, who presided, an arm chair from Mr. John F. Bidwell (Mr. I. Bidwell's son), and a tobacco bowl, pipe and pouch from his colleagues. In presenting the watch and chain, Mr. I. Bidwell spoke of the pleasure he felt as an employer in having a man of the character of Mr. Prior in his employ for so long a time. It was his earnest wish, he said, that all present should remain with him for a like period, and as many there that evening had been with the firm for over twenty-five years, he was proud to feel that there were others who were endeavouring to follow Mr. Prior's good example. Mr. J. F. Bidwell and fellow employees added tributes of warm and affectionate appreciation, and Mr. Prior, in responding, said it was his sincere desire to continue to serve the firm as long as he was able.

WEDDING. 20th Nov. 1925

Peacock – Goad.

Stretham parish church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on the 10th inst., the bride being Miss Lilian Goad, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goad, of Chittering, and late of Swavesey, and the bridegroom Mr. Arthur Bertram Peacock, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Peacock, Addington House, Wimblington, Cambs. The Rev. S. S. Stitt, rector of Stretham, officiated, and the service was choral, the hymns, "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden" and “Lead us, Heavenly Father, lead us” being sung, and Mr. E. Swann, who presided at the organ, played Mendelssohn’s Wedding March as the bridal party left the church. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a charming dress of white silk georgette, trimmed with silver, with veil and wreath of real orange blossom from Kew Gardens. Her bouquet was of white roses and heather. Her bridesmaids, Miss Edith M. Peacock (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Irene Jacobs (cousin of the bride), were attired in pink silk georgette, trimmed with gold. They wore gold signet rings, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried bouquets of gold chrysanthemums. Mr. F. D. Peacock (brother of the bridegroom) was best man. A TARRED BRIDGE. 27th Nov.

A correspondent writes; One of the corner coping stones of Turn Bridge received a thick coating of tar last week-end, and, it is understood that the clothing of more than one person suffered in consequence. The bridge, notwithstanding the unpleasant odours which are not unknown to proceed from the drain running underneath, has for many a long year been a favourite loitering place for conversation and meditation; and whether the tar was intended to act as a preservation of the stone, or to discourage loitering at that particular spot, it is felt that it was hardly a proper method to use, especially as on these dark nights pedestrians hurrying home or to their place of worship were liable to suffer.

DEATH OF QUEEN ALEXANDRA. 27th Nov. 1925

The first news of the death of Queen Alexandra reached Swavesey by wireless on Friday evening, and was received with universal expressions of sincere sorrow and regret. On Sunday references to the sad event were made both at the parish church and Bethel Baptist Chapel. At the evening service at church, the Vicar prefaced his sermon with words of appreciation of the noble life of the dead queen, and of sympathy with her family, special prayers were said, hymns appropriate to the occasion were sung, and after the Blessing the organist (Mr. G. H. Skeeles) played the Dead March in "Saul", the congregation standing. At Bethel Chapel, at the commencement of the morning service, the Rev. F. W. Savidge, a missionary from India, after expressing sympathy with the royal family, spoke of the example Queen Alexandra had set her people, and of the great influence for good that she had exerted throughout the sixty and more years she had lived in this country. The pastor, who officiated at the evening service, also made mention of Queen Alexandra in a prayer.

CHORAL SOCIETY. 4th Dec. 1925

The Swavesey and Fen Drayton Choral Society has had to close down owing to lack of support, and the money in hand, amounting to £1 1s., has been sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital. It is hoped, however, notwithstanding the break-up of the society, to arrange for the singing of carols in the village streets at Christmas as in previous years.

ACCIDENT. 4th Dec. 1925

Mr. Prime Godfrey, haulage contractor and assistant overseer, met with an accident on Monday morning, when on his way to see after one of his traction engines which had been held up between Swavesey and Fen Drayton, owing to the slippery condition of the road. When near "The Priory" the push bicycle he was riding skidded, and he was thrown violently on to the ice-covered road, where he lay stunned. Messrs. C. Prior and G. Hepher, District Council roadmen, who were near by, went to his assistance, and after a time he recovered sufficiently to be able to return home. Mr. Godfrey, in addition to shock, sustained a nasty cut on his forehead, and his left arm and shoulder were badly bruised. He is progressing satisfactorily under the care of Dr. J. W. Ellis.

Swavesey has lost one of its oldest inhabitants by the death of Mrs. Lydia Webster, who passed away shortly before noon on Monday, at "The Elms," the residence of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Day, sen. Mrs. Webster, who would have attained the great age of 90 years had she lived until the 1st January next, had been in failing health for some time. She was a daughter of the late Mr. James Radford, miller and baker, and widow of the late Mr. Fisher Webster, miller, both well-known parishioners of Swavesey. She is survived by a son and two daughters. The funeral took place at Swavesey Cemetery yesterday (Thursday).

SKATING. 4th Dec. 1925

SKATING IN FULL SWING AT SWAVESEY. 4th Dec. 1925

Skating is in full swing at Swavesey, where the ice is in good condition. Despite the somewhat foggy night, skaters were out in force on Thursday, and the sport was kept up till well past midnight. This (Friday) morning there were again many on the ice, making the most of the opportunity that the recent severe weather has given them.

The local races which had been arranged for to-day (Friday) did not take place owing to the fact that the necessary length of course could not be obtained. Mere Fen, where the skating is taking place, is at present only partially flooded, but the owner is contemplating flooding the whole of it before Christmas if the height of the river will allow.

He leaves a widow, a daughter of the late Mr. John Eason, of Swavesey, but no children. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) at Harrow. Mr. Hodson was the third son of Mr. John Hodson, of Church End, Swavesey. He left the village about 23 years ago for Thorrington, Sussex, where he was in business as a butcher, removing after a few years to Lancing. Here he established a butcher's business, which proved most successful. Latterly his health failed, and he passed away on Monday evening, aged 48. He leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters.

SALE OF WORK AND CONCERT. 18th Dec. 1925

Both as an agreeable social function and as a means of raising money towards the repair of the church roof, the sale of work and concert, held in the Memorial Hall on Thursday week, was a great success. The hall presented a most attractive appearance with a large and beautifully decorated Christmas tree in the centre, surrounded by well supplied stalls and competitions of an attractive nature. The proceedings commenced at 3 p.m., when the Vicar introduced Miss Hair, of Willingham, who had kindly come to open the sale in the absence of her mother through illness. There was a large attendance, and business was brisk throughout the afternoon. Tea was served at small tables, to the accompaniment of an attractive programme of piano music. A novelty deserving special mention was a needlework competition, prizes for which were awarded by public voting. The prize winners were: Miss L. Beaumont (sewing), Miss K. Banks (knitting) and Miss M. Stebbing (junior section). During the evening there was a most enjoyable concert, when the room was crowded with an appreciative audience. Owing to illness several of the expected performers were unable to be present, and their places were kindly taken at the last moment by local amateurs. Those taking part in the programme were: Mr. H. S. Turner (St. Ives), Mrs. C. S. Hephew, Miss E. Dodson, Miss N. Mustill, Mr. R. Barwell and Mr. E. Williams, while the concluding item was an amusing sketch, entitled "Jackets," in which the characters were taken by Misses Cole, E. Dodson, Paine, and D. and K. Banks. The amount added to the Repair Fund is expected to be nearly £30.

FIGHT IN PUBLIC HOUSE. 25th Dec. 1925

Swavesey Man Given Benefit of "Doubtful Doubt."

DRINK IN UNPERMITTED HOURS.

An unusual story of a fight between a Swavesey publican and another Swavesey man was unfolded to the Cambs. Divisional Bench on Saturday, when Herbert Henry Moyne, of the White Horse, Swavesey, appeared to answer to two summonses. The first was that of being unlawfully drunk on his licensed premises on the 7th inst., and the second of supplying intoxicating liquor between the hours of 10 p.m. on Sunday, the 6th, and 2 a.m. on Monday, the 7th., to James Kester.

The principal witness was a police constable, who was carried into court on a stretcher, owing to having accidentally broken his leg. He gave his evidence in a sitting position.

After hearing the evidence, the magistrates dismissed the first case and convicted the second.

Major Papworth appeared for the defendant, and pleaded not guilty.

P.C. Breed said that at 1.10 a.m. on the 7th inst. he heard a report similar to that of a gun. At 1.20 a.m. he saw a light showing from the doorway of the White Horse. He went to the door and listened, and heard voices. Defendant said, "I am dry." Witness tried the door and it was locked. He knocked and got no answer. He went to the back gate, but could not open it. He went to the front door again, but heard no voices. Witness went home. About 2 a.m. in his yard not far away he heard a voice which he recognised as James Kester's. Witness then went again to the White Horse and tried the front door. It was still locked. He went to the back gate, and it opened quite easily. When witness got into the yard he could see the back door wide open, with lights shining in the house. He entered the house and saw the defendant in the kitchen, lying on the couch on his left side. He was fast asleep and blood was running from his nose and mouth. He searched other rooms, but could not see anyone else in the house. Witness aroused the defendant, and asked what was the matter. Defendant said "Nothing." Witness said, "Who have you had in here to-night?" and defendant said "No one." When asked about his face, defendant said, "It is only an old abscess." Witness suggested that defendant had been fighting, and that someone had hit him. Defendant denied that he had anyone in the house since ten o'clock. Witness got defendant to get up to look at his face, but he fell forward on to the kitchen table. Defendant said the looking glass was in the bar parlour, and eventually walked into the bar parlour, keeping himself up with his hands against the walls as he went. When he saw his face in the glass he said "Oh, my God!" Against the fireplace was a very old muzzle-loading gun. Witness questioned defendant about the gun, and then asked him about his sporting gun. Defendant said the latter was in the kitchen. Witness took hold of his arm and went back to the kitchen with him, but could not find the gun. Defendant again denied having anyone in the house, and witness pointed out that there were two glasses lying broken in the tap room on the floor. Witness showed defendant the glasses, but defendant insisted that there was only one. Witness told defendant that he was so drunk that he did not know what he was saying or doing. Defendant said, "I'm not. I'm quite all right." Defendant then put some of the lights out, and witness held his shoulder whilst he turned the last down. Then defendant went to a cellar and knocked two wind-pegs into two barrels. As he came out he rubbed his back against the wall for fear of falling down. Later defendant said his gun should be on the couch, and if it was not someone had taken it. Witness advised him to go to bed, but defendant said, "No, I am going to have my supper. I have been so busy that I have not had time to have any supper, and I've had 14 to dinner." Witness said, "Never mind supper, go to bed," but defendant said, "No, I've got a chicken in here, and I'm going to have a piece of that." Defendant got part of a fowl from a cupboard, took it into the taproom, and lit a lamp in the room to have his supper. Witness left about 3.30 a.m. Witness went to the house at 12.20, when defendant made a statement that two men came to his back door at 10.15 p.m. on the night of the 6th inst., and demanded drinks. He refused them, and one hit him in the face; the second also struck him. He hit them both and knocked them out of the gate, and closed and locked the door. Defendant also said that several in the house saw these two men, including Harry Nightingale and James Kester. Defendant refused to sign the statement. At 3.15 p.m. on the same day witness again saw the defendant about the two men. Defendant could not supplement his statement and witness later saw Harry Nightingale. At 9.40 p.m. witness visited the White Horse, had a look through and came out. At 10.15 p.m. he again called on the defendant and said he could not get anything about the two men. Defendant said he could not give witness any further information. Witness was quite sure that he was drunk when he went in first.

Cross-examined by Mr. Papworth, witness said that he did not think that defendant's injuries were such that it made him lie on the couch.

James Kester, of Swavesey, an agricultural labourer, said that he visited the White Horse, Swavesey, about 7.15 p.m., when there were only two in the house. He was in the house until ten o'clock, during which time they had "several cheap pints" of beer, which Mr. Moyne brought in, and at ten o'clock asked witness to stay. Defendant closed the door and took witness to the spirit bar and fetched a bottle of gin. Each had a drink, and the glasses were filled again with gin, which was also consumed. Then defendant said to witness, "I've heard a lot of talk about you, Jimmy. Now I've got you here alone, I'll just show you what I can do with you." Defendant began sparring about and then they stopped. He called witness into the spirit bar, and while they were talking he knocked witness backwards on the bricks. He also collared witness's arm, saying he was a ju-jitsu man, and could easily knock him out. Witness said "You can't put me out at all."

"Then we had another little duel," said witness, "and then he got a gun from somewhere and said, 'I'll shoot you, you -----.'" I said, 'Don't be foolish, Bert.' I secured the gun and just as I got hold of it with the muzzle behind my head he shot the gun off. I took the gun away, and defendant ran for a mallet, and said he'd knock my brains out with it. I knocked the mallet from his hand and asked him to let me go home. I went outside in the back yard with the gun, and Moyne followed me out. He tripped me up in the back yard, and as my head hit the bricks, half stunning me, he collared me by the throat, held me there while I became almost unconscious, and eventually I got him off and found myself in a semi-conscious condition in conflict with someone, and when I came round, I saw Moyne lying on the bricks with a bruised eye and his nose bleeding. He had taken the gun and I got it again. I took it home with me. I went to see him on Monday morning, and he asked me what two men I met in the night. I told him there was no one there except he and myself, and he said, 'For God's sake don't say anything about it.' He gave me a pint or two of beer, and I told him it was no good him repenting for his own stupidity. He told me he had told the police a '----- good yarn,' had said that I was not there, and had set them looking for two men they would never find.

Questioned by Supt. Allen, witness said that at 10 o'clock "you might say that defendant was drunk."

What was his condition when you left him? – He was helpless all round.

Up to the time defendant had fired the gun had you struck him? – No.

Cross-examined by Mr. Papworth, witness said he went to the house most days. His son worked for defendant, and witness had supplied defendant with vegetables. He did not pay for the gin he had. Witness admitted that he was a pretty good pugilist.

Sergt. Keep, of Over, said that at 9.45 p.m. on Monday, 7th inst., he asked defendant for particulars of the men who had attacked him. Defendant said, "They are not Swavesey men. Don't bother any more about it." He denied that there was anyone in the house up to 2 a.m. On the 12th December he saw Kester with marks on his throat.

Giving evidence on oath, defendant admitted that Kester and he had two drinks of gin each after ten o'clock. He denied having "a set to." The gun was loaded with a blank cartridge, and it was fired by defendant. Kester gave him the black eye and made the blood flow. He told the police the story about two men assaulting him because he wanted to shield Kester, because of his wife and children. Two men did come to the house about 10.15 p.m., but defendant refused to serve them. He had suffered for some time from the injuries inflicted by Kester. P.C. Breed had found him in a dazed condition, and he was not responsible then for what he said. He was then practically knocked out. He did not realise he had been so knocked about until P.C. Breed showed him his face. The injuries were not caused through him being the worse for drink.

Cross-examined by Supt. Allen, defendant said that during the evening up to ten o'clock he only had three glasses of beer. After ten he had two glasses of gin with water. He thought that the constable in his evidence was under a misapprehension. He supplied the gin to Kester as a guest. Kester was a customer before ten o'clock, and afterwards defendant turned him into a guest. Bert Walker, a chimney sweep, of Swavesey, said he went into the White Horse about 7.30 in the evening, and defendant was perfectly sober when witness left at 9.50 p.m.

Percy Henry Lee, manager for defendant's fishmonger business, said that he assisted in the White Horse. On the evening in question, at 7 o'clock, defendant was perfectly sober. The next day, the 7th inst., defendant looked ill and dazed.

Cross-examined by Supt. Allen, witness spoke of hearing men wrangling in the public-house and a gun go off. When witness entered the house the next morning defendant had small cartridges in a coat pocket.

At this stage the Court adjourned.

After the adjournment, Mr. Papworth said he had considered the matter, and had decided not to call any further witnesses.

Mr. Papworth then addressed the Court, and said it was for the magistrates to decide whether it was a bona fide case of Moyne asking Kester to stop as a guest.

The magistrates retired, and on their return the Chairman said that in this case of supplying intoxicating liquor the magistrates had decided to convict.

Mr. Papworth then addressed the magistrates on the first case, and said that the magistrates had to decide whether defendant was suffering from the ill-effects of the blows received or drink. He thought that if the magistrates had any reasonable doubt as to the man being drunk, then defendant should have the benefit of the doubt.

The magistrates again retired, and on their return the Chairman said that in the first case the magistrates had decided to give the defendant the benefit of a rather doubtful doubt, but they considered his conduct in fighting was extremely reprehensible, and they were sorry to see a man in his position guilty of it. In the second case, defendant would be fined £5 and 10s. witness's fee.

By the kindly thought of the headmaster and his staff, assisted by two or three friends, the children attending the National School were given a treat on the afternoon of Wednesday week, on the occasion of the breaking-up for the Christmas holidays. Unfortunately many children were kept away through sickness, but those who were there had a very happy time. Parents were invited to be present, and a few attended, together with the Vicar and Mr. A. L. Parish, representing the managers. Games of various kinds, musical chairs, etc., having been enjoyed, at 3 o'clock loud knocking was heard at the door, and Santa Claus (Mr. C. Wood, jun.) appeared wearing the traditional apparel. On his back he carried a large bag, which being opened was found to contain presents for every child, those absent through sickness not being forgotten. Oranges and apples were also distributed. Before separating, Mr. T. C. Heasman called for cheers for the headmaster and the assistant teachers, which were given most lustily by the youngsters. It is understood that the presents in Santa Claus' sack were provided by the headmaster and his staff, and the oranges and apples by the headmaster and Mr. Heasman.

Ingram Bryan, who gave an interesting account of his work in Japan and of the life, customs, etc., of the people. The proceeds from the tea and of a collection taken after the lecture were in aid of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. This annual parochial gathering, which, until two years ago, was known as the "Missionary tea," was established in 1872, when the late Canon Henry Isaac Sharp was vicar, and it has been held every year since, except in 1918 and 1919, when war-time food restrictions were in force. ICE AND SNOW. 22nd Jan. 1926

As Mere Fen was completely flooded, it was hoped by skating enthusiasts that last week's frost would have resulted in a splendid stretch of ice, but unfortunately for them snowstorms intervened and spoiled the surface. On Saturday and Sunday, however, a number of skaters ventured on Mere Fen, several of whom had a wetting through the ice giving way. One unfortunate gentleman, who is believed to have come from a distance, is reported to have "got in up to his neck" on Saturday, and must have spent an uncomfortable time in his dripping clothes while waiting for his train at Swavesey railway station.

A NEWSPAPER INTRODUCTION. 22nd Jan. 1926

The "Independent Press" has recently been the means of bringing two natives of Swavesey together in Australia. A member of the crew of a liner, which arrived in Sydney harbour not many weeks ago, was walking along the quay, when he passed a man who was reading the "Independent Press." Turning back he asked the reader if he was a Cambridgeshire man. "Yes," was the prompt response, "I am. Are you?" Receiving a reply in the affirmative, he enquired: "From what part do you come?" "From Cambridge," said the sailor man, "but I was born in Swavesey." "So was I," said the possessor of the newspaper, "Who's your father?" "Charles Rose," quoth the seafarer. "And I am John Williams' son Ezra," said the other, "Come along with me." The sailor went, and received a most hospitable welcome. Mr. E. Williams, who left Swavesey for Australia about twenty years ago, is in business in Sydney. He keeps in touch with the old country by having the "Independent Press" sent to him every week.

CHURCH MEETING. 22nd Jan. 1926

The annual parochial church meeting was held at the National School on Tuesday evening. In opening the proceedings the Vicar (Rev. C. F. Stebbing) who presided, thanked all church workers, and especially the churchwardens and the Church Council for their help and co-operation during the past year. In presenting the church expenses accounts, Mr. C. F. Banks (churchwarden) said that, although they had begun the year with a deficit of £5, he was pleased to report that they had concluded it with a balance in hand of £15 5s. 5d., the collections, etc., having amounted to £115 2s. and the expenditure to £99 16s. 7d. In addition £42 6s. had been collected for special purposes. Mr. R. Barwell reported that £550 0s. 8d. stood to the credit of the Church Repair Fund, and that the greater part of this sum was invested in War Bonds, etc., and was earning interest. The "Duplex," Missionary and Thrift Club accounts were also presented. All accounts having been passed unanimously, it was decided that the budget for 1926 should be the same as for 1925 so far as the total amount required was concerned, though there were alterations in regard to one or two items. The election of the Church Council then took place with the following result: Representatives to the Ruri-Decanal Conference, Messrs. R. Barwell and R. Mitham, sen. (re-elected); church councillors *Mrs. Banks, *Mrs. Cooksey, Mr. C. S. Hephew, *Miss L. Beaumont, *Mr. G. J. Paine, *Mr. S. F. Mitham, elected, *Mrs. John Smith not elected (*members of the old council. Last year's sidesmen were re-appointed with the exception of Mr. H. D. Froment, who has left the parish, and whose place was taken by Mr. A. C.

Garner, Mr. J. T. Daintree was appointed an additional sidesman. Before the meeting closed Mr. Walter Thorp called attention to a grave in the churchyard which, he complained, was out of line with other graves and encroached on an old grave.

He was conveyed to the hospital in the Police Ambulance.

ENTERTAINMENT. 29th Jan. 1926

There was a crowded house at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening for the entertainment given by Sydney Maltby's Concert Party, under the auspices of the Swavesey Institute Committee, which had been postponed from the 15th inst. on account of the inclement weather. The long programme, carried through with commendable promptitude and without an interval, included songs by Messrs. Tom Dean and C. Brown sung most excellently, clever ventriloquial and conjuring tricks by Mr. F. Tuck, humorous ditties by Messrs. Maltby and B. Fordham, all keenly appreciated by the audience, as also were the items contributed by Miss M. Brinkley, humorist, at the piano. Mr. H. Harrison and Miss Brinkley were the accompanists. All the performers were in the best of form, and the entertainment went with a swing from start to finish, practically every item being encored. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the party on the proposition of Mr. Walter Thorp, seconded by Mr. H. H. Berryman.

PARISH COUNCIL. 29th Jan. 1926

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, the following councillors being present: Mr. J. Linford (vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. P. Burton, M. C. Culpin, R. Norman, sen., P. Parish and H. Wells, with the clerk, Mr. P. Godfrey. Arising out of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Culpin reported that all the pieces of the movable cricket fence that could be found had been collected from the Recreation Ground, the school pond, and adjacent fields, and had been stored on the parish property in High-street. A discussion followed, in course of which it was stated that not half of the fence had been recovered, and the councillors expressed strong disapproval of the way in which the fence, which was the property of the parish, and had cost £26 10s. only five or six years ago, had been treated. "It's a scandalous shame," said one councillor, while another added that it should be distinctly understood that a fresh fence would not be provided by the Council. Eventually the Vice-Chairman proposed that notices inviting tenders for the purchase of the remnants should be posted in the village, and that the money realised should be paid into the Recreation Ground account. The proposition was seconded by Mr. Wells, and carried unanimously. Messrs. E. J. Shepperson (the present constable), J. J. Marriott, B. Hodson and G. Burling having been nominated as persons eligible to serve as parish constables during the ensuing year, the Council considered the question of the iron lamp-post at the junction of High-street and Taylor's-lane, which had recently been damaged by a motor car. As it was understood that the driver of the car had intimated his willingness to pay for the repair of the post, Messrs. P. Burton, Culpin and P. Parish were authorised to assess the damage, after which the Clerk was instructed to communicate with the motorist.

DEATH OF AN EX-SERVICE MAN. 5th March 1926

Mr. Thomas Cadwallader Thompson, who for the past few years has been residing in one of the Council Houses at Swavesey, was taken ill at Cambridge railway station about 9 a.m. on Thursday week, and was unconscious when removed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, in which condition he remained until his death shortly after 11 p.m. on Saturday. Mr. Thompson, who was 46 on the day he was stricken down, had been with the firm of Messrs. Rees, Dawson and Co., Jewin-street, London, E.C., for 27 years, and he was on a journey as their representative on Thursday week. During the war he served in France, first with the London Irish Rifles and later with Queen Victoria Rifles. For some time he was in hospital at Cayeux suffering from gas and shell shock, which, there is reason to believe, was directly or indirectly the cause of his illness, as his health, which prior to the war was excellent, had since been far from satisfactory. He leaves a widow, one daughter and three sons, for whom much sympathy is felt. The funeral took place at Swavesey parish church yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

THE NORTHERN LIGHTS. 12th March 1926

The brilliant Aurora Borealis on Tuesday caused somewhat of a sensation in the village. One resident was confident that something serious was alight in the district for he was sure he could smell fire, and another motoring home from Cambridge hurried off towards Huntingdon, under the impression that there was a big conflagration in that direction. The "lights," however, faded away before he had gone very far on his journey, and he gave up the quest.

THE LATE MR. T. C. THOMPSON. 12th March 1926

A large congregation attended the funeral at Swavesey parish church on March 4th, of Mr. Thomas Cadwallader Thompson, a report of whose death appeared in our last issue. The Rev. C. F. FOOTBALL. 19th March 1926

GRANSDEN CUP – Semi-Final.

Bassingbourn 2, Swavesey 1.

Played at Bassingbourn on Saturday, Swavesey opened strongly, and after ten minutes' play Oakman steered the ball through a crowd of players into the net. Bassingbourn then settled down, and following a scrimmage in front of the Swavesey goal one of the visitors' defenders had the misfortune to put through his own goal. Shortly afterwards R. Godfrey, the Swavesey left back, had to be assisted off the field owing to a badly damaged ankle. Bassingbourn attacked strongly and Swavesey were forced to concede a corner, following which Kefford then put the home team ahead.

Bassingbourn set a hot pace in the second half, and Unwin made many fine saves. A little feeling then crept into the game, and stoppages for fouls were frequent; Bassingbourn were the worst offenders in this respect. Swavesey were handicapped with having only four forwards, and could not make much headway. The defence, however, held out, and in spite of many determined attacks on their goal no further scoring took place. Both teams, after a hard game, finished up with ten men.

MUSICAL SUCCESS. 26th March 1926

As will be seen from the report of the Cambs. Festival of Music, which will be found in another column, the Swavesey Orchestral Class, conducted by their instructor, Mr. R. B. Hurry, Mus.Bac., was placed first in the competition for village orchestras.

PRIMITIVE METHODISTS. 26th March 1926

Preceded by an excellent tea, an admirable rendering of the service of song, "Rufus and Joe," was given at the Primitive Methodist Chapel on Thursday week by the St. Ives Sisterhood Choir, whose training reflected great credit on Mrs. Corlett. The narrative was read by the Rev. R. T. Corlett. There was a large attendance from Over and Swavesey, both at the tea and the service of song, and expressions of regret and sympathy were general at the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright, two mainstays of the Primitive Methodist cause in Swavesey, through the serious illness of the former.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th March 1926

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, the following Councillors attending: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. P. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, J. Linford, A. Norman, R. Norman, P. Parish and H. Wells, with the clerk, Mr. P. Godfrey. Arising out of the minutes, the clerk read correspondence he had had with the Anglo-American Oil Co., respecting the broken lamp post at the junction of High-street and Taylor's-lane, and reported that he had received a cheque for £4 in settlement of the Council's claim. It was later decided that the damaged post should be sold. Various accounts, amounting in all to £7 19s. 6d., having been passed for payment, the Councillors proceeded to discuss the village pound, a wall of which was reported to have fallen down. One Councillor was of opinion that a pound was not needed, and another suggested that it should be sold. Mr. A. Norman, who thought it was not worth spending the money on, proposed that the question of rebuilding the wall should be left in abeyance for a time. Mr. Cole seconded, and the proposition was carried. A further proposition, moved by Mr. Wells, and seconded by Mr. R. Norman, that the gate should be kept locked to prevent animals straying through to the gardens beyond was also carried. Before the meeting closed the Council agreed that the herbage of the recreation ground should be let by auction when the herbage of the droves and by-ways was let by direction of the District Council (This took place yesterday (Thursday) evening).

DROVE LETTING. 2nd April 1926

Prospective bidders and other interested parishioners assembled at the White Horse inn on Thursday in last week for the annual letting of the herbage of the parish droves, etc., and of the recreation ground, which had been announced by notices posted in the village and by the public crier to take place on that evening, but no auctioneer put in an appearance, and, therefore, the letting had to be postponed. It subsequently transpired that the auctioneer's absence was due, through an unfortunate misunderstanding, to his not having received definite instructions from the District Council, and it was announced that the letting would take place at the White Horse at 7 p.m. on Thursday, 1st April.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 2nd April 1926

The Band of Hope celebrated its anniversary on Monday, the Rev. T. B. Field presiding, supported by Rev. E. F. Blackaby, of Willingham, who gave an able address. Miss Easter read the annual report, which showed that the membership stood at 55, and that 23 meetings had been held during the session, with an average attendance of 50. Recitations were given by Joyce Melbourne, W. Wright, E. Dodson and Gwen Dodson, and a solo by Miss Aldred. A reward was given to Thora Jacklin for being present at every meeting during the session. Several choruses were rendered by the members. The Society will recommence its gatherings in October next.

B.W.T.A. 2nd April 1926

The annual meetings of the Swavesey branch of the British Women's Temperance Association were held on Thursday week in the Bethel Schoolroom. The business meeting took place at 4 p.m., Mrs. Aldred presiding. Mrs. Day (secretary) reported that the branch consisted of 54 members, 6 associates and 52 little white ribboners, and that five meetings had been held during the year. Mrs. Canham (treasurer) read the balance sheet, which showed an income of £4 5s. 7d., expenditure £3 0s. 7d., leaving a balance in hand of £1 5s. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. T. B. Field; vice-president, Mrs. Aldred; treasurer, Mrs. Canham; secretary, Mrs. J. Day; junior secretary, Miss Easter; who with the following ladies will form the executive: Mesdames A. Norman, Smith, Godfrey, sen., W. Savage, Samuel Wright, Melbourne, W. Coulson, Misses H. Dodson, I. Spearman and D. Godfrey. A resolution of sympathy was passed with Mrs. S. Wright on account of her husband's severe illness. A well provided and attended tea followed, after which the Schoolroom was well filled for a public meeting, presided over by the Rev. G. Bird (Over), and addresses by Revs. E. P. Blackaby (Willingham) and T. B. Field. Mrs. Spearman read an excellent report of the recent conference at Cambridge.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. H. Asplin and Mr. D. Webster, of Over, which were much enjoyed.

At the vestry and parochial church meeting held under the tower of the parish church on Monday, Mr. C. F. Banks and Mr. H. Wells were re-elected churchwardens for the ensuing year. There was no other business.

HERBAGE OF DROVES AND RECREATION GROUND. 9th April 1926

Under instructions from the District Council, the annual letting by auction of the herbage of the Swavesey droves and roadsides took place on the 1st inst in the Club Room at the White Horse inn. Last year the droves, etc., realised £12 2s. 6d., the smallest amount on record, and this year they brought in only two shillings more, £12 4s. 6d., about half the amount they realised in pre-war days. In 1885 they were let for £46. The herbage of the recreation ground, which was also offered by direction of the Parish Council, realised £2 17s. 6d. against £3 in 1925. Messrs. Underwood, Willingham, were the auctioneers.

PARISH CHURCH. 9th April 1926

The services at the parish church on Good Friday were as follows: Matins and Ante-Communion 10.30 a.m., addresses on "The Seven Words" by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey 1 – 3 p.m., evensong and sermon 6.30 p.m. On Easter Day there were celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6, 7.30 and 11.15 a.m. (choral), matins 10.30 a.m., and evensong 6.30. The services on both days were well attended, a large congregation being present at evensong on Sunday, when the choir gave an excellent rendering of the anthem "Christ being raised from the dead." The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers for the festival. The collections on Sunday were, in accordance with custom, an Easter gift for the Vicar.

DEATH OF MR. JONAS WILLIAMS. 9th April 1926

The Wheatsheaf Lodge, L.O.A.S., has lost its oldest member by the death of Mr. Jonas Williams, who passed away on April 1st at 84, Ainsworth-street, Cambridge, after a brief illness following on a long period of failing health. Had he lived until April 12 he would have attained the great age of four score and ten. Mr. Williams, who left Swavesey for Cambridge about 35 years ago, was the eldest son of the late Mr. Edward Williams, parish clerk of Swavesey, an office that has been held without break by successive members of the family since about the year 1818. He leaves five sons and three daughters. The funeral took place at Mill-road Cemetery, Cambridge, on Tuesday afternoon.

CRICKET MEETING. 9th April 1926

It having been found impracticable to run a village Cricket Club and also a club in connection with the local branch of the British Legion, a further meeting of Swavesey cricketers was held on Wednesday week, at which it was agreed to rescind the proceedings at the meeting held in February, and to run one club. Capt. Briscoe, M.P., was re-elected president, the vice-presidents previously chosen being also re-elected with the addition of Mr. W. A. Bignell and Mr. W. Dodson. Other officers were appointed as follows: Captain 1st eleven, Mr. C. Wood; vice-captain, Mr. R. Barwell; captain 2nd eleven, Mr. D. Williams; vice-captain, Mr. F. Aldred; hon. sec., Mr. F. Aldred; assist. sec., Mr. J. A. Salmon; committee, Messrs. S. Clark, A. C. Hephher, F. Hephher, S. F. Mitham, A. P. Payne, B. Prime, R. Seekings; umpires, Mr. J. Culpin (1st eleven) and Mr. A. Payne (2nd eleven). It was decided that the first eleven should be entered for the Turner (Hunts.) League and Cambs. Junior Cup competitions, and the 2nd eleven for the Milton and District League.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 9th April 1926

Easter-tide was a very busy time at Bethel Baptist Church. On Good Friday a social tea took place in the Schoolroom, at which 70 persons sat down, after which a praise service was held in the church, led by the Pastor, the Rev. T. B. Field. Following this a service was conducted by the Rev. G. Bird, of Over, who preached an excellent sermon upon the "Kingship of Christ." On Sunday special Easter hymns were sung. The Pastor preached at both services, the church being quite full in the evening. Mr. Eatwell, from London, gave a good address at the Young People's service in the afternoon. On Monday a very successful sale of work was opened by Mr. Eatwell in a very cheery speech. The object of the sale was to provide funds for the renovation of the premises and £35 was secured as the result of the day's efforts. During the day three sacred concerts were given under the leadership of the organist, Mr. J. W. Williams, the artistes being: Misses Joan Williams, Vida and Winnie Parish, Mrs. Aldred, Miss D. Aldred, Miss Aldred, Mrs. Asplin (Over), Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Field, Miss Coulson, Miss Godfrey, Messrs. Aldred, S. Godfrey, J. W. Williams, D. Webster (Over) and Canham. The choir also sang several choruses. Every item was enthusiastically encored. Some of the items will be rendered again on Sunday next. Mrs. Stebbing and Mrs. Banks were present, with many others at the opening of the sale.

FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 16th April 1926

The annual collection of eggs in Swavesey for the use of patients in Addenbrooke's Hospital, which has been made by Misses D. Aldred, M. Coulson, N. Mustill, V. and W. Parish, B. Savage, and L. Thurlow, resulted in 1,420 being sent to the Secretary-Superintendent, from whom a letter of grateful acknowledgment has been received.

WHIST DRIVE. 16th April 1926

Notwithstanding counter attractions sixteen tables were occupied at the whist drive, organised by Mrs. H. H. Berryman and Mrs. E. J. Mitham in aid of Swavesey parish church repair fund, which was held at the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening. The prizewinners were: Ladies – Mr. B. Prior, Miss Stebbing, Mrs. H. Burling, booby Miss D. Pettett; gentlemen – Mr. C. Savage, Mr. A. Searle, Mr. R. Mustill, booby Mr. H. Burling. Mr. S. F. Mitham officiated as M.C. During an interval excellent refreshments, all kindly given, were served. As a result of the evening's effort, the organisers have handed £4 8s. 3d. to the treasurer of the repair fund.

WEDDING. 16th April 1926

A pretty wedding took place at Swavesey parish church on April 8th, the bride being Miss Louie Causer, daughter of Mrs. Causer, of Swavesey, and the late Mr. George Causer, and the bridegroom Mr. Arthur John Beaumont, elder son of Mrs. John P. Beaumont, of Church-street, Willingham, and the late Mr. Beaumont. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar of Swavesey, officiated. During the service the hymns "How welcome was the call" and "O Father all creating" were sung, and at the close Mr. J. W. Williams, who presided at the organ, played the Wedding March. The bride, given away by her brother, Mr. Fred D. Causer, was charmingly attired in ivory crepe de chine, with veil and orange blossom. She wore white silk stockings and white shoes, and carried a lucky horseshoe and a sheaf of lilies and fern. Two bridesmaids were in attendance, Miss Edna Ruby Williams (niece of the bride) and Miss Edna May Rose, of Rampton (cousin of the bridegroom). Both were in pale mauve crepe de chine, with black hats, underlined with mauve, and mauve stockings, and carried lucky horseshoes and bouquets of pink carnations and maidenhair fern. Mr. Harry Beaumont, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony the guests, about forty in number, were entertained at the Memorial Hall. The presents were numerous and useful.

CLOSING OF THE INSTITUTE. 16th April 1926

The annual meeting of the Institute was held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening and, was attended by between 60 and 70 members. Mr. W. A. Bignell, last year's chairman, presided. The annual report presented by the secretary, Mr. C. Wood, disclosed a far from satisfactory state of affairs, both financially and in other respects. Membership, the report stated, had decreased very considerably, and in consequence subscriptions had brought in £17 17s. less than in the previous year. The income from the billiard tables had dropped from £33 in 1924-25 to £10 16s. 4d., notwithstanding that during the past twelve months the Institute had been open in the day time as well as in the evening, but it was suggested that many games played during the day had not been paid for. The Institute, however, had been able to pay its way, but instead of a balance of £9 9s. 9½d. with which they had started the year, they now had a balance of only 2s. 3½d. Reference was made to the bad usage to which the billiard tables and accessories, and also the furniture had been subjected, and members were reminded that many of these articles did not belong to the Institute, but were the property of the Memorial Hall Committee. The work of the Amusements Committee was the bright feature of the report. This Committee had raised £32 5s. 5d., which was a welcome addition to the income of the Institute, and besides had helped to pay off the debt on the building with the hire paid for the hall. The report concluded with a reference to complaints that had been made respecting the behaviour of a few of the members. Both the report and the balance sheet were passed. After some remarks by the Chairman and Mr. W. Thorp, the election of officers for the ensuing year should have taken place, but there was a strong disinclination on the part of anyone present to accept office. Mr. G. J. Paine, last year's president, declined to be nominated as president. Mr. W. Thorp also refused.

Member after member was proposed as chairman, but none consented to stand except Mr. Sidney Clark. No one would undertake the vice-chairmanship or the secretaryship. At length Mr. W. Burton moved that the Institute should be closed for six months, and that a general meeting should be held on September 30th next. This was seconded by Mrs. J. J. Marriott, and carried. A vote of thanks to the Chairman and the Secretary concluded the meeting.

NURSING ASSOCIATION. 23rd April 1926

As a result of a sale of work, organised by the Women's Institute, and a whist drive and dance, both held at Over on Easter Monday, a welcome addition of £21 has been made to the funds of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, viz., £10 17s. from the sale of work and £10 3s. from the whist drive and dance. These contributions, for which the treasurer, Mrs. Cooksey, is most grateful, will enable current expenses to be met without further encroachment on the small reserve fund.

BILLIARDS. 23rd April 1926

The billiards match between teams representing Swavesey and the County Hall, which was played at Cambridge on Wednesday evening, resulted in a draw, both sides winning three games. After the games both teams did full justice to an excellent supper.

TROUBLES OF A MOTORIST. 23rd April 1926

A Swavesey motorist had an unfortunate experience on Tuesday. His car showed signs of awkwardness when he essayed to set out from home, and a troop of energetic and enthusiastic children just released from school had to drag and push it along the main street of the village for some distance before it could be induced to move forward. But once it started it appears to have behaved fairly well until the driver desired to return to Swavesey. He was then on the Huntingdon-road some three miles from home, and here the car flatly refused to move in any direction except backwards. Being a man of resource and determination, the motorist refused to acknowledge defeat, and as the car would not go forward, he decided to drive it backwards. But the car thought it would have a little run first, and promptly ran into the ditch of the roadside, from which it had to be dragged with considerable difficulty by a passing motor van, ropes, it is said, being broken in the process. The car was eventually towed home behind the motor van.

COMING FROM AUSTRALIA. 30th April 1926

A cable message has been received from Mr. Fred Wilderspin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, Clare Cottage, Swavesey, announcing that he set sail from Adelaide for England on April 22nd, in s.s. Oronsay. This will be Mr. F. Wilderspin's first visit to this country since he left Swavesey for Australia in October, 1911. He is bringing with him his wife, whom he married in Australia, and their little daughter.

PARISH MEETING. 30th April 1926

Only eight parochial electors, including the clerk, attended the annual parish meeting, which was held in the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, viz., Mr. C. Wood (chairman of the Parish Council), who presided, Messrs. J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., P. Parish (parish councillors), Messrs. G. Clarke, F. F. Norman, U. Thixton and P. Godfrey (clerk). The business consisted solely of the presentation of the accounts of the Parish Council and of Galon's Charity.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 30th April 1926

The closing meeting for the session of the Young People's Society took place on Monday, Mrs. Field, Miss W. Parish, Miss D. Aldred and Rev. T. B. Field contributing to the programme. The Society will re-commence its meetings in October, when it is hoped lectures, debates and socials will be arranged. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. T. B. Field; vice-president, Mrs. Field; treas., Mr. S. Godfrey; secretary, Miss E. Freestone. An excellent lending library has just been opened for the use of the congregation and Sunday School.

VILLAGE HALL AND INSTITUTE. 30th April 1926

We have received the following letter from "A Resident," respecting the Swavesey Institute, which at a recent meeting it was decided should be closed for six months: "Could not these excellent premises be put to a greater use than has been the case of late? I venture to suggest that a good reading room be opened, with a good supply of magazines and papers, and that the games room be utilised, and that an interesting course of lantern lectures be arranged for the coming winter. If these things were done surely all classes would support them."

BRITISH LEGION. 30th April 1926

The quarterly meeting of the Swavesey and district branch of the British Legion was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday week, Mr. R. Barwell (chairman) presiding, supported by Mr. H. H. Berryman (secretary) and Mr. P. H. Lee (treasurer). Apart from an interesting account of recent activities of the Legion read by the Secretary, the business was of a routine character. A smoking concert followed the meeting, the programme being contributed by Miss Blomfield and "Sam Blom," of Fenstanton, Messrs. Barwell and Lee, with Miss W. Blomfield as accompanist. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Fenstanton party, whose songs, etc., were greatly appreciated.

PARISH COUNCIL. 30th April 1926

The annual meeting of the Parish Council took place at the Memorial Hall on the 22nd inst., the following Councillors attending: Messrs. P. Burton, M. C. Culpin, J. Linford, R. Norman, sen., P. Parish and C. Wood. The only business on the agenda was the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the presentation of the Council's accounts for the twelve months ended 31st March, and this was speedily disposed of. Mr. C. Wood was re-appointed chairman, and Mr. J. Linford vice-chairman. Messrs. C. H. Parish and A. Day, jun., who have already served as overseers for the past two years, were continued in office, as it was undesirable to make a change in view of the fact that there will be no overseers after this year. The clerk, Mr. Prime Godfrey, in submitting the accounts, reported that all bills had been paid, and he was accorded a unanimous vote of thanks for the excellent way in which he had put the Council's accounts in order and for the satisfactory balance sheet.

THE SCHOOL BELL. 30th April 1926

The bell at the National School and its turret are not to be removed as certain generous villagers have undertaken to have the turret repaired and the sides, now open, protected so as to prevent the leakage of rain into the class room below; and further to have the weather vane, a prominent landmark, repainted. The managers, who had decided on the removal of the turret and bell in consequence of the damage done to the fabric of the school by the leakage, have rescinded their resolution, and have accorded the villagers concerned a hearty vote of thanks for this generous and public spirited offer. There was considerable feeling in the village against the removal of the bell, as the clock, which was provided by public subscription about the year 1847, strikes the hours on it. While the clock presumably belongs to the parish, the bell, which it is understood was in position some two or three years previously, is the property of the trustees of the school. It will be remembered that the clock was put in order about twelve months' ago, and the figures on the face re-gilded, the same villagers who are undertaking the repair of the turret being responsible for all expense incurred.

FROM TAPROOM TO SMITHY. 30th April 1926

After over 28 years' service as sub-postmaster of Swavesey, Mr. Thomas Metcalfe is retiring, greatly to the regret of the people of the village, especially as his retirement is mainly due to ill-health of his wife, who has been his only, but most painstaking, assistant. When Mr. Metcalfe was appointed sub-postmaster in February, 1898, in succession to the late Mr. John Rogers, his office was at the corner of Wallman's-lane and High-street, and here it remained until January, 1907, when he bought more commodious premises a few yards distant. This house had been the "Sir Harry Smith's beerhouse, which had been closed as redundant a short time previously, and the taproom became the public office. During the 28 years the work and responsibilities of the office greatly increased. For instance, in 1898, and for years after, there were no telephones, no old age pensioners, no widow' or dependant' or soldiers' and sailors' pensions had to be paid weekly; war savings, etc., were things of the future; but all entailed extra work. About the time Mr. Metcalfe became sub-postmaster two established postmen were attached to the office, who serve other villages as well as Swavesey. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe take with them in their retirement the best wishes of the villagers, who trust that Mrs. Metcalfe will soon be restored to good health, and that both will long be spared to enjoy their well-earned rest. To-morrow (Saturday) Mr. Percival Henry Lee will become sub-postmaster, and the office will be transferred from the quondam taproom in High-street to the old smithy in Market-street, which has been converted into a stationer's shop. Mr. Lee, who has lived in Swavesey since February, 1923, served three years on the Western front during the war with the 10th Queen's Regiment. He was severely wounded in the knee, the injury resulting in a permanently stiff leg.

PARISH CHURCH. 7th May 1926

During the absence of the Vicar on his annual holiday, the services at the parish church are being taken by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey.

THE STRIKE. 7th May 1926

The villages are bearing with the inconvenience caused by the strike with philosophic calm. Milk, of which much is sent away from Swavesey station, is being conveyed by road, and kindly owners of motor cars are giving residents who have business in Cambridge, and school children a lift to and fro. Thanks to the enterprise of Mr. C. Wood, headmaster, all the wireless news bulletins have been posted as soon as received outside the National School, where they have been eagerly read.

THE INSTITUTE. 7th May 1926

We have received the following communication from Mr. C. Wood, late hon. secretary, Swavesey Institute, in reply to "A Resident's" letter in our last issue:- "Will you kindly allow a few lines of your valuable space to answer the letter from "A Resident" respecting Swavesey Institute? In the first place it is evident he or she knows very little about the Institute, or how it was intended to be worked, and for his information I may say the Institute was begun on the exact lines he proposes, including reading room, games and classes. The first year things went fairly well, but the reading room was never a success. Classes were begun this year, but only one lasted the season; the others had to be discontinued after three weeks. If 'Resident' has some better suggestions to make than those he has put forward, he should attend the general meeting, which will take place on September 30th.

FOOD SUPPLIES. 14th May 1926

An emergency committee of representatives of the St. Ives Borough Council and the St. Ives and Swavesey Rural Councils has been appointed to deal with the food supplies of the district. Meetings have already been held and satisfactory arrangements are being made.

SCRATCH BANK. 14th May 1926

A petition signed by all owners (including Trinity College, Cambridge) and occupiers of land in Middle Fen, Swavesey, has been presented to the Swavesey District council asking that Scratch, or Cradge, Bank may be repaired. Owing to the recent rains much of the land has been flooded, and stock has had to be moved. This has not only caused inconvenience, but has necessitated the feeding of grass intended for mowing.

WOMN UNIONISTS. 14th May 1926

The annual meeting of the Swavesey and Fen Drayton Women's Unionist Association was held in Swavesey School on May 6th, Mrs. E. J. Warboys (Fen Drayton) presiding. Last year's accounts, which showed a satisfactory balance in hand, having been presented by the treasurer (Mrs. Page), and passed, officers were elected for the coming year, as follows: President, Mrs. Banks; chairman, Mrs. Warboys; vice-chairman, Mrs. Wood; local secretaries, Miss Beaumont and Miss Paine; treasurer, Mrs. Page; committee, Mrs. Cain, Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. F. Hemington, Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mrs. Pettett, Mrs. W. Thorp, Miss Banks, Miss E. Dodson, Mrs. Richards. In the absence, through the strike, of a special speaker, Mrs. Pashlar gave an address, for which she was accorded a vote of thanks.

A SPRING-CLEANING INCIDENT. 21st May 1926

A Swavesey young lady when recently spring-cleaning her pantry found in a mouse's hole a gold locket and chain she had lost some months ago.

THE SCHOOL. 21st May 1926

Of the ten children attending Swavesey National School, who sat recently for the written part of the County Minor Scholarship examination, seven have passed.

PARTICULAR BAPTIST. 21st May 1926

Good congregations attended the anniversary services at the Particular Baptist Chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, when the special preacher was Mr. Seth Pack, of Tunbridge Wells. Between the services there was a public tea. The collections were in aid of the chapel funds.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING. 21st May 1926

During the thunderstorm which passed over the village about 5 p.m. on Thursday in last week, a chimney stack at Mr. David Parish's house at Boxworth End to which a wireless aerial was attached, was struck by lightning and partly demolished. Mr. H. H. Williams, who with his daughter and sister-in-law, Miss P. Parish, were hurriedly cycling from his garden in the neighbourhood for shelter, had a narrow escape, for they were entering the passage at the side of the house immediately beneath the chimney stack at the moment the crash occurred, but fortunately the falling brickwork and chimney pots fell into the yard at the back of the house. They were, however, covered with fragments of mortar, etc., and, not unnaturally, greatly alarmed. Mr. J. Kester, sen., the occupant of the house on the other side of the passage also had a narrow escape. The lightning after striking the stack appears to have run along the ridge of the roof on the adjoining cottage, where several tiles were broken. But for the earth wire, it is believed, the damage to Mr. Parish's house would have been far more serious.

THE FEAST. 21st May 1926

The annual village Feast, which has been held this week, was attended by a considerably larger number of show folk than has been the case for a long time past, and their attractions were more varied and up-to-date. Contrary to custom, the "Feast" has been in two places, Messrs. Manning's round-about, with many stalls, shooting galleries, etc., pitching as usual in Market-street, while Messrs. Thurston and their following occupied Top Leys close, not far distant. The arrangement of the temporary structures in both places was excellent, and the electric lighting admirable, especially at Top Leys. The attendance of the public on Tuesday evening was much above the average of late years. Cricket has been the main attraction in the day time. The Swavesey first eleven played two matches in the Turner (Hunts.) League, entertaining Fenstanton on Saturday and Warboys on Tuesday. The visitors were victorious on both days. The second eleven had better luck on Monday in a game with Over second eleven in the Milton and District League, when they scored 58 runs, Over replying with 39. The usual services were held at the parish church on Sunday, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiating in the absence of the vicar. At evensong, when the choir gave an excellent rendering of Garrett's anthem "The Lord is loving," there was a large congregation. The collections throughout the day were in aid of Swavesey National School, and amounted to £3 10s.

LADY CRICKETERS. 28th May 1926

A meeting to consider the possibility of forming a ladies' cricket club in the village is to be held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday.

BETHEL CHAPEL. 28th May 1926

During the absence, through indisposition, of the pastor, Rev. T. B. Field, the services at Bethel Baptist Church have been conducted by the Rev. G. R. Smith, late of Haddenham, and Mr. Whitehead, of Oakington, the former officiating on Sunday, 16th May, and the latter on Sunday last. Mr. Field hopes to be well enough to resume his duties next Sunday.

MR. R. DAISLEY IN MOTOR SMASH. 28th May 1926

Mr. Rosslyn Daisley, R.A.F., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Daisley, of Swavesey, was involved in a serious accident on Wednesday week, when riding pillion on a motor cycle driven by a comrade. They left Gosport, where they were stationed, for an evening's ride, and when near Botley, on their return journey, the head lamp suddenly went out. Next moment they crashed into a horse and cart standing near some cottages, and Mr. Daisley was thrown on to the roadside, his companion falling on the hard road. The cottagers promptly rendered every possible assistance, and summoned a doctor, who ordered the immediate removal of the injured men to Haslar Royal Naval Hospital. Mr. Daisley was found to have sustained a fractured knee in addition to cuts and abrasions; his companion's injuries were far more serious. They include a fracture at the base of the skull, and a broken leg. The latest report of Mr. Daisley's condition is satisfactory.

SCRATCH BANK. 4th June 1926

It was understood that the petition signed by owners and occupiers of land in Middle Fen asking that Scratch Bank may be repaired was discussed at last week's meeting of the Swavesey District Council.

MEMORIAL HALL. 4th June 1926

A welcome contribution of £16 5s. in aid of the Memorial Hall Fund, has been received by the Committee of Management as a result of a competition for a kiddies' bike, promoted by Mr. Dick Wilderspin. The bicycle was secured by a lady living in Fenstanton.

HOME FROM AUSTRALIA. 4th June 1926

Mr. Fred Wilderspin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilderspin, accompanied by his wife and daughter, has arrived in Swavesey on a visit to his old home. He landed from the Orient liner, Oronsay, on May 27th, being met at Tilbury by his father, and on reaching Swavesey the same day he received a hearty welcome. Mr. Fred Wilderspin, then a young man, left Swavesey for Queensland in October, 1911. At first he was engaged in various occupations, but for the last eight years he has been a successful farmer and hotel keeper successively at Ayr, Innisfail and Cairns.

WEDDING. 4th June 1926

The marriage of Miss Ethel Margaret Culpin, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culpin, of Swavesey and Mr. Alexander Stevens, son of Mrs. Stevens, Priory Park-road, Kilburn, London, N.W., took place on May 27, at St. Stephen's church, Paddington, in which parish the bride had lived for the past seven years. The Vicar of St. Stephen's officiated, and there was a large congregation. The bride, who wore a pretty dress of pale blue crepe de chine, with hat to match, was given away by her father. After the ceremony a reception was held at the happy couple's future home in Sherton-street, Paddington. The presents were numerous and useful.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 4th June 1926

The 86th anniversary of Bethel Baptist Church was celebrated on Thursday week, when the Rev. E. W. Gibbons, F.R.G.S., of St. John's Wood, London, preached two sermons to very good congregations. Several friends accompanied the preacher, and many from Over, Fen Drayton, Willingham, Longstanton, Somersham, and other villages came to show their interest in the cause. About 80 persons sat down to a well-provided tea. A brief meeting took place at the tea table, at which the Pastor, who presided, thanked the people for their kindness to him in his recent illness. Addresses were also given by the Rev. E. P. Blackaby, of Willingham, and Rev. E. W. Gibbons.

GARDEN FETE AT SWAVESEY. 4th June 1926

Successful Effort for Nursing Association.

The annual garden fete in aid of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association was held on June 3rd, in the beautiful grounds of Swavesey Manor, once again kindly lent by the Rev. J. F. Cooksey. The attendance was rather smaller than usual owing no doubt to the uncertain weather, but the financial result was the best since 1923. Mrs. Cooksey, hon. treasurer of the Association, was mainly responsible for the arrangements, and she was, it is needless to say, indefatigable in her efforts to ensure the success of the undertaking.

The fete was opened at 3 o'clock by Mrs. Grove, of St. Ives, who, in an excellent speech, pleaded for support of the Association, and pointed out the benefits to be derived from it. Notable features in the day's programme were a baby show, open to infants born in the three parishes, and dances by children. Twenty babies were entered for the show, but only a dozen were presented for inspection of the judges, Dr. F. Robinson and Miss Bills (supt. County Nursing Association), whose awards were as follows: Class 1 (under six months) – 1 Sylvia May Brickwood, 2 Mary Leggett; class 2 (6 to 12 months) – 1 Geoffrey Cook, 2 Daphne Joan Doggett and Ernest Eric Ingle; class 3 (one year) – 1 Sheila Rachel Watts and Bernard John Prior (equal). Every baby adjudicated upon was presented with a gift, and later on will receive a certificate. The children's dances were deservedly popular, for the young people's performances were admirable, and reflected the greatest credit on Miss Hurrell and Miss Beaumont (headmistresses respectively of Over Church School and Fen Drayton Council School), who had trained the children. There were Morris dances by Swavesey children, sword dance by six Over boys, a jig by two little Over girls, and country dances by Over and Fen Drayton girls, the latter also singing two songs. The pianoforte accompaniments were played by Miss M. Parsons (Swavesey), Miss V. Furniss (Fen Drayton) and Miss Hurrell. A capital entertainment also brought grist to the mill, the programme including the sketch "An Awkward Mistake," well played by Misses Beryl Thoday and Marjorie Mustill, and songs by Mrs. C. S. Hepher, Miss Annie Thoday and Miss Ingle.

A doll dressing competition, arranged by Miss Beaumont, attracted many entrants. The prizes were awarded by Mrs. Grove, who adjudicated, as follows: Class A (children 8 – 12) – 1 Hilda Askew, 2 Mildred Badcock, 3

Elsie Day; Class B (12 – 15) – 1 Annie Wayman, 2 Joyce Jacklin; Class C (over 15) – 1 Miss Hurrell, 2 Miss Bessie Linford. The dolls were on sale for the benefit of the funds, and most of them were disposed of.

List of stalls and competitions in the newspaper, also names of people in charge of them.

The net amount realised by the day's effort was £44 15s. 2d., against £42 16s. 7d. (including £2 10s. 2d. the proceeds of a dance in the Memorial Hall) last year, and £42 15s. 3d. in 1924

MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT. 11th June 1926

Swavesey Man Admitted to Addenbrooke's Hospital.

Herbert George Topham, who lives with his grandfather, Mr. G. J. Paine, at Wayside, Swavesey, was on Sunday, at 11 50 p.m., admitted to Addenbrooke's Hospital unconscious and suffering from serious head injuries. It appears that he was riding a motor cycle along the Huntingdon-road towards Swavesey, and when within about 100 yards of the New Inn noticed a man immediately in front of him. In trying to avoid a collision, Mr. Topham applied his brakes, and his machine stopping immediately, he was thrown over the handle bars. The cover of the front wheel was wrenched off, but the inner tube did not burst. The other man – a Mr. Carroll, who is at present staying at the New Inn, Swavesey, was not injured, though he was thrown on the grass at the roadside and his clothes torn.

When picked up, Topham was found to be very seriously injured. Blood was issuing from the ear, nose and mouth. Messrs. Tom Coulson and David Parish, both of Swavesey, who were close behind, did what they could for the injured man. Two motor cars arrived on the scene immediately afterwards, and one went to fetch P. C. Bell, of Boxworth, whilst the other brought Dr. J. W. Ellis, of Swavesey. Dr. Ellis, after examining Topham, conveyed him to Addenbrooke's.

On inquiry at Addenbrooke's this (Monday) morning we were informed that Mr. Topham was still unconscious.

Eleven tables were in play at the whist drive, in aid of the funds of the Football Club, which was held in the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, and the prizewinners were: Ladies – Mrs. C. Dean, Mrs. H. G. Key, Miss O. Hawkes; gentlemen – Mr. E. B. Smart, Mr. A. Culpin, Mr. W. Thorp. Mr. T. Savage officiated as M.C.

ACCIDENT TO CHILD. 18th June 1926

Florence Symonds, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. W. Symonds, of Boxworth End, frightened, it is understood, by a flash of lightning during a storm on Thursday week, rushed across the road near her home without noticing a motor car driven by Mrs. Stanton, of Lolworth Grange, which was passing from behind her. It was impossible for Mrs. Stanton to avoid the child, who was knocked down, but fortunately not seriously hurt, though her injuries necessitated medical attention.

NURSING ASSOCIATION. 18th June 1926

In continuation of our report last week of the garden fete, in aid of the Swavesey, Over and Fen Drayton Nursing Association, we are asked to state that the baby show was under the able management of Nurse Walters and that a bouquet, given by Mrs. Banks, was presented by little Joan Hepher to Mrs. Grove, who opened the fete.

WEDDING. 18th June 1926

The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated at the marriage of Mr. Arthur Collier Knapp, of Belton, Grantham, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp, of Highclere, Hants., and Miss Ethel Doris Victoria Whybrow, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whybrow, Middle Fen Gate House, Swavesey, which was solemnised at St. Andrew's Parish Church, Swavesey, on Wednesday afternoon. The bride, given away by her father, was charmingly attired in white crepe de chine and lace, with veil and orange blossom, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and fern. She was attended by four bridesmaids, Miss Eva Whybrow (sister of the bride) and Miss Edith Few (Over), who were in dresses of blue crepe de chine, and Misses Irene and Frances Whybrow (sisters of the bride) in white silk. All wore wreaths of roses and forget-me-nots, and gold brooches, the latter the gifts of the bridegroom. Mr. Reginald Thurston, cousin of the bride, acted as best man. A reception attended by about forty guests was held after the ceremony at the Gate House. The presents were numerous and useful, and included a dinner service from Lord and Lady Brownlow, in whose service both bride and bridegroom have been, and a set of carvers from the Hon. Sarah Cust. The honeymoon is being spent at Hastings. The bride's parents, taking advantage of the whole of their family being at home, also celebrated their silver wedding on Wednesday, anticipating the actual date by a short time. They received many presents and congratulations. Mr and Mrs. Whybrow have had twelve children, eight of whom are alive.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS. 18th June 1926

Divisional sports, in connection with the School's Athletic Association Championships, were held in Manor Field, Swavesey, on Friday evening, the following schools competing: Cottenham, Willingham over (Church and Council Schools), and Swavesey.

(List of results in newspaper).

At a meeting of the head teachers of the schools concerned, held on Monday, the various competitors were chosen to meet the other county divisions and the Borough of Cambridge on a date to be fixed in July, a selection being necessary, as no girl or boy is allowed to compete in more than one event. No entry will be made for the 880 yards race, the head teachers being of opinion that the distance is too great for boys under 14.

CAMBS. DIVISIONAL BENCH. 18th June 1926

ARREARS ON ORDER.

Horace Saunderson, of Conington, was summoned for arrears on an order amounting to £41 2s., due to Sarah Annie Walker (nee Coulson), of Swavesey. – Mr. H. M. Finch appeared for defendant, and said that at the time the summons was heard respondent was on the high seas on the way to Australia. He was summoned last Saturday by a summons which was dated May 29th. It was then admitted that no order had been served upon him up to June 5th last. The order was then drawn up, undated, and served upon him, and that was the first time he had any official cognisance. Two days after he had official cognisance he was served with the summons claiming the large amount of £41 2s. On those circumstances alone he (Mr. Finch) would ask for an adjournment in order to give the man an opportunity of getting some money. That would give him an opportunity to comply with the order, which had only just been served upon him. Mr. Finch submitted that the order made in 1911 was of no avail until brought to the notice of the defendant. There was no endeavour on applicant's behalf to trace the man, although she knew he had gone away. Nothing was done until he arrived home in the middle of May, and the case was sprung upon him. The first summons had been withdrawn, and the second one amended; two days after the service of the order he was summoned for non-compliance with it, and this did not comply with an Act which demanded 14 days' notice. The child was now 15 years of age, and the order was of no force at the present moment.

Applicant said she heard defendant was going away, and she tried to find out his address. She produced a letter addressed to the Cambs. Constabulary, which asked for particulars of defendant.

Supt. Allen said that inquiries were made for defendant in 1911, but he could not be found. He did not return until recently, and that was why the order was not served before. The summons was served on January 12th, 1911.

Defendant, on oath, stated that he left England on January 8th, 1911. He had no knowledge of the order, or he would have paid the money. He was now married and had four children. He left Australia because of his health.

In reply to Mr. Finch, defendant said he sold his property for £6,000, but it was mortgaged for £4,500, and now, after paying expenses he had little left. When he arrived in England he had only £25.

After retiring the Bench made an order for payment of the full amount of arrears from June 1st 1914 (£41 2s.) and 3s. 6d. costs. The order would be suspended for seven days, providing defendant undertook not to leave the country during that period. If he did not pay the amount owing within seven days he must go to prison for three months.

ADVERT. 25th June 1926

ACCIDENT TO A CHILD. 25th June 1926

With reference to the paragraph under the above heading, which appeared with our Swavesey news items last week, Mrs. W. Symonds informs us that, as her daughter's nose was broken, the statement that she was not seriously hurt was not accurate. The child was, she adds, admitted to Addenbrooke's Hospital on Monday.

FOR CHURCH REPAIR. 25th June 1926

The Swavesey Church Repair Fund benefited to the extent of £5 7s. 6d., as a result of the whist drive held on the Vicarage lawn on Thursday week. Fifteen tables were in play, and the prizes were won by the following: Ladies – Mrs. Pettett, Miss D. Symonds, Mrs. Walter Thorp, booby Miss C. Thorp, lucky number, Mrs. W. Burton; gentlemen – Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Mr. Stan Wright, Mr. R. Seekings, booby Mr. Webb (Over). Mr. S. F. Mitham officiated as M.C.

GALON'S CHARITY. 25th June 1926

For the very moderate sum of £5 15s., Mr. A. Day, sen., secured the 21 acres of mowing grass in "Scotland," on the Cambridge-road, with afterfeed until Michaelmas, which was offered by auction on Monday evening at the White Horse inn, Swavesey, by direction of the Feoffees of Galon's Charity. Messrs. Underwood, of Willingham, were the auctioneers. The inability of the Feoffees to let the land, and the small amount realised by the grass, will, it is feared, result in a reduced quantity of coal being distributed next winter.

INADEQUATE POSTING OF NOTICES. 25th June 1926

A correspondent writes: Cannot the District Council devise a better method of inviting applications for Council houses that may be vacant in Swavesey than by merely displaying the inconspicuous printed official notice in the window of a motor garage, or among the cakes in a confectioner's shop? Surely some of the District Councillors are aware of the existence of the board in High-street, provided by the Parish Council for notices of an official nature. That board should be used, and, if further publicity is required – the more the better – shop windows might also be utilised.

DANCE. 25th June 1926

Through an unfortunate misunderstanding the band engaged for the dance, in aid of the Memorial Hall Fund, on Saturday last, failed to put in an appearance. Although the complete success of the evening was somewhat marred by the delay which inevitably resulted, the majority of those who came to dance accepted the position in good part, and eventually managed to spend a thoroughly enjoyable evening. Thanks to Miss Mustill and a lady visitor, who volunteered to play the piano, the company kept together until the service of the Over Jazz Quartette could be obtained, and the excellent music thus provided was thoroughly appreciated. In the circumstances it is satisfactory that the Hall Fund received the sum of about £3, as a result of the dance. Those who were disappointed last week, as well as those who enjoyed the evening, will be interested to learn that another dance will be held to-morrow (Saturday).

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 25th June 1926

The anniversary services of Bethel Sunday School took place on Sunday last, the Pastor preaching in the morning and evening. A flower service was held in the afternoon, when the Rev. T. B. Field presided, and recitations were given by the following children: Beatrice Savage, Alex Kester, Douglas Canham, Walter Isgrove and E. Dodson. Each recited a passage of Scripture, which added much interest to the occasion. Certificates and prizes and missionary collectors' cards were presented by Mrs. Field to the various recipients who had passed the Sunday School Union examination, or who had helped the Missionary Society. Mr. Stanton, of London, also gave an interesting address. The large quantity of flowers given were sent to St. Ives Union. The choir and children deserve the highest credit for the excellent way in which they rendered the special hymns, some of which will be repeated next Sunday evening. The collections were well over £6.

NEWS OF AN INVALID. 2nd July 1926

On inquiry at Addenbrooke's Hospital yesterday (Thursday), we were informed that Mr. Philip S. Spring was still very weak, his condition being about the same as on the previous day.

STRAWBERRIES. 2nd July 1926

Fine strawberries, in excellent condition, of the Royal Sovereign variety, are being gathered this week on Mr. A. J. Norman's smallholding on Thorp's Land, Boxworth-end, Swavesey, some, shown to a correspondent, averaging eight to the pound.

There was a good company at the dance at the Memorial Hall on Saturday evening, and the Over Jazz band, who made their second appearance in Swavesey, provided an excellent selection of music. The proceeds have been devoted to the Memorial Hall Fund.

DAY MAIL RESTORED. 2nd July 1926

The day mail despatch of letters, parcels, etc., from Swavesey Post Office, which had been temporarily suspended owing to the withdrawal of the 1.46 p.m. train to Cambridge, was restored yesterday (Thursday), but as the mail will, for the present, have to be conveyed by the 11.8 a.m. train, the box at Swavesey Post Office will be cleared at 10.35 a.m. Correspondence posted at Conington before 8.15 a.m., and Fen Drayton before 8.30 a.m. will also be included in the despatch.

DEATH OF THE REV. E. SHORT. 2nd July 1926

Many of our readers will learn with regret that the Rev. Edward Short, who for the past 28 years has been pastor of Swavesey Particular Baptist Chapel, passed away on Monday morning after ten days' illness. Mr. Short, who was 78 years of age, and a widower, his wife, long an invalid, having died on 12th April, 1924. They had been married for well-nigh half a century. Prior to his coming to Swavesey on 1898, Mr. Short was for seven years minister at Blunham, Bedfordshire. The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) at Swavesey Cemetery, after a service in the Particular Baptist Chapel.

FARM TO LET IN 1746. 2nd July 1926

The oldest Cambridge newspaper, "The Cambridge Journal and Weekly Flying-Post," established in the year 1744, in its issue of Saturday, January 4th, 1746, contains the following advertisement, which may be of some interest to Swavesey people in 1926: "To be Let and entered upon at Lady Day next at Swavesey, in the County of Cambridge, a Farm late in the occupation of William Papworth, deceased; consisting of a good Homestall, Twenty-Eight Acres of Pasture, six half-yard Lands, with a Right of Common for six Horses, eighteen Cows and seventy-four sheep. For further particulars enquire of Mr. Thomas Cockayne, of Soham, or Mr. Berry Dodson, of Swavesey aforesaid." This copy of the "Journal and Flying Post" also contains much interesting news respecting affairs on the Continent, and the activities of the "Young Pretender" in Scotland and the North of England.

PASTOR'S FUNERAL. 9th July 1926

The funeral of Pastor Edward Short, whose death at the age of 78 years, after ten days' illness, was announced last week, took place on July 1st, Mr. S. Curtis, of Southill, Beds., and Mr. J. Wiles, of St. Ives, officiating at the service in the Particular Baptist Chapel, where Mr. Short had ministered for 28 years, and at the grave in the cemetery. The mourners were: Miss S. Janes (niece), Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Parish, Mr. and Mrs. A. Day, Mrs. Jethro Linford, Mrs. J. Savage, Miss E. day, Miss Warboys (Cheshunt), Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parish, Mrs. E. Parish, Mrs. E. Prime (Gravesend), Mrs. Wiles (St. Ives), and Miss Sutton. The large congregation included friends from Bedford, Cambridge, Oakington, Huntingdon, Godmanchester, St. Ives, Fenstanton, Yaxley, Southill, Chatteris, Luton, Over, Needingworth, Cheshunt, and Rushden. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. R. Mitham, Swavesey.

DANGEROUS BATHING PLACE. 9th July 1926

We have received the following letter from Mr. Arthur E. Welch, of Swavesey:- "Dear sir, - I should like to call attention to the exceedingly dangerous state of the bathing place in the Ouse at Swavesey. As it exists, it is nothing less than a death-trap. The whole place is choked up with weed, and that of the most dangerous class, that which lies in masses beneath the surface of the water. There is only one small clear spot at the end of the diving board in which a swimmer can exercise. If those who use the spot for bathing have no leisure to clear the weed away for themselves, may I suggest that a small subscription from each would pay a man to clear it for them? By all means let them do something. It would add to the pleasure of their swim, and do away with the ever-present risk of a fatal accident. Let me ask them to lay this warning well to heart. Once entangled in the weed is almost certain death, both to the one entangled and also to anyone attempting a rescue.

DEATH OF MR. PHILIP SPRING. 9th July 1926

After a long and painful illness, Mr. Philip Stanfield Spring passed away at Addenbrooke's Hospital on Friday morning, and many were the expressions of sorrow and regret when the news reached Swavesey, although it was felt that death was release from suffering. Born on 8th March, 1862, Philip Spring spent the whole of his life in the Swavesey district, where he was well-known and much respected. For upwards of 38 years he was in the service of the Prudential Assurance Company as agent, retiring in January, 1922, under the age limit rule, and during that long term of years many had reason to thank him for acts of unobtrusive kindness and consideration in times of trouble. He was a confirmed bachelor, and, after the sudden death of his mother in March, 1907, he lived alone, doubtless feeling that no one could replace the mother to whom he was devotedly attached. He indignantly rejected all suggestions of his friends that he needed care, and that it was not good that man should be alone. In his younger days he was a member of the church choir, and to the last took a keen interest in church music, especially that of 40 or 50 years ago.

While in Addenbrooke's, Mr. Spring was visited by Mrs. John Spring, of Ipswich, widow of his brother, Inspector Spring, of the Great Eastern Railway Police at March, and her son, Mr. Reginald Spring. They were his only near relatives. The latter on returning to Ipswich after a visit to his uncle on Monday, 21st June, found that his mother had been taken ill, and two days later she died suddenly, aged 72. Philip Spring was laid to rest in his mother's grave in Swavesey Churchyard on Monday afternoon, the Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiating. The mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Spring (nephew and niece), Mr. George H. How, Mrs. G. Hawkes, Mr. G. Smith (Ipswich), and Messrs. E. T. Druce (superintendent), T. H. Fensome, and C. Misseldine (assist. supts.), representing the Huntingdon district staff of the Prudential Assurance Company. The coffin was of polished elm, with brass furniture. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr. E. W. Harper, of Cambridge.

SWAVESEY'S "GIPSY FAIR." 9th July 1926

Picturesque Effort for Church Restoration.

An event which had been anticipated with much eagerness and worked for with much diligence came to pass when Swavesey held its Gipsy Fair on Thursday. The sale was in aid of the Church Repair Fund. £1,350 is required for the repair of the roof of the south aisle, half of which has already been raised, and it is hoped, as the result of this fair and other help, to get well on the way to raising the remainder.

All Swavesey flocked to the pleasant grounds of the Vicarage, which, flooded with sunshine, looked for all the world like a gipsy colony, with the gay figures in Romany garb. The booths were laden with "wares" of all descriptions, and the side-shows and competitions were as numerous as they were entertaining. Madame Zara, the gipsy queen, was present in her caravan to tell fortunes, and there was a variety entertainment by Mr. Barwell's company, which included thought reading by "Monsieur Blanc-Mange," juggling by Fred Tuck, and monologues by Miss E. Dodson. St. Ives band, which played selections during the afternoon, supplied the music for the dancing which took place in the evening.

Previous to the opening, the "gipsies," numbering about 50, assembled at the school and walked en masse to the Vicarage grounds, creating much interest on the way. Later, there was a parade, in which prizes were awarded for the best costumes, of which Miss Vidler and Miss Bullimore were the judges.

The opening ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. C. Vidler, a former Vicar of Swavesey, who left the village 14 years ago to become Rector of Tewin, near Welwyn. Mr. Vidler, who was regarded with considerable affection and respect in Swavesey, spent a very happy time renewing old friendships and talking of bygone days with his former parishioners.

At the opening the Rev. C. F. Stebbing (the vicar) presided, supported by members of the Parochial Church Council. Miss Helen Vidler, who accompanied her father, and Mrs. Stebbing were each presented with large bouquets by little Hilda Hephher.

In introducing Mr. Vidler, the Vicar said they were now at the half-way mark of their effort to raise £1,350 for the roof of the south aisle. That was, they had over £600 actually invested and in the bank, and there was a pleasant little surprise that he had to announce that afternoon. He had heard on Monday from Mr. Tyndall, one of the members of the Diocesan Board, that that body had granted the church £50. It could therefore be confidently said that by that afternoon they would be well on the second half of the large amount required. It was the policy to wait until they had enough to complete the work, and not to do things by halves, but it was hoped to get on with raising the money at a faster rate, and to see the work in hand in another two or three years.

There was no need to introduce the opener, as most of those present knew him so well already. He was Vicar of Swavesey for 17 years, and though it was now 14 years since he left, his influence was still widely and deeply felt. He really thought there was no man living who would be more welcome as an opener, and many present would like to have a word with him about old times, and to renew old friendships. (Applause.)

In declaring the sale open, Mr. Vidler warmly thanked those present for the hearty welcome they had given him on his return to Swavesey. He was pleasantly surprised to see so many church workers and he was glad that such an effort had been made towards the repair fund, with everyone "pulling together." The work of restoration had been going on for 30 or 40 years, and he hoped some of the old parishioners, like Mr. Key, would see the work completed. He thanked Mr. and Mrs. Stebbing for the invitation to open the fair, and had very great pleasure in declaring it open. (Applause.)

Appended is a list of stallholders and helpers.

GIPSY FAIR. 16th July 1926

The competitions at the Gipsy Fair, held in the Vicarage grounds on the 8th inst., in aid of Swavesey Church Repair Fund, were won by the following: Name of doll, Mrs. Holden; weight of eggs, Mrs. J. Cain; cake (lucky number), Mr. C. Phipps; weight of fowl, Mrs. S. Hephher; muddled menagerie, Mr. Nightingale; hidden towns, Miss S. Daintree; weight of cake, Mrs. Woolley; mystery parcel, Mrs. C. Banks; number of chocolates, Mr. J. Linford; cushion, Miss D. Aldred; salt cellars, Mr. E. Williams. The net proceeds of the Fair amounted to over £70.

PARISH COUNCIL. 16th July 1926

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, the following Councillors being present: Messrs. C. Wood (chairman), M. C. Culpin, J. Linford, P. Parish, and H. Wells, with the clerk (Mr. P. Godfrey). The principal business was the appointment of three trustees of the Swavesey Fire Relief Fund Charity, Mr. J. S. Goad having left the parish, and the period for which Mr. A. Day sen., and W. Twist were appointed having expired. Messrs. J. Linford, M. C. Culpin and H. Wells were appointed. The Clerk was instructed to pay the half-yearly instalment due in respect of the loan on the Memorial Hall, the requisite sum having been paid into the Parish Council account by the trustees.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHAPEL. 16th July 1926

The pulpit at Bethel Baptist Church last Sunday was occupied by Gipsy Ezekiel Smith and ex-Inspector Dean, from Cambridge, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. T. B. Field, who is away on holiday. The morning service was well attended, when the Gipsy gave an address to the children, and Inspector Dean preached. In the evening before the appointed time of service the chapel was well filled with people, gathered from miles around, and in spite of the heat, the congregation listened with great attention for over an hour to an earnest address by the Gipsy. An open-air service was held in the afternoon on the Recreation Ground, at which both the Gipsy and Inspector Dean gave addresses. It is estimated that at least 700 people, some from far distant villages, attended the services during the day.

A FALL DOWNSTAIRS. 16th July 1926

Mr. Charles Hephher, of High-street, was seriously injured through falling downstairs when on his way to bed on Sunday night. He cannot explain what caused him to fall, and no one witnessed the mishap, but, as for some time past he had been in bad health and was very feeble, it is thought that he may have become dizzy when ascending the stairs. On Monday, by direction of Dr. J. W. Ellis, he was conveyed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where by means of X-rays it was ascertained that he had sustained a fracture of the neck of the right femur. Unfortunately no bed was available for him at the hospital, and he had to be taken back home, being removed to St. Ives' Infirmary on Tuesday morning. Mr. Hephher, who was 72 on Sunday, was a well-known local carpenter, and for many years was in the employ of the late Mr. John Mitham, of Swavesey, and of his son and successor, Mr. Robinson Mitham.

TELEPHONE WIRES BROKEN. 23rd July 1926

During the storm on Sunday night a branch of a tree near the church fell on to the telephone wires, breaking all of them. The damage was repaired by noon on Monday.

GIPSY FAIR. 23rd July 1926

The Parochial Church Council have found that, after all expenses had been paid, the net profit from the recent Gipsy Fair, in aid of the Church Repair Fund, amounted to £67 12s., and not to over £70 as they anticipated, and as stated last week.

OFFENSIVE ODOURS. 23rd July 1926

Villagers are again complaining of the offensive smells arising from the open drain at the back of the houses in Middle Watch, especially in the neighbourhood of Gibraltar-lane. The flushing tank, provided by the District Council on the advice of the Ministry of Health, they say, is quite ineffective.

A MISPLACED STONE. 23rd July 1926

A motor cyclist had a painful experience of the rough condition of one of the Swavesey by-roads on Tuesday. He was cycling along the Hale road, and when near the Mill a loose stone flew up and inserted itself between the wheel and the mudguard with the result that the machine stopped dead and the rider was projected on to the road. All the Swavesey by-roads are in a bad state – some worse than others. A representative of a firm of auctioneers when recently on his way in a trap to inspect some land near the river is reported to have been bogged, and had to be rescued. The District Council would doubtless keep the by-roads and drove-ways in decent condition – in fact it is believed they are anxious to do so.

34 YEARS A POLICEMAN. 23rd July 1926

Ex-P.C. W. Cain Dies at Histon.

Ex-P.C. William Cain, one of Cambridgeshire's first policemen to be pensioned off under the Police Pensions Act, 1890, died at his home at Histon on Monday, in his 91st year.

Born at Swavesey on September 11th, 1835, Mr. Cain came of a respected family. He served for two years and one month in the Borough Police Force, but on March 9th, 1859, entered the Cambs. County Constabulary, of which he was a member until July 1st, 1891, when he was pensioned off. Of a genial disposition, Mr. Cain was a devoted servant and a faithful colleague, and it was with general regret that the news of his retirement was received.

Upon retiring, he went to live at Swavesey until the "Great Fire," as it is remembered, occurred there, burning down many houses, including Mr. Cain's residence. It was then that he moved to Histon, where he resided up to the time of his death.

MUSICAL SUCCESSES. 30th July 1926

In the examination held by the Incorporated Society of Musicians at Saffron Walden on July 21st, Joan Williams, daughter of Mr. H. H. Williams, Swavesey, passed with honours in Grade 2 (pianoforte), and Hilda Hepher, daughter of Mr. W. J. Hepher, Swavesey, in the preparatory grade (pianoforte). Both are pupils of Miss Naylor, of Over.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 30th July 1926

At the annual meeting of the Swavesey Football Club, held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, Mr. P. H. Lee presiding, it was reported that the club had a balance in hand of £1 19s. 7d., and the following officers were elected for the ensuing season: President, Mr. G. E. Canham; vice-presidents, Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Messrs. H. Ashby, C. F. Banks, A. Beaumont, W. A. Bignell, Blinkhorn, W. Crouch, P. H. Lee, J. Mustill and W. Mustill; captain, Mr. G. E. Canham; vice-captain, Mr. T. Savage; hon. sec., Mr. J. Salmon; assistant sec., Mr. A. E. W. Melbourne. It was decided to enter the Cambs. League (Div. III).

A COMPLAINT. 30th July 1926

"A Sufferer" writes to complain of the wagon loads of manure that are allowed to stand in Market-street within a few yards of houses in which people are suffering from throat, chest and lung troubles. He is anxious to know who gave authority for the vehicles with their objectionable contents to remain in such a position, and he asks that the practice may be stopped at once. A business man, he says, was ordered to remove a heap of manure which was on the roadside hundreds of yards from the nearest house, and he cannot therefore understand why wagon loads are permitted in Market-street, with houses in close proximity.

WEDDING. 30th July 1926

A pretty wedding took place at the parish church on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ellen May Howlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howlett, of Swavesey, and Mr. Charles William Parker, son of Mr. C. Parker, of Histon, were married in the presence of many relatives and friends. The Rev. C. F. Stebbing, vicar, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. P. Howlett, wore a charming dress of beige georgette and lace, with hat to match. She was attended by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss A. Howlett, and her niece, Miss D. Howlett, both of whom were in pretty delphinium blue satin marocain frocks, with ivory crinoline hats. Mr. W. G. Parker acted as best man. After the ceremony the wedding guests and friends were entertained at the Memorial Hall. The presents were numerous and useful.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK CARTER. 30th July 1926

We have to announce the death of Mr. Frank Andrews Carter, elder son of the late Mr. Frederick Carter, of Bury St. Edmund's, and previously of Swavesey, which occurred at his residence, 113, Balfour-road, Highbury, London, on the 22nd inst. Mr. Frank Carter was a member of an old and very well-known Swavesey family, and was born in the village 62 years ago. He leaves a widow, but no children, his two sons having made the great sacrifice during the war. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning at St. Augustine's' Church, Highbury, N., the Rev. J. D. Griffiths, vicar of the parish, officiating. After the service the body was conveyed by road to Swavesey for interment in the churchyard, where so many other members of the Carter family have for long years past been laid to rest. The Rev. J. D. Griffiths, who had accompanied the mourners from London, said the prayers of committal, and the Vicar of Swavesey (Rev. C. F. Stebbing) the benedictory prayer. The mourners included: Mrs. F. A. Carter (widow), Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ward (brother-in-law and sister-in-law), Misses C. and N. Carter (sisters), Mr. Cecil Ward (nephew), Miss Vera Ward and Mrs. Williams (nieces), Mr. A. T. A. Ward, Mr. H. R.

Ward, and Mr. P. A. Ward (brothers-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. F. Kirby, Miss M. Carter, Mr. C. W. H. Cole, Mrs. Peeling, and Miss Q. Cole (cousins). The flowers were many and exceptionally beautiful, and included a wreath of lovely roses from the widow which rested on the plain oak coffin when it was lowered into the ivy-lined grave. Mr. G. H. Carter, of Asplin's Close, Harpenden, was unable to attend the funeral owing to illness, and other members of his family were away from home.

THE LATE MR. W. CAIN. 30th July 1926

The funeral of Mr. William Cain, whose death, which occurred at his residence in Histon, was announced last week, took place on the 22nd inst. at Swavesey parish church, where he had been baptised and for many years of his long life had been a regular member of the congregation. The Rev. E. F. Allworthy, vicar of Histon, officiated, assisted by the Vicar of Swavesey (Rev. C. F. Stebbing). The mourners were: Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Cain (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. A. Bass (son-in-law and daughter), Miss Emily Cain (daughter), Mr. E. Bass (grandson), Miss Rebecca Thorp, Miss Clara Thorp, sen., ex-Supt. Stapleton, ex-Police Sergt. W. Allen, and Mrs. Allen (Cambridge), Mrs. R. Mitham, jun., and Mrs. Levell. Sergt. Keep and P.C. Breed represented the Cambs. Constabulary. Many old friends were present and others would no doubt have also been present had the date and time of the funeral been more generally known. The coffin was of polished elm, with brass fittings. Mr. Christmas, of Histon, carried out the funeral arrangements. The late Mr. W. Cain belonged to an old Swavesey family. He was born in the village 90 years ago, and was a son of the late Mr. Robert Cain. In 1857 he joined the Cambridge Borough Police Force, transferring after two years to the Cambridgeshire Constabulary, under Admiral Davis. During the time the late King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, was at Trinity College, and resided at Madingley Hall, P.C. Cain was on special duty there. He retired on pension in 1891 after 34½ years service, and went to live at Swavesey in the old house on the "Stones" by the Swan pond, which his parents had owned and occupied, and was then his property. Here he remained until the little homestead was destroyed in the great fire in 1913. Failing to find another house in Swavesey, he migrated to Histon, where he resided until his death, which occurred during the early hours of Monday, July 19th. His illness was of short duration – only 14 days. In his sermon at Histon parish church on Sunday evening, the Rev. E. F. Allworthy referred to the death of his aged parishioner. William Cain, he said, was a man of fine physique, of sterling character, and highly respected. A devout Churchman, and a regular communicant up to the last, notwithstanding his great age. The day before he died he had said to the preacher with perfect resignation, "I have had a long innings and I can't complain."

PARISH CHURCH. 6th Aug. 1926

The children attending the Parish Church Sunday School, who had their annual summer treat on Thursday week, spent a happy time in the Vicarage grounds. They did full justice to the excellent tea, and enjoyed games, sports, etc.

FOR ADDENBROOKE'S. 6th Aug. 1926

The house-to-house collection, which has recently been made in Swavesey in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital by Mesdames Aldred, Beaumont, Cooksey, C. Dean, F. Hemington, W. Thorp and Miss Gaunt, resulted in £16 11s. 3d., being raised, about the same amount as last year.

A MUCH APPRECIATED TREAT. 6th Aug. 1926

Miss Gertrude Thoday, assistant teacher at Swavesey National School, gave the children in her class, about thirty in number, a picnic at Overcote on Wednesday. The youngsters, who had a sumptuous tea, spent a thoroughly happy time by the river, and before they left for home were further regaled with tarts, milk and sweets.

SCRATCH BANK. 6th Aug. 1926

The Swavesey District Council at their last meeting decided by a majority vote to undertake the repair of Scratch Bank, and gave instructions for the necessary work to be carried out. It will be remembered that about two months ago a memorial on the subject, signed by the owners and occupiers of land in Middle Fen, was presented to the Council. In explanation of the word "Scratch," by which the bank is generally known, it may be mentioned that it is probably a corruption of "Cradge," which according to Webster's dictionary, is a small bank to prevent water overflowing."

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 6th Aug. 1926

The annual school treat in connection with Bethel Sunday School took place on Thursday week, when the young folks, to the number of seventy, were regaled with tea in the Schoolroom, and at the second table a large number of adults followed suit. After tea an adjournment was made to one of Mr. A. Day's fields (kindly lent for the occasion), where a good programme of sports was gone through, under the able superintendence of Messrs. G. E. Canham and F. W. Pontefract. A stall for the sale of goods left over from the last bazaar under the management of Mesdames Godfrey, sen., and Savage, contributed to the funds for church renovation.

MOTOR CYCLE MISHAP. 6th Aug. 1926

Mr. Bertram Gowler, of Hemingford Abbots, who was motor cycling home from Norwich on Friday evening, met with an accident on the Cambridge – Huntingdon road. When near the turning to Boxworth, by some unexplained cause, he fell, or was thrown, from his machine, and was found lying on the grass at the roadside partially unconscious by Mr. Jonas Smith, of Over, who came up in his motor car. No one witnessed the accident. Mr. Gowler's face and right hand were grazed, but beyond this he was not injured. The tube of the front wheel was out, but the machine, which was lying on the road, was not damaged. Mr. Gowler was conveyed to his home by Mr. Smith, and the motor cycle was taken to the New Inn.

SCOUTS' CAMP. 6th Aug. 1926

Considerable interest has been created in the village by the advent of Boy Scouts from London, who until the 15th inst. will camp on the grounds of the Rev. T. B. and Mrs. Field at Rutholme. Two troops are represented, viz., 48th West London and 15th Willesden, under the command of Scoutmaster Boshier, M.B.E., M.B.R.C.S., assisted by Assistant Scoutmasters Speechly, Jackson, Tolchard and Mitchell, and Cub-Mistress Miss Godliman. There are thirty persons in camp, to accommodate whom three Army bell tents and two bivouac tents have been erected, all cooking being done in the open air. On Sunday morning church parade took place at Bethel Baptist Church, when the Rev. C. J. Fowler, of Cherryhinton, conducted the service. There will be a special parade next Sunday, conducted by the Rev. T. B. Field and Scoutmaster Boshier, the members of the 1st Swavesey Boys' Brigade joining in. The lads are thoroughly enjoying themselves, and after rambling, fishing, bathing and cycling usually close the day with camp fire sing-song and prayer. During the past week many friends have visited the camp.

SWAVESEY SHOW AND SPORTS. 6th Aug. 1926

Fine Weather, Good Attendance and Splendid Exhibits.

All roads in Swavesey led to the Manor Field yesterday (Thursday), when the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society held their fourth annual show and sports. The field was kindly lent by Mr. A. Watts. The Clerk of the Weather was in a good humour, and had much to do with the success of the show. As is often the case with such affairs, the attendance was not very large in the early hours of the afternoon, but later on many people turned up and viewed the attractions provided with obvious enjoyment and admiration. An enthusiastic committee had worked hard for some days to make the show a success, and the result was very satisfactory and should amply reward them for their efforts.

On the whole the show exhibits were very good. Considering the season, the cooking apples were splendid and the peas also were well up to the average. The potatoes were very good in all classes. The Royal Air Force Band, Duxford, were present, by permission of Wing-Commander R. G. Small, C.O., Duxford. This combination of musicians were in their usual pleasing form, and played on the Manor Field during the afternoon and for dancing in the Memorial Hall in the evening. Entries for the sports were good, and some exciting events were seen.

(Officials and prizewinners in newspaper).

PERSONAL. 13th Aug. 1926

Mr. Walter Dodson, of Plumstead Common-road, Woolwich, a native, and one-time resident of Swavesey, who came from London in order to be present at the Show and Sports of the Swavesey and District Horticultural Society, of which he is Vice-President, received such a hearty welcome from his old friends that he has prolonged his stay in the village during the present week.

STACK FIRE. 13th Aug. 1926

About 12.55 a.m. on Sunday last P.C. Breed, whilst on duty, saw a fire along the Fen Drayton-road, Swavesey. Upon going to the spot he found that a rather large hay-stack, belonging to Mr. Frank Norman, was all ablaze. The fire had got such a complete hold that nothing could be done to save the stack, which was completely destroyed. The cause of the outbreak is unknown, but is being investigated by the County Police. The stack contained about 40 tons of hay.

STRANGE NESTING PLACE. 13th Aug. 1926

When near a row of ancient Dod trees at the back of his premises, Mr. James Prior, of Stanton Vue, Swavesey, heard the call of chickens, and, on investigating whence it came, saw the head of a chick peeping through a small hole in the trunk of one of the trees. On enlarging the hole with a hatchet, Mr. Prior, to his surprise, discovered about half-a-dozen little birds. He surmises that the hen laid her eggs over a hole in an arm at the top of the tree through which the chicks fell down the hollow trunk.

SCOUTS' CAMP. 13th Aug. 1926

A church parade took place at Bethel Chapel on Sunday, the service being conducted by the pastor, the Rev. T. B. Field, who was assisted by Scoutmaster Boshier, M.B.E. The camp breaks up to-morrow (Saturday), and the scouts desire to heartily thank all friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Field, Mr. Pontefract, Mr. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman, Mr. S. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Willson, Mr. Blinkhorn, Mr. J. Day, Mr. Crisp, Mr. Peters, Mr. Twist, Mrs. Mead and Mrs. Aldred, who sent fruit vegetables, eggs, tinned tongue, and other good things, which, needless to say, were hugely enjoyed. The boys nearly every evening had camp-fire "sing-songs," and during the daytime visited the surrounding villages, St. Ives, and Cambridge, and indulged in those games so dear to youth. The lads will carry away very pleasant memories of the beauties and kindness of Swavesey, as the people of Swavesey will remember them, since their behaviour has been all that could be desired. It is hoped that when camp time comes again the scouts will return to the village. The Scoutmaster and his assistants have been indefatigable in looking after the comfort and conduct of the lads. They will find their reward with results of the voluntary work so nobly done.

ACCIDENT TO SWAVESEY BOY. 13th Aug. 1926

Arm Smashed by Truck of Granite.

Roy Godfrey, 5½ years of age, youngest child of Mr. P. Godfrey, haulage contractor, Market-street, Swavesey, met with a terrible accident about 11.30 a.m. on Monday, when attempting to climb on to a moving truck laden with 5½ tons of granite. Two trucks, both containing granite, were being drawn from the railway station along High-street, and when near Turn Bridge, three or four small boys, one of whom was Roy's brother Bernard, managed to climb on to the second truck. Opposite the National School, Roy attempted to follow their example, and tried to climb up by one of the wheels, with the result that he fell backwards with his right arm under the rear off-side wheel. One of the other boys shouted to the men on the engine to stop, but before the engine stopped the wheel, after skidding on the poor little fellow's arm, had passed over it. Notwithstanding his terrible injuries, the child was able to get up, and assisted by one of the other boys, had walked about 40 yards when Mrs. C. Wood, of the School House, who had rushed out on hearing screams, took him in her arms and ran towards his home. Half-way along the street Mr. Arthur Beaumont took the child, Mrs. Wood supporting the mangled limb, which was bleeding profusely. On reaching Mr. Godfrey's house, Nurse Walters, who fortunately happened to be close by, rendered what aid she could, and within a few minutes the child, accompanied by the nurse and Mrs. G. Brooks, was hurried off by motor car to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where the arm was at once amputated. The arm appears to have been wrenched from the shoulder socket and smashed. P.C. Breed, who was on the scene immediately after the accident happened, measured the skid marks on the tarred road; they were 4ft. 6in. in length and 5½in. in width.

On enquiry at Addenbrooke's Hospital yesterday (Thursday) morning, it was ascertained that the boy was progressing satisfactorily. It is understood there are hope that the upper part of his arm may be saved.

He was at once taken home by Mr. Jack Wilding, who also accompanied him to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where his injuries were attended to. The boy was not detained at the Hospital, but will remain an out-patient.

HOSPITALITY ABUSED. 27th Aug. 1926

Coventry Man Gets Three Months' for Mean Theft.

A Coventry man who rewarded a person at whose hands he had received hospitable treatment by stealing his bicycle was sentenced to three months' hard labour by the Cambs. Divisional Bench on Saturday. His Honour Judge H. G. Farrant was the presiding magistrate.

John Edward Sedgley, of 717, Stoney Stanton-road, Coventry, was charged with stealing a gent's bicycle valued, at £2 5s., at Fen Drayton on August 15th, the property of James Kester.

James Kester, living at Swavesey, smallholder, said that on Sunday, August 15th, he was between Longstanton-road and the King William IV, on the Huntingdon-road at 6 a.m., going home from Cambridge. Witness saw the prisoner, who was walking in the direction of Huntingdon. He (witness) was cycling, and upon prisoner asking him the time he got off and told him it was between 5 a.m. and 6 a.m. Witness walked with him as far as Soldier's Drove, prisoner telling him it was a hard life on the road. Witness then left him on his cycle, and told him if he liked to come he could have some breakfast with him at his home at Swavesey. Prisoner arrived at his (witness's) home at 7 a.m., and was provided with a meal. He rested, and witness then showed him the way on the road, taking him as far as Fen Drayton, reaching there about 12 o'clock, and giving him a good drink at the Three Tuns publichouse. Whilst there someone made a remark about the employment, and witness then left there, and between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. took him as far as Conington-road end. Before he got there prisoner expressed a wish to get work at Mr. Scambler's at Conington, 1½ or 1¾ miles off the Huntingdon-road, and asked witness to lend him his bicycle to go there, as it was some distance to walk. Witness said, "You won't do anything dirty?" and he said "No. If I don't get a job at Mr. Scambler's I will bring the bike back to Conington-road end and walk to Thrapston. Witness lent him the cycle and waited for about 1½ hours on the Huntingdon-road bridge to see if prisoner returned, but he failed to do so. The bicycle was worth about £2 5s., but the lamp attached to it was not his. Witness borrowed a bicycle from another young fellow and cycled to Conington and Fenstanton to make inquiries, but did not see prisoner. This was between 3 and 4 p.m. Later he went on a motor cycle to Huntingdon, where he received certain information regarding the prisoner, and he told the police what happened. Prisoner did not tell him his address or his name, nor did he say anything about going to Coventry on the cycle, otherwise he would not have lent him it. After making the first trip on the bicycle, witness waited for Sedgley until after 6.15 p.m. on the Huntingdon-road for him.

Sedgley said that he understood Mr. Kester to say that he would lend him the cycle to go home on.

Sergt. Payne gave evidence that on August 17th he went to the Borough Police Station, where he saw the prisoner in custody. Witness was in plain clothes at the time. When arrested Sedgley said, "On Sunday morning I met Calsford (meaning Mr. Kester) at No. 1 Council Houses, Swavesey, and he lent me the bicycle to ride to Coventry. I was going to return it to him on my arrival at Coventry." Witness escorted prisoner to the County Police Station, Cambridge, where he was cautioned by Supt. Allen, and in the course of the statement said, "I met Mr. Kester coming from Cambridge. He took me to his house and gave me some breakfast. We then went and had some beer. Then he sent me after a job, and I could not get it. He then said he would lend me the bicycle to go home on if I returned it. . . I then made my way towards Huntingdon, and that way home. The bicycle is the one I had from Kester, and I had it when the Northants. Police arrested me."

The Chairman: How long was it after he had the bicycle that he was arrested?

Sergt. Payne; The next day.

Prisoner pleaded not guilty, and in the course of a statement persisted that he understood Mr. Kester to say that if he (prisoner) did not get work he could cycle home. He would have forwarded the machine back as soon as he arrived at Coventry. Prisoner attributed his present position in life to the strike, and informed the magistrates that lately he had done some pea-picking and had assisted in the cultivation of sugar beet, but the pay was low.

Supt. Allen stated that Sedgley was 32, and was a brazier by trade and worked for one firm at Coventry for six years until 1921. Since then he had done no work. He had been convicted on two occasions, viz., for drunkenness, for which offence he was fined 10s., and for stealing a bicycle, for which he received three months' hard labour.

Prisoner: I bought that bicycle, but I did not get the receipt.

Supt. Allen, continuing, said Sedgley served for two months in the Army, being discharged owing to eye trouble. Later, he served for a time in the Labour Corps.

The Bench sentenced prisoner to three months' hard labour.

THE INSTITUTE. 17th Sept. 1926

A correspondent writes: At the annual general meeting of the Swavesey Institute on April 12th, as there was – to quote the report in the “Independent Press” – “a strong disinclination on the part of any one present to accept office,” it was decided that the Institute should be closed for six months, and that a further general meeting should be held on September 30th. That date is near at hand. Some members of the Institute, and possibly other Swavesey residents who have the interest of the village and villagers at heart, have no doubt during the past few months given the question of re-organisation their serious consideration, for it would be most unfortunate – to put it very mildly – if what ought to be a valuable parish institution ceased to exist. Complaint is made of the dullness of village life. The villages of Great and Little Wilbraham, we read last week, are not dull because among other things, they have an institute, and the Swavesey Institute was established to make life in Swavesey brighter by providing a place where villagers – the younger ones in particular – could go for recreation, and, if they desired, add to their store of knowledge by attending classes, etc. But an institute to be carried on successfully must be governed by rules, which should be strictly and impartially enforced. I need not enter into the question whether the rules of the Swavesey Institute have been enforced in the past, but if, as I trust will be the case, the meeting on September 30th decides that the Institute should continue, it is to be hoped that the committee will see that they are adhered to in future, and that the members generally will support the committee in any action they may find it necessary to take.

FOR THE BLIND. 24th Sept. 1926

Last Saturday was Geranium Day in Swavesey, and the following girls of the upper division at the school, each of whom was allotted a district in the village, sold flowers for the benefit of the National Institute for the Blind: Yvonne lee, Nancy Prime, Grace Whybrow, Marguerite Nightingale, Winnie Wood, Olive Wilderspin, Joyce Melbourne, Hilda Culpin, Vida Parish and Winifred Payne. The sum of £2 8s was realised.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 24th Sept. 1926

Owing to indisposition the Rev. T. B. Field, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, was unable to officiate last Sunday. As the chapel is closed until the 30th inst.

for renovation, the morning service took place in a large barn at Trinity College Farm, kindly lent by Mr. Robert Norman, the pulpit being occupied by ex-Inspector Dean. Gipsy Ezekiel Smith preached in the evening, when in consequence of the intense heat the service was held in a meadow adjoining the barn. Gipsy Smith also conducted a service in the Recreation Ground in the afternoon. Mr. Field hopes to be able to resume his duties next Sunday.

HOCKEY CLUB. 24th Sept. 1926

All last year's officers, with one exception, were re-elected at the annual meeting of the Hockey Club on Monday evening; viz.: President, Mr. R. C. Cole; vice-presidents, Messrs. W. A. Bignell, W. Blinkhorn, F. Kirby, R. Mailer, and R. Williamson; captain, Miss D. Banks; vice-captain, Miss E. Parish; hon., secretary, Miss D. Aldred; treasurer, Miss E. Dodson (new appointment). The first practice game will be played next Thursday, and it may be mentioned that the club is desirous of enrolling new members.

A PERTINENT QUESTION. 24th Sept. 1926

A correspondent writes: - The Swavesey by-roads, which have long been sadly neglected, are rapidly getting worse and worse. The last "appointed" roadman ceased to function some nine or ten months ago. He was succeeded during the winter by a man who apparently was employed temporarily. Since March there has been no roadman, appointed or casual, yet I am given to understand that a by-way rate is still being levied by the District Council. Perhaps our two local district councillors will explain why they have appointed no roadman, and why they have levied the rate?

BRITISH LEGION. 24th Sept. 1926

At the quarterly meeting of the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion, held at the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, Mr. R. Barwell (chairman) presiding, the programme for the winter was considered, and it was decided that the annual dinner should take place at the end of the year, and be followed by a concert, and that there should be a whist drive during the autumn. Preliminary arrangements were also made for the church parade on Sunday, Nov. 7th, and for the sale of poppies on Armistice Day, and an offer by Mr. P. H. Lee (treasurer) to provide a notice board, provided permission for its erection outside the Memorial Hall could be obtained, was accepted with thanks. Before the meeting closed there was a long discussion respecting the scope of the Relief Fund, in course of which several points on which considerable misconception appeared to exist were explained.

CONSERVATIVE OPEN AIR CAMPAIGN. 24th Sept. 1926

Meetings at Swavesey, Caxton and Willingham.

The fourth and concluding week of the County Conservative Association's annual campaign of open-air meetings was opened at Swavesey on Monday evening, and, as usual, in addition to preliminary posters, handbills, containing a polite invitation to the meeting had been distributed during the day. The result was a large attendance. The pitch was illuminated by a powerful acetylene lamp, which, in addition to other necessary paraphernalia, Mr. W. W. Light, the county agent, carries in his car.

Mr. R. Barwell, who was supported by prominent men and women members of the association, presided, and in opening the meeting, welcomed Mr. T. H. Batty, the principal speaker, on his return visit. It was, the Chairman said, two years since Mr. Batty had spoken in Swavesey, and the reception Mr. Batty received on rising to speak on Monday proved that the audience, irrespective of their political opinions, were delighted to have the opportunity of listening to him again. After a rapid but comprehensive survey of the accomplishments of the Government, and contrasting their Acts with the unfulfilled promises of the Socialists, particularly as regards pensions for widows and orphans, the speaker traced the history of the coal dispute. He claimed that the signature of the Dawes report by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the then Prime Minister, whereby German coal was released for sale on the market of the world, was the original cause of the break-up of the prosperous condition previously prevailing in our export coal trade.

In inviting questions, Mr. Light referred to local matters, and as no questions were asked, the meeting terminated after a vote of thanks had been accorded the speaker of the evening.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 1st Oct 1926

A successful dance, under the auspices of the Football Club, was held in the Memorial Hall on Thursday week. An excellent selection of music was provided by the Cambridge Zivola Syncopaters, and Mr. G. Oakman was an efficient M.C.

EVENING CLASSES. 1st Oct. 1926

Evening classes will be held during the winter months for instruction in arithmetic, English language and literature, history, woodwork, or any other subject required, providing that the necessary number of students (not less than 12) give in their names at once to Mr. C. Wood, headmaster, Swavesey National School. An orchestral class has been arranged, and will open on Monday evening.

THE INSTITUTE. 1st Oct. 1926

At the annual meeting of the Institute in April, as there was a general disinclination on the part of members to undertake the responsibilities of office, it was decided to close the Institute for six months, and to adjourn the meeting until Sept. 30th. That meeting was held on Wednesday evening, Sept. 29th, it having been found desirable to alter the date so as not to clash with harvest festivals, etc., in the district. Mr. Sidney Clark (chairman) presided. He was the only officer elected in April. Mr. C. Wood (late secretary) supported him. The audience consisted almost entirely of youths and lads, the few older men present including Messrs. F. W. Pontefract, T. C. Heasman, Frank Hepher, Ernest Prior, C. Savage, and H. H. Berryman. With these exceptions, not a single influential parishioner attended. Yet the Institute is for the benefit of the people – the younger people especially – of the parish. Only one parish councillor (Mr. Wood) was there. The two district councillors, the ministers of religion, the churchwardens, the deacons, all were conspicuous by their absence. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been passed, an attempt was made to elect officers, but no one was even proposed as president, and no one as vice-chairman. Messrs. Wood, Pontefract and Berryman were in turn proposed as secretary, but all declined the office. As a possible way out of the difficulty, Mr. Wood then proposed the appointment of a small committee to consider whether the Institute could be carried on. Mr. C. Savage seconded, and the proposition was carried. It was then agreed, on the motion of Mr. J. Salmon, seconded by Mr. F. Aldred, that the committee should consist of the chairman and five members, and that they should report to a further general meeting to be held at the Memorial Hall at 7.30 p.m. on Monday. Messrs. W. A. Bignell, Frank Hepher, C. Savage, W. Spolton and C. Wood were chosen to serve on the special committee.

NATIONAL SCHOOL. 8th Oct. 1926

Miss Evans, of Upwood, Hunts., has been appointed an assistant teacher (uncertified) at Swavesey National School. She commenced her duties on Monday.

WHIST DRIVE. 8th Oct. 1926

Notwithstanding the counter-attraction of a circus in the village, twelve tables were occupied at the whist drive, organised by Mrs. Berryman and Mrs. E. J. Mitham, in aid of the Church Repair Fund, which was held at the Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening. The prizewinners were: Ladies – Miss K. Banks, Miss D. Pettett, Mrs. Banks; gentlemen – Rev. C. F. Stebbing, Mr. H. Brooks, Mr. P. Burton. Mr. S. F. Mitham officiated as M.C. The net proceeds amounted to £3 13s. 8d.

END OF SUMMER TIME. 8th Oct. 1926

Although no serious happenings of an untoward nature have to be recorded in connection with the putting back of the clocks in Swavesey on Saturday night, there were a few incidents of minor importance. One villager is reported to have sat up until 3 a.m. (Summer time) on Sunday in order to make the alteration at the appointed moment, and two or three others advanced their timekeepers by an hour, while our local correspondent, who had duly set back his watch before retiring to rest on Saturday, discovered on Sunday morning that it had stopped, as he had omitted to wind it up.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 8th Oct. 1926

A trinity of celebrations took place in connection with the Bethel Baptist Church on Thursday week. The re-opening of the church after the re-decoration and repair (which reflects the greatest credit upon Messrs. Peters and R. Mitham) and the harvest thanksgiving, combined with the Pastor's first anniversary, brought together a good company to hear the Rev. R. Smith, of Histon, who preached in the afternoon an eloquent sermon upon the "bit more," as illustrated by Solomon's response to the Queen of Sheba in giving her more than she asked. Following the service came a well-provided tea, to which 90 persons sat down. The evening meeting, which filled the church, was presided over by Mr. O. Smith, of Cambridge, and was addressed by Mr. A. Townsend, of Ealing, an old friend and fellow worker with the Pastor at Kensal Rise, Revs. R. Smith and G. E. Bird (Over). The choir gave an admirable rendering of the chorus "Give thanks unto God." The Pastor, Rev. T. B. Field, thanked all who in any way had assisted to make the services a success, and referred to the cordial relations existing between himself and wife and the people. The past year, he said, had seen a solidifying, which augured well for the days to come. The gifts in kind were sent to Addenbrooke's Hospital, and the monetary gifts were handed to the Pastor as a token of esteem.

SWAVESEY INSTITUTE. 8th Oct. 1926

To be Reopened Next Week.

The adjourned meeting of Swavesey Institute, which should have taken place on Monday was cancelled by the Chairman (Mr. Sidney Clark) as a travelling circus was visiting the village that evening, but the steps taken by him to notify the public were inadequate, and a number of people interested in the Institute attended at the Memorial Hall at the appointed time. Not only had the report in the "Independent Press" of last week's meeting aroused interest, but the Pastor of Bethel Baptist Church (Rev. T. B. Field) referred to the projected meeting at a service on Sunday. An informal meeting was, however, held in the Hall. Among others present were the Rev. T. B. Field, Messrs. H. H. Berryman, W. A. Bignell, J. Day, H. R. Lovell, J. J. Marriott, A. W. Melbourne, R. Norman, sen., E. Prior, J. Prior, W. Thorp, E. J. Warboys, C. Wood, Mrs. Marriott, Mrs. Thurlow, and Miss Spolton. In justice to the Vicar, it should be stated that he had been informed that there would be no meeting. Mr. Wood, the late secretary of the Institute, who was voted to the chair, made a statement respecting the recommendations of the special committee appointed last week to consider whether the Institute could be carried on. The Institute, he said, was in debt, and at least £20 was wanted to meet liabilities and to pay for the repair of furniture, fittings, etc., that had been damaged. The committee were of opinion that the Institute could not be carried on satisfactorily unless the rules were strictly enforced, and they recommended the appointment of a committee of management, consisting of eight persons, whose names were given, each of whom was pledged to see that the rules were rigidly enforced. The special committee also recommended the adoption of a new rule holding a member personally liable for any damage for which he, or she, was responsible; the revision of charges for the billiard tables, and the conditions governing their use, and that the annual subscription to the Institute should be 5s., paid half-yearly, for adult members, and 3s. for those under 18. A useful discussion followed the Chairman's statement, in course of which various points on which misapprehension existed were explained, and it was unanimously agreed that it was of the utmost importance that the Institute should be carried on, especially for the benefit of the younger people of the village. The Rev. T. B. Field stated that his absence from last week's meeting was due to his not knowing until after the meeting was over that the date on which it was to be held had been altered. Mr. J. Day raised the question of the misconduct of people attending dances, etc., at the Hall, and it was explained that the Institute had nothing whatever to do with entertainments, other than those organised by the Institute, and that the Hall was let on such occasions to the parties concerned by the Parish Council, who were the owners of the Hall. On the proposition of Mr. Lovell, seconded by Mr. Thorp, it was agreed that the adjourned Institute meeting should be held on Wednesday. Mr. Field said he regretted that an engagement in Cambridge would prevent his being present.

THE ADJOURNED MEETING.

There was a large and representative attendance at the meeting, held on Wednesday evening, at which Mr. S. Clark presided. Mr. Wood again explained the recommendations of the special committee, all of which were adopted except in regard to one or two minor points, and the following officers were elected: President, Rev. C. F. Stebbing; vice-president, Rev. T. B. Field; chairman, Mr. S. Clark; vice-chairman, Mr. C. S. Hephher; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. C. Wood; committee, Messrs. H. H. Berryman, W. A. Bignell, T. C. Heasman, Frank Hephher, H. R. Lovell, C. Savage, Mrs. Berryman and Mrs. C. S. Hephher. It was decided that the Institute should be re-opened on Monday next, that a caretaker with wages of 10s. a week should be appointed by the committee, and that applications for the post should be handed to the committee not later than noon to-day (Friday). A proposal that there should be twelve stewards, two of whom should attend every evening, was carried, and twelve men present volunteered for the duty. The question of an age limit for juvenile members was discussed at some length, and it was eventually decided that there should be no restriction, but that no youngster under 14 should remain in the Institute after 9 p.m. The Monday dances are to be continued, but will be open to members only. The proposals of the special committee in respect of the billiard tables were approved except as regards the suggestion that youths under 18 should be allowed under certain conditions to play on the full-sized table, an amendment that no player under 18 should be allowed to use the table being carried by 34 votes to 10. The suggestion that steps should be taken to form a billiards league for the district was cordially approved, and the secretary was asked to communicate on the subject with clubs at Willingham, Fen Drayton, St. Ives (2), Bluntisham, Earith and Fenstanton. The announcement that a challenge cup would be forthcoming was loudly applauded. Before the meeting closed the question of misconduct at dances, etc., was again brought forward, and Mr. Wood explained the Institute's position in the matter.

RIPE STRAWBERRIES. 15th Oct. 1926

During last week Mr. Dennis Williams of Market-street, gathered two or three lbs. of ripe strawberries. A few have also been gathered by Mr. T. C. Heasman. They were grown on his smallholding.

DEATH OF MRS. R. MITHAM. 15th Oct. 1926

Mr. R. Mitham has suffered irreparable loss by the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Jane Mitham, who passed away on Wednesday evening after ten years of failing health and frequent illness. Mrs. Mitham, who was 74 years of age last month, leaves three sons and two daughters. She was a sister of the late Mr. Samuel Furniss, of Hilton, Hunts.

ENTERPRISE. 15th Oct. 1926

Mr. James Moyne, the licensee of the White Horse inn, on Wednesday evening placed a good-sized oil lamp on the Market-street corner of his premises, and it is understood that it is his intention that it shall be lighted every night during the winter months. Perhaps some other enterprising and public-spirited villagers will follow Mr. Moyne's highly commendable example. The street lamps have not been lighted since they were extinguished during the war.

THE INSTITUTE. 15th Oct. 1926

Swavesey Institute was reopened on Monday, and upwards of fifty members were at once enrolled. The Monday evening dance, a very popular feature of the Institute's activities in the past, was well attended, but unfortunately there was considerably more men than ladies. These dances, under the new rules, are open to members only. Mr. Ernest Prior, who resides opposite the Memorial Hall, has been appointed caretaker by the Committee Management.

PARISH COUNCIL. 15th Oct. 1926

The quarterly meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, the following Councillors attending: Mr. C. Wood (chairman), Messrs. P. Burton, J. Linford, R. Norman, P. Parish and H. Wells, with the clerk, Mr. P. Godfrey. There was very little business transacted. The circular from the County Council respecting soft roads was discussed and on the motion of Mr. Norman, seconded by Mr. Parish, it was decided that no action be taken by the Council in the matter. An application by the local branch of the British Legion for permission to erect a notice board on the parish property in High-street was granted, and a precept was issued for £15 for expenses of the Council. Mr. Linford asked whether a member who had not attended a meeting of the Council since April 16th had vacated his seat by absence, and after a brief discussion the clerk was instructed to write to the member in question on the subject.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. 15th Oct. 1926

The parish church was effectively decorated with flowers, fruit, etc., for the harvest festival on Thursday week. The day opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion in the early morning, and festal evensong was sung at 7 p.m. The vicar (Rev. C. F. Stebbing) officiated, and the Rev. W. T. Gibbings, rector of Boddington, Northants., was the special preacher. The Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were sung to a setting by E. A. Clare, and the anthem was Stainer's "Ye shall dwell in the land." With the help from neighbouring villages a peal was rung on the bells before the service. The festival was continued on Sunday, when in addition to the usual services, a children's flower service was held in the afternoon, their offerings of flowers, etc., being sent to St. Ives Infirmary. The preacher at evensong was the Rev. F. W. Fulford, vicar of St. Andrew's-the-Great, Cambridge. Good congregations attended all the services, but the collections on Thursday and Sunday morning which, as usual were in aid of Addenbrooke's Hospital, were rather below the average of recent years. They amounted to £6 15s. The collection on Sunday evening for church expenses realised £2 7s. The gifts of fruit, vegetables, etc., have been sent to Addenbrooke's.

ADVERT. 22nd Oct. 1926

ANOTHER LAMP. 22nd Oct. 1926

Following the good example set by the landlord of the White Horse inn, Mr. James Prior has placed a lamp outside his premises at Boxworth End, opposite the Longstanton-road.

CHURCH BELLS. 22nd Oct. 1926

F.W. writes: It has been said in the village that the Swavesey bell-ringers are lazy people. As I happened to be passing the church recently I had a pull on the bells, and I can state that only strong men can ring them in their present condition, and then only for five or ten minutes at the longest. As I have rung in nearly 100 different towers, I have come across indifferent "go" and tone of bells, and I have found that for tone Swavesey bells are good, but for "go" they are worse than the worst.

CLASSES AND LECTURES. 22nd Oct. 1926

Evening classes in woodwork, arithmetic, history and English literature have been arranged in connection with the Institute, and will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A fair number of students have joined, but there is still room for a few more, and it is hoped that the young people of the village will take advantage of these classes. Agricultural lectures have also been arranged with the Rural Community Council, and these will be given in the Memorial Hall on Friday evenings. The date of the first lecture will be notified later. In conjunction with the Community Council it is also intended to hold concerts and various other social attractions during the winter.

MOTOR ACCIDENT. 22nd Oct. 1926

Mr. Alfred Baxter, of Fenstanton, and his wife, met with an accident when motoring on the Huntingdon-road about 1.50 p.m. on Thursday week. It appears that from some unknown cause the car, when passing a motor lorry, swerved on to the roadside grass and crashed against a telegraph pole. A clergyman riding by on a motor cycle rendered what help he could, and Mr. H. R. Lovell, of Swavesey, who came up in his car soon after the accident, hastened to Fenstanton to obtain a conveyance to take Mr. and Mrs. Baxter to their home, both being injured, the latter, it was feared, somewhat seriously. On arriving home they were examined by Dr. Grove, of St. Ives, who had been sent for, and he advised their removal to the Hunts. County Hospital. The car was badly damaged, and the telegraph pole bears marks of the collision.

RETIREMENT OF OLD PASTOR. 22nd Oct. 1926

Many of our readers in and around Swavesey will learn with interest that the Rev. B. G. Knight, who some 26 years ago was pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, has retired from active ministerial work, and is enjoying a well-earned rest at Letchworth Garden City. A native of Evesham, his school days were spent in that town, and were followed by several years of business life. His inclinations were, however, towards the ministry, and he entered Spurgeon's College, coming under the influence not only of Spurgeon himself, but of Principal Gracey and Professors Fergusson and Marchant. Mr. Knight has only had three pastorates – the first at Tonbridge, the second at Swavesey, and the third at George-street Church, Fletton, Peterborough. This church was opened in May 1900, Mr. Knight beginning his ministry there in November of that year. He quickly won the love and esteem of the people, and in his work was ably seconded by his wife.

THE LATE MRS. R. MITHAM. 22nd Oct. 1926

There was a large attendance of villagers and other sympathising friends at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Jane Mitham, wife of Mr. Robinson Mitham, which took place at Swavesey parish church on Monday afternoon. In the absence of the Vicar, who was away from home, the Rev. J. F. Cooksey officiated. The mourners were: Mr. R. Mitham (husband), Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mitham, Mr. and Mrs. R. Mitham, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Mitham (sons and daughters-in-law), Mrs. and Mr. G. H. Skeeles, Mrs. and Mrs. C. J. Shepperson (daughters and sons-in-law), Masters John, Ernest and Bobbie Mitham (grandsons), Mrs. Beaumont, Mrs. John Mitham (sisters-in-law), Miss Ellen Thorp Messrs. Fred Furniss (Hilton), Frank and Arthur Beaumont, J. W. and T. Mitham (nephews), Miss L. Beaumont and Mrs. F. Hemington (nieces), Mr. T. Johnson (Fen Drayton), Mr. W. E. Hephher (Wisbech), Mrs. G. Hawkes and Mr. and Mrs. J. Cain (cousins). There were representatives from the Mother's Union, of which Mrs. Mitham had been for many years a member. Many others were present from the village (list in newspaper). The coffin was of panelled oak with brass fittings.

TITHES, RATES, TAXES. 29th Oct. 1926

The first of a series of five lectures, under the auspices of the Cambs. Rural Community Council, on subjects allied to Agriculture, was given at the Institute on Friday evening by Mr. R. Ede of the Agricultural College, Cambridge, who dealt with "Tithes, Rates and Taxes, and their origin," in a way that kept his audience keenly interested from start to finish. A discussion, in which Mr. B. Hodson, Mr. H. R. Lovell, Mr. W. Thorp and others took part followed the lecture, and at the close Mr. Ede was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. The next lecture will be given at 7 o'clock this (Friday) evening, at the National School, when Mr. Ede will take "Marketing and Co-operation" as his subject.

LIGHTS O'SWAVESEY. 29th Oct. 1926

"Skotos" writes: "The proceedings of our Parish Council make amusing reading. They remind one of a certain General who marched his troops up a hill and then he marched them down again. Why is it that on moonless nights we have no street lamps? It is just as dark as it was before the war. If it was good to have lamps then, it surely would be the same now. We admire the public spirit of the two gentlemen who at their own expense are enlightening our darkness. Granted that burdens of life have been increased by taxes on mineral waters, tobacco and various other useful commodities, so that it may not be desirable ever to suggest a lighting rate, the writer suggests that where the householder is willing to "keep the home lights burning" he be allowed lamp and standard to do so. The writer would be willing so to act, and probably other residents would do the same. Of course, each person would be willing to "put out his light" when bed-time arrived.

LIBRARY. 5th Nov. 1926

The Swavesey branch of the County Library will be open this (Friday) evening, from 5.30 to 6.30 p.m., at the National School. An excellent selection of fresh books has just been received.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. 5th Nov. 1926

Ex-Service men are asked to attend the evening service at the parish church on Sunday, and pay a tribute to the memory of their fallen comrades. They should meet at the churchyard gates at 6.15 p.m., and should wear their decorations and medals. A collection will be taken at the service in aid of Earl Haig's Fund.

TRAIN AND POSTAL ALTERATIONS. 5th Nov. 1926

The following trains from Swavesey station were suspended on Monday last, and until further notice will be run on Saturdays only, viz.: 1.46 p.m. to Cambridge and 1.55 p.m. to St. Ives. In consequence of the withdrawal of the 1.46 p.m. train, the day mail from Swavesey is now being despatched by the 11.8 a.m. train to Cambridge. Last time of posting at Swavesey Post Office, 10.30 a.m.

FOOTBALL CLUB. 5th Nov. 1926

In spite of the inclement weather, a successful whist drive took place at the Memorial Hall on the 28th ult., under the auspices of the Swavesey Football Club. Eleven tables were in play, over which Mr. T. Savage presided as M.C., and the prizes were won by: Ladies – Mrs. C. Dean, Mrs. W. Thorp, Mrs. H. Holmes; gentlemen – Mr. D. Williams, Mr. H. Culpin, Mr. S. Clark.

MARKETING AND CO-OPERATION. 5th Nov. 1926

The second of a series of lectures on Subjects allied to Agriculture, was given by Mr. R. Ede at the National School on Friday, when an interesting and instructive lecture on Markets, Marketing and Co-operation was followed by an equally interesting discussion, in which Messrs. J. Day, H. R. Lovell, E. J. Mitham, A. L. Parish, C. Parish, A. Payne and others took part. The remaining lectures will be given at the School, and not at the Memorial Hall. Mr. Ede will deal with the "World's Food Supplies" this (Friday) evening.

THE INSTITUTE. 5th Nov. 1926

It is satisfactory to report that the Institute, under new management is "going strong," and is doing its "bit" towards the brightening of village life. The membership compares very favourably with that in previous years, the Monday dances are as popular as ever, and the lectures on subjects allied to agriculture, given under the auspices of the Cambs. Rural Community Council, are being exceptionally well attended. Next Monday evening the Noir et D'or Concert Party, a talented company working in conjunction with the Community Council, are to give a variety entertainment at the Memorial Hall, the proceeds from which will be devoted to the Institute. Their programme will include choruses, concerted pieces, songs, duets, interludes, etc. They have given great satisfaction to numerous audiences in the county, and there is little doubt but that Swavesey people will be more than pleased with them on Monday.

LIGHTS O' SWAVESEY. 5th Nov. 1926

Our Swavesey correspondent writes: The suggestion thrown out by "Skotos" in last week's "Press and News," that householders public-spirited enough to assist in lighting the village streets should be allowed the use of the public lamps and fittings to do so, is one that meets with the cordial approval of so many of the inhabitants, and I would suggest that "Skotos" and other householders whose residences are near standards should approach the Parish Council on the subject. The lamps and fittings, however, are understood to be in a bad condition, but possibly some might be found which are fit for use. The tree-lined road leading from the station into the village is particularly dangerous on moonless nights. People arriving by evening trains have to make their way through darkness that can be felt without a glimmer of light to guide them. They run the risk of falling into ditches or over heaps of granite and tar barrels, colliding with telegraph posts, excoriating their knuckles by painful contact with the churchyard wall, and finally of either stumbling over the raised causeway or walking into the Swan pond. Will some friend of mankind come to the rescue, and provide – at no expense to the parish, of course – for the lighting of two or three lamps? There is one already at the churchyard gates, but it is only lighted on Sundays and for special services, and other standards are still in position. As regards the lamp which a week or two ago it was announced would be lighted by private enterprise at Boxworth End, I should like to explain that the householder who was to provide the lamp gave me the positive assurance that it would be in position and lighted before the announcement was published. No explanation of its non-appearance has reached me.

TREE PRUNING. 12th Nov. 1926

Brooks, Black Horse-lane, Swavesey, had his wrist somewhat seriously injured through the "kicking back" of the handle. CONCERT. 12th Nov. 1926

The wet and uncertain weather may to some extent have been the cause for the far from satisfactory attendance at the entertainment given by the Noir et D'or Concert Party at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening for the benefit of the Institute. The party, whose aim is to help to brighten village life, were paying their first visit to Swavesey, and for that reason alone were deserving of encouragement, and moreover the object to which the proceeds from the entertainment were to be devoted is one that ought to have the whole-hearted support of every villager. Those who did attend, it is believed, enjoyed and appreciated the programme, which included concerted pieces, interludes, songs, duets, ensembles, etc. Every member of the party did his, or her, utmost to please the audience, and the pity is that the audience was not larger.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. 12th Nov. 196

About 40 ex-Service men, who had assembled at the churchyard gates, under the command of Capt. R. Barwell, attended the evening service at the parish church on Sunday, seats having been reserved for them. The service, while being bright and hearty, was most impressive – J. S. Arkwright's beautiful "O valiant heart" was sung as the anthem, and in the singing of the hymns the large congregation joined right heartily. The Vicar, who officiated, in course of his sermon, which was particularly appropriate to the occasion, referred in terms of warm commendation to the work and unity of purpose of the British Legion. He also read the complete roll of the men of Swavesey who had served in the Navy, Army and Air Force during the war. The roll included the names of 26 men who made the supreme sacrifice, viz., 9 killed in action, 8 died from wounds (one while a prisoner of war in Bulgaria), 6 reported missing and subsequently presumed to have been killed, and three who died from disease due to service in the field, the graves of two of whom are in Swavesey churchyard. The collection in aid of Lord Haig's Fund amounted to £2 15s. The "Last Post," sounded by Capt. Barwell, and the National Anthem, sung by choir and congregation concluded the service. The bells were rung before the service, Mr. Walter Thorp pluckily taking the place of an absent ringer, notwithstanding that his health is not of the best and his years number more than three score and ten. At the memorial cross in the churchyard there was a large wreath of laurel and poppies from the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion, and also flowers from relations of the fallen men.

When Mr. C. W. H. Cole and Mr. C. J. Shepperson were driving along the Huntingdon-road on their way to St. Ives Market on Monday morning, the horse fell near Scotland Drove, breaking one of the shafts of the trap. They had in consequence to return home.

In his sermon, which was in connection with the "World Call," he spoke of the changed conditions since the war, and the great opportunities for the Church to advance in her work, and the duty of every member of the Church to take his part in this forward movement. The Vicar of Swavesey took the evening service and preached at Fen Drayton.

Swavesey raised £8 15s. 1d. To this amount has to be added the collection at Swavesey parish church at evensong on Remembrance Day, £2 15s., making a total contribution to the fund from the district of £17 7s. The poppies were sold in Swavesey by Misses D. and K. Banks, E. Heasman, M. Parsons, C. Prior, Q. Spolton, J. Willson, Mrs. Berryman, and Mrs. H. Prime.

Stebbing, vicar, presided. The speaker, the Rev. A. G. de La Pryme, formerly Archdeacon of N.E. Rhodesia, gave a most interesting account of his experiences as a missionary on Lake Nyasa, his many and various duties including hospital work, supervision of schools, training of catechumens, in addition to the holding of services, etc. Once scene of his labours was a leper island on the lake established by Germans. A collection was taken on behalf of the Universities' Mission. At the close, the lecturer exhibited many interesting articles made by native workers, which, with books and calendars, were sold for the benefit of the mission.

Born in Swavesey 72 years ago, the son of the late Mr. William Hepher, Charles Hepher lived practically the whole of his life in the village. He was a well-known local carpenter, and for many years was in the employ of the late Mr. John Mitham and his son and successor, Mr. Robinson Mitham. His health had been failing for some time, and he was very feeble, when on July 11, his 72nd birthday, he sustained a fracture of the neck of his right femur through falling downstairs. He leaves a widow, and of their family of three sons, only the youngest survives, the other two having fallen on the Western front in the war.

LANTERN LECTURE. 26th Nov. 1926

Under the auspices of the Bethel Young People's Society an interesting lecture on "London" was given on Monday by the Rev. C. S. King, F.R.G.S., of Somersham to a crowded audience. The lecture was illustrated by 130 beautiful slides, which were ably manipulated by Mrs. Field and Mr. G. Day. The Rev. T. B. Field presided.

A MISSING LAMP POST. 26th Nov. 1926

Mr. Dick Wilderspin is anxious to know when the iron lamp post opposite his premises, which was knocked down and broken by a motor car, and for which, he understands, the Parish Council have received full compensation, will be replaced by a new standard. Mr. Wilderspin some time ago informed an official of the Council that he was prepared to find oil and keep the lamp alight at his own expense.

AGRICULTURAL LECTURES. 26th Nov. 1926

The second series of agricultural lectures, given under the auspices of the Cambs. Rural Community Council in connection with Swavesey Institute, will commence this (Friday) evening. The subject of the series is "Botany," and the lecture is Dr. H. Godwin, of Clare College, Cambridge. The average attendance at the first series (subjects allied to agriculture), which concluded on Friday last, was 25, and the lively debate which followed each lecture was striking proof of the interest aroused. The lectures are being given at the National School.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE. 26th Nov. 1926

Mr. Robert Hephher, of High-street, when riding a bicycle, and at the same time leading a horse, met with an accident in Cow Fen-road on Saturday morning. The horse, frightened, it is said, by fowls, appears to have knocked Mr. Hephher off his machine, and he was found by Mr. Unwin, of Over, lying on the ground in a dazed and semi-conscious state. On being taken home in Mr. W. Kester's hand cart, it was found that in addition to bruised and shock caused by the fall, Mr. Hephher, who is over 70, had sustained injury to his head and leg. It is understood he is progressing satisfactorily.

PARISH COUNCIL. 26th Nov. 1926

A meeting of the Parish Council was held at the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, the following Councillors attending: Mr. J. Linford (vice-chairman), who presided, Messrs. P. Burton, C. W. H. Cole, M. C. Culpin, R. Norman, sen., P. Parish and H. Wells, with the clerk, Mr. Prime Godfrey. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been confirmed, a letter was read from the Chairman, Mr. Charles Wood, resigning his membership of the Council on the ground that he would be fully occupied every evening during the next six months, and would, therefore, be unable to attend meetings of the Council. Mr. Wood's resignation having been accepted with regret, Mr. Frank Hephher was co-opted a councillor in his place, and Mr. Linford and Mr. Percy Parish were unanimously elected chairman and vice-chairman of the Council respectively. A communication from the hon. secretary of the Institute (Mr. C. Wood), addressed to the Memorial Hall Management Committee, which had been referred by the latter body to the Parish Council, was next taken into consideration. In the letter the Committee of the Institute asked that the Memorial Hall might be let to the Institute at a rental sufficient to cover the annual charges for the repayment of the Public Works Loan Board's loan on the building and interest. After prolonged discussion, the Council unanimously agreed that it was not desirable to comply with the request of the Institute Committee. The clerk read a letter from the Rev. T. B. Field, of Rutholme, Church End, offering, if the Council would erect a public lamp opposite his house at the southern end of the Swan pond, to provide for the lighting, etc., of the lamp. The Council decided that Mr. Field be given permission to erect a lamp, the expense to be borne by him, and the clerk was instructed to see him in the matter. (It will be remembered that a communication from "Scotos" appeared in the "Independent Press" a few weeks ago, suggesting that householders public-spirited enough to assist in lighting the village streets should be allowed the use of the lamps and fitting belonging to the parish.) Mr. Cole called attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the wooden lamp standards throughout the village; several, he said, were shaky and unsafe, and one or two had tumbled down. He proposed that all shaky posts be removed and stored, and that the work be done by Mr. S. Challis. The proposition was seconded by Mr. R. Norman, and carried unanimously.

DANCE. 3rd Dec. 1926

A carnival dance took place in the Memorial Hall on Monday evening, the "What Knots" Jazz Band, from Cambridge, under the conductorship of Mr. Arthur F. Philips, supplying a programme of the latest dance music.

DEATH OF MRS. A. WILLIAMS. 3rd Dec. 1926

Swavesey has lost another of its aged and most respected inhabitants, the second within two days, by the death of Mrs. Eliza Williams, widow of the late Mr. Alfred Williams, grocer and draper, High-street, which occurred about 12.30 a.m. yesterday (Thursday). Mrs. Williams, whose health had been failing for some time, had attained the great age of 88 years. She leaves one son, Mr. H. H. Williams, who succeeded to the grocery and drapery business on the death of his father.

DEATH OF AN OCTAGENARIAN. 3rd Dec. 1926

We have to record the death of Mr. George Trundley, who passed away after a short illness at Frere Cottages on Tuesday morning, aged 81 years. The son of the late Mr. George Trundley, who was one of the last men in the parish to wear habitually a smock frock, he belonged to an old Swavesey family, and was much respected. He leaves an aged widow, for whom much sympathy is felt, two sons, one of whom is in Australia, and five daughters.

Twenty-one tables were in play at the whist drive which was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday week, in aid of the funds of the Swavesey and District Branch of the British Legion. LOST IN THE FOG. 3rd Dec. 1926

During the thick fog on Thursday evening in last week a Swavesey labourer completely lost his bearing when crossing the fields from Highfield Farm to his home at Boxworth End. As his absence from the evening meal caused his aged parents much anxiety, search was made for him, and one searcher guided by shouts in the distance discovered the missing man stranded in a field near Tippler's Drove. How he got there neither the man, nor anyone else, can explain, as between the farm and the field there is a large ditch, or drain, and also barbed wire, none of which the wanderer is said to have encountered.

DISHONOURING THE ROLL OF HONOUR. 3rd Dec. 1926

On my return to Swavesey on Monday evening I was astounded to learn, writes Mr. C. R. Vincent, that on the case containing the Roll of Honour at the Memorial Hall a poster announcing a Cinema show had been affixed covering the names of the men of Swavesey who had made the supreme sacrifice in the war, and in whose memory the hall was erected. Beneath the poster, also affixed to the case with drawing pins, was a slip of paper bearing the words "Saturday next" in MS. I desire, as the official compiler of the Roll, to enter an emphatic protest against this scandalous insult to the memory of the men who fought and died for us, and, in doing so, I feel sure that I am voicing the feelings of every right-minded inhabitant of Swavesey. I should much like to know what the Committee of Management of the Hall have to say in the matter, and what steps they propose to take to prevent a recurrence of the outrage.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH. 3rd Dec. 1926

A sale of work in aid of the recent renovation fund was opened in Bethel schoolroom on Thursday week by Mrs. F. Kirby, of Over, who congratulated the people upon the very pretty and tasteful decorations of the church and premises. The sum it was desired to raise was £25, but the sale resulted in £31 being obtained. The organisers were gratified to see many friends present from the parish church, including Mrs. Stebbing, Mrs. Banks, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. Bignell, Mrs. C. S. Hephher, Miss Garner and others. The Chairman, Rev. T. B. Field, expressed his delight at seeing so many there, and hoped it was an augury for the future. Whilst we differ on comparatively minor matters, we are one in the great essentials of the faith. He would like, he said, to see the Christians of the village united in all general efforts for the uplifting of the people. During the day, under the able conductorship of Mr. G. E. Canham, short sacred concerts were given, mainly by friends from Willingham and Histon. The absence through illness of Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman was much regretted.

Norman, sen., P. Parish and H. Wells, with the clerk, Mr. P. Godfrey. Mr. F. Hepher having signed the necessary declaration preparatory to his taking his seat on the Council in succession to Mr. C. Wood, resigned, a further letter from the Committee of the Institute respecting the Institute's connection with the Hall, was discussed at some length. The Clerk announced that the Rev. T. B. Field had intimated his acceptance of the Council's conditions relative to the erection of a public lamp on his residence, "Rutholme," opposite the Swan pond, and that the lamp would be in position shortly. On the proposition of Mr. Hepher, seconded by Mr. Burton, it was agreed unanimously that an iron lamp post should be erected at the junction of High-street, Taylor's-lane and Church End, in place of the post knocked down by a motor car some time ago, and the Clerk was instructed to obtain an estimate of the cost from Mr. D. Wilderspin.

A successful sale of work in aid of the Parish Church Repair Fund was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday week, the opening ceremony being performed by Mrs. H. Slater, of Cambridge. The stalls were well patronised. There were also various competitions, and Miss Beaumont, as Father Christmas, was a great attraction, especially for the children. During the afternoon the proceedings were enlivened by music by Mrs. C. S. Hephher and Miss Spolton. A whist drive, for which Mr. T. C. Heasman officiated as M.C., followed in the evening. MORE HOUSES. 17th Dec. 1926

The question of providing additional houses in the village has been under the consideration of the Swavesey District Council for some time, and at their meeting on Friday last, it was decided to erect two pairs of houses at Conington and three pairs at Swavesey, to be let at rents which agricultural labourers will be able to pay.

GALON'S CHARITY. 17th Dec. 1926

Complaint is made by a Feoffee of Galon's Charity of the inadequate accommodation for meetings of his board at the National School. He says that while chairs are supplied for the Chairman and the clerk, the other Feoffees have to sit on desks provided for the use of infants, which, in addition to being undignified and uncomfortable, were not constructed to bear the weight of portly gentlemen. He suggests that as the School receives a yearly grant from the Charity, the comfort of the Feoffees is worthy of some consideration.

B.W.T.A. 17th Dec. 1926

The monthly meetings of the British Women's Temperance Association took place in Bethel Schoolroom on Thursday week. A meeting for mothers was held in the afternoon, followed by a well-provided tea, and in the evening there was a large gathering when the following programme was rendered: Pianoforte duet, Misses M. Nicholson, of Swavesey, popular selections by the Swavesey String Quartette, under the leadership of Mr. B. Sutton, and amusing comic songs by Mr. Burt Miller, of Harston. In an interesting speech Mr. G. T. Garratt drew attention to the great need for a progressive housing policy in the villages. This led to a number of questions which emphasised the need for more new houses in Swavesey and district at rents which the working people with wages of £2 per week and under can afford to pay. A vote of thanks to the artistes, proposed by Mr. Horne brought the evening to a close.

MUSICAL SUCCESS. 24th Dec. 1926

Mr. C. F. Banks, of The Priory, Swavesey, met with a serious accident on Thursday evening in last week when entering the shed containing the apparatus which supplies the acetylene gas for the house. There had apparently been a leakage, as immediately the door was opened a violent explosion occurred. Mr. Banks was severely burned about the head, face and hands, and also sustained cuts, presumably from fragments of glass. The shed was damaged, the door and window being smashed, but the former, it is thought, shielded Mr. Banks to some extent from the full force of the explosion. Mr. Banks, it is understood, is going on as well as can be expected.

Prior to the arrival of the deputation, Mr. Dick Wilderspin's estimate for the erection of a new iron lamp post at the junction of High-street, Taylor's lane and Church End was accepted. The deputation (Rev. C. F. Stebbing, president of the Institute, and Mr. C. Wood, hon. secretary) inspected a document bearing the seal of the Charity Commissioners, which showed that the hall and land were invested solely in the Parish Council to be held for the benefit of the parishioners. In reply to Mr. Wood, the clerk stated that the document by which the residuary legatee of the late Mr. George Long had surrendered all claim to the property was in the possession of the Public Works Loan Board. Before the deputation withdrew, Mr. Wood made certain suggestions as to the

CHRISTMAS TREAT. 31st Dec. 1926

The children of the Swavesey School had their annual Christmas treat on December 22nd, when they received a visit from Father Christmas. Parents were especially invited to be present and see the exhibition of work done by the scholars in the various forms. The main room was decorated with streamers and lanterns made by the children, and all desks and other impedimenta were cleared. At the afternoon assembly games of various kinds were played to the great amusement of scholars and parents. In the midst of the fun came a loud knocking at the door, which, on being opened, revealed Santa Claus in all his well-known regalia, with his two attendants, Jack Frost and the Snow King, carrying huge bundles. After greeting the staff, parents and children, Santa Claus proceeded to open the bags he carried and to call out the different children for their presents. This caused great excitement. Meanwhile the satellites of Santa Claus were busy distributing apples and oranges to the children and their friends.
